and an injunction enjoining him from practicing dentistry in this state. When, after trial, the defendant is found guilty as charged, or when, upon his default, which may be entered as in other civil cases, provided that the facts stated in the complaint constitute grounds for revocation as in § 2032 provided, then, in either such case, the court may decree a cancellation or revocation of the certificate or license of the defendant, and may enjoin him from practicing dentistry in this state, or may find him guilty of a misdemeanor.

Upon entry of such judgment or decree it shall be the duty of the secretary of the said board to file a certified copy of said judgment and decree with the clerk of the counties in which the certificate or license of the defendant is recorded, and said clerk must thereupon write on the margin of the copy of said certificate or license of said defendant the following: "This license was revoked and canceled by a decree of the district court of ..... county, Utah, on the ..... day of .....," giving the day, month, and year of such revocation by said court, together with the county wherein said decree was made and entered by said district court. No license shall be revoked under this section unless the accused has been guilty of the acts complained of within two years next preceding the time of the filing of the complaint, charging him with such misconduct.

(3) A licensed dentist shall have the right to administer general and local anesthetics and to prescribe drugs or medicines necessary or proper in the practice of his profession. Am'd '17, p. 349.

Unlawful to prescribe narcotic drugs, § 4412.

2037. Board or member may make complaint. The board or any member or officer thereof may make a complaint for the violation of any of the provisions of this title; and the board, by its officers, counsel, and agents, may aid in presenting the law or facts in any proceeding taken thereon; an injunction shall lie at the suit of the board to restrain any unlicensed person, or one whose license has been revoked, from practicing dentistry in this state.

TITLE 26.

DRAINAGE DISTRICTS.

2040. (760.) Who may propose organization. Whenever a majority of the owners of title or evidence of title of lands within a district proposed to be organized as a drainage district, who own or control not less than one-third in area of the land to be reclaimed or benefited, or whenever one-third of the owners of title of lands within a district proposed to be organized as a drainage district, and who own or control a major portion in area of the lands to be reclaimed or benefited, or lands which are susceptible of drainage, desire to provide for the drainage of the same, they may propose the organization of a drainage district under the provisions of this title, and when so organized, such district shall have the powers conferred, or that may hereafter be conferred, by law upon such drainage districts. The equalized county assessment roll next preceding the presentation of a petition for the organization of a drainage district, under the provisions of this title, shall be sufficient evidence of title for the purposes herein.

The drainage act, as it stood in C. L. 1907 §§ 760-779, was held unconstitutional, as permitting private property to be taken without due process of law; inasmuch as owners of land included in a drainage district were not given a right to a hearing on the questions whether their lands were benefited by the proposed drainage district, and whether the proposed assessments were just and equitable as compared with the assessments of other lands in the district; such a hearing before some competent tribunal prior to the time the tax lien was established or the lands sold for delinquent assessments being held to be absolutely necessary.

The drainage act, as amended by the laws of 1911, chap. 53, was held, on application for a writ of prohibition against the issuance of bonds for a proposed district, to be constitutional, and not to deprive the land owner of property without due process of law, since land owners were given an opportunity to be heard on objections to the inclusion of their lands within a proposed district. The purpose for which property may be taken under this act by the bonding of the districts and levying and assessing taxes thereon is for a public and not a private use. Upon application for such a writ of prohibition, the court will assume that all the land within the district is similarly situated and capable of irrigation and improvement by means of the proposed district; redress for any unjust assessment or for taxation to maintain an irrigation system incapable of benefiting any particular piece of ground will be afforded by the courts in an appropriate action.

Lundberg v. Green River Irr. Dist., 40 U. 83; 119 P. 1039.

The act having been amended by the laws of '13, chap. 95, § 327, was held to be meaningless as to the notice required to be given for the special election to be held for the purpose of voting upon the issuance of bonds, and the election thereunder was held to be invalid, and the issuance of bonds thereunder was restrained, as there was no standard in the statute by which it could be determined whether the election notice was sufficient.

Moody v. Millard County Drainage District No. 1, 46 U. 24; 149 P. 480.

The act having been further amended by the laws of '15, chap. 114, was held constitutional, inasmuch as it gave property owners affected an opportunity to be heard before the board of county commissioners as to the necessity and utility of the proposed district and the justice and equity of the tax assessed upon land thereunder; nor was it invalid as preventing uniformity and equality of taxation.

Ferry v. Corinne Drainage Dist., 48 U. 1; 156 P. 921.

2041. (761.) Petition. Presentation to county commissioners. Bond. A petition shall first be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the land is situated, and if the proposed district will contain lands situated in more than one county, then in the county in which the greatest portion thereof is situated, signed by the required number of holders of title, or evidence of title, of such proposed district, evidenced as above provided, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and shall pray that the same may be organized under the provisions of this title. Such petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board of county commissioners, and due notice thereof shall be given as hereinafter provided. And the said petitioners shall file with the board of county commissioners, a good and sufficient undertaking in the sum of 2 per cent of the estimated cost of the proposed improvements in the said drainage district. The condition of such undertaking shall be to the effect that if the said board of county commissioners shall find no merit in the said petition and shall find that the cost of the proposed improvement or improvements shall be in excess of the benefit or benefits to be derived therefrom, that the petitioners will pay all cost of preliminary surveys and the publication of notice and such other lawful expenses as may have been incurred by the said board of county commissioners. The petition shall also contain the name proposed to be given to the drainage district.

2042. (762.) Id. Notice of hearing. Such petition for the creation of the proposed district being filed, the clerk of said county shall cause three weeks' notice of the presentation and filing of such petition to be given, addressed "to all persons interested," by posting notices thereof at the door of the courthouse of the county or counties in which the district is situated, and in at least three of the most public places in such proposed district, and also by publishing a copy thereof at least once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper or newspapers published in the county in which the district is proposed to be formed, and if any portion of said proposed district lie within another county or counties, then said petition and notice shall be posted as above provided or published in a newspaper published or having a general circulation in each of said counties. Such notice shall state when and where said petition was and is filed; the starting point or points, route or routes, terminal or termini, and general description of the proposed work; the boundaries and general description by legal subdivisions and name of the proposed drainage district, and at what meeting of said board that petitioners will ask a hearing of said petition; provided, that it shall not invalidate said notice if no description of drains or ditches is given therein. If any of the land owners of said district, are non-residents of the county or counties in which the proposed district will lie, the petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit, giving the names and places of residence of such non-residents, if known, and if unknown, stating that, upon diligent inquiry, their places of residence cannot be ascertained; and the clerk shall send a copy of the notice aforesaid to each of said non-residents whose residence is known within three days after the first publication of the same. The certificate of the clerk, or the affidavit of any other credible person, affixed to a copy of said notice, shall be sufficient evidence of the posting, mailing, and publication of said notices.

2043. Hearing. Petition may be amended. The county commissioners of the county in which said petition shall be filed may hear the petition at any regular or special meeting, and may determine all matters pertaining thereto, and all subsequent proceedings of the district when organized under this title, and may adjourn the hearing from time to time, or continue the case for want of sufficient notice or other good cause. The commissioners, upon application of the petitioners, shall permit the petition, affidavit, and orders to be amended, and no petitioner shall have the right to withdraw from said petition, except by the consent of the majority of the other petitioners thereon or where it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the commissioners that the signature of the petitioner was obtained by fraud or misrepresentation.

2044. Id. Interested parties may protest. Petition may be dismissed, when. Boundaries of district to be fixed. Board of supervisors. Term. Powers and duties. Proclamation. When such petition is presented, the said board of county commissioners shall hear the petition, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding four weeks in all. On the hearing of any petition filed under the provisions of this title, all parties through or upon whose land any of the proposed work may be constructed, or whose land may be damaged or benefited thereby, may appear and contest the necessity or utility of the proposed work, or any part thereof, and the contestants and petitioners may offer any competent evidence in regard thereto. It shall be the duty of the commissioners to hear and determine whether or not the said petition contains the signatures of a majority of the owners of title to the lands within said proposed district, and who represent one-third in area of the lands proposed to be affected by such work, or that the said petition is signed by one-third of the owners of the lands in said proposed district who represent a major portion in area of the lands proposed to be reclaimed or benefited, and the affidavit of any three or more of the signers of said petition, that they have examined said petition and are acquainted with the locality of said district, and that the said petition is signed by a majority of such owners, who represent at least one-third in area of the lands proposed to be affected by such work, or that said petition is signed by one-third of the owners of lands in said proposed district who represent a major portion in area of the lands proposed to be reclaimed or benefited, may be taken by the county commissioners as prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein; or the oath or affirmation before said county commissioners, or the affidavit of any person, properly taken and certified by any person or court authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds to real estate in this state, giving the age of such party, and his or her ownership of lands to be named in such oath, affirmation, or affidavit, by proper description, shall be sufficient evidence to the county commissioners of such facts; provided, that all deeds made for the purpose of establishing or defeating the prayers of said petition, not made in good faith and for a valuable consideration, shall be taken and held to be in fraud of the provisions of this title, and the holders thereof shall not be considered as owners thereof. If the commissioners, after hearing any and all competent evidence that may be offered before it for and against the said petition, shall find the same has not been signed as hereinbefore required, the said petition shall be dismissed at the cost of the petitioners; but, if the commissioners shall find that the petition has been signed as hereinbefore provided, the commissioners shall so find, and such finding shall be conclusive upon the land owners of such district that they may have assented to and accepted the provisions of this title; and the board of county commissioners may make such changes in the proposed boundaries as they may find to be proper, and shall establish and define such boundaries; pro- vided, that said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to except from the operation of this title any territory within the boundaries of the district proposed by said petitioners which is susceptible of drainage by the system of works applicable to the other lands in such proposed district; nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by drainage by said system be included within such district; provided, that any person whose lands are susceptible of drainage by the same system may, in the discretion of the board of county commissioners, upon application of the owner to said board, have such lands included in said district. And if it shall further appear to the commissioners that the proposed drain or drains, ditch or ditches, or other works, is or are necessary or will be useful for the drainage of the lands proposed to be drained thereby for the agricultural or sanitary purposes, or conducive to the public health or welfare, the commissioners shall so find, and appoint three competent persons, who shall be known as a board of supervisors, and the term of office shall be for three years, except, however, that the term of office of the first appointees shall be as follows:

The term of office of one shall be for three years, the term of office of one shall be for two years, and the term of office of one shall be for one year; each of whom shall hold his office until his successor is appointed, as hereinafter provided, and it shall be their duty to lay out and construct such proposed work, and to levy a tax upon the lands in said drainage district, subject to the approval of the board of county commissioners, as hereinafter provided. In case the lands to be drained shall be situated in different counties, not more than two of the members of the board of supervisors shall be chosen from any one of such counties. And if the said board of county commissioners shall find that the establishment and creation of such drainage district will be a benefit as hereinbefore set forth, that the said board shall, within ten days, proclaim such district or districts created, and that such proclamation shall be published for at least ten days thereafter by posting in three public places within said county, at least one of which places shall be within said drainage district, or by publishing the said proclamation in some paper printed in the English language, and having general circulation within the said county or counties, and the said proclamation shall be substantially in the following form:

Office of the board of county commissioners, county of ....., state of Utah, A. D. 19.....

In the matter of the petition of (here insert the names of the petitioners).

The petition having been heard in the manner required by law, and the commissioners having duly examined said petition, and having heard evidence concerning the same, and considered all objections to the same, it is ordered by the county commissioners that the petition be, and the same is hereby granted; and the county commissioners further find that the work proposed in said petition to be done will be useful for agricultural or sanitary purposes to the owners of land within said proposed district; and the county commissioners also find that the persons who have signed said petition are of lawful age and are a majority of the adult land owners, representing one-third in area (or one-third of the adult land owners, owning a major portion, as the case may be) of the land to be affected by such proposed work. And the county commissioners further find that the said drainage district..... bounded as follows ..... is duly established as provided by law.

And the following named are to be known as the board of supervisors for the terms set opposite their names:

.....of.....for the term of three years,
.....of.....for the term of two years,
.....of.....for the term of one year.

Attest:

....., Clerk. .....
County Commissioners.

And upon entering such order of record said district is hereby declared by law to be organized as a drainage district by the name mentioned in the petition, and with the boundaries fixed by the order confirming the report of said board of supervisors, and said district is hereby declared to be a body corporate by the name mentioned in said order of county commissioners, with the right to sue and be sued, and to have perpetual succession, and may adopt and use a corporate seal; and the board of supervisors appointed as aforesaid and their successors in office shall, from the entry of such order of confirmation, constitute the corporate authorities of such drainage district, and shall exercise the functions conferred upon them by law. Said order shall be final.

Investigate feasibility of district, §§ 2053, 2054.
Board assesses tax, § 2055.
Board enlarges water courses, etc., § 2070.
Board has power eminent domain, §§ 2047, 2070.
Board issues bonds, § 2071.

2045. Appeal. Procedure. Certified copies of proclamation to be filed. Organization completed. An appeal from such order may be made to the district court in the county in which such district is situated. If any such appeal be made, the district court shall advance the cause to be heard, and the same shall be heard and disposed of at the earliest date. Where there are two or more appeals involving the same matters, the court may, in its discretion, order the said cases consolidated for the purposes of said appeal, when it shall appear that justice will be advanced thereby. The procedure in said appeals shall conform to the civil code as nearly as may be, but no action shall be commenced or maintained, or defense made, affecting the validity of the organization, unless the same shall have been commenced or made within six months after the making and entering of said order. Said board of county commissioners shall cause a copy of such order, duly certified, to be immediately filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any portion of such lands is situated, and must also immediately forward a copy thereof to the county clerk of each county in which any portion of such district may lie, and the board of county commissioners of any county included in any portion of such district shall not allow another district to be formed including any of the lands of such district, without the consent of the board of supervisors thereof; and from and after the date of such filing the organization of the district shall be complete, and the officers thereof shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their respective offices upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold such offices, respectively, until their successors are appointed and have qualified.

2046. (767.) Board of supervisors. Oath. Bond. After said district has been established by proclamation, and after the said board of supervisors have been duly appointed, and before entering upon the duties of their office, such board of supervisors shall take and subscribe to an oath to faithfully discharge the duties of their office without favor or partiality, and to render a true account of their doings to the commissioners by whom they are appointed, whenever required by law or order of the commissioners, which oath shall be filed with the county clerk. The board of supervisors shall execute an official bond in such sum as may be fixed by the board of county commissioners. Bonds herein provided for shall be in the form prescribed by law for the official bonds of county officers.

Official bonds of county officers, § 1466.

2047. Id. Organization. Powers and duties. Appointment of engineer. Condemnation proceedings. Within thirty days after their election and qualification, the supervisors shall meet and organize as a board, and elect a president, a secretary, and a treasurer from among their own number. Each of such officers shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. The board of supervisors shall appoint a competent engineer and fix his compensation, and shall have power to adopt a code of by-laws governing the conduct of the business and affairs of the district as a corporation in connection with its association with individuals in and outside of the district, and regulating the use of its drainage system by outsiders. It shall also have the power to make and execute all necessary contracts, to employ and appoint such agents, officers, and employes as may be required, prescribe their duties, and generally to perform such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this title. The board and its agents and employes shall likewise have the right to enter upon any lands to make surveys, and may locate the necessary drainage canal or canals, and the necessary branches for the same, on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. It shall have the right also to acquire, on behalf of said district, by purchase or condemnation or other legal means, all lands and other property necessary for the construction, use, maintenance, repair, and improvement of said canal or canals, drains and works constructed (including canals, drains, or drain ditches being constructed by private owners), and all necessary appurtenances. In case of necessity for condemnation proceedings the board shall proceed in the corporate name of the district under the provisions of the law relating to eminent domain.

Compensation of engineer, § 2064. Engineer to attend meetings of board of equalization, § 2056.

2048. (768.) Duties of president. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at meetings of the board, and sign all warrants ordered by it to be drawn upon the treasurer for drainage money. In case of the absence of the president, his duties shall be performed by a president pro tempore, duly elected.

2049. (769.) Duties of secretary. It shall be the duty of the secretary to attend meetings of the board, to keep an accurate journal of its proceedings, to have the care and custody of its records and papers not otherwise provided for, to countersign warrants drawn upon the treasurer, and to prepare and submit to the board an annual statement, under oath, of receipts and disbursements during the year ending December 31. The secretary shall receive for his services such compensation as the board of supervisors may determine.

2050. (770.) Treasurer to give bond. Duties. The treasurer shall subscribe to the oath of office and give a bond to the board of supervisors with sufficient sureties and in such sum as it may require, the oath and bond to be approved by the board and filed with its secretary. The treasurer shall prepare and submit in writing a monthly report of receipts and disbursements, and pay out drainage money only upon a warrant signed by the president, and countersigned by the secretary. He shall likewise perform such other duties as the board may require, and shall receive for his services an amount to be determined by the board.

2051. (771.) Meetings of the board. Records. The board of supervisors shall meet and adjourn from time to time as the business may require. All meetings of the board must be public, and a majority of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. All records of the board shall be open to inspection of any freeholder in said district during business hours.

2052. Quorum. Clerical assistance. A majority of the board of supervisors shall constitute a quorum, and a concurrence of a majority of their number in any matter within their duties shall be sufficient, and the said board of supervisors may appoint such clerical assistance as may be proper, and may employ such assistance and aid as may be found necessary.

2053. Board to inquire into feasibility of proposed district. Immediately after their appointment, the board of supervisors shall examine all the land proposed to be drained or protected and the lands over or upon which the work is proposed to be constructed, and determine:

1. If drainage and levee work as proposed in the petition, whether the starting points, routes, and termini of the proposed work and the proposed location thereof is or are in all respects proper and feasible; and if not, what is or are so;

2. The probable cost of the work mentioned in the petition, including all incidental expenses, and the cost of the proceedings therefor;

3. The probable annual cost of keeping the same in repair after the work is completed;

4. What lands will be injured by the proposed work, and the probable aggregate amount of all damages such lands will sustain by reason of the laying out and construction of such work;

5. What lands will be benefited by the construction of the proposed work, and whether the aggregate amount of benefits will equal or exceed the cost of constructing such work, including all incidental expenses, costs of proceedings, and damages;

6. Whether the proposed district as set out in the petition filed will embrace all the lands that may be damaged or benefited by the proposed work; and if not, to report what additional lands will be so affected.

2054. Id. Report of findings. Proceedings may be dismissed, when. If the board of supervisors of the said drainage district, upon and after their examination of the said district, as hereinbefore provided, shall find that, although the said district has been formally proclaimed, the costs and expenses of construction and maintenance and damages accruing are more than equal to the benefits which may inure to the lands in general of said district by reason of the proposed work, they shall so report, and the proceedings shall be dismissed at the cost of the petitioners.

2055. (774.) Estimate of required revenues. Annual assessment. Equalization and collection of taxes. The board of supervisors shall, on or before the first Monday of February of each year, prepare a statement and estimate of the amount of money to be raised by taxation within said district for the purpose of constructing canals, drains, drain ditches, and other works, and maintaining the same, paying the interest upon the bonded indebtedness of the district; creating a sinking fund for redeeming such bonds; and for the purpose of maintaining and repairing drainage canals, flumes, conduits, bridges, culverts, and other works within said district; and for the management and control of such drainage system; and shall assess the entire amount needed in each year against all of the land within said district in proportion to the benefits resulting to each tract of land by the construction and maintenance of such drainage system; the said board of supervisors shall view each tract of land within the district, and shall carefully consider all of the damages and benefits that each particular tract of land will receive from the construction and maintenance of such drainage system, and assess each tract of land in accordance with the benefits received by it, making proper allowance for damage, if there be any. After such assessment is made up, the secretary of the board of supervisors shall transmit the same to the board of county commissioners, and the board of county commissioners shall cause notice to be sent by mail to each land owner in the district of the amount of tax assessed upon the land owned by him within the district; and stating therein the time when and place where the board of county commissioners shall meet as a board of equalization to hear and determine complaints made against such assessments. The board of county commissioners shall sit as a board of equalization of district drainage taxes, and shall equalize and finally determine the assessments to be made and levied upon each tract of land within the district, at the time and in the manner provided for by law for equalizing state and county taxes, and shall thereupon certify the same to the county treasurer of the county within which such district is located; the county treasurer shall enter the same in the tax rolls in the county; and it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to collect such taxes at the time and in the same manner that the said county taxes are collected, and to pay the same to the treasurer of the board of supervisors as soon as moneys are received by him. '15, p. 206.

Taxes to pay bonds, § 2073.

2056. Equalization of taxes. The board of county commissioners, when sitting as a board of equalization, may require the presence of the board of supervisors and engineer of the drainage district or districts, if there be more than one within the county. If the drainage district be in more than one county, the supervisor or supervisors resident within the county may be required to attend.

Interference with work, penalty, § 2062.

2060. Indebtedness. Limitation of board to contract. The board of supervisors or other officers of the district shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this title. A debt or liability incurred in excess of the express provisions of this title shall be and remain absolutely void, except that for the purpose of organization or for the purposes of this act the board of supervisors may, before the collection of the first assessment, incur an indebtedness not exceeding in the aggregate a sum equal to 90 per cent of the said assessment, and may cause warrants of the district to issue therefor, bearing interest not exceeding 7 per cent per annum. Any such indebtedness, however, so created, shall in no sense be the personal obligation of the board of supervisors, but shall constitute a lien upon the lands embraced within the said drainage district. '15, p. 207.

2061. Board to report. Public hearing. Removal from office for failure. The board of supervisors shall, as often as once in each year after their appointment, and as much oftener as the board of county commissioners shall require, make a report to the board of county commissioners of all work done, and also showing the amount of money by them collected, and the manner in which the same has been expended, and upon the filing of such report, the board of county commissioners shall set a time, not exceeding three weeks from such filing, when such report shall be heard, and the board of supervisors shall give at least ten days' notice thereof, by posting written or printed notices in not less than four of the most public places in the district and one at the door of the courthouse in which said district was organized, or by publishing the same for ten days in some paper having general circulation in the county. At the time fixed, the board of county commissioners shall hear said report and all objections thereto, or may continue such hearing to another time fixed, and, upon hearing such report, may require evidence to be produced by the board of supervisors in support thereof, and, if found correct, may approve such report. Upon the failure of the board of supervisors, or either of them, to make such report to the satisfaction of the board of county commissioners, as required by this section, such supervisor or supervisors, on the application of any person interested, or the county commissioners without such application, shall remove such supervisor or supervisors from office.

2062. Use of works to be public. Officials and employes may enter upon private lands. The use of any canal, ditch, or the like, created under the provisions of this title, shall be deemed a public use and for a public benefit. The supervisors or their representatives from the time of their appointment may go upon the lands lying within said district for the purpose of examining the same, and making surveys, and after the organization of said district and payment or tender of compensation allowed, may go upon said lands with their servants, teams, tools, instruments, or other equipments, for the purpose of constructing such proposed work, and may forever thereafter enter upon said lands, as aforesaid, for the purpose of maintaining or repairing such proposed work, doing no more damage than the necessity of the occasion may require, and any person or persons who shall wilfully prevent or prohibit any of such persons from entering such lands for the purposes aforesaid shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined any sum not exceeding $25 per day for each day's hindrance, to be recovered in an action of debt in favor of such drainage district before any court of competent jurisdiction, which sum shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district.

2063. Errors not to invalidate proceedings. Whenever it shall appear to the board of supervisors that any proceedings for the organization of a drainage district, or any assessments of damages or benefits under this title, or any law of this state is invalid as to one or more tracts of land, jointly or severally owned, situated in such district, or any tract of land has been omitted from such assessment by reason of clerical error or other mistake, or want of the proper notice or notices as required by law, such want of notice shall not invalidate such organization, neither shall such assessments of benefits be lost to the district; but the board of supervisors of such district may report such conditions to the board of county commissioners, and the said board of county commissioners may make such corrections, amendments, and changes in the assessment rolls, correcting any clerical mistake or want of sufficient notice as may be just; provided, that where such correction, amendment, or changes be made, due notice thereof be given to the persons affected thereby.

2066. Interference with or destruction of works. Penalty. Any person who shall wrongfully and purposely fill up, cut, injure, destroy, or in any manner impair the usefulness of any drain, ditch, or other work constructed under this title, or heretofore constructed under any law of this state, or that may have been heretofore or may hereafter be voluntarily constructed for the purposes of drainage or protection against overflow, may be fined in any sum not exceeding $300 for each offense, to be recovered before any court of competent jurisdiction. All complaints under this section shall be in the name of the people of the state of Utah, and all fines, when collected, shall be paid over to the proper supervisors, to be used for the work so injured.

2070. Terms defined. Powers of board extended. The word ditch, when used in this title, shall be held to include any drain or water course, and the petition for any drainage district shall be held to mean and include any side, lateral, spur, or branch ditch or drain, whether opened, covered, or tiled, or any natural water course into which drains or ditches may enter for the purpose of outlet, whether such water course is situated in or outside of the district. And to secure complete drainage of the lands within any drainage district, the board of supervisors are hereby vested with full power to widen, straighten, deepen, or enlarge any water course, or remove any obstruction or rubbish therefrom, whether such water course is situated in, outside of, or below any drainage district; and, when it is necessary, straighten such natural water course by cutting of new channel upon other lands, the value of such lands to be occupied by such new channel and damages, if any, made by such work may be ascertained and paid in the manner that is now or may hereafter be provided by any law providing for the exercise of the right of eminent domain in force in this state. The expenses of the work provided for in this section shall be paid from moneys arising from assessments upon lands within the district or in any lawful manner acquired.

and times of payment of the bonds so issued shall be fixed by the board of supervisors. The said bonds shall be issued for the benefit of the district authorizing said issue and shall bear the name and number of the said district. The board of supervisors shall keep a record of the bonds issued and sold or otherwise disposed of, and such record shall also show the lands embraced in said district and upon which the bond tax has been paid whether in full or otherwise. In no case shall the amount of bonds exceed the benefits assessed. Each bond issue shall show expressly upon its face that it is to be paid only by a tax assessed, levied, and collected on the lands within the drainage district. The said board of supervisors shall, by resolution, provide for the issuance and disposal of such bonds and for the payment of the interest thereon, the creation of a sinking fund for the ultimate redemption thereof, and for the date and manner of the redemption of said bonds. The said board of supervisors may sell or dispose of said bonds either at public or private sale. Before making any such sale, either private or public, the board of supervisors shall cause due notice of their intention to sell or dispose of said bonds, by publishing notice of sale at least twenty days in some newspaper having general circulation in the state of Utah and in the county where said district is situate. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board of supervisors at their office, for the purchase of the bonds, until the day and hour fixed by the board of supervisors. At the time appointed the board of supervisors shall open the proposals, and award the purchase of the bonds to the highest responsible bidder, and may reject all bids. In case no bid is made and accepted as above provided, the board of supervisors is hereby authorized to use said bonds for the construction of any drain or drains, drainage canal or drainage canals, or any other required improvement deemed necessary to drain lands or for the public health or welfare. '15, pp. 207-209.

2072. (773.) Bonds a lien upon land. Whenever any such drainage district bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of this title, such bonds shall constitute a lien upon all of the lands and improvements thereon within the boundaries of the district, and the board of supervisors of said district shall, from time to time, as hereinafter provided, levy a sufficient tax to pay the annual interest charge on such bonds, and, in addition thereto, such an amount as a sinking fund which shall, in the course of events and ultimately, amount to a sufficient sum to redeem said bonds.

2073. Nature of bonds. County clerk to certify. Each bond issued as provided for by § 2071 shall be signed by the president and the secretary of the said board of supervisors, and be attested by the county clerk, and said clerk shall also make a certified statement thereon, affixing his seal of office thereto, of the total amount of the assessments and rate of interest it bears, pledged for the payment of said bonds and other bonds, if any, issued; the date, number, denomination, and time due of all bonds issued which are a lien upon the assessments, or instalments of assessments of the district; when the assessments were confirmed by the county commissioners, and the number of acres of land in the district against which said assessments were made.

TITLE 27.

ELECTIONS.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

2100. (780.) General elections held biennially. There must be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the year 1898, and biennially thereafter, an election to be known as the general election.

Elections to be free; military not to interfere, Con. art. 1, sec. 17.

General election held when, Con. art. 4, sec. 9.

2101. (781.) General election defined. A general election is for the purpose of choosing in the proper years therefor as specified by the constitution and the laws, one or more of the following officers, to wit: Representatives in congress, electors of president and vice president of the United States, state and district officers, senators and representatives in the legislature, county and precinct officers, and, when necessary, voting upon the proposed amendments to the constitution as provided in art. 23 of the constitution, and for such other purposes as may be provided by law.

Election of state officers, qualifications, etc., Con. art. 7, secs. 1-3; art. 8, secs. 2, 5; art. 24, sec. 12.

Election of presidential electors, duties, etc., §§ 2250-2254.

Provisions concerning election of legislators, Con. art. 6, secs. 3-7.

Where the statute provided that a general election for county collector should be held in the even numbered years, and another section provided that annually there should be a general election for officers not otherwise provided for; held, that an election for a county collector could not be held in August, 1891.

People, ex rel. Murphy v. Hardy, 8 U. 68; 29 P. 1118.

2102. (782.) Special election defined. Special elections are such as are held at other times, for any purpose required by law, except municipal and school elections.

School election, §§ 4664-4668.

2103. (783.) Election proclamation by governor. At least sixty days before a general election, and not less than ten days before a special election to fill a vacancy in the office of representative in congress or a member of the legislature, the governor must issue an election proclamation, under his hand and the great seal of the state, and transmit copies thereof to the boards of county commissioners of the counties in which such elections are to be held. Such proclamation must contain a statement of the time of election and the offices to be filled.

2104. (784.) Id. Vacancy for legislator or congressman. When a vacancy or a failure to elect by reason of a tie vote or for any reason whatever, occurs in the office of representative in congress or member of the legislature, the governor must at once issue a proclamation calling an election to fill such vacancy; provided, that if there be no session of the legislature or of congress, as the case may be, between the happening of such vacancy and the next general election occuring forty-five or more days thereafter, such vacancy shall be filled at the general election.

Governor to issue writ to fill vacancies in legislature, Con. art. 6, sec. 13.

2105. (785.) Vacancy in executive or judicial office. Appointment. Election. If a vacancy occurs in the office of judge of the supreme or of the district court, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, or superintendent of public instruction, the governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a successor to fill the vacancy, which election shall take place at the next succeeding general election, and the person so elected shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Appointive power of governor, Con. art. 7, secs. 9, 10.

Where a person claiming to be an officer de facto was in hiding, had no place of business, and could not be found after diligent search, nor communicated with through the postoffice; held, that he was not an officer de facto.
Williams v. Clayton, 6 U. 86; 21 P. 398.

An office is in contemplation of law vacant when the incumbent has never been legally in the exercise of it.
People, ex rel. Dickson v. Clayton, 4 U. 421; 11 P. 206; see 132 U. S. 632.

People, ex rel. Dickson v. Jack, 4 U. 438; 11 P. 213; see 132 U. S. 643.

The term of office of a district judge appointed in 1896 to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of a judge whose term extended until January, 1901, expired upon the qualification of his successor elected in November, 1896.
Ritchie v. Richards, 14 U. 345; 47 P. 670.

2106. (786.) Highest number of votes elects. The person receiving at any election the highest number of votes for any office to be filled at such election is elected thereto.

In county election, §§ 2243, 2411.

2107. (787.) Tie in election for state officers; presidential electors; county officers. In case any two or more persons have an equal and the highest number of votes for either governor, secretary of state, attorney general, state auditor, state treasurer, or superintendent of public instruction, the two houses of the legislature, at its next regular session, shall elect forthwith, by joint ballot, one of such persons for said office. In case any two or more persons have an equal and the highest number of votes for presidential electors, justice of the supreme court, or judge of a district court, the secretary of state must transmit to the governor a certified statement showing the vote cast for such persons, and thereupon the tie shall be decided by lot in the presence of the governor and secretary of state at a time fixed by the governor. In case any two or more persons have an equal and the highest number of votes for a member of a board of county commissioners, and by reason of such tie there is a failure to elect, the tie shall be decided by lot, in the presence of the county clerk, at a day designated by him. In case any two or more persons have an equal and the highest number of votes for any precinct or county office, except county commissioner, the tie shall be decided by lot in the presence of the board of county commissioners, at a day designated by said board.

Provisions to be liberally construed, § 2113.

2109. (789.) Id. Controversy to be decided by court. The county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk shall also, on his own motion, correct without delay any error in all ballots which he may discover, or which shall be brought to his attention, and which can be corrected without interfering with the timely distribution of the ballots as herein provided. Whenever any controversy shall arise between any official charged with any duty or function under this title and any candidate, or the officers or representatives of any political party, or persons who have made nominations, upon the filing of a petition by any such official or persons, setting forth in a concise form the nature of such controversy and the relief sought, which petition shall be under oath, it shall be the duty of such court, or the judge thereof in vacation, to issue an order commanding the respondent in such petition to be and appear before the court or judge and answer under oath to such petition; and it shall be the duty of the court or judge to summarily hear and dispose of any such issues, with a view of obtaining a substantial compliance with the provisions of this title by the parties to such controversy, and to make and enter orders and judgments and issue the writ or process of such court to enforce all such orders and judgments.

2110. (790.) Computations of time include Sundays. Sunday shall be included in all computations of time made under the provisions of this title.

2111. (791.) Opening and closing polls. Proclamation. At all elections, the polls shall be opened at seven o'clock a. m., and continue open until seven o'clock p. m. of the same day; provided, that if a full board of judges of election shall not attend at the hour fixed for opening the polls, and it shall be necessary for the electors present to appoint judges to conduct the election as provided by law, the election may, in that event, commence at any hour before the time for closing the polls shall arrive, as the case may require. Upon the opening of the polls, proclamation shall be made by one of the judges, and, thirty minutes before the closing of the polls, proclamation shall be made in like manner, that the polls will close in thirty minutes.

When voters appoint judges, § 2213.

2112. (792.) Notice of time and place of election. Each registry agent shall, at least five days prior to any election, except school elections, held in his district, post notices in at least five conspicuous places within the same, stating the date and place of election and the hours during which the polls will remain open.

2113. (793.) Provisions to be liberally construed. The provisions of this title shall be liberally construed, so as to carry out the intent of this title, and of political parties, nominees, and others in proceedings under this title.

Informalities in return not fatal, § 2249. Correction of error in name of candidate, etc., § 2108.

CHAPTER 2.

REGISTRATION.

2115. (795.) Registration agents. Appointment and politics of. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to appoint as registration agent for each election district, a person who, at the time of the appointment, belongs to the political party which, in the district for which such registration agent is appointed, cast the highest number of votes for representative to congress at the election next preceding the appointment of such registration agent, and in cases where the election districts have been altered since such election, the appointment shall be made as follows:

1. Where two or more election districts have been created out of a single election district, each registration agent shall be a member of the political party which cast the higest number of votes for representative to congresss in such single election district at the preceding election.

2. Where an election district is created by combining two or more or the parts of two or more election districts, then such registration agent shall be a member of the political party which cast the highest number of votes for representative to congress in the district which either in whole or in part forms the major part of such newly created district. The true intent and meaning of the provisions of this chapter, with reference to the appointment of registration agents, is that the registration agent in each district shall belong to the political party which, at the preceding election, cast the highest number of votes for representative to congress in the territory forming the election district at the time of the appointment, and the registration agent appointed shall be selected by the board of county commissioners from a list of not less than three names to be furnished and certified by the chairman and secretary of the political party from which the appointment is to be made. If such chairman and secretary fail to furnish such list of names for a period of ten days after being notified so to do by the county clerk, the said board shall proceed to make the appointment without such list.

Registration agents, qualifications, terms, etc., § 2139.

In determining the appointment of registrar of election, under provisions of this section, the vote cast for each political party should be separately returned, and the highest vote for any one political party for member of congress should be the basis for such appointment, without counting the votes cast by any other party for the same candidate on any ticket.
Hamer v. Adams, 23 U. 643; 66 P. 294.

A special election for congress, held in April, was the next preceding congressional election under this section, providing that appointment of registrar shall be based on the votes for representative to congress at the election next preceding such appointment.
Id.

2116. (796.) Id. Vacancy, how filled. It is the duty of the chairman of the board of county commissioners of any county of the state, when he has received notice from any citizen of the death, disqualification, or resignation of any registry agent, after the opening and prior to the closing of the books of registration, to immediately, without giving notice, appoint some competent person as provided in § 2115 to fill such vacancy, and it is the duty of the person so appointed to qualify within two days after receiving notice of such appointment.

2118. (798.) Registering in another district. Oath. Certificate. If any person applies to be registered in any district other than the one in which he resides, and is entitled, upon proof, to a certificate of registration, as provided in the next preceding section, such applicant, in addition to the proof required by this chapter to entitle him to registration, must take and subscribe to an oath before the registry agent, in substantially the following form:

....., Utah, ..., 19.....

I do solemnly swear that I make this application for registration in district No..... of ..... county, state of Utah, because there is no registry agent within district No....., which is the district where I reside and am entitled to vote.

.....(Signature.)

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19.....

.....
Registry agent.

Whereupon such person is entitled to receive from the registry agent of such district, a certificate, which must be substantially in the following form:

REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify that ..... is a citizen of the United States, and will have been such for ninety days prior to the election on the ..... day of ....., 19.....; that .....he will have attained the age of twenty-one years and upwards, and will have been a resident of the state of Utah one year and of the county of ..... four months, and of the precinct of ..... in the county of ..... for sixty days, at the time of the election on the ..... day of ....., 19.....,

and that .....he is in all respects a qualified, registered elector under the laws of Utah; and I further certify that the reason .....he applies for, and I give, this registration certificate, is because within district No..... where .....he resides, there is no registry agent, and I further certify that .....he is under the law entitled to vote in district No..... of ..... county, Utah.

Witness my hand in ..... district No..... of ..... county, Utah.

Registry agent, district No. ....., ... county, Utah.

2119. (799.) Stationery for registration agents. Official register. The boards of county commissioners of the several counties must provide for the registry agents in their respective counties, when and where required, all proper and necessary books and stationery to carry out the provisions of this chapter. They must furnish to each registry agent a bound book, prepared for the alphabetical entry of names, which shall be known as the official register, and it must be ruled in columns of suitable dimensions to provide for the following entries opposite the name of each elector, to wit: Date of registration; name of elector; column for writing "voted"; age of elector; where born; location of residence, including street number, and number of room, where party resides in a building the rooms of which are numbered; certificate of naturalization exhibited, or a certified copy thereof; the postoffice address.

Registration for municipal election, § 2137.

Under provisions of §§ 2120, 2141, the failure of the register to act does not deprive the legal voter, who has properly applied for registration, of the constitutional right to vote. Earl v. Lewis, 28 U. 116; 77 P. 235.

2121. (801.) Entries on official register. Request to give residence. Registry agents must enter upon the official register, under the proper heading, the date of registration, the names alphabetically arranged according to surnames, with the first or given name in full, the age and activity of the elector, together with the location of residence of elector as directed in § 2119, and when the person so registered is of foreign birth, the fact of the exhibition of, or failure to exhibit, his certificate of naturalization, or a certified copy thereof, must be noted in the column provided for that purpose, which list, properly entered, as in this section required, is known as the official register of electors of their respective districts. If any person fails or refuses to give his residence, with the particularity required in this chapter, he must not be registered; provided, that should any person applying to be registered refuse to give his or her age, when requested so to do by the registry agent, it shall be sufficient to entitle him or her to registration if they take and subscribe to the registration oath required by § 2123, and in such case the registry agent will enter in the proper column the fact that such person will be twenty-one years and upwards on the day of election. Am'd '05, p. 244.

Register, special election, § 2138.

2122. (802.) Notice of time and place of registration. Each registry agent must post, in not less than five conspicuous places within his district, for ten days before the first day provided for registration, a notice signed by him to the effect that the time and place for registration of the names of the qualified electors in election district No....., prior to the .....

Agent to post notice of time and place of election, § 2112.

2124. (804.) Examination of applicant to register. Challenges. When any person appears and demands to be registered whom the registry agent does not know to be entitled to registry under the qualifications required by law, for the election then ensuing, the registry agent must question the applicant generally, under oath, as to his qualifications as an elector; and, if satisfied, must enter his name in the register, but if the registry agent is not fully satisfied, or if the applicant be challenged by a qualified elector of the county stating distinctly the grounds of challenge, the registry agent must require the applicant to answer truly, under oath or affirmation, the following questions, together with such other questions as said registry agent may consider necessary or proper testing his qualifications as an elector for the ensuing election, to wit:

1. Are you a citizen of the United States; if so, are you native born or naturalized; and if naturalized, when and where were you naturalized?

2. Are you now, or will you be twenty-one years of age prior to the day of the next ensuing election?

3. On the day of the next ensuing election will you have resided in Utah one year, in this county four months, and in this precinct sixty days next preceding the day of said election?

If any of the foregoing questions are answered in the negative, the applicant must not be registered. If the applicant answers all the foregoing questions in the affirmative, and if the answers to the other questions propounded do not show him to be disqualified, the applicant must be registered.

Qualifications of electors, Con. art. 4, secs. 1, 2, 5-7.

Registering naturalized citizens, § 2127.

Unlawful registration a felony, § 2339.

2125. (805.) Resident defined. A resident within the meaning of this title must be construed to mean a person who has resided or will have resided continuously within this state for one year, and in the county four months, and in the precinct sixty days next preceding the day of the next ensuing election.

2126. (806.) Rules governing place of residence for purpose of registration. For the purpose of registration or voting, the place of residence of any person must be governed by the following rules as far as they are applicable:

1. That place must be considered and held to be the residence of a person, in which his habitation is fixed, and to which, whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning.

2. A person must not be held to have gained or lost residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States or of this state, nor while a student at any institution of learning, nor while kept in any almshouse, or other asylum at the public expense, nor while confined in any public prison, nor while residing upon any Indian or military reservation.

3. No soldier, seaman, or marine, in the army or navy of the United States, shall be deemed a resident of this state in consequence of being stationed at any military or naval place within the same.

4. A person must not be considered to have lost his residence who leaves his home to go into a foreign country or into another state, or precinct in this state for temporary purposes merely, with the intention of returning; provided, he has not exercised the right of the elective franchise in said state or precinct.

5. A person must not be considered to have gained a residence in any county into which he comes for temporary purposes merely, without the intention of making such county his home.

6. If a person removes to another state, with the intention of making it his residence, he loses his residence in this state.

7. If a person removes to another state with the intention of remaining there for an indefinite time, and as a place of permanent residence, he loses his residence in this state, notwithstanding he entertains an intention of returning at some future period.

8. The place where a man's family resides is presumed to be his place of residence, but any man who takes up or continues his abode with the intention of remaining at a place other than where his family resides, must be regarded as a resident where he so abides

9. A change of residence can only be made by the act of removal, joined with the intent to remain in another place. There can only be one residence. A residence cannot be lost until another is gained.

10. The term of residence must be computed by including the day on which the person's residence commences and by excluding the day of election.

11. Any person living upon any Indian or military reservation shall not be deemed a resident of Utah, within the meaning of this chapter, unless such person had acquired a residence in some county in Utah prior to taking up his residence upon such Indian or military reservation.

2127. (807.) Naturalized citizen to exhibit papers. Affidavit. Examination. When a naturalized citizen applies for registration, his certificate of naturalization, or a certified copy thereof, must be produced; but if it satisfactorily appears to the registry agent by the oath or affirmation of the applicant (and the oath or affirmation of one or more credible citizens as to the credibility of such applicant), that such certificate of naturalization or a certified copy thereof, is lost or destroyed, or beyond the reach of the applicant, for the time being, said registry agent must register the name of said applicant, unless he is by law otherwise disqualified; but in case of failure to produce the certificate of naturalization, or a certified copy thereof, the registry agent must propound to him the following questions:

1. In what year did you come to the United States?

2. In what state or territory, county, court, and year were you fully admitted to citizenship?

3. When did you last see your certificate of naturalization, or a certified copy thereof?

The answers to the above questions must be taken down in the form of an affidavit, which must be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant, and retained in possession by the registry agent and by him handed over to his successor. No person is required to make the affidavit twice before the same agent, or the successor of such agent, having in his possession the former affidavit.

2128. (808.) Posting of registration lists in districts. List for judges of election. When the registering of voters on the third Tuesday prior to any general election shall have been completed, each registry agent must, with all reasonable expedition, within three days, prepare and cause to be written or printed a full, complete, and true list of all the names on the official register for his district, alphabetically arranged according to surnames, with places of residence, the same to be verified by his oath and posted in some public and conspicuous place within his district, there to remain until the close of registration on the first Tuesday or the first Wednesday, as the case may be, prior to the day of election. When the registration of electors mentioned in this chapter shall be finally closed, each registry agent must, with all reasonable expedition, prepare and cause to be written or printed, a full, complete, and corrected list of all the names on his official register, alphabetically arranged, commencing with the surname of each elector, together with the residence of each, which he must certify under oath and cause to be posted, within three days after the close of registration, in a public and conspicuous place within 200 feet of the polling place, within his district, there to remain until the closing of the polls on election day. Each registry agent must prepare and deliver personally to one of the judges of election in his district, at a time not later than the day next preceding that on which any general or municipal election is to be held, a full, complete, and true copy of his official register, verified by his oath.

2129. (809.) Registry agent to hear objections to voter, and correct errors. Challenge. The registry agents must give notice in said posted lists that they will receive objections to the right to vote of any persons so registered between the hours of six o'clock p. m. and nine o'clock p. m. on Saturday next preceding the day of election; and also requesting all persons whose names may be erroneously entered in said list to apply to the proper registry agent at the time designated and have such error corrected. Such objection to the right to vote of any person registered must be made only by a qualified elector, in writing, duly verified, setting forth the ground of objection or disqualification. The registry agent before whom any such affidavits are made must carefully preserve the same and deliver them with a copy of the official register and other papers required by this chapter to be delivered, to the election judges as herein provided, and he must write distinctly opposite the name of any person to whose qualifications as an elector objections may be thus made, and opposite the name of any person whom the registry agent believes to be dead or to have removed from that election district, the words, "to be challenged," or words to that effect. It is the duty of the judges of election, if on election days such person who has been objected to applies to vote, to test under oath his qualifications, and if he is found to be disqualified for any cause under the law, or if he refuses to take an oath, as to his qualifications, he must not be permitted to vote.

2130. (810.) Register to be transmitted to county clerk. The copy of the official register for each district, delivered to the election judges, together with the affidavits mentioned in the next preceding section of this chapter, must be preserved and transmitted by the judges of election to the county clerk as a part of the election returns, as provided by law.

2132. (812.) Transfers to another district. Any registered elector, moving from one district to another within the same precinct (or city), prior to the day of the ensuing election, may apply to the registry agent before whom he has already been registered for that year, at any time prior to the day of election, and have his name taken off the official register, and receive from the registry agent a certificate, to be called a registry certificate, over the signature of the registry agent, showing substantially that he was, on a certain day, duly registered in the official register of district No. ..... in ..... precinct of the county of ....., Utah, and that his name has been erased at his own request, which certificate will entitle him to have his name registered at any time before the day of election, in the same manner as other names are registered, in any other district within the same precinct or city, for said election; provided, it satisfactorily appears to the registry agent receiving the cetificate, and to whom application is made for the second registration, that the applicant is entitled to vote in that district at the next ensuing election. Am'd '05, p. 10.

If a person is a qualified voter in an election district by having complied with the registration laws of the state, he may rely upon that registration in voting at a local option election. Beaurgaard v. Gunnison City, 48 U. 515; 160 P. 815.

2134. (814.) Compensation of registry agent paid by county. The several registry agents are entitled to receive, as full compensation for all services rendered by them under the provisions of this chapter, such sums as may be allowed by the board of county commissioners, and such compensation may be a per diem not to exceed $3. Their compensation is a county charge, and their accounts must be made out so as to clearly show the number of days spent in the performance of their official duties, which shall be sworn to and filed with the county auditor of their respective counties, and said claim must be audited and paid out of the general fund of the several counties as other county charges.

2135. (815.) County clerk's record. Notice of appointment. The county clerk must make full and minute entries of all proceedings had under this chapter, and notify in writing the registry agents of their appointment.

2136. (816.) County clerk to prepare register of voters. Prior to the time for registering voters at each general or municipal election, the county clerk of each county of the state shall prepare an official register of the voters of each election district of his county, by making a list in alphabetical order of all persons who voted at the last general or municipal election, as shown by the checked copies of the official register used, or poll lists made, at such election; which official register shall be delivered to the registry agent of the district, at least thirty days prior to the first day of registration, and shall be revised by adding the names of all persons registered on the proper days prior to the election; provided, that for municipal elections such alphabetical list shall be made only for such districts affected by such elections; provided, further, that the costs for making such list for municipal elections shall be paid for by the city or town. For all special and school elections there shall be no special registration of voters, but the "official register" last made or revised shall constitute the "official register" for such special or school election. Am'd '05, p. 245; '07, p. 250.

2137. (817.) Duty of registry agents. It shall be the duty of the registry agents appointed as herein provided for the election districts within the several incorporated cities and towns, at any time when called upon to do so at their respective offices, and not elsewhere, between the hours of eight o'clock a. m. and nine o'clock p. m. of the first and third Tuesdays, and also in cities of the first and the second class, the fourth Tuesday, prior to the municipal or town election, to receive and register the names of all persons applying for registration who are legally qualified and entitled to vote at such election, or who will legally have acquired a residence (being otherwise qualified) and who have a right to vote at such ensuing election according to the provisions of law under which such election may be held in each election district. The expense of such registration shall be paid by the city or town from which the same is made. Am'd '11, p. 234.

Registration generally, § 2120. Date of municipal election, § 2330.

Official register, general election, § 2121.

2139. (819.) Registry agents. Qualifications. Terms. Removal. There shall be but one registry agent for each election district. All registry agents shall be competent persons and shall be appointed by the board of county commissioners. They shall be resident qualified voters in the several election districts for which they shall be appointed. They shall be, and are hereby empowered and authorized to administer oaths and affirmations and to do such other acts as may be necessary to fully carry out the provisions of this chapter; provided, that no person or candidate for, or who holds a state, county, or other office, shall be eligible to or hold the office of registry agent. All registry agents shall be appointed biennially, at the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners held nearest to the 1st day of June preceding each general election, and shall hold their office for the period of two years, except as herein otherwise provided, but they shall be subject to removal at any time by the board of county commissioners. On the appointment of his successor, the registry agent shall deliver to such successor the official register for his district and all other books and documents in his possession pertaining to such office. In case any registry agent resigns or becomes a non-resident of his district, he shall at once notify the county clerk, and deliver to him all books and documents in possession of such registry agent pertaining to his office.

Appointment of registration agents, § 2115.

2140. (820.) Change of district boundaries. New registry lists. Whenever the boundaries of any election district have been changed, or a new district created, it shall be the duty of the registry agents of the districts affected to meet prior to the first day of the next ensuing registration and transfer from one official register to the other, as the case may require, the names of all voters residing within the territory affected by such change. Any registered voter whose name has been erroneously transferred from one official register to another, or erroneously allowed to remain on any official register, may be permitted to vote in the district in which he resides upon taking the registration oath before one of the election judges and presenting to such judges sufficient proof that, through the error of the registration agent, his name does not appear on the official register.

Alteration of election districts, § 2214.

2141. (821.) Person must register to vote. No person shall hereafter be permitted to vote at any general, special, municipal, or school election, or at any primary election for the nomination of officers to be voted for at municipal elections in cities of the first and the second class, without having first been registered within the time and in the manner and form required by the provisions of this chapter. Am'd '11, p. 234.

Under the provisions of §§ 2120-2141, the failure of the register to act does not deprive the legal voter, who has properly applied for registration, of the constitutional right to vote. Earl v. Lewis, 28 U. 116; 77 P. 235.

CHAPTER 3.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

2150. (821x.) Presiding officers and judges of elections at primary elections. Opening and closing of polls. Political parties, organizations, or associations in this state may appoint presiding officers and judges of election at any primary election that they may deem just and proper. In all cities of the first and the second class the polls at such primary election shall be open at four o'clock in the afternoon and close at nine o'clock in the afternoon of the same day on which such election is held; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions shall not apply to primary elections for the nomination of officers provided by law to be elected in cities of the first and the second class. In cities of the first and the second class primary elections for the nomination of officers shall be conducted as provided in § 2325.
'99, p. 118; am'd '11, p. 234.

2151. (821x1.) Who entitled to vote. No person shall be entitled to vote at any primary election unless of the age of twenty-one years, and a duly qualified voter under the laws of this state, or shall have been a duly qualified voter at the next ensuing state, city, or school election for which such primary is being held under the prescribed rules and regulations of the political party, or organization, or association so holding the primary election; provided, that in the selections of candidates to be voted for at elections for municipal offices, in cities of the first and the second class, all persons entitled to vote at the ensuing city election shall be entitled to participate in such primary. '99, p. 118; Am'd '11, p. 234.

2153. (821x3.) Fraudulent voting. If any person, teller, or officer at any primary election shall intentionally receive the vote of any individual who shall have been challenged, or who is known to him not to be entitled by the rules and regulations of the association, organization, or political party holding the primary election to vote at such primary election, unless the same shall have first been sworn in, as aforesaid, or shall in any manner fraudulently and unlawfully deposit or put any ballots into, or take any ballots from, the ballot box at such primary election, or shall fraudulently and unlawfully mix any ballots cast at any primary election, or shall intentionally make any false account, statement, or return of the ballots cast or the vote taken at such primary election shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

2154. (821x4.) Only legal voters can vote at primaries. Any person who is not a legal voter at any election following any primary in this state, who shall vote or attempt to vote at such primary, or any person who shall vote or attempt to vote at more than one primary held in the same or different precincts, wards, or cities, or who shall attempt to vote or shall vote at any primary in any precinct, ward, or city, where such person does not reside and is not entitled to vote, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '01, p. 72.

CHAPTER 4.

NOMINATIONS.

2180. (822.) By conventions. Any convention of delegates of a political party which presented candidates at the last preceding election held for the purpose of making nominations for public office, and also voters to the number and in the manner specified in § 2183, may nominate candidates for public offices to be filled by election within this state. A convention, within the meaning of this chapter, is an organized assemblage of voters or delegates representing a political party which at the election before the holding of such convention polled at least two per cent of the entire vote cast in the state, county, or other political division or district for which the nomination may be made. A committee appointed by any such convention may also make nominations to public office or fill any vacancies in the nominations made by the convention when authorized to do so by resolution duly passed by the convention at which such committee was appointed; provided, that nothing in this section or chapter contained shall be construed so as to authorize any number of voters, convention, or committee of any political party to nominate more than one group of candidates or have placed on the official ballot more than one group of candidates or more than one ticket, by adopting any name, emblem, or device, other than the regular name, emblem, and device of the political party represented by the voters, committee, or convention making such nomination; provided, further, that any voters, convention, or committee of any political party may nominate any one or more person or persons who may have been nominated by any other voters, convention, or committee, but in making such nomination, the name of such nominee shall be placed upon the regular ticket of the political party represented by the voters, convention, or committee making such nomination, and no political party shall be permited to have placed upon the official ballot, either directly or indirectly, more than one ticket or more than one group of candidates, or to group the same persons on different tickets by the same party under a different name or emblem. In cities of the first and the second class all candidates for municipal offices shall be nominated as provided by § 2325. Am'd '09, p. 11; '11, p. 234.

Primary election for nomination in city, § 2325.
Limitations on right of appointive officeholders to attend conventions, § 2394.
A party convention or its committee, prior to the amendments of 1909 and 1911, could designate as its candidate a person who was also a candidate of another party for the same office.
Payne v. Hodgson, 34 U. 269; 97 P. 132.

2181. (823.) Certificate of nomination. Form. All nominations made by such convention or committee shall be certified as follows: The certificate of nomination, which shall be in writing, shall contain the name of the office for which each person is nominated, the name, postoffice address, if any, the residence of each such person, and if in a city, the street, number of residence, and place of business, if any, and shall designate in not more than five words the party which such convention or committee represents. It shall be signed by the presiding officer and secretary of such convention or committee, who shall add to their signatures their respective places of residence and postoffice addresses, and make oath, before an officer qualified to administer the same, that the affiants were such officers of such convention or committee, and that said certificates and the statements therein contained are true, to the best of their knowledge and belief. When the nomination is made by a committee, the certificate of nomination shall also contain a copy of the resolution passed at the convention which authorized the committee to make such nomination. In the case of electors for president and vice-president of the United States, the names of candidates for president and vice-president may be added to the political or party appellation.

2182. (824.) Id. Where filed. Certificates of nomination of candidates for offices to be filled by the voters of the entire state, or of any division or district greater than a county, shall be filed with the secretary of state. Certificates of nomination of candidates for offices to be filled by the voters of any city or town shall be filed with the recorder of such city, or the clerk of such town. All other certificates of nominations shall be filed with the clerks of the respective counties wherein the officers are to be elected.

Under provisions of this section and §§ 2186, 2205, requiring certificates to be filed with the town clerk, etc., the clerk, in the absence of objection, must place the candidate's name on the official ballot, though the certificate was not filed in the required time.
Cited in: Hayes et al. v. Ross, 41 U. 580; 127 P. 340.

2183. (825.) Nominations by certificates. Candidates for public office, except candidates for municipal offices in cities of the first and the second class, may be nominated otherwise than by convention or committee in the manner following: A certificate of nomination containing the names of candidates for the offices to be filled, with such information as is required to be given in the certificates as hereinbefore provided for in other cases, except that such certificates shall designate in not more than five words, instead of a party, the political or other name which the signers shall select, shall be signed by voters residing within the district or political division and for which the officer or officers are to be elected, to the number of at least five hundred, when the nomination is for an office to be filled by the voters of the entire state; of at least one hundred, when the nominations for an office to be filled by the voters of the district less than the state and greater than a county, or by the voters of a county; and of at least fifty, when the nomination is for an office to be filled by all the voters of a precinct, town, city, or other divisions, less than a county. The signatures to a certificate of nomination need not all be appended to one paper. The certificate may designate or appoint upon the face thereof one or more persons, who, for the purposes set forth in §§ 2191-2192, shall represent the signers of said certificate. Each voter signing a certificate shall add to his signature, his place of residence, and shall, before an officer duly authorized to take acknowledgments, acknowledge his signature and take oath that he is a voter within and for the political division for which such nomination is made, and has truly stated his residence. Such certificate shall also contain a statement by the voter that the name or names of the person or persons nominated in the certificate will not be printed upon the official ballot, or upon any party ticket as the nominees of any political party or voters and that the name or names of the persons nominated in the certificate will not be printed upon the official ballot under the name or device adopted in the certificate. It is hereby made the duty of the officers making up the official ballot to erase from the certificate any name or names of nominees contained in such certificate that will otherwise appear printed upon the official ballot as the party ticket. Such certificate, when executed and acknowledged as above prescribed, may be filed as provided for in § 2182, in the same manner and with the same effect as a certificate of nomination made by a convention or committee as provided for in § 2180; provided, however, that in cities of the first and the second class all candidates for municipal offices shall be nominated as provided in § 2325.

Cited in. Hayes et al. v. Ross, 41 U. 580; 127 P. 340.

2184. (826.) Names of candidates in certificate not to exceed offices in number. No certificate of nomination shall contain the names of more candidates for any office than there are offices to fill; but if any such certificate does contain the names of more candidates than there are offices to fill, only those names which come first in order on such certificates and are equal in number with the number of offices to be filled, shall be taken as nominated, and all the rest of such names shall be treated as surplusage. No person shall sign more than one certificate of nomination for any office.

2185. (827.) Certificate to be preserved two years. The secretary of state shall cause to be preserved in his office for the period of two years all certificates of nomination filed therein under the provisions of this chapter; and each county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk shall cause to be preserved in his office for a like period all certificates of nomination filed therein. All such certificates shall be open to public inspection, under proper regulations to be made by the officers with whom the same are filed.

2186. (828.) Time of filing certificates of nomination. When nominations are made by a convention or committee, the certificates of nomination to be filed with the secretary of state shall be filed not more than sixty nor less than thirty days before the day of election, and the certificates of nomination herein directed to be filed with the county clerk shall be filed not more than sixty nor less than fifteen days before election; and the certificates of nomination herein directed to be filed with the city recorder or town clerk shall be filed not more than thirty nor less than fifteen days before election. Certificates of nomination, otherwise than by convention or committee, shall, when required to be filed with the secretary of state, be filed not more than forty nor less than thirty days before election; and when required to be filed with the county clerk, shall be filed not more than thirty nor less than fifteen days before election; and when required to be filed with the city recorder or town clerk, shall be filed not more than thirty nor less than fifteen days before election.

Under provisions of this section and §§ 2182, 2205, requiring certificates to be filed with town clerk, etc., the clerk, in the absence of objection, must place the candidate's name on the official ballot, though the certificate was not filed in the required time.
Earl v. Lewis, 28 U. 116; 77 P. 235.

2187. (829.) Secretary of state to certify nominations to county clerk. The secretary of state shall, immediately upon the expiration of the time within which certificates of nomination may be filed with him and corrections thereof made, certify to the county clerk of each county, within which any of the voters may by law vote for the candidates named in the certificate, the name and description of each such candidate, together with the other details mentioned in such certificate of nomination so filed with the secretary of state.

Cited in: Hayes v. Ross, 41 U. 580; 127 P. 340.

2188. (830.) List of nominations to be published or posted. Before an election to fill any public office, the county clerk of each county, or recorder of each city, or town clerk of each town, shall publish in at least one and not more than two newspapers published within the county, city, or town, as the case may be, or post notices in at least three conspicuous places in each precinct where such election is to be held, a list of all the nominations to offices certified to him under the provisions of this chapter; provided, however, that in cities of the first and the second class publication of nomination of candidates shall be made as provided in § 2325. Such publication shall be made three times, except as otherwise provided in this section, the first publication to be not less than six days nor more than ten days prior to the day of election, and shall contain the name and the party or other designation of each candidate, and shall be, as far as possible, in the form of the official ballots.

In the case of municipal elections, such publication of the names of candidates for municipal offices shall be made in newspapers which are published in the municipality where the election is to be held. One of such publications shall be made in the newspapers which advocate the principles of the political party that at the last preceding state election cast the largest number of votes, and another of such publications, if more than one is to be made, shall be in the newspaper which advocates the principles of the political party which at the last preceding state election cast the next largest number of votes. The clerk or recorder, in selecting the respective papers for such publication, shall select those which, according to the best information he can obtain, have the largest circulation within the county. If there be no daily newspaper published within the county, city, or town, as the case may be, one publication in each newspaper shall be sufficient. Should the clerk or recorder find it impracticable to make the publication six days before the election day, in counties where no daily newspaper is printed, he shall make the same at the earliest possible day thereafter. One of the publications in any newspaper shall be in the last issue thereof before the day of election. In counties, cities, or towns where it is impracticable to make publication in newspapers advocating opposite political principles, publication shall be made in the newspapers having the largest circulation. In counties, cities, or towns where there are no newspapers published, the clerk or recorder shall post double the number of printed lists, and such additional lists shall be posted in other conspicuous places in different portions of the county, city, or town, as the case may be. Am'd '11, p. 237.

2189. (831.) Copies of nomination lists to registry agents. Posting. The county clerk of each county, and the city recorder of each city, and the town clerk of each town shall, at least six days before election day, send to the registry agent in each election district in such county, city, or town, at least five or not more than ten copies, for each election district, of printed lists containing the name and party or other designation of each candidate nominated, as hereinbefore provided, to be voted for by the voters of the respective counties, cities, or towns. Such lists shall, at least three days before the day of election, be conspicuously posted by such registry agents in one or more public places in each election district of the county, city, or town, one or more of which shall be duly posted where such election is to be held; provided, that in elections for municipal offices in cities of the first and the second class the printed lists containing the names of candidates shall be arranged as provided in § 2325. Am'd '11, p. 238.

2190. (832.) Objections to nominations to be in writing. Curing defects. All certificates of nominations which are in apparent conformity with the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed to be valid unless objection thereto shall be duly made in writing within three days after the filing of the same. In case such objection is made, notice thereof shall forthwith be mailed to all the candidates who may be affected thereby, addressed to them at their respective postoffice addresses if any, or places of residence as given in the certificate of nomination. The officer with whom the original certificate was filed shall pass upon the validity of such objection, and his decision shall be final; provided, that such officer shall decide such objection within at least forty-eight hours after the same is filed, and any objection sustained may be remedied or defect cured upon the original certificate, or by an amendment thereto, or by filing a new certificate within three days after such objection is sustained.

2191. (833.) Notice of declination. Whenever any person nominated for public office, as in this chapter provided, shall, not less than twelve days before the day of election, if he shall have been nominated as provided in § 2180, or not less than ten days before the day of election, if he shall have been nominated as provided in § 2183, notify the officer with whom the original certificate of his nomination was filed, in writing signed by him and duly acknowldeged, that he declines such nomination, the same shall be void, and his name shall not be printed upon the party ticket of the party certifying his nomination. The officer to whom such notification is given shall forthwith inform, by mail or otherwise, one or more persons whose names are attached to the original certificate of nomination that such nomination has been declined. Am'd '09, p. 12.

2192. (834.) Vacancies. Should any person so nominated resign or decline the nomination, as in this chapter provided, or die before election day, or should any certificate of nomination be insufficient or inoperative, because of failure to remedy or cure the same, the vacancy or vacancies thus occasioned may be filled in the same manner required in the original nomination. If the original nomination was made for a party convention which had delegated to a committee the power to fill vacancies, such committee may, upon the occurring of such vacancies, proceed to fill the same. The chairman and the secretary of such committee shall thereupon make and file with the proper officer a certificate, setting forth the cause of the vacancy, the name of the person nominated, the office for which he was nominated, the name of the person for whom the new nominee is to be substituted, the fact that the committee was authorized to fill vacancies, and such further information as is required to be given in an original certificate of nomination. The certificate so made shall be executed and sworn to in the manner prescribed for the original certificate of nomination, and shall, upon being filed at least eight days before the election, have the same force and effect as an original certificate of nomination. When such certificate shall be filed with the secretary of state, he shall, in certifying the nominations to the various county clerks, insert the name of the person who has been nominated to fill the vacancy in place of the original nominee, and in the event that he has already sent forward his certificate, he shall forthwith certify to the county clerks of the proper counties the name and description of the person so nominated to fill the vacancy, the office he is nominated for, together with the other details mentioned in the certificate of nominations so filed with the secretary of state, and the name of the person for whom such nominee is substituted. The chairman and the secretary of such committee may in like manner make and file with the proper officer a certificate, setting forth the occurrence of a vacancy by death, resignation, or otherwise, and the further fact that it is not the intention of such committee to fill such vacancy. When such certificate shall be filed with the secretary of state, he shall certify such vacancy to the several county clerks forthwith. The secretary of state shall not be required to make any certificate of new nominations or vacancies after eight days before election day, exclusive of election day; provided, further, that in cities of the first and the second class, should any candidate for auditor, mayor, or commissioner resign, or decline the nomination, or die before election day, or for any other reason should such nomination become vacant, void, or inoperative, then and in that event the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes at the primary election held for the nomination of such candidate as in this act provided, shall be the candidate to fill such vacancy.
Am'd '11, p. 238.

2193. (835.) Proposed constitutional amendments. Duty of secretary of state and county clerk. Whenever a proposed constitutional amendment or other question, except the incurring of a bonded indebtedness, is to be submitted to the people of the state for popular vote at any general election, the secretary of state shall duly, and not less than fifteen days before election, certify the same to the county clerk of each county of the state, designating each amendment or question by number and also by a title which shall cover the subject matter of the amendment or question submitted, and the county clerk of each county shall cause to be printed both number and title of the propositions or questions to be submitted, upon the ballot to be used on election day, in the publication provided for by § 2188, and in the notice provided for by § 2199. Am'd '99, p. 119.

Proposing amendments to constitution, Con. art 23.

Preparation and distribution of statements concerning proposed amendments, §§ 2200-2202.

CHAPTER 5.

PREPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF STATEMENTS CONCERNING PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

('17, p. 203.)

2200. Persons designated to prepare statements. Submitted to secretary of state. Time fixed. Whenever the legislature shall propose any amendment to the constitution of this state to be voted upon by the electors of this state, the author of such amendment and one member of the same house who voted with the majority on the submission of such amendment shall be appointed as a committee of two by the presiding officer of such house, before the adjournment of the legislature, to draft an argument giving the reasons for the adoption of such amendment, which argument shall be not more than five hundred words in length. If the author of such amendment shall desire separate arguments to be written in favor thereof by each member of the committee, such separate arguments shall not be more than five hundred words. At the same time said committee of two is appointed, one member of the same house who voted with the minority against the submission of such amendment, if there was any such minority vote, shall be selected by the presiding officer of such house as a committee of one to write an argument against such amendment, and such argument shall be not more than five hundred words in length. These articles shall be submitted to the secretary of state within ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature, subject to amendment or change by the committee submitting them at any time within one year after such adjournment, such amendment to be substituted by the secretary of state in lieu of the original. In case either the argument for or the argument against such amendment has not been filed by a member of the legislature within one year from the final adjournment thereof, or in case no committee was appointed to write it, any elector may request the presiding officer of the house in which said amendment originated for permission to prepare and file an argument for such amendment, and any other elector may request such officer for permission to prepare and file an argument against the same. The presiding officer of such house shall grant such permission; or, if there be more than one elector requesting such permission, shall designate the person to prepare and file such statement, either for or against such amendment.

2201. Pamphlets to be distributed. Contents. How arranged. Title and number. The secretary of state shall cause to be printed one and one-fifth times as many pamphlets as there are registered voters in the state. Such pamphlets shall contain a complete copy of all constitutional amendments, a copy of the corresponding constitutional provisions as then in force, if any. The parts of the proposed amendments differing from the existing provisions shall therein be distinguished in print, so as to facilitate comparison. All constitutional amendments which are to be submitted to a vote of the people shall be printed in said pamphlets, so far as possible, in the same order, manner, and form in which the same shall be designated upon the ballot, and shall be designated thereon by the respective ballot titles or designations which may be provided therefor. Said ballot titles shall be numbered consecutively and printed on the pamphlets herein referred to immediately preceding the particular question, proposition, measure, or constitutional amendment therein referred to. There shall also be printed on said pamphlets the copy of said ballot title or designation as the same will appear on the ballots when voted on in the order and with the proper number, which ballot title or designation shall be the method by which said constitutional amendments shall be designated on the ballots.

2202. Copies to be furnished county clerks and sent to voters and polling places. Not less than thirty days before the election next ensuant at which such amendments are to be voted on, the secretary of state shall duly certify such pamphlet and the matters contained therein, and furnish each county clerk in the state with one and one-fifth times as many copies of such pamphlets as there are registered voters in his county. The clerk of each county shall, not more than twenty-five nor less than fifteen days prior to said election, cause to be mailed to each voter a copy of such pamphlet, and no other publication of such amendments shall be necessary or authorized, except such as are provided by the constitution. Three copies of such pamphlets, to be supplied by the secretary of state, shall be kept at every polling place, while an election is in progress, so that they may be freely consulted by the electors.

CHAPTER 6.

BALLOTS AND VOTING.

2205. (836.) Official ballots, how provided. Except as otherwise provided by law, it shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county to provide printed ballots for every election of public officers in which the voters, or any of the voters, within the county participate; and to cause to be printed on the ballot the name of every candidate whose nomination has been certified to or filed with the county clerk in the manner provided for in the preceding chapter. It shall be the duty of the recorder of any city, or clerk of any town, except as otherwise provided by law, to provide printed ballots for every election of public officers in which the voters, or any of the voters, of such city or town participate; and to cause to be printed on the ballot the name of every candidate whose nomination has been certified to, or filed with, such city recorder or town clerk, in the manner provided by law. The official ballots shall be printed and in the possession of the county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, at least four days before election, and subject also to inspection by the candidates and their agents.

Under provisions of this section and §§ 2182, 2186, requiring certificates to be filed with the town clerk, the clerk, in the absence of objection, must place the candidate's name on the official ballot, though the certificate was not filed in the required time.
Earl v. Lewis, 28 U. 116; 77 P. 235.

2206. (837.) Sample ballots. Sample ballots printed upon paper of a different color from the official ballots, but in the form of those to be used on election day, each containing the names of the candidates which are to be printed upon the appropriate official ballot, shall be printed and in the possession of the county clerk or other officers charged with the duty of preparing such ballots seven days before the day of election, subject to public inspection. Sample ballots shall be delivered to the election officers and posted with the cards of instruction provided for in the next succeeding section.

2207. (838.) Instructions for voters to be printed and distributed. The county clerk of each county, or the city recorder or town clerk, as the case may be, charged with the duty of providing ballots, shall cause to be printed on cards, and in the English language, instructions for the guidance of voters in preparing their ballots. Twelve such cards so printed shall be furnished by such clerk or recorder to the judges of election in each election district, at the same time and in the same manner as the printed ballots. The election judges shall post not less than one of such cards in each place or compartment provided for the preparation of ballots, and not less than three of such cards elsewhere in and about the polling place on the day of election. Such cards shall be printed in large, clear type, and shall contain instructions to the voters on the following matters, to wit:

1. How to obtain ballots for voting;
2. How to prepare the ballots for deposit in the ballot box;
3. How to obtain a new ballot in the place of one spoiled by accident or mistake;
4. How to obtain assistance in marking ballots;
5. Not to vote a spoiled or defaced ballot;
6. That identification marks or otherwise spoiling or defacing a ballot will render it invalid;
7. Whenever the approval of a constitutional amendment is submitted to the vote of the people, the county clerk of each county, or the city recorder or town clerk, as the case may be, charged with the duty of providing ballots, shall cause to be printed on cards in large, clear type, the original provision of the constitution, together with the proposed amendment thereto in different type, enclosed in brackets in such manner that the nature of such amendment shall be clearly indicated. If there be more than one amendment submitted, they shall be placed upon said cards in columns in the same order as they will appear upon the official ballot, and there shall be placed at the foot of each of said proposed amendments the question as the same appears upon the official ballot. Twelve of such cards shall be furnished by such clerk or recorder to the judges of election in each election district at the same time and in the same manner as the printed ballots. The election judges shall post not less than one of such cards in each place or compartment provided for the preparation of ballots, and not less than three of such cards in and about the polling place on the day of election. Am'd '99, p. 120.

Publicity for proposed constitutional amendments, §§ 2200-2202.

2208. (839.) Form of ballot. One ballot box at each polling place. All nominations of any political party or group of petitioners shall be placed under the party name or title of such party or group as designated by them in their certificates of nomination or petition, or, if none be designated, then under some suitable title, and the ballots shall contain no other names, except that, in case of electors for president and vice-president of the United States, the names of the candidates for president and vice-president may be added to the party or political designation. It shall be lawful to designate the political party or group of petitioners, as the case may be, by an appropriate emblem or design, such as a flag, eagle, rooster, or other device, as may be set forth in the certificate of nomination; provided, that no two sets of nominations shall use or have the same device, and that each political party or group of petitioners shall have the prior right to use the device used by it at the last similar election. Each list of candidates for the several parties and groups of petitioners shall be called a ticket and be placed in a separate column on the ballot in such order as the authorities charged with the printing of the ballots shall decide. The columns containing the lists of candidates, including the party name and device, shall be separated by heavy parallel lines. The ballots shall be on plain white paper, through which the printing or writing cannot be seen, and in any one county must be uniform in size. The party name or title shall be printed in capital letters not less than one-fourth of an inch in height, and a circle one-half inch in diameter shall be printed immediately below the party name or title, the top of which circle shall be placed not less than two inches below the perforated line. The offices to be filled shall be plainly printed immediately above the names of the candidates for the same. The names of candidates shall be printed in capital letters not less than one-eighth nor more than one-fourth of an inch in height, and at the right of the name of each candidate a square shall be printed, the sides of which shall be not less than one-fourth of an inch in length. At the right of the ballot there must be left a blank ticket long enough to contain as many written names of candidates as there are persons to be elected, in which ticket shall be printed the names of the offices to be filled as in the other tickets. Whenever the approval of a constitutional amendment or other question is submitted to the vote of the people, such question shall be printed on the ballot after the list of candidates. The extreme top part of each ballot above the portion which contains the party names and emblems shall be divided by a perforated line, the top portion being known as the stub, which shall be not less than one inch in width, upon which stub shall be printed the number of the same. Ballot stubs shall be numbered consecutively. On the back of each ballot shall be printed in capital letters in two line pica gothic or type not smaller in size, the indorsement: "Official ballot for .....," and after the word "for" shall follow the designation of the election district or political division for which the ballot is prepared, and the date of the election, and a fac-simile of the signature of the clerk or recorder who has caused the ballot to be printed. The ballot shall contain no caption or other indorsement except as in this section provided. Each county or town clerk, or city recorder, shall use precisely the same quality and tint of paper, and kind of type, and quality and tint of plain, black ink for all ballots furnished by him at one election. Whenever candidates are to be voted for only by the voters of a particular district, county, city, town, or other political division, the names of such candidates shall not be printed on any other ballot than those provided for use in such district, county, city, town, or political division respectively. The ballot shall be of such form and the indorsements thereon so printed that they may be folded in such a way that when so folded the whole indorsement shall be visible and the contents of the ballot shall not be exposed. There shall be but one ballot box at each polling place for receiving ballots cast for candidates for office.

Ballot shall be secret, Con. art. 4, sec. 8. A provision of law for the marking and identification of ballots by numbering them is void, being in contravention of Con. art. 4, sec. 8, requiring that all elections shall be by secret ballot.
Ritchie v. Richards, 14 U. 345; 47 P. 670.

Does not repeal provision of general election laws requiring a blank ticket at the right of the ballot, and a city recorder, in making up the official ballot, must leave a blank ticket, and the voter may vote for any person he desires by writing his name on the ballot.
Park v. Rives, 40 U. 47; 119 P. 1034.

2209. (840.) Number of ballots to be provided. The county clerk of each county, and the city recorder of each city, and the town clerk of each town, when charged by this chapter with the duty of printing and preparing ballots, shall provide for each election district in a county, city, or town, one hundred ballots for every fifty or fraction of fifty voters registered at the last preceding election in the election district. If there is no registry list in the district, such ballots shall be provided to the number of one hundred of each kind for every fifty or fraction of fifty voters who voted at the last preceding election in such district. When a district shall be divided or the boundaries changed, the county clerk, or city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, must ascertain as nearly as possible the number of voters in the new district or districts and provide therefor a sufficient number of ballots in the above proportion.

2210. (841.) Ballots printed at public expense. Except as otherwise provided by law, all ballots cast in elections for public officers, or for the decision of any question submitted to electors within the state, shall be printed and distributed at public expense. The printing of ballots and cards of instruction for the voters of each county, and the delivery of the same to the election officers, as hereinafter provided, shall be a county charge, the payment of which shall be provided for in the same manner as the payment of other county expenses, but the expense of printing and delivering ballots and cards of instruction to be used in municipal elections shall be a charge against the city or town in which such election shall be held.

2211. (842.) Delivery of ballots. Expense. Sealed packages. Receipts. The county clerks of the various counties of the state, and the city recorders, and the town clerks, as the case may be, shall, prior to election, cause to be delivered, at the expense of the county, city, or town, to the election judges in their respective districts, the proper number of ballots provided for the use of the voters at such election in such district. The same shall be sent in two sealed packages for each election district in said county, city, or town, with the marks on the outside of each, clearly stating the election district and polling place in said county, city, or town for which it is intended, together with the number of ballots inclosed. Each of such packages shall contain one-half of the number of ballots intended for such election district. Such packages shall be delivered prior to Monday noon before election day, one to each of the two judges of election in each district, who are members of the political parties which cast the largest and next largest number of votes at the last general state election. Receipts for ballots thus delivered shall be given by the election judges who receive them, and filed with the clerk of the county, city, or town, as the case may be, who shall also keep a record of the time when, and the manner in which, each of said packages was sent and delivered. The several election judges receiving such packages shall, at the opening of the polls, on election day, produce the same with the seals unbroken in the proper polling place, and shall in the presence of all three judges open the said packages.

2212. (843.) Substitute ballots. If the ballots to be furnished to any election judges, as herein provided, shall not be delivered at the time above mentioned, or if after delivery they shall be destroyed or stolen, it shall be the duty of the said clerk of the county, or recorder of said city, or clerk of said town, to cause other ballots to be prepared, as nearly in the form prescribed as practicable, with the word "substitute" printed in brackets immediately under the fac-simile signature of the clerk or recorder preparing such ballots, and upon receipt of the ballots thus prepared from such clerk or recorder accompanied by a statement under oath that the same have been prepared and furnished by him, and that the original ballots have so failed to be received, or have been destroyed or stolen, the election judges shall cause the ballots so substituted to be used at the election. If from any cause none of the official ballots or substitute ballots prepared by the county clerk, the city recorder, or town clerk, as herein prescribed, shall be ready for distribution at any polling place, or if the supply of ballots shall be exhausted before the polls are closed, unofficial ballots, printed or written, made as nearly as possible in the form of the official ballots, may be used until substitutes prepared by the clerk or recorder as provided in this section can be printed and delivered.

filled by said board of county commissioners; provided, that in case any judge of election shall fail on the morning of election to appear or from any cause shall fail or refuse to act, the qualified electors present at the polling place at the hour designated by law for the opening of the polls, provided said electors shall be not less than six in number, shall immediately fill the vacancy, by appointing another person qualified to act, who shall be a member of the same political party as the judge whose place he is appointed to fill. Judges of election shall designate which of their number shall preside and which shall act as clerks. If any board of county commissioners shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section, each and every member thereof shall be gulity of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100 for every offense. In case of a conflict arising before such board, owing to different persons claiming the right to certify such list for any political party, the board shall have authority to decide between such lists; provided, that they shall select only names included in a sworn list as above mentioned; and, provided, further, that any person making a false statement in any such affidavit shall be guilty of perjury and punished as provided by law. Judges of election shall receive such compensation, not to exceed $3 per day, as may be fixed by the board of county commissioners.

Judges to be furnished with a copy of official register, §§ 2128-2130.
When judges fail to appear, electors present appoint, § 2111.
Vacancy in office of judge filled by county board, § 2116.
Opening and closing polls, proclamation, § 2111.

2214. (845.) Polling places, booths, ballots, etc. Alteration or division of election districts. The board of county commissioners of each county shall designate polling places for each district in such county and shall provide in each polling place designated by them a sufficient number of voting booths, or compartments, which shall be furnished with supplies and conveniences, including shelves, pens, penholders, ink, and blotting paper, as will enable the voter to prepare his ballot for voting, and in which voters may prepare their ballots screened from observation as to the manner in which they do so; and a guard rail shall be constructed and placed that only such persons as are inside such rail can approach within six feet of the ballot box and of such voting booths and compartments. The arrangement shall be such that the voting booth or compartment can only be reached by passing within such guard rail. And both they and the ballot boxes shall be in plain view of the election officers and of those outside the guard rail. Each booth or compartment shall be at least three feet square, and shall contain a shelf which shall be at least one foot wide, extending across one side of the booth or compartment at a convenient height for writing, and shall be so arranged that the voter can prepare his ballot screened from observation. No person other than the election officers and watchers provided by law, and those admitted for the purpose of voting, as herein provided shall be permitted within such guard rail, except by authority of the judges of election, and then only when necessary to keep order and enforce the law. The number of such voting booths or compartments shall not be less than one for every fifty voters who voted at the last election in the district. The officers who are charged with the duty of providing voting booths or compartments shall also furnish for each polling place a ballot box, which shall be large enough to properly receive and hold the ballots to be cast for candidates for offices, in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. The expense thereof shall be in all cases a public charge, to be provided for in the same manner as other election expenses under this chapter. At the times now prescribed by law and in each year hereafter, the officers charged by law with the division or alteration of the election districts shall alter or divide the existing election districts, whenever necessary, in such manner that each election district shall contain not more than 300 voters.

Limitation on power to change districts, § 1400x2.
Change of boundaries; new lists, § 2140.
Statements of constitutional amendments to be kept at, § 2201.

2215. (846.) Application for ballot. Challengers. Watchers. Voting

mark described. Any person desiring to vote shall give his name, and, if requested so to do, his residence, to one of the judges of election, who shall thereupon announce the same in a loud and distinct tone of voice, clear and audible, and if such name is found upon the registry list by the election judge having charge thereof, he shall likewise repeat the said name, and the voter shall be allowed to enter the space inclosed by the guard rail, as above provided. An election judge shall give him one, and only one, ballot, and before delivering such ballot to the voter, the judge of election having charge of the ballots shall indorse his initials on the stub. The name of such voters shall be immediately checked on said list with the number of such stub. Besides the election officers and watchers, not more than four voters in excess of the number of voting shelves or compartments provided shall be allowed in said inclosed space, within said guard rail, at one time, except as hereinafter provided. Each of the political parties which cast the largest and next largest number of votes at the last general election in the state shall be entitled to have one person as watcher within the guard rail during the casting and counting of votes and declaration of the result thereof. Such person shall be designated and his selection made known to the election judges by an affidavit made by the acting chairman of the county or state committee of each of such parties; provided, that in case of temporary absence for meals or by reason of sickness or otherwise, the person so selected may have substituted for himself some other person of like political belief, such substitute to be made known to the election judges by an affidavit of the person first to be selected as watcher. When any person shall make application for a ballot, his right to vote at that poll and election may be orally challenged by any challenger outside the guard rail, upon either or all of the following grounds:

1. That he is not the person whose name appears on the registration list, and under which name he claims the right to vote;
2. That he has not resided within the state one year next preceding the election;
3. That he has not been a citizen of the United States for a period of ninety days next preceding the election;
4. That he has not resided in the county four months next preceding the election;
5. That he has not resided within the precinct for sixty days next preceding the election;
6. That he does not live in the election district;
7. That he has voted before on that day;
8. That he is not of the age of twenty-one years or upwards; provided, that if the person challenged shall take an oath before any of the judges of election that the grounds of challenge are untrue, then he shall be entitled to vote. If the person applying is not entitled to vote, no ballot shall be delivered to him. Any person may also be challenged, as provided by this chapter, when he shall offer his ballot for deposit in the ballot box. Two challengers representing each political party or set of nominations shall be permitted to remain just outside the guard rail, where they can plainly see what is done within the polling place, except within the said booths or compartments. The said polling place shall be so arranged that every part thereof, except inside the said booths or compartments, may be in full view of such challengers and watchers. On receiving his ballot, the voter shall forthwith, and without leaving the inclosed space, retire alone to one of the voting shelves or compartments, and shall prepare his ballot as hereinafter provided. The voting mark shall be a cross in the circle or square, and the cross required to be used in this chapter shall consist of two straight lines as nearly equal in length and crossing each other as near the center of each line as practicable.

Duty of judges to challenge voters indicated by registry agent, § 2129.

Under the provisions of this section and §§ 2216-2218, requiring the judges to furnish voter with official ballots, etc., the voter can only use the ballot furnished, and its validity cannot be denied because of irregularity in its preparation.

Earl v. Lewis, 28 U. 116; 77 P. 235.

2216. (847.) How to mark the ticket. Any voter desiring to vote for all the candidates upon any ticket may mark in the circle above that ticket, or in the squares opposite the names of all candidates thereon, or both such markings. If the voter does not desire to vote for a candidate on a ticket the circle of which he has marked, he may draw a line through the name of such candidate, and the cross in the circle shall count as a vote for all the other candidates on the ticket. To vote for candidates on two or more tickets, he may mark in the squares opposite the names of such candidates without marking in any circle; or he may indicate his choice by marking in the circle above one ticket, drawing a line through the names of such candidates on that ticket for whom he does not desire to vote, and marking in the squares opposite the names of the candidates of his choice upon other tickets. The voter may also insert in writing in the proper place in the blank ticket the name of any person for whom he desires to vote, and he shall be deemed to have voted for that person, whether he makes or fails to make a cross mark opposite such name. The unnecessary marking of a cross in a square on the ticket below the marked circle shall not affect the validity of the vote. In case of a question submitted to the vote of the people, the voter shall mark in the appropriate margin or place a cross against the answer he desires to give.

A law providing that electors may vote for all the candidates of a party by making a cross opposite a party emblem, and requiring those who do not vote for all such candidates to make a cross opposite the name of those voted for, and providing that only the names of party candidates shall be printed upon the ticket except upon petition, held to be valid.
Ritchie v. Richards, 14 U. 345; 47 P. 670.

2217. (848.) Ballots, how counted. Rejection. Ballots thus marked shall be counted for the candidates designated by the marks in the squares, and for the candidates upon the ticket beneath a marked circle excluding the candidates through whose names the voter may have drawn a line. When a circle is marked and no lines are drawn through the name of any candidate thereunder, the ballot shall be counted for all the names upon the ticket beneath such circle. When more than one circle is marked, the ballot shall be rejected. When only one officer for any office is to be elected, if the voter marks in squares opposite the name of more than one candidate therefor; or if, having marked the circle of one ticket, he shall mark the name of a candidate on another ticket without drawing a line through the name of the corresponding candidate upon the ticket beneath the marked circle, such vote shall not be counted for such office. When two or more officers of the same kind are to be elected, if more squares opposite the names of candidates for such office are marked than there are officers to be elected to such office; or, if the aggregate number of unscratched names of such candidates on a ticket, the circle of which is marked, added to the number of such candidates on other tickets whose names are marked, shall exceed the number of officers to be elected to such office, the ballot shall not be counted for any such candidates. Any ballot marked by the voter in any other manner than as authorized in this chapter shall be rejected. No ballot properly marked by the voter shall be rejected because of any discrepancy between the printed ballot and the nomination paper, and it shall be counted for the candidate or candidates for such offices named in the nomination paper. No ballot furnished by the proper officer shall be rejected for any error in stamping or writing the indorsements thereon by the officials charged with such duties, nor because of any error on the part of the officer charged with such duty in delivering the wrong ballots at any polling place, but any ballot delivered by the proper official to any voter shall, if properly marked by the voter, be counted as cast for all candidates for whom the voter had the right to vote, and for whom he has voted.

Ballots improperly marked, § 2221.
The numbering of ballots by election officers in the honest belief that such action is proper is not placing a distinguishing mark thereon within this section.
Hardy v. Beaver City, 41 U. 80; 125 P. 679.

2218. (849.) Folding and casting ballot. Time allowed voters. Persons allowed in booth. Before leaving the voting shelf or compartment the voter shall fold his ballot without displaying the marks thereon, in the same manner it was folded when he received it, so that the contents of the ballot shall be concealed and the stub can be removed without exposing any of the contents of the ballot, and he shall keep the same so folded until he has voted. Each voter who has prepared his ballot, and is ready to vote as aforesaid, shall then leave the compartment and approach the judges of election having the ballot box in charge, and give his name to one of the judges of election, who shall announce it in a loud and distinct tone of voice, clear and audible. The voter's ballot shall be handed to the judge in charge of the ballot box, who shall announce the name of such voter and the number upon the stub of his ballot; which number must correspond with the number previously checked opposite his name on the registry list when the election judge handed him his ballot; if the stub number of the ballot corresponds and is identified by the initials of the judge placed thereon, the judge shall then remove the stub from such ballot. The judge in charge of the poll list shall immediately write the name of such voter upon such list. Such ballot shall then be returned by said judge to the voter, who shall thereupon in full view of the judges of election deposit the same in the ballot box, with the official indorsement on the ballot uppermost. Each voter shall mark and deposit his ballot without undue delay, and shall quit said inclosed space as soon as he has voted. No such voter shall be allowed to occupy a voting shelf or compartment already occupied by another, nor remain within said inclosed space more than ten minutes, nor to occupy a voting shelf or compartment for more than five minutes, in case all such shelves or compartments are in use and other voters are waiting to occupy the same. No voter, not a judge of election, whose name has been checked on the registry list of the ballot officers, shall be allowed to re-enter said inclosed space during said election. It shall be the duty of each and all of the judges of election to secure the observance of the provisions of this section and other sections relative to the duties of voters and of judges and other officers of election.

2220. (851.) Assisting disabled or illiterate voter to prepare ballot. Any voter who declares under oath to the judges of election that he cannot read or write the English language, or that, by reason of physical disability, he is unable to prepare his ballot without assistance, or that he is physically unable to enter the polling place, being at the entrance thereto, shall, upon his request, receive the assistance of any two of the election judges, who are of different political parties, in the marking thereof; and such judges shall certify on the outside thereof that it was so marked with their assistance, and shall thereafter give no information regarding the same. The same two judges shall not together successively act as such assistants. The judges of election are hereby qualified to administer such oath, and a memorandum shall be made on the poll list of every instance when an oath was administered to a voter as herein provided, stating what facts were sworn to, the name of affiant, and the names of the judges who aided the voter in the preparation of his ballot. No judge who assists a voter in the preparation of his ballot, as herein provided, shall in any manner request, persuade, or induce, or seek to persuade or induce, any such voter to vote for or against any particular candidate or candidates. Nor shall any such judge reveal to another the name of any candidate for whom the voter has voted, or anything that took place while he was assisting such voter in preparing such ballot for voting. No voter shall divulge to any one within the polling place the name of any candidate for whom he intends to vote, nor shall he ask for, or receive the assistance of, any person within the polling place, in the preparation of his ballot, except as provided in this section. When any voter, in addition to the oath required hereinbefore by this section, shall also make oath that he cannot speak, and understand when spoken, the English language, the election judges may select two persons, one from each political party, who shall act as interpreters and who shall take the oath taken by election judges as nearly as may be, which interpreters may assist such persons who cannot speak, and understand when spoken, the English language, in making up their ballots.

2221. (852.) Defective ballots. Counting or rejecting. If a voter marks in ink more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if, for any reason, it is impossible to determine the choice of any voter for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office; provided, however, that a defective or incomplete cross mark on any ballot in ink in a proper place shall be counted, if there be no other mark or cross in ink on such ballot indicating an intention to vote for some person or persons or set of nominations other than those indicated by the first mentioned defective cross mark. No ballot without the official indorsement shall, except as provided in § 2212, be allowed to be deposited in the ballot box, and none but ballots provided in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be counted. Ballots not counted shall be marked "defective" on the back thereof.

Ballots improperly marked, § 2217.

2222. (853.) Counting the votes. Excess ballots, disposal of. As soon as the polls at any election shall have finally closed, the judges shall immediately open the ballot box and proceed to count the votes polled, and the counting thereof shall be commenced and continued until finished before the judges shall adjourn. They shall first count the number of ballots in the box. If the ballots shall be found to exceed the number of names on each of the poll lists, the judges of election shall then examine the official indorsements on the outside of the ballots without opening the same, and if, in the unanimous opinion of the judges, any one or more of the ballots in excess of the number on the poll lists be deemed not to bear the proper official endorsement, it or they shall be put into a separate pile by themselves and marked "excess ballots." If there is still an excess of ballots, they shall be replaced in the box, and one of the judges, without looking, shall draw out from the box a number of ballots equal to such excess, and the same shall be laid aside and not counted. When the ballots and the poll lists agree, or, as above provided, have been made to agree, the board shall proceed to count the votes; each ballot shall be read and counted separately, and every name included in a marked ticket, set, or list of nominations, or separately marked as voted for on such ballot, where there is no conflict to obscure the intention of the voter as aforesaid, shall be read and marked upon the tally list, before any other ballot is proceeded with; and the entire number of ballots, excepting "excess" and "defective" ballots, shall be read and counted and placed upon the tally lists in like manner, and when all the ballots have been counted as herein provided, the board shall compute and declare the results.

2223. (854.) Marking tally lists. Certification. As the ballots are opened and read the judges shall, upon tally lists prepared for that purpose, carefully mark down the votes each person shall have received, in separate lines, with the name of such person at the beginning of the line, and the office it is designed by the voter such person shall fill. The judges shall certify the tally lists substantially as follows:

We, the undersigned, judges of election for district No. ....., county of ....., state of Utah, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct list of all the persons voted for at the election held in said district on the ..... day of ....., 19....., and the number of votes cast for each for the offices respectively named.

Judges.

2224. (855.) County to furnish poll books. The board of county commissioners of each county must furnish, for the several election districts in each county, poll books, after the forms hereinafter prescribed.

2225. (856.) Delivery of poll books to judges. The county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, shall cause to be delivered to one of the judges of election in each district, at the time the ballots are delivered for such district, two of such blank poll books for the use of the judges of such district.

2226. (857.) Form of poll books. The following is the form of the poll books to be kept by the judges of election, in which shall be written the poll list:

FORM.

Poll book of district No. .....

Number and names of electors voting.

No. Name. No. Name. No. Name. No. Name.

We, the undersigned, judges of an election held at ..... district, in ..... county, state of Utah, on the ..... day of ....., 19....., having first been severally sworn according to law, hereby certify that the foregoing is a true statement of the number and names of the persons voting in said district at said election, and that the total number of votes cast thereat was .....

Judges.

2227. (858.) Disposal of ballots after counting. Marking of excess ballots. At all elections, the ballots as soon as read must be strung on a string by one of the judges, and must not thereafter be examined by any person. The "excess" and "defective" ballots, separately strung, shall, with the counted ballots, be carefully sealed in a strong envelope. Every "excess" or "defective" ballot must be marked by the judges, in writing, across the face thereof, "excluded on the ground of .....," filling the blank with a brief statement of the reasons for the rejection, which statement must be dated and signed by the judges.

2228. (859.) Judges of election to sign and certify poll books, and make returns. As soon as all the votes are counted and the ballots sealed up as aforesaid, the poll books must be signed and certified by the judges. Before they adjourn, the judges must enclose in another strong envelope and seal up and direct to the county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, the official register, all certificates of registration received by them, one list of the persons challenged, one of the poll books, one of the tally sheets, and the official oaths taken by the judges of election. The judges must enclose in another envelope and direct to the county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, a copy of the total number of votes received by each candidate whose name is on the official ballot, the same to be placed on file in the office of the county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, for public inspection. The stubs of the counted ballots shall be immediately burned by the presiding judge of election. Am'd '09, p. 5.

2229. (860.) Statement of disposition of ballots. The election judges shall also at the same time prepare a statement in writing showing the number of ballots voted, making a separate statement of the number of unofficial ballots, if any, voted as provided in § 2212, the number of ballots delivered to voters, the number of spoiled ballots, and the number of ballots not delivered to voters, and the number of ballots returned, identifying and specifying the same. All unused ballots, and spoiled ballots, shall be returned with such statement to the county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, in a sealed envelope. Any election judge who shall fail to thus account particularly for all official ballots placed in his charge shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

2230. (861.) Judges to indorse envelopes, etc. Each of the judges must write his name across the seals of the envelope or covers, and must mark on the exterior of the same the word "ballots" or "returns" or "unused ballots" or other words plainly indicating the contents of the packages and the number of the election district.

2231. (862.) Lists, etc., open to inspection. Delivery of ballot box. The judges must select one of their number to retain, open to the inspection of electors for at least six months, the other list of persons challenged, the other tally sheet, and the other poll book. The judge so selected must also deliver the ballot box and the key thereof to the district registry agent, by him to be delivered to the presiding judge at any future election during his term of office, and at the termination thereof to be delivered to his successor in office or otherwise disposed of as the county clerk may direct.

2232. (863.) Delivery of sealed packages within twenty-four hours. The sealed packages must, before the judges adjourn, be delivered to one of their number, to be determined by lot, unless otherwise agreed upon. The judge to whom such packages are delivered must, within twenty-four hours, deliver them without their having been opened to the county clerk, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be.

Where, in an election contest, contestant desires to introduce ballots voted in evidence, the burden is on him to establish, as a condition precedent to the introduction thereof, that they have been kept in the manner prescribed by this section and § 2234.
Farrell v. Larsen, 26 U. 283; 73 P. 227.
Where ballots were delivered to contestant, who was the incumbent of the office, and a number of the packages were unsealed and deliberately kept in an unlocked telephone room in the clerk's office, to which unauthorized persons had unrestricted access, such ballots were inadmissible.

2233. (864.) Payment of messengers delivering election returns. There shall be paid out of the treasury of each county, city, or town, as the case may be, to the person carrying the election returns to the clerk or recorder thereof, the sum of $1, and also the sum of 10 cents, one way, for every mile necessarily traveled between the polling place and the place of delivery; provided, that where the polling place is fifteen miles or more from the county seat, the election returns may, in the discretion of the judges of election, be sent to the county clerk, within twenty-four hours, by registered mail, from the postoffice most convenient to said voting place. Am'd '03, p. 31.

2234. (865.) Ballots to be retained one year, then destroyed. Upon receipt of the packages, the clerk or recorder must file the one containing ballots and must keep it unopened and unaltered for twelve months, after which time, if there is not a contest commenced in some tribunal having jurisdiction, he must burn the package without opening or examining the contents.

2235. (866.) Id. Ballots to be preserved till contest is determined. If within twelve months there is such a contest commenced, he must keep the package unopened and unaltered until it is finally determnied; when he must, as provided in the preceding section, destroy it, unless such package is, by virtue of an order of the tribunal in which the contest is pending, brought and opened before it, to the end that evidence may be had of its contents, in which event the package and its contents shall be in the custody of such tribunal.

The fact that the "voted" registry list contains fewer names than the number of votes actually cast is not, under § 256, C. L. U. 1888, an irregularity authorizing a recount, where the difference is less than the majority received by the successful candidate.

2237. (868.) Filing returns. Recorder to transmit poll list, etc., to county clerk. As soon as the returns are canvassed, the clerk or recorder must file in his office the poll book, lists, and the papers produced before the board from the package mentioned in the preceding section; provided, that in municipal elections the town clerk or city recorder shall, on or before the 1st day of June, prior to the general election, transmit to the county clerk the checked register and poll list used at such election. Am'd '05, p. 245.

CHAPTER 7.

CANVASS OF RETURNS.

Board of county canvassers, § 1400x2. No demand is necessary upon a board whose statutory duty it is to canvass election returns to compel the performance of such duty. Lyman v. Martin, 2 U. 136.

2239. (870.) Id. Absence of commissioner. Clerk. If, at the time and place appointed for such meeting, one or more of the county commissioners should not attend, the place of the absentees must be supplied by one or more of the following county officers, whose duty it is to act, in the order named, to wit: The treasurer, the assessor, the sheriff, so that the board of county canvassers shall always consist of three acting members. The county clerk is ex officio the clerk of the board of county canvassers.

2240. (871.) Commencing the canvass. Missing returns. If, at the time of the meeting, the returns from each district in the county in which polls were opened have been received, the board of county canvassers must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from day to day, Sundays and legal holidays excepted, until all of the returns are received, or until seven postponements have been had. If the returns from any election district have not been received by the county clerk within seven days after any election, it is his duty forthwith to send a messenger to the judges for the missing returns, who must procure such returns from the judges, or any of them, and return the same to the county clerk. Such messenger shall be paid out of the county treasury ten cents per mile for the distance necessarily traveled. If it appears to the board, by evidence, that the polls were not opened in any district, and no returns have been received therefrom, the board must certify to the same and file such certificate and the evidence, if any, with the county clerk, who must enter the same in the minutes and in the statement mentioned in § 2242.

2241. (872.) Canvass to be public. Irregularities. The canvass must be made in public by opening the returns and determining therefrom the vote of such county or precinct for each person voted for, and for and against each proposition voted upon at such election, and declaring the result thereof. In canvassing, no returns must be rejected, if it can be ascertained therefrom the number of votes cast for each person. The fact that the returns do not show who administered the oath to the judges of election, or a failure to fill out all the certificates in the poll books, or to do or perform any other act in making up the returns that is not essential to determine for whom the votes were cast, is not such an irregularity as to entitle the board to reject the same, but they must be canvassed as are other returns.

A certificate must be issued to the one shown by the certified return to have received a plurality of the votes, though the tally sheet shows a smaller number of votes cast than are shown by the certified return. Rich v. Henderson, 49 U. 258; 162 P. 621.

2242. (873.) Entry of result of canvass. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter on the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement must show:

1. The whole number of votes cast in the county;
2. The names of the persons voted for, and the propositions voted upon;
3. The office to fill which each person was voted for;
4. The number of votes given at each election district to each of such persons, and for or against each of said propositions;
5. The number of votes given in the county to each of such persons and for and against each of such propositions, or in case of precinct officers, the number of votes given in each precinct to each person voted for.

Sec. 2413 requires a written statement of election contest to be filed within forty days after the board of canvassers meets to canvass the returns on the Monday next after the election, as required by § 2238, and not from the time the result is declared, as required by this section. Carbis v. Dale, 23 U. 463; 65 P. 204.

Highest number of votes elects, §§ 2106, 2412. Grounds for election contest, § 2410.

2245. (876.) Abstract of state and district returns. When there has been a general or special election for officers, or any measure voted for by the electors of the state at large, or by the electors of two or more counties, each county clerk, as soon as the statement of the vote of his county is made out and entered upon the record of the board of county canvassers, as specified in § 2242, must make a certified abstract of so much thereof as relates to the votes given for and against such measure and for persons for said offices to be filled at such elections.

Applies to direct legislation election, § 2309.

2247. (878.) Board of state canvassers, how composed. Meeting. Duties. Certificate of election. On the fourth Monday of November after the day of election, at twelve o'clock noon, or in case of special election, at twelve o'clock noon on the day following the receipt by the secretary of state of the last of the returns of such special election, the state auditor, state treasurer, and attorney general, who shall constitute a board of state canvassers, must meet in the office of the secretary of state and compute and determine the vote for officers or any measure voted for by the electors of the state at large or of two or more counties; and the secretary of state, who is secretary of said board, must make and file in his office a statement thereof, and must immediately make and deliver, to the person having the highest number of votes given for each office to be filled by such electors, a certificate of election signed by the secretary of state and authenticated by his seal. In case a secretary of state shall be elected to succeed himself, the certificate of election shall be issued by the board of state canvassers.

Payment of messengers, § 2233.

2249. (880.) Defective returns not to cause delay. No declaration of the result or certificate must be withheld on account of any defect or informality in the returns of any election, if it can, with reasonable certainty, be ascertained from such returns what office is intended and who is elected thereto.

Provisions to be liberally construed, § 2113.
Grounds for election contest, § 2410.
Election valid unless rejected vote would change result, § 2412.

In an election for members of a constitutional convention, where each voter was entitled to vote for seven candidates, and the registry list showed that in case each voter had voted for the full number of candidates, more votes would have been cast than the returns showed had been cast for all the candidates collectively; held, there was not an irregularity in the returns authorizing a recount.

The duty of a canvassing board under § 256, C. L. 1888, to determine what are the returns of an election, is not judicial, and the board cannot reject returns for informalities which do not destroy their character as such.
Id.

The act that the "voted" registry list contains fewers names than the number of votes actually cast is not such an irregularity as to authorize a recount, where the difference is less than the majority received by the successful candidate.

CHAPTER 8.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

2250. (881.) Presidential electors. At each general election in November next preceding the choice of the president and vice-president of the United States of America, there shall be elected at large from the state as many electors of president and vice-president of the United States of America as the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in congress.

2251. (882.) Id. Certificate of election. Notice of meeting. The certificate of election for electors of president and vice-president of the United States of America shall be served upon each person elected, and he shall at the same time be notified to attend at the office of the secretary of state, at the capital of the state, and to report himself to the governor of this state as in attendance at the hour of twelve o'clock noon of the first business day next preceding the day upon which the electors are required by law to meet and vote for president and vice-president of the United States of America.

2252. (883.) Id. Meeting of electors to fill vacancies. The electors of president and vice-president so attending shall convene in the office of the secretary of state at the capital of the state, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon of the day fixed in § 2251, and in case there shall be any vacancy in the office of an elector, occasioned by death, refusal to act, neglect to attend by the hour of twelve o'clock noon of said day, or on account of the ineligibility of any person elected, or from any other cause, the qualified electors present shall proceed to fill such vacancy by ballot and plurality of votes, and the said electors so present shall immediately issue a certificate of election signed by those present, or a majority of them, to the person so chosen. In case of a failure to elect by the said electors by noon of the day upon which they are required by law to meet and vote for president and vice-president of the United States of America, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointment; provided, that the vacancy shall be filled from the same political party represented by the elector who has occasioned such vacancy.

2254. (885.) Electors not to receive compensation. The said electors shall receive no compensation for their services.

CHAPTER 9.

UNITED STATES SENATORS.

('15, p. 54.)

2260. Election of senators. Term. At the general election to be held in the state of Utah in November, 1916, there shall be elected one United States senator to serve for a period of six years, and thereafter in each appropriate year, at the general election in such year, there shall likewise be elected one United States senator for a period of six years.

2261. Manner of election. Canvass of returns. The manner of election and canvassing of votes and all other details in respect to the election herein provided for shall be in accordance with the election laws of this state, so far as the same are applicable.

2263. Determination of result. In every case the person receiving the largest number of votes cast in said election for any one person shall be declared the duly elected senator of the United States for the term aforesaid.

CHAPTER 10.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

2264. Two districts designated. The state of Utah is hereby divided into two districts for the election of representatives in the congress of the United States, each of which districts shall be entitled to one representative. Said representatives shall be elected at the election preceding the expiration of the terms of the incumbents.

2265. District boundaries. The limits and designation of the counties of each district shall be as follows:

The counties of Beaver, Box Elder, Cache, Carbon, Emery, Garfield, Grand, Iron, Juab, Kane, Millard, Morgan, Piute, Rich, San Juan, Sanpete, Sevier, Summit, Uintah, Wasatch, Washington, Wayne, and Weber shall constitute the first district.

The counties of Davis, Utah, Tooele, and Salt Lake shall constitute the second district. '13, p. 116.

2266. (886.) Representative to congress elected biennially. At the general election to be held in the year 1898, and biennially thereafter, there shall be elected for each congressional district one representative to the congress of the United States.

CHAPTER 11.

TWENTY-EIGHTH REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

2267. District created. Duchesne county shall constitute and be known as the twenty-eighth representative district of the state of Utah, and be entitled to one representative in the legislature of said state; and said county of Duchesne shall be a part of the fifth senatorial district. '15, p. 3.

For other districts, Con. art. 9 sec. 4.

CHAPTER 12.

DIRECT LEGISLATION ELECTIONS.

('17, p. 188.)

2290. Initiation and reference of legislation. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, legal voters of the state of Utah, in such numbers as herein required, may, by joining in a petition for that purpose, filed in the office of the secretary of state as hereinafter provided, initiate any desired legislation and cause the same to be submitted to the legistlature or to a vote of the people for approval or rejection, or may require any law passed by the legislature (except those laws passed by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to each house of the legislature) to be referred to the voters of the state before such law shall take effect; provided, that in order to make any such petition mandatory, a majority of all the counties of the state must each furnish signatures of legal voters not less in number than the percentages herein required.

Authorized by Con. art. 6, sec. 1. Enacting clause, Con. art. 6, sec. 22.

2291. Petition. Action by legislature. Referendum. Upon the presentation to the secretary of state, at any time not less than ten days before the commencement of any regular session of the legislature, of an initiative petition signed as herein provided by legal voters of the state equal in number to 5 per cent of all the votes cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the legislature as soon as it convenes and organizes. The law proposed by such petition shall either be enacted or rejected without change or amendment by the legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to referendum petition in like manner as other laws. If any law so petitioned for be not enacted by the legislature, it shall be submitted to a vote of the people at the next ensuing general election, provided additional signatures to the petition are first obtained to bring the total number of signatures up to 10 per cent of all votes cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected.

2294. Legislative acts effective. No act passed by the legislature shall go into effect until sixty days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed the act, except laws passed by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to each house of the legislature. When a referendum petition has been filed, the act shall not go into effect unless and until it shall be approved by a vote of the people at the next ensuing general election.

2295. Elective acts effective. Veto. Amendments. Any act or law submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition, and approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon at any election, shall take effect five days after the date of the official proclamation of the vote by the governor. No act or law adopted by the people shall be subject to veto by the governor, but acts and laws approved by the people under the referendum provisions hereof may be amended by the legislature at any subsequent session thereof.

2296. Procedure. Sponsors. Information. The procedure to be followed in initiating or referring any act or law shall be as follows:

An application, hereinafter known as the application for "petition copies," having annexed thereto five copies of the proposed law, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The application shall be signed by not fewer than five persons, hereinafter designated as "sponsors." The sponsors shall sign their names to said application, together with their residences, including the street and number of such residences, if they can be so designated. The sponsors shall be qualified electors of the state of Utah, and shall acknowledge their signatures under oath before some officer competent to administer oaths, who is personally acquainted with them; they shall likewise be required to swear before such officer that they have voted in some general election held within the county in which they reside, within three years next preceding the date of their taking the oath, and such affidavit of electoral qualification must appear on the application containing their signatures, or on a paper annexed thereto.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to inform any person making inquiry in regard thereto of the number of votes cast for governor in the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, as the same appears from the official canvass of such election of record in the office of the secretary of state.

2297. Signatures. Circulating sheets. Certificates. All the signatures to any petition for the initiative or referendum shall be signed in the office and in the presence of an officer competent to administer oaths, and shall be placed on sheets of paper, known as "circulation sheets," substantially fourteen inches long and nine inches wide. Such circulation sheets shall be ruled with a horizontal line one and one-half inches from the top thereof. The space above this line shall remain blank and shall be for the purpose of binding. The circulation sheet shall be vertically divided into two columns. The first column shall be three and one-half inches in width, measured from the left edge of the sheet, and shall be for the purpose of containing the signatures. The second column shall encompass the remainder of the width of the sheet, and shall be the space on which shall be placed the postoffice addresses of the signers, together with the street numbers, if the residence of the signer can be so designated, and the address of such signer shall be written opposite his name on the same line.

At the top of each sheet, under the one and one-half inch blank margin, shall be printed in suitable type the word "Warning," under which shall be printed in eight-point type, single leaded, the following:

"It is a felony for any one to sign any initiative or referendum petition with any other name than his own, or knowingly to sign his name more than once for the same measure, or to sign such petition when he knows he is not a legal voter."

Each sheet shall contain under said printing twenty-five horizontal ruled lines, three-eighths of an inch apart. Upon the back of each sheet shall be printed the following:

State of Utah, county of ....., ss.

I, ..., of ....., hereby certify that all the names which appear on this sheet were signed by persons who professed to be the persons whose names appear thereon, and each of them signed his name thereto, in my office and in my presence; I believe that each has signed his name, postoffice address, and residence correctly, and that each signer is a legal voter of the state of Utah.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, upon payment of the fees hereinafter required, to furnish the number of circulation sheets requested in the application of the sponsors, and to make them up into sets as hereinafter specified, according to instructions contained in the specifications.

INITIATIVE PETITION.

To the honorable ....., secretary of state:

We, the undersigned citizens and legal voters of the state of Utah, respectfully demand that the following proposed law (here follows proposed law), shall be submitted to the legal voters (or legislature) of the state of Utah, for their (or its) approval or rejection at the regular election to be held, (or session commencing), on the ..... day of ....., 19....., and each for himself says: I have personally signed this petition; I am a legal voter of the state of Utah; my residence and postoffice address are correctly written after my name.

2299. Form for referendum. The following shall be substantially the form of petition for the referendum to the electors of any act passed by the legislature of the state of Utah:

PETITION FOR REFERENDUM.

To the honorable ....., secretary of state:

We, the undersigned citizens and legal voters of the state of Utah, respectively order that senate (or house) bill No. ....., entitled (title of act, and if the petition is against less than the whole act, then set forth here the part or parts on which the referendum is sought), passed by the ..... session of the legislature of the state of Utah, be referred to the people of the state of Utah, for their approval or rejection, at the regular election to be held on the ..... day of ....., 19....., and each for himself says: I have personally signed this petition; I am a legal voter of the state of Utah; my residence and postoffice address are correctly written after my name.

2300. Printing petition. Upon payment of the fees, as hereinafter specified, the secretary of state shall cause to be printed copies of the form of petition above set out, properly completed by inclusion of the matter required, sufficient in number to fulfill the requirement of the sponsors, as designated by their application for petition copies.

In arriving at the number of circulation sheets and petition copies which they may require, the sponsors shall specially take into consideration the provisions of § 2301.

2301. Circulation sheets. The petition, for purpose of circulation, may be divided into sections, each section to contain not more than fifty circulation sheets. No section, however, shall be circulated for signatures, unless it has attached to the front sheet thereof a certified petition copy, as described in § 2300. The sponsors shall set out in their application for petition copies the number of sections into which each petition is to be divided for circulation, and the number of circulation sheets which it is desired that each section shall contain, it being expressly understood that there need be no uniformity as to the number of circulation sheets contained in the sections. The secretary of state shall make up the sections as specified, attaching to the front of each section a petition copy as above described, and he shall securely bind together the sheets of each section at the top thereof in such a way that the sections may be conveniently opened for signing. The secretary of state shall number each section and keep a record of the numbers of all these sections delivered to the sponsors.

2302. Fees. Bids. Duties of secretary of state. Upon filing the application for petition copies, the sponsors shall pay a fee of $10, for all services to be performed in connection with said petition. The secretary of state shall determine from said application (or if unable to determine therefrom, shall notify the sponsors of such inability, whereupon said sponsors shall, by supplementary application, distinctly set out their instructions as to the same) the number of petition sections desired, and the number of circulation sheets required for each section. He shall forthwith, upon such determination, which determination shall be made within three days after the filing of the application, solicit, from not less than three competent printers, bids for the printing of the required number of petition copies, together with the certificate of the secretary of state that the law contained thereon is a full, true, and correct copy of the law as proposed by the sponsors for initiation, or the true and correct number and title of the law as proposed for referendum. The body of said petition shall be printed in six-point type, single leaded. The requisition for bids shall so specify. Within ten days after the filing of the application for the petition copies and circulation sheets, the secretary of state shall notify one or more of the sponsors of the lowest and best bid received from the requisitions made, and the secretary of state shall require the payment of said price into his office before he shall proceed with the petition. The secretary of state shall also require the payment of 50 cents per hundred for all circulation sheets furnished to the sponsors. Upon payment of these amounts, the secretary of state shall order, from the printer submitting the said lowest and best bid, the required number of petition copies, containing his certificate thereon as above specified. The secretary of state shall, within ten days after the payment of the amounts above specified, make up into sections said petition copies and circulation sheets, as above provided.

2303. Signatures by electors. Every person who is a qualified elector of the state of Utah may sign a petition for the referendum or for the initiation of any measure upon which he is legally entitled to vote. Any person signing any name other than his own to any petition, or knowingly signing his name more than once for the same measure at one election, or who is not at the time of signing the same a legal voter of this state, or any officer or person knowingly and wilfully violating any provision of this chapter, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding two years, or by both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court before which such a conviction shall be had.

2304. Verification of petitions. Each and every sheet of the petition containing signatures shall be verified on the back thereof, as prescribed in the blank verification printed thereon, by the officer in whose presence the sheets were signed. The forms prescribed in this chapter are not mandatory, and if substantially followed, the petition shall be sufficient, disregarding clerical and merely technical errors.

2305. Checks by county clerk and secretary of state. Recounts. Additional sheets. Mandamus and injunction. Each section of the initiative or referendum petition, when signed and verified as herein provided, shall be delivered to the county clerk of the county in which such section was circulated, and the county clerk shall check the signatures against the official registration lists of his county, and shall indicate thereon whether or not each signature is that of a duly registered voter. The county clerk shall then transmit all the sections to the secretary of state, who shall check off from his record, as they are filed, the number of the sections of the petition so filed. After such petition is filed, the secretary of state shall forthwith cause the number of verified names appearing on each verified circulation sheet to be counted, and if the number of names so counted equals or exceeds the number of names required by the provisions of this chapter, the secretary of state shall mark upon the front of said petition the word "sufficient." If the names properly signed and verified do not equal or exceed the number required by the provisions of this chapter, the secretary of state shall mark on the front thereof the word "insufficient." The secretary of state shall forthwith notify any one of the sponsors of his finding. In case his finding is "insufficient," said sponsors, or any of them, may demand in writing a recount of the names appearing on said petition in the presence of said sponsors or any of them. If the petition is found insufficient through lack of signers, the sponsors may, by paying the costs thereof, demand as many additional circulation sheets as they may deem necessary, and the secretary of state shall bind these new sheets, to whatever sections of said petition said sponsor or sponsors may designate, and he shall allow said sponsors to withdraw said section or sections for purposes of recirculation, and the secretary of state shall keep a record of the numbers of all of said sections so withdrawn. If the secretary of state shall refuse to accept and file any petition for the initiative or for the referendum, any citizen may apply, within ten days after such refusal, to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel him to do so. If it shall be decided by the court that such petition is legally sufficient, the secretary of state shall then file it, with a certified copy of the judgment attached therto, as of the date on which it was originally offered for filing in his office. On a showing that any petition filed is not legally sufficient, the court may enjoin the secretary of state and all other officers from certifying or printing on the official ballot for the ensuing election, the ballot title and numbers of such measures.

2306. Ballot title. Appeal from attorney-general. Procedure. When the petition shall, by the secretary of state, be declared to be sufficient, he shall forthwith transmit to the attorney-general of the state of Utah a copy of the law so proposed for initiation or referendum, and within ten days thereafter the attorney-general shall provide and return to the secretary of state a ballot title for said measure. The ballot title may be distinct from the legislative title of the measure, and shall express, in not exceeding one hundred words, the purpose of the measure. The ballot title shall be printed with the number of the measure on the official ballot. In making such ballot title, the attorney-genral shall, to the best of his ability, give a true and impartial statement of the purpose of the measure, and in such language that the ballot title shall not be intentionally an argument, or likely to create prejudice, either for or against the measure. A copy of every ballot title, upon being filed by the attorney-general with the secretary of state, shall, by the secretary of state, forthwith be served upon any of the sponsors, and such service may be by mail or telegraph. And if the ballot title so furnished by the attorney-general is unsatisfactory, or does not comply with the requirements of this section, upon motion of at least three of the sponsors an appeal may be taken from the decision of the attorney-general to the supreme court of the state. Said supreme court shall thereupon examine such measures, hear arguments, and in its decision thereon shall certify to the secretary of state a ballot title for the measure in accord with the intent of this section. The secretary of state shall have the title thus certified to him printed on the official ballot; provided, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require the secretary of state to have the title of any supposed law for initiation or the number of any measure for referendum printed on said official ballot, for which a sufficient petition, as herein provided, shall not have been filed in his office, at least thirty days before any general election at which said proposed measure is to be submitted.

2307. Publicity pamphlet. Whenever an act or law is submitted to the people by either initiative or referendum petition, the secretary of state shall, not later than ninety days before the election at which such act or law is to be voted upon, prepare a "publicity pamphlet," which shall contain the following:

1. A true copy of the title and text of each measure to be voted upon at such election;

2. A copy of the number and ballot title of each question as it will appear upon the official ballot;

3. Arguments of equal length, which shall be limited by the secretary of state to not less than five hundred words and not to exceed two thousand words for and against each such measure by the proponents and opponents thereof. The actual cost of inserting and printing such arguments shall be paid by the persons presenting the same.

The secretary of state shall cause to be printed one and one-half times as many copies of such pamphlet as there are registered voters in the state, and at least sixty days before the election at which such measures are to be voted upon he shall furnish each county clerk in the state with one and one-half times as many copies of such pamphlet as there are registered voters in his county. The county clerk shall thereafter, but at least thirty days before the election, cause a copy of such pamphlet to be mailed to each registered voter in his county, but the expense of mailing, including postage, shall be paid by the state.

2308. Manner of voting. The manner of voting upon measures submitted to the people shall be as follows:

The number and ballot title as herein provided for shall be printed upon the official ballot, immediately to the right of which shall be printed the words, "for" and "against," each followed by a square in which the elector may place a cross to indicate his vote. Each elector desiring to vote "for" shall place a cross within the square following the word "for," and those desiring to vote "against" shall place a cross within the square following the word "against."

2309. Return and canvass of votes. Proclamations. Conflicting measures. Decision by supreme court. The votes on measures and questions submitted to the people of the state shall be counted, canvassed, and returned by the regular boards of judges, clerks, and officers, as votes for candidates are counted, canvassed, and returned, and the abstract made by the several clerks of votes on measures shall be returned to the secretary of state in the manner provided by § 2245, for abstracts of votes for state officers. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, in the presence of the governor, to proceed within thirty days after the election, and sooner if the returns be all received, to canvass the votes given for each measure; and the governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation, giving the whole number of votes cast in the state for and against each measure and question, and declaring such measures as are approved by the greatest number of affirmative votes, providing such number be a majority of those voting thereon, to be in full force and effect as the law of the state of Utah. When the governor is of the opinion that two measures or the parts of two measures, approved by the people at the same election, are entirely in conflict and opposed, he shall proclaim that measure to be law which has received the greatest number of affirmative votes, regardless of the difference in the majorities which those measures have received. Within ten days after such proclamation, any qualified voter who shall have signed the petition to submit the measure which is declared by the governor to be superseded by another measure approved at the same election, may appeal by petition to the supreme court, which shall forthwith consider the matter and decide whether or not such measures are in conflict, and shall certify its decision, within ten days after the matter is submitted to it for decision, to the governor. The governor shall, within thirty days after his previous proclamation, proclaim all those measures approved by the people as law which the supreme court has decided not to be in conflict, and of all those which the supreme court shall have decided to be in conflict, he shall proclaim the one which has received the greatest number of affirmative votes, regardless of difference in majorities, as law.

2310. Powers of voters in towns and cities. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, legal voters of any city or town, in such numbers as herein required, may initiate any desired legislation and cause the same to be submitted to the law-making body or to a vote of the people of said city or town for approval or rejection, or may require any law or ordinance passed by the law-making body of said city or town to be submitted to the voters thereof before such law or ordinance shall take effect.

2311. Requirements of petitions in cities and towns. All initiative and referendum petitions in cities and towns, to be mandatory, must be signed by legal voters of such city or town equal in number to the percentages herein required of all the votes cast in such city or town, for all candidates for governor at the last preceding election at which a governor was elected, namely:

If the total number of votes exceeds 10,000, the petition shall be signed by 10 per cent.

If the total number of votes is less than 10,000, but more than 2500, the petition shall be signed by 12½ per cent.

If the total number of votes is less than 2500, but more than 500, the petition shall be signed by 15 per cent.

If the total number of votes is less than 500, but more than 250, the petition shall be signed by 20 per cent.

If the total number of votes is less than 250, the petition shall be signed by 30 per cent.

2312. Procedure. In all cities and towns the manner of exercising the initiative and referendum powers reserved by the constitution to the people thereof shall be similar to the procedure herein prescribed for the state initiative and referendum, and the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter as to state legislation shall be performed as to such municipal legislation by the city or town auditor, clerk, or recorder, as the case may be; the duties required of the governor shall be performed by the mayor; and the duties required of the attorney-general shall be performed by the city or town attorney. The provisions of this chapter shall apply in every city and town in all matters concerning the operation of the initiative and referendum in its municipal legislation. The printing and binding of the "publicity pamphlet" shall be paid for by the city or town; distribution of said pamphlets shall be made to every voter in the city or town, so far as possible, by the city clerk, auditor, or recorder, as the case may be, either by mail or carrier, not less than eight days before the election at which the measures are to be voted upon. Arguments supporting municipal measures shall be filed with the city clerk, auditor, or recorder not less than thirty days before the election at which they are to be voted upon; opposing arguments shall be filed not less than twenty days before said election. It is intended to make the procedure in municipal legislation as nearly as practicable the same as the initiative and referendum procedure for measures relating to the people of the state at large.

2313. Measures effective. Emergency. Referendum petitions against any ordinance, franchise, or resolution passed by a city commission or council shall be filed with the city clerk, auditor, or recorder, as the case may be, within thirty days after the passage of such ordinance, resolution, or franchise. No city ordinance, resolution, or franchise shall take effect and become operative until thirty days after its passage by the city commission or council, and approved by the mayor, unless the same shall be passed over his veto, and in that case it shall not take effect and become operative until thirty days after such final passage, except measures necessary for the immediate preservation of the peace, health, or safety of the city; and no such emergency measure shall become immediately operative unless it shall state in a separate section the reasons why it is necessary that it should become immediately operative, and shall be approved by the affirmative vote of three-fourths of all the members elected to the city commission or council, taken by ayes and noes, and also approved by the mayor.

2314. Initiative and referendum measures in cities. If any ordinance, charter, or amendment to the charter of any city shall be proposed by initiative petition, said petition shall be filed with the city clerk, auditor, or recorder, as the case may be, and he shall transmit it to the next session of the city commission or council. The city commission or council shall either ordain or reject the same, as proposed, within thirty days thereafter, and if the commission or council shall reject said proposed ordinance or amendment, or shall take no action thereon, then the city clerk, auditor, or recorder, as the case may be, shall submit the same to the voters of the city or town at the next ensuing election held therein not less than ninety days after the same was first presented to the city commission or council. The commission or council may ordain said ordinance or amendment and refer it to the people, or it may ordain such ordinance without referring it to the people, and in that case it shall be subject to referendum petition in like manner as other ordinances; if the commission or council shall reject said ordinance or amendment, or take no action thereon, it may ordain a competing ordinance or amendment, which shall be submitted by the city clerk, auditor, or recorder, as the case may be, to the people of the said city or town at the same election at which said initiative proposal is submitted. Such competing ordinance or amendment, if any, shall be prepared by the commission or council and ordained within thirty days allowed for its action on the measure proposed by initiative petition. The mayor shall not have power to veto either of such measures. If conflicting ordinances or charter amendments shall be submitted to the people at the same election, and two or more of such conflicting measures shall be approved by the people, then the measure which shall have received the greatest number of affirmative votes shall be paramount in all particulars as to which there is conflict, even though such measure may not have received the greatest majority. Amendments to any city charter may be proposed and submitted to the people by the city commission or council, with or without an initiative petition, but the same shall be filed with the city clerk for submission not less than sixty days before the election at which they are to be voted upon, and no amendment of a city charter shall be effective until it is approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon by the people of the city or town to which it applies. The city commission or council may by ordinance order special elections to vote on municipal measures.

CHAPTER 13.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

2325. Primary elections. Candidates to be voted for at all general municipal elections in cities of the first and the second class, under the provisions of this chapter, shall be nominated by a primary election, and no other name shall be placed upon the general ballot except those selected in the manner hereinafter prescribed. The primary election for such nomination shall be held on the second Tuesday preceding the general municipal election. The judges of election appointed for the general municipal election shall be the judges of the primary election, and it shall be held at the same place, so far as possible, and the polls shall be opened and closed at the same hours.

Any person desiring to become a candidate for mayor or commissioner or auditor shall, at least ten days prior to said primary election, file with the said recorder a statement of such candidacy, in substantially the following form:

State of Utah, county of ....., ss.

I, ..., being first duly sworn, say that I reside at ..... street, city of ....., county of ....., state of Utah; that I am a qualified voter therein; that I am a candidate for nomination to the office of ..... (stating the term) to be voted upon at the primary election to be held on Tuesday, the ..... day of October, 19....., and I hereby request that my name be printed upon the official primary ballot for nomination by such primary election for such office.

(Signed).....

Subscribed and sworn to (or affirmed) before me by ..... on this ..... day of ....., 19.....

(Signed).....

(Official character of officer taking the oath.)

And shall at the same time file therewith the petition of at least one hundred qualified voters requesting such candidacy. Each petition shall be verified by one or more persons as to the qualifications and residence, with street number, of each of the persons so signing the said petition, and the said petition shall be in substantially the following form:

PETITION ACCOMPANYING NOMINATION STATEMENT.

The undersigned, duly qualified electors of the city of ....., and residing at the places set opposite our respective names hereto, do hereby request that the name of (name of candidate) be placed on the ballot as a candidate for nomination for (name of office and term), at the primary election to be held in such city on Tuesday, the ..... day of October, 19..... We further state that we know him to be a qualified elector of said city and a man of good moral character, and qualified, in our judgment, for the duties of such office.

Names of qualified electors.	Number.	Streets.

Immediately upon the expiration of the time of filing the statements and petitions of candidates, the said city recorder shall cause to be published for three successive days in all the daily newspapers published in the city, in proper form, the names of the persons as they are to appear upon the primary ballot, and if there be no daily newspaper, then in two issues of any other newspapers that may be published in said city; and the said recorder shall thereupon cause the primary ballots to be printed, authenticated with a fac simile of his signature. Upon the said ballot the names of the candidates for mayor, arranged alphabetically, shall first be placed, with a square at the left of each name, and immediately below the words, "vote for one." Following these names, likewise arranged in alphabetical order, shall appear the names of the candidates for commissioner for the two-year term, with a square at the left of each name, and below the names of such candidates shall appear the words, "vote for .....," (stating the number as the case may be). Following these names, likewise arranged in alphabetical order, shall appear the names of the candidates for commissioner, for the four-year term, with a square at the left of each name and below the names of such candidates shall appear the words, "vote for .....," (stating the numbers as the case may be). Following these names, likewise arranged in alphabetical order, shall appear the names of the candidates for auditor, with a square at the left of each name, and below the names of such candidates shall appear the words, "vote for one."

The ballots shall be printed upon plain, substantial white paper, and shall be headed:

Candidates for nomination for (state the offices to be filled) of ..... city, at the primary election .....

But shall have no party designation or mark whatever.

The ballots shall be in substantially the following form; the necessary changes to be made to conform to offices and terms to be filled:

(Place a cross in the square, preceding the names of the persons you favor as candidates for the respective positions.)

OFFICIAL PRIMARY BALLOT.

Candidates for nomination for (state the offices to be filled) of ..... city, at the primary election.

For Mayor:
(Names of candidates.)
Vote for one.
For Commissioner for the two-year term:
(Names of candidates.)
Vote for .....
(State the number to be elected at the municipal election.)
For commissioner for the four-year term:
(Names of candidates.)
Vote for .....
(State the number to be elected at the municipal election.)
For Auditor:
(Names of candidates.)
Vote for one.

Official ballot attest:

City Recorder.

Having caused such ballots to be printed, the said city recorder shall cause to be delivered at each polling place a number of said ballots equal to twice the number of votes cast in such voting district at the last general municipal election for mayor. The persons who are qualified to vote at the general municipal election, and who at the time of such primary election are registered, shall be qualified to vote at such primary election, and challenges can be made by not more than two persons, to be appointed at the time of opening the polls by the judges of election; and the law applicable to challenges at a general municipal election shall be applicable to challenges made at such primary election. Judges of election shall immediately, upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots and ascertain the number of votes cast in such district for each of the candidates, and make return thereof to the city recorder within twenty hours of the closing of the polls, upon proper blanks to be furnished by the said recorder. On the day following the said primary election, the said city recorder shall canvass said returns so received from all the polling districts, and shall make and publish in all the daily newspapers of said city, at least once, the result thereof. Said canvass by the city recorder shall be publicly made. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for mayor shall be the candidates, and the only candidates, whose names shall be placed upon the ballot for mayor at the next succeeding general municipal election; in cities of the first class the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes for commissioners shall be the candidates, and the only candidates, whose names shall be placed upon the ballot for commissioners at such municipal election; provided, that at the next general municipal election held in cities of the first class, after taking effect of this chapter, the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes for commissioners for the four-year term and the two-year term respectively shall be the candidates, and the only candidates, whose names shall be placed upon the ballot for commissioners at said next municipal election, and the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for auditor shall be the candidates, and the only candidates, whose names shall be placed upon the ballot for auditor. In cities of the second class the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for mayor shall be the candidates, and the only candidates, whose names shall be placed upon the ballot for mayor at the next succeeding general municipal election, and the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for commissioner for the two-year term, and the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for commissioner for the four-year term, shall be the candidates, and the only candidates, whose names shall be placed upon the ballot for commissioner at such municipal election, and the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for auditor shall be the candidates, and the only candidates. The ballot at the municipal election shall be in substantially the same form as the primary ballot.

All electors of cities under this chapter who, by the laws governing cities of the first and the second class, would be entitled to vote for the election of officers at any general municipal election in such cities, shall be qualified to vote at all elections under this chapter; and the ballot at such general municipal election, so far as applicable, and in all elections in such city, the election precincts, voting places, method of conducting election, canvassing the votes, announcing the results, shall be the same as by law provided for election of officers in such cities, so far as the same are applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. '11, p. 240.

2330. (887.) Election. Terms. On the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1917, and biennially thereafter, there shall be held in each incorporated city and town of this state an election to fill all elective offices to be vacated in said city or town at 12 o'clock meridian on the first Monday of January, 1918. Such elected officers shall continue in office for two years, unless otherwise provided, and until their successors are elected and qualified. In cities of the first class, the election and term of office of the officers shall be as follows: In the year 1917 there shall be elected at large in said cities of the first class two commissioners and an auditor, who shall be elected for a term of four years, and quadrennially thereafter. In the year 1919 there shall be elected at large in said cities of the first class a mayor and two commissioners for a term of four years, and quadrennially thereafter; provided, that in cities of the second class the election and term of office of the officers shall be as follows: In the year 1917 there shall be elected at large in cities of the second class a mayor and an auditor for a term of two years each, and one commissioner for a term of four years; and biennially thereafter there shall be elected a mayor, an auditor, and one commissioner, the mayor and auditor for the term of two years each, and such commissioner for a term of four years. The officers elected shall enter upon their duties at 12 o'clock meridian on the first Monday in January next succeeding their election. In cities of the third class there shall be elected in the year 1917 four councilmen at large, three of whom shall be for a term of two years and one for a term of four years, and biennially thereafter there shall be elected three for a term of two years and one for a term of four years. The municipal officers herein provided shall continue in office for their respective terms to which they are elected, as provided in this chapter, and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. '11, p. 232; Am'd '13, p. 55; '17, p. 126.

2331. (888.) Appointive officers hold till successors qualify. All appointive officers in said cities and towns shall hold their respective offices until their successors shall be appointed and qualified.

Terms of appointive officers, § 602.
Not applicable to policemen.
Everill v. Swan, 17 U. 514; 55 P. 68.

2332. (889.) Qualifications for voters at municipal elections. All qualified electors of the state who have resided in the county four months, and in the precinct and city or town for sixty days next preceding any municipal election are entitled to vote at such election.

Qualifications of voters, Con. art. 4, sec. 2; § 2123.

2333. (890.) Appointment of judges. Voting places. Laws governing. In all municipal elections the city council and board of trustees of the town shall appoint judges of election and designate the places of voting. There must be at least one voting place in each election district in cities, at any regular election. At special elections for any purpose there shall be at least one voting place in each municipal ward. All elections must be conducted according to the general laws of the state, and all notices and lists of names required to be posted by registry agents prior to any general election shall also be posted by the registry agents prior to any municipal election, the necessary changes being made as to time of posting same. Am'd '01, p. 180.

Registration for municipal elections, §§ 2137, 2141.

Posting of notices and designation of polling places for election to determine upon issuance of municipal bonds, held to be in substantial compliance with this section.

Utah Sav. & Tr. Co. v. Salt Lake City, 35 U. 25; 99 P. 255.

Election is not illegal because proclamation does not designate the particular polling places. Id.

2334. (891.) Canvass of returns and issue of certificate. Tie votes. On the Monday following any election, the city council or the board of trustees of the town must convene and publicly canvass the result, and issue certificates of election to each person elected by a plurality of votes. When two or more persons have received an equal and highest number of votes for any one of the offices voted for, the tie shall be decided by lot in the presence of the mayor and city recorder, or the president of the board of trustees and the town clerk, as the case may be, upon a day designated by the mayor or by the president of the board of trustees.

The council has no power to inquire either into the legality of the nomination or the legality of the votes cast, or into the regularity of the official ballot, but is bound to issue a certificate of election to the person ascertained to have the largest number of votes for the particular office.

Payne v. Hodgson, 34 U. 269; 97 P. 132.

CHAPTER 14.

ELECTION OFFENSES.

2335. (892.) Offering or giving bribe. Promising employment, etc. It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, by himself or through any other person:

1. To pay, loan, or contribute, or offer or promise to pay, loan, or contribute any money or other valuable consideration to or for any voter, or to or for any other person to induce such voter to vote or refrain from voting at any election provided by law, or to induce any voter to vote or refrain from voting at such election for any particular person or persons, or to induce such voter to go to the polls or remain away from the polls at such election, or on account of such voter having voted or refrained from voting for any particular person, or having gone to the polls or remained away from the polls at such election;

2. To give, offer, or promise any office, place, or employment, or to promise or procure, or endeavor to procure any office, place, or employment to or for any voter, or to or for any other person, in order to induce such voter to vote or refrain from voting at any election provided by law, or to induce any voter to vote or refrain from voting at such election for any particular person or persons, or to obtain the political support or aid of any such person or persons;

3. To advance or pay, or cause to be paid, any money or other valuable thing to or for the use of any other person, with the intent that the same, or any part thereof, shall be used in bribery at any election provided by law, or to knowingly pay or cause to be paid any money or other valuable thing to any persons in discharge or repayment of any money, wholly or in part expended in bribery at any such election. Am'd '11, p. 239.

See corrupt practices, §§ 2360, 2406.

2336. (893.) Receiving bribe, employment, etc. It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, by himself or through any person:

1. To receive, agree, or contract for, before or during an election provided by law, any money, gift, loan, or other valuable consideration, office, place, or employment, for himself or any other person, for voting or agreeing to vote, or for going or agreeing to go to the polls, or for remaining or agreeing to remain away from the polls, or for refraining or agreeing to refrain from voting, or for voting or agreeing to vote, or refraining or agreeing to refrain from voting for any particular person or persons, measure or measures, at any election provided by law;

2. To receive any money or other valuable thing during or after an election provided by law, on account of himself or any other person, for voting or refraining from voting for any particular person at such election, or on account of himself or any other person for going to the polls or remaining away from the polls at such election, or on account of having induced any person to vote or refrain from voting, or to vote or refrain from voting for any particular person or persons, measure or measures at such election.

See corrupt practices, §§ 2360, 2406.

2337. (894.) Fraud, interference, riotous conduct, destruction of ballots, etc., at election. Every person not entitled to vote who fraudulently votes, and every person who votes more than once, at any one election, or knowingly hands in two or more ballots folded together, or changes any ballot after the same has been deposited in the ballot box, or adds or attempts to add any ballot to those legally polled at any election, either by fraudulently introducing the same into the ballot box before or after the ballots therein have been counted; or adds to or mixes with, or attempts to add to or mix with, the ballots lawfully polled, other ballots, while the same are being counted or canvassed, or at any other time, or wilfully detains, mutilates, or destroys any election returns or in any manner so interferes with the officers holding such election, or conducting such canvass, or with the voters lawfully exercising their rights of voting at such election, as to prevent such election or canvass from being fairly held or lawfully conducted, or who shall be guilty of riotous conduct at any election or shall interefere in any manner with any officer of such election in the discharge of his duties, or who shall induce any officer of any election, or officer whose duty it is to ascertain, announce, or declare the result of any such election, or to give or make any certificate, document, or evidence in relation thereto, to violate or refuse to comply with his duty, or any law regulating the same, or who shall take, carry away, conceal, remove, or destroy any ballot, poll book, or other thing from the polling place, or from the possession of the person or persons authorized by law to have the custody thereof; or who aids, counsels, provides, or procures, advises, or assists any person or persons to do any of the acts aforesaid, shall be guilty of a crime, and shall be punished as hereinafter provided.

2338. (895.) Penalties under preceding sections. Any person convicted of any of the crimes or offenses mentioned in §§ 2335-2337 shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1000, or by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by both fine and imprisonment.

2339. (896.) Fraudulent registration. Penalty. Every person who wilfully causes, procures, or allows himself to be registered, knowing himself not to be entitled to such registration; and every person who wilfully causes, procures, advises, encourages, or assists any other person to be registered, knowing or believing such person not to be entitled to such registration, is punishable by fine not exceeding $1000, or by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding one year, or by both.

2340. (898.) Intimidating or obstructing voter. Influencing employe's vote. It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, by himself or any other person in his behalf, to make use of any force, violence, or restraint, or to inflict or threaten the infliction by himself or through any other person, of an injury, damage, harm, or loss, or in any manner to practice intimidation upon or against any person in order to induce or compel such person to vote or refrain from voting for any particular person or persons, measure or measures, at any election provided by law, or on account of such person having voted or refrained from voting at any such election. And it shall be unlawful for any person, by abduction, duress, or any forcible or fraudulent device or contrivance whatever, to impede, prevent, or otherwise interfere with the free exercise of the elective franchise of any voter, either to give or refrain from giving his vote at any such election, or to give or refrain from giving his vote for any particular person at any such election. It shall be unlawful for any employer, either corporation, association, company, firm, or person in paying its, their, or his employes the salary or wages due them, to inclose their pay in "pay envelopes" on which there is written or printed any political mottoes, devices, or arguments, containing threats, express or implied, intended or calculated to influence the political opinion, views, or action of such employes. Nor shall it be lawful for any employer, either corporation, association, company, firm, or person, within ninety days of any election provided by law, to put up or otherwise exhibit in its, their, or his factory, workshop, mine, mill, boarding house, office, or other establishment or place where its, their, or his employes may be working or be present in the course of such employment, any hand bill, notice, or placard, containing any threat, notice, or information, that in case any particular ticket or candidate shall or shall not be elected, work in its, their, or his establishment shall cease in whole or in part, or its, their, or his establishment be closed, or the wages of its, their, or his workmen be reduced; or other threats, expressed or implied, intended or calculated to influence the political opinions or actions of its, their, or his employes. Any person or persons, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and any person, whether acting in his individual capacity or as an officer or agent of any corporation, so guilty of such misdemeanor, shall be punished as hereinafter prescribed.

Political control of employes forbidden, Con. art. 16, sec. 3.

Deductions from wages prohibited, §§ 2352, 2389.

2341. (899.) Influencing vote of employe. It shall be unlawful for any corporation or any officer or agent of any corporation to influence or attempt to influence, by force, violence, or restraint, or by inflicting or threatening to inflict any injury, damage, harm, or loss, or by discharging from employment or promoting in employment, or by intimidation, or otherwise in any manner whatever to induce or compel any employe to vote or refrain from voting at any election provided by law, or to vote or refrain from voting for any particular person or persons, measure or measures, at any such election. Any such corporation, or any officer or agent of such corporation, violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be subject to the penalty hereinafter provided, and in addition thereto, any corporation violating this section shall forfeit its charter and right to do business in this state.

Deductions from wages prohibited, §§ 2352, 2389.

Political control of employes forbidden, Con. art. 16, sec. 3.

2342. (900.) Forging election returns. Fraud. Every person who forges or counterfeits any return of any election purporting to have been held at any district in this state, where no election was in fact held, or wilfully substitutes any forged or counterfeit return of election in the place of the true return for a district where any election was actually held, or who shall in any manner do or cause any fraud in any election, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than two nor more than ten years.

2343. (901.) Altering returns. Every person who wilfully adds to or subtracts from the votes actually cast at an election, in any returns, or who alters such returns, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one nor more than five years.

2344. (902.) Abetting in forging, or altering returns. Every person who wilfully aids or abets in the commission of any of the offenses mentioned in the two next preceding sections, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a period not exceeding two years.

2345. (903.) Exposing ballot. Interfering with voter at poll, etc. A voter who shall, except as in §§ 2180-2193 otherwise provided, allow his ballot to be seen by any other person, with an apparent intention of letting it be known how he is about to vote, or who shall make a false statement as to his inability to mark his ballot, or any person who shall interfere, or attempt to interfere, with any person when inside said inclosed space, or when marking a ballot, or who shall endeavor to induce any such voter to vote or to show how he marked his ballot, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100. Any election judge or clerk shall report any person doing so to the county attorney for the county in which the election is held, whose duty it shall be to see that the offender is forthwith prosecuted before the proper court.

2346. (904.) Destroying instruction cards, supplies, etc. Any person who shall, prior to an election, wilfully deface or destroy any list of candidates posted in accordance with the provisions of this title, or who, during an election, shall wilfully deface, tear down, remove, or destroy any card of instruction, or sample ballot, printed or posted for the instruction of voters, or who shall, during an election, wilfully remove or destroy any of the supplies or conveniences furnished to enable a voter to prepare his ballot, or shall wilfully hinder the voting of others, shall be punished by fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2347. (905.) Destroying certificate of nomination, etc. Examining or marking ballots, etc. Any person who shall falsely mark or wilfully deface or destroy any certificate of nomination, or any part thereof, or any letter of declination, or resignation, or file any certificate of nomination or letter of declination, or resignation, knowing the same or any part thereof to be falsely made, or suppress any certificate of nomination, or letter of declination, or resignation or any part thereof, which has been duly filed; or forge any letter of declination, or resignation, or falsely make the official indorsement on any ballot, or wilfully destroy or deface any ballot, or wilfully delay the delivery of any ballots, or shall examine any ballot offered or cast at the polls or found in any ballot box for any purpose other than to ascertain what candidate was elected, or who makes or places any mark or device on any ballot with the view to ascertain the name of any person for whom the elector has voted, shall be punished by fine not exceeding $1000, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

2349. (907.) Failure to deliver ballots and election returns. Any person or officer who has undertaken to deliver official ballots to any election district, city, town, precinct, or county officer of election, who neglects or refuses to do so, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months nor more than one year, or by a fine of not less than $250 and not more than $1000, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The failure to deliver election returns and ballots by any person who has undertaken to do so shall be deemed a felony and shall be punishable as hereinafter provided.

2350. (908.) Revealing how elector voted. Any election officer or watcher who shall reveal to any other person the name of any candidate for whom the voter has voted, or who shall communicate to another his opinion, belief, or impression as to how or for whom a voter has voted, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months nor more than one year, or by fine of not less than $250 nor more than $1000, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2352. (910.) Voter may leave employment to vote. Refusing employe time to vote. Any person entitled to a vote at a general election held within this state shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any employment in which he is then engaged or employed for a period of two hours between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls, and any such absence shall not be sufficient reason for the discharge of any such person from such service or employment, and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, be liable to any penalty, nor shall any deduction be made on account of such absence, from his usual salary or wages except when such employe is employed and paid by the hour; provided, that application shall be made for such leave of absence prior to the day of election. The employer may specify the hours during which such employe may absent himself as aforesaid. Any person or corporation who shall refuse to his or its employes the privilege hereby conferred, or who shall subject an employe to a penalty or reduction of wages because of the exercise of such privilege, or who shall, directly or indirectly, violate the provisions of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

2353. (911.) Using liquor at polling place. Saloons. It shall be unlawful for any person or any election judge to introduce into any polling place, or to use therein, or to offer to any one for use therein, at any time while any election is in progress or the result thereof being ascertained by the counting of the ballots, any intoxicating, malt, spirituous, or vinous liquors. It shall be unlawful for any officer or board of officers of any county, city, or town, who may at any time be charged with the duty of designating polling places for the holding of any general or special election therein, to select therefor a saloon or room within the distance of fifty feet, measured in a direct line, of any saloon or other place where any intoxicating, malt, vinous, or spirituous liquors are sold, to be drunk where sold.

2354. (912.) General penalty. Forfeiture of right to vote. Offender a competent witness. All acts, omissions, and neglects of any person, official, or corporation, made an offense by the provisions of this title, and the punishment for which is not expressly designated, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1000, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall also forfeit the right to vote at such election; and any elector whose right to vote shall be challenged for such cause shall be required to swear or affirm that the matter of the challenge is untrue, before his vote shall be received. Any person so offending against any provision of this title is a competent witness against any other person so offending, and may be compelled to attend and testify upon any trial, hearing, proceeding, or investigation in the same manner as any other person. But the testimony so given shall not be used in any prosecution or proceeding, civil or criminal, against the person so testifying except for perjury in giving such testimony. A person so testifying shall not thereafter be liable to indictment, prosecution, or punishment for the offense with reference to which his testimony was given, and may plead or prove the giving of testimony accordingly in bar of such indictment or prosecution.

When compelled to testify in an election contest the immunity of the witness is complete. Beauregaard v. Gunnison City, 48 U. 515; 160 P. 815.

2355. (913.) Chapter applicable to all elections. The provisions of this chapter shall extend, so far as applicable, to all elections provided by law, special, general, municipal, school, and primary elections in cities of the first and the second class. Am'd '11, p. 234.

CHAPTER 15.

PREVENTION AND PUNISHMENT OF CORRUPT PRACTICES IN ELECTIONS.

2360. Construction of terms. The following words and phrases as used in this chapter shall be construed as follows:

1. Any act shall be deemed to have been for "political purposes" when the act is of a nature, or is done with the intent, or is done in such a way, as to influence or tend to influence, directly or indirectly, any voting at any political convention, primary, or election, or if the said act is done on account of any persons having voted or refrained from voting, or being about to vote or refrain from voting, at any political convention, primary, or election.

2. The term "candidate" shall mean and include every person for whom it is contemplated or desired that votes be cast at any political convention, primary, or election, and who either tacitly or expressly consents to be so considered, except candidates for president and vice-president of the United States.

3. The term "disbursement" shall mean and include every act by or through which any money, property, office, or position or other thing of value passes, or is directly or indirectly conveyed, given, provided, paid, expended, promised, pledged, contributed, or lent, and also any money, property, office, or position or other thing of value so given, provided, paid, expended, promised, pledged, contributed, or lent.

4. The term "filing officer," when used with reference to any candidate, shall be construed to mean the officer who is authorized by law to issue a certificate of nomination or election to such candidate if he be successful. If there be no officer authorized to issue such certificate of nomination or election, then such term shall be construed to mean the clerk of the county, city, or town in which such candidate resides.

5. The term "primary" shall mean and include any primary election held under the general election laws of this state, and also any primary held for the purpose of selecting delegates to any political convention.

6. The term "election" shall mean and include all general, special, or other elections provided for under the general election laws of this state, or under the election laws governing any election in any district, county, city, town, or other municipality therein.

7. The term "personal campaign committee" shall mean any committee appointed by a candidate to act for him as hereinafter provided.

8. The term "party commitee" shall mean any committee appointed or elected to represent any political party with a party organization in this state.

9. Every two or more persons elected or appointed by any political party or association for the purpose, wholly or partly, of raising, collecting, or disbursing money, or directing the raising, collecting, or disbursing thereof, for nomination or election purposes, and every two or more persons who shall co-operate in the raising, collecting, or disbursing of money used, or to be used, for or against the election to public office of any person or any class or number of persons, or for or against the adoption of any law, ordinance, or constitutional amendment, shall be deemed a "political committee" within the meaning of this chapter.

10. The term "committee" shall mean any personal campaign committee, party committee, or political committee unless the intent is clearly shown to be otherwise.

2361. Acceptance of disbursements. Defense to prosecutions. No person shall receive or accept any money, property, or other thing of value, or any promise or pledge thereof, constituting a disbursement made for political purposes contrary to law. In any prosecution for the violation of this section, it shall be a defense if the accused person shall prove that he had neither knowledge that such disbursement constituted a disbursement made for political purposes contrary to law, nor any reasonable cause to believe that it constituted such a disbursement.

2363. Selection of personal committee. Revocations. Presumption as to acts. Any candidate may select a personal campaign committee to consist of one or more persons, and he may constitute himself as such committee. Before any personal campaign committee shall make any disbursement in behalf of any candidate, or shall incur any obligation, expressed or implied, to make any disbursement in his behalf, such candidate shall file with his filing officer, a written statement signed by him, setting forth that such personal campaign committee has been appointed, and giving the name and address of each member thereof, and of the secretary thereof. If a personal campaign committee consists of only one person, such person shall be deemed the secretary thereof. If the candidate acts as his own personal campaign commitee, he shall be deemed the secretary thereof. Any candidate may revoke the selection of any member of such personal campaign committee by a revocation in writing, which, with proof of personal service on the member whose selection is so revoked, shall be filed with the filing officer of such candidate. Such candidate may fill the vacancy thus created in the manner in which the original appointment is made. In civil actions and proceedings brought under this chapter, the acts of every member of such personal campaign committee shall be presumed to be with the knowledge and approval of the candidate until it has been clearly proved that the candidate did not have knowledge of and approved the same, and that, in the exercise of reasonable care and diligence, he could not have had knowledge of and opportunity to disapprove the same.

2364. Disbursements by persons other than candidates. Exceptions. No person or group of persons, other than the candidate or his personal campaign committee, or party committee, shall make any disbursement for political purposes, otherwise than through a personal campaign committee, or a party committee, except that expenses incurred for rent of hall or other rooms, for hiring speakers, for printing, for postage, for telegraphing or telephoning, for advertising, for distributing printed matter, for clerical assistance, and for hotel and traveling expenses, may be contributed and paid by a person or group of persons residing within the county where such expenses are incurred, and except that a speaker may pay his actual traveling expenses in going to and from meetings addressed by him.

2365. Legal disbursements by candidates. No candidate for nomination or election to any elective office in this state coming within the provisions of this chapter shall make any disbursements for political purposes except the following, which are hereby declared to be legal disbursements for political purposes, to wit:

1. For his own personal hotel and traveling expenses and for postage, telegraph, and telephone expenses;
2. For payments which he may make to the state pursuant to law or for filing fees to the proper public officer;
3. For contributions to his duly registered personal campaign committee;
4. For contributions to his party committee;
5. For the purposes enumerated in § 2366, when such candidate has no personal campaign committee, but not otherwise.

2366. Disbursements by committee. No personal campaign committee or party committee, or any other political committee, shall make any disbursement except:

1. For maintenance of headquarters, and for hall rentals incident to the holding of public meetings;
2. For necessary stationery, postage, telephone, telegraph, messenger, and clerical assistance to be employed at a candidate's headquarters, or at the headquarters of the committee, incident to the writing, addressing, and mailing of letters and campaign literature;
3. For necessary expenses incident to the furnishing and printing of badges, banners, and other insignia; to the printing and posting of handbills, posters, lithographs, and other campaign literature, and the distribution thereof through the mails or otherwise;
4. For campaign advertising in newspapers, periodicals, or magazines as provided in this chapter;
5. For wages and actual necessary personal expenses of public speakers, organizers, and musicians;
6. For traveling expenses of members of the committee;
7. For preparing poll lists and for challengers at the polls;
8. For contributions to other party or political committees.

Appointive officers ineligible on party committee, when, § 2393.

2367. Bills, charges, and claims against candidate or committee. Every person who shall have any bill, charge, or claim upon or against any personal campaign or party committee or any candidate, for any disbursement made, services rendered, or thing of value furnished for political purposes, or incurred in any manner in relation to any primary or election, shall render in writing to such committee or candidate, such bill, charge, or claim, within fifteen days after the day of the primary or election in connection with which such bill, charge, or claim was incurred. No candidate and no personal campaign or party committee shall pay any bill, charge, or claim so incurred prior to any primary or election which is not so presented within ten days after such primary or election; provided, that the mailing of any such bill, charge, claim, or remittance in a registered letter addressed to any candidate or committee, postage prepaid, shall be deemed a compliance with this section.

2368. Financial statements. Details. 1. Every candidate who is voted for at any primary or election held within this state, and the secretary of every personal campaign committee, and the scretary of every party committee, and the secretary of every other political committee, shall, on the second Saturday after such candidate or committee has first made a disbursement, or has first incurred any expressed or implied obligation to make a disbursement for political purposes, and thereafter, on the second Saturday of each calendar month, until all disbursements shall have been accounted for, and also on the Saturday preceding any election or primary, file a financial statement verified upon the oath of such candidate, or upon the oath of the secretary of such committee, as the case may be, which statement shall cover all transactions not accounted for and reported upon in statements theretofore filed. Each statement after the first, shall contain a summary of all preceding statements, and summarize all items theretofore reported under the provisions of this chapter.

2. The statement of any candidate and the statement of his personal campaign committee shall be filed with the filing officer of such candidate. The statement of every state committee, and of every congressional committee, shall be filed with the secretary of state. The statement of every other party committee shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county within which such disbursements were made.

3. Each such statement shall give in full detail:

(a) Every sum of money and all property and every other thing of value received by such candidate or committee during such period, from any source whatsoever, which he or it uses or has used or is at liberty to use for political purposes, together with the name of every person or source from which each was received, the specific purpose for which each was received, and the date when each was received, together with the total amount received from all sources in any amounts or manner whatsoever.

(b) Every promise or pledge of money, property, or other thing of value received by such candidate or committee during such period, the proceeds of which he uses or has used or is at liberty to use for political purposes, together with the name of the persons by whom each was promised or pledged, the specific purposes for which each was promised or pledged, and the date when each was so promised or pledged, together with the total amount promised or pledged, from all sources, in any amounts whatsoever.

(d) Every obligation, expressed or implied, to make any disbursement incurred by such candidate or committee for political purposes during such period, together with names of the person or persons to or with whom each such obligation was incurred, the specific purposes for which each was made, and the date when each was incurred, together with total amount of such obligations made in any amounts or manner whatsoever.

Statements shall also be made by any other political committee, showing the total amount of receipts and disbursements, and for what purpose such disbursements were made. Such statements shall be filed with the clerk of the county in which the committee has its headquarters, within thirty days after any primary or election.

2369. Blanks furnished for required statements. Blanks for all statements required by this chapter shall be prepared by the secretary of state, and copies thereof, together with a copy of this chapter, shall be furnished through the county clerk, or otherwise as the secretary of state may deem expedient, to the secretary of every committee, upon request, and to every candidate upon the filing of nomination papers, and to all other persons required by law to file such statements, who may apply therefor.

2371. Official inspection of statements. Notice to delinquents. The several officers with whom statements are required to be filed shall inspect all statements of disbursements relating to nominations and elections filed with them, within ten days after the same are filed; and if, upon examination of the official ballot, it appears that any person has failed to file a statement as required by law, or if it appears to any such officer that the statement filed with him does not conform to law, or, upon complaint in writing by a candidate or by a voter that a statement filed does not conform to law or to the truth, or that any person has failed to file a statement which he is by law required to file, said officer shall forthwith in writing notify the delinquent person to comply with this chapter.

2372. Duty of filing officer. Notice to county attorney. Proceedings. Upon the failure of any person to file a statement within ten days after receiving notice under the preceding section, or if any statement filed discloses any violation of any provision of this chapter, the filing officer shall forthwith notify the county attorney of the county in which said violation occurred, and shall furnish him with copies of all papers relating thereto, and the said county attorney shall, on such complaint, or the complaint of any other person, forthwith enter the same in a docket kept for that purpose in his office; and within twenty days thereafter, shall examine every such case; and if the evidence seems to him to be sufficient under the provisions of this chapter, he shall, in the name of the people of the state, forthwith institute such civil or criminal proceedings as may be appropriate to the facts.

2373. No excuse from answering questions. No person, otherwise competent as a witness, shall be excused from answering any question in any proceedings under this chapter, on the ground that such answers would tend to incriminate him; but no prosecution can afterwards be had against such witness for any such offense concerning which he testified for the prosecution, except in an action for perjury in giving such testimony.

2375. Oath, certificate, office, salary, dependent on statement. It shall be unlawful to administer the oath of office, or to issue a certificate of nomination or election, to any person nominated or elected to any public office until he has filed a statement as required by this chapter, which statement shall upon its face be complete and show a lawful compliance with this chapter; and no such person shall enter upon the duties of his office until he has filed such a statement, nor shall he receive any salary or fees for any period prior to the filing of the same.

2376. Limitations as to disbursements. Prohibitions. Contributions. No disbursement shall be made and no express or implied obligation to make such disbursement shall be incurred by or on behalf of any candidate for any office under the constitution or laws of this state, or under the ordinance of any city, town, or municipality of this state in his campaign for nomination and election, which shall aggregate more than the amounts herein specified, namely:

1. For United States senator, $4000;
2. For representative in congress, $2000;
3. For governor, $3000;
4. For presidential elector, $500;
5. For state senator, $200;
6. For state representative, $100;
7. For any other state officer, for any judge, for any county, city, or town officer, or for any officer not hereinbefore mentioned who, if elected, would receive as salary, a sum not exceeding, in the case of an officer elected for a four-year term, 15 per cent of the salary to which such person would, if elected, be entitled during the first year of his incumbency of such office; and in the case of an officer elected for a two-year term, a sum not exceeding 10 per cent of such salary; provided, that no person shall be restricted to less than $100.

No sum of money shall be paid, and no expenses authorized or incurred by or on behalf of any candidate contrary to the provisions of this chapter. For the purposes of this law the contribution, expenditure, or liability of a descendant, ascendant, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, wife, husband, partner, employer, employe, or fellow official or fellow employe of a corporation shall be deemed to be that of the candidate himself.

2377. Delegation of expenditure of disbursements. Any candidate may delegate to his personal campaign committee or to any party committee of his party, in writing duly subscribed by him, the expenditure of any portion of the total disbursements which are authorized to be incurred by him or on his behalf by the provisions of this chapter, but the total of all disbursements by himself and by his personal campaign committee in his behalf, shall not exceed in the aggregate the amounts in this chapter specified, except as provided herein.

2378. Limitations as to obligations and disbursements. 1. No disbursement shall be made, and no obligation, expressed or implied, to make such disbursement, shall be incurred by or on behalf of any personal campaign committee exceeding in the aggregate the total amounts theretofore delegated to such committee in writing duly subscribed as provided in § 2377.

3. The county committee of any political party entitled by law to have the names of its candidates placed upon the official ballot in any general election may, however, in addition to the disbursements delegated to it under the provisions of § 2377, make further disbursements in connection with any general election, but the aggregate of all the disbursements of any such county committee shall in no event exceed a sum equal to 12½ cents for each vote cast in such county for all candidates for governor in the next preceding general election, and any disbursement by any such committee in excess of such amount is forbidden.

2379. Prohibitions as to corporations. Fines and forfeitures. No corporation doing business in this state shall pay, contribute, loan, or advance, or offer, consent, or agree to pay, contribute, loan, or advance, directly or indirectly, any money, property, free services of its officers or employes, or anything of value, to any political party, organization, committee, or individual for any political purpose whatsoever, or for the purpose of promoting or defeating the candidacy of any person for nomination, election, or appointment to any political office. No officer, agent, or employe of a corporation shall use or contribute the moneys of such corporation for political purposes or in the interest of any political candidate or party. No corporation, public or private, shall deduct, or in any manner withhold, any salaries or part of salaries, from its employes, for political campaign expenses incurred in the past, present, or to be incurred in the future. If any corporation shall be convicted of violating any of the provisions of this chapter, it shall be subject to a fine of not less than $500, nor more than $10,000, and if a domestic corporation, in addition to said fine, it may be dissolved; and if a foreign or non-resident corporation, in addition to said fine, its rights to do business in this state may be declared forfeited.

2380. Punishment for representatives of corporations. Any officer, employe, agent, attorney, or other representative of any corporation, acting for or in behalf of such corporation, who shall violate this chapter, shall be punished upon conviction by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5000, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court or judge before whom such conviction is had.

2382. Prohibitions as to publishers. No publisher of a newspaper or other periodical circulating in this state shall insert, either in its advertising or reading columns, any paid matter which is designed, or tends to aid, injure, or defeat any candidate, or any political party or organization, or any measure before the people, unless it is stated therein that it is a "paid advertisement," and unless the name of the chairman or secretary or other officers of the political or other organizations inserting the same, or the name and address of some voter who is responsible therefor, shall appear in such advertisement in the nature of a signature. No person shall pay the owner, editor, publisher, or agent of any newspaper or other periodical to induce him editorially to advocate or oppose any candidate for nomination or election, and no such owner, editor, publisher, or agent shall accept such payment.

2383. Publisher must file statements. Contents. No publisher of any newspaper or other periodical published within this state shall insert, either in its advertising or reading columns, any matter whatsoever of a political nature, or any political editorial relative to a candidate for any public office, unless the publisher thereof shall file in the office of the secretary of state, within three months before the holding of any nominating convention or primary or general election, or within ten days after the calling of and before the holding of any special election, a sworn statement which shall contain the names of the owners of such paper; and if such paper be a corporation, such statement shall be executed by some responsible officer thereof who is in a position to know the equities thereof, and shall contain the names and addresses of the owners of the shares of stock and the bonds of such corporation, together with an affidavit from each of such stockholders, and bondholders, setting forth the following facts, namely:

1. Whether or not he is the actual owner of the shares of stock or the bonds standing in his name on the books of the corporation, and if not, who is the actual owner thereof;

2. Whether or not such shares of stock or bonds, or any portion thereof, are held in trust for another person or corporation, and if so, for whom;

3. Whether or not such shares of stock or bonds, or any portion thereof, are under option to be sold to any other person or corporation, and if so, to whom;

4. Whether or not such shares of stock or bonds, or any portion thereof, have been pledged or hypothecated, and if so, to whom, for what amount, and for what purpose.

Any stockholder who shall refuse to make such affidavit shall be guilty of a violation of this chapter, but such a violation of this chapter by a stockholder or bondholder shall not excuse such corporation from otherwise complying with this chapter; and if such corporation shall otherwise comply with this chapter, and shall show in its statement filed with the secretary of state the name or names of the stockholder or stockholders, bondholder or bondholders so refusing to make said affidavit, such refusal on the part of such stockholder or bondholder shall not constitute a violation of this chapter by such corporation.

2384. Declaration as to interest in periodicals. Every candidate and every member of any personal campaign or party committee who, either in his own name or in the name of any other person, owns any financial interest in any newspaper or other periodical circulating in Utah, shall, before such newspaper or periodical shall print any matter otherwise than as is provided in § 2382, which is intended or tends to influence, directly or indirectly, any voting at any primary or election in this state, file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which he resides, a verified declaration stating definitely the newspaper or periodical in which or over which he has such financial interest or control, and the exact nature and extent of such interest or control. The editor, manager, or other person controlling the publication of any such newspaper or periodical, who shall print or cause to be printed any such matter contrary to the provisions of this chapter prior to the filing of such verified declaration from any person required by this section to file such declaration, shall be deemed guilty of a violation hereof.

2385. Soliciting matter for publication. Excess compensation prohibited. No owner, publisher, editor, reporter, agent, or employe of any newspaper or other periodical shall, directly or indirectly solicit, receive, or accept any payment, promise, or compensation, nor shall any person pay, or promise to pay, or in any manner compensate any such owner, publisher, editor, reporter, agent, or employe, directly or indirectly, for influencing or attempting to influence by means of any printed matter in such newspaper, any voting at any election or primary, through any means whatsoever, except through the matter inserted in such newspaper or periodical as "paid advertisement," and so designated as provided by law, and the compensation for inserting any such "paid advertisement" shall in no case exceed the regular rate charged by such newspaper or periodical for such service.

2386. Publication of false statement relative to candidates prohibited. No person, firm, or corporation shall knowingly make or publish, or cause to be made or published, any false statement in relation to any candidate, which statement is intended or tends to affect any voting at any primary, convention, or election.

2387. Personation. Penalty. Any person shall be deemed guilty of the offense of personation who, at any primary or election, applies for a ballot in the name of some other person, whether it be that of a person living or dead, or of a fictitious person, or who, having voted once at a primary or election, applies at the same election for a ballot in his own name or any other name; and on conviction thereof such person shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison at hard labor for not less than one nor more than three years. Any person who aids, abets, counsels, or procures the commission of the offense of personation shall, upon conviction, be subject to the same penalty.

2388. Bet or wager on elections prohibited. Any candidate who, before or during any primary or election campaign, makes any bet or wager of anything of pecuniary value, or in any manner becomes a party to any such bet or wager, on the result of the primary or election in his electoral district, or in any part thereof, or on any event or contingency relating to any pending primary or election, or who provides money or other valuable thing to be used by any other person in betting or wagering upon the results of any impending primary or election, shall be guilty of a violation of this chapter. Any person who makes any bet or wager of anything of pecuniary value on the result of such primary or election, or on any event or contingency relating thereto, shall be guilty of a violation of this chapter, and in addition thereto, any such act shall be a ground of challenge against his right to vote. Any person who, directly or indirectly, makes a bet or wager with any voter, depending upon the result of any impending primary or election, with the intent thereby to procure the challenge of such voter, or to prevent him from voting at such primary or election, shall be guilty of a violation of this chapter.

2389. Payments for service, deduction of wages, and furnishing conveyances prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person to pay another for any loss due to attendance at the polls or in registering; provided, that this shall not be construed to permit an employer to make any deduction from the usual salary or wages of any employe while in attendance at the polls for the purpose of voting. No person shall pay for personal service performed or to be performed on the day of a caucus, primary, convention, or any election, or for any purpose connected therewith, tending in any way, directly or indirectly, to affect the result thereof, except for the hiring of persons whose sole duty it is to act as challengers and watch the count of official ballots. No person, corporation, committee, or organization shall convey or furnish any vehicle for conveying, or bear any portion of any expense of conveying, any voter to or from the polls or registraion places, or any part of the way; provided, that the committees or any two or more political parties may co-operate, at joint expense, in conveying sick, disabled, aged, or infirm voters to the polls or registration places, but no conveyance so furnished shall have any banner or party worker upon it. But this provision shall not apply to persons of the same household, nor shall it prohibit two or more voters from providing joint transportation for themselves by mutual agreement at their own expense.

Deductions from wages prohibited, § 2352.

2390. Promises of appointment prohibited. No person shall, in order to aid or promote his nomination or election, directly or indirectly, himself or through any other person, appoint or promise to appoint any person, or secure or promise to secure, or aid in securing, the appointment, nomination, or election of any person to any public or private position or employment, or to any position of honor, trust, or emolument. Nothing herein contained, however, shall prevent a candidate from stating publicly his preference for, or support of, any other candidate for any office to be voted for at the same primary or election; nor prevent a candidate for any office in which the person elected will be charged with the duty of participating in the election or nomination of any person as a candidate for any office, from publicly stating or pledging his preference for or support of any person for such office or nomination.

2391. Rewards for refraining to be candidates prohibited. No person shall pay or reward, or promise to pay or reward, another in any manner or form for the purpose of inducing him to be or to refrain from or cease being a candidate, and no person shall solicit any payment, promise, or reward from another for such purpose.

2392. Soliciting and contributing for public organizations prohibited. No person shall demand, solicit, ask, or invite any payment or contribution for any religious, charitable, or other causes or organization supposed to be primarily or principally for the public good, from a person who seeks to be or has been nominated to any office; and no such candidate shall make any such payment or contribution, if it shall be demanded or asked, during the time he is a candidate for nomination or election to any office. No payment or contribution for any purpose shall be made a condition precedent to the putting of a name on any caucus or convention ballot or nomination paper or petition, or to the performance of any duty imposed by law on a political committee.

2393. Public appointees not to serve as delegates or committeemen. No holder of a salaried position other than an office filled by the voters shall be a delegate to a convention that nominates the officer or board under whom he directly or indirectly holds such position, nor shall he be a member of a party committee for the state, district, or municipality by which he is employed.

2394. Exchange of credentials prohibited. No person or persons shall invite, offer, or effect the trade, transfer, or exchange of any convention credential, or the vote or support of any delegate or delegates to any political convention, in exchange for any money or thing of value, or in exchange for any credential or for the support or vote of any delegate, for any person or candidate for any political office or nomination.

2395. Violation of this chapter a misdemeanor. Any person or persons who shall aid, abet, or advise a violation of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as provided in this chapter.

2396. Place of prosecutions. Violations of this chapter may be prosecuted in the county where such payment or contribution is made, or services rendered, or in any county wherein such money has been paid or distributed.

2397. Proceeding by electors for violation of chapter. 1. If any elector of the state shall have within his possession information that any provision of this chapter has been violated by any candidate for whom such elector had the right to vote, or by any personal campaign committee of such candidate, or any member thereof, he may, by verified petition, apply to the district judge of the district in which such violation has occurred, to the attorney-general of the state, or to the governor of the state, for leave to bring a special proceeding to investigate and determine whether or not there has been such violation by such candidate or by such committee or member thereof, and for appointment of special counsel to conduct such proceeding in behalf of the state.

3. If such leave be granted and such counsel appointed, such elector may, by a special proceeding brought in the district court in the name of the state upon the relation of such elector, investigate and determine whether or not such candidate, committee, or member thereof has violated any provision of this chapter; but nothing contained in this chapter shall be considered as in any way limiting the effect or preventing the operation of remedies now in existence in such cases.

2398. Procedure. 1. In such proceeding the complaint shall be served with the summons, and shall set forth the name of the person whose election is contested, and the grounds of the contest in detail, and shall not thereafter be amended except by leave of the court. The summons and complaint in the proceeding shall be filed within five days after service thereof.

2. The answer to the complaint shall be served and filed within ten days after the service of the summons and complaint. Any allegation of new matter in the answer shall be deemed controverted by the adverse party without reply, and thereupon said proceeding shall be at issue and stand ready for trial upon five days' notice of trial.

3. All such proceedings shall have precedence over any civil cause of a different nature pending in such court, and the court shall always be deemed open for the trial thereof, in or out of term, and the same shall be tried and determined the same as are civil actions, but the court shall, without a jury, determine all issues of fact as well as issues of law.

4. If more than one proceeding is pending, or the election of more than one person is investigated and contested, the court may, in its discretion, order the proceedings consolidated and heard together, and may equitably apportion costs and disbursements.

5. In all such proceedings either party shall have the right of change of venue, as provided by law in civil actions, but application for such change must be made within five days after service of summons and complaint, and the order for such change shall be made within three days after the making of such application and the papers transmitted forthwith, and any neglect of the moving party to procure such transmission within such time shall be a waiver of his right to such change of venue.

6. If judgment is in favor of the plaintiff, the relator may recover his taxable costs and disbursements against the person whose right to the office is contested, but no judgment for costs shall be awarded against the relator, unless it shall appear that such proceeding has been instituted otherwise than in good faith. All costs and disbursements in such cases shall be in the discretion of the court.

2399. Id. Void elections. Vacancies. Findings in legislative elections. Appeals. 1. If the court shall find that the candidate whose right to any office is being investigated, or his personal campaign committee or any member thereof, has violated any provision of this chapter, in the conduct of the campaign for nomination or election, and if such candidate is not one mentioned in subsection 2 hereof, judgment shall be entered declaring void the election of such candidate to the office for which he was a candidate, and ousting and excluding him from office and declaring the office vacant. The vacancy thus created shall be filled in the manner provided by law, but no person found to have violated any provision of this chapter shall be eligible to fill any office or to become a candidate for any office, candidates for which have been voted for at the primary or election in connection with which such violation occurred.

3. Appeals may be taken from the determination of the court in such proceedings in the same manner as appeals may be taken as provided by law in civil actions, but the party appealing shall in no case be entitled to or obtain a stay of proceedings. No injunction shall issue in any such proceeding suspending or staying any procedure therein or connected therewith, except upon application to the court or the presiding judge thereof upon notice to all parties and after hearing.

4. No judgment entered as provided for herein shall be any bar to or affect in any way any criminal prosecution of any candidate or other person.

2400. Special counsel. Compensation. 1. If the judgment of the trial court is appealed from in such proceeding, the district judge, the attorney-general, or the governor who made the appointment of special counsel for the trial court, shall authorize such counsel so appointed, or some other person, to appear as special counsel in the supreme court in such matter.

2. The special counsel provided for by this chapter, shall receive a reasonable compensation for his services, not to exceed, however, $25 per day for the time actually spent in conducting the proceedings in the trial court or upon appeal, and not to exceed $10 per day for the time necessarily expended in preparation therefor. Such compensation shall be audited by the secretary of state, and paid out of the state treasury upon a voucher and upon the certificate of the officer appointing such counsel to the effect that such appointment has been duly made, that the person so appointed has faithfully performed the duties imposed upon him, and that the number of days stated in such voucher have been consumed in conducting such litigation and in preparation therefor. Such compensation shall be audited and paid in the same manner as other claims against the state are audited and paid.

2401. Witnesses must testify. Exemptions from prosecution. No person shall be excused from testifying in such proceeding, or in any proceeding for violation of or growing out of the provisions of this chapter, on the ground that his testimony may expose him to prosecution for any crime, misdemeanor, or forfeiture. But no person shall be prosecuted, or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture, except forfeiture of nomination or election to office, for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, in such proceeding or examination, except a prosecution for perjury committed in giving such testimony.

2402. Conviction of candidates or committeemen. Punishment. Supplemental judgments. 1. If any person shall, in a criminal action, be judged to have been guilty of any violation of this chapter, while a candidate for any office under the constitution or laws of this state, or under any ordinance of any town or municipality herein, other than the office of state senator or state representative, the court shall, after entering the adjudication of guilty, enter a supplemental judgment declaring such person to have forfeited the office in the conduct of the campaign for the nomination or election to which he was guilty of such violation, and shall transmit to the filing officer of such candidate a transcript of such supplemental judgment, and thereupon such office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled as provided by law.

2. If any person shall, in a similar action, be found guilty of any violation of this chapter, committed while he was a member of the personal campaign committee of any candidate for any such office, the court before which such action is tried shall, immediately after entering such adjudication of guilty, enter a supplemental judgment declaring such candidate to have forfeited the office in the conduct of the campaign for nomination or election to which such member of his personal campaign committee was guilty of such violation, and shall transmit to the filing officer of such candidate a transcript of such supplemental judgment, and thereupon such office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled as provided by law.

3. If any person shall, in a criminal action, be adjudicated guilty of any violation of this chapter, committed while he was a candidate for the office of state senator, state representative, United States senator, or representative in congress, or while he was a member of the personal campaign committee of any such candidate, the court, after entering such adjudication of guilty, shall forthwith transmit to the presiding officer of the legislative body as a member of which such officer was a candidate when such violation occurred, a certificate setting forth such adjudication of guilt.

4. Any court having jurisdiction to enter judgment of guilty in any such criminal action is hereby vested with jurisdiction to enter such supplemental judgment, transmit a transcript thereof, and issue a certificate as provided in this section.

2403. Employment of counsel by defense. Costs. Nothing contained in this chapter shall prevent any candidate from employing counsel to represent him in any action or proceedig affecting his rights as a candidate, nor from paying all costs and disbursements necessarily incident thereto. No sum so paid or incurred shall be deemed a part of the campaign expenses of any such candidate.

2404. Punishment other than herein provided. Any person violating any provision of this chapter shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished, unless otherwise herein provided, by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than one month nor more than one year, or by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of not less than one year nor more than three years, or by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $1000, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and no person so convicted shall be permitted to take or hold the office to which he was elected, if any, or receive the emoluments thereof.

2405. Repeal. Section 897, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, and all other chapters or parts of chapters in conflict with any provisions of this chapter are hereby repealed.

2406. Validity of chapter. In the event that any provision or paragraph or part of this chapter shall be questioned in any court and shall be held to be invalid the remainder of the chapter shall not be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

CHAPTER 16.

ELECTION CONTESTS.

2410. (914.) Grounds for contest of election, location of county seat, etc. The election of any person to any public office, the location or relocation of a county seat, or any proposition submitted to a vote of the people, may be contested:

1. For malconduct, fraud, or corruption on the part of the judges of election at any polling place, or of any board of canvassers, or any member of either board, sufficient to change the result;

2. When the incumbent was not eligible to the office at the time of the election;

3. When the incumbent has given or offered to any elector or any judge or canvasser of the election, any bribe or reward in money, property, or anything of value, for the purpose of procuring his election, or has committed any other offense against the elective franchise defined by law;

4. When illegal votes have been received, or legal votes have been rejected at the polls sufficient to change the result;

5. For any error of any board of canvassers or of the judges of election in counting the votes or declaring the result of the election, if the error would change the result;

6. For any other cause which shows that another person was legally elected.

The term incumbent in this section means the person whom the canvassers declare elected.

Each house of the legislature is the judge of the election and qualifications of its members, Con. art. 6, sec. 10.

Burden is on defendant to show title.

People v. Clayton, 4 U. 421; 11 P. 206.

If defendant shows no title, he cannot dispute claimant's title; court may proceed ex parte.

Id.

Defendant must show title de jure.

State, ex rel. Weber v. Beardsley, 13 U. 502; 45 P. 569.

Where the court is able to purge the vote at a particular poll of the illegal votes cast, and it does not appear that the officers at the poll or the contestee of the election participated in the fraud or knew of it, the vote of the whole poll should not be rejected, but effect should be given to the unimpeached votes.

Ferguson v. Allen, 7 U. 263; 26 P. 570.

Where the registration officer, under § 246, C. L. 1888, after a hearing, has found that certain persons are not qualified voters, and certified such names to the election judges, who have stricken such names from the registration list, even though the judgment of such registration officer was erroneous and illegal, and the persons whose names are so stricken off on election day have offered their ballots, which were rejected by the judges of election because their names were not on the voting lists; held, that such votes so offered could not be counted because they were not cast.

Id.

Ballots not cast cannot be counted, whatever the reason of the rejection, but, if cast, and by mistake placed in the wrong box, they should be counted in the result.

Young v. Deming, 9 U. 204; 33 P. 818.

Where ballots that should have been counted were rejected in such numbers that, if cast for the contestant, they would have changed the result, but the evidence is uncertain as to which candidate received the ballots, the return of the judges of election will not be disturbed.

Id.

In a proper proceeding a court may determine matters pertaining to the election of a legislator who has received a majority of legal votes but through fraud has been deprived of the certificate showing his prima facie right to the office. In this case, however, a judicial action would be fruitless, since another trial by the state senate would be necessary.

Ellison v. Barnes, 23 U. 183; 63 P. 899.

The provisions of this chapter do not warrant contests for seats in the legislature, as each house is the judge of the election and qualification of its members.

Id.

A contestant may not question the irregularity or validity of the proceedings of a convention or committee in making or filing nominations, nor question the action of the officer whose duty it is to make up the party ticket and prepare the official ballot by review. This may be done only by special proceedings before the election so that errors, when found, may be corrected.

Payne v. Hodgson, 34 U. 269; 97 P. 132.

An election to determine whether the sale of intoxicating liquor shall be authorized or denied in a city is an election hereunder.

Hardy v. Beaver City, 41 U. 80; 125 P. 679.

A resident and taxpayer of an alleged high school district may contest an election to determine the question of the organization of the district, but the remedy hereunder is not exclusive, but cumulative with the remedy by quo warranto.

Murdock v. Ryan et al., 41 U. 327; 125 P. 666.

2411. (915.) Irregularity not a basis of contest. Exception. No irregularity or improper conduct in the proceedings of the judges, or any of them, is such malconduct as avoids an election, unless the irregularity or improper conduct is such as to procure the person whose right to the office is contested to be declared elected when he had not received the highest number of legal votes.

Provisions liberally construed, § 2113. Highest number of votes elects, §§ 2106, 2243.

2412. (916.) Election set aside for malconduct only when result changed. When any election held for an office exercised in and for a county is contested on account of any malconduct on the part of a judge or the judges of any election district, the election cannot be annulled and set aside upon any proof thereof, unless the rejection of the vote of such district or districts would change the result as to such office in the remaining vote of the county.

Immaterial defects in returns, § 2249.

Where it does not appear whether the rejection of the vote of such precinct would change the result, the election will not be annulled.

Ferguson v. Allen, 7 U. 263; 26 P. 570.

Young v. Deming, 9 U. 204; 33 P. 818.

2413. (917.) Contest to be filed within forty days. Statement. When an elector contests the right of any person declared elected to such office, he must, within forty days after the return day of the election, file with the clerk of the district court of the county within or for which such office is to be exercised a written statement, setting forth specifically:

1. The name of the party contesting such election, and that he is an elector of the county, precinct, city, school district, or of any subdivision of either, as the case may be, in which the election was held;
2. The name of the person whose right to the office is contested;
3. The office;
4. The particular grounds of such contest;

Which statement must be verified by the affidavit of the contesting party, that the matters and things therein contained are true, except as to those matters therein stated upon his information or belief, and that as to those matters he believes it to be true.

The provisions of this section require a written statement of election contest to be filed within forty days after the board of canvassers meets to canvass the returns on the Monday next after the election, as required by § 2238, and not from the time the result is declared and recorded, as required by § 2242.

Carbis v. Dale, 23 U. 463; 65 P. 204.

2414. (918.) Id. Sufficiency of statement. Names of witnesses to be given, when. When the reception of illegal votes or the rejection of legal votes is alleged as a cause of contest, it is sufficient to state generally, that in one or more specified districts or polls illegal votes were given to the person whose election is contested, which, if taken from him, would reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office; or that legal votes for another person were rejected, which, if counted, would raise the number of legal votes for such person above the number of legal votes cast for the person whose election is contested; but no testimony can be received of any such votes, unless the party contesting such election deliver to the opposite party, at least three days before such trial, a written list of the number thereof, and by whom given or offered, which he intends to prove on such trial; and no testimony can be received of any such votes except such as are specified in such list.

2415. (919.) Statement not rejected nor proceeding dismissed for want of form. No statement of the grounds of contest will be rejected, nor the proceedings dismissed by any court for want of form, if the grounds of contest are alleged with such certainty as will advise the defendant of the particular proceeding or cause for which such election is contested.

Provisions liberally construed, § 2113.

In contested election cases, the evidence must be confined to the issues raised by the pleadings, and the judgment must also conform therewith, the same as in other civil cases.

Hamer v. Howell, 31 U. 144; 86 P. 1073.

Allegations of petition held insufficient to permit evidence as to paper of ballots and as to marking of same.

Id.

2416. (920.) Court to fix time for hearing contest. Upon the statement being filed, the clerk must inform the judge of the district court thereof; the judge of said court must then, by an order to be entered by the clerk, name some day, not less than ten nor more than thirty days from the date of the filing of such statement, to hear and determine such contested election.

2418. (922.) Hearing contest. Continuance on terms. The court must meet at the time and place designated to determine such contested election, and shall have all the powers necessary to the determination thereof. It may adjourn the hearing and trial from day to day until such trial is ended, and may also continue the trial, before its commencement, for any time not exceeding twenty days, for good cause shown by either party upon affidavit, at the cost of the party applying for such continuance.

2419. (923.) Judgment confirming or annulling election. After hearing the proofs and allegations of the parties, the court must pronounce judgment in the premises, either confirming or annulling and setting aside such election.

2420. (924.) Order for production of ballots. Inspection in open court. If an inspection of the ballots of any election district or polling place in this state shall be necessary for the determination of any election contest before any court, the judge thereof may, by order, naming the district or polling place, require the proper officer to procure the same from the person in whose possession or custody the same may be, and such custodian shall deliver the same to said officer, who shall deliver them unopened to such judge. The judge shall open and inspect the same in open court in the presence of the parties or their attorneys, and immediately after such inspection shall seal them in an envelope and return them, by mail or otherwise, to the office of the legal custodian.

2421. (925.) Person having highest vote declared elected. If in any such case it appears that a person other than the one returned has the highest number of legal votes, the court must declare such person elected.

2422. (926.) Judgment for costs. If the proceedings are dismissed for insufficiency, or want of prosecution, or the election is by the court confirmed, judgment for costs must be rendered against the party contesting such election, and in favor of the party whose election was contested; but if the election is annulled and set aside, judgment for costs must be rendered against the party whose election was contested, and in favor of the party contesting the same. Primarily, each party is liable for the costs created by himself, to the officers and witnesses entitled thereto, which may be collected in the same manner as similar costs are collected in other cases.

2423. (927.) Appeals. Execution not stayed except for costs. Either party aggrieved by the judgment may appeal therefrom to the supreme court, as in other cases of appeal thereto from the district court, but such appeal must not stay execution or proceedings, except execution for costs.

2424. (928.) Effect of not appealing within ten days. Whenever an election is annulled or set aside by the judgment of the district court, and no appeal has been taken within ten days thereafter, the commission, if any has been issued, is void, and the office vacant.

TITLE 28.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICES.

2440. Must obtain license. Employment agent defined. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, firm, corporation, or association to open and establish in any city, town, or elsewhere within the limits of the state of Utah, any intelligence or employment office, for the purpose of procuring or obtaining for money or other valuable consideration, either directly or indirectly, any work, employment, or occupation for persons seeking the same, or to otherwise engage in the business, or in any way to act as a broker or go-between between employers and persons seeking work, without first having obtained a license so to do from the city, town, or, if not within any city or town, from the county where such intelligence or employment office is to be opened or such business is to be carried on. Any person, persons, firm, corporation, or association performing any of the foregoing enumerated services as aforesaid, shall be deemed to be an employment agent within the meaning of this chapter.

Industrial commission may supervise (sub. 6), § 3076.

Industrial commission may establish and supervise free employment offices, (sub. 6), § 3076.

2441. Cities, towns, and counties must provide licenses. Every city, town, or county in this state shall, by ordinance, provide for the issuing of licenses as contemplated by this chapter, and shall establish such rules and regulations as are not herein provided for the carrying on of the business or occupation for which such license may be issued.

2442. To whom application is made. Any person, persons, firm, corporation, or association applying for a license under the provisions of this chapter shall make application to the city council, or board of trustees, or board of county commissioners for the same, and shall deposit with the city, town, or county treasurer, in advance, the annual fee for such license, to be evidenced by the receipt of the city, town, or county treasurer endorsed on said application. If the city council, board of trustees, or board of county commissioners refuses to order the issuance of such license to the party or parties applying for the same, the sum so deposited with the city, town, or county treasurer shall be refunded to the applicant or applicants for license without any further action of the city council, board of trustees, or board of county commissioners.

2443. Annual license and bond. Any person, persons, firm, corporation, or association licensed under the provisions of this chapter shall pay an annual license fee in such amount as may be determined by the city council, board of trustees, or board of county commissioners, and before such license shall be issued shall deposit with the city, town, or county treasurer a bond in the penal sum of $1000, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the officers designated by ordinance; such bonds shall be made payable to the city, town, or county where such business is to be carried on, and shall be conditioned that the person, persons, firm, corporation, or association applying for the license will comply with this chapter, and shall pay all damages occasioned to any person by reason of any misstatement, or misrepresentation, or fraud, or deceit of any person or persons, their agents or employes, or from any other violation of this chapter, in carrying on the business for which license is granted. If at any time, in the opinion of the officers designated by ordinance to approve said bond as provided herein, the sureties, or any of them, shall become irresponsible, the person, firm, corporation, or association holding such license shall, upon notice from the city or town treasurer, give a new bond, to be approved as hereinafter provided. Failure to give a new bond within ten days after such notice shall operate as a revocation of such license, and the license shall be immediately returned to the city, town, or county treasurer, who shall destroy the same. Licenses granted under this chapter may be transferred by order of the city council, board of trustees, or board of county commissioners, but before such transfer shall be authorized, the applicant or applicants for the same shall deposit with the city, town, or county treasurer the sum of $5, which shall be endorsed upon the application, and the person, persons, firm, corporation, or association to whom such license is transferred shall also deposit such bond as is required by the applicant or applicants for an original license, as hereinbefore prescribed, and to be approved in the same manner.

2444. License to be publicly exposed. Upon the granting of a license by the city council, board of trustees, or board of county commissioners, under this chapter, the city, town, or county treasurer shall, within one week after payment of the license fee, issue to the applicant or applicants entitled to the same a certificate of license, setting forth the fact that such license has been granted, and it shall be the duty of all persons, firms, corporations, or associations, who may obtain such certificate of license, to keep the same publicly exposed to view in a conspicuous place in their office or place of business.

2445. Penalties for sending female help to certain places. Any employment agent who shall knowingly send out any female help to any place of bad repute, house of ill fame, or assignation house, or to any house or place of amusement kept for immoral purposes, shall be liable to pay a fine of not less than $100, and shall be imprisoned not less than ninety days and, on conviction thereof in any court, shall have his, or their licenses rescinded.

2446. Must obtain bona fide order before sending out help. Any employment agent who shall send out any help, male or female, without having previously obtained a bona fide order, shall, upon conviction thereof, for each and every offense be subject to the penalties provided in § 2455.

2447. Unlawful to receive money or consideration until information or assistance is furnished. It shall be unlawful for any employment agent in the state of Utah to receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable consideration from any person seeking employment, for any information or assistance furnished or to be furnished by said agent to such person, enabling or tending to enable said person to secure such employment, prior to the time at which said information or assistance is actually thus furnished.

2448. Id. If applicant fails to obtain information or assistance. It shall be unlawful for an employment agent in the state of Utah to retain, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable consideration received for any information or assistance such as is described in § 2440, if the person for whom such information or assistance is furnished fails, through no neglect or laches of his own, to secure the employment regarding which such information or assistance is furnished; and said money or consideration shall be by said agent forthwith returned to the payer of the same, upon demand therefor by the latter or his agent.

2449. Commission limited. It shall be unlawful for any employment agent in the state of Utah to receive as commission, directly or indirectly, for information or assistance such as is described in § 2440, any money or other consideration which is in value in excess of 8 per cent of the amount earned, or prospectively to be earned, by the person to whom such information is furnished, through the medium of the employment regarding which such information or assistance is given, during the first month of such employment; provided, that said value of said commission shall not be in excess of 8 per cent of the amount actually prospectively to be earned in such employment when it is mutually understood by the agent and person in this section mentioned, at the time when said information or assistance is furnished, that said employment is to be for a period of less than one month.

2450. Employers' register to be kept. Each employment agent duly licensed under this chapter shall enter upon a register to be kept for that purpose, and to be known as an "employers' register," every order received from any corporation, company, or individual desiring the service of any persons seeking work or employment, the name and address of the corporation, company, or individual for whom such order was received, the number of persons wanted, the nature of the work or employment, the town or city, street and number, if any, where such work or employment is to be furnished, and the wages to be paid.

2451. Labor applicants' register to be kept. Each employment agent in the state of Utah shall keep a register, to be known as "labor applicants' register," which shall show the name of each person to whom information or assistance is furnished, and as is described in § 2440; and the amount of the commission received in each such case therefor; the name of each person who, having received and paid for, as herein contemplated, information or assistance such as is described in § 2440, fails to secure the employment regarding which such information or assistance is furnished, together with the reason why said employment was not by said person secured, and the name of each person to whom return is made, in accordance with the provisions of § 2448, of any money or other consideration such as is in said section named, together with the amount of said money, or the value of said consideration, thus returned. The registers required by § 2450 and by this section shall be open at all reasonable hours to the inspection of any peace official of any municipality or county in this state.

2452. Written copy to be furnished. Every person securing information or intelligence from an employment agent in reference to hiring or engagement to work for others, as provided in § 2440, shall be furnished a written copy in duplicate of the terms of such hire or engagement by said employment agent, showing amount of commissions or fees paid such employment agent, kind of service to be performed, rate of wages or compensation, length of time, if definite, and if indefinite it should be so stated, of such service, with full name and address of the person or persons, firm or corporation authorizing the hire of such person; one of the aforesaid copies to be delivered to the person or persons, firm or corporation for whom the labor is to be performed, and the other to be retained by the person furnished with information or intelligence, as aforesaid; and the agent issuing the above described written copy of the conditions of service or employment shall make and keep, in a book provided for the purpose, a third copy of the same; and any person engaged in the business of keeping an employment office, such as is contemplated by this chapter, who shall fail to observe the provisions of this section shall be subject to the penalties provided in § 2455; provided, that it shall be lawful to keep the register required by § 2451, and the receipt required by this section, in the same book and on one and the same form, if desired.

2454. Employment or intelligence office not to be kept in any place where intoxicating liquors are sold. It shall be unlawful for any employment agent in the state of Utah to conduct the business of an employment or intelligence office in, or in connection with, any place where intoxicating liquors are sold or dispensed.

2455. False information. Penalties. If any person, persons, firm, corporation, or association, or his, its, or their agent or employes engage in the business of employment or intelligence agent or broker, duly licensed, as provided in this chapter, shall give any false information, or shall make any misstatement, or shall make any false promises concerning any work or employment or occupation, or shall fail to keep the registers as are prescribed in §§ 2450, 2451, or shall wilfully make any false entries in such register, or shall violate any other provisions of this chapter, for which violation penalties are not hereinbefore provided, he shall, upon conviction thereof, for each and every offense, be fined in any sum not exceeding $100, and, in the discretion of the trial judge, the license under which such person, persons, firm, corporation or association has or have been permitted to conduct the business of any employment or intelligence office, shall be forfeited.

2456. Suits, how brought. All claims or suits brought in any court against any employment or intelligence agent may be brought in the name of the party injured upon the bond deposited with the city, town, or county treasurer by said employment or intelligence agent, as provided in § 2443, and may be transferred as other claims for damage in civil suits. The amount of damages claimed by the plaintiff, not the penalty named in the bond, shall be the test of the jurisdiction of the court in which the action is brought.

2457. Not applicable to religious or charitable associations. Nothing herein shall be construed so as to require any religious or charitable association which may assist in procuring situations or employment for persons seeking the same to obtain a license so to do under the provisions of this chapter.

2458. Certain parts of this chapter to be conspicuously posted. The keeper of an employment or intelligence office shall cause two copies of §§ 2446-2449 inclusive and §§ 2452-2455 inclusive, printed in type of sufficient size to be legible and easily read, to be conspicuously posted in each room used or occupied for the purpose of such employment or intelligence office.

TITLE 29.

EXAMINERS, STATE BOARD OF.

2465. (929.) How constituted. Powers. The governor, the secretary of state, and the attorney-general constitute a board of examiners, with power to examine all claims against the state, except salaries or compensation of officers fixed by law, and the board shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law. No claim against the state, except salaries and compensation of officers fixed by law, shall be passed upon by the legislature without having been considered and acted upon by the board of examiners.

Mont. Pol. C., § 680.
Duties as to capitol grounds, §§ 464, 465.
Authority of board, Con. art. 7, sec. 13.
Wilkinson v. State, 42 U. 483; 134 P. 626.

2466. (930.) Meetings. Officers. The meetings of the board shall be held at the seat of government, or at such other place in the state as the board may determine, on the third Monday in each month, and at such other times as the president may call it together. The governor shall be the president, and the secretary of state shall be the secretary of the board, and, in the absence of either, an officer pro tempore may be elected from among the members of the board.

Mont. Pol. C., § 681.

2467. (931.) Records. The board must keep a record of all its proceedings, and any member may cause his dissent to the action of a majority upon any matter to be entered upon such record. An abstract of all claims must be entered upon the minutes of the board before the same are acted upon.

Cal. Pol. C., § 656. Mont. Pol. C., § 682.

2468. (932.) Rules. The board may, in writing, establish rules and regulations not inconsistent with law, for its government.

Cal. Pol. C., § 656. Mont. Pol. C., § 683.

2469. (933.) Witnesses. The president of the board may issue subpœnas and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers before the board or any member thereof; and any member of the board may administer oaths and may examine witnesses. In case of the disobedience of any witness, the board may invoke the aid of the district court to compel obedience. Whenever a witness is subpœnaed before the board to testify against any claim pending before it, the board may allow a reasonable fee to such witness for attendance, which fee must not exceed the fees allowed by law to witnesses in civil cases, and must be paid out of the appropriation for the contingent expenses of the board; provided, that in no instance shall a fee be allowed to a witness who has appeared in behalf of a claimant.

Cal. Pol. C., § 658*. Mont. Pol. C., § 684*. Contempt, how punished, § 6955.

2470. (934.) Depositions. Each member of the board may take depositions to be used before it.

Cal. Pol. C., § 659. Mont. Pol. C., § 685.

2471. (935.) Action on claims. Any person having a claim against the state, for which an appropriation has been made, may present the same to the board, in the form of an account or petition, and the secretary of the board must date, number, and file such claim, and the board must allow or reject the same in the order of its presentation. The board may, for cause, postpone action upon a claim for not exceeding one month.

Cal. Pol. C., § 660. Mont. Pol. § 686.

2472. (936.) Id. Approval. If the board approves such claim, the members thereof must indorse thereon, over their signatures, "approved for the sum of ..... dollars," and transmit the same to the office of the state auditor; and the auditor must draw his warrant for the amount so approved in favor of the claimant or his assigns, in the order in which the same was approved.

Cal. Pol. C., § 661. Mont. Pol. C., § 687.

2473. (937.) Id. Disapproval. If the board disapproves such claim, it must cause the same to be filed with the records of the board, with a statement showing such disapproval and the reasons therefor.

Cal. Pol. C., § 662. Mont. Pol. C., § 688.

2474. (938.) Where there is no appropriation. If no appropriation has been made for the payment of any claim presented to the board, the settlement of which is provided for by law, or, if an appropriation made has been exhausted, the board must audit the claim, and if it is approved must transmit it to the legislature with a statement of the approval.

Cal. Pol. C., § 663. Mont. Pol. C., 689.

2475. (939.) Claims not otherwise provided for. Any person having a claim against the state, the settlment of which is not otherwise provided for by law, must present the same to the board of examiners, accompanied by a statement showing the facts constituting the claim, verified in the same manner as complaints in civil actions.

Cal. Pol. C., § 664*. Mont. Pol. C., § 690*.

2476. (940.) Id. Meeting to consider. On the first Monday in November preceding the meeting of each legislature, the board must hold a session for the purpose of examining the class of claims referred to in the preceding section, and may adjourn from time to time until the work is completed. The board must cause a list and brief abstract of all claims filed with it up to that date, to be made and published in some newspaper at the seat of government for such time as the board may prescribe. The list must be accompanied by a general notice of the order in which and of the time when the board will proceed to examine the claims.

Cal. Pol. C., § 665*. Mont. Pol. C., § 691.

2477. (941.) Id. Hearing report. The board must, at the time designated, proceed to examine and adjust all such claims, and may hear evidence in support of or against them, and shall report to the legislature such facts and recommendations concerning them as it may think proper. In making its recommendations the board may state and use any official or personal knowledge which any member of the board may have touching such claims.

Cal. Pol. C., § 666. Mont. Pol. C., § 692.

2478. (942.) Id. The board must make up its report and recommendations at least thirty days before the meeting of the legislature; and a brief abstract of the report, showing the claims rejected, and those allowed and the amounts thereof, must be published in a newspaper published at the seat of government, for such time as the board may prescribe, before the meeting of the legislature.

Cal. Pol. C., § 667. Mont. Pol. C., § 693.

2479. (943.) Member not to be interested in claim. No member of the board shall act upon any claim in which he is interested, or upon any claim for expenditures incurred in his office, nor shall he be present when the decision thereon is made.

Cal. Pol. C., § 668. Mont. Pol. C., § 694.

2480. (944.) Claims submitted third time. The board shall not entertain for a third time, a demand against the state once rejected by it or by the legislature, unless such facts or reasons are presented to the board as in suits between individuals would furnish sufficient ground for granting a new trial.

Cal. Pol. C., § 670*. Mont. Pol. C., § 695*. Motion for new trial, § 6980.

2481. (945.) Appeal to legislature. Any person interested, who is aggrieved by the disapproval of a claim by said board, may appeal from its decision to the legislature by filing with the board a notice thereof, and, upon the receipt of such notice, the board must transmit the demand and all the papers accompanying the same, with a statement of the evidence taken before it, to the legislature.

Cal. Pol. C., § 671. Mont. Pol. C., § 696.

2482. (946.) Auditor's duty respecting claims. The state auditor shall not draw his warrant for any claim, unless it has been approved by the board, except for salaries or compensation of officers fixed by law, or for moneys expressly appropriated by law.

Cal. Pol. C., § 672*. Mont. Pol. C., § 697*. A claim by a court stenographer for mileage was a claim for compensation fixed by contract, not by law, and the state auditor could not be required to draw a warrant for the same until it had been first approved by the state board of examiners. Davis v. Edwards, 33 U. 243; 93 P. 720.

2483. (947.) Illegal warrant. Whenever the board has reason to believe that the state auditor has drawn, or is about to draw, his warrant without authority of law, or for a larger amount than the state actually owes, the board must notify the state treasurer not to pay the warrant so drawn or to be drawn; and thereupon the treasurer is prohibited from paying the warrant, whether actually drawn or not, until he is otherwise directed by the legislature or by the board.

Cal. Pol. C., § 674. Mont. Pol. C., § 698.

2484. (948.) Board to audit books and accounts. As often as it may deem proper, the board shall audit the books and accounts of any or all state officers and state institutions, and count the money in the state treasury; and it may, at any time, direct the bank examiner to audit and examine the books and accounts of any such officers or institutions. The state auditor and other state officials and the officers of state institutions must permit the examination and auditing of the books and accounts in their respective offices at such times as the board of examiners shall deem proper, and shall furnish without delay any required information touching the books, papers, vouchers, or other matters pertaining to their respective offices; and the state treasurer must permit the money in the treasury, without delay on any pretense whatever, to be counted whenever the board wishes to make an examination or count.

Cal. Pol. C., § 675*. Mont. Pol. C., § 699*.

2485. (949.) Public statement of money in treasury. The board must, at least twice in each year, make and file in the office of the secretary of state, and publish in some newspaper published at the seat of government, a statement showing the amount of money in the state treasury.

Cal. Pol. C., § 677*. Mont. Pol. C., § 700*. Approval of official bonds, § 4267. Examination of treasurer's books, etc., §§ 5733, 5734.

2486. (949x.) Uniform system of accounting in state offices, etc. It is hereby made the duty of the state board of examiners to devise and place in operation in the several state offices, departments, commissions, boards, and institutions a uniform system of accounting. For the purpose of carrying out the foregoing provision, an appropriation of $1000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made. '07, p. 188.

2487. (949x1.) No appropriation nor any surplus of any appropriation shall be diverted from any account to any other account, and the money appropriated, or so much as may be necessary, shall be applied to the payment of each item for which the appropriation is respectively made and nothing else. '07, p. 187.

BOARD OF SUPPLIES.

2488. (950.) Who constitute. The board of examiners is also a board of supplies and furnishing board.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol C., § 703.

2489. (951.) Duties. It is the duty of such board:

1. To contract for the furnishing of all stationery, printing, binding, paper, fuel, lights, and other necessary supplies to be used by the legislature and all other departments of the government, and for the printing, binding, and distributing of the laws, codes, journals, department reports, reports of decisions of the supreme court, and all other state printing, and for the binding and repairing of any books used by any state officer or department;

2. To hire all offices for the state officers, to furnish the same, and to keep the furniture in repair; and to hire and furnish halls and rooms for the use of the legislature, to provide furniture therefor, and to keep the same in repair;

3. To cause to be deposited in the office of the secretary of state all stationery, books, and other articles and supplies furnished and on hand, and to issue to any officer a requisition on the secretary of state, for any books, stationery, or other supplies needed by such officer;

4. At the end of each fiscal year, and at such other times as the board thinks proper, to cause an inventory to be taken of all articles and supplies on hand and contracted for, and to make an examination of all accounts and vouchers for such supplies;

5. To establish rules for the government of the board in relation to all contracts, not inconsistent with law.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol. C., § 704.

2490. (952.) Must advertise for bids. Before any contract is let, the board must advertise for twenty days, in two daily newspapers printed in the state, one of which must be published at the seat of government, for sealed proposals to furnish any or all the supplies mentioned in the next preceding section; provided, that such advertisement need not be made where the amount to be expended for such supplies shall be less than $200.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol. C., § 705*.

2491. (953.) Id. The board must specify in the advertisement the amount and kind of each article required.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol. C., § 706.

2492. (954.) Bids. Opening. A sample and a minute description of each article must accompany and be deposited with each proposal, and proposals received must be directed to the board, and opened and compared by it at its office at twelve o'clock noon of the day specified in the advertisement; and the board must award the contract for furnishing such supplies, or any of them, to the lowest responsible bidder.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol. C., §§ 706, 707.

2493. (955.) Id. Check to accompany bid. Bond. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the bid, to be held upon the condition that upon the award of said contract to him, the bidder will faithfully and promptly execute a good and sufficient bond, payable to the state, with two sureties to be approved by said board, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, and for the delivery of the supplies for which he has contracted, under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol. C., § 708.

2494. (956.) Classified bids. Rejection. The board may, in the advertisement, classify the supplies and articles to be furnished, and may receive bids, and award contracts for such separate class of supplies, or such separate article, as it considers the lowest and best bid. The board may require any class of supplies or separate articles thereof to be delivered in instalments. Any and all bids may be rejected, and the board may advertise again.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 183*. Mont. Pol. C., § 709.

2495. (957.) Legislative supplies. Publishing proposed amendments to constitution. The board must, at least one month before the meeting of the legislature, advertise, as provided in the preceding sections, for repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms, and for stationery, fuel, light, and such other supplies as are necessary for the members of the legislature at the ensuing session; and at the commencement of each session thereof the board must report to the legislature an account of the supplies, of the expenditures for the same, and of the stock on hand, and may contract for the publication of proposed amendments to the constitution. Am'd '11, p. 138.

Cal. Pol. C., p. 184*. Mont. Pol. C., § 711.

2496. (958.) Selling unnecessary material. When deemed advisable by the board, it may sell any old furniture or other material belonging to the state and not required for state purposes and pay the proceeds thereof into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund.

Sup. Cal. C. (1893) p. 32.

2497. (959.) Hiring rooms for state purposes. The board may hire the necessary rooms for the state officers, and the halls and rooms for the legislature and its committees, without advertising as provided in this chapter, if the board so decides.

Mont. Pol. C., § 712.

2498. (960.) State officers not to be interested in contract. No member or officer of any department of the government shall be in any way interested in any contract made under the provisions of this chapter.

2499. (961.) Clerical help. The board of examiners may, when necessary, employ clerical help for any state officer or board, but no clerk or clerks shall be employed by any such officer or board without the authority of the board of examiners; nor shall the board of examiners authorize the employment of such clerical assistance, except when the duties of the office or of the board cannot be performed by the officer or the members of such board.

2500. (962.) State board of examiners to publish reports of state officers. The state board of examiners is authorized to procure the publication of as many copies as in their judgment may be necessary, not exceeding 1000, of the biennial reports of state officers and state institutions immediately after their submission to the governor, and before the meeting of the legislature; provided, that any state institution having the facilities for so doing may print and publish the necessary copies of its biennial report, not to exceed 1000 copies. The state board of examiners shall also procure the publication of 1000 copies, in pamphlet form, of the attorney-general's official opinions at the end of each year for distribution by the attorney-general to state officers, county attorneys, district attorneys, and other officers throughout the state. Am'd '07, p. 203.

Money paid by lessee of lands under chap. 76, laws of 1892, is a just claim within meaning of this section, provisions of which are mandatory.
Thoreson v. State Bd. Ex., 19 U. 18; 57 P. 175.

When claim is just and admitted to belong to class mentioned in this section, it became imperative duty of the board to allow it, and upon failure to do so, mandamus will lie to compel performance. (On rehearing, 21 U. 187; 60 P. 982.)
Id.

The provisions of Con. art. 7, sec. 13, do not prohibit the passage of a law such as § 2501, creating a legal obligation on the part of the state, out of what was a mere moral obligation, without such obligation having been first considered and acted upon by the state board of examiners. (On rehearing of 19 U. 18; 57 P. 175.)
Id.

The provisions of this section are not in conflict with Con. art. 7, sec. 13, providing that claims shall be examined and acted upon by the state board of examiners.

TITLE 30.

FEDERAL JURISDICTION.

2505. (963x1.) Jurisdiction ceded U. S. over federal buildings. Jurisdiction is hereby ceded to the United States in, to, and over any and all lands or territory within this state which has been or may be hereafter acquired by the United States for the purpose of sites for public buildings, of every kind whatever, authorized by act of congress; the state, however, reserving the authority to execute its process, both criminal and civil, within such territory. '99, p. 82; '03, p. 9.

Congress to have jurisdiction over places purchased for public buildings by consent of state legislatures, U. S. Con. art. 1, sec. 8.

2506. (963x2.) Governor to execute cession. The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to execute all proper conveyances in the cession herein granted upon request of the said United States, or proper officers thereof, whenever any land shall have been acquired for such purpose.
'99, p. 82; '03, p. 9.

2507. (963x3.) Jurisdiction ceded over Fort Douglas and Fort Duchesne. Jurisdiction is ceded to the United Staes in and over all lands comprised within the limits of the military reservations of Fort Douglas and Fort Duchesne, in the State of Utah, to continue so long as the United States shall hold and own the same for military purposes or in connection therewith, and no longer, saving, however, to the said state the right to serve all civil process and such criminal process as may lawfully issue under the authority of this state against persons charged with crimes against the laws of the state, committed within or without said reservations.

'05, p. 18; '11, p. 58.

TITLE 31.

CHAPTER 2.

FEES OF COUNTY OFFICERS.

2520. (971.) Collected in advance. Payment into treasury. For services performed in their respective offices, the county clerk, the county recorder, the sheriff, the county treasurer, the county auditor, and the county surveyor shall collect in advance for the use and benefit of the county the fees hereinafter enumerated under their respective official titles, and shall pay the same to the county treasurer monthly.

Penalty for refusal to perform services on payment of fee, § 2576.
Shall keep account of and pay over fees, Con. art. 21, sec. 2.
Statement to accompany fees on payment to treasurer, § 2566.
Shall keep fee book, §§ 2583-2587.
Fees to be paid over before salary paid, § 2571.
Officers responsible for fees, § 2575.

Under § 4, chap. 58, laws 1896, the failure by the county clerk to pay into the state treasury certain fees collected, after an account had been stated with him, entitled the state to charge said clerk 25 per cent damages on amount delinquent and interest from time of failure to pay.
State ex rel. v. Stanton, 14 U. 180; 46 P. 1109.

2521. (972.) Fees of clerk of the district court. For all services performed by him in any action or proceeding (except a probate or guardianship proceeding), $7, to be collected in advance from the party commencing the action; provided, that in cases where an injunction or an attachment or a receiver is asked for, an additional advance fee of $2.50 shall be collected.

For all services in an action for divorce in which judgment is entered upon default, $5.

For filing cross complaint, counterclaim, or complaint in intervention, $2.50.

For entering judgment by confession, $3.

For services performed in an action appealed from a justice's court, $5.

For filing and indexing papers on transfer of a cause from the district court of another county, $2.50.

For filing and indexing certificate of copartnership, $1.

For issuing and recording marriage license, $2.50.

For filing any bond or other instrument required by law to be filed in his office, other than the bond of a public officer or one pertaining to a case in court, 50 cents.

For sealing weights and measures, as follows: For each examination, testing, sealing, and certifying as required from the owner of the same, to wit: For any steelyards, beam, ground, floor, platform, counter, or other scales, by which may be weighed not exceeding 100 pounds, 75 cents.

For any such instrument by which may be weighed over 100 pounds, and less than 600 pounds, $1; over 600 pounds, $1.50.

For any nests or sets of measures, 75 cents.

For any yardstick, dry or liquid measure, 25 cents.

And the weights attached to any scales shall, as to the compensation of the sealer of weights and measures, be considered as part of the scales; provided, that where any such weight, measures, or instruments, upon subsequent examination, be found correct and shall not require to be stamped a second time, the aforesaid sealer of weights and measures shall not receive more than one-half the compensation provided for.

The county clerk in counties of the first and second class shall examine and test the before-mentioned instruments for weighing or measuring; provided, that in all other counties he shall, on application by any person who shall tender him the fee which he is hereinbefore authorized to receive; and he shall, in every case where he may employ labor or material in making accurate weights or measures, be entitled to extra compensation therefor, and to retain the article upon which such labor or material has been employed, until such compensation be paid. Am'd '05, p. 79.

Weights and measures, §§ 6277-6304.

An intruder into a public office, the reasonable value of whose services has equaled the fees received, has no right to retain any part of such fees from the rightful claimant.

Wenner v. Smith, 4 U. 238; 9 P. 293.

The federal fee bill is not applicable to cases in the territorial courts in which the United States is not a party.

U. S. v. McMillan, 10 U. 184; 37 P. 263; (reversed, 165 U. S. 504.)

Under chap. 16 of the laws of 1896, it was the duty of the county clerk to pay into the state treasury all fees collected by him in civil and criminal cases, except probate fees, from and after January 4, 1896, and his failure to pay the same after an account stated and demand made entitles the state to collect twenty-five per cent damages and interest at the rate of ten per cent. Payment into the county treasury is not a sufficient release.

State, ex rel. Richards v. Stanton, 14 U. 180; 46 P. 1109.

The $2.50 fee allowed for filing motion for new trial covers all affidavits to be filed, in connection therewith, and the clerk cannot charge 25 cents each for filing such affidavits.

Beck v. Lee, 51 U. —; 172 P. 686.

2522. (973.) Fees of county recorders. For recording any instrument, paper, or notice, other than bonds of public officers, not otherwise provided for, for the first folio 50 cents, to include necessary filing, indexing and abstracting, and for each additional folio, 20 cents; provided, however, that where any instrument, paper, or notice contains more than one description, an additional fee of 10 cents for each of such additional descriptions shall be collected.

In any instrument in which a right of way is described, which is connected with or is appurtenant to any tract of land described in such instrument, the description of such right of way shall not constitute a separate description; provided, that where such instrument contains a description of more than one such right of way, an additional fee of 10 cents for each such right of way shall be collected; provided, further, that where any instrument contains more than two names each for either first or second party, or plaintiffs, or defendants, or locators of a mining claim, for each additional name, 10 cents; and provided further, that where any affidavit or proof of labor contains the name of more than one mining claim, an additional fee of 10 cents for each additional mining claim metioned therein shall be collected.

For copies of any record or paper, 10 cents per folio, and when said record or paper has a plat or map attached thereto and made a part thereof, the fee for copying said map or plat shall be one-half the regular fee, as provided in this section, for recording the original map or plat.

For each certificate under seal, 50 cents.

2532. (983.) Constables' fees in criminal cases. Certification by county attorney. Accounts against the county filed by constables for services in criminal cases shall be certified as correct by the county attorney, and shall be presented to the auditor; provided, that the board of county commissioners may reject such bills in all cases or proceedings in which the county attorney has not in writing authorized the issuance of the warrant of arrest.

CHAPTER 4.

FEES OF NOTARY PUBLIC, ETC.

2535. (984.) Fees of notary public. Every notary public may collect for his own use the following fees:

For protesting the non-payment of a promissory note or non-payment or non-acceptance of a bill of exchange, draft, or check, $1.

For drawing and serving each notice of non-payment of a promissory note, or the non-payment or non-acceptance of a bill of exchange, order, draft, or check, 35 cents.

For recording every protest, 50 cents.

For drawing an affidavit, deposition, or other paper, for which provision is not herein made, for first folio, 50 cents; for each subsequent folio, 15 cents.

For taking an acknowledgment or proof of a deed or other instrument, to include the seal and writing of the certificate, for the first signature, 50 cents; for each additional signature, 25 cents.

For administering an oath or affirmation, 25 cents.

For every certificate, to include writing the same and the seal, 50 cents.

Fees to be in full compensation, Con. art. 21, sec. 2.

2536. (985.) Fees of commissioner of deeds. Every commissioner of deeds may collect for his own use the same fees as those provided for a notary public.

2537. (986.) Fees of court stenographer. For services performed by him, every court stenographer may collect for his own use such sums, not to exceed the fees herein provided, as the district judge shall stipulate by contract.

For reporting proceedings in court, $8 per day.

For transcribing at length, 8 cents per folio.

For transcribing in narrative form, 10 cents per folio.

For additional copies, not exceeding two, to the same party, 2 cents per folio.

Court stenographers, duties and compensa tion, §§ 1901-1906.

2538. (987.) Fees of crier. Every crier appointed by virtue of the provisions of the lien law may collect for his own use the following fee:

For crying sale, per day, $2.

2539. (988.) Fees of appraiser of damage by animals. Every appraiser of damages done by estrays or trespassing animals may collect for his own use the following fees:

For each mile necessarily traveled to place of trespass, one way, 10 cents.

For time employed in making appraisement, per hour, 20 cents. There shall be no charge for making certificate of appraisement.

Fees of appraiser, § 70.

2540. (989.) Fees of persons distraining animals. A person distraining animals for trespass may collect for his own use for delivering certificate of appraisement to the owner of the animals:

For first ten miles necessarily traveled, 10 cents; each additional mile, 5 cents. Mileage shall be charged in going only.

2541. (990.) Fees of mining recorder. Every mining recorder shall be allowed the same fees for recording and making copies of any record in his custody as are allowed by law to county recorders for similar services; provided, that fees for recording location notices may equal but shall not exceed $1 for each notice. Am'd '99, p. 29.

Fees of mining recorders, § 3901.

Where the by-laws of a mining district fix the fees to be allowed mining recorders different from those allowed by territorial statute, the latter must govern.
People v. Monk, 8 U. 35; 28 P. 1115.

CHAPTER 5.

FEES OF JURORS AND WITNESSES.

2542. (991.) Jurors fees. Grand jurors and trial jurors in the district court shall receive $3 per day for each day's attendance, and 20 cents per mile, one way, for the distance necessarily traveled in attending court. A juror who is excused upon his own motion on the first day of his attendance in obedience to notice shall not receive per diem or mileage. Am'd '13, p. 11.

A law of the territory, approved March 8, 1888, fixing the fees for jurors and witnesses, should be given a prospective and not a retrospective effect, and the fees allowed should be those fixed by law at the time the service was rendered.
People, ex rel. Haller v. Clayton, 5 U. 598; 18 P. 628.
People, ex rel. Kelsey v. Pyper, 6 U. 160; 21 P. 722.

2543. (992.) Jurors and witnesses to report daily. Every witness in a criminal case subpœnaed for the state, or for a defendant by order of the court at the expense of the state, and every juror, whether grand or petit, shall, unless temporarily excused, in person report daily to the clerk his attendance at court from the time of his appearance to the date of his discharge, and no per diem shall be allowed for any day upon which attendance is not so reported.

2544. (993.) Statement of foreman of grand jury. Whenever a grand juror or a witness for the state before the grand jury is finally discharged, the foreman of the grand jury shall furnish to the clerk of the district court a statement containing information necessary for the clerk to make the juror's or witness' certificate.

2545. (994.) Witness' fees and mileage. Every witness legally required or in good faith requested to attend upon the district court or a grand jury is entitled to $2 per day for each day's attendance, and 20 cents for each mile actually and necessarily traveled, in going only; provided, that in case of a witness attending from without the state, mileage for such witness shall be allowed and taxed for the distance actually and necessarily traveled within the state, in going only. Am'd '11, p. 11.

Witnesses' fees in city and municipal courts the same as in district courts, § 1723.

Witnesses subpoenaed and in actual attendance in several cases at instance of same plaintiff are entitled to their fees in each case.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.

A wife who is not a party to an action against her husband may be allowed witness' fees when called as a witness by him, and such fees are taxable.

I. X. L. Stores Company v. Moon, 49 U. 262; 162 P. 622.

Where a witness leaves his home pursuant to a subpoena or is served while away from home and returns to his home in due course of business before going to testify, he may claim mileage fees; and witnesses who were notified at their homes by telephone by the sheriff that he had subpoenas for them, and pursuant thereto came to the place of trial, were entitled to mileage fees from their homes to such place.

Holt v. Nielson, 37 U. 566; 109 P. 470.

A witness may waive the manner of service and be entitled to his mileage fees.

Id.

2546. (995.) Clerk's attendance roll. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the district court to keep an attendance roll, in which shall be entered the name of each witness subpœnaed for the prosecution in criminal cases, the name of each witness subpœnaed for the defendant at the expense of the state under order of the court, the name of each juror, where each witness or juror was subpœnaed or summoned, the date of appearance, the date of discharge, the number of days' attendance with the dates thereof the place of residence of the witness or juror, and the number of miles necessarily traveled by said witness or juror from the place of his residence to the place of holding court; and if a juror, the number of days of service in the trial of civil actions and the number of days' of service in the trial of criminal actions, or the number of days' service as a grand juror, as the case may be.

2547. (996.) Jurors' and witnesses' certificates. Whenever a grand juror or a juror engaged in the trial of criminal cases in the district court, or a witness subpœnaed on behalf of the state, or on behalf of the defendant at the expense of the state, in a criminal case, shall be discharged, the clerk of the district court shall issue to him under seal a numbered certificate, taken from a book containing a stub with like designations, stating the name of such juror or witness, when and where he was summoned or subpœnaed, the date of his discharge, the number of miles necessarily traveled from his place of residence to the place of holding court, the number of days of service, and the amount due for mileage and for service, and whether the same was as a grand juror or as a juror or witness in a criminal case. Whenever a juror who has been engaged in the trial of civil cases in the district court is discharged, the clerk shall issue to him a like certificate. Where the same juror has served in the trial of both civil and criminal cases, one certificate shall be issued to him for service in civil cases, and one for service in criminal cases. In apportioning mileage and per diem of jurors serving in the trial of both civil and criminal cases, the mileage and the whole number of days shall be divided between the two classes of service proportionately to the time occupied in each.

2548. (997.) Certification by county attorney. Warrant. Payment. The certificates of jurors in civil and criminal cases, and of witnesses in criminal cases, must be certified as correct by the county attorney, but no certificate of jurors or witnesses shall be so certified unless presented to the county attorney within twelve months after the date of issue. On presentation to the county auditor of any duly certified witness' or juror's certificate in a criminal case, the auditor shall draw his warrant to the county treasurer for the payment of the same out of the fund created for the redemption of such certificates. On presentation to the county auditor of the certificate of any juror in a civil case, duly certified, the auditor shall draw his warrant upon the county treasurer for the payment of the same out of the general fund of the county. Any such certificate shall be paid out of the fund upon which it is drawn; or, if there is no money in such fund with which to pay the same, it shall be registered and paid in its regular order.

Certificates must be presented within one year, § 2592.

Purchase of certificate by public officer a crime, § 2591.

The state is not required to pay mileage and attendance of jurors in civil cases.

Salt Lake County v. Richards, 14 U. 142; 46 P. 659.

2549. (998.) Witness fees in civil actions. The fees and compensation of witnesses in all civil actions must be paid by the party who causes such witnesses to be subpœnaed, and no witness shall be obliged to attend court in a civil action when subpœnaed unless his mileage and fees for one day's attendance are tendered or paid to him on demand, nor unless his fees for attendance for each day are tendered or paid to him on demand. The fees of witnesses paid in civil cases may be taxed as costs against the losing party.

2550. (999.) Jurors in justices' courts. Mileage and per diem. Every juror in a justice's court who attends such court upon a subpœna properly issued, and every juror serving at an inquest, is entitled to $1.50 per day for actual attendance, and 20 cents for each mile necessarily traveled in attending said court or inquest in going only. Am'd '09, p. 46.

2551. (1000.) Id. Fees and mileage. Every witness legally required or in good faith requested to attend upon a justice's court or inquest is entitled to $1.50 per day for each day's attendance, and 20 cents for each mile actually and necessarily traveled, in going only; provided, that in case of a witness attending from without the state, mileage for such witness shall be allowed and taxed for the distance actually and necessarily traveled within the state, in going only. Am'd '11, p. 12.

2552. (1001.) Jurors' and witnesses' certificates. Every justice of the peace shall give to each person who has served before him as a juror at an inquest or in a criminal case, or as a witness at an inquest, or as a witness in a criminal case when summoned for the prosecution by the county attorney, or for the defense by order of the court, a numbered certificate, in which must be stated the name of the juror or witness, the title of the proceeding, the number of days' attendance, the number of miles traveled, and the amount due. Such certificate shall be presented to the county attorney, and, when certified by him as being correct, shall be presented to the county auditor, and, when allowed by the board of county commissioners, the auditor shall draw his warrant therefor on the county treasurer. Every justice of the peace shall keep a record of all certificates issued by him, which record shall show all of the facts stated in each certificate, and on the first Monday of each month he shall file with the county treasurer a detailed statement of all certificates issued.

Certificate must be presented within one year, § 2592.

2553. (1002.) Jury trial in district court. Deposit. If either party to any civil action pending in the district court shall desire a jury trial of the same, or of any issue or issues thereof, he shall, at the time of giving notice, deposit with the clerk the sum of $5. The clerk shall keep a separate account of all moneys deposited with him under the provisions of this section, and shall deposit the same in the county treasury at the same time as other fees of his office.

Jury waived unless demanded, Con. art. 1, sec. 10.

2554. (1003.) Id. In justice's court. Deposit. Either party may demand a trial by jury in a civil case in a justice's court on depositing with the justice a sum sufficient to pay the jurors their mileage and fees for one day's attendance.

If a justice of the peace refuses to try case, because plaintiff refuses to deposit the fees of jurors summoned at instance of defendant, a writ of mandate will issue to compel him to try it, though he may have entered a judgment of dismissal.
People v. Van Tassel, 13 U. 9; 43 P. 625.

2555. (1004.) Witnesses for defendant in criminal case. Expense. No witness for a defendant in a criminal case shall be subpœnaed at the expense of the state or of a county, except upon an order of the court. Such order shall be made only upon affidavit of the defendant, showing:

2. That the evidence of said witness is material for defendant's defense as he is advised by his counsel, if he have counsel;

3. That said defendant cannot safely proceed to trial without said witness.

2556. (1005.) Certain officers not entitled to witness fees. No officer of the United States, or the state of Utah, or of any county, incorporated city or town, within the state of Utah, who is drawing a regular salary, in excess of $500 per annum, shall receive any per diem when testifying in a criminal proceeding. Am'd '03, p. 5.

2557. (1006.) Double fees forbidden. No witness shall receive fees in more than one criminal case on the same day.

2558. (1007.) Interpreters' fees. Interpreters and translators shall be allowed such compensation for their services as the court may allow, to be taxed and collected as other costs; but the same shall not exceed $3 per day.

CHAPTER 6.

STATEMENTS.

2565. (1008.) State officers to account for fees quarterly. The fees chargeable and collected by state officers for the use and benefit of the state shall be paid to the state treasurer at the end of each quarter, and must be accompanied by a statement thereof as shown by the fee book, duly verified by the officer making such statement. The statement shall be fully itemized, showing from whom and on what account such fees were collected, and it shall be made in duplicate, one copy of which shall be filed with the state auditor and the other with the state treasurer.

Fees to be paid over quarterly, § 2510.

2566. (1009.) County officers to account for fees monthly. The fees chargeable and collected by the officers of the several counties of this state for the use and benefit of the county shall be paid to the county treasurer on the first Monday in the following month, and must be accompanied by a statement thereof as shown by the fee book, duly verified by the officer making the statement. Such statement shall be fully itemized, showing the persons from whom and on what account, or the cases in which such fees were collected or earned; and it shall be made in duplicate, one copy of which shall be filed with the county auditor and the other with the county treasurer. Whenever any county officer shall pay to the state treasurer any fees or money collected by him, he shall prepare a statement as above provided, and shall file one copy with the state auditor and the other with the state treasurer.

Fees to be paid over monthly, § 2520.

2567. (1010.) Verification of statement. The verification attached to such statements shall be substantially in the following form:

State of Utah, county of .....

I, A B, county clerk (or other officer, as the case may be), do swear the fee book in my office contains a true statement in detail of all fees and compensation of every kind and nature, for official services rendered by me, my deputies, and assistants, for the (month or quarter) ending ....., 19.....; that said fee book shows the full amount received or chargeable in said (month or quarter) and since my last regular payment; that neither myself, nor, to my knowledge or belief, any of my deputies or assistants, have rendered any official service, except for the county or the state, which is not fully set out in said fee book; and that the foregoing statement thereof is full and correct.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19.....

.....

2568. (1011.) Clerk's statement of jurors and witnesses' certificates. On the first Monday of every month the clerk of the district court must make a detailed statement of certificates issued to all jurors and to witnesses in criminal cases during the preceding month, showing the amount of fees and mileage earned by each, and shall file one copy thereof with the county auditor and the other with the county treasurer.

2569. (1012.) State to pay witnesses and jurors in criminal cases. At the end of each quarter it shall be the duty of the county treasurer and the county auditor of each county to prepare in duplicate and verify under oath a full and complete itemized statement of all certificates issued by the clerk of the district court since the date of the last statement for mileage and attendance of grand jurors, for mileage and attendance of petit jurors engaged in the trial of criminal cases in the district court, and for mileage and attendance of witnesses summoned by or on behalf of the state in criminal cases in the district court. Such statement shall set forth in detail the number of each certificate, the date of same, the name of the person or persons in whose favor issued, the nature of the service rendered, and such other information as may be necessary and required by the state auditor. One of said statements shall be transmitted to the state auditor and the other shall be filed in the office of the county clerk. Upon the receipt of said statement by the state auditor he shall, unless he find the same to be incorrect, draw his warrant in favor of the county treasurer upon the state treasurer for the whole amount of said jurors and witnesses' certificates, as shown by said statement, and shall transmit the same to the county treasurer. The county treasurer shall hold the funds drawn from the state treasury, upon the certificates aforesaid, for mileage and attendance of jurors and witnesses, as a separate fund for the redemption of jurors and witnesses' certificates. Am'd '03, pp. 30, 182.

2570. (1013.) State officer to account before receiving salary. The state auditor shall not draw his warrant for the salary for any quarter of any state officer by whom fees for the state are collected, until such officer shall have first presented him with the certificate of the state treasurer showing that he has made the statement and settlement for that quarter required in this title.

2571. (1014.) County officer to account before receiving salary. The county auditor shall not draw his warrant for the salary of any county officer for any month until the latter shall have first presented him with the certificate of the county treasurer showing that he has made the statement and settlement for that month required in this title; provided, that this section shall not be construed to prevent the payment of the salary of any employe or deputy of any officer.

CHAPTER 7.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

2575. (1015.) Officers to keep account of fees. Payment into treasury. All state, district, county, city, town, and school officers, excepting notaries public, boards of arbitration, justices of the peace, and constables, shall keep a correct account of all fees collected by them, and shall pay the same into the proper treasury, and the officer whose duty it is to collect such fees shall be held responsible under his bond for the same.

Fees of state officers, payment, § 2510. Fees of county officers, payment, § 2520.

2576. (1016.) Fees payable in advance. Exceptions. Impecunious suitors. The state and county officers mentioned in this title shall not in any case perform any official service unless the fees prescribed for such service are paid in advance, and on such payment the officer must perform the services required; and for every failure or refusal to perform official duty, when the fees are tendered, any officer shall be liable upon his official bond; provided, that no fees shall be charged the state, or any county or subdivision thereof, or any public officer acting therefor, or in cases of habeas corpus, or in criminal cases, before final judgment, or for administering and certifying the oath of office, or for swearing pensioners and their witnesses, or for filing and recording bonds of public officers; provided, further, that if any person shall make an affidavit before the judge of the district court, setting forth that he has a good cause of action or a good defense, and that he is unable to pay the fees in advance, the judge of the district court may, in his discretion, make an order that the clerk or the sheriff, or both, shall perform the necessary services in such case without any fee in advance, or he may require such person to give security for the costs, and then require such officers to perform the services, and it shall be the duty of such officers to obey the order of the district court.

Subpoena of witnesses for impecunious defendant in criminal case, § 2555.

In a case on appeal, the filing of an affidavit of impecuniosity relieves the necessity of advancing officers' fees which belong to the state, but not the filing of an undertaking under § 6996.

Hoagland v. Hoagland, 18 U. 304; 54 P. 978.

It is not error to grant a trial by jury on filing affidavit of impecuniosity under §§ 2576-2579, 6782.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Babcock, 24 U. 183; 66 P. 876.

Whether the failure of a sheriff to charge legal fees and to include them in a statement filed by him hereunder is wilful or otherwise is a question of fact which should be submitted to the jury under proper instructions, in proceedings for removal of an officer for a wilful disregard of the statutes.

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

2577. (1017.) Legal proceedings by poor person without cost. Oath. Any person may institute, prosecute, defend, and appeal any case in any court in this state by taking and subscribing, before any officer authorized to administer an oath, the following:

I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that owing to my poverty I am unable to bear the expenses of the action or legal proceedings which I am about to commence or the appeal which I am about to take, and that I verily believe I am justly entitled to the relief sought by such action, legal proceedings, or appeal.

See provisions of next preceding section.

In case of appeal to supreme court, § 6996.

Eddington v. Union Portland Cement Co., 42 U. 274; 130 P. 243.

2578. (1018.) Id. Officer to perform duties without fees. On such oath or affirmation being presented to any justice of the peace, or clerk of any court, such justice of the peace or clerk, as the case may be, shall at once file any complaint or papers on appeal and do any and all things necessary or proper to be done as promptly as though such litigant had fully paid all the regular fees; and the constable, or sheriff or his deputies, shall at once promptly serve any and all summons, writs, process, subpœnas, and all papers necessary or proper in the prosecution or defense of such cause for such poor person as though all the necessary fees and costs had been fully paid.

Stenographer's fees, when paid by state in criminal case, § 1906.

2579. (1019.) Id. If poor person successful costs collected from him. Nothing herein contained shall prevent such justice of the peace, clerk, constable, or sheriff from collecting their regular fees for all services so rendered for such poor person, in the event such poor person should be successful in his litigation, and all such fees and costs shall be regularly taxed and included in such judgment as may be recovered by such poor person, and the said fees and costs shall be paid to such justice of the peace, clerk, constable, sheriff, or deputy sheriff; provided, that in the event that said poor person fails in his action or appeal, then the costs of said action and appeal shall not be adjudged against him.

See Dunn v. Salt Lake & O. Ry. Co., 47 U. 137; 151 P. 979.

2580. (1020.) Id. If affidavit untrue, etc., fees to be paid or bond given. If it should be made to appear to the court by affidavit that the affidavit or affirmation is untrue or that the suit or appeal is frivolous or malicious or without merit, the court may make a rule on such poor person, fixing a day not less than five days from the date of service of such notice, requiring such poor person to appear at a fixed time and place, to show cause if any he have why he should not give bond and security for the costs of his action or appeal or pay the legal fees therefor, and, on failure so to do, why his suit, action, or appeal should not be dismissed. Should the court be of the opinion that the said poor person's affidavit or affirmation is frivolous or said action or appeal is malicious or without merit, the court in which such action is pending may dismiss it.

2581. (1021.) Id. Officer refusing to perform services guilty of misdemeanor. Any justice of the peace, clerk, or officer refusing to file or serve such papers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished as such.

2582. (1022.) Folio defined. The term "folio" when used as a measure for computing fees, shall be construed to mean one hundred words, counting every number expressed in numerals as a word; provided, that in computing the fees to be charged by the county recorder for recording any plat or map the word "folio" shall be construed to mean one hundred numbers, letters or characters. Any portion of a folio, when in the whole draft or paper there shall not be a complete folio, or when there shall be an excess over the last folio exceeding one-half, shall be computed as a folio.

Am'd '05, p. 58.

2583. (1023.) All officers must keep fee books. It shall be the duty of every officer in this title named, who is authorized to receive any fees for official services of himself or deputies, to keep a fee book, in which he shall enter an exact and full account, in detail, of all fees, commissions, or compensations, of whatever nature or kind, by him or his deputies earned, collected, or chargeable, with date, the name of the payer, and the nature of the service in each case. If any person shall hold more than one office, he may keep a separate fee book for each office, and may make separate statements for each, or he may keep a joint fee book and make joint statements, at his discretion.

2584. (1024.) All officers to post fee bill. It shall be the duty of every officer herein specified to prepare and keep posted in a conspicuous place in his office, a plain and legible statement of the fees allowed by law, upon pain of forfeiting, for failure to do so, $50, to be recovered, with costs, by any person, before any justice of the peace of the county.

2585. (1025.) Publication by officer, prepayment of cost. When, by law, a publication is required to be made by an officer, of any suit, process, notice, order, or other paper the cost of the same must be tendered by the party for whom such order of publication was granted before the officer shall be compelled to make such publication.

2586. (1026.) Receipt for fees paid. Every officer, upon receiving any fees for official duties or services, may be required by the person paying the same to make out in writing and deliver to such person an itemized account of such fees, and shall receipt the same; and if he refuses or neglects to do so when required, he shall be liable to the party paying the same for three times the amount so paid.

2587. (1027.) Not keeping fee book, etc. Penalties. If any officer shall refuse or wilfully neglect to keep a fee book, or to file a sworn statement, or to make returns, as herein required, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

2588. (1028.) Office vacated by receiving illegal fees. The board of county commissioners, upon receiving a certified copy of the record of conviction of any county, precinct, or district officer for receiving illegal fees, must declare his office vacant.

2589. (1029.) Id. Other penalties. Any public officer who shall charge and receive for any service rendered by him any other or greater amount than is prescribed by law for such service shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall forfeit to the person aggrieved the amount thereof and $25 as damages, and shall pay costs of suit.

2590. (1030.) False certification as to fees a felony. Every clerk of the district court, county attorney, justice of the peace, or other officer who shall certify as a fact any matter which he knows to be untrue, whereby any witness or juror shall be allowed a greater sum than he would otherwise be entitled to under the provisions of this title, shall be deemed guilty of a felony.

2591. (1031.) Officers forbidden to purchase certificates. No person connected officially with any of the district courts of this state, and no state, district, county, or precinct officer shall purchase or cause to be purchased any certificate issued to any juror or witness under the provisions of this title. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

2592. (1032.) Certificates invalid after one year. Any holder of a witness or juror's certificate specified in this title shall be required to present it to the county treasurer or to the county auditor, as the case may be, of the county where such certificate was issued, within one year from the date of its issuance. If the same shall not be presented for payment within that time, it shall be invalid and shall not be paid.

2593. (1033.) Allowing suit without fees. Penalty. Every justice of the peace who files in his office any complaint, or allows a civil action to be commenced in his court, without the fees being paid therefor in advance, except in cases permitted by the statutes, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

TITLE 32.

FIREARMS.

2600. Prohibitions as to foreigners. Exceptions. Penalty. It shall be unlawful for any unnaturalized foreign born person to hunt, capture, or kill any wild bird or animal, either game or otherwise, of any description, excepting in the defense of the person, and it shall be unlawful for any such unnaturalized foreign born resident within this state to own or have in his possession, or under his control, a shotgun, rifle, pistol, or any firearm of any make; provided, that where such person may be employed or engaged in the destruction of predatory animals, or in caring for stock on the range, the provisions of this section shall not apply. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not less than fifteen days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and any shotgun, rifle, pistol, or firearm owned by him or found in his possession, or under his control, shall be forfeited to the state of Utah.

2601. Disposition of firearms on forfeiture. Notice of the seizure of any firearm owned by, or found in the possession or under the control of, any person, violating any provision of this title shall be sent to the fish and game commissioner by the officer making the seizure immediately after the guilt of such person shall be established by a final adjudication in any prosecution brought against him for such violation; and the firearm so seized shall be sold at the discretion of the commissioner, the proceeds of such sale to go to the fish and game fund of the state of Utah.

Fish and game fund, § 2643.

2602. Duties of officers. Search and seizure. Exception. The commissioner and his deputies, members of the police force, sheriffs and their deputies, and all other officers qualified to serve criminal process shall have the right, and it is hereby made their duty, to arrest, without warrant, any person found with a shotgun or rifle, pistol, or other firearm or other deadly weapon in his possession if they have reason to believe that such person is an unnaturalized foreign born person. If any officer of the law above mentioned has reason to believe that a shotgun, rifle, or other firearm, or other deadly weapon, is being concealed by an unnaturalized foreign born person, he shall apply to any magistrate, justice of the peace, or court having jurisdiction of the offense, and such magistrate, justice of the peace or court, upon receipt of proof made by affidavit of the probable cause for believing that there is such concealment by such person, shall issue a search warrant and cause a search to be made in any place where such shotgun, rifle, pistol, or other firearm or other deadly weapon may be concealed, and to that end the said officers shall have power, after demand and refusal, to cause any building, room, inclosure, or car to be broken open and entered, and any closet, chest, locker, box, trunk, crate, basket, box, package, or other receptacle to be opened and its contents examined by said officer; provided, that the provisions of this title shall not apply to persons who have filed upon homesteads. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

TITLE 33.

FIREMEN'S FUND.

2603. Fire insurance companies to make returns to insurance commissioner. Every fire insurance company, corporation, or association doing business in any incorporated city or town in the state that has, or may hereafter have, a regularly organized fire department under the control of the mayor and city council, or other governing body of said city or town, and which has, in serviceable condition for fire duty, apparatus and equipment amounting in value to the sum of $500 or more, shall return to the insurance commissioner of this state a just and true account of all premiums collected and received from all fire insurance business done by it within the corporate limits of each of said cities or towns during the year ending December 31 of each year, or such portion of the year as they may have transacted such business in said cities and towns. Said returns shall be made by the said companies, corporations, or associations within sixty days from and after the 31st day of December of each year.

2604. Premium statement. Every such fire insurance company, corporation, or association as designated in § 2603 shall, at the time of submitting its annual statement to the state commissioner of insurance, submit to him an additional premium statement, showing the premiums collected within the corporate limits of each of the cities or towns designated in the preceding section and deliver up to the said insurance commissioner 1 per cent of the amount of all premiums on fire and lightning insurance within the limits of each of such incorporated cities or towns, during the year ending December 31 of each year or for such portion of said year as such company, corporation, or association shall have done business in said city or town.

2605. Accounts of business transacted. Every such fire insurance company, corporation, or association shall keep accurate books of account of all business done by it, both on fire and lightning insurance, covering property situated within the limits of such incorporated cities or towns; and in case any fraud, misrepresentation, or mistake be apparent in said returns made by such company, as provided for in this title, it shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to investigate such returns and collect the amount which he shall find to be due.

2606. Id. Penalty for failure to report, or making false reports. Every fire insurance company, corporation, or association in this state which shall neglect to keep such books of account as aforesaid, or shall fail or neglect to report, or pay over any of the money due on premiums received as aforesaid, at the times and in the manner specified in this title, or shall be found, upon examination, to have made a false return of the business done by it, shall for each offense forfeit, for the use and benefit of the fund hereinafter created, the sum of $100 for each day said statement or payment is delayed. Such forfeiture may be collected by a civil action to be instituted by the attorney-general in the name of the state.

2607. Revocation of certificate of authority for failure to pay funds. The insurance commissioner may revoke the certificate of authority of any fire insurance company, corporation, or association failing or refusing to pay such money or moneys within the times limited; and it shall be unlawful, in case such certificate of authority is revoked, for such company or any agent or solicitor thereof to solicit or receive application for insurance until the insurance commissioner has issued to the company, corporation, or association a new certificate of authority.

2608. Disposition of funds. All moneys collected under this title shall be turned over by the insurance commissioner to the state treasurer, to be kept by him in a fund out of which to pay to the heirs of deceased fireman, or to disabled firemen, the benefits provided by this title.

2609. Who entitled to benefits. Every member of every regularly organized fire department or company under the control of the mayor and city council, or other governing body of any city or town in this state having in serviceable condition for fire duty apparatus and equipment equal in value to the sum of $500, shall be entitled to the benefits of this title.

2610. Id. If any member of any of the above described fire departments or companies shall lose his life while in the performance of any of the duties devolving upon him as such, there shall be paid to his heirs out of the funds provided for by this title the sum of $2500. If any member of any of the above described fire departments or companies shall be injured while in the performance of the duties devolving upon him as such, he shall be paid out of said fund created by this title, for dismemberment by actual separation at or above the wrist joints or ankle joints on both hands or feet, $2500; one hand and one foot, $2500; one hand or one foot, $1250; one hand and irrecoverable loss of the sight of one eye, $2500; irrecoverable loss of both eyes, $2500; one eye, $1250; or if any member of any of the above described fire departments or companies shall contract sickness or receive injuries while in the performance of his duties as such, which shall result in his total disability, he shall be paid from said fund the sum of $2500.

2612. Claims. All claims for death or injury accruing under the provisions of this title shall be filed with the state board of examiners within six months from the accrual thereof, and must receive the approval of said board before being paid. Any claim not filed with the state board of examiners within the time specified in this section shall not be allowed, unless reasons for the delay satisfactory to the board shall be submitted.

2613. Procedure where funds are insufficient to meet claims. In case there is not sufficient funds in said fund created by this title for the payment of any indemnity herein provided, when the claim therefor is presented, the portion that may be on hand may be paid and the balance when on hand; provided, that should there be more than one claimant for any indemnity herein provided, when there is not sufficient funds to pay all, they shall be paid pro rata in the proportion of the amount to which they may be entitled from said fund, and await the receipt of sufficient funds to be received into the fund created by this title for the balance; provided, further, that should it occur that when any member or members apply for an indemnity to which they may be entitled under the provisions of this title, and there are others who have made application prior thereto whose claims have not been fully paid, and there is not sufficient funds to pay all of the claims, the person or persons making such claims shall be paid pro rata with all prior claimants of the total amount of the claims of each, and await the recovery of funds for the payment of the balance of their indemnity as herein provided, and this rule shall be followed with claims that may thereafter be presented.

TITLE 34.

FISH AND GAME.

('17, p. 228.)

2615. (1034.) Fish and game commissioner. Qualifications. Term. Vacancy. The governor of the state of Utah, by and with the consent of the senate, shall appoint a state fish and game commissioner, hereinafter called the state commissioner, who shall be a resident citizen of the state of Utah, shall have a knowledge of state conditions necessary to an intelligent interpretation and enforcement of all fish and game laws, who shall not be a member of any hunting, shooting, or fishing club, and whose term of office shall be four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified; provided, that when a vacancy occurs in the office of the state commissioner and the legislature is not in session, the governor shall have the power to fill such vacancy, until the next regular session of the legislature, and he shall have the power to remove the state commissioner for cause.

Am'd '99, p. 38; '05, p. 188; '07, p. 150.

2616. (1036.) Powers of commissioner. The state commissioner shall have the control and supervision of the waters, forests, and lands of the state for the collection, propagation, culture, and distribution of fish and game in the state, and shall receive and distribute all game, fish, fish-fry, and spawn coming into his hands, fairly and equitably among the several counties of the state. He shall have full control of all property of the state obtained and held for the purposes contemplated by this title.

Am'd '99, p. 38; '01, p. 155; '05, p. 188; '07, p. 150.

Issue and distribute licenses, §§ 2641, 2642.
Report licenses to state auditor and deposit funds with the state treasurer, § 2642.

Am'd '99, p. 39; '05, p. 188; '07, p. 151.

2618. (1038.) Assistants and deputies. The commissioner may appoint, by and with the approval of the governor, and keep in service one chief deputy, and such additional deputies and other assistants as may be necessary. The state commissioner may also appoint, by and with the approval of the governor, special deputies, who shall constitute what shall be hereafter known as an advisory board, who shall serve without pay, receiving only necessary expenses. These deputies shall be taken from the various sections of the state; provided, that no more than one shall be selected from any one county of the state. Am'd '99, p. 39; '05, p. 189; '07, p. 151.

2619. (1035.) Salaries and expenses. The state commissioner shall receive a salary of $2400 per annum. and actual and necessary traveling and contingent expenses, and his chief deputy shall receive a salary of $1500 per annum and actual necessary traveling expenses.

Am'd '99, p. 38; '01, p. 154; '05, 188; '07, p. 150.

2620. Bonds of commissioner and deputies. The state commissioner, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall give a bond in the penal sum of $10,000 for the faithful performance of his duties, which bond shall be approved by the state board of examiners and filed with the secretary of state. The chief deputy shall give bonds in the sum of $5000. All other deputies receiving pay from the state shall give bonds in the sum of $1000 each for the faithful performance of their duties and the prompt accounting for and the payment of any moneys coming into their hands by virtue of their office. Such bond shall run to the people of the state and be approved by the state commissioner. Am'd '99, p. 39; '05, p. 189; '07, p. 151.

2621. (1039.) Official duties. Make arrests. Examine and search. Procedure. It shall be the duty of the state commissioner, chief deputy, and their deputies to see that all of the laws of the state for the protection of fish and game are faithfully enforced throughout the state, and for this purpose they are collectively and severally given the same power and authority granted by the law to, and exercised by, sheriffs and constables. The commissioner and deputies are authorized and required to enforce this title, and to seize any fish or game taken or held in violation of this title, and shall have full power and authority so to do, and it shall be the duty of any such officer, with or without a warrant, to arrest any person whom he has reason to believe guilty of a violation thereof, and if without a warrant to hold him until a warrant can be procured; to open, enter, and examine all cars, stages, packs, warehouses, stores, vehicles, outhouses, boxes, barrels, and packages where he has reason to believe any game or fish taken or held in violation of this title may be found, and to seize the same; provided, that if such search and seizure be without a warrant, such warrant shall be secured as soon as possible during the search or seizure, if demanded; and, provided, further, that a dwelling house actually occupied can be entered for examination only in pursuance of a warrant. Am'd '99, p. 39; '01, p. 155; '05, p. 189; '07, p. 151.

2622. (1040.) Removal of fish. Drainage of canals. Notice. It shall be the duty of the chief commissioner to take, or cause to be taken, in the best practical manner, any game fish found in pools or other places where receding waters from rivers, streams, canals, or other water ways have left them, and which are likely to become dry, and to make the best disposition of the dead fish in the interest of the state fish and game fund, and carefully to put back the live fish into state waters. Any person, corporation, or company owning or controlling any irrigation canal, ditch, or mill race leading through any of the waters of the state known to contain game fish, who shall desire to drain any such canal, ditch, or mill race for any purpose, shall give a written notice to the state commissioner, or one of his deputies, and on the same date mail a duplicate of the said notice to the commissioner, at least five days prior to such draining. Failure to comply with the provision of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $100. R. S. '98, § 1041; '99, p. 39; '05, p. 190; '07, p. 152.

2623. (1041.) Fishways. Refuse matter. Offenses and penalties. The owners of any dam across any of the public streams in this state, either now in use or hereafter built, shall, if so required by the state commissioner or his deputies, and under his or their supervision, erect suitable fishways to allow the free, uninterrupted passage of fish up and down the streams, said fishways to be built and maintained by the owner of said dam. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons, corporation or corporations, company or companies, to build or maintain any dam that will be the means of killing or destroying fish passing up and down the streams. And it shall be a misdemeanor for any person, corporation, or company owning any mill, factory, or reduction works in this state to cause or permit any refuse matter from said mill, factory, or reduction works to be washed, dumped, or placed in any of the streams or waters of this state, or to place such refuse matter from said mill, factory, or reduction works in such close proximity to any of the streams that the same might be washed into said streams by rain. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than $100 for such violation, and each day during which such violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.

R. S. '98, § 1042; '99, p. 40; '03, p. 152; '05, p. 190; '07, p. 152.

R. S. '98, § 1043; '99, p. 40; '05, p. 190; '07, p. 152.

2625. (1049.) Safety devices in irrigation canals. It is hereby made the duty of the fish and game commissioner to see that all irrigation canals, when deemed necessary by the state commissioner, are properly protected by some device (which shall not be the means of materially obstructing the flow of water into such canals) so that no fish may enter said ditches between April 1 and October 15 of each year; said device to be provided and maintained out of the fish and game fund.

R. S. '98, § 1050; '99, p. 41; '05, p. 194; '07, p. 158.

2626. (1043.) Angling season. Hooks and poles. Dates and places. It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to fish for, or to take any fish from any of the waters of this state by any device or means whatever, except as hereinafter provided. It shall be lawful to angle between the 15th day of June and the 30th day of November following, both dates included; provided, that it shall be lawful to angle fish from Fish lake between June 15 and October 1, and Strawberry reservoir between July 1 and September 30, both dates included. It shall be lawful to fish in Panguitch lake at all times of the year; provided, it shall be unlawful for any person to fish or take any fish from the waters of this state at any time between 9 o'clock p. m. and 4 o'clock a. m., or to take or have in his possession at any time any bass less than eight inches long or any trout or mountain herring less than six inches long.

The word angling, as used in this title, is defined to be fishing with a rod or pole held in the hand or hands, such rod or pole to have attached thereto artificial fly hook or hooks, not exceeding two in number, or not exceeding two baited hooks, or one baited hook with not more than one gang of not more than three hooks, or one trolling-spoon with not more than one gang of not more than three hooks. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

R. S. '98, § 1044; '99, p. 40; '01, p. 155; '03, p. 152; '05, p. 191; '07, p. 153.

2627. (1044-5.) Sales prohibited. Exceptions. Limit of catch. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer to sell, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, at any time, any eastern brook trout, rainbow trout, grayling trout, native trout, black-spotted mountain trout, or any other species of trout, or any land-locked salmon, herring, or black bass taken from any of the public waters of this state; provided, that it shall be lawful to sell black bass between June 15 and September 30, both dates included. In prosecutions under this section it will be sufficient to allege generally that such fish were unlawfully sold, offered, exposed, or held for sale, and proof of sale or offering or exposing to sell shall be prima facie evidence of guilt. It shall be unlawful for any person to catch more than ten pounds and one fish of any or all of said varieties or species of fish on any one day, excepting black bass, which limit shall be fifteen founds and one fish, or to have in his possession at any time more than twenty-five pounds of any or all of the said varieties or species of fish.

R. S. '98, § 1046; '99, p. 40; '01, p. 156; '03, p. 153; '05, p. 191; '07, p. 154.

2628. Private ponds. Protection. Permit to sell and ship. Seasons. The owner or owners of private fish ponds shall, before selling or shipping any fish from the same, make application to the state commissioner, by affidavit, describing accurately such pond, where located, when such pond was completed and stocked with fish, from whence the fish were procured, the kind of fish to be sold or shipped, the railroad station from which he desires to ship such fish; and upon satisfactory showing being made to the state commissioner that such private pond is in fact a private pond, and that the fish desired to be shipped have been reared in said pond, and upon payment of $1, the state commissioner shall issue to the owner or owners of such private pond a permit to sell or ship such fish. Said permit must contain the date when issued, to whom issued, the number, the name, and location of the pond from which such fish are to be shipped, and also the station from which the shipments are to be made. All permits shall continue in force from the date of issuance until the 31st day of December following their issue. Such permit shall be issued in triplicate, one copy to be given to the shipper, one to the railroad or express agent at the station from which the shipments are to be made, and the third copy to be placed on file in the office of the state commissioner. A copy of the bill of lading for each and every shipment must be delivered or mailed by the shipper to the state commissioner on the day shipment is made. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or maintain any private fish pond within this state without erecting and maintaining a sufficient screen, approved by the state fish and game commissioner, at the point where the waters enter such pond from any state waters, and also at the point where the waters leave such pond, so as effectually to prevent any fish from entering or leaving such pond. Every person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. It shall be unlawful for any owner or owners of any private ponds knowingly to deliver to any company, corporation, or individual any game fish to be carried or shipped outside of the state, without furnishing and mailing a copy of the invoices to the fish and game commissioner on the date the delivery is made.

R. S. '98, § 1046; '99, p. 40; '01, p. 156; '03, p. 153; '05, p. 191; '07, p. 154.

2629. Transporting fish. Rules governing. Violations punished. It shall be a misdemeanor for any express company, railroad company, other transportation company, or other common carrier of any kind to receive any fish of any kind whatever for shipment, unless they have in their possession a duplicate permit issued by the fish and game commissioner for such shipping as above described. And it shall be a misdemeanor to take fish or spawn from any of the lakes or streams of this state and place them in private ponds at any time, except as provided in § 2617; and it shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to sell or offer for sale any fish not propagated or grown in a private pond; provided, that carp, suckers, chubs, mullets, and catfish may be sold at any time; provided, further, that nothing in this title shall apply to fish raised outside of this state, except trout. It shall be unlawful for any individual, company, or corporation to ship or cause to be shipped or carried outside of this state, any fish, without first securing from the state commissioner a permit covering the period during which such shipments are to be made. This permit must be issued in triplicate, one copy to be delivered by the shipper to the express company, one to be retained by the shipper, and one to be mailed to the state fish and game commissioner.

2630. (1047.) Use of seines, spears, and hooks. Classification of fish and waters. For the purpose of catching carp, chubs, catfish, mullets, or suckers, and these fish only, seines, not more than two hundred yards long and twelve feet wide, with meshes not less than one and one-half inches square for fifty yards in the center, and with meshes not less than two inches square in the wings thereof, may be used at any time in the following named waters only: Bear lake, Sevier river, from Sevier lake to the mouth of the Sevier bridge reservoir; the Colorado, Green, Grand, and San Juan rivers; the Gunnison reservoir; Sanpitch river; Redmond lake; Burrville reservoir; Sevier river, from the Black Knolle creamery north to the county line between Sanpete and Sevier counties; the Otter Creek reservoir, including Otter creek as far north as the old reservoir in the narrows, about six miles between Greenwich and the mouth of the canal that empties into Otter Creek reservoir from the east fork of the Sevier river; the east fork of the Sevier river from its junction with the waters of Otter creek, one-fourth of a mile below the said Otter Creek reservoir; Price river from Spring glen to Green river, Carbon county; San Rafael river from Orangeville to Green river, Emery county; Bear river, below the Idaho line; and in Utah lake and Jordan river; provided, that in Bear lake it shall be lawful to use seines or nets for catching herring, trout, and white-fish, between July 1 and May 1 following; provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to take fish from the waters of Bear lake with gill nets within four hundred yards of the mouth of any stream flowing into said lake. In Utah lake it shall be unlawful to use seines from June 1 to September 1, or at any time, without the presence of a deputy, who shall be paid not to exceed $2 per day by the party drawing the seine, and such deputy shall give a bond of $250 for the faithful performance of his duties, payable to the state of Utah, and to be filed with the state commissioner; provided, that before any person shall use a seine in any waters named in this section, such person shall procure a seiner's license from the state commissioner, on payment of $1.50, except to seine in Utah lake and Bear lake, where the fee shall be $5; provided, further, that before any person shall use a seine in any of the waters of this state, except Utah lake and Bear lake, he shall give a bond with two sufficient sureties to the state in the penal sum of $500, conditioned that no fish protected by the laws of this state from seining will be taken, and that diligence will be used by him to prevent the death of any of said fish, which bond shall be approved by and filed with the state commissioner. The state commissioner shall furnish blanks for said bonds, and shall furnish blanks to the county clerk of each county of the state, to be given to persons desiring to give bonds as herein provided. When a bond is prepared, it shall be delivered to the state commissioner, or to a deputy, or a county clerk, who shall forward it at once to the state commissioner. Upon approval by the state commissioner he shall file the same in his office and issue to the person giving such bond, upon payment of the license fee herein provided, a seiner's license. It shall be lawful to use spears, with or without a torch or lamplight, for the taking and killing of carp and suckers only, at any time, and it shall be lawful to take carp, suckers, chubs, mullets, and catfish, at any time, with hook and line, commonly known as angling, from the above waters, and from the waters of Sevier river between the mouth of Clear Creek canyon in Sevier county and the Otter Creek reservoir in Piute county, and in Weber river; provided, further, that suckers may be taken by grappling hooks between April 1 and May 20, both dates inclusive, in Provo river, between Utah lake and state road bridge northwest of Provo; in Spanish Fork river, between the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad bridges across said rivers and Utah lake; and in Hobble creek, between Main street, Springville City, and Utah lake. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

R. S. '98, § 1048; '99, p. 41; '01, p. 156; '05, p. 193; '07, p. 155.

2631. (1048.) Seines in Spring creek and Utah lakes prohibited. It shall be unlawful to use seines in Spring Creek lake, which runs into Utah lake, or within one-half mile from the mouth of any stream flowing into said Utah lake. R. S. '98, § 1049; '99, p. 41; '05, p. 194; '07, p. 158.

2632. Fishing from horseback or by fire light, and trespassing prohibited. It shall be a misdemeanor to fish from the back of a horse, or to travel up or down any stream on horseback while fishing for trout or mountain herring; or to fish by fire or lamp light at night; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a person from wading up or down any stream while so fishing. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person while engaged in fishing to damage private property, to take down or remove fences, to open and permit or cause to remain open, gates or bars or to do or commit any act of trespass, while engaged in fishing or hunting, and the commissioner or his deputy is authorized to arrest any person violating any of the provisions of this section, and all fines collected, upon conviction of any person so arrested after payment of the costs of prosecution, shall be turned over by the court to the owner of the property damaged.

2633. (1051.) Seizure and sale of unlawful devices. All seines, guns, nets, tackle, powder, explosives, lime, poison, drugs, and other means and devices for the unlawful taking of fish or game of any kind, found in the possession of any person who may be detected in unlawfully taking fish from any of the waters of the state or killing any kind of game, shall be seized by the officer making the arrest, and if it appears from evidence before the magistrate trying the case that the guns, seines, nets, tackle, powder, lime, poison, drugs, or other means and devices for the taking and killing of game were used for the unlawful taking of fish or game, the same shall be confiscated and sold at public auction by the state commissioner, and the proceeds therefrom turned into the fish and game fund.

2634. (1052.) Unlawful to hunt or kill certain animals. It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot at, kill, or hunt for any deer, elk, antelope, mountain sheep, otter, beaver, or any other game animal in this state, or to capture or hold in confinement any such animal or its young. Possession of any such animals when the party in possession fails to make satisfactory explanation shall be deemed prima facie evidence of guilt; provided, that it shall be lawful for any citizen of the United States who is an actual and bona fide resident of the state of Utah, to hunt or kill one deer after 1920, between October 15 and October 31, both dates inclusive; provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to kill a fawn of either sex; provided, further, that when, in the judgment of the state fish and game commissioner, property is being damaged by beaver, he shall have authority to grant to residents of the state permission to trap or catch beaver under such restrictions as the case may in his judgment warrant. Hides of such animals must be delivered to the state fish and game commissioner to be disposed of by him, and the proceeds turned to the credit of the fish and game fund. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine in a sum not more than $500 and not less than $200, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2635. (1053.) Pursuit by dogs prohibited. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to pursue with a dog or dogs any of the animals mentioned in § 2634. R. S. '98, § 1054; '99, p. 42; '05, p. 195; '07, p. 159.

2636. (1054.) Shooting of grouse, quail, sagehens, etc., and destruction of nests prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot at, kill, or hunt for an partridge, penated grouse (commonly called prairie chicken), blue grouse, willow grouse, sagehen, pheasant, or quail, or to rob or destroy any nest, egg, or young of any such bird. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to sell, offer for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, any part or parts of any of the birds mentioned in this section; provided, that the state fish and game commissioner may, in his discretion, permit the shooting of sagehens, pheasants, and quail in any county or counties which he may designate, when it is shown that in such county or counties these birds are increasing and are not in danger of being exterminated. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

R. S. '98, §§ 1055, 1056; '99, p. 42; '03, p. 154; '05, p. 195; '07, p. 159.

2637. (1055.) Destruction of insectivorous birds prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person to kill, take, ensnare, net, trap, or shoot at any swan, mourning dove, pelican, gull, owl, lark, whippoorwill, hawk, blackbird, thrush, snowbird, swallow, robin, shore bird or other insectivorous or omnivorous (seed eating) bird in this state, or to destroy any egg or nest of the above mentioned birds. This section shall not be construed to protect the English sparrow, blue heron, squawk, magpie, blue cooper hawk or ratted hawk; provided, that pelicans or hood mergansers may be killed by the permission of the state commissioner. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

R. S. '98, § 1057; '99, p. 42; '01, p. 157; '05, p. 195; '07, p. 160.

2638. (1056.) Hunting season for wild ducks and geese. It shall be unlawful for any person to take, kill, wound, shoot at, or have in his possession any wild ducks or geese, or to rob or destroy any nest, egg, or young of any wild duck, goose, or snipe. This provision shall not prohibit the killing of not more than six geese, or twenty-five of all the girds mentioned in this section, in any one day, during the season allowed therefor, which shall commence on the 1st day of October and close on the 31st day of December of each year; provided, that it shall be unlawful to use sneak boats or sink boxes or other similar devices for the pursuit of such game, or to take, kill, wound, or shoot at any of the said birds between sunset and sunrise. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and failure by the party in possession of such birds to give satisfactory explanation shall be deemed prima facie evidence of guilt.

R. S. '98, § 1058; '99, p. 42; '01, p. 157; '03, p. 155; '05, p. 195; '07, p. 160.

2639. (1058.) Unlawful possession of fish and game. Any person who shall have in his possession any game, fish, or birds unlawfully taken is guilty of a misdemeanor. All fish and game unlawfully taken, held unlawfully, shipped, or consigned for shipment out of this state shall be seized by the state commissioner or deputies, and disposed of to the best interest of the fish and game fund; provided, that any person, after procuring a non-resident license, may take out of the state the amount of one day's limit, by permission of the state commissioner, after the same has been inspected and marked by the said state commissioner or his deputies; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall apply to fish shipped from private ponds. The possession of any animal, fish, bird, or any part of the remains thereof, within the time or period within which taking and killing or possession of the same is prohibited, shall be prima facie evidence of such unlawful taking, killing, or possession. It shall be unlawful to kill, catch, or otherwise to take, destroy, or leave to waste, or in any manner to cause or suffer to be wasted, any bird, animal, or fish in this title mentioned, or any useful part or parts thereof except mullets, suckers, and carp. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $100 for each offense.

R. S. '98, § 1060; '99, p. 43; '05, p. 196; '07, p. 160.

2640. (1061.) Reservation of waters for propagation of fish. For the better advancement of the fish interests of the state, the state commissioner may select and reserve any stream, lake, or pond, or a part thereof, in the state, for the purpose of planting, breeding, and propagating fish. And it shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to fish in any stream, lake, or pond while so reserved. When any stream, lake, or pond is selected for such purpose, the state commissioner shall forthwith post, or cause to be posted and maintained, conspicuous notices thereof along the banks or shores of such stream, lake, or pond, at points not over one mile apart, and shall advertise the same in the newspaper issued and published nearest to the lake, stream, or pond, for two weeks prior to the closing of such stream, pond, or lake to public fishing. Any person found violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $25 for each offense.

R. S. '98, pg. 1063; '99, p. 43; '05, p. 196; '07, p. 161.

2641. (1047.) License to hunt and fish. It shall be unlawful for any male person to hunt for, kill, or shoot at any kind of game, or to take or fish for any kind of fish, except in Panguitch lake, whether protected or not, without first having procured a license so to do. It shall be unlawful for any person to refuse to produce his license for inspection at the time when requested so to do by the state commissioner or his deputy. Such license shall entitle the holder thereof to pursue, hunt, and kill such game animal and game birds and to fish for and catch such numbers and varieties of fish as are permitted by law, subject to the restrictions and regulations imposed by law.

The prices of such license shall be as follows:

To any male person over fourteen years of age, who is a citizen of the United States and an actual bona fide resident of the state of Utah, $1.25.

To any male person over fourteen years of age who is a citizen of the United States and not an actual bona fide resident of the state of Utah, $6; provided, that no alien shall be permitted to hunt or fish for game within the state of Utah; provided, furthcr, that persons under the age of fourteen years shall not be required to procure any license; and provided, further, that any person excepting an alien may hunt for and kill rabbits without a license.

Every license shall state the place of residence of the holder thereof, and shall not be transferable to any other person. All licenses, except as otherwise provided, shall be substantially in the following form:

License .....

The holder hereof, ..., whose residence is ....., county of ....., state of ....., is hereby permitted to hunt and fish within the state of Utah, subject to the limitations and restrictions of the game laws of the state of Utah.

Receipt of $..... for this license is hereby acknowledged. The holder is ..... years of age, is ..... feet ..... inches tall, weighs ..... pounds, is ..... complexioned and has ..... hair and ..... eyes.

Dated at ....., this ..... day of ....., 19.....

Officer's signature.

Officer's address.

Owner's signature.

Provided, that each resident license and duplicate thereof shall have plainly printed thereon the words "resident license, price $1.25"; each non-resident license and duplicate thereof the words "non-resident license, price $6."

It is further provided that every applicant for any of the above described licenses shall, immediately upon receipt of said license, sign his name in the place in said license provided, and at the request of the state commissioner or any of his deputies shall sign his name in the presence of said officer for comparison.

Such licenses may be issued by the state commissioner, his deputy, the county clerk or his deputies of any county within the state, or any person authorized so to do by the state commissioner. The state commissioner shall be responsible to the state for all moneys collected for game licenses issued by persons authorized by him to sell such licenses, and for the faithful performance of their duties, as required by law. Every person authorized under this section to issue any license, who shall knowingly issue the same for any less amount of money than required by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Such license shall be printed as directed by the state commissioner in duplicate, which shall contain the name, the residence of the person to whom issued, the number and date, and the amount paid therefor, one copy to be retained by the county clerk or his deputies, or the commissioner or his deputies or other authorized persons issuing the license, and one duplicate, with all mutilated licenses and all moneys collected, shall be remitted to the state commissioner on the first day of each month. Every license shall have printed on the back a short synopsis of this title. All licenses issued under the provisions of this title shall commence on the date of June 1 of each year, and expire May 31, the following year. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

2642. Licenses issued. Fees. Reports. It is hereby made the duty of the state commissioner, immediately after the passage of this title, to prepare and cause to be printed suitable forms of licenses as provided in this title, and to send by registered mail, or to deliver in person, taking receipt therefor, to each deputy commissioner of the state, such blanks as he may deem necessary, and to send by registered mail or deliver in person, taking receipt therefor, to the various county clerks such blanks as he may deem necessary; and it shall be the duty of the several deputy commissioners and county clerks to issue such licenses as applied for. And the state commissioner shall supervise the selling of licenses throughout the state. Each person authorized under this title to issue fishing and hunting licenses shall make a report to the state commissioner in such form and at such time as he shall prescribe, stating the number of resident licenses issued at $1.25, the number of seiner's licenses at $1.50, $5, and $10, respectively, the number of nonresident licenses sold at $6, and he shall deposit with the state commissioner all moneys from the sale of licenses, fines, or other moneys belonging to the state fish and game fund. On the first day of each month, the state commissioner shall make a report to the state auditor showing the number of licenses issued, and shall deposit with the state treasurer all moneys received by him belonging to the fish and game fund. Any officer who shall refuse or neglect to turn over any moneys collected for the licenses issued as herein provided shall be guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof shall immediately be removed from office and be liable to criminal prosecution.

2643. Fish and game fund. A fish and game fund is hereby created, and all moneys collected for fish and game licenses, and the net moneys collected from the fines and forfeitures for violation of the fish and game laws, shall be paid to the state commissioner. All moneys so paid to the state commissioner shall be and are hereby constituted a state fish and game fund, said fund to be drawn upon only for payment of expenses of the state fish and game department.

Proceeds from sale of fish, fry and eggs, § 2648.
Sale of licenses, § 2642.
Proceeds sale of foreigners' firearms, etc., § 2601.

2644. Use of money now in fund. There is hereby appropriated all money now standing to the credit of the state fish and game fund and all moneys which may be received under the provisions of this title, for the purpose of paying the salaries of the various officers provided by this title; for paying the traveling expenses of the office of the state fish and game commissioner; for building and maintaining of hatcheries; and for importing, propagating, and protecting fish and game.

2645. Improvements on hatcheries and spawning grounds. The state commissioner is hereby authorized and directed to maintain and make needed improvements on the state hatcheries and spawning ponds and grounds connected therewith, and to construct and maintain such other hatcheries and spawning ponds as may be provided for.

2646. (1062.) Shipment of fish and game out of state. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons at any time to ship or cause to be shipped, carried, or transported out of this state, birds, fish, or game, or any part or parts thereof, dead or alive, mentioned in this title; provided, that carp, suckers, mullets, catfish, and chubs may be shipped after being first inspected by a fish and game commissioner or his deputy; and such fish and game commissioner or his deputy shall attach to each parcel or package of such shipment a statement that the same has been inspected and giving the kind of fish and the weight thereof, which statement must be signed by the fish and game commissioner or his deputy making such inspection. And it is further provided that it is a misdemeanor for any railroad company, express company, or other transportation company, or common carrier of any kind to receive any common fish without such inspection certificate attached thereto; provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to fish shipped from private ponds. R. S. '98, § 1064; '99, p. 43; '03, p. 155; '05, p. 197; '07, p. 161.

2647. Public hunting grounds. Game sanctuaries. The state commissioner, with the concurrence and under the direction of the state board of examiners, is hereby authorized and empowered to procure, set aside, and maintain, or cause to be set aside and maintained, as public hunting grounds, such lands in the state as may be suitable for that purpose, and he is hereby authorized to use such amount of funds available for that purpose as may be necessary. Said commissioner and the state board of examiners may prescribe reasonable rules and regulations governing hunting within such hunting grounds, and may require reasonable fees for such privileges; provided, that the state commissioner is hereby authorized and empowered to procure, set aside, and protect, or cause to be set aside and protected, certain districts throughout the state as game sanctuaries; provided, further, that in like manner bird and game sanctuaries may be established.

2648. Sale of fish fry and eggs. The state commissioner, by and with the approval of the governor, may at any time sell fish fry and eggs, the proceeds to go to the state fish and game fund.

TITLE 35.

FLAG, DESCRIPTION OF THE STATE.

2664. Utah state flag. The state flag of Utah is declared to be a flag of blue field fringed with gold borders with the following device worked in natural colors on the center of the blue field:

The center a shield; above the shield and thereon an American eagle with outstretched wings; the top of the shield pierced with six arrows crosswise; upon the shield under the arrows the word "industry," and below the word "industry" on the center of the shield a beehive; on each side of the beehive, growing sego lilies; below the beehive and near the bottom of the shield the word "Utah," and below the word "Utah" and on the bottom of the shield the figures "1847," with the appearance of being back of the shield. There shall be two American flags on flagstaffs placed crosswise with the flags so draped that they will project beyond each side of the shield, the heads of the flagstaffs appearing in front of the eagle's wings and the bottom of each staff appearing over the face of the draped flag below the shield; below the shields and flags and upon the blue field the figures "1896." Around the entire design a narrow circle in gold.

Adopted by joint resolution number 17, laws '11, p. 353; amended by joint resolution number 1, laws '13, p. 252, and approved March 11, 1913.

FLOATING DEBT ON ADMISSION OF STATE.

2665. (1067.) Floating indebtedness at statehood may be refunded. All counties, cities, towns, school boards, and school districts that had a floating indebtedness at the time Utah was admitted as a state are hereby authorized to borrow an amount of money equal to the amount of such floating indebtedness; provided, that such floating indebtedness is not in excess of that authorized by law; and, provided further, that all money borrowed under the provisions of this title shall not bear a greater rate of interest than the original obligation to be thereby liquidated.

Refunding county indebtedness, § 1410 et seq.
A warrant void as being in excess of the debt limit of a county and containing stipulation to pay interest, void because of lacking legislative authority for its insertion, was, under § 14, p. 524 laws 1896, and §§ 1, 2, laws 1897, validated as to principal only.
Daggett v. Lynch, 18 U. 49; 54 P. 1095.

The indebtedness of Salt Lake county for 1895, which exceeded its debt limit for that year, was validated, and county board authorized to issue bonds for its payment under laws of 1896, pp. 179, 524, and §§ 1, 2 laws 1897.
Darke v. Commissioners, 15 U. 467; 49 P. 257.

2666. (1068.) Money applied to such indebtedness. All money so borrowed shall be applied in the payment of the indebtedness designated in § 2665; and no bond or note issued by any county, city, town, school board, or school district, upon which such money shall be borrowed, shall be sold for less than its face value.

TITLE 37.

STATE FLOWER.

2667. Utah state flower. The sego lily is hereby selected as and declared to be the Utah state flower. '11, p. 137.

TITLE 38.

FOREST RESERVE FUND.

2668. (1068x.) Acceptance by the state. All moneys which shall come into the hands of the state treasurer from the United States, pursuant to act of congress, approved June 30, 1906, and any and all acts supplementary thereto, are hereby fully and completely ratified; and the state of Utah hereby accepts said apportionment upon the terms and conditions set forth in the said act of congress for the benefit of the public schools and public roads of the county or counties in which the forest reserve is situated. '07, p. 221.

2669. (1068x1.) Fund created. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the county road and school fund from forest reserves. '07, p. 221.

2670. (1068x2.) State treasurer to receive and hold money. Report. The state treasurer shall receive and hold all moneys which shall hereafter come into his hands by virtue of the said act of congress hereinbefore mentioned, as the county road and school fund from forest reserves, and shall immediately, on the first Monday in January in each year, or thereafter if requested to do so by the state board of examiners, report to said board the amount of money on hand in such fund, which the state board of examiners is hereby directed, forthwith, to apportion to the several counties of the state, which by the said act of congress are entitled to participate therein. '07, p. 223.

2671. (1068x3.) Duty of county commissioners. The board of county commissioners of each county participating herein shall, immediately upon receipt of the apportionment, proceed to apportion the said fund in the manner following, to wit: One-half to the several school districts of the county entitled thereto, according to the number of school children residing in each of said districts over six and under eighteen years of age; and one-half for the improvement of the public roads in said county. '07, p. 223.

TITLE 39.

HABEAS CORPUS.

2672. (1069.) Petition. Contents. The petition for the writ of habeas corpus must state:

1. That the person in whose behalf it is sought is restrained of his liberty, and the person by whom, and the place where he is so restrained, mentioning the names of the parties, if known, and if unknown, describing them with as much particularity as practicable;

2. The cause or pretense of such restraint, according to the best information of the applicant; and if by virtue of any legal process, a copy thereof must be annexed, or a satisfactory reason given for its absence;

3. That the restraint is illegal, and wherein;

4. That the legality of the imprisonment has not already been adjudged upon a prior proceeding of the same character, to the best knowledge and belief of the applicant;

5. Whether application for the writ has been before made to, and refused by, any court or judge, and if so, a copy of the petition in that case must be attached, with the reasons for the refusal, or satisfactory reasons given for the failure to do so.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 4698.

Privilege of writ not to be suspended, except, Con. art. 1, sec. 5.

No right of appeal from an order discharging a person upon habeas corpus.

In re Clasby, 3 U. 183; 1 P. 852.

Mead v. Metcalf, 7 U. 103; 25 P. 729.

Relief may be had by habeas corpus from restraint under void judgment.

Ex parte Dixon, 1 U. 192.

Ex parte Nielson, 131 U. S. 176.

Ex parte Lewis, 10 U. 47; 41 P. 1077.

A soldier of the national army can be demanded by and surrendered to the civil authorities, to be tried and punished by them, only when he is charged with an offense such as is punishable by the "known laws of the land"; that is, by the laws of the United States or of a state or territory.

Ex parte Bright, 1 U. 145.

A jugment which either remands or discharges the petitioner is a final judgment; notwithstanding petitioner may commence another similar proceeding.

Winnovich v. Emery, 33 U. 345; 93 P. 988.

A father of an illegitimate child who marries the mother may maintain habeas corpus for himself and the mother for the custody of the child, and the strangers cannot be compensated for their services and expense in caring for the child.

Harrison v. Harker, 44 U. 541; 142 P. 716.

Unless the complaint fails to state some jurisdictional fact of some essential ingredient constituting the offense whereby the court is left without jurisdiction, a judgment of conviction will not be reviewed on habeas corpus, but the error, if reviewed at all, must be done on appeal.

Bruce v. East, 43 U. 327, 134 P. 1175.

The evidence in habeas corpus proceedings by a mother to obtain the custody of her child held sufficient to support the finding of the trial court that the mother had abandoned the custody of the child to others without intention of reclaiming it, and that it was for the the best interests of the child that it should remain with its adoptive parents.

Hummel v. Parrish et al., 43 U. 373; 134 P. 898.

Though the presumption is that it is for the best interests of the child and of society that it shall remain with its natural parents during minority, where a parent has surrendered her child to others in infancy and it has been allowed to remain with others until new ties of mutual affection are formed, the child's welfare will control the parent's rights in habeas corpus proceedings for its return.

Id.

What will be considered on hearing:

Upon an application for a writ of habeas corpus only the facts appearing in the record will be considered.

In re Maughan, 6 U. 167; 21 P. 1088.

Four judges held, on habeas corpus, that the judgment should be affirmed where the commitment was on an indictment regular in form for a crime of which the court has jurisdiction; the other judges, that the judge could look behind the indictment for irregularities in the summons of grand jurors, etc.

Stout v. People, 20 Law, Ed. U. S. S. C. Rep. 512.

An objection may be taken on habeas corpus where it appears on the face of the judgment that three separate indictments for a continuous offense were found by same grand jury, at same time and on same testimony, covering a continuous period of thirty-five months.

In re Lorenzo Snow, 120 U. S. 274.

Court will not consider upon habeas corpus question as to the legality of grand jury.

Ex parte Springer, 1 U. 214.

Nor correctness of order changing venue in civil case.

Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.

A court on habeas corpus proceedings may not review the evidence adduced before a magistrate in support of a criminal charge, but if it is alleged that there was no preliminary hearing and no findings offered and that the record is false, the court should hear evidence on those questions.

Winnovich v. Emery, 33 U. 345; 93 P. 988.

What may be considered on appeal.

In a habeas corpus by a father for the custody of a child, the proceeding will be considered on appeal as one in equity, so far as the conclusiveness of the findings of the trial court are concerned.

Harrison v. Harker, 44 U. 541; 142 P. 716.

Relief refused in following cases:

Order will not issue for discharge of witness committed for refusal to answer proper question before grand jury.

Nor where defendant fails to plead former conviction.

Ex parte Maughan, 6 U. 167; 21 P. 1088.

In re Barton, 6 U. 264; 21 P. 998.

Nor where court irregularly pronounces sentence within six hours after conviction.

In re Barton, 6. U. 264; 21 P. 998.

Nor from the judgment, regular upon its face, or a court of competent jurisdiction.

Ex parte Douglass, 1 U. 108.

Nor to determine an abstract question of law.

Ex parte Meears, 3 U. 50; 5 P. 552.

2673. (1070.) Id. Verification. The petition must be sworn to by the person confined, or by some one in his behalf, and presented to some court or judge authorized to allow the writ.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 4699.

2674. (1071.) Writ awarded, when. Upon the presentation of the foregoing petition to any court having jurisdiction, the writ of habeas corpus shall be awarded, unless it shall appear from the petition itself, or the documents annexed, or the showing of the petitioner, that the party so applying would not be entitled to any relief.

Privilege of writ not to be suspended, exception, Con. art. 1, sec. 5. When writ refused, note under § 2672.

2675. (1072.) By whom granted. Where served. The writ of habeas corpus may be granted by the supreme or district courts, or any judge thereof, and may be served in any part of the state.

Jurisdiction, Con. art. 8, secs. 4, 7.

2676. (1073.) To whom returnable. When granted by a justice of the supreme court, the writ may be made returnable before himself or the supreme court, or before any district court or judge thereof in the state.

2677. (1074.) Application to nearest court. Application for the writ must be made to the court or judge most convenient in point of distance to the applicant, and the more remote court or judge, if applied to for the writ, may refuse the same, unless a sufficient reason shall be adduced in the petition for not making application to the more convenient court or judge.

2678. (1075.) Form of writ. When the writ shall be awarded, it shall appear under the seal of the court issuing the same, or if it shall be issued by any judge, it shall be signed by him, and shall be substantially in the following form:

State of Utah, county of .....

To the sheriff of ..... (or A B, as the case may be):

You are hereby commanded to have the body of C D, by you unlawfully detained as alleged, before the court, (or before me, or before E F, judge, etc., as the case may be) at ....., on ....., (or forthwith after being served with this writ) to be dealt with according to law, and have you then and there this writ with a return of your doings in the premises.

Such writ must be indorsed: "By the habeas corpus act."

2679. (1076.) To whom directed. The writ must be directed to the person having custody of, or restraining the person on whose behalf the application is made, and must command him to have the body of such person before the court or judge before whom the writ is returnable, at a time and place therein specified.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1477. Mont. Pen. C., § 2744.

2680. (1077.) Disallowance. When the writ is disallowed, the court or judge shall cause a statement of the reasons for the disallowance to be appended to the petition and the same returned to the person applying for the writ.

2681. (1078.) Issuance without application. Whenever a court or judge authorized to grant this writ shall have evidence that any person within the jurisdiction of such court or judge is unjustly imprisoned or restrained of his liberty, it shall be the duty of such court or judge to issue or cause to be issued the writ as aforesaid, though no application is made therefor.

2682. (1079.) By whom served. The writ may be served by the officer or by any other person appointed in writing for that purpose by the court or judge by whom it is issued or allowed. If served by any other person than the officer, he possesses the same power and is liable to the same penalty for a non-performance of his duty as though he were the officer.

2683. (1080.) How served. Service of the writ shall be made by leaving the original with the defendant, preserving a copy on which to make the return of service.

2684. (1081.) Id. Upon person having plaintiff in custody. If the defendant cannot be found, or if he has not the plaintiff in custody, the service shall be made upon any person having the plaintiff in custody, in the manner and with the same effect as though he had been made defendant therein.

2685. (1082.) Defendant arrested, when. If the defendant conceals himself, or refuses admittance to the person attempting to serve the writ, or if he attempts wrongfully to carry the person out of the county or state after service of the writ, the officer, or the person who shall be attempting to serve, or who shall have served the writ as above contemplated, is authorized to arrest the defendant, or other persons so resisting, and bring him or them, together with the plaintiff, forthwith before the judge or court before whom the writ is made returnable. In order to make such arrest, the officer or other person having the writ possesses the same power to execute the same as is given to a sheriff for the arrest of a person charged with felony.

2686. (1083.) Defect of form. Appearance. Producing plaintiff. The writ of habeas corpus must not be disobeyed for any defect of form or misdescription of the plaintiff or defendant; provided, that enough shall be stated to show the meaning and intent of the writ. Service being made, the defendant must appear at the proper time and place and answer the petition. He must also bring the body of the plaintiff, or show good cause for not doing so. To get possession of a plaintiff's person, when there is no person appearing to have him in charge or custody, the same power is given to the officer or person having the writ as is given to the sheriff for the arrest of a person charged with felony.

2687. (1084.) Defendant's answer. The defendant in his answer must state plainly and unequivocally whether he then has, or at any time has had the plaintiff under his control and restraint, and, if so, the cause thereof. If he shall have transferred him, he must state that fact, and to whom, and the time thereof, as well as the reason or authority therefor.

2688. (1085.) Wrongful refusal to award writ. Any judge, whether acting individually or as a member of a court, who shall wrongfully and wilfully refuse to award such writ, whenever proper application for the same shall have been made, shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding $5,000 to the party thereby aggreived.

2689. (1086.) Disposal of plaintiff pending judgment. Until judgment is given on the return, the court or judge before whom any party may be brought on such writ may commit him to the sheriff of the county, or place him in such custody as may be deemed proper.

N. Dak. (1895) § 8668*.

2690. (1087.) Plaintiff's presence at trial. Waiver. Discharge. The plaintiff, in writing, or by his attorney, may waive his right to be present at the trial, in which case the proceedings may be had in his absence. The writ in such case shall be modified accordingly. If no sufficient, just, legal cause of detention is shown, the plaintiff must be discharged.

2691. (1088.) Hearing to be summary. Upon the return of any writ of habeas corpus, the court or judge shall, after having given sufficient notice, proceed in a summary manner to hear the matter, and shall dispose of the prisoner as justice may require.

Where petitioner for habeas corpus admitted the legality of his commitment to the state prison under a ten-year sentence for burglary, but asserted that his commitment under a life sentence for murder was invalid, the court would determine the legality of the life sentence, and dispose of the petition as justice might require under this section, thereby enabling petitioner, upon the life sentence being adjudged invalid, to apply for a reduction of the ten-year sentence, as authorized by § 4330, and thereby enabling the state to prosecute the petitioner on the charge of murder.
Conners v. Pratt, 38 U. 258; 112 P. 399.

2692. (1089.) Recommitment or bail. Witnesses. In all cases where the imprisonment is for a criminal offense and there is not sufficient cause for discharge, and, although the commitment may have been informally made or without due authority, or the process may have been executed by a person not duly authorized, the court or judge may make a new commitment, or admit the party to bail, if the case is bailable. And all material witnesses shall also be required to enter recognizance to appear at the same time and place and not depart therefrom without leave. All such papers must be filed in the clerk's office where the same is made returnable.

2693. (1090.) Shall not be again imprisoned for same cause. No person who shall have been discharged by order of the court or judge upon habeas corpus shall be again imprisoned, restrained, or kept in custody for the same cause, except in the following cases:

1. If he shall have been discharged from custody on a criminal charge, and shall be afterward committed for the same offense, by legal order or process;

2. If, after discharge for defect of proof, or for any defect of the process, warrant, or commitment in a criminal case, the prisoner shall be again arrested on sufficient proof and committed by legal process for the same offense.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1496. Mont. Pen. C., § 2763.

2694. (1091.) Warrant when irreparable injury probable. When it appears to any court or judge, authorized by law to issue the writ of habeas corpus, that anyone is illegally held in custody, confinement, or restraint, and that there is reason to believe that such person will be carried out of the jurisdiction of the court or judge before whom the application is made, or will suffer some irreparable injury before compliance with the writ of habeas corpus can be enforced, such court or judge may cause a warrant to be issued, reciting the facts, and directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, commanding the officer to take such person thus held in custody, confinement, or restraint, and forthwith bring him before such court or judge, to be dealt with according to law.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1497. Mont. Pen. C., § 2764.

2695. (1092.) Id. The court or judge may also insert in such warrant a command for the apprehension of the person charged with such illegal detention and restraint.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1498. Mont. Pen. C., § 2765.

2696. (1093.) Refusal to deliver copy of process. A person refusing to deliver a copy of the legal process by which he detains the plaintiff in custody to anyone who demands such copy for the purpose of taking out a writ of habeas corpus, shall forfeit not exceeding $200 to the plaintiff.

2697. (1094.) Penalties. If the defendant attempts to elude the service of the writ of habeas corpus, or if the defendant or any officer wilfully fails to comply with the requirements of this title, or if he shall disobey the order of discharge, he shall, upon conviction, be imprisoned in the state prison or county jail for a period of not more than one year and fined not exceeding $1000, and shall also forfeit to the person aggrieved not more than $5000. Any person knowingly aiding or abetting in any such act shall be subject to a like punishment and forfeiture.

2698. (1095.) Costs. Costs shall be taxed as the court may direct.

TITLE 40.

HEALTH.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

2705. (1096.) Appointment. How constituted. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall appoint seven persons, a majority of whom shall be physicians in good standing and graduates of regularly chartered and legally constituted medical colleges, and one of whom shall be a civil engineer, who shall constitute the state board of health and vital statistics.

2706. (1097.) Terms of office. The persons so appointed shall hold their offices for seven years; provided, that the terms of office of the seven first appointed shall be so arranged that the term of one shall expire on the 31st day of December of each year, and the vacancies so created, as well as all vacancies occuring otherwise, shall be filled by the governor.

2707. (1098.) Duties and powers. The board shall have the general supervision of the interests of the health of the citizens of the state, and shall especially study its vital statistics. It shall have general supervision of all matters pertaining to quarantine, shall have co-ordinate powers as a board of health with every local board, and shall have authority to make such rules and regulations not contrary to law as may be deemed necessary for the preservation of public health. It shall make sanitary investigations and inquiries respecting the causes of diseases, especially of epidemic diseases, including those of domestic animals, the sanitary conditions and effects of localities, employments, and circumstances on the public health, and it shall gather such information in respect to these matters as it may deem proper for diffusion among the people.

For further duties, see §§ 2722, 2723.
May abate nuisances, § 2737.
Duty as to health conventions, §§ 2758 et seq.
Local boards of health, §§ 2720, 2725.
Custodian official register of trained nurses, § 4289.
Formulate rules for protection of employes, §§ 3071-3072.
Formulate rules for testing sight, hearing, etc., of school children, § 4537.
Following diseases must be reported: Venereal, § 2753; inflamed eyes, § 2754; tuberculosis, § 2764; contagious diseases, §§ 2726-2728, 2746.
Duty respecting rabies and hydrophobia, §§ 150-156.
Quarantine regulations, §§ 2747, 2748.

2708. (1099.) Reports. The board shall, on or before the 1st day of December preceding each regular session of the legislature, make to the governor a report of its official acts and investigations.

2709. (1100.) Id. Meetings. The board shall recommend such forms and amendments of laws as shall be deemed to be necessary. The secretary of the board shall be superintendent of registration of vital statistics. The board shall hold meetings at least once every three months, one of which meetings shall be held at the capital during the session of the legislature. Its first meeting shall be within ten days after the appointment of the members of the board shall have been made, and four members shall always constitute a quorum for business.

2710. (1101.) Officers. Compensation. The board shall elect from its members a president, whose term of office shall be one year, and a secretary. The latter shall be the executive officer of the board, and shall hold his appointment until removed by the appointment of his successor or otherwise. No member except the secreary shall receive any compensation, but the actual and necessary expenses of any and all members, while engaged in the duties of the board, shall be paid out of the state treasury on the warrant of the state auditor.

2711. (1102.) Secretary to be state health commissioner. Duties. Qualifications. Salary and expenses. The secretary of the state board of health shall be state health commissioner, and shall perform and superintend the work prescribed in this title, and shall perform such other duties as the board may require. He shall keep the minutes of all meetings, make quarterly reports to the board, and employ, subject to the confirmation of the board, all necessary employes. The secretary shall be a licensed physician in good standing, of temperate habits and good moral character, and shall be thoroughly informed and experienced in all matters pertaining to hygiene and sanitation and skilled in the management and treatment of infectious and contagious diseases. The secretary shall give his entire time to the duties of his office and shall receive from the state treasury in quarterly payments an annual salary of $4000 and such actual and necessary traveling expenses as shall be allowed by the state board of examiners on presentation of an itemized account certified by the state board of health. All other expenses of the board of health shall be paid out of the appropriations made for that purpose. Am'd '03, p. 108; '15, p. 67.

Duty in relation to transit of infected person or goods, § 2745.

A member school house construction commission, § 4527.

2712. (1103.) Office. Stationery. The state board of examiners shall provide such apartments, stationery, and clerical assistance as the board may require in the discharge of its duties.

2713. (1104.) County clerk's duties. The county clerk of each county shall send to the secretary of the state board of health, at such times as the state board shall direct, a copy of the records in his office, showing the marriages, births, and deaths reported during a prescribed time.

CHAPTER 2.

SANITATION OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS, ETC.

2715. (1104x1.) Id. Sanitary code. It shall be the duty of the state board of health, and it is hereby authorized and empowered, to prescribe a sanitary code, which shall contain and provide rules and regulations of a general nature for the improvement and amelioration of the hygienic and sanitary condition of said public buildings, railway coaches, and sleeping cars. '07, p. 202.

2717. (1104x3.) Penalty. If any person having control of any public building, or any agent, manager, operator, employe, or receiver of any railway company, sleeping car company, or any individual shall fail to comply with the provisions of this chapter, and the rules and regulations promulgated by the state board of health under the provisions thereof, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200. '07, p. 203.

CHAPTER 3.

LOCAL BOARDS OF HEALTH.

2720. (1105.) Municipal boards. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees or city council of every incorporated town or city of the state to establish by ordinance a board of health for such town or city, to consist of three or more persons, one of whom, when practicable, shall be a physician, a graduate of a regularly chartered medical college, who shall be the executive officer of the board and be known as the health officer.

Power of city to establish, § 570x64.

2721. (1106.) District health officers. County board. Each board of county commissioners shall divide the county, outside of the limits of incorporated cities and towns, into sanitary districts, and shall appoint a health officer for each district, who shall be, when practicable, a physician. Such district health officers shall, together with the board of county commissioners, constitute the county board of health.

Power of county commissioners, § 1400x39.

2722. (1107.) Duties and powers. Every local board of health, whether county or municipal, shall supervise all matters pertaining to the sanitary condition of its county, town, or city, and shall have power and authority to order nuisances or the cause of any special disease or mortality to be abated and removed.

It shall be the duty of the local boards of health and health officers to use diligence in the discovery of contagious and infectious diseases, to maintain strict quarantine, and to cause all infected persons and premises to be disinfected in accordance with the rules of the state board of health. Said disinfection shall be performed by the local health officer, or a competent agent, for whose actions the health officer shall be responsible in every way as though performed by himself. In no case shall any disinfection performed by members of a quarantined household be accepted as compliance with this section. If any local health officer shall fail or refuse to properly keep records, make reports, enforce quarantine, disinfect infected persons or premises, or to perform any of the duties provided by law, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon a complaint made by the state board of health, it shall be the duty of the city council, town board, or board of county commissioners by whom he was appointed to give the said local health officer a hearing, and if the charges are sustained, they shall immediately remove him and appoint his successor. The term "local health officer," used in this chapter, shall apply to town, city, and county health officers. Am'd '03, p. 108.

Must enforce rules concerning contagious diseases, § 2743.

Has jurisdiction pertaining to health in schools, §§ 2755, 2756.

2723. (1108.) Reports to state board of health. Every local board of health or health officer shall report to the secretary of the state board of health, at such times as the state board may require, the sanitary conditions of the locality, the number of births and deaths, and the causes of death as near as can be ascertained, within their jurisdiction, during the preceding month. It shall be the duty of the local health officer to make a monthly report to the state board of health, on or before the 5th day of each month, of all cases of scarlet fever, smallpox, diphtheria, membranous croup, typhoid fever, whooping cough, measles, chickenpox, pneumonia, and tuberculosis, which have occured within his jurisdiction during the previous month; and upon receipt of notification of the existence of any case of either of said diseases in any family, a member of which is in attendance upon any public or private school, he must at once report the existence of such disease to the principal of the school so attended, giving the name and address of the person so affected, and the nature of the disease. If no case of any of the diseases mentioned in this section has occured during the month, the fact shall be so reported to the state board of health in the same manner as hereinbefore provided. It shall be the duty of the local health officer to make an annual report of his actions and those of the local board of health to the state board of health. Am'd '03, p. 109; '05, p. 171.

2724. (1109.) Sanitary rules and ordinances. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees of every incorporated town, and of the city council of every incorporated city, and of the board of county commissioners of each county in the state, to establish by ordinance such sanitary rules and regulations as may be necessary to promote the general health, and to prevent the outbreak or spread of infectious or contagious diseases; and to provide penalties for the infraction of any of such ordinances.

2725. (1110.) Quarantine. Any local board of health may declare quarantine in its county, city, or town, or any part thereof, against a contagious or infectious disease prevailing there or elsewhere, and against all persons and things likely to spread contagion or infection. Each of such boards shall have power and authority to enforce such quarantine until the same is raised by it, and may confine any person affected with or likely to spread contagion or infection to the house or premises in which he resides, or to a place to be provided by the board for the purpose.

Compulsory vaccination prohibited by law of 1901, p. 15, § 2763.

Prior to enactment of § 2763, it was held that the board of education was authorized to exclude a pupil from school who refuses to be vaccinated, where smallpox was epidemic in the community.

State v. Bd. of Ed., 21 U. 401; 60 P. 1013.

CHAPTER 4.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES; REPORT; PENALTIES.

2726. (1111.) Contagious diseases to be reported. All physicians or other persons having knowledge of the existence of any contagious or infectious disease, or having reason to believe that any such disease exists, are hereby required to report the same forthwith to the local board of health.

Contagious diseases, § 2743.

Tuberculosis to be reported, § 2764.

2727. (1112.) Duties of persons exposed. All physicians or nurses, or other persons having been exposed to any contagious or infectious disease, are forbidden to mingle with other persons subject thereto, in the clothing worn by them while so exposed, unless the same has been thoroughly disinfected, or to otherwise expose any other person to such contagion or infection.

2728. (1113.) Penalties. Any person who shall wilfully or unlawfully or knowingly introduce any contagious or infectious disease into any county, city, town, or village, or who neglects or refuses to comply with any of the provisions of this title, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 5.

HEALTH AND QUARANTINE REGULATIONS.

2735. (1113x.) Nuisance defined. A misdemeanor. Whatever is dangerous to human life or health, and whatever renders soil, air, water, or food impure or unwholesome, are declared to be nuisances and to be illegal, and every person, either owner, agent, or occupant, having aided in creating or contributing to the same, or who may support, continue, or retain any of them, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '99, p. 66.

See Salt Lake City v. Young, 45 U. 349; 145 P. 1047.

In an action for damages to live stock and crops alleged to have been caused by the operation by defendant of a smelter emitting poisonous gases, evidence held insufficient to show that the death or sickness of the animals was caused by the alleged operation.

Sagers v. International Smelting Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 105.

2736. (1113x1.) Id. No house refuse, offal, garbage, dead animals, decaying vegetable matter, or organic waste substance of any kind shall be thrown or allowed to remain upon or in any street, road, ditch, gutter, public place, private premises, vacant lot, water course, lake, pond, spring, or well. '99, p. 66.

2737. (1113x2.) Duty of board of health, when complaint made. Whenever a complaint is made in writing, or otherwise, to the board of health, the executive officer thereof, or a regularly appointed inspector, shall forthwith investigate the matter, and shall determine whether the alleged nuisance is detrimental to the public health, or the cause of any special disease or mortality; and in case he shall so find, then he shall notify the occupant, or, if unoccupied, the owner or agent of said premises, in writing, of such finding, and shall order and direct the abatement and removal of the same within two days; and in the event of the failure of the occupant, or, if unoccupied, the owner or agent of said property, to abate and remove the nuisance, then the executive officer may proceed to abate and remove the same, and may employ all the forces necessary to do so; or the state board of health may cause an action to be brought in the name of the state, upon relation of said board, by the attorney-general, for the abatement of such nuisance, and by the judgment therein the nuisance may be enjoined or abated. '99, p. 66; '07, p. 52.

2739. (1113x4.) Id. No pig pen shall be built or maintained within 100 feet of any well or spring of water used for drinking purposes or within 50 feet of any street or any inhabited house. '99, p. 67.

2740. (1113x5.) Id. Hog yards and piggeries will not be permitted within 100 feet of any natural stream or water course used for culinary purposes, and the drainage of a piggery shall in no case be permitted to reach any natural stream until said drainage has been purified. '99, p. 67.

2741. (1113x6.) Id. The feeding of animals dead from natural causes, to pigs, will not be allowed. Offal shall not be fed to pigs for at least a month before they are killed. The animals to be killed shall be removed from the pen where offal is fed and shall be fed on grain or other wholesome food. Offal from hogs shall not be fed to hogs. Offal from hogs shall be burned or buried. '99, p. 67.

2742. (1113x7.) Id. No hog ranch or piggery for garbage or offal feeding, where more than fifty head of swine are kept, shall be established or maintained without a permit from a health authority. '99, p. 67.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

2743. (1113x8.) Rules concerning contagious diseases to be enforced. The necessary rules and regulations concerning cholera, smallpox, yellow fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, whooping cough, measles, and other contagious and infectious diseases, shall be enforced by the local boards of health, under the supervision of the health officer; and all public officers of the town, city, or county, in their proper capacities, are hereby commanded and enjoined to assist the said board of health in the enforcement of said rules and regulations. '99, p. 67.

Disinfection in typhoid cases, §§ 2761, 2762. Tuberculosis to be reported, § 2764.

2744. (1113x9.) To provide against spread of contagious diseases. No person or thing liable to propagate any of the contagious diseases enumerated in the above section shall be brought within the limits of the state without the special permit and direction of the state board of health, and whenever it shall come to the knowledge of any person that such person or thing has been brought within such limits, he shall immediately give notice thereof to a member of the said board, together with the location thereof. No person shall, within the limits of the state, without a permit from the local board of health, carry or remove from one building to another any person afflicted with such contagious disease. Nor shall any person afflicted with such contagious disease, or liable to communicate or spread the contagion thereof, be shipped or removed from one town or place to any other town or place, except under the charge and direction of the board of health, and with proper precautions against the spread of the contagion. '99, p. 67.

2745. (1113x10.) Id. Upon satisfactory information of the approach to, or transit through, the state of Utah, of infected persons or goods, from an infected locality, or persons or goods suspected of being infected, it shall be the duty of the secretary, as executive officer of the board, to cause the same to be stopped at the state line, or, if found within the limits of the state, to cause such persons or goods to be removed from cars, stages, or other conveyances, and securely isolated and disinfected. In cases coming under the jurisdiction of national or municipal quarantine authorities, he shall co-operate with said authorities in all such action. '99, p. 67; '03, p. 61.

QUARANTINE RULES.

2746. (1113x11.) Physicians to report contagious diseases. Penalty. It shall be the duty of every physician or other person caring for the sick in the state of Utah to make a report to the local board of healh immediately after such person becomes aware of the existence of any case of scarlet fever, diphtheria, membranous croup, whooping cough, smallpox, typhoid fever, measles, tuberculosis, Asiatic cholera, rubella (rotheln), chicken pox, typhus fever, plague, cerebro-spinal meningitis, infantile paralysis, leprosy, or pneumonia in his or her charge, and it shall be the duty of every person, owner, agent, manager, principal, or superintendent of any public or private institution, or dispensary, hotel, boarding house, or lodging house to make a report in like manner of any inmate, occupant, or boarder suffering from any of the said infectious or contagious diseases; and in case such physician or other person shall fail to report in twenty-four hours, said person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '99, p. 68; '11, p. 105.

Disinfection in typhoid cases, § 2761.

2748. (1113x14.) Quarantine regulations. It shall be the duty of the local board of health, without delay, upon receiving such notice as is provided for in § 2746, to proceed immediately to carry out such rules and regulations as the state board of health may prescribe, having for their object the prevention and restriction of the disease or diseases aforementioned in § 2746. It shall be the duty of the local health authorities, upon the receipt of said notice of existing or suspected disease aforesaid, to inspect or cause the house or locality to be inspected by its sanitary officers, and, on discovering that such disease exists, the local health officer or local board of health may isolate and quarantine said diseased person or persons, and may also quarantine any other person or persons exposed to said disease, and restrain them within their home or locality from intercourse with other persons, and prohibit ingress or egress to or from such premises whenever it is necessary for the prevention or restriction of such diseases, and any person or persons isolated or quarantined that shall wilfully escape from said isolation or quarantine before they have fully recovered, or before the time provided for by the rules of the state board of health, or before their clothes have been disinfected by the authorities in charge, or wilfully permit clothes or other articles to be carried from the infected premises prior to disinfection, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '99, p. 68; '01, p. 132; '11, p. 105.

2750. (1113x16.) Id. Any person who knowingly has conveyed a person affected with a contagious disease shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor unless he shall have immediately disinfected his conveyance in a thorough manner. '99, p. 69.

2751. (1113x17.) Id. The owner or agent of any house in which a person has been suffering from any contagious disease who shall knowingly let it or part of it for hire without having previously disinfected it and all articles therein liable to disinfection according to the rules of the board of health, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '99, p. 69.

VENEREAL DISEASES.

2752. Physicians and superintendents of hospitals to report. It shall be the duty of every physician in this state, every superintendent or manager of a hospital or public institution in this state, to immediately report to the local board of health every case of venereal disease which he is called upon to treat or which is in such hospital or public institution, and each and every physician, superintendent, or manager of such hospital or institution shall make such reports as may be called for by the rules and regulations of the state board of health, and must comply with all the rules and regulations made by said board to prevent the spread of venereal diseases; provided, that the report of such venereal disease shall not include the name of the person affected. It shall be the duty of all boards of health to enact and enforce rules and regulations necessary to prevent the spread of venereal diseases.

2753. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of the foregoing section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '11, p. 128.

INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.

2754. Physicians and midwives to report. Treatment. Penalty. It shall be the duty of every physician and every midwife attending a case of child-birth to report to the local board of health every case where the newly born child has inflammation of the eyes attended by a discharge therefrom, such report to be made within six hours after the appearance of such disease. It shall be the duty of such physician or midwife to treat the eyes of the child so afflicted in accordance with the rules of the state board of health. Every physician and midwife failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '11, p. 84.

SCHOOLS.

2755. (1113x18.) Board of health has jurisdiction in matters pertaining to health in schools. The local boards of health shall have jurisdiction in all matters pertaining to the preservation of the health of those in attendance upon the public and private schools in the state, to which end it is hereby made the duty of each of the local boards of health:

2. To make regular inspections of all school buildings and premises, as to their hygienic condition, and to report on forms that shall be furnished by the state board of health, the result of such inspection to those having charge and control of such schools, with instructions as to the remedy of such conditions (if any such be found) whereby the health of those in attendance may be impaired or life endangered. A copy of said report shall also at the same time be sent to the state board of health. '99, p. 70.

May not require vaccination as condition for admission to school, § 2763.

2756. (1113x19.) Board to enforce regulations. In the event of failure or refusal of those having such charge and control to carry out the instructions so given, then the board of health shall cause such faulty conditions to be remedied at the proper cost and expense of those having charge and control of the school or schools. '99, p. 70.

2757. (1113x20.) Penalty for violation of statute or of regulations. Any person who violates, disobeys, omits, neglects, or refuses to comply with, resists any of the provisions of this chapter, or who refuses or neglects to obey any of the rules, orders, proclamations, or sanitary regulations of the board of health, health officer, or mayor, or who omits, neglects, or refuses to comply with, or who resists any officers or orders or special regulations of said board of health, health officer, or mayor, shall, upon conviction, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '99, p. 70.

CHAPTER 6.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF HEALTH OFFICERS.

2758. (1113x21.) Convention to be held at state capital. There shall be held annually at the state capital, at such time as may be designated by the state board of health, a convention of health officers of the state. '07, p. 52

2759. (1113x22.) Membership. Expenses. The health officer of each city, incorporated town, and county of the state shall be a member of such convention, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses shall be paid by the city, incorporated town, or county from which he holds his appointment. '07, p. 52; am'd '09, p. 33.

2760. (1113x23.) Purposes of convention. Said convention shall be held for the purpose of disseminating knowledge as to the cause and prevention of disease, and the best method of enforcing the sanitary laws of the state, and the rules and regulations of the state board of health, and shall be under the general direction of the state board of health. '07, p. 52.

CHAPTER 7.

DISINFECTION IN TYPHOID FEVER CASES.

2761. (1113x24.) Disinfection. It shall be the duty of any person having charge of a person affected with typhoid fever to disinfect all excreta excreted by the said person during the course of the disease, in accordance with the rules of the state board of health, and upon failure to do so shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '03, p. 68.

Prevention of spread of contagious diseases, §§ 2743-2748.

2762. (1113x25.) Duty of physician. It shall be the duty of the physician in attendance upon all persons affected with typhoid fever to personally instruct those having charge of same to perform the disinfection described in this chapter and to satisfy himself that the same is properly carried out, and for failure to do so he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '03, p. 68.

CHAPTER 8.

MISCELLANEOUS.

2763. (1113x26.) Unlawful to compel vaccination. Hereafter it shall be unlawful for any board of health, board of education, or any other public board, acting in this state under police regulations or otherwise, to compel by resolution, order, or proceedings of any kind, the vaccination of any child, or person of any age; or making vaccination a condition precedent to the attendance at any public or private school in the state of Utah, either as pupil or teacher. '01, p. 15.

Health of school children, §§ 2755, 2756.
Sight and hearing of school children to be tested, § 4537.
Prior to adoption of this section, board of health might, during epidemic of smallpox, make vaccination a condition for admission to schools.
State v. Bd. of Education, 21 U. 401; 60 P. 1013.

2765. (1113x28.) Location of pesthouses. Penalty. No city, county, or municipal corporation, or public or private corporation, or person or association, or persons, shall, after the first day of April, 1911, use, operate, maintain, or cause to be used, operated, and maintained, any house, building, or premises for any pesthouse, asylum, or hospital used as a place of detention in which to keep or confine persons having, or suspected of having, smallpox, within twenty rods of any public road, or within one-fourth mile of any canal, ditch, aqueduct, or flume conveying a stream of running water, only, and uncovered along the surface of the ground where the waters of such canal, ditch, aqueduct, or flume are conveyed into or used by the inhabitants of any city, town, or village for culinary, household, or other domestic purposes. Any person, association of persons, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '03, p. 31; am'd '11, p. 182.

CHAPTER 9.

ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF COUNTY HOSPITALS.

2775. Petition. Duty of commissioners. Any county may establish a hospital in the following manner: Whenever the board of county commissioners of any county shall be presented with a petition signed by 20 per cent of the resident taxpayers of said county, one-half of whom shall not be residents of the town in which said hospital is to be located, asking for the annual levy of a tax for the establishment and maintenance of a public hospital at a place in the county therein named, and shall specify in their petition the maximum amount of money to be spent in the establishment, building, or buying of such structure as shall be used for said hospital, such board of county commissioners shall submit the question to the qualified electors of the county at the next general election to be held in the county, or at a special election to be held for that purpose, giving ninety days' notice thereof in one or more newspapers published in said county, if any be published therein, and by posting such notices, written or printed, in each voting precinct in said county, which notice shall include the text of the petition and state the amount of tax to be levied upon the assessed property of said county, which tax shall not exceed 2 mills on the dollar for a period of time not exceeding twenty years, and to be for the issue of county bonds, and provide funds for the purchase of a site or sites, and the erection thereon of a public hospital building or buildings, and for the support of the same; which said election shall be held at the usual places in said county for electing county officers, the vote to be canvassed in the same manner as that for county officers.

2776. Submission to electors. Tax levy. The board of county commissioners of such county shall submit to the qualified voters thereof, at a regular or special election, the question whether there shall be levied on the assessed property of such county a tax of ..... mills on the dollar for the purchase of real estate for hospital purposes, for the construction of hospital buildings, and for the maintaining of the same, or for either or all such purposes. The ballot to be used at any election at which the hospital question is submitted shall be printed with a statement substantially as follows:

For a ..... mill tax for a bond issue for a public hospital and the maintenance of the same: Yes, no.

If a majority of the votes cast at such an election on a proposition so submitted shall be in favor of a ..... mill tax for a bond issue for a public hospital and for the maintenance of the same, the board of county commissioners shall levy the tax so authorized, which shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes are collected, and credited to the hospital fund, and shall be paid out on the order of the hospital trustees for the purpose authorized by this chapter, and for no other purpose whatsoever.

2777. Five trustees. Selection. Should a majority of all votes cast upon the question be in favor of establishing said county hospital, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to appoint five trustees as follows: One trustee for each school precinct where county constitutes but one school district, such trustee to hold office until the next school election, when his successor shall be elected; one for each school precinct, who shall hold office for the same period of time as the school trustees of their respective precincts. At each subsequent school election the offices of such trustees whose term of office is about to expire shall be filled by the nomination and election of hospital trustees in the same manner as provided for the nomination and election of school trustees in such county; provided, that in counties containing more than one school district the county commissioners shall divide said county into five representative precincts, and shall appoint one trustee for each of such precincts, said trustees to hold office until the next school election, when their successors shall be elected, one from each hospital precinct, in the same manner as provided for election of trustees in school precincts. No physician shall serve as a member of the hospital board.

2778. Organization. Compensation; powers, and duties of board. The said trustees shall, within ten days after their election or appointment, qualify by taking the oath of civil officers and organize as a board of hospital trustees by the election of such other officers as they may deem necessary, but no bond shall be required of them. The county treasurer of the county in which the hospital is located shall be treasurer of the board of hospital trustees. The treasurer shall receive and pay out all moneys under the control of the board as ordered by it, but shall receive no compensation from such board. No trustee shall receive compensation for his service performed, but may receive a reimbursement for expenditure actually made for personal expenses or incurred as a trustee, and an itemized account of all such expenses and money paid out shall be made under oath by each of such trustees and filed with the secretary and allowed only by the affirmative vote of all the trustees at a board meeting. The board of trustees shall make and adopt such rules and regulations for their own guidance and for the government of the hospital as they deem expedient for the economical and equitable conduct thereof and not inconsistent with this chapter and the ordinances of such town or city wherein such hospital is located. They shall have control of all money collected for the hospital fund, for the purchase of sites, the purchase or construction of a hospital building or buildings, and of the supervision, care, and cusody of the grounds, rooms, or buildings purchased; provided, that all money received from such hospital shall be deposited in the treasury of the county to the credit of the hospital fund and paid out only by warrant drawn by the auditor of said county on properly authenticated vouchers of the hospital board. Said hospital board shall have the power to appoint a suitable matron or superintendent, or both, and necessary assistants, and fix their compensation, and shall have power to remove such appointees; and shall in general carry out the spirit and intent of this chapter in establishing and maintaining a public hospital. Such board shall hold meetings as least once a month; they shall keep a complete record of all proceedings; and four members of such board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. One of said trustees shall visit and examine said hospital at least twice a month, and the board shall within the first week of January of each year, compile and publish in one or more newspapers in the county in which said hospital is located, if such newspaper there be, and also file with the county commissioners in said county, a report of their proceedings with reference to such hospital, and a statement of all receipts and expenditures of the year, and shall certify the amount necessary to maintain and improve the hospital for the ensuing year. No trustee shall have pecuniary interest in the purchase of any supplies for the hospital unless such supplies be purchased by competitive bidding.

2779. Filling vacancies. Vacancies in the board of trustees, occasioned by removals or resignations, or otherwise, shall be reported to the board of county commissioners, and be filled in like manner as the original appointments, appointees to hold office until the next following school election, when such vacancies shall be filled in the regular manner.

2780. Issuance of bonds. Whenever any county in the state shall provide for the appointment and election of hospital trustees, and shall have voted a tax to provide for the payment of bonds, said bonds may be issued for a term not exceeding twenty years for hospital purposes as provided by law. The said county may issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of such tax in such sums as the board of hospital trustees shall certify to the board of county commissioners of said county to be necessary for the purpose contemplated by such tax; but such bonds in the aggregate shall not exceed the amount which might be levied on the property valuation of the year in which the tax is voted, and such bond shall mature in twenty years from the date, and shall be in sums of not less than $100 nor more than $1000, and draw interest at the rate of not to exceed 5 per cent per annum, payable annually or semi-annually. Said bond shall be payable at the pleasure of the county after five years, and each of said bonds shall provide that it is subject to this provision, and shall not be sold for less than par, and shall be substantially in the form provided for county bonds, but subject to changes that will conform them to the provisions of this chapter, and be numbered consecutively and redeemable in the order of their issuance. For the providing of the levy to pay interest, principal, and redemption of said bonds, the existing statutes shall apply.

2781. Sites. Condemnations. If the board of hospital trustees and the owner of any property desired for them for hospital purposes can not agree as to the price to be paid therefor, the board shall report the same to the board of county commissioners, and condemnation proceedings shall be instituted by the board of county commissioners and prosecuted in the name of the county wherein such hospital is located, by the county attorney for such county under the provisions of the existing statutes.

2782. Erection of buildings. No hospital building shall be erected or constructed until the plans and specifications therefor have been made and adopted by the board of hospital trustees and bids advertised for according to law as for other county buildings.

2783. Jurisdiction of towns. The jurisdiction of the city, town, or village in or near which such hospital is located shall extend over all lands used for hospital purposes outside the corporate limits, if so located, and all ordinances of such cities or towns shall be in full force and effect in and over the territory occupied by such public hospital.

2784. Improvement appropriations. In counties exercising the rights conferred by this chapter, the board of county commissioners may appropriate each year, in addition to a tax for hospital funds hereinbefore provided for, not exceeding 5 per cent of the general fund for the improvement and maintenance of any hospital so established.

2785. Beneficial use. Privileges extended. Conditions. Every hospital established under this chapter shall be for the benefit of the inhabitants of such county and of any person falling sick or being maimed or injured within its limits; but every inhabitant or person who is not a pauper shall pay to such board of hospital trustees, or such officers as it shall designate, a reasonable compensation for occupancy, nursing, care, medicine, or attendance according to the rules and regulations of such board as may be adopted in order to render the use of said hospital of the greatest benefit to the greatest number; and said board may exclude from the use of such hospital any and all persons or individuals who wilfully violate such rules and regulations. Such board may extend the privileges and use of such hospital to persons residing outside of such county upon such terms and conditions as said board may from time to time by its rules and regulations prescribe.

2786. Subject to rules. When such hospital is established, the physicians, nurses, and attendants, the person sick therein, and all persons approaching or coming in the limits of the same, and all furniture and other articles used or bought there, shall be subject to such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe.

2787. Donations. Any person or persons, firm or corporation, organization or society desiring to make donations of money, personal property, or real estate for the benefit of such hospital shall have the right to vest title to the money or real estate so donated to said county hospital, to be controlled when accepted by the board of hospital trustees, according to the terms of the deed, gift, or devise of such property.

2788. Physicians. In the management of such public hospital no discrimination shall be made against practitioners of any school of medicine recognized by the laws of the state of Utah, and all such legal practitioners shall have equal privileges in the treating of patients in said hospital. The patient shall have the absolute right to employ at his or her own expense, physicians, and when acting for any patient in such hospital the physician employed by such patient shall have exclusive care and treatment of such patient, and nurses therein and patients shall be subject to the directions of such physicians, subject always to such general rules and regulations as shall be established by the board of trustees under the provisions of this chapter.

2790. Tubercular and infected patients. The board of hospital trustees are hereby authorized to provide suitable apartments in said hospital for the care and treatment of all medical and surgical cases, including tuberculosis, infectious diseases, and maternity cases, to formulate rules and regulations for the government of such persons, and for the protection from infection of other patients, persons, nurses, and attendants in such public hospital as may be deemed necessary. It shall be the duty of such person in charge of, or employed at such hospital, or resident thereof, to faithfully obey all such rules and regulations.

2791. Rates for treatment. The board of hospital trustees shall have the power to determine whether or not patients presented at such public hospital for treatment are subjects for charity, and shall fix such rate for treatment of patients, other than those unable to assist themselves, as may be deemed right and equitable by the board of trustees.

2792. Care of indigent. The board of county commissioners of any county where no suitable provisions have been made for the care of its indigent residents may contract with the board of trustees of any public hospital for the care of such persons in the hospital upon such terms as may be agreed upon.

TITLE 41.

HIGHWAYS.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

2800. (1114.) Defined. In all counties of this state, all roads, streets, alleys, lanes, courts, places, trails, and bridges laid out or erected as such by the public, or dedicated or abandoned to the public, or made such in actions for the partition of real property, are public highways.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2618*. Mont. Pol. C., § 2600*.
Dedication of streets, etc., § 5024.
Penalty for injuring, § 8384.
Right of motor vehicles in, § 3975.
Liable for drainage assessment, § 2068.
Standard highways, §§ 2875-2883.
Use of wide-tired wagons, §§ 2894, 2895.
Highways defined, § 5848.

2801. (1115.) When deemed dedicated. A highway shall be deemed to have been dedicated and abandoned to the use of the public when it has been continuously used as a public thoroughfare for a period of ten years.

The extent of the dedication is determined by all the circumstances, not only by the part actually used, but also the width of the highways in the vicinity and of the system of which the particular highway is a part.

Burrows v. Guest, 5 U. 91; 12 P. 847.
Wilson v. Hull, 7 U. 90; 24 P. 799.
Whitesides v. Green, 13 U. 341; 44 P. 1032.

Where the public assumes to appropriate land for public use, and the owner interposes no objection, but acquiesces in its continual use by the public, an intention to dedicate will be presumed.

Whittaker v. Ferguson, 16 U. 240; 51 P. 980.

Where land has been set apart by the owner for public use as a highway and accepted by the public, the right of the public does not depend upon a ten or twenty years' user or possession; the dedication may be inferred from long continued use by the public with the knowledge of the owner and without objection by him.

Schettler v. Lynch, 23 U. 305; 64 P. 955.

Land having been once dedicated by the owner of the soil as a highway and having been accepted by the public, all subsequent grantees of abutting lands are bound by such dedication and have no right to obstruct any portion of the street.

Id.

A dedication of land for a public highway may be either express, as where the owner manifests his purpose by a grant evidenced by writing, or implied, when the acts and conduct of the owner clearly manifest the intention on his part to devote the land to the public use; but in either case it is always a question of intention, and no particular formality or form of words is necessary.

Id.

To make a dedication complete, there must not only be an intention on the part of the owner to set apart the land for the use and benefit of the public, but there must be an acceptance of the dedication by the public.

Culmer v. S. L. City, 27 U. 252; 75 P. 620.
Lemp v. Moran, 50 U. —; 169 P. 459.

Acceptance may be inferred.

Wilson v. Hull, 7 U. 90; 24 P. 799.

Facts tending to show dedication.

If not accepted within a reasonable time the grantor may revoke the offer

Lemp v. Moran, 50 U. —; 169 P. 459.

A grantor owning a piece of ground, who deeds to several grantees an easement over a strip of ground, does not dedicate the strip to the public as a public highway.

Brown v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 36 U. 257; 102 P. 740

A use under private right is insufficient to show dedication, however long; it does not make the way public, and the mere fact that the public also used it without objection from the owner will not make the way public

Morris v. Blunt, 49 U. 243; 161 P. 1127.

2802. (1116.) Continue until abandoned. All highways once established must continue to be highways until abandoned by order of the board of county commissioners of the county in which they are situated, or by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. Am'd '11, p. 287.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2619*. Mont. Pol. C., § 2601*.
Title to streets, § 2866x.

This section applies to a road dedicated by the public as well as other roads, and the abandonment by the public authorities does not affect any rights of individuals to the road acquired by purchase of lots according to the plat which dedicated it.

Sowadzki v. Salt Lake County, 36 U. 127; 104 P. 117.

Dedication of a public highway by the filing of a plat takes effect when the plat is filed, and a highway so dedicated ceases to be such five years from the filing of the plat, unless it has been used or worked in the meantime, in which case it will not cease to be a highway until five years after such use or work.

Tuttle v. Sowadzki, 41 U. 501; 126 P. 959.

2803. (1117.) Widths of public and private ways. The width of rights-of-way for state roads shall be such as will meet the approval of the state road commission, and the widths of rights-of-way to be used for county roads, alleys, lanes, trails, private highways, and by-roads shall be such as may be deemed necessary by the board of county commissioners; provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to increase or diminish the width of either kind of highways already established or used as such; provided, further, that nothing in this section contained shall prevent cities from laying out, establishing, opening, or accepting the dedication of streets, avenues, boulevards, and alleys of any width the council of such cities shall deem proper. Am'd '09, p. 81; '17, p. 222.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2620*. Mont. Pol. C., § 2602*.

2804. (1118.) Forfeiture of franchise. Whenever the franchise of any toll bridge, trail, turnpike, or of any plank or common wagon road has expired by limitation, forfeiture, or non-user, the same becomes a free public highway, and no claim shall be valid against the public for right of way or for land or material comprising such bridge, trail, turnpike, or plank or wagon road.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2619*.

2805. (1119.) Limited highways. Where roads or streets are laid out through improved lands, and such lands are not protected by fences along the lines of the roads or streets passing through them, such roads or streets may, by the board of county commissioners of the county, be declared to be limited highways. A notice to that effect shall be posted at each end of such limited highways, and any person who shall wilfully drive any bands or herds of cattle, horses, sheep, or hogs over such roads or streets other than during the time that the abutting lands are thrown open to the public by the owners thereof for grazing purposes, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

2806. (1120.) Public and private rights in highways. By taking or accepting land for a highway, the public acquires only the right of way and incidents necessary to enjoying and maintaining it. A transfer of land bounded by a highway passes the title of the person whose estate is transferred to the center of the highway.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2631*. Mont. Pol. C., § 2620*.

The easement acquired by the public in a public highway vests in it the mere right of passage, and does not divest the owner of the fee, and he may continue to make any use thereof not incompatible with the public easement.

Whitesides v. Green, 13 U. 341; 44 P. 1032.

While the public may abandon a street, so far as its rights therein are concerned, such abandonment does not affect the rights of abutting owners to an easement therein for ingress and egress.

Hague v. Juab County M. & E. Co., 37 U. 290; 107 P. 249.

This section is not applicable where the recitals in the findings respecting a strip of land are such as to create a private, as distinguished from a public, easement.

2807. (1121.) Highways in cities and towns. Where public highways extend through any incorporated town or city they shall conform to the direction and grade and be subject to all regulations of other streets in such town or city.

2808. (1122.) Plats of highways. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners in each county immediately to determine all public highways existing in its county and to prepare plats and specific descriptions of the same and of such other highways as such board may from time to time locate upon public lands, which shall be kept on file in the office of the county clerk. Am'd '99, p. 117.

2809. (1123.) Patent subject to easement. Whenever the state shall issue its patent for any lands the same shall be made subject to the easement or right of the public to use all such highways as may have been established according to law, across the land therein described. Am'd '99, p. 118.

2810. (1124.) U. S. patents. Highways. Claim for damages. Whenever any person shall acquire title from the United States to any land in this state over which there shall at such time extend any public highway that shall not theretofore have been duly platted, and that shall not have been continuously used as such for a period of ten years, theretofore, he shall, within three months after receipt of his patent, assert his claim in writing for damages to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the land is situated; and said board shall have an additional period of three months in which to begin proceedings to condemn the land according to law. Such highway shall continue open as a public highway during said periods; but in case no action is begun within the period above stated by the board of county commissioners, said highway shall be deemed to be abandoned by the public. In case of a failure by such person so acquiring title to public lands to assert his claim for damages as aforesaid, for three months from the time he shall have received a patent to such lands, he shall thereafter be barred from asserting or recovering any damages by reason of such public highway, and the same shall remain open.

N. Dak. (1895) § 1078*. See R. S. of U. S., § 2477.

2811. (1125.) Sidewalks on highways. Any owner or occupant of land may construct a sidewalk on the highway along the line of his land, subject, however, to such regulations as may be prescribed by the board of county commissioners. Any person driving or riding on such sidewalk with horse or team, without permission of the owner of such sidewalk, is liable to such owner for all damage he may suffer thereby.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2632*. Mont. Pol. C., § 2621*.

2812. (1126.) Trees along highways. Damages. Any owner or occupant of land adjoining a public highway may plant trees on the side of such highway contiguous to his land. Such trees must be set in regular lines at such distances from the center line of the highway as may be determined by an order of the board of county commissioners. Whoever shall wilfully or maliciously injure any of such trees shall be liable to the owner for treble the amount of damages sustained.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2633*. Bonus for planting trees on highway, § 1400x17.

2813. (1127.) Ditches crossing highways. Owners or users of canals or ditches which now are or hereafter may be constructed across any public highway are required to restore such highway to as good and safe condition as it was before such canal or ditch was constructed, by building a bridge or such other suitable crossing as may be determined by the board of county commissioners or the road supervisor. A failure to construct and keep in repair such bridge or crossing as and when required by the board of county commissioners shall be deemed a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this chapter shall prevent the county from keeping bridges and crossings in repair after they have been accepted by the board of county commissioners.

2814. (1128.) Encroachments. If any public highway is encroached upon by a fence or building or otherwise, the road supervisor of the district may, orally or in writing, require the encroachment to be removed.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2731. Mont. Pol. C., § 2721.

2815. (1129.) Id. Notice to remove. Notice must be given to the occupant or owner of the land, or person causing or owning the encroachment, or left at his place of residence, if he be known to the person giving such notice and reside in the county; if not, it must be posted on the encroachment, specifying the breadth of the highway, the place and extent of the encroachment, and requiring him to remove the same within ten days thereafter.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2732 Mont. Pol. C., 2722.

2816. (1130.) Id. Refusal. Penalty. If the encroachment is not removed or commenced to be removed, and the removal not diligently prosecuted, prior to the expiration of the ten days from the service or posting the notice, the one who caused, owns, or controls the encroachment forfeits $10 for each day the same continues unremoved. If the encroachment is such as to effectually obstruct and prevent the use of the highway for vehicles, the road supervisor must forthwith remove the same.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2733. Mont. Pol. C., § 2723.

2817. (1131.) Id. Action. If the encroachment is denied, and the owner, occupant, or person controlling the matter or thing charged with being an encroachment refuses either to remove or permit the removal thereof, the board of county commissioners must direct the county attorney to commence in the proper court an action to abate the same as a nuisance; if judgment be recovered for the plaintiff, in addition to having the same abated, there shall also be recovered $10 for every day such nuisance remained after notice given for its removal, and also the costs of the action.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2734. Mont. Pol. C., § 2724*.

2818. (1132.) Removal without action. The board of county commissioners may at any time order the supervisor to forthwith remove any such encroachment without commencing action.

Mont. Pol. C., § 2724

2819. (1133.) Id. Penalty. If the encroachment is not denied, but is not removed for five days after the notice is complete, the road supervisor may remove the same at the expense of the owner, occupant, or person controlling the same, and recover his costs and expenses, and also for each day the same remained after notice was complete, the sum of $10, in an action for that purpose.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2735. Mont. Pol. C., § 2725.

CHAPTER 2.

POWERS OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AS TO ROADS.

('09, p. 279.)

2820. (1134.) Powers. Each board of county commissioners shall, by proper regulations:

1. Appoint a county road commissioner biennially, fixing his compensation, and shall have the power to remove him for cause;

2. Cause to be surveyed, viewed, laid out, recorded, opened, maintained, and worked, such public roads as are necessary for public convenience;

3. Abolish or abandon such public roads as are unnecessary for the use of the public;

4. Contract for, purchase, or otherwise acquire, when necessary, rights-of-way for public roads over private property, and may institute proceedings for the acquirement of said rights-of-way as provided by law;

5. Cause to be erected and maintained on such roads as they may designate, milestones or posts, and guide posts properly inscribed;

6. Designate the public roads to be maintained by the county within or extending through each incorporated city or town, which in no case shall be more than three in the same direction.

Cal. Pol. C., § 2643*. Mont. Pol. C., § 2631*.
County board to create road district, § 1400x1; and control highways, § 1400x24.
Create indebtedness for, § 1364.
Create special road districts and levy taxes, §§ 2830, 2835.
See Salt Lake City v. Wilson, 46 U. 60; 148 P. 1104.

2821. (1135.) County clerk to keep record. The county clerk must keep a book in which must be recorded all orders of the board of county commissioners relative to all county roads, including orders for laying out, opening and altering roads, all contracts, and all other matters pertaining thereto.

2822. (1136.) County road commissioner. Oath. Bond. The county road commissioner shall receive notice of his appointment from the county clerk, and within twenty days thereafter must qualify as such by taking and subscribing the oath of office and giving a bond to the county in such sum as may be determined by the board of county commissioners, and approved by them, and filed with the county clerk. A certificate of the county clerk under his seal that the appointment has been made, the required bond filed, and the oath of office taken shall constitute a commission, and shall authorize the person named therein to discharge the duties of county road commissioner until superseded.

2823. (1137.) Id. Powers and duties. The county road commissioner, under the direction and supervision of the board of county commissioners, shall:

1. Take charge of the public roads within the county, and employ and direct such competent help as may be necessary to properly perform his duties;

2. Prepare, and submit to the county commissioners for their approval, plans, specifications, and estimates for any road construction to be made in the county on county roads. After the approval by the county commissioners of the plans, specifications, and estimates provided therein, the work of construction growing out of such approved plans, specifications, and estimates shall be wholly within the authority of the county road commissioner;

3. May assist in the supervising and constructing of state roads under the direction and control of the state road commission;

4. Keep the roads clear of obstructions, and in good repair;

5. Cause the roads to be graded, and bridges and causeways to be built wherever necessary, and keep the same in repair and renew them when necessary;

6. Give notice to all persons in the several precincts liable to the payment of road poll tax, stating when due and where to be paid;

7. Collect, personally, or by authorized agent, the annual road poll tax;

8. Make to the board of county commissioners, on or before the first Monday in December of each year, a written report showing:

(a) Name of each person assessed for road poll tax in each precinct;

(b) The amount of tax collected by suit or otherwise, and the names of all delinquents from whom collection has been enforced;

(c) The amount of uncollected tax, the name of each delinquent, and the cause why such tax remains uncollected in each instance;

(d) The amount of money expending in each precinct and a detailed description of improvements made;

(e) A general description of the condition of the public roads in each precinct;

(f) An accurate account of the time he himself and his agents have been employed, and the nature and items of the service rendered.

Poll tax, §§ 4465-4470.
To enforce motor vehicle act, § 3974.
Duties respecting poll tax, §§ 2873, 4465-4468.
Supervise labor of delinquent husband or father, § 8115.

CHAPTER 3.

SPECIAL ROAD DISTRICT TAX.

('09, p. 287.)

2830. Special road districts. County commissioners shall have the power to divide the county into special road districts as occasion may require, for the purpose of permanently constructing the roadway space on any state road or any county road, by graveling, macadamizing, or paving the same.

2831. Cost. How assessed. The cost of graveling, macadamizing, or paving the roads within any special road district as provided in § 2830, except the intersection of roads within such districts, shall be assessed upon the lots and lands abutting upon the roads in such district, at so much per acre or fraction thereof; provided, that not more than 25 per cent of the cost of such graveling, macadamizing, or paving shall be assessed against such property owners; and, provided further, that no property shall be included in such special road district that is distant from the road to be improved more than one-half the distance from said road to a parallel state or county road; provided further, that the tax for road construction as provided in this section shall be as follows: Fifty per cent of said tax shall be levied upon the property taxable for such purpose that lies adjacent to said road and within one-third of the distance from said road to the farther boundary of property taxable for said road construction; 30 per cent of said tax shall be levied upon property within the middle third of the distance from said road to the farther boundary of the property taxable for said road construction and 20 per cent of said tax upon property lying in the outer third of the distance from said road to the farther boundary of the property taxable for said purpose.

2832. County commissioners shall give notice. In all cases, before the levy of any tax as provided in this chapter, the county commissioners shall give notice of intention to levy said tax, naming the purpose for which the tax is to be levied, dividing the improvements proposed, the boundaries of the district to be affected or benefited, the estimated cost of such improvements, and designating a time when the county commissioners shall consider the proposed levy, which notice will be published at least twenty days in a newspaper published within said county and having general circulation within said county; provided, that in counties where there is no newspaper for publication of said notice, the county commissioners shall have at least five such notices posted in conspicuous places within the boundaries of said special road district. If, at or before the time so fixed, written objection to such improvement, signed by owners of property upon which two-thirds of the proposed tax is to be levied for such improvement, be not filed with the county clerk, the county commissioners will be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed to levy and collect such tax.

2833. Notice of tax to be mailed. Equalization. Whenever the county commissioners shall levy any tax under the provisions of this chapter, and after the completion of the lists of the property in such district so taxed, the county commissioners shall mail notice of said tax to each person liable therefor, which tax shall be based on the assessed valuation of the land in said district, which notice shall state the time and place of meeting of said board during the usual business hours and for not less than three consecutive days that county commissioners shall sit as a board of equalization and review, and any person feeling aggrieved shall have a hearing, and the board of county commissioners shall have authority to make corrections of any tax deemed unequal or unjust.

2834. Special assessments constitute a lien. Special assessments made and levied under the provisions of this chapter, and the cost of collecting the same, shall constitute a lien upon and against the property upon which such assessment is made from and after the date thereof, and such assessment shall be collected in the manner prescribed by ordinance.

2835. Time and manner of collecting tax. The board of county commissioners shall by ordinance prescribe the time and manner of collecting the said special road tax as provided in this chapter, together with rules and regulations governing delinquencies.

CHAPTER 4.

PENALTIES.

2840. (1139.) Obstructions and injuries to highways. Any person who wilfully or carelessly obstructs or injures any public or other highway by causing or permitting flow or seepage of water; or who wilfully or carelessly permits water under his control to escape in any manner, so as to injure any public or other highway; or any person who shall wilfully or carelessly place or leave, or cause to be placed or left, any log, timber, stone, wood, or other material, or any machinery, wagon, or other vehicle upon any public or other highway, in such a way as to obstruct the travel or to endanger property or persons passing upon such highway, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Encroachments on highways, §§ 2814-2819.

Railroads must maintain good and sufficient crossings, § 1237.

Ringing bell and blowing whistle at crossings, § 1239, and note.

When a train and vehicle approach a highway crossing at the same time, the latter should stop, but the train should not, by stopping on the crossing or moving backward and forward, subject the vehicle to unreasonable delay.

Wilson v. Sou. Pac. Co., 13 U. 352; 44 P. 1040.

Public highways may not only be used for public travel in the usual and ordinary mode, but may be used for other purposes, if thereby the ordinary uses are not unreasonably interfered with.

City of Eureka v. Wilson, 15 U. 53; 48 P. 41.

2841. (1140.) Driving animals on hillside highway. Any person who drives a herd of horses, mules, asses, cattle, sheep, goats, or swine over a public highway, where such highway is constructed on a hillside, shall be liable for any damage done by such animals in destroying the banks or rolling rocks into or upon such highway; and the action for such damage shall be brought in the name of the county wherein such damage is done, and the amount received shall be paid into the county treasury, and it shall be the duty of the county attorney of such county to prosecute the action.

Am'd '99, p. 24.

The highway act making owners of sheep, cattle, etc., liable for damages to roads, is due process of law.

Brimm v. Jones, 11 U. 200; 39 P. 825; affirmed 165 U. S. 180.

2842. (1141.) Use of bridges. Notice. The board of county commissioners may cause to be put up on bridges a notice that there is a "fine of $5 for riding or driving on this bridge faster than a walk"; and that "not more than (stating the number) horses, mules, asses, or cattle, or (stating the number) sheep, goats, or swine will be allowed upon this bridge at any one time, under a penalty of $10 for each offense." Whoever thereafter rides or drives faster than a walk on such bridge is liable to a fine of $5 for each offense, and any person who drives or allows upon such bridge a greater number of animals than that designated upon the notice is liable to a fine of $10 for each offense.

2844. (1143.) Teams passing each other. Whenever it is necessary for a fast traveling team to pass a slower one, it shall be the duty of the teamster of the slow traveling team to give the other a convenient opportunity so to do, if it can be done without endangering his own team; and whenever teams of any kind meet, each shall seasonably turn to the right, so as to give the other team half of the traveled road, whenever it can be done with safety. A failure so to do shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

Rule of road as to motor vehicles, § 3968.

Evidence held to sustain a finding that the automobile passed the plaintiff on the wrong side.

Fowkes v. Case Threshing Mch. Co., 46 U. 502; 151 P. 53.

Whether driving a team on the wrong side of the road in violation of an ordinance is negligence depends on the facts and circumstances, and generally is a question of fact and not of law.

White v. Shipley, 48 U. 496; 160 P. 441.

Where plaintiff was a passenger on the rear of the motorcycle, which the driver rode on the wrong side of the highway at a high speed without protest from the plaintiff, and in turning out for a team they were injured, plaintiff was contributorialy negligent, and could not recover from the owner of the automobile which they then struck.

Russell v. Watkins, 49 U. 598; 164 P. 867.

Driving to the left of the center line of the road should be submitted to the jury as an element of negligence.

Staton v. Western Macaroni Mfg. Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

2845. (1144.) Damages. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title, in addition to the penalties herein provided, shall be liable for all damages that may accrue to the party damaged by reason of such violation.

CHAPTER 5

STATE ROAD COMMISSION.

('09, p. 282.)

2850. Commission created. There is hereby created a state road commission, consisting of the governor of the state, the state engineer, the attorney-general, the secretary of state, and the state auditor, all of whom, as members of such board, shall serve without compensation. Am'd '17, p. 128.

2851. Clerk. Salary. The state road commission is hereby authorized to appoint a competent clerk for said commission, whose salary shall be $1500 per annum, payable quarterly out of the state treasury, the same as other salaries are paid; and the sum of $3000 is hereby appropriated for said service for the years 1911 and 1912. '11, p. 63.

2852. Powers and duties of commission. The duties of the state road commission shall be as follows:

To designate the roads which shall comprise the system of state roads, as provided in this chapter.

To have charge of the expenditure of all moneys in the state road fund, and to make all necessary rules and regulations to properly safeguard the expenditure of said fund in the construction and maintenance of state roads and to carry out and effectuate the provisions of this chapter.

To furnish plans, specifications and estimates for culverts, bridges, and for road construction, together with such necessary information with respect thereto as may be desired by boards of county commissioners, for use on state or county roads.

To test road materials, and to conduct experiments and make investigations with reference to road construction whenever the commission shall deem it necessary, and to prepare and issue a comprehensive manual of road building and maintenance for the information and guidance of officials having supervision of such work.

To employ such competent assistants as may be necessary to properly carry into effect the provisions of this chapter.

To keep all records, maps, profiles, and papers in the office of the commission for public inspection and reference.

To submit a report biennially to the governor of all expenditures, containing a statement of the work accomplished; also, a statement of the general condition of the roads of the state, together with recommendations, at least twenty days prior to the regular session of the legislature.

Am'd '13, p. 70; '15, p. 111.

Contract with government about rural post roads, § 2890.
Select projects for aid, § 2891.
Supervise prisoners work on roads, §§ 5510, 5512, 5514.
Attorney-general and district attorney to advise, § 2860.
Appropriations by national government how disposed of, § 2858.
Survey, etc., pioneer route, §§ 2870-2872.

2853. County roads may be designated a part of state road system. Any of the existing county roads of this state may hereafter be designated by the state road commission in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and after such designation shall become a part of the system of state roads; provided, that only such roads shall be designated as state roads as will connect with similar roads in adjoining counties to form a continuous system of state roads, and such other roads as will best subserve the interest of the people in marketing their products and developing the resources of the state. Where there is no county road in the location designated by the state road commission, the board of county commissioners of the several counties of the state are hereby authorized to secure the right-of-way for such state road in accordance with the laws of the state relating to procuring right-of-way for public roads.

Am'd '13, p. 70; '15, p. 111.

2854. County maps. Upon application of the state road commission, the county commissioners shall have prepared a map of the county, showing the location of all the county roads, and shall designate on said map the roads upon which there is the most traffic and travel, both locally and with adjoining counties. Said map shall be prepared according to the instructions of the state road commission, shall be certified to as to its correctness by the county surveyor, approved by the county commissioners, and filed with the state road commission within six months from the date of the request of said commission.

2855. Designation of roads to form part of system. From the maps furnished by the county commissioners, supplemented by such other information as the state road commission may have, said state road commission shall designate which roads shall form a part of a system of state roads. After having selected such roads, the state road commission shall have prepared a map of each county, designating thereon the roads so selected, approving the same, and shall file a copy of said map with the county recorder of each county. The roads so designated shall be known as "state roads," and all other roads designated on the map furnished by the county commissioners shall be known as "county roads."

2856. Appropriation. Apportionment to counties. Notice of construction. Right to fund. There is hereby set apart as a state road fund, from the proceeds of the sale of bonds authorized by §§ 2864-2870 the sum of $100,800 for the calendar year of 1917, and $100,800 for the calendar year of 1918, and there is hereby appropriated and set apart from the general revenues of the state for the year 1919 and for each succeeding year thereafter the sum of $100,800 annually, and such other revenues as may be by law provided. Such funds shall be available for the construction and maintenance of state roads in each county of the state in equal proportions, or as otherwise provided in this chapter; provided, that before any part of such fund shall be so available in any county in this state, counties of the eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth classes are required to duplicate one-fourth of the amount of such fund so set apart for use in such counties; and counties of the ninth and tenth classes to duplicate one-half of the amount of such fund so set apart for use in such counties; and counties of the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes, to duplicate the full amount of such fund set apart for use in such counties. Notice of intention to engage in state road construction in any county to the whole amount of the state road fund that will be available, or any part thereof, for said county, shall be filed by the state road commission with the board of county commissioners not later than June 1st of each year. Such notice shall give the following information:

1. The amount of money that will be available in the state road fund for use in said county;

2. A general outline of the work to be undertaken on the state roads in said county;

3. The amount of funds to be appropriated and set aside in order to augment the state provision of funds as set forth in this section;

4. The amount of the special tax levy, in mills, to be placed on the property of the county to raise the funds provided for in § 2857.

Within thirty days from the date of said notice, the county commissioners shall notify the state road commission of the amount of money which the county will appropriate for the purposes specified in the notice to them from the state road commission. In case the board of county commissioners shall decide to accept and comply with the requirements of said notice, they shall, within thirty days from the date thereof, notify the state road commission of the amount of money which the county will appropriate for the purposes specified in said notice, and the acceptance by the county commissioners of the requirements therein set out shall constitute the state road commission the agent of such county for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, with irrevocable authority in all matters relating to the construction and maintenance of roads as provided in this chapter. Should the board of county commissioners fail to comply with the requirements of said notice within the time specified, thereupon said county shall forfeit its right to its proportion of the state road fund for that year; provided, that the state road commission may grant an extension of time for compliance with the requirements of said notice, not exceeding thirty days additional; provided, further, that in case the board of county commissioners fails to comply with these requirements within the time specified, the amount of the state allotment available for such county shall remain a part of the state road fund to be apportioned as herein provided for the following year. The county shall be responsible for the amount of money which is specified in the reply of the county commissioners to the request of the state road commission as provided herein, which amount of money shall become part of the state road fund, and shall be available for use only in the county where collected. Am'd 11, p. 59; '13, p. 71; '15, p. 111; '17, p. 109.

State road commission has discretion in expenditures, § 2870.

This is a special act providing for the expenditures only of the amount specified and is not in conflict with § 2870.

Hartley v. State Rd. Com., 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

2857. Special road tax. How levied and collected. Whenever the state road commission shall decide to construct or maintain a portion of the state road in any county, and the board of county commissioners shall accept the appropriation provided in § 2856, said county commissioners are authorized to levy a special road tax on all assessable property in the county in an amount sufficient to meet the requirements of subdivision 4 of the notice mentioned in § 2856 and to be used for the construction and maintenance of state roads in said county, said tax to be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes; but this shall not be construed to mean that the board of county commissioners of any county shall not have authority to appropriate any additional amount of money that they may desire to be used in connection with said fund available for use in such county, such additional amount to be expended by the state road commission within such county; provided, that no county shall levy a special tax for the purposes of this chapter in excess of 5 mills in any year. Should a county default in the payment of said moneys after the acceptance of the requirements of the notice above mentioned, the state road commission is hereby authorized to collect the amount of such default from any moneys due said county in the hands of the state treasurer. Where the streets of any city are, or shall become a part of the system of state roads, such city may levy a special tax not to exceed 2 mills, to be used in connection with the state road fund on the portion or portions of the state road system within such city, and to be expended under the direction of the state road commission. The county auditor of each county shall, on or before the first day of October of each year, certify to the state road commission the following information relating to each county in which there is a state road: Assessed valuation of the county, the state road levy in mills, and the amount of taxes to be derived from said levy. On or before December 1 of each year, the county treasurer of each county shall certify to the state road commission the amount of money collected under the provisions of this section, together with all delinquencies in the collection of such taxes, and on or before July 1 of each year, the county treasurer shall certify to the state road commission the delinquent taxes collected.

Upon requisition from the secretary of the state road commission, the state road fund appropriated and collected, as provided in this chapter, shall, from time to time, as the state road commission directs, be remitted by the county auditor of each county, and by the recorder of any city levying a tax as in this chapter provided, to the state treasurer for disbursement by warrants of the state auditor, upon requisition of the state road commission, in payment for state road work in counties and cities where appropriated and collected. All moneys paid by the state road commission from the state road fund, as herein provided, shall be by warrant of the state auditor upon requisition issued by the state road commisssion. The necessary expenses for carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter shall be paid from the state road fund upon requisition to the state auditor on vouchers covering such expenses, approved by the state road commission. Am'd '11, p. 60; '13, p. 73; '15, p. 111.

2858. Appropriations by national government. If any appropriation of moneys by the national government shall become available to the state road building fund, it shall be distributed to the several counties conformable to the terms of this chapter.

2859. Gifts, bequests. Gifts, bequests, and donations by individuals, corporations, or societies to the state for road building purposes shall become part of the state road building fund, and shall be expended according to the provisions of this chapter. Such gifts, bequests, or donations made to a county shall be expended under the direction of the county commissioners.

2860. Plans, specifications, and estimates. The state road commission shall make plans, specifications, and estimates preparatory to the improvement of any state road, and may provide that the construction work be done by contract, in which event the state road commission shall advertise for and receive sealed proposals for said work, which proposals shall be opened at a stated time and place, and then and there said state road commission shall open said proposals, and may award the work to the lowest responsible bidder, conditioned upon said bidder's signing a contract and giving a good and sufficient bond for the faithful performance of the work.

2861. Legal advisers of commission. In all matters requiring legal advice, in the performance of its duties and the prosecution or defense of any action growing out of the performance of its duties, the attorney-general of the state, and the district attorney of the district in which any legal question arises, shall be the legal advisers of the said state road commission, and they are hereby required to perform any and all legal services required of them by the state road commission, without other compensation than their salaries now or hereafter fixed by law. Am'd '13, p. 73; '15, p. 115.

2862. University and Agricultural College instructors and machinery available. It is hereby provided that the engineering machinery, apparatus, and the force of mechanics and instructors operating the same in the University of Utah and the Agricultural College of Utah shall be at the disposal of the state road commission and that any member of the faculties of said institutions shall furnish any information or assistance desired upon request of the state road commission, said service and information to be furnished without compensation.

2863. Road defined. The term "road" as used in this chapter, shall be any highway, street, avenue, road, lane, or alley over which the county commissioners have jurisdiction.

CHAPTER 6.

BOND ISSUE FOR CONSTRUCTION, REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE OF STATE ROADS.

('17, p. 74.)

2864 Bond issue. Interest rate. Term. The state board of loan commissioners is hereby authorized to provide for and negotiate, as needed for the purposes in this chapter provided, a loan for the state in the sum of two million dollars, by issuing negotiable coupon bonds of this state therefor under rules and regulations not in conflict herewith to be prescribed by said board; said bonds to bear interest at a rate to be fixed by said board, not exceeding four and one-half per centum per annum, interest payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July in each year; said bonds to be signed by the governor and the secretary of state; have the great seal of the state affixed, and be countersigned by the state treasurer and registered by the state auditor in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. Such bonds shall not be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest. Said bonds shall run not longer than twenty years, and the faith and credit of the state is hereby pledged for their payment and for the payment of the interest accruing thereon.

2865. Incidental expense. Additional bond of treasurer. The state board of loan commissioners is hereby authorized to provide the necessary engraved bonds to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and the expense thereof, and all other necessary incidental expenses incurred by said board in the preparation and negotiation of said bonds shall be paid out of the funds derived from the registration of motor vehicles, upon the approval of the state board of examiners. Before the issuance of said bonds the state treasurer shall give to the state of Utah an additional bond with sureties as provided by law in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, which bond shall be approved by the state board of examiners and deposited and filed with the secretary of state, and the said treasurer shall stand charged upon said bond and upon his official bond for the faithful performance of such duties as are required of him under the provisions of this chapter, or that may be prescribed by the said board of loan commissioners.

2866. Interest payments. The state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the amount of interest which shall fall due on the first day of January and July of each year which said interest warrant or warrants shall be drawn at least ten days prior to the maturing of the interest, and such sum as may be necessary is hereby appropriated and set aside from the motor vehicle registration fund, created by § 3977, or in case there is not sufficient money in said fund, that such sum as may be necessary is hereby appropriated and set aside from the general fund of the state, or from such other fund as may be provided by law for use from year to year to pay the interest upon said bonds.

2867. Annual appropriation. Redemption fund. There shall be and is hereby set apart and appropriated from the said motor vehicle registration fund, or in case there is not sufficient money in said fund, there shall be set apart from the general fund of the state, or from such other fund as may be provided by law for that purpose, annually, the sum of $100,000, to be drawn on the warrant of the state auditor to pay the principal of said bonds as the same fall due. Said amount shall be held and placed by the treasurer in a fund to be known as the redemption fund for the redemption of said bonds.

2869. Bonds not taxable. Application of proceeds. The bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall not be taxed for any purpose within this state, and the proceeds of the sale thereof shall be covered into the state treasury, and the same shall be appropriated and used exclusively for the construction, maintenance and repair of state roads and the building of bridges thereon; and said treasurer shall pay out said moneys so received, in the manner now required by law, at the order of the state road commission, subject to the approval of the state board of examiners.

2870. Disbursement by road commission. Said money received from the sale of said bonds shall be apportioned and spent by the said state road commission upon such roads and bridges as by it deemed best.

Funds must be apportioned to counties, pro rata, § 2856.

Section 2856 is not in conflict with this section and the State Road Commission may expend the entire amount of the bonds in its discretion except the amount provided for by § 2856.

Hartley v. State Rd. Com., 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

CHAPTER 7.

PERPETUATION OF THE UTAH PIONEER ROUTE INTO SALT LAKE VALLEY.

('13, p. 56.)

2871. Road commission to locate and mark route. The state road commission is hereby authorized to engage a competent engineer or engineers to locate, survey, and mark with stone pillars appropriately inscribed, the route of the pioneers into the Salt Lake valley as follows: Commencing at the point on the Utah-Wyoming line where it enters the state; thence down Echo canyon to the Weber; thence down the Weber to the village of Henefer; thence southwesterly up Little East canyon to East Canyon creek; thence southward to the mouth of Little Emigration canyon, ascending Big mountain; thence down Big mountain to Parley's canyon creek to the point where the route leads over Little mountain to Emigration creek, following the same through the mouth of Emigration canyon into Salt Lake valley; thence to the place of the pioneer encampment within the limits of Salt Lake City.

2872. Part designated as state road; commission to improve. The state road commission is hereby authorized and directed to lay out, construct, and repair a highway for wagons and automobiles from the village of Henefer over said route to the limits of Salt Lake City. The said highway, when so laid out and established, is hereby declared to be a state road.

2873. Appropriation. The sum of $5,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the survey and marking of said pioneer route, and for the survey, construction, and repair of the part thereof hereinbefore declared to be a state road, to be designated "the Utah pioneer route into Salt Lake valley." All acts in conflict with this chapter are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 8.

ESTABLISHING A STANDARD SYSTEM OF CONSTRUCTION OF PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

('09, p. 213.)

2875. Public highways systematized. For the furtherance of good roads in the state and the several counties thereof, the public highways, roads, streets, avenues, and lanes in this state outside of incorporated cities and towns are hereby systematized into sidewalk, roadway, tree space, ditch space, curb lines, and fence lines as follows:

1. The curb line shall be a line on either side of the center of such highways, roads, streets, avenues, and lanes, distant from the center thereof forty-nine feet on eight-rod highways; forty-four feet on seven rod highways; thirty-nine feet on six-rod highways; thirty-one and a half feet on five-rod highways; twenty-four feet on four-rod highways, and twelve and one-half feet on two-rod lanes.

2. The fence line shall be along the outside of said highways, measuring the full width thereof, the initial point of measurement being the center of the highway.

3. That portion of the highway outside of the line herein designated on either side as the curb line and inside of the fence line is designated and set apart as sidewalk, under the specifications herein set forth, and as may be further provided by law.

4. The width of the sidewalks, outside of the curb line and inside of the fence line, is specified as follows: On eight-rod highways, seventeen feet; on seven-rod highways, thirteen and seventy-five hundredths feet; on six-rod higways, ten and five-tenths feet; on five-rod highways, nine and seventy-five hundredths feet; on four-rod highways, nine feet, and on two rod lanes, four feet.

5. On highways four rods and more in width, there is hereby designated as tree space a strip of the sidewalk two feet in width, running parallel with and adjacent to the curb line, in the center of which trees may be planted under regulations by the board of county commissioners, or such other use thereof be made as provided by law.

6. That space on either side of highways four rods wide and over, indicated by the curb line on one side and on the other by a line three and one-half feet nearer the center of the highway than the curb line, is hereby designated as ditch space, along which ditches and waterways may be constructed.

7. That space between the curb lines on either side of the center of the highways is hereby designated as roadway.

8. The hitching post line is hereby designated as a line four feet nearer the center of the highway than the curb line.

2876. Profile of cross-sections. In pursuance of a plan of systematic road construction there is hereby adopted and designated a profile of cross-sections for two-rod lanes, and for four-rod, five-rod, six-rod, seven-rod, and eight-rod highways, which profile of cross-sections shall be the standard for road construction, to be observed and conformed to in all work upon public roads; provided, that where any eight-rod highway has been in part designated by the board of county commissioners for park purposes, the profile cross-section shall be the width of the roadway, which will, in the judgment of the county commissioners, best conform to such reduced width of roadways. The slopes, grades, curves, and dimensions of said cross-section on highways are specified and defined as follows:

1. Standard cross-section of two-rod lanes: Width, thirty-three feet between fence lines, the center line being the initial point of measurements. The four feet lying outside of the curb line, twelve and five-tenths feet from the center on either side, is classed as sidewalk, which shall have a fall of three hundredths per foot from fence line to curb. The twenty-five feet within the curb shall be classed as roadway. The center twenty-one feet shall be graded to a curve with the following elevations in said curve: The elevation of the center shall be four inches higher than the elevation of the fence line. The elevation at a point seven and one-half feet on either side of the center shall be the same as at the fence line. The elevation at a point eleven feet on either side of the center shall be seven inches lower than at the fence line. The remaining one and five-tenths feet of the twelve and five-tenths feet on either side of the center, and next to the curb, to be allowed for a ditch one and one-half feet wide and nine inches deep, and one foot wide in the bottom as measured from the eleven foot grade point.

2. Standard cross-section of four-rod street: Width, sixty-six feet between fence lines, the center line being the initial point of measurements. The nine feet lying outside of a curb line twenty-four feet from the center of the street on either side to be classed as sidewalk, the grade of which shall have a fall of three hundredths per foot from fence line to curb. The forty-eight feet within the curb lines shall be classed as roadway, the center forty-four feet of which shall be graded to a curve with the following elevation in said curve: The elevation at the center shall be nine inches higher than the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point fifteen and seventy-five hundredths feet on either side of the center shall be the same as the elevation at the fence line. The remaining two feet of the twenty-four on either side of the center, and next to the curb line to be allowed for a ditch two feet wide and one foot deep and one foot wide in the bottom as measured from the twenty-two foot grade point. This ditch is a variable quantity as to depth and width, according to necessity, but in no case to be wider than a ditch space of three feet and six inches, or from the curb line to a point six inches from the hitching post line. The elevation at a point twenty-three feet on either side of the center of the roadway, or at the bottom of the one foot ditch here indicated, and which is variable under necessity, shall not be more than two feet lower than the elevation at the fence line.

3. Standard cross-section of five-rod street: Width, eighty-two and five-tenths feet between fence lines, the center line being the initial point of measurements. The nine and sevnty-five hundredths feet lying outside of the curb line thirty-one and five-tenths feet from the center of the street on either side to be classed as sidewalk, which shall have a fall of three hundredths per foot from fence line to curb. The sixty-three feet within the curb lines to be classed as roadway, the center thirty-three feet of which shall be graded to a curve with the following elevations in said curve: The thirteen feet between the curve and the ditch line on either side shall be an inclined plane and shall have a fall of seventy-seven thousandths per foot from intersection of arc to ditch line. The elevation of the center shall be ten and one-half niches higher than the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point sixteen and fifty-hundredths feet on either side of the center shall be the same as the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point twenty-nine and five-tenths feet on either side of the center shall be one foot lower than the elevation at the fence line, the remaining two feet of the thirty-one and five-tenths feet on either side of the center, and next to the curb line, to be allowed for a ditch two feet wide and one foot deep, as measured from the twenty-nine and five-tenths foot grade point. This ditch is a variable quantity as to width and depth, according to necessity, but in no case to be wider than a ditch space of three feet six inches, or from the curb line to a point six inches from the hitching post line. The elevation at a point thirty and five-tenths feet on either side of the center of the roadway, or at the bottom of the ditch indicated, and which is variable under necessity, shall not be more than two feet lower than the elevation at the fence line.

4. Standard cross-section of six-rod street: Width, ninety-nine feet between fence lines, the center line being the initial point of measurements. The ten and five-tenths feet lying outside of a curb line thirty-nine feet from the center of the street on either side to be classed as sidewalk, which shall have a fall of three hundredths per foot from the fence line to curb. The seventy-eight feet within the curb lines to be classed as roadway, the center forty feet of which shall be graded to a curve with the following elevations in said curve: The seventeen feet between the curb and ditch line on either side shall be an incline plane, which shall have a fall of fifty-nine thousandths per foot from intersection of arc to ditch line. The elevation of the center shall be one foot higher than the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point twenty feet on either side of the center shall be the same as the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point thirty-seven feet on either side of the center shall be one foot lower than the elevation at the fence line, the remaining two feet of the thirty-nine feet on either side of the center, and next to the curb line, to be allowed for a ditch two feet wide and one foot deep, as measured from the twenty-seven foot grade point. This ditch is a variable quantity as to depth and width, according to necessity, but in no case to be wider than a ditch space of three feet six inches, or from the curb line to a point six inches from the hitching post line. The elevation at a point thirty-eight feet on either side of the center of the roadway, or at the bottom of the one foot ditch indicated, and which is variable under necessity, shall not be more than two feet lower than the elevation at the fence line.

5. Standard cross-section of seven-rod street: Width, one hundred fifteen and five-tenths feet between fence lines, the center line being the initial point of measurements. The thirteen and seventy-five one hundredths feet lying outside of a curb line forty-four feet from the center of the street on either side to be classed as sidewalk, which shall have a fall of three hundredths per foot from fence line to curb. The eighty-eight feet within the curb lines to be classed as roadway, the center forty-five feet of which shall be graded to a curve with the following elevations in said curve: The nineteen and five-tenths feet between the arc and ditch line on either side shall be an incline plane, which shall have a fall of five hundred and twelve ten-thousandths per foot from intersection of curve to ditch line. The elevation of the center shall be fifteen inches higher than the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point twenty-two and five-tenths feet on either side of the center shall be the same as the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point forty-two feet on either side of the center shall be one foot lower than the the elevation at the fence line, the remaining two feet of the forty-four feet on either side of the center and next to the curb line to be allowed for a ditch two feet wide and one foot deep, as measured from the forty-two foot grade point. This ditch is a variable quantity as to depth and width, according to necessity, but in no case to be wider than a ditch space of three feet six inches, or from the curb line to a point six inches from the hitching post line. The elevation at a point forty-three feet on either side of the center of the roadway, or at the bottom of the one foot ditch indicated, and which is variable under necessity, shall not be more than two feet lower than the elevation at the fence line.

6. Standard cross-section of eight rod street: Width, one hundred thirty-two feet between fence lines, the center line being the initial point of measurements. The seventeen feet lying outside of a curb line forty-nine feet from the center of the street on either side to be classed as sidewalk, which shall have a fall of three hundredths per foot from fence line to curb. The ninety-eight feet within the curb lines to be classed as roadway, the center fifty feet of which shall be graded to a curve with the following elevation in said curve: The twenty-two feet between the arc and the ditch line on either side shall be an inclined plane, which shall have a fall of four hundred and fifty-four ten-thousandths per foot from intersection of curve to ditch line. The elevation of the center shall be one and five-tenths feet higher than the elevation at the fence line. The elevation at a point twenty-five feet on either side of the center shall be the same as the elevation at the fence line, the elevation at a point forty-seven feet on either side of the center shall be one foot lower than the elevation at the fence line, the remaining two feet of the forty-nine feet on either side of the center, and next to the curb line, to be allowed for a ditch two feet wide and one foot deep, as measured from the forty-seven foot grade point. This ditch is a variable quantity as to depth and width, according to necessity, but in no case to be wider than a ditch space of three feet six inches, or from the curb line to a point six inches from the hitching post line. The elevation at a point forty-eight feet on either side of the center of the roadway, or at the bottom of the one foot ditch indicated, and which is variable under necessity, shall not be more than [two feet lower than] the elevation at the fence line.

2877. State engineer to provide plans and specifications. Where physical conditions will not permit of construction as provided in § 2876, the state engineer shall provide plans and specifiacations for all permanent construction work. The longitudinal profile of the grade of any portion of a highway, upon which work is to be done, at the expense of the state, in whole or in part, shall be determined by the state engineer, and is to be made a matter of record in the office of the county surveyor of the county concerned, and of the state engineer.

2878. Ditches crossing sidewalks or roadway to be bridged or flumed. Change of grade. All ditches, canals, or waterways constructed across any sidewalk or roadway shall be securely bridged or flumed, and shall be constructed in conformity with the established grade thereof; provided, that when a change in the grade becomes necessary for the convenience of any ditch, canal, or waterway, the changed grade shall be reasonable for the uses of the roadway, and the work of making the highway across its full width conform to the changed grade shall be done by or at the expense of the person, persons, or corporation constructing the ditch, canal, or waterway, and shall be completed to the satisfaction of the board of county commissioners. Bridges over any ditch, waterway, or opening across any sidewalk shall be not less than the full width of such sidewalk exclusive of tree space thereon; and bridges over any ditch, waterway, or opening across any roadway section of any highway, except river bridges, shall not be narrower than the full width of the roadway section less a space of five feet from the curb line on either side on highways, four rods or more in width, and less a space of two and a half feet from the curb line on either side on two-rod lanes. Flumes shall be of the full extent as herein set forth for bridges. The board of county commissioners may grant permission for temporary bridges of narrower dimensions than those herein indicated for highways of four rods and more in width, or may order constructed, in case of necessity, such narrower bridges; but in no case shall any permission or order be given for a bridge less than sixteen feet in width, to be used as a public roadway; and river bridges shall be set square with the road or sidewalk, and not askew thereon, and their covering shall be made to conform to the grade of the road or sidewalk, if possible, as fixed in pursuance of § 2876. Bridges or culverts crossing a roadway upon which work is to be done at the expense of the state, in whole or in part, shall be built of iron, steel, stone, brick, cement, reinforced concrete, or other imperishable material. Headgates for the control of irrigating or other water shall be placed in either the ditch space or the tree space, as may be necessary. Railways crossing public highways, shall make their crossings conform to the widths herein required for bridges and flumes, and to the regulations herein fixed as to changing grades for ditches, canals, or waterways.

2879. Water mains, etc. Water mains, sewers, and sewer pipes may be laid by permission or upon the order of the board of county commissioners, and shall be located, in the roadway section of the highway, at a sufficient depth to keep the roadway secure, and to prevent a nuisance thereon; but no excavation for such purposes shall be made in any public highway without first obtaining the consent of the board of county commissioners. Water troughs for watering animals may be placed in the ditch space, the side of such troughs next to the center of the road to be lined upon the hitching post line. Water tanks and spills for supplying water for street sprinkling, etc., may be located in the ditch space as nearly as practicable, and where wider than the ditch space may utilize tree space and such additional space on the roadway as may be necessary. Artesian or other wells may be sunk on any highway, and, when located outside of the ditch space, shall not be allowed to remain open to the surface of the roadway or sidewalk, but shall be covered and piped either to the ditch space or beyond the fence line, and in all cases be made secure from being a menace to public safety; provided, that no such water tanks, spill, trough, or well shall be placed on any highway contrary to regulations made by the board of county commissioners or as provided herein. Waste water from such tanks, etc., shall be carried into the ditch space or off the highway.

2880. Hitching and other posts. Hitching posts and posts for carrying or holding mail boxes shall be set either in the tree space hereinbefore named or along the hitching-post line designated in § 2875. Sign posts may be set in the tree space, but no sign-board shall be permitted to extend across any sidewalk at a less height than twelve feet above the level of said sidewalk, or across any portion of the roadway at a less height than twenty feet above the level of said road. Telephone, telegraph, electric light, and railway trolley or other poles may be set along curb lines upon permission being obtained therefor from the board of county commissioners; but for the setting of any such poles along any line in the roadway or any place therein, a specific grant of right-of-way therefor must be obtained from the board of county commissioners, and when such poles or pole line would obstruct or materially interefere with the proper public use of any road whereon state funds are expended, no such grant shall be given. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as limiting the power of county commissioners in granting rights-of-way or otherwise controlling public roads, except as in this chapter specifically set forth.

2881. Extension of sidewalks. It shall be unlawful to extend or construct any sidewalk so as to encroach upon any highway nearer to the center thereof than the curb line herein designated, or to encroach upon any sidewalk with any building, fence, wall, or post, etc., nearer than the fence line, or so as to make the sidewalk narrower than the widths herein designated; and all platforms, porches, etc., on sidewalks shall be at the grade thereof, and flumes, pipes, etc., below the grade shall be covered to grade, and shall be kept in good repair by the person or company in whose interest constructed, so as not to be dangerous to pedestrians, or to impair the safe and ordinary use of highway.

2882. Unlawful to obstruct. It shall be unlawful to drive or place any wagon, car, buggy, carriage, team, horses, cows, mules, etc., up or along any sidewalk except in crossing such sidewalk to or from abutting property, or to permit the same to remain on or across any sidewalk in a way to impede or obstruct the ordinary use thereof; provided, that vehicles, building material, etc., may be placed temporarily in such manner on public highways as not to impede, endanger, or obstruct ordinary traffic, but no such vehicles, building material, or other obstruction shall be permitted to remain on any such highway contrary to instructions from the board of county commissioners.

2883. Penalty. The doing of anything in this chapter declared unlawful is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 9.

AID IN CONSTRUCTION OF RURAL POST ROADS.

('17, p. 223.)

2890. Assent to act of congress. Authority of road commission. Funds pledged. The legislature of the state of Utah hereby assents to the provisions of the act of congress, approved July 11, 1916, entitled, "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes" (thirty-ninth United States statutes at large, page 355). The state road commission is hereby authorized to enter into all contracts and agreements with the United States government relating to the survey, construction, and maintenance of roads under the provisions of the said act of congress, to submit such scheme or program of construction and maintenance as may be required by the secretary of agriculture, and do all other things necessary fully to carry out the co-operation contemplated and provided for by the said act. For the construction of rural post roads, the good faith of the state is hereby pledged to make available funds sufficient to equal the sums apportioned to the state by or under the United States government during each and all of the five years for which federal funds are appropriated, and to make adequate provisions for carrying out such maintenance.

2891. Selection of road projects. Disposition of funds. The state road commission is hereby authorized and empowered to select the federal aid road projects and to make such disposition of federal aid road funds in the construction of state roads as by it is deemed best.

2892. Use of county fund. Designation of project. Payment for construction. For the survey, construction, and improvement of state roads in any county, when such roads are within or partly within a national forest, the state road commission is hereby authorized and empowered to use any or all of the state road funds accruing to that county by virtue of the laws of this state, in co-operating with the secretary of agriculture, as contemplated in the federal aid road act and the rules and regulations thereunder. Immediately upon the execution of an agreement between the secretary of agriculture and the state road commission, as provided in § 8 of the federal aid road act, the state road commission shall designate the project mentioned in the agreement by a name and a number. The state road commission shall then certify to the state treasurer the total amount of state road funds to be expended upon the project under the said agreement and the county or counties in which the project is located, together with the amount to be expended from the state road funds of each county involved in the agreement; whereupon the state treasurer shall set aside from the state road fund standing to the credit of said county or counties the amount or amounts so mentioned. Upon presentation to the state auditor of an approved bill or claim for debts incurred in the construction of such project, accompanied by an order for payment signed by the secretary of agriculture or his duly authorized agent, the state auditor shall draw a warrant upon the state treasurer for the amount of said order, specifying the county against the funds of which the warrant is to be charged. The amount of this order, together with all previous payments from funds to the credit of any county, shall not exceed the sum set aside to the credit of such county for said project.

2893. Roads in national forests. Payments from road funds. Counties are hereby authorized and empowered, by their commissioners, to enter into agreements with the secretary of agriculture of the United States, as provided for in § 8 of the federal aid road act and all other acts of congress specifically authorizing the use of federal funds to construct, improve, or maintain roads, other than state roads, within or partly within national forests; provided, that the share of any county in the cost of such co-operative road project shall be paid from county road funds; provided, further, that donations may be accepted in lieu of appropriations from county road funds.

CHAPTER 10.

USE OF WIDE-TIRED WAGONS ON PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

('15, p. 47.)

2894. Use of wagons with narrow tires prohibited. It shall be unlawful after the first day of January, 1920, for any person, persons, or corporation to use on the public highways of the state of Utah wagons having tires less than three inches wide; provided, that this chapter shall not apply to buggies, carriages, and other light vehicles used for driving purposes only.

2895. Penalty. Any person, persons, or corporation using wagons on the public highways of this state after January 1, 1920, having tires less than three inches wide, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

TITLE 42.

HOLIDAYS.

2896. (1145.) Legal holidays. The following named days are legal holidays in this state: Every Sunday; the 1st day of January, commonly called New Year's day; the 12th day of February, the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln; the 22d day of February, the anniversary of the birth of George Washington; the 15th day of April, commonly called Arbor day; the 30th day of May, commonly called decoration day; the 4th day of July, commonly called Independence day; the 24th day of July, commonly called Pioneer day; the first Monday in September, known as Labor day; the 25th day of December, commonly called Christmas; and all days which may be set apart by the president of the United States, or the governor of this state, by proclamation, as days of fast or thanksgiving; provided, that when any of said days, except the first mentioned, shall fall on Sunday, the following Monday shall be the holiday. Am'd '09, p. 2.

When last day to perform an act falls on a holiday, it may be performed on the following day, §§ 4233, 5843, 5844.

Negotiable instrument maturing on holiday, § 4233.

Under the provisions of this section, Feb. 23d becomes a legal holiday when Feb. 22d falls on Sunday. Contempt proceedings on holiday void.

Davidson v. Munsey, 27 U. 87; 74 P. 431.

2897. (1146.) Arbor day proclamation. The governor shall each year issue a proclamation, recommending the observance of Arbor day by the planting of trees, shrubs, and vines, in the promotion of forest growth and culture, and in the adornment of public and private grounds, places, and ways, and in such other efforts and undertakings as shall be in harmony with the general character of such holiday.

TITLE 43.

HOMESTEADS.

2898. (1147.) Value allowed. A homestead consisting of lands and appurtenances, which lands may be in one or more localities, not exceeding in value with the appurtenances and improvements thereon the sum of $1,500 for the head of the family, and the further sum of $500 for his wife, and $250 for each other member of his family, shall be exempt from judgment lien and from execution or forced sale, except as provided in this title.

Homestead exemption to be provided, Con. art. 22, sec. 1.

Neither husband nor wife can remove the other from homestead, § 2992.

Property exempt from execution, §§ 6923-6926.

Homestead exempt from payment of decedent's debts, exception, §§ 6409, 7644.

Homestead of decedent goes to whom, §§ 6410, 6411, 7644.

Land not being the residence of the plaintiff or his family, nor in any manner appurtenant to or used in connection with their residence, nor selected by the plaintiff for a homestead, is not within the exemption provided for in § 3429, C. L. 1888, and hence subject to sale by a judgment creditor.

Gammett v. Storrs, 15 U. 336; 49 P. 642.

In order to claim a homestead under the statute, it is not necessary that the debtor reside upon the land claimed as exempt, provided the land be used for the family support, and as the whole or part of the homestead.

Kimball v. Salisbury, 17 U. 381; 53 P. 1037.

Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.

The homestead exemption given by the constitution and by law is an absolute right, intended to protect the home against creditors; and no waiver could affect the right of the wife and children.

Kimball v. Salisbury, 17 U. 381; 53 P. 1037.

Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.

The homestead right, when vested in the head of a family, cannot be waived by contract in advance of the occasion of asserting such right; such a contract of waiver being against public policy.

Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.

When the homestead consists of one or more pieces of land, is within the value limited by statute, and is established by selection or occupancy, the constitution and the statute enacted under it are a positive prohibition against levy and sale thereof by creditors of the owner of the homestead.

Kimball v. Salisbury, 17 U. 381; 53 P. 1037.

Kimball v. Salisbury, 19 U. 161; 56 P. 973.

Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.

Where plaintiffs only left their homestead temporarily, leaving in it personal effects and intending to return, it was not an abandonment.

Anderson v. Davis, 18 U. 200; 55 P. 363.

Temporary absence of the homestead claimant from his residence, while out of the state for a year or two at a time earning money to assist in providing for his family, does not constitute abandonment, when there is shown a bona fide intention to return, build a house and reside on the land.

Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.

Homestead laws liberally construed.

Folsom v. Asper, 25 U. 299; 71 P. 315.

The constitution exempts homesteads from sale without exception.
Volker v. Vance, 32 U. 74; 88 P. 896.
If, after deducting the value of subsisting liens on a homestead from its gross value, the net value does not exceed the exemption allowed, a creditor may not interfere with the homestead.
Crosby v. Anderson, 49 U. 167; 162 P. 75.
The purchase by an insolvent debtor of a homestead with non-exempt assets is not fraud, and the fact that the owner of the homestead has conveyed with intent to defraud his creditors does not affect his right to claim a homestead exemption.
Id.
If the owner selects as a homestead the lot on which improvements are made, and has no other real estate, the person furnishing materials is not entitled to a lien thereon.
Park City Meat Co. v. Comstock Sil. Mg. Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.
An owner's conveyance of his homestead to his wife, with intent to defraud his creditors, does not affect his right to claim a homestead exemption in the property conveyed.
Daniels v. Smith et al., 51 U. —; 169 P. 267.
Where one or two lots had a dwelling erected thereon, if the owner selected and claimed the lots as her homestead, and the value thereof with the improvements did not exceed the amount to which she was entitled as a homestead exemption, persons furnishing materials for the dwelling were not entitled to a lien on the lots, unless when the material was furnished the owner owned other lands separate from the lots which, independently of them, constituted her homestead, and equaled the value of her homestead exemption.
Volker-Scowcroft Lbr. Co. v. Vance, 36 U. 348; 103 P. 970.

2899. (1148.) Selected from property of husband or wife. If the homestead claimant is married, the homestead may be selected from the separate property of the husband, or, with the consent of the wife, from her separate property.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3606*.

2900. (1149.) Declaration, who may make. Any person who is the head of a family may make a declaration of homestead in the manner provided in the next two sections, but a failure to make such declaration shall not impair the homestead right.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3620.
Head of family defined, § 2869.
The failure to make the declaration is immaterial in a creditors' suit to set aside the homestead's fraudulent conveyance to the wife.
Daniels v. Smith et al., 51 U. —; 169 P. 267.

2901. (1150.) Id. Execution and filing. In order to record a homestead, the husband or other head of the family, or, in case the husband has not made such selection, the wife must execute and acknowledge a declaration of homestead, and file the same for record in the office of the recorder of the county or counties in which the land is situated.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3621*.

2902. (1151.) Id. Contents. The declaration of homestead must contain:

1. A statement showing the person making it to be the head of a family; or, when the declaration is made by the wife, showing that her husband has not made such declaration;
2. A description of the premises;
3. An estimate of their cash value.

N. Dak. (1895), § 3622.

2903. (1152.) Selection on issue of execution. It shall be the privilege of either the husband or the wife to claim and select a homestead to the full extent prescribed in this title, on the failure of the other, being the judgment debtor, to make such claim or selection.

Occupation and use constitute a sufficient selection.
Kimball v. Salisbury, 17 U. 381; 53 P. 1037.
Kimball v. Salisbury, 19 U. 161; 56 P. 973.

Unless a party has actual notice of levy and sale of his homestead, his failure to assert the right is not a waiver.
Kimball v. Salisbury, 19 U. 161; 56 P. 973.

Under § 3429, C. L. U. 1888, the selection of lands claimed as exempt by a judgment debtor need not be made until after the levy, but may be made at any time before sale under execution; and it is not necessary that the selection made should include the home place of the family.
Folsom v. Asper, 25 U. 299; 71 P. 315.
Sec. 2907, providing that a homestead shall be subject to execution to satisfy judgments on debts secured by mechanics' liens for labor done for the improvement of the same, is in conflict with Con. art. 22, sec. 1, requiring the legislature to provide for the selection and exemption of a homestead; the constitution exempting a homestead from execution sale with out exception; though lien may be created by contract.
Volker Lumber Co. v. Vance, 32 U. 74; 88 P. 896.

2904. (1153.) Sale of homestead. Effect. A sale and disposition of one homestead shall not be held to prevent the selection or purchase of another.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3624.

2905. (1154.) "Head of a family" defined. The phrase "head of a family" as used in this title includes within its meaning:

1. The husband or wife, when the claimant is a married person; but in no case are both husband and wife entitled each to a homestead under the provisions of this title, except to the extent hereinbefore provided;

2. Every person who is residing on the premises with him or her and under his or her care and maintenance, either: (a) his or her child, or the child of his or her deceased wife or husband, whether by birth or adoption; (b) a minor brother or sister, or the minor child of a deceased brother or sister; (c) a father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother; (d) the father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother of a deceased husband or wife; (e) an unmarried sister, or any other of the relatives mentioned in this section, who have attained the age of majority and are unable to take care of or support themselves.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3625*.
Under § 2898, and sub. 2 of this section, which apply to unmarried men the same as to a married man, a person is the head of a family if his mother resides with him and is under his care and maintenance, and, being the head of a family, his actual residence on the land claimed as a homestead is not necessary to render it exempt from execution.
Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.
Under this section, the husband is no more the head of the family than the wife, and she may answer setting up homestead rights.
Volker Lumber Co. v. Vance, 32 U. 74; 88 P. 896.

2906. (1155.) Conveyance of recorded homestead. If the owner is married, no conveyance or incumbrance of, or contract to convey or incumber, the premises selected and recorded as a homestead prior to the time of such conveyance, incumbrance, or contract, is valid unless both the husband and wife join in the execution of the same.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3608*.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3165*.
Colorado, Mills' An. S. (1891) § 2137*.
Effect of conveyance; exemption of proceeds, § 2909.
Wife must join in assignment of wages, § 4385.
Husband can convey homestead without wife's consent, subject to her dower right.
Cook v. Higley, 10 U. 228; 37 P. 366.
Where no declaration of homestead was made by either the husband or wife, a mortgage given by the husband alone was valid, and foreclosure and sale thereunder transferred the title to the mortgagee, subject to the right of redemption and to the wife's one-third interest should she survive the husband.
Nielson v. Peterson, 30 U. 391; 85 P. 429.
Bunker v. Coons, 21 U. 164; 60 P. 549.
Cook v. Higley, 10 U. 228; 37 P. 336.
Where the owner of a homestead voluntarily incumbers it in the manner prescribed by this section, by giving a material-man furnishing materials for an improvement thereon, a lien therefor, the material-man acquires a lien not by virtue of the statute creating a lien, but by virtue of the contract.
Volker Lumber Co. v. Vance, 32 U. 74; 88 P. 896.

2907. (1156.) When subject to execution. The homestead is subject to execution in satisfaction of judgments obtained:

1. On debts secured by mechanic's or laborers' liens for work or labor done or material furnished exclusively for the improvement of the same;

2. On debts secured by lawful mortgage on the premises;

3. On debts created for the purchase thereof and for taxes accruing and levied thereon.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3607.
All property liable to execution for purchase price, taxes, etc., § 6927.
Exemption of proceeds of sale, § 2873, and note.
Where a purchaser of realty gave a bill of sale of certain hogs as part payment of purchase price, a judgment in an action for failure to deliver the hogs was for a "debt created for the purchase price of land" under § 6927, making the land subject to execution for such debts though a homestead.
Harris v. Larsen, 24 U. 139; 66 P. 782.
Sec. 2871, providing that a homestead shall be subject to execution to satisfy judgments on debts secured by mechanics' liens for labor done for the improvement of the same, is in conflict with Con. art. 22, sec. 1, requiring the legislature to provide for the selection and exemption of a homestead; the constitution exempting a homestead from execution sale without exception. Though lien may be created by contract.
Volker Lumber Co. v. Vance, 32 U. 74; 88 P. 896.

2908. (1157.) When husband or wife deserts. In case the husband or wife desert his or her family, the exemption shall continue in favor of the one residing upon the premises.

2909. (1158.) Effect of conveyance. Exemption of proceeds. When a homestead is conveyed by the owner thereof, such conveyance shall not subject the premises to any lien or incumbrance to which it would not be subject in the hands of the owner; and the proceeds of the sale thereof, to the amount of the exemption existing at the time of sale, shall be exempt from execution or other process for one year after the receipt thereof by the person entitled to the exemption.

Conveyance of recorded homestead, § 2906.
The acceptance of an oral promise to deliver brick in consideration of the conveyance of land constituting a homestead is not a receipt of the proceeds of a sale thereof within provisions of this section, exempting the proceeds of a sale of a homestead for one year after the receipt thereof, and the year of the exemption does not run from that time, but from the time of the delivery of the brick.

Christensen v. Beebe, 32 U. 406; 91 P. 129.

The term "proceeds," used in this section, exempting the proceeds of a sale of a homestead for one year after the receipt thereof, means some tangible thing which is the subject of manual delivery and receipt.

Id.

The proceeds of sale of a homestead, so far as they may be exempt, stand in lieu of the homestead for a period of one year from the time that the homestead owner has received such proceeds, and a partial payment constitutes a part of the proceeds of the sale of the homestead the same as the remainder due and unpaid in excess of the amount constituting part of such proceeds, and the burden is on the person claiming the exemption to establish it, and the claimant has the right to elect which payments of the proceeds of the sale he will claim as exempt until he has received and held for one year the amount of proceeds allowed him by statute.

Giesy-Walker Co. v. Briggs, 49 U. 205; 162 P. 876.

Notice to levying officer and garnishee as soon as claimant learned that the proceeds of sale were garnished, sufficient.

Hansen v. Mauss et al., 40 U. 361; 121 P. 605.

2910. (1159.) Insurance money, when exempt. Whenever the homestead improvements are insured in favor of the owner, and a loss occurs entitling such person to the insurance, the money thus derived shall be exempt to the same extent as the improvements would have been had not such loss occurred.

2911. (1160.) Water rights exempt from execution. Water rights and interests either in the form of corporate stock or otherwise, owned by the judgment debtor, shall be exempt from execution to the extent that such rights and interests are necessarily employed in supplying water to the homestead for domestic and irrigating purposes; but such rights and interests shall not be exempt from assessment and sale by corporations or companies owning the water, nor from levy and sale on a judgment against such corporations or companies.

General exemption law, § 6925.

2912. (1161.) When homestead exceeds exemption in value. If the homestead selected is of greater value than is exempted under this title, and if it consists of two or more separate pieces of land, neither of which is of the value allowed, the person entitled to the exemption may select which he will retain in full and which shall be partitioned or sold. If so selected, the homestead may be sold, and, after paying the judgment debtor the value of the homestead, the balance of the money shall be applied on the judgment.

If the selection of a homestead be made before execution, levy, and sale, of more than the amount in value, as limited by statute, or, if it thereafter becomes enhanced in value, such homestead is still liable for the debt of the execution creditor to the amount in value in excess of the limit exempt by statute.

Kimball v. Salisbury, 17 U. 381; 53 P. 1037.

2913. (1162.) Id. Sale of homestead. The homestead shall not be sold if the bid do not exceed the value of the exemption if the homestead be in one piece; but if the homestead be in more than one piece, then the officer and the judgment debtor shall proceed as hereinafter provided to determine the value of each piece of property exempted, and any such property shall not be sold unless the bid for each piece be greater than the appraised value thereof.

2914. (1163.) Id. When situate in more than one county. If the homestead be situated in more than one county, then the officer serving the execution shall have that part of the homestead situated in the county wherein the writ is served, appraised, and he shall prepare a certificate in duplicate, signed by the appraisers, if any, and himself, stating the value of such property, of which one copy shall be given to the judgment debtor and the other shall be forwarded to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county wherein another piece of the homestead property is situated; and such property shall be appraised as before. In case such property does not equal in value the remainder of such exemption, the officer shall, before levy and sale, if the judgment debtor have unappraised property in some other county, cause the same to be appraised and like proceedings had as hereinbefore prescribed.

2915. (1164.) Id. Proceeds of sale exempt. If sold on the judgment, the money paid the judgment debtor shall be exempt from that or any other execution as hereinbefore provided.

2916. (1165.) Id. Interval between sales in different counties. When sales of property are made in more than one county on the same execution, there shall be at least five days intervening between the first and each succeeding sale.

2917. (1166.) Id. Disagreement as to value of homestead. Procedure. If the officer having the execution and the person claiming the exemption cannot agree as to the value of the homestead, or the partition thereof, or as to the quantity and value of any of the articles of personal property exempted by law, the officer shall select one appraiser and the person claiming the exemption another appraiser, both being householders of the vicinity, to whom the officer shall administer an oath to fairly and justly appraise and set apart the exempt property concerning which there is a disagreement. In case of the disagreement of the appraisers, they shall choose a third person, who shall also be sworn, and the decision of any two such appraisers, when made, shall be final. The appraisers shall report to the officer their appraisal of the property selected for the homestead. If the person entitled elect to have the property partitioned, it shall be the duty of the appraisers to set apart such homestead as the person entitled shall select and be entitled to.

In an action in the nature of a creditor's bill to reach the equity in a homestead, it is not necessary to ascertain the value of the homestead by appraiser, and the homestead cannot be sold unless the amount of the bid exceeds the statutory exemption; before the court can proceed to appraise the homestead, it must be made to appear by proper evidence that its value is in excess of the exemption allowed by law.
Crosby v. Anderson, 49 U. 167; 162 P. 75.

2918. (1167.) Id. Excess to be sold. The property not set apart as a homestead shall be subject to sale, under execution, the proceeds to be applied on the judgment.

TITLE 44.

HORSE COMMISSIONERS.

(Re-enacted '11, p. 317.)

2919. (1167x.) Board created. Duties. A state board of horse commissioners is hereby created. The following persons shall constitute said board, viz: The director of the experiment station, the veterinarian and animal husbandman of the agricultural college and experiment station. The animal husbandman shall be secretary and executive officer of said board. The work of this board shall be done under the direction of the board of trustees of the Agricultural College of Utah. The duties of said officers shall be as follows:

1. The examination and passing upon all stallions and jacks provided for in this title, and the passing upon all documents as provided for in § 2921;
2. The examination as to the merits of pedigrees;
3. The recording of, and issuing of certificates as specified in §§ 2925-2927;
4. All fees collected as provided for in this title shall be paid to the secretary of the college, who shall pay all expenses of the commission, taking vouchers therefor;
5. The employing of one or more competent graduated veterinarians, or other accredited inspectors, to make examinations of such stallions and jacks as are referred to herein;
6. To make all necessary rules and regulations, and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this title.

2920. (1167x1.) Owners of stallions and jacks must have license certificate. Every person, firm, or company standing, traveling, or offering for sale for breeding purposes any stallion or jack in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such animal to be enrolled by the said board, and procure a license certificate of such enrollment from such board.

2921. (1167x2.) How to obtain certificate. In order to obtain a license certificate herein provided for, the owner of such stallion or jack shall have the same examined by a duly qualified veterinarian named by said board, or by some other inspector who shall be appointed by the board, and procure, from such veterinarian or inspector, a certificate of examination of such animal, and shall forward such certificate to said board; and in case of pure breeds, with said certificate so forwarded shall be transmitted the stud book certificate of registry of the pedigree of said animal, and in all cases such other necessary papers relating to the breeding and ownership of said animal.

2923. May withhold license. In all cases of doubt or suspicion as to the genuineness of the certificate of registration of any stallion or jack, the board of horse commissioners shall withhold the license of enrollment of such stallion or jack as a pure bred until they have investigated and have been furnished proof that said stallion or jack is the animal described in said certificate of registration.

2924. (1167x3.) Standards to be used. The officers of the board of horse commissioners, whose duty it shall be to examine and pass upon the merits of each pedigree submitted, shall use as their standard of action stud books and signatures of the duly authorized officers of the various American horse or jack pedigree associations, societies, or companies recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., and shall accept as pure bred and entitled to a license certificate as such, each stallion or jack for which a pedigree registry certificate is furnished, bearing the signature of the fully authorized officers of a government-recognized and approved American stud book.

2925. (1167x4.) Certificate to be recorded. The owner of any stallion or jack standing for public service shall cause the certificate of enrollment to be recorded with the recorder of deeds of the county in which said stallion or jack is used for public service in this state, and shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, copies of the license certificate of said stallion or jack issued under the provisions of the next preceding section, in a conspicuous place where said stallion or jack stands for public service.

2926. (1167x5.) Form of license certificate, for pure-bred animals. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding, and the pedigree of which is registered in a stud book recognized by the government department of agriculture, shall be in the following form:

STATE BOARD OF HORSE COMMISSIONERS.

Certificate of pure-bred stallion or jack No. ..... The pedigree of the stallion or jack ..... Name ..... Owned by ..... Described as follows: Color ..... Breed ..... Foaled in the year ..... has been examined by the state board of of horse commissioners of the state of Utah, and it is hereby certified that the said stallion or jack is of pure breeding, and is registered in a stud book recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

(Signature).....
Secretary state board of horse commissioners.

2927. The license certificate for a "no-standard" bred stallion shall be in the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF NON-STANDARD BRED STALLION.

No. ..... The pedigree of the stallion ..... Name ..... Described as follows: Color ..... Foaled in the year ..... has been examined by the state board of horse commissioners, and it is found that the said stallion is not eligible to registration as standard bred, and for the purpose of this license is not pure-bred, although recorded in the non-standard department of the American trotting register.

(Signature).....
Secretary state board of horse commissioners.

2928. (1167x6.) Id. For grade or mongrel. A certificate for a mongrel stallion or jack shall be in the following form:

BOARD OF HORSE COMMISSIONERS.

Certificate of grade or mongrel. No. ..... The pedigree of the stallion or jack ..... Name ..... Owned by ..... Described as follows: Color ..... Foaled in the year ..... has been examined by the board of horse commissioners in the state of Utah, and it is found that the stallion or jack is not of pure breeding, and is therefore not eligible for registration in any stud book recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

(Signature).....
Secretary state board of horse commissioners.

2929. (1167x7.) Advertising must contain copy of certificate. Every bill, poster, or advertisement issued by the owner of any stallion or jack under this title, or used by him for advertising such stallion or jack, shall contain a copy of its certificate of enrollment.

2930. (1167x8.) Fees. A fee of $10 shall be paid the inspector for making an examination, which he shall forward to the state board of horse commissioners within five days, to be placed in the horse commissioner's fund, and the certificate which he issues shall be made in triplicate, describing the animal fully, and containing a receipt for the fee. One of the triplicates shall be given the owner, one forwarded at once to the state board of horse commissioners, and one retained in the book. A fee of $2 shall be paid annually to the secretary of the board of horse commissioners for the renewal of this license, on or before the 1st day of March of each year, following the issuance of the certificate, and a failure to pay this fee forfeits the license. All owners of stallions and jacks registered under this title, on the death of such stallion or jack, must report such death to the secretary of the state board of horse commissioners, and forward the license certificate of said animal.

2931. (1167x9.) Transfer of ownership. Upon transfer of the ownership of any animal licensed under the provisions of this title, the license certificate shall be transferred by the secretary of the board to the buyer, upon submittal of proof of such transfer of ownership and upon payment of a fee of $2. In case a license certificate is lost or destroyed, and satisfactory proof of same is furnished, a new one shall be issued by the secretary on payment of a fee of $1.

2932. (1167x11.) Disposition of fees. The funds accruing from the above named fees shall be used by the state board of horse commissioners to defray the expenses of inspector's examination, or enrollment of pedigrees, and issuance of licenses. Any funds not so used shall be used to publish reports or bulletins containing lists of stallions and jacks examined; to encourage the horse and mule breeding interests of this state; to disseminate information pertaining to horse breeding, and for any other such purposes as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this title.

2933. (1167x10.) Lien for service. Every person in the state of Utah complying with the provisions of this title, and having obtained the license certificate for a pure-bred stallion or jack, registered in a government-approved stud book, shall have a lien on the mare and a first lien upon the offspring of such service, to the amount of the agreed service, for a period of eighteen months after service, and it shall not be necessary, in order to secure and fix said lien, to secure, file, or register any contract or statement thereof with any officer; nor shall it be necessary that the owner of such mare or foal execute any contract whatever; the said lien may be foreclosed in the same manner that a mortgage upon personal property is foreclosed.

2934. (1167x12.) Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title in any manner shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '07, p. 191.

2935. Renewal of certificates. All owners of stallions licensed under chap. 126 [Tit. 33; C. L. 1907] of Revised Statutes of Utah, at the time of approval of this title, may secure a certificate for same by paying the annual renewal fee of $2 and by turning in to the board of horse commissioners the old license certificate.

TITLE 45.

HOTELS AND LODGING HOUSES.

CHAPTER 1.

LIABILITY OF HOTEL KEEPERS.

('17, p. 22.)

2940. Keeping of safe or fireproof vault. Notice to guests. Liability limited. If an inn keeper, hotel keeper, boarding house or lodging house keeper, keeps on his premises a fireproof safe or vault, and gives notice to a guest, boarder, or lodger, by posting a copy of this chapter in a prominent or conspicuous place in the office of said inn, hotel, boarding house or lodging house, and in the room occupied by the guest, boarder, or lodger, that he keeps for the use of such guest, boarder, or lodger a fireproof safe or vault, and will not be liable for money, jewelry, documents, or other articles of unusual value and small compass, unless placed therein, he is not liable, except so far as his acts or the acts of his employes shall contribute thereto for any loss of or injury to such articles, if not deposited with him to be placed in such safe or vault, nor in any case more than the sum of $250 for any such property of any individual, guest, boarder, or lodger, unless he shall have given a receipt in writing therefor to such guest, boarder, or lodger, and the value of such article placed with him for safe keeping shall have been declared by such guest, boarder, or lodger.

CHAPTER 2.

INSPECTION OF HOTELS AND LODGING HOUSES.

('13, p. 145.)

2941. Hotel defined. Every building or other structure, and all buildings, in connection, kept, used, maintained as, or advertised as, or held out to the public to be a place where sleeping accommodations are furnished for pay to transient or permanent guests, in which five or more rooms are used for the accommodations thereof, shall for the purpose of this chapter be deemed hotels.

2942. Inspection certificate. No hotel shall be kept, maintained, or conducted in this state after this chapter takes effect without first procuring an inspection certificate therefor, and no such certificate license shall be transferable; provided, that no holder of a certificate under this chapter shall be relieved thereby from compliance with the ordinance of any town, city, or county in which the building is located or which such certificate is issued. Am'd '15, p. 55.

State food and dairy commissioner may employ inspectors, § 2954.

2944. Id. Application blank. The state dairy and food commissioner shall, upon request therefor, furnish to any person, firm, or corporation desiring to conduct a hotel the necessary application blank for inspection certificate, which the applicant shall fill in, stating the full name and address of the owner or agent of the building or the lessee or manager of such hotel, together with a full description of the building and property used, or to be used for such business, together with the location of the same, which application upon its return to the state dairy and food commissioner shall be accompanied by the inspection certificate fee provided for in § 2943.

2945. Dairy and food commissioner to inspect premises; to revoke license and prosecute. It is hereby made the duty of the state dairy and food commissioner to inspect or cause to be inspected, at least once each year, every hotel in this state, and for that purpose he shall have the right of entry and access thereto, at any reasonable time; and whenever, upon such inspection of any hotel, it shall be found that such business and property so inspected is not being conducted in the manner and condition provided by the provisions of this chapter, it shall thereupon be the duty of the state dairy and food commissioner to revoke the license provided in § 2943 and cause a criminal prosecution to be instituted against the person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this chapter.

2946. Sanitation. Every hotel in this state shall be properly lighted and ventilated, with strict regard for the health, comfort, and safety of the guests. Such proper lighting shall be construed to mean both daylight and illumination, and such proper plumbing shall be construed to mean that all plumbing and drainage shall be constructed and plumbed according to approved sanitary principles, and such proper ventilation shall be construed to mean at least one door and one window in each sleeping room. All sleeping room doors must be provided with sliding bolts.

2947. Id. Ventilation. No room shall be used for a sleeping room which does not open to the outside of the building or light wells, air shafts, or courts, and all sleeping rooms shall have at least one window and one door each.

2948. Sanitation. Closets. Lavatories. In all cities, towns, and villages where a system of waterworks is maintained for public use, every hotel therein operated shall, within six months after the passage of this chapter, be equipped with suitable water closets for the accommodation of its guests, which water closet or closets shall be connected by proper plumbing with sewerage system, if there be one, otherwise with a cesspool, and the means of flushing such water closets with the water of said system so as to prevent sewer gas or effluvia from arising therefrom. All lavatories, bath tubs, sinks, drains, and urinals in such hotels must be connected and equipped in a similar manner, both as to methods and times. In all cities, towns, and villages not having a system of waterworks, every hotel shall have properly constructed privies or over-vaults, which shall have tightly built backs, and which shall be kept clean and free from filth, and which shall have separate apartments for the sexes, each being properly designated. Am'd '15, p. 55.

2950. Public wash room. Each hotel in this state shall be provided with a main public wash room, convenient and easy of access to guests.

2951. Fire escapes. Within six months after the passage of this chapter, every hotel in this state which is more than two stories high, or any part of which hotel is more than two stories high, shall be equipped with an iron stairway or fire escape on the outside of the building, connecting on each floor above the ground floor and to the cornice of the building, with openings from each floor, which shall be well fastened and secured, with landings not less than six feet in length and three feet in width, guarded by an iron railing not less than thirty inches in height. Such landing shall be connected by iron stairs not less than two feet wide with steps not less than six inch treads and placed at an angle of not more than forty-five degrees. The way of egress to each fire escape shall be at all times kept free and clear of any and all obstructions of any and every nature. At every opening to every fire escape a red light shall be kept burning at night. There shall be one fire escape for each fifteen sleeping rooms on each floor. There shall be posted and maintained in conspicuous places in each hall and guest room, except in the hall and rooms on the ground floor of such hotel, plainly printed notices reading: "Fire escapes are indicated by red lights," provided, that hotels which, at the time this chapter takes effect, have complied with the ordinances of the cities or towns wherein they are situated relating to fire escapes and fire regulations shall be deemed to have complied with the regulations of this section. Cities and towns may, after this chapter takes effect, pass ordinances in relation to fire escapes on hotels, in addition to, but not to conflict with, the provisions of this section.

2952. Individual towels. In each bedroom or in each public washroom of every hotel of this state, between the hours of 6:30 a. m. and 9 p. m., there shall be furnished at least two clean individual towels for each guest, so that no guest will be required to use any except an individual towel, and such towels shall be at least ten inches wide and fifteen inches long after being washed.

2953. Clean bedding. Fumigation. All hotels shall provide each bed, bunk, cot, or other sleeping place for the use of guests with pillow slips and under and top sheets. Each over-sheet shall be not less than ninety-nine inches long after being washed, and of sufficient width to completely cover the mattress and springs. Said sheets and pillow slips shall be made of white cotton or linen, and after being used by one guest they shall be washed and ironed before they are furnished to another guest, a clean set being furnished to each guest. All bedding, including mattresses, quilts, blankets, pillows, sheets, and comforts used in any hotel in this state must be thoroughly aired and kept clean; provided, that no bedding, including mattresses, quilts, blankets, pillows, sheets, or comforts shall be used which are worn out or unfit for further use. Any room in any hotel in this state infested with vermin or bedbugs shall be fumigated, disinfected, and renovated until said vermin or bedbugs are exterminated. Also the floors, walls, and ceilings of all rooms in all hotels shall be kept clean and free from dirt and filth. Am'd '15, p. 55.

2954. Commissioner to employ assistants. The state dairy and food commissioner is hereby empowered to hire and appoint such office help and traveling inspectors as are necessary to carry out the terms of this chapter.

2955. Penalty. Any person, firm, association, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

2956. Appropriation. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter there is hereby appropriated the sum of $2000 annually, or so much thereof as may be necessary, out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

TITLE 46.

HUSBAND AND WIFE.

CHAPTER 1.

MARRIAGE.

2966. (1183.) Incestuous marriages. Marriages between parents and children, ancestors and descendants of every degree, brothers and sisters of the half as well as the whole blood, uncles and nieces, aunts and nephews, first cousins, or between any persons related to each other within and not including the fifth degree of consanguinity, computed according to the rules of civil law, are incestuous and void from the beginning, whether the relationship is legitimate or illegitimate. Am'd '07, p. 31.

2967. (1184.) Other void marriages. Marriages prohibited and declared void:

1. With an idiot, lunatic, or person afflicted with syphilis, or gonorrhea, that is uncured, or a person subject to chronic epileptic fits; provided, that the last qualification shall not apply to a female over the age of forty-five years;
2. When there is a husband or wife living from whom the person marrying has not been divorced;
3. When not solemnized by an authorized person, except as provided in § 2970;
4. When, at the time of marriage, the male is under sixteen or the female is under fourteen years of age;
5. Between a negro and a white person;
6. Between a Mongolian and a white person;
7. Between a divorced person and any person other than the husband or wife from whom the divorce was secured, within the period allowed for an appeal, and, if an appeal is taken, until after the affirmation of the decree of divorce. Am'd '07, p. 32; '09, p. 232.

Rohwer v. District Court, 41 U. 279; 125 P. 671. Custer v. Custer, 41 U. 575; 126 P. 880.

2968. (1185.) Children of bigamous marriages contracted in good faith. When a marriage is contracted in good faith and with the belief of the parties that a former husband or wife, then living and not legally divorced, was dead or legally divorced, the issue of such marriage, born or begotten before notice of the mistake, shall be the legitimate issue of both parents.

Rohwer v. District Court, 41 U. 279; 125 P.671.

2969. (1186.) Foreign marriages. Marriages solemnized in any other country, state, or territory, if valid where solemnized, are valid here.

2970. (1187.) Marriage in good faith before unauthorized person. No marriage solemnized before any person professing to have authority therefor shall be invalid for want of such authority, if it is consummated with the belief of the parties, or either of them, that he had authority and that they have been lawfully married.

2971. (1188.) Who may solemnize. Marriages shall be solemnized by the following persons only:

1. Ministers of the gospel or priests of any denomination, in regular communion with any religious society;

2. Justices of the peace, mayors of cities, and judges of the district and supreme courts.

2972. (1189.) Marriage license, when issued. No marriage shall be solemnized without a license therefor, issued by the county clerk of the county in which the female resides at the time; provided, that when she is of full age or a widow, and it is issued on her application in person, or by writing signed by her, it may be issued by the clerk of any county; and, provided, further, that any marriage consummated by virtue of any license issued by any district court, or clerk thereof, within this state, prior to the approval of this section, shall be, and is hereby declared valid and legal.

Am'd '03, p. 32.

A sealing ceremony in accordance with the usages of the Mormon church constituted the parties husband and wife, so as to entitle the woman to dower, though the ceremony was performed in contemplation of her immediate decease and solely for her celestial advantage.

Hilton v. Roylance, 25 U. 129; 69 P. 660.
Stewart v. Hilton, 25 U. 160; 69 P. 1134.

A marriage solemnized by a justice of the peace between a man and a plural wife, his legal wife being dead, for the purpose of disqualifying her as a witness, was invalid.

Riddle v. Riddle, 26 U. 268; 72 P. 1081.

In the absence of statutory requirement, a ceremony is not essential to the validity of a marriage. Cohabitation is not essential to the creation of the marriage status.

Hilton v. Roylance, 25 U. 129; 69 P. 660.

Prior to the enactment by congress of the Edmunds-Tucker law (Act March 3, 1887), the common law on the subject of marriage was in force in the territory of Utah.

Riddle v. Riddle, 26 U. 268; 72 P. 1081.

Marriage at common law does not arise unless the parties mutually agree to live together as husband and wife for life, to the exclusion of all others.

Id.

There can be no common law marriage between a man and a plural wife.

Id.

Prior to the act regulating marriages, the relation could be contracted by the mutual consent of parties capable of contracting, without ceremony or formality.

U. S. v. Simpson, 4 U. 227; 7 P. 257.

In a habeas corpus proceeding to obtain release of a juvenile delinquent from the state industrial school, evidence held insufficient to establish a legal marriage between the delinquent and the plaintiff.

Stoker v. Gowans, 45 U. 556; 147 P. 911.

2973. (1190.) Id. Minors. Consent of parent or guardian. If at the time of applying for license the male shall be under twenty-one or the female under eighteen years of age, and not before married, no license shall issue without the consent of his or her father, mother, or guardian, personally given or certified in writing to the clerk over his or her signature, attested by two or more subscribing witnesses, and proved by the oath of one of them, administered by any officer authorized by law to administer oaths; provided, that whenever such oath shall be administered and certified by a justice of the peace or other officer having no seal and residing outside of the county within which the license is to be issued, such oath and consent shall not be received nor filed, unless the signature and official capacity of the officer so administering and certifying such oath shall be certified by the county clerk of the county in which the officer so certifying resides, and attested by his seal.

2974. (1191.) Id. Parties unknown to clerk. When the parties are personally unknown to the clerk, a license shall not issue until an affidavit is made before the clerk, which shall be filed and preserved by him, by the party applying for such license, showing that there is no lawful reason in the way of such marriage. The party making such affidavit, or any subscribing witness, if he falsely swear therein, is guilty of perjury.

2975. (1192.) Return of license with certificate. The person solemnizing the marriage shall, within thirty days thereafter, return the license to the clerk of the county whence it issued, with a certificate of the marriage over his signature, giving the date and place of celebration and the names of two or more witnesses present at the marriage. For failing to make such return, he is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2976. (1193.) Id. Recording same. The license, together with the certificate of the person officiating at the marriage, shall be filed and preserved by the said clerk, and shall be recorded by him in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be properly indexed in the names of the parties so married.

2977. (1194.) Solemnizing marriage without license. Penalty. If any person shall solemnize a marriage without such license, he shall be imprisoned not less than one nor more than twelve months in the county jail, or fined not more than $1000, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

2978. (1195.) Id. Without authority. False personations. Penalty. If any person not authorized shall solemnize a marriage under pretense of having authority, or shall falsely personate the father, mother, or guardian in obtaining a license, or forge the name of any father, mother, or guardian to any writing purporting to give consent to such marriage, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding three years.

2979. (1196.) Id. Forbidden marriages. Penalty. If any authorized person shall knowingly, with or without license, solemnize a marriage such as is herein prohibited, he shall be imprisoned in the state prison not exceeding three years, or fined not exceeding $1000, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

2980. (1197.) Issuing license for prohibited marriage. Penalty. Every clerk or deputy clerk who shall knownigly issue a license for any prohibited marriage shall be punished by confinement in the state prison for a term not exceeding two years, or fined in any sum not exceeding $1000, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in case of conviction shall be expelled from his office by the judgment of the court before which his conviction is had; and if he wilfully issues a license contrary to his duty as herein prescribed he shall be fined not exceeding $1000.

CHAPTER 2.

PROPERTY RIGHTS.

2983. (1198.) Separate property of wife, control of. Real and personal estate of every female, acquired before marriage, and all property to which she may afterwards become entitled by purchase, gift, grant, inheritance, or devise, shall be and remain the estate and property of such female, and shall not be liable for the debts, obligations, or engagements of her husband, and may be conveyed, devised, or bequeathed by her as if she were unmarried.

Husband may not mortgage exempt chattels without consent of wife, § 486.
Property rights of married woman, Con. art. 22, sec. 2.
Homestead rights of married women, §§ 2862-2882, and notes.
Assignment of wages void unless wife joins, § 4385.
Husband's duty to support wife, § 8112.
Succession of married woman, §§ 6311, 6406-6412.
Decisions on dower right, etc., note to § 6406.
Married woman may sue and be sued as if unmarried, § 6497.
When married woman may defend for her husband, §§ 6498, 6499.
Judgment for or against a married woman rendered and enforced as if she were single, § 6858.
Where the husband and wife gave their joint note secured by mortgage upon two parcels of ground belonging to the husband and a third parcel belonging to the wife, for a debt of the husband; held, under the evidence, that the wife was a principal.
Kelly v. Kershaw, 5 U. 295; 14 P. 804.

While the statutes do not in express words repeal the common law rule that the husband is liable for the torts of the wife, it has made such modifications in the husband's rights and her disabilities as to wholly remove the reason for his liability.
Culmer v. Wilson, 13 U. 129; 44 P. 833.
Where a husband alone contracts to sell land, the wife cannot be compelled to convey her dower interest.
Kelsey v. Crowther, 7 U. 519; 27 P. 695.
Under C. L. 1888, § 2528, an abandoned wife could hold land adversely to her husband.

Wash. C. (1896) § 2164.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3397.
Under § 2528, C. L. 1888, a married woman could take real property by deed from her husband without the intervention of a trustee.
Cereghino v. Wagener, 4 U. 514; 11 P. 568.

2986. (1201.) Wife's wages. Her right to sue or defend. A wife may receive the wages for her personal labor, and maintain an action therefor in her own name, and hold the same in her own right, and may prosecute and defend all actions for the preservation and protection of her rights and property as if unmarried. There shall be no right of recovery by the husband on account of personal injury or wrong to his wife, or for expenses connected therewith, but the wife may recover against a third person for such injury or wrong as if unmarried, and such recovery shall include medical treatment and other expenses paid or assumed by the husband.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3408*.

2987. (1202.) Liability of husband or wife for debts of the other. Neither husband nor wife is liable for the debts or liabilities of the other incurred before marriage, and, except as herein otherwise declared, they are not liable for the debts of each other contracted after marriage, nor are the wages, earnings, or property of either, nor is the rent or income of the property of either, liable for the separate debts of the other.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3403.
Wash. C. (1896) § 2167*.

2988. (1203.) Husband or wife may sue the other. Should the husband or wife obtain possession or control of property belonging to the other before or after marriage, the owner of the property may maintain an action therefor, or for any right growing out of the same, in the same manner and to the extent as if they were unmarried.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3395.
Ill., Starr & Curtis' An. S. (1885) p. 1278.

2989. (1204.) Husband not liable for wife's torts. For civil injuries committed by a married woman, damages may be recovered from her alone, and her husband shall not be liable therefor, except in cases where he would be jointly liable with her if the marriage did not exist.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3396.
Ill., Starr & Curtis' An. S. (1885) P 1270.
A husband is not liable for the torts of his wife committed by her before marriage, while she was the wife of another man.
Culmer v. Wilson, 13 U. 129; 44 P. 833.

2990. (1205.) Acting as attorney in fact for the other. A husband or wife may constitute the other his or her attorney in fact, to control and dispose of his or her property for their mutual benefit or otherwise, and may revoke the appointment the same as other persons.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3401.
Ill., Starr & Curtis' An. S. (1885) p. 1279.

2991. (1206.) Severally liable for family expenses. The expenses of the family and the education of the children are chargeable upon the property of both husband and wife, or of either of them, and in relation thereto they may be sued jointly or separately.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3405.
Ill., Starr & Curtis' An. S. (1885) p. 1279.
It is the duty of a husband to provide his wife and children with a maintenance commensurate with his means and station.
Snow v. Snow, 13 U. 15; 43 P. 620.
The question whether the indebtedness was for necessaries is immaterial, if it was for legitimate and proper family expenses, but where a husband is permanently separated from his wife because of her excessive use of intoxicants, he is not liable for goods furnished during such separation
Berow v. Shields, 48 U. 270; 159 P. 538.

2992. (1207.) Right to occupy homestead. Neither the husband nor wife can remove the other or their children from their homestead without the consent of the other, unless the owner of the property shall, in good faith, provide another homestead suitable to the condition in life of the family; and if he abandons her, she is entitled to the custody of her minor children, unless a court of competent jurisdiction, upon application for that purpose, shall otherwise direct.

Iowa, McClains' An. C. (1888) § 3406*.
Ill., Starr & Curtis' An. S. (1885) p. 1279.
Homestead generally, §§ 2862-2882, and notes.
In case of separation, wife entitled to custody of minor children, § 3004.

CHAPTER 3.

DIVORCE, ETC.

2995. (1208.) Procedure. Residence. Causes. Proviso as to insane defendant. Proceedings in divorce shall be commenced and conducted in the manner provided by law for the proceedings in civil cases, except as hereinafter provided, and the court may decree a dissolution of the marriage contract between the plaintiff and defendant in all cases where the plaintiff, for one year next prior to the commencement of the action, shall have been an actual and bona fide resident of the county within the jurisdiction of the court, for any of the following causes, to wit:

1. Impotency of the defendant at the time of marriage;
2. Adultery committed by defendant subsequent to marriage;
3. Wilful desertion of plaintiff by defendant for more than one year;
4. Wilful neglect of defendant to provide for plaintiff the common necessaries of life;
5. Habitual drunkenness of defendant;
6. Conviction of defendant for felony;
7. Cruel treatment of plaintiff by the defendant to the extent of causing bodily injury or great mental distress to plaintiff;
8. Permanent insanity of defendant; provided, that no divorce shall be granted on the grounds of insanity unless, first, the defendant shall have been duly and regularly adjudged to be insane by the legally constituted authorities of this or some other state at least five years prior to the commencement of the action; second, unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court, by the testimony of competent witnesses, that the insanity of the defendant is incurable. In all such actions, the court shall appoint for the defendant a guardian ad litem, who shall take such measures as may be necessary and proper to protect the interests of the defendant; and a copy of the summons and complaint must be duly served on the defendant in person, or by publication, as provided for by the laws of this state in other actions for divorce, on his guardian ad litem, and on the county attorney for the county in which such action is prosecuted; it shall be the duty of such county attorney to make an investigation into the merits of the case, and, if defendant resides out of this state, have a commission issued to take such depositions as are necessary for that purpose, and to attend the court upon the trial of said cause, and make such defense therein as may be just and proper to protect the rights of the defendant and the interest of the state. In all such actions the court and judge thereof shall have all the powers relative to the payment of alimony, the distribution of property, and the custody and maintenance of minor children which such courts now have or may hereafter possess in other actions for divorce. Either the plaintiff or defendant, or legal representatives shall, if the defendant resides in this state, upon proper notice, be entitled to have the defendant brought into the court upon the trial or to have an examination of the defendant by two or more competent physicians, to determine the mental condition of the defendant, and for such purpose either party may, upon application, have process from the court to enter any asylum or institution within the state where such defendant may be confined. The costs of court in such action shall be assessed or apportioned by the court according to the equities of the case, as may be just and proper.

Separate maintenance, § 3010.

Divorce jurisdiction of the territorial district and probate courts.

Cast v. Cast, 1 U. 112.

Whitmore v. Hardin, 3 U. 121; 1 P. 465.

Kenyon v. Kenyon, U. 431; 24 P. 829.

A decree of divorce entered by a probate judge while lawfully exercising jurisdiction is a decree of a court of general jurisdiction importing absolute verity, and cannot be attacked in a collateral proceeding.

Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 279; 42 P. 1121.

The granting of a legislative divorce in Idaho was not a rightful subject of legislation under sec. 1851, U. S. Revised Status.

Higbee v. Higbee, 4 U. 19; 5 P. 693.

Statute of limitations does not apply to actions for divorce.

Tufts v. Tufts, 8 U. 142; 30 P. 309.

A decree granted without jurisdiction of the subject matter or of the person, or without cause of divorce stated and without proof, is absolutely void, and such decree cannot be validated or confirmed by subsequent legislative enactment.

In re Christiansen, 17 U. 412; 53 P. 1003.

Where plaintiff resided in state for statutory period, and defendant, a non-resident, appeared and surrendered to the court's jurisdiction, the court had jurisdiction to decide the whole case on the merits, and, if necessary, grant a decree to her on her cross complaint, and proceed under §§ 2998, 3000 to make such order and award as to the children, property, alimony, etc., as is equitable.

Fisk v. Fisk, 24 U. 333; 67 P. 1064.

Where, in an action for divorce, the defendant appears and joins issue by answer, the nature of the proceeding is thereby changed from a proceeding in rem to one in personam.

Gibbs v. Gibbs, 26 U. 382; 73 P. 641.

The district court of a county in which plaintiff resided for statutory period had jurisdiction of the subject matter of an action for divorce for adultery committed in another county.

Id.

Where a husband and wife were married and resided in Utah, where the husband abandoned the wife, the matrimonial domicile was in that state, which was all that was essential to confer jurisdiction on its courts to decree a divorce, though the husband could not be personally served there.

State ex rel. v. Morse, 31 U. 213; 87 P. 705.

A decree of divorce obtained by collusion of the parties, or by the suppression of the facts, or false testimony, is a fraud upon the court and against public policy.

Karren v. Karren, 25 U. 87; 69 P. 465.

An instrument, whereby a wife released her one-third interest for a sum of money on an understanding that the husband should apply for a divorce and that the wife should make no defense thereto, was void as against public policy.

In re Bell's Estate, 29 U. 1; 80 P. 615.

Palmer v. Palmer, 26 U. 31; 72 P. 3.

A "church divorce" of the Mormon church, whereby parties who have been sealed as husband and wife under Mormon sealing ordinance, under the authority and with the consent of the church, attempt to dissolve their marital relations, is not a valid divorce, although the parties believe it to be valid and thereafter go through another marriage ceremony with other parties.

Hilton v. Roylance, 25 U. 129; 69 P. 660.

While a husband or wife, or both, may violate the terms and obligations of their marriage contract, yet neither one, nor both combined, can rescind or modify it except as provided by the law of the land.

Palmer v. Palmer, 26 U. 31; 72 P. 3.

Hilton v. Roylance, 25 U. 129; 69 P. 660.

Norton v. Tufts, 19 U. 470; 57 P. 409.

Adultery may be proved in divorce case by circumstantial evidence.

Griffin v. Griffin, 18 U. 98; 55 P. 84.

Where, in an action for divorce on the ground of cruelty, the evidence of defendant, not denied by plaintiff, showed that plaintiff had frequently struck defendant when intoxicated, the divorce was properly denied, though cruelty as alleged had been committed by defendant.

Hartwell v. Hartwell, 25 U. 41; 69 P. 265.

In a suit by the wife for divorce, findings that the husband wilfully and without excuse had deserted plaintiff, and failed to support her and their children, though he had the ability to do so, and that plaintiff was financially unable to maintain the children, are insufficient to warrant a decree granting a divorce but awarding the custody of the children to the husband.

Stover v. Stover, 24 U. 92; 66 P. 766.

The courts have jurisdiction of an action for divorce against a non-resident defendant by constructive service, although the marriage was not solemnized within the state and no matrimonial domicile had therein.

Schaffer v. Ritchie, Dist. Judge, 49 U. 111; 162 P. 618.

When a divorce is sought upon the ground of permanent insanity, to confer jurisdiction it is essential that the defendant be personally served within the state.

Id.

A complaint for cruelty causing great mental distress, alleging that the wife was unduly familiar with other men, and especially with N., and that she refused to live longer with the complainant, and left him, and moved to S., where she is constantly in company with N., and the complainant gave her no cause for her conduct, is insufficient.

Benson v. Benson, 45 U. 514; 146 P. 564.

Being occasionally drunk does not constitute habitual drunkenness as a ground for divorce; there must be a confirmed habit.

Holm v. Holm, 44 U. 242; 139 P. 937.

Cruelty by a wife, constituting a cause of divorce hereunder, is established by evidence that she has transferred her affections to another, has refused to discontinue her manifestations of friendship for him and her visits and associations with him.

Id.

Where a wife, without foundation, accused her husband of numerous acts of sexual immorality, demanded that his employers discharge him, characterized him as nō better than a convict, charged him with failure to support her, employed detectives to trail him, and sought his arrest on criminal charges, her acts constituted cruelty causing great mental distress.

Doe v. Doe, 48 U. 200; 158 P. 781.

2996. (1208x.) Decrees validated. All decrees of divorce heretofore made and entered by the courts of this state under § 2995 where constructive service of the summons on the defendant was had are hereby validated and confirmed, and shall have the same force and effect as though they had been granted after the enactment of this chapter. '17, p. 383.

2997. (1209.) Husband may obtain divorce. The husband may in all cases obtain a divorce from his wife for the like causes, and in the same manner as the wife obtains a divorce from her husband.

2998. (1210.) Temporary alimony. The court may order either party to pay to the clerk a sum of money for the separate support and maintenance of the adverse party and the children, and to enable such party to prosecute or defend the action.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3417.

Alimony in suit for separate maintenance, § 3010.

On motion made in the supreme court in a proper case temporary alimony and counsel fees will be allowed.

Cast v. Cast, 1 U. 112.

2999. (1211.) Complaint. Testimony. Decrees. The complaint or petition shall be in writing and verified by the oath of plaintiff, and no decree in divorce shall be granted upon default or otherwise, except upon legal testimony taken in the cause; and all hearings and trials for divorce shall be had before the court, and not before a master, referee, or any other delegated representative; and the court, in all cases in divorce, shall make and file its findings and decrees upon the testimony. '09, p. 82.

3000. (1212.) Disposal of children and property. When an interlocutory decree of divorce is made, the court may make such order in relation to the children, property, parties, and the maintenance of the parties and children as shall be equitable; provided, that if any of the children have attained the age of ten years and are of sound mind, such children shall have the privilege of selecting to which of the parents they will attach themselves. Subsequent changes, or new orders, may be made by the court in respect to the disposal of the children or the distribution of property, as shall be reasonable and proper. '09, p. 233.

In case of separation, mother entitled to children, § 3004.

Children of twelve years have right to select which parent to live with, § 3004.

Disposal of children and property in separate maintenance proceeding, § 3012.

The right to alimony follows as a matter of course, if the respondent is entitled to a decree of divorce.

Cast v. Cast, 1 U. 112.

Allowance for child is not a final judgment that may be appealed from.

Thompson v. Thompson, 5 U. 401; 16 P. 400.

Defendant properly adjudged guilty of contempt for refusal to pay alimony.

In re Kelsey, 12 U. 393; 43 P. 106.

Snow v. Snow, 13 U. 43 P. 620.

Whether a divorced wife and minor children are entitled to alimony, after husband's death, depends upon the terms of the decree.

Murphy v. Moyle, 17 U. 113; 53 P. 1010.

A provision in a decree that the father shall pay a certain monthly sum towards support of minor children during their minority is not discharged by his death, but performance may be enforced out of his estate for the time of minority.

Id.

Where there is danger that the husband will dispose of his property by conveyance or squander it, so that nothing will remain upon which decree can operate, the court may require him to furnish security for its performance.

Id.

A general rule for allowance of alimony is one-third of husband's property, or one-third of his income.

Griffin v. Griffin, 18 U. 98; 55 P. 84.

A husband is not entitled to alimony or an allowance except as provided by statute.

Hoagland v. Hoagland, 19 U. 103; 57 P. 20.

Court authorized to make such disposition of children and property as was equitable and just, even though defendant was a non-resident; she having appeared and submitted herself to the jurisdiction of the court.

Fisk v. Fisk, 24 U. 333; 67 P. 1064.

Custody of minor child; when party at fault should be allowed to see child.

Griffin v. Griffin, 18 U. 98; 55 P. 84.

Held, improper and inconsistent to grant wife a divorce for husband's fault and then award children to husband.

Stover v. Stover, 24 U. 92; 66 P. 766.

Subsequent changes in decree in respect to disposal of children, etc., can only be granted in the suit in which the divorce decree was granted.

Karren v. Karren, 25 U. 87; 69 P. 465.

After a decree of divorce and division of property the court may modify its order in relation to the distribution of the property.

Whitemore v. Hardin, 3 U. 121; 1 P. 465.

The provisions of this section authorize the court to make such changes in the amount of alimony awarded in the decree as will be just to both parties, in view of their changed condition.

Read v. Read, 28 U. 297; 78 P. 675.

The question of alimony and the fixing of the amount thereof rest in the discretion of the trial court, and, in the absence of abuse of discretion, its judgment will not be disturbed on appeal.

Id.

Though a divorce decree directed that plaintiff husband should pay to a third person for the use and benefit of the minor children a certain sum per month until each of the children should become of the age of eighteen years, yet such third person was without right to maintain an action to recover the same; the right of action therefor being in the defendant wife.

Hunt v. Monroe, 32 U. 428; 91 P. 269.

Under this section as amended, the amount of alimony to be awarded is within the discretion of the trial court, and will not be disturbed without a clear showing of abuse.

Blair v. Blair, 40 U. 306; 121 P. 19.

A wife who was granted no alimony when the interlocutory decree of divorce was entered will not thereafter be granted it on petition.

Cody v. Cody, 47 U. 456; 154 P. 952.

The court may modify the decree by reducing the alimony, though the husband admitted that the amount allowed would be reasonable.

Buzzo v. Buzzo, 45 U. 625; 148 P. 362.

A complaint for divorce alleging that complainant conveyed his property to his wife in trust for the children, and that he verily believes that she would transfer said land and dissipate the proceeds, is insufficient to authorize any relief, and where the complaint failed there can be no judgment awarding the cancellation of the conveyance.

Benson v. Benson, 45 U. 514; 146 P. 564.

Though divorce is granted to a husband, custody of the children may temporarily be given to the mother, and the husband required to contribute to their support.

Holm v. Holm, 44 U. 242; 139 P. 937.

This section is not conclusive on the question of the custody and control. If the parent the child selects is found to be an immoral, or an unfit person to have the care and custody of the child, and the court finds it for the best interest of the child to be placed elsewhere.

Dorsey v. Dorsey, 51 U. —; 172 P. 722.

Where the father who is found by the court to be of a good moral character, stipulates that the custody of the child may be with the mother, it requires very strong and positive evidence to justify the court in granting the custody of the child to another.

Id.

3001. Interlocutory decree. If, after the hearing of any divorce cause, the court shall be of the opinion that the divorce ought to be granted to either person, a decree shall be entered granting to such person a divorce; but the said decree shall specifically provide that it shall not become absolute until the expiration of six months from the date of its entry.

'09, p. 231; am'd '13, p. 76.

The interlocutory decree is a final decree determining the issues and the respective rights and interests of the parties, and there is a right of appeal therefrom which must be taken within six months from the entry thereof, and such proceedings are not reviewable on an apeal from the absolute or final decree.
Parsons v. Parsons, 40 U. 203; 122 P. 907.

3002. Id. Becomes absolute, when. The decree of divorce shall become absolute after the expiration of six months from the entry thereof, unless proceedings for a review are pending, or the court before the expiration of said period for sufficient cause, upon its own motion or upon the application of any party, whether interested or not, otherwise orders. '09, p. 231; am'd '13, p. 76.

Where the appeal is taken within six months after the final, and more than six months after the interlocutory, decree, and attacked the sufficiency of the evidence to support the findings, but not the sufficiency of the findings to support the decree, there was nothing for review.
Pike v. Pike, 41 U. 589; 128 P. 520.

3003. Unlawful for divorced persons to marry, when. It shall be unlawful for either party to a divorce proceeding, whose marriage is dissolved by the final decree provided for by § 3002, to marry any person other than the husband or wife from whom the divorce was granted, within the period allowed for an appeal from such final decree under the code of civil procedure, and if an appeal from such final decree be taken, until after the affirmance of such decree; and any marriage contracted in violation of the provisions of this section shall be null and void. '09, p. 232.

Disposal of children and property, § 3000. Children of ten years have right to select parent to live with, § 3000.

3005. (1213.) Guilty party. When a divorce is decreed, the guilty party forfeits all rights acquired by marriage.

AVOIDANCE OR AFFIRMANCE OF MARRIAGE.

3006 (1214.) When validity uncertain. Procedure. When doubt is felt as to the validity of a marriage, either party may, in a court of equity, demand its avoidance or affirmance, but when one of the parties was within the age of consent at the time of the marriage, the other party, being of proper age, shall have no such proceeding for that cause against the party under age.

3007. (1215.) When obtained by force or fraud. Minors. Courts having general equity jurisdiction may declare void a marriage obtained by force, or fraud, or where the male was under sixteen or the female under fourteen years of age at the time of the marriage, and the marriage was without the consent of the father, mother, guardian, or other person having the proper charge of his or her person, and has not been ratified by cohabitation after that age.

CHAPTER 4.

SEPARATE MAINTENANCE.

3010. (1216.) Neglected or deserted wife. Alimony. Whenever a husband, being a resident of this state, shall have deserted his wife without good and sufficient cause, or, being of sufficient ability to support her, shall have neglected or refused to properly provide for and suitably maintain her, or, having property within this state, and the wife being a resident of this state, shall have so deserted or neglected or refused to provide for her, or where a married woman, without her fault, now lives or may hereafter live separate and apart from her husband, the district court shall, on the application of the wife, allot, assign, set apart, and decree to her as alimony, the use of such part of her husband's real and personal estate or earnings as the court may determine in its discretion; and, during the pendency of the proceedings, the court may require the husband to pay such sums for costs, expenses, and attorney's fees, and for the support of the wife as it shall deem necessary and proper, in like manner as in actions for divorce.

Husband's duty to support wife, § 8112.
Divorce, grounds for, § 2995.

Though a husband is under a moral obligation to support his plural wives and their children, he is under no legal obligation to do so. Riddle v. Riddle, 26 U. 268; 72 P. 1081.

Where the husband neglects the wife, attends dances, ball games, picture shows, and insists that she was not sick, and should go with him, and came home drunk, and used abusive language toward her, and swore and raved, as a result of which she was in a nervous condition, and had convulsions, which was affecting her health, and he boasted when he came back from a trip up the canyon, that he slept with a woman, sufficiently justifies findings and judgment for separate maintenance. Willardson v. Willardson, 51 U. ——; 172 P. 719.

3011. (1217.) Procedure. In all cases commenced pursuant to the preceding section, the proceedings and practice therein shall be the same, as near as may be, as is now or hereafter may be provided by law in actions for divorce; but suit may be brought either in the county where the wife resides or in any county in which the husband may be found.

3012. (1218.) Disposal of children and property. Subsequent changes. In all actions brought pursuant to this chapter the court may order and decree concerning the care, custody, and maintenance of the minor children of the parties, and may determine with which of the parties, the children or any of them shall remain, and may assign and decree to the wife the possession of any of the real or personal estate of the husband, and may decree the payment of a fixed sum of money for the support of the wife and minor children, and provide that the payment of the same be secured upon real estate or otherwise, the payment to be made at such times and in such manner as may be proper, and may enforce the performance of such decree by the sale of the real estate of the husband, or by any proceedings in contempt or otherwise as may be necessary. And the court shall have the power to change the allowance from time to time, according to circumstances, or may revoke such allowance altogether upon satisfactory proof of a voluntary and permanent reconciliation; provided, that such allowance shall be only during the joint lives of such husband and wife.

Disposal of children and property on divorce, § 3000.

3013. (1219.) Restraining disposal of property. At the time of filing the complaint mentioned in § 3010, or at any time subsequent thereto, the plaintiff may procure from the court and file with the county recorder of any county in the state in which the defendant may own real estate, an order enjoining and restraining the defendant from disposing of or incumbering the same or any portion thereof, describing such real estate with reasonable certainty, and from the time of filing such order the property described therein shall be charged with a lien in favor of the plaintiff to the extent of any judgment which may be rendered in the action.

3014. (1220.) Dependent husband. Effect of imprisonment. Like rights and remedies shall be extended to a dependent husband in case he shall be deserted by, or with just cause live apart from, his wife; and, to either husband or wife, on the imprisonment of the other in the state prison under a sentence of one year or more, when suitable provision has not been made for the support of one not so imprisoned.

TITLE 47.

IMMIGRATION, LABOR, AND STATISTICS—BUREAU OF.

('11, p. 185.)

3024. (2427x.) Bureau created. A state bureau of immigration, labor, and statistics is hereby created and established, and said bureau shall be under the control of a commissioner. '11, p. 185.

Duty of bureau imposed on industrial commission, subs. 7 and 9, § 3076.

Originally it was bureau of statistics, and enlarged, '11, p. 185.

3025. Appointment of commissioner. Term. Salary and expenses. Deputies. It shall be the duty of the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, to appoint a competent person as commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics, who shall have charge of said bureau, and who shall hold office for a term of two years, or until his successor shall have qualified. He shall receive a salary of $2400 per annum, and all necessary traveling expenses, not exceeding $600 per annum, while traveling in the discharge of his official duties. The commissioner shall have power to appoint two deputy commissioners, one of whom shall be a woman, and they shall receive a salary each of $1000 per annum; the commissioner shall appoint one of said deputies as the chief clerk of said bureau, who shall receive an additional salary of $800 per annum. The salaries of the commissioner and deputy commissioners shall be paid monthly. Before entering upon the duties of his office the commissioner shall take oath for faithful discharge of the duties thereof, the same as other state officers.

Am'd '11, p. 185; '13, p. 119; '15, p. 70.

3026. (2427x1.) Duties. It shall be, and is hereby made, the duty of said commissioner to collect and compile and present in annual reports to the governor all reliable data and information at his command, concerning the climate, soil, and various resources of the state, its agricultural, horticultural, mineral, timber, and grazing lands, and commercial industries and the development thereof; the water courses and lakes of the state in reference to irrigation, manufacturing, mechanical, and other uses, the various crop products and adaptibility of the different soils and localities for the production of different crops; the number, kinds, and value of domestic animals in the state, with useful information regarding the same, the number of public schools, educational institutions, churches, charitable and fraternal organizations, health and pleasure resorts, and vital health statistics of the state, the number and mileage of railroads and other transportation lines, the number and capacity of irrigation canals and the land covered by same, the number and location of newspapers and periodicals in the state, the amount of public and school lands, those belonging to various public institutions of the state, the wages and hours of labor, both skilled and common, and its relation to capital; and, generally, any information which, if disseminated abroad, would tend to the development of the state by inducing population and capital to come within its borders. Said commissioner shall also inform himself in regard to suitable locations for agricultural and horticultural colonies in the state, and use all facilities at his command for encouraging and promoting desirable enterprises of this kind. To this end he shall endeavor to secure low rates of transportation favorable to immigration by urging the co-operation of railroads and other corporations interested in the settlement of the state. He should also open correspondence with and answer any and all inquiries from those seeking information in regard to the resources of the state; he shall, whenever practicable, and when funds are available for such purpose, organize and encourage local exhibits at such points as would tend to advertise the resources of the state.

Am'd '11, p. 185.

Commissioner to enforce minimum wage act, § 3674.

3027. Id. Enforcement of labor laws. It shall be the duty of the commissioner and his deputies to investigate and report to the proper authorities all violations of law regarding the conditions surrounding the employment of children, minors, and women, and the laws established for the protection of all employes in factories, mines, mills, and other institutions where labor is employed, and to make such recommendation in relation thereto as they may deem proper for the protection of employes. In case any owner or occupant, or their agent, shall refuse to admit any officer of said bureau to their workshop or factory, mine or smelter, store or hotel, when open or in operation, or shall refuse to submit their payroll or register showing the number of hours each employe works, or shall wilfully give false information concerning the same, they shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor for each and every offense, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50 nor less than $10, or to imprisonment not to exceed fifteen days, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

3028. Id. May do all things necessary. With the approval of the state board of examiners, said commissioner is authorized and empowered to do any and all things necessary to make a full and complete investigation of the matters and things hereinbefore enumerated, and to that end to employ the necessary clerical assistance, and to provide the necessary office room, stationery, printing, blank forms, and other incidental matters required to carry into effect the provisions of this title. '11, p. 185.

3029. (2427x2.) Id. Witnesses. The commissioner of the bureau of statistics shall have power to issue subpœnas, administer oaths, and take testimony in all matters relating to the duties herein required by said bureau, said testimony to be taken in some suitable place in the vicinity to which testimony is applicable. Witnesses subpœnaed and testifying before the commissioner of the bureau shall be paid the same fees as witnesses before a justice's court, such payment to be made out of the contingent fund of the bureau in advance, but such expense for witnesses shall not exceed $100 annually. Any person duly subpœnaed under the provisions of this section, who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to attend or testify at the time and place named in the subpœna, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $50 and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days; provided, however, that no witness shall be compelled to go outside the county in which he resides to testify. '01, p. 47.

3030. (2427x4.) Information confidential. In the reports of the commissioner no use shall be made of names of individuals, firms, or corporations supplying the information called for by this chapter, such information being deemed confidential and not for the purpose of disclosing personal affairs; and any officer or employe of the bureau of statistics violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $500 and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year. '01, p. 48.

3031. (2427x5.) Documents to be held two years. No report or return made to said bureau in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and no schedule, record, or document gathered or returned by its officers or employes, shall be destroyed within two years of the collection or receipt thereof. At the expiration of two years all records, schedules, or papers accumulating in said bureau during said period, that may be considered of no value by the commissioner, may be destroyed; provided, the authority of the state senate be first obtained for such destruction. '01, p. 48.

3032. (2427x6.) Information, how obtained. Said bureau may collect the information called for by this chapter, or such information as the commissioner shall consider essential to perfect the work of the bureau, from the several state, county, city, town, precinct, and school district officers, and from officers of prisons, penal and reformatory institutions; and it shall be the duty of all such officers to furnish, upon the written or printed request of the commissioner, such information as shall be considered necessary for the purposes of this chapter, upon blanks furnished by said bureau. Each owner, operator, or manager of industrial, mining, or agricultural business, or other person having information necessary to the work of the bureau of statistics, shall, upon the request of the commissioner, furnish the same, upon blanks to be provided by the said bureau. Each owner, operator, or manager of any industrial, mining, or agricultural business, or any person having information necessary to the work of the bureau, who fails or refuses to furnish the information so requested, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not less than $10 nor more than $100, and costs of prosecution. '01, p. 48; '03, p. 72.

3033. (2427x7.) County assessor to get statements. Blank form. Each county assessor, or his deputies, at the time of taking lists of property for taxation in each year, shall require each person, company, and corporation in his county or district to make a statistical statement of the previous year, as indicated on blanks furnished by the bureau, as follows:

Agriculture: Number of acres and production per acre of each kind of crop; number of acres of different kinds of pasture; number of fleeces of wool and average weight of the same; name of manager of farm; size of farm; quantity of land under fence; quantity of land not under fence; quantity of land under cultivation; assessed value of farm and farming implements; number of different kinds of livestock, poultry, stands of bees; amount of honey produced; number of acres of nurseries, orchards, and vineyards, with the production thereof and the amount of capital invested therein; number of mules, horses, cattle, sheep, and hogs, subdivided into the breeds or classes where they belong; number and value of slaughtered animals; canals, reservoirs, etc., constructed and the cost thereof; and such other agricultural information as shall be practicable in discharge of their duties. The county assessor shall return such statements to the state bureau of statistics on or before the 1st day of July of each year. '01, p. 48; '03, p. 73.

3034. (2427x8.) Industrial and mining. The commissioner of the bureau shall require each person, company, and corporation engaged in industrial or mining pursuits in the state to make statistical statements, as indicated on blanks furnished by the bureau, as follows:

Industries: Number of establishments; name and postoffice address of corporation, company, or individual producing; name of business; kind of motive power; average number and sex of hands employed; capital invested; raw material used; product; number of flouring mills, woolen mills, saw mills, and factories of different classes; number of pounds of cheese and butter produced in factories; number and kind of cows used; number of mercantile establishments and average number of employes in each; amount of capital invested; number of work shops and average number of employes; minimum wages; maximum wages; average wages; number of hours per day employes are required to work.

Mining: Quantity of precious or other metals or minerals produced or handled; capital employed; approximate area of property; area of undeveloped property.

In addition, each person, company, and corporation engaged in industrial or mining business shall furnish such other information as shall be requested on the blanks provided by the bureau therefor. '01, p. 49; '03, p. 73.

TITLE 48.

INDIAN WARS.

CHAPTER 1.

COMMISSIONER OF INDIAN WAR RECORDS .

3040. Office created. There is hereby created a commissioner, to be known as commissioner of Indian war records, to consist of the adjutant-general of the state, who shall be the custodian of the records thereof.

3041. Duties. The duties of said commissioner shall be to ascertain the names of persons who were members of any organization performing military duty during any of the Indian wars or expeditions against the Indians, or who performed the duties of home guard as members of any organization doing military duty during the time of any Indian wars or expeditions in this state, and to ascertain the character of the service rendered, the duration of same, with what organization and the name of the commanding officer under whom such service was rendered, and such other facts relating to such service as the commissioner shall deem proper.

3042. Oath. Testimony. Witnesses. The commissioner shall have power, by virtue of his office, to administer oaths, take testimony, and subpœna witnesses.

3043. Facts to be supported by two witnesses. The facts relating to service of any person, as hereinbefore set forth, shall be supported by at least two reputable witnesses made before said commissioner, or any officer having a seal authorized to administer oaths, and shall be by said commissioner reduced to writing, and attested by the seal of said commissioner, and filed in the office of said commissioner.

3044. Seal. Description. The seal of said commissioner shall be circular in form, one and three-eighths inches in diameter, a circle within a circle, and between which circles shall be impressed the words "commissioner of Indian war records. Seal," and within the inner circle shall be impressed the word "Utah."

3045. Rules and regulations. The commissioner shall have power to prescribe such rules, regulations, and forms as he may deem necessary and proper regarding the taking of testimony and the preservation of all Indian war records.

3046. Expenses. The expenses of said commissioner, including the publishing and binding of such records, shall be allowed by the state board of examiners and paid, upon verified vouchers, in the manner provided by law.

3047. Appropriation. The sum of $500, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated for the expenses of said commissioner.

Appropriation for Indian war veterans, §§ 3050-3053. Veterans fund, §§ 3055-3058.

CHAPTER 2.

APPROPRIATION FOR INDIAN WAR VETERANS.

('13, p. 200.)

3050. Compensation of veterans. Each veteran who performed actual service in any of the Indian wars of the territory of Utah, in the regular militia of the territory, or if he be dead then his widow, shall receive from the state of Utah compensation as follows:

1. For expeditionary service while in the field away from home: (a) Cavalry, infantrymen, buglers, teamsters, and musicians at the rate of $40 per month. (b) For the use and risk of each horse at the rate of $15 per month.

2. Home guard service: Cavalrymen and infantrymen at the rate of $20 per month.

The foregoing schedule for services shall govern without regard to the rank in which the person served; provided, that no person shall be paid for any service for which he has heretofore received payment, and provided further that in no case shall payment be made to any one for a period exceeding one month; and provided, further, that the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any person who has been granted a pension from the United States; and provided, further, that payments hereunder shall not be held to bar further payments in the future for services longer than one month as shown by the records hereinafter mentioned.

Commissioner of Indian war records, §§ 3040-3043.

3051. Affidavit of service. Adjutant-general to disburse funds. The affidavits of service in Indian wars in the territory of Utah on file in the office of the adjutant-general of the state of Utah shall be deemed conclusive proof of service therein respectively mentioned, such affidavits having been compiled by the commissioners of Indian war records as authorized heretofore by the governor and legislature of the state of Utah. The funds hereby provided for and appropriated shall be disbursed by the adjutant-general of the state of Utah. Upon the filing of proof of identity by any person rendering such service with the adjutant-general, he shall immediately list said person, showing the amount due hereunder; at the end of ninety days from the taking effect of this chapter the adjutant-general shall disburse said fund on a pro-rata basis, paying to each veteran his proportionate amount of the sum hereby appropriated.

3052. Manner of identification. Identification may be made as follows:

1. Of the person rendering the service: By certificate of such person attested by two responsible witnesses.

2. Of a widow of the person rendering the service when the proof was filed by the widow: The certificate of said widow attested by two responsible witnesses.

3. Of a widow of the person rendering services when such person has died since the filing of proof of service: By certificate of such widow attested by two responsible witnesses, or by certified copy of marriage record of the widow to the deceased.

The proof in all cases shall be filed within ninety days from the taking effect of this chapter.

3053. Appropriation. How drawn. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter. The state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the adjutant-general for the sum hereby appropriated.

CHAPTER 3.

INDIAN WAR VETERANS' FUND.

('17, p. 72.)

3055. Fund created. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the indian war veterans' fund, said fund to consist of any moneys appropriated by the state for the purposes set out in this chapter, and any money appropriated or advanced by the government of the United States for disbursements among the Indian war veterans, or persons herein mentioned, and any other funds donated or acquired for said purposes.

Commissioner of Indian war records, §§ 3040-3043.

3056. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated from the general funds of the state, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $25,000, to be placed to the credit of the Indian war veterans' fund.

3057. Disbursement. The state board of examiners is hereby authorized and empowered to disburse the Indian war veterans' fund to veterans who have performed actual service in any of the Indian wars of the territory of Utah while such veterans were members of the regular militia of the territory, or to the wives or widows of such veterans, as compensation for the services of such veterans.

3058. State board of examiners to approve claims. The state board of examiners shall examine into and investigate the merits and claims of any person applying for a share of the Indian war veterans' fund. The findings of the said state board of examiners in regard to these matters shall be final. If, in the opinion of the state board of examiners, any person applying for a portion of the Indian war veterans' fund shall be entitled thereto, the state board of examiners shall determine the amount to be disbursed to such person, and upon such determination the state auditor shall draw his warrant upon the state treasurer for such amount in favor of the person so entitled; provided, however, that no disbursements in excess of the amount of money available in said fund shall be made.

TITLE 49.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

('17, p. 306.)

3061. Commission Created. Membership. Terms. There is hereby created the industrial commission of Utah, to be composed of three members, who shall be appointed by the governor within thirty days after this title goes into effect. Two of the members of such commission shall be appointed for the term of two years and one for four years, and thereafter each member shall be appointed, with the advice and consent of the senate, for the term of four years. Not more than two of the members of said commission shall belong to the same political party.

3062. Removals for cause. The governor at any time may remove any member of the commission for inefficiency, neglect of duty, malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance in office.

3063. Limitations, business and political. No commissioner shall hold any office of trust or profit, or engage in any occupation or business interfering or inconsistent with his duties as such commissioner, and no commissioner shall serve on any committee of any political party.

3064. Salary. Qualifications. Bonds of commissioners and employes. Each of said commissioners shall receive an annual salary of $4000, payable in the same manner as the salaries of other officers of the state are paid. Before entering upon the duties of his office, each commissioner shall take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, which oath shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Each member of the commission shall give a corporate surety bond in the sum of $10,000, which bond shall be approved by the governor and filed with the state treasurer. All employes or deputies of the commission receiving or disbursing funds of the state shall give corporate surety bonds to the state in amounts and with surety to be approved by the commission. The premiums of all bonds provided for in this section shall be paid out of the state treasury.

3065. Organization. Quorum. Vacancies. Within thirty days after this title goes into effect, the commission shall meet at the seat of government and organize by choosing one of its members as chairman. A majority of the commission shall constitute a quorum to transact business. No vacancy shall impair the rights of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission; and in case a vacancy exists, the remaining members of the commission shall exercise all of the powers and authorities of the commission until such vacancy is filled.

3066. Offices. Places of sessions. The commission shall keep and maintain its offices at the state capitol, in suitable room or rooms. Necessary office furniture shall be furnished to the commission in the state capitol. The commission may hold sessions in any place within the state of Utah.

3067. Official seal. Judicial notice. Certification of records. The commission shall have an official seal for the authentication of its orders and proceedings, upon which seal shall be engraved the words, "the industrial commission of Utah," and such other design as the commission may prescribe; and the courts in this state shall take judicial notice of the seal of the commission, and in all cases copies of orders, proceedings, or records in the office of the industrial commission of Utah, certified by the secretary of the said commission under its seal, shall be equal to the original as evidence.

3068. Business hours. Sessions. Records. Voting. The commission shall be open for the transaction of business during all business hours of each and every day except Sunday and legal holidays. The sessions of the commission shall be open to the public. All proceedings of the commission shall be shown on its records, which shall be a public record, and all voting shall be had by calling each member's name by the secretary, and each member's vote shall be recorded on the proceedings as cast.

3069. Adoption and change of rules of procedure. Subject to the provisions of this title, the commission may adopt its own rules of procedure, and may change the same from time to time in its discretion.

3070. Commission employes. Compensation, expenses. The commission may employ a secretary, deputies, actuaries, accountants, inspectors, examiners, experts, clerks, physicians, stenographers, and other assistants, and fix their compensation. Such employment and compensation shall be first approved by the governor, and shall be paid out of the state treasury. The members of the commission, deputies, secretary, actuaries, accountants, inspectors, examiners, experts, clerks, physicians, stenographers, and other assistants that may be employed shall be entitled to receive from the state treasury their salaries or compensation, and also their actual and necessary expenses while traveling on the business of the commission, and the members of the commission may confer and meet with officers of other states and officers of the United States on any matters pertaining to their official duties. Such expenses shall be itemized and sworn to by the person who incurred the expense and allowed by the commission.

3071. Places of employment. Safety devices. Obeying orders. Every employer shall furnish employment and a place of employment which shall be safe for the employes therein, and shall furnish and use safety devices and safeguards, adopt and use methods and processes, and follow and obey orders of the commission, reasonably adequate to render such employment and place of employment safe, and shall do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life, health, safety, and welfare of such employes.

3072. Duties of employers. No employer shall require or knowingly permit any employe to be in any employment or place of employment which is not safe, and no such employer shall fail to provide and use safety devices and safeguards, or fail to obey and follow orders of the commission, or to adopt and use methods and processes reasonably adequate to render such employment and place of employment safe, and no employer shall fail or neglect to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life, health, safety, and welfare of his employes; and no employer or other person shall hereafter construct or occupy or maintain any place of employment that is not safe.

3073. Duties of employes. No employe shall remove, displace, damage, destroy, or carry off any safety device or safeguard provided for use in any employment or place of employment, nor interfere in any way with the use thereof by any other person, nor shall any such employe interfere with the use of any method or process adopted for the protection of any employe in such employment or place of employment, nor fail or neglect to follow and obey orders and to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life, health, safety, and welfare of employes.

3074. Right of examination. Any commissioner or deputy of the commission may enter any place of employment for the purpose of collecting facts and statistics, examining the provisions made for the health, safety, and welfare of the employes therein, and bring to the attention of every employer any law, or any order of the commission, and any failure on the part of such employer to comply therewith. No employer shall refuse to admit any commissioner or deputy of the commission to his place of employment.

3075. Supervision over places of employment. The commission is vested with the power and jurisdiction to have such supervision of every employment and place of employment and of every building and establishment in this state as may be necessary adequately to enforce and administer all laws and all lawful orders requiring every employment and place of employment to be safe, and requiring the protection of the life, health, safety, and welfare of every employe in such employment or place of employment.

3076. General powers of commission. It shall also be the duty of the commission, and it shall have full power, jurisdiction, and authority:

1. To administer and enforce all laws for the protection of life, health, safety, and welfare of employes;

2. To ascertain and fix such reasonable standards and prescribe, modify and enforce such reasonable orders for the adoption of safety devices, safeguards, and other means or methods of protection, to be as nearly uniform as possible, as may be necessary to carry out all laws and lawful orders relative to the protection of the life, health, safety, and welfare of employes in employment and places of employment;

3. To ascertain, fix, and order such reasonable standards for the construction, repair, and maintenance of places of employment as shall render them safe;

4. To investigate, ascertain, and determine such reasonable classifications of persons, employments, and places of employment as shall be necessary to carry out the purposes of this title;

5. To do all in its power to promote the voluntary arbitration, mediation, and conciliation of disputes between employers and employes;

6. To establish and conduct free employment agencies, and license and supervise the work of private employment offices, and to do all in its power to bring together employers seeking employes and working people seeking employment, and to make known the opportunities for employment in this state;

Employment offices, §§ 2440-2458.

7. To collect, collate, and publish all statistical and other information relating to employes, employers, employments, and places of employment and such other statistics as it may deem proper;

8. Upon petition by any person that any employment or place of employment is not safe or is injurious to the welfare of any employe, the commission shall proceed, with or without notice, to make such investigation as may be necessary to determine the matter complained of. After such investigation, the commission shall enter such order relative thereto as may be necessary to render such employment or place of employment safe and not injurious to the welfare of the employes therein. Whenever the commission shall believe that any employment or place of employment is not safe or is injurious to the welfare of any employe, it may of its own motion summarily investigate the same, with or without notice, and issue such order as it may deem necessary to render such employment or place of employment safe;

9. All duties, liabilities, authority, powers, and privileges conferred and imposed by law upon the commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics, state mine inspector of coal and hydro-carbon mines, and board of conciliation and arbitration are hereby imposed upon the commission. All laws relating to the commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics, state mine inspector of coal and hydro-carbon mines, and board of conciliation and arbitration shall apply to, relate, and refer to the industrial commisson of Utah. The industrial commission of Utah shall be deemed the commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics, state mine inspector of coal and hydro-carbon mines, and board of labor, conciliation and arbitration within the meaning of existing laws;

Commissioner immigration, labor and statistics, §§ 3024-3034.
State mine inspector coal, etc., §§ 3910-3934.
Board of labor, conciliation and arbitration, §§ 3634-3644.

10. All orders of the commission in conformity with law shall be valid and in force and prima facie reasonable and lawful until they are found otherwise in an action brought for that purpose pursuant to the provisions of this title or until altered or revoked by the commission;

11. All general orders of the commission shall take effect within thirty days after their publication. Special orders shall take effect as therein directed. The commission shall, upon application of any employer, grant such time as may be reasonably necessary for compliance with any order. Any person may petition the commission for an extension of time, which the commission shall grant if it finds such extension of time necessary.

3077. Hearings as to reasonableness of orders. 1. Any employer or other person interested either because of ownership in or occupation of any property affected by any such order, or otherwise, may petition for a hearing on the reasonableness and lawfulness of any order of the commission provided in this title.

3. Upon receipt of such petition, if the issues raised in such petition have theretofore been adequately considered, the commission shall determine the same by confirming, without hearing, its previous determination, or if such hearing is necessary to determine the issue raised, the commission shall order a hearing thereon and consider and determine the matter or matters in question at such time as shall be prescribed. Notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be given to the petitioner and to such other persons as the commission may find directly interested in such decision.

4. Upon such investigation, if it shall be found that the order complained of is unlawful or unreasonable, the commission shall substitute therefor such other order as shall be lawful and reasonable.

5. Whenever, at the time of final determination upon such hearing, it shall be found that further time is reasonably necessary for compliance with the order of the commission, the commission shall grant such time as may be reasonably necessary for such compliance.

3078. Limitations as to actions. Presumptions. No action, proceeding, or suit to set aside, vacate, or amend any order of the commission, or to enjoin the enforcement thereof, shall be brought unless the plaintiff shall have applied to the commission for a hearing thereon at the time and as provided in § 3077, and in the petition therefor shall have raised every issue raised in such action. Every order of the commission shall, in every prosecution for violation thereof, be conclusively presumed to be just, reasonable, and lawful, unless prior to the institution of the prosecution for such violation an action shall have been brought to vacate and set aside such order, as provided in § 3087.

3079. Administer oaths, certify acts, issue process. Duties of district courts. Each of the commissioners and the secretary of the commission, for the purposes mentioned in this title shall have power to administer oaths, certify to official acts, issue subpœnas, compel attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony. In case of the failure of any person to comply with any order of the commission or any subpœna lawfully issued, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may be lawfully interrogated, it shall be the duty of the district court of any county in this state, on the application of a commissioner, to compel obedience by attachment proceedings for contempt, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpœna issued from such court or a refusal to testify therein.

3080. Payment of witnesses. Each witness who shall appear before the commission by its order shall receive for his attendance the fees and mileage now provided for witnesses in civil cases in the district court, which shall be audited and paid by the state out of the state treasury in the same manner as other expenses are audited and paid, upon the presentation of properly verified vouchers approved by the chairman of the commission. But no witness subpœnaed at the instance of the parties other than the commission shall be entitled to compensation from the state for attendance or travel, unless the commission shall certify that his testimony was material to the matter investigated.

Witness fees, § 2545.

3081. Depositions. The commission or any party may in any investigation cause depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken as in civil actions.

Depositions, §§ 7163-7198.

3082. Record of proceedings. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings had before the commission on any investigation, and all testimony shall be taken down by a stenographer appointed by the commission.

3083. Publication of rules. Publication of rules and orders of the commission shall be made by the commission in pamphlet form, to be furnished on demand at the office of the commission. The expenses of publication shall be audited and paid as are other expenses of the commission.

3084. Designation of agents. Duties and powers. 1. For the purpose of making any investigation with regard to any employment or place of employment, the commission shall have power to appoint, by an order in writing, any member of the commission, any deputy, or any other competent person who is a resident of the state as an agent, whose duty shall be prescribed in such order.

2. In the discharge of his duties such agent shall have every power whatsoever of an inquisitorial nature granted in this title to the commission, and the same powers as a referee appointed by a district court with regard to taking testimony.

3. The commission may conduct any number of such investigations contemporaneously through different agents, and may delegate to such agents the taking of all testimony bearing upon any investigation or hearing. The decision of the commission shall be based upon its examination of all testimony and records. The recommendations made by such agents shall be advisory only and shall not preclude the taking of further testimony if the commission so orders, nor further investigation.

3085. Special and general attorneys. The commission shall have authority to direct any deputy to act as special prosecutor in any action, proceeding, investigation, hearing, or trial relating to matters within its jurisdiction. Upon the request of the commission, the attorney-general, district attorney, or the county attorney of the county in which any investigation, hearing, or trial had under the provision of this title is pending, shall aid therein and prosecute, under the supervision of the commission, all necessary actions or proceedings for the enforcement of this title and all other laws of this state relating to the protection of life, health, safety, and welfare, and for the punishment of all violations thereof.

3086. Orders not void for technical omission. A substantial compliance with the requirements of this title shall be sufficient to give effect to the orders of the commission, and they shall not be declared inoperative, illegal, or void for any omission of a technical nature in respect thereto.

3087. Action to vacate orders. Procedure. Any employer or other person in interest, being dissatisfied with any order of the commission, may commence an action in the district court of the county where the property, plant, or place of employment affected by such order may lie, against the commission as defendant, to set aside, vacate, or amend any such order, on the ground that the order is unreasonable or unlawful, and the district court is hereby authorized and vested with exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine such action. The commission shall be served with summons as in other civil cases. The answer of the commission shall be filed within ten days after service of summons upon it, and with its answer it shall file a certified transcript of its record in said matter. Upon the filing of said answer, said action shall be at issue, and shall be advanced and assigned for trial by the court, upon the application of either party, at the earliest possible date.

3088. Stay of court proceedings when commission has not determined issues. 1. If, upon the trial of such action, it shall appear that all issues arising in such action have not theretofore been presented to the commission in the petition filed as provided in § 3077, or that the commission has not theretofore had ample opportunity to hear and determine any of the issues raised in said action, or for any reason has not in fact heard and determined the issues raised, the court shall, before proceeding to render judgment, unless the parties to such action stipulate to the contrary, transmit to the commission a full statement of such issue or issues not adequately considered, and shall stay further proceedings in such action for fifteen days from the date of such transmission, and may thereafter grant such further stay as may be necessary.

2. Upon the receipt of such statement, the commission shall consider the issues not theretofore considered, and may alter, modify, amend, or rescind its order complained of in said action, and shall report its order thereon to said court, within ten days from the receipt of the statement from the court, for further hearing and consideration.

3. The court shall thereupon order the pleading to be so amended as to raise the issues resulting from such alteration, modification, amendment, or rescision of the commission's order, and shall thereafter proceed with such action in the manner provided by law for other civil actions.

3089. Jurisdiction of courts. No court of this state, except the district court and the supreme court on appeal, shall have jurisdiction to review, vacate, set aside, reverse, revise, correct, amend, or annul any order of the commission, or to suspend or delay the execution or operation thereof, or to enjoin, restrain, or interfere with the commission in the performance of its official duties; provided, that the writ of mandamus shall lie from the said supreme court to the commission in all proper cases.

3090. Power of court to suspend orders. Bond. The pendency of an action to set aside, vacate, or amend an order of the commission shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of an order of the commission; but, during the pendency of said action, the said district court in its discretion may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the commission's order. But no order so staying or suspending an order of the commission shall be made by the said court otherwise than upon three days' notice and after hearing. In case the order is stayed or suspended, the order of the court shall not become effective until a suspending bond first shall have been executed and filed in the action and approved by the court or the clerk thereof, payable to the state of Utah, and sufficient in amount and security to insure the prompt payment by the party petitioning to set aside, vacate, or amend such order of all damages caused by the delay in the enforcement of the order of the commission.

3091. Proceedings have preference. Exceptions. All actions and proceedings under this title, and all actions or proceedings to which the commission or this state may be parties, and in which any question arises under this title or under or concerning any order of the commission, shall be preferred over all other civil cases, except election causes and causes involving or affecting the public utilities commission, irrespective of position on the calendar. The same preference shall be granted upon application of the attorney of the commission in any action or proceeding in which he may be allowed to intervene.

3092. Penalties. If any employer, employe, or other person shall violate any provisions of this title, or shall do any act prohibited by this title, or shall fail or refuse to perform any duty lawfully enjoined, within the time prescribed by the commission, for which no penalty has been specifically provided, or fail, neglect, or refuse to obey any lawful order given or made by the commission, or any judgment or decree made by any court in connection with provisions of this title, for each such violation, failure, or refusal such employer or other person shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than $1000 for the offense, and not less than $100 nor more than $5000 for each subsequent offense.

3093. Designation of violations. Every day during which any person, persons, or corporations, or any officer, agent, or employe thereof, shall fail to observe and comply with any order of the commission, or to perform any duty enjoined by this title, shall constitute a separate and distinct violation of such order, or said section, as the same may be.

3094. Statements by employers. Penalty for failure. Every employer shall furnish the commission, upon request, all information required by it to carry out the purpose of this title. In the month of January of each year, every employer shall prepare and mail to the commission at the state capitol, Salt Lake City, Utah, a statement containing the following information, viz: the number of employes employed during the preceding year from January 1 to December 31, inclusive; the number of such employes employed at each kind of employment; and the scale of wages paid to each class of employment, showing the minimum and maximum wage paid, and the aggregate amount of wages paid to all employes; which information shall be furnished on a blank or blanks to be prepared by the commission; and it shall be the duty of the commission to furnish such blanks to employers free of charge, upon request therefor. Every employer shall cause said blanks to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly all questions therein propounded, and to give all the information therein sought, or if unable to do so, he shall give to the commission, in writing, good and sufficient reasons for such failure. The commission may require the information herein required to be furnished to be certified under oath and returned to the commission within the period fixed by it or by law. The commission, or any member thereof, or any person employed by the commission for that purpose, shall have the right to examine, under oath, any employer or the officer, agent, or employe thereof, for the purpose of ascertaining any information which such employer is required by this title to furnish to the commission. Any employer who shall refuse to furnish to the commission the annual statement herein required, or who shall refuse to furnish such other information as may be required by the commission under authority of this section, or who shall wilfully furnish a false or untrue statement, shall be liable to a penalty of not to exceed $500 for each offense, to be collected in a civil action brought against said employer in the name of the state; all such penalties, when collected, shall be paid to the state insurance fund hereinafter provided for.

3095. State insurance fund. There is hereby created a fund, to be known as the state insurance fund, for the purpose of insuring employers against liability for compensation under this title, and of assuring to the persons entitled thereto the compensation provided by this title. Such fund shall consist of all premiums and penalties received and paid into the fund, of property and securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund, and of interest earned upon money belonging to the fund and deposited or invested as herein provided. Such fund shall be administered by the commission without liability on the part of the state beyond the amount of such fund. Such fund shall be applicable to the payment of losses sustained on account of insurance and to the payment of compensation and of expenses in the manner provided in this title.

3096. Administration of fund. It shall be the duty of the commission to conduct the business of the state insurance fund, and it is hereby vested with full authority over the said fund, and may do any and all things which are necessary or convenient in the administration thereof, or in connection with the insurance business to be carried on by it under the provisions of this title.

3097. Classification of employments. Employments insured in the state insurance fund shall be divided by the commission, for the purpose of the said fund, into classes. Separate accounts shall be kept of the amounts collected and expended in respect to each such class for convenience in determining equitable rates; but for the purpose of paying compensation the state insurance fund shall be deemed one and indivisible. The commission shall have power to rearrange any of the classes by withdrawing any employment embraced in it and transferring it wholly or in part to any other class. The commission shall determine the hazards of the different classes, and fix the rates of premium therefor, based upon the total payroll and number of employes in each of such classes of employment, at the lowest possible rate consistent with the maintenance of a solvent state insurance fund and the creation of a surplus and reserve; and for such purpose may adopt a system of schedule rating in such a manner as to take account of the peculiar hazard of such individual risk.

The rate established ipso facto becomes the established rate for all insurers doing business under this title. Scranton Leasing Co. v. Industrial Com. of Utah, 50 U. —; 170 P. 976.

3098. Commission may sue and be sued. The commission may, in its official name, sue and be sued in all the courts of the state, in all actions or proceedings arising out of anything done or suffered in connection with the state insurance fund or business relating thereto. Service of summons on any member of the commission or the secretary thereof shall be deemed service on the commission.

3099. Contracts as to insurance fund. The commission may, in its official name, make contracts of insurance as herein provided and such other contracts relating to the state insurance fund as are authorized or permitted under the provisions of this title.

3100. Deputies. Powers delegated. The commission may act through proper deputies and may delegate to such deputies such powers as it deems necessary or convenient. Among the powers which may be so delegated shall be the power to enter into contracts of insurance, insuring employers against liability for compensation as herein provided and insuring to employes the compensation fixed by this title; also the power to make agreements for the settlement of claims against said fund for compensation for injuries in accordance with the provisions of this title; also the power to determine to whom and through whom payments of such compensation shall be made; and also the power to contract with physicians, surgeons, and hospitals for medical and surgical treatment and care and nursing of injured persons entitled to compensation from said fund.

3101. Policy of insurance. Payment of premiums. 1. Every employer insuring in the state insurance fund shall receive from the commission a contract or policy of insurance in a form to be approved by the state commission.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this title, all premiums shall be paid by every employer who elects to insure with the state insurance fund to the commission on or before July 1, 1917, and semi-annually thereafter, or at such other times as may be prescribed by the commission. Receipts shall be given for such payments and the money shall be paid over to the state treasurer to the credit of the state insurance fund.

3102. Withdrawal from fund. Any employer may, upon complying with subs. 2 or 3 of § 3114, withdraw from the fund by turning in his insurance contract or policy for cancellation; provided, he is not in arrears for premiums due to the fund and has given to the commission written notice of his intention to withdraw before the expiration of the period for which he has elected to insure in said fund.

3103. Reinsurance. The commission may reinsure any risk, or any part thereof, and may enter into agreements of reinsurance in the same way and to the same extent as other insurance carriers.

3104. Requirements in fixing rates. The commission shall observe the following requirements in classifying and fixing the rates of premiums for the risks of the same:

1. It shall keep an accurate account of the money paid in premiums by each of the several classes of occupations or industries, and the expenses of administering the state insurance fund, and the disbursements on account of injuries and death of employes in each of said classes, including the setting up of reserves adequate to meet anticipated and unexpected losses, and to carry the claims to maturity; and it shall also keep an account of the money received from each individual employer, and the amount disbursed from the state insurance fund for expenses and on account of injuries and death of the employes of such employer, including the reserves so set up.

2. Ten per cent of the money paid into the state insurance fund shall be set aside for the creation of a surplus until such fund shall amount to the sum of $100,000, and thereafter 5 per cent of all the money paid into the state insurance fund shall be credited to such surplus fund until, in the judgment of the commission, such surplus shall be sufficiently large to cover the catastrophe hazard and all other unanticipated losses. The commission shall also set up and maintain a reserve adequate to meet the anticipated losses and carry all claims and policies to maturity. The amount of such surplus and reserve shall be subject to the approval of the state commission.

3. At the end of every year, and at such other times as the commission in its discretion may determine, a readjustment of the rate shall be made for each of the several classes of employments or industries. If at any time there is an aggregate balance remaining to the credit of any class of employment or industry, which the commission deems may safely and properly be divided, it may, in its discretion, credit to each individual member of such class who shall have been a subscriber to the state insurance fund for a period of six months or more prior to the time of such readjustment, such proportion of such balance as he is properly entitled to, having regard to his prior paid premiums since the last readjustment of rates.

4. Should any such accounting show a balance remaining to the credit of any class of occupation or industry, after the above-mentioned amounts have been credited to the surplus and reserve fund, and after the payment of expense of administering said fund and the payment of all awards for all injuries or deaths lawfully chargeable against the same, the premium rate for such class shall be reduced; and each individual of such class who has been a subscriber to the state insurance fund for a period of six months or longer prior to the time of such readjustment, and whose premium or premiums so paid to the fund exceeds the amount of the disbursements from the fund on account of injuries or deaths of his employes during such period, shall be entitled to a credit on the instalment or instalments of premium next due from him, the amount of which credit shall be such proportion of said balance as the amount of his prior paid premiums sustains to the whole amount of said premiums paid by the class to which he belongs since the last readjustment of rates.

3105. Rules and regulations as to insurance fund. Wage expenditures. The commission shall adopt rules and regulations with respect to the collection, maintenance, and disbursement of the state insurance fund, one of which rules shall provide that, in the event the amount of premiums collected from any employer at the beginning of any period of six months is ascertained and calculated by using the estimated expenditure of wages for the period of time covered by such premium payments as a basis, an adjustment of the amount of such premium shall be made at the end of such period, and the actual amount of such premium shall be determined in accordance with the amount of the actual expenditure of wages for said period; and, in the event such wage expenditure for said period is less than the amount on which such estimated premium was collected, then such employer shall be entitled to receive a refund from the state insurance fund of the difference between the amount so paid by him and the amount so found to be actually due, or have the amount of such difference credited on succeeding premium payments at his option, and should such actual premium, when ascertained as aforesaid, exceed in amount the premium so paid by such employer at the beginning of such period, such employer shall, upon being advised of the true amount of such premium due, forthwith pay to the state treasurer an amount equal to the difference between the amount actually found to be due and the amount paid by him at the beginning of said six months' period.

3106. State treasurer to be custodian of fund. The state treasurer shall be the custodian of the state insurance fund, and all disbursements therefrom shall be paid by him upon vouchers authorized by the industrial commission of Utah and signed by a member of the commission and the secretary thereof.

3107. Manner of deposit. Interest. The state treasurer shall deposit any portion of the fund not needed for immediate use in the same manner and subject to all the provisions of law with respect to the deposit of state funds by such treasurer; provided, that the best interest obtainable shall be collected upon such deposits, and all interest earned by such portion of the state insurance fund as may be deposited by the state treasurer in pursuance of the authority herein given shall be collected by him and placed to the credit of such fund.

3108. Surplus may be invested. The commission shall have power to invest any of the surplus or reserve belonging to the state insurance fund in bonds of the United States or federal land banks, of the state of Utah, or of any county, city, town, or school district of the state of Utah, at current market prices for such bonds; or in first mortgages on real estate at not to exceed 40 per cent of the cash value thereof; provided, that such purchase or investment be authorized by a resolution adopted by the commission and approved by the state board of examiners; and it shall be the duty of the boards or officers of the several taxing districts of the state, in the issuance and sale of bonds of their respective taxing districts, to offer in writing to the commission, prior to advertising the same for sale, all such issues of the taxing districts so issuing such bonds; and said commission shall, within ten days after the receipt of such written offer, either accept the same and purchase such bonds or any portion thereof at par and accrued interest, or reject such offer in writing; and all such bonds so purchased forthwith shall be placed in the hands of the state treasurer, who is hereby designated as custodian thereof, and it shall be his duty to collect the interest thereon as the same becomes due and payable, and also the principal thereof, and to pay the same, when so collected, into the state insurance fund. The state treasurer shall honor and pay all vouchers drawn on the state insurance fund for the purchase of such bonds when signed by any two members of the commission upon delivery of said bonds to him when there is attached to such voucher a certified copy of such resolution of the commission authorizing the purchase of such bonds; and the commission may sell any of said bonds upon like resolution, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid by the purchaser to the state treasurer upon delivery to him of said bonds by the treasurer.

3109. Separate bond by treasurer. The state treasurer shall give a separate and additional corporate surety bond in such amount as may be fixed by the governor, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as custodian of the state insurance fund. The premium of said bond shall be paid out of the state insurance fund.

3110. Employers subject to this title. The following shall constitute employers subject to the provisions of this title:

1. The state, and each county, city, town, and school district therein.
2. Every person, firm, and private corporation, including every public utility, that has in service four or more workmen or operatives regularly in the same business, or in or about the same establishment under any contract of hire, express or implied, oral or written, except agricultural laborers and domestic servants; provided, that employers who have in service less than four employes shall have the right to come under the terms of this title by complying with the provisions thereof, and all the rules and regulations of the commission. The term "regularly" as herein used shall include all employments, whether continuous throughout the year or for only a portion of the year. It means all employments in the usual course of the trade, business, profession, or occupation of an employer.

3111. Employe, workman, and operative. The term "employe," "workman," and "operative," as used in this title, shall be construed to mean:

2. Every person except agricultural laborers and domestic servants in the service of any person, firm, or corporation, employing four or more workmen or operatives regularly in the same business, or in or about the same establishment under any contract of hire, express or implied, oral or written, including aliens, and also including minors who are legally permitted to work for hire under the laws of the state, but not including any person whose employment is but casual, or not in the usual course of trade, business, profession, or occupation of his employer.

3112. Construction of terms. The following terms as used in this title shall be construed as follows:

1. The term "order" shall mean and include any decision, rule, regulation, direction, requirement, or standard of the commission, or any other determination arrived at or decision made by such commission.

2. The term "general order" shall mean and include such order as applies generally throughout the state to all persons, employments, or places of employment of a class under the jurisdiction of the commission. All other orders of the commission shall be considered special orders.

3. The term "welfare" shall mean and include comfort, decency, and moral well-being.

4. The terms "safe" and "safety," as applied to any employment or a place of employment, shall mean such freedom from danger to life, health, safety, or welfare of employes as the nature of the employment will reasonably permit.

5. The words "personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of employment" shall include an injury caused by the wilful act of a third person directed against an employe because of his employment. They shall not include a disease except as it shall result from the injury.

6. The term "compensation" shall mean the compensation and benefits provided for in this title.

3113. Payments of compensation. If a workman receives personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, his employer or the insurance carrier shall pay compensation in the amounts and to the person or persons hereinafter specified.

3114. Securement of compensation. Insurance associations subject to rules. Employers, but not including municipal bodies, shall secure compensation to their employes in one of the following ways:

1. By insuring and keeping insured the payment of such compensation with the state insurance fund; or

2. By insuring and keeping insured the payment of such compensation with any stock corporation or mutual association authorized to transact the business of workmen's compensation insurance in the state; or

3. By furnishing to the commission satisfactory proof of financial ability to pay direct the compensation in the amount and manner and when due as provided for in this title.

In the latter case the commission may in its discretion require the deposit of acceptable security, indemnity, or bond to secure the payment of compensation liabilities as they are incurred. All stock corporations or mutual associations transacting the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this state under the terms of sub. 2 of this section shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the commission with respect to rates to be charged, and methods of compensation to be used.

The language of the section is mandatory and not merely permissive, and all employers shall in advance secure the payment of the compensation to which any one of their employes may become entitled under this chapter; and the Industrial Commission may invoke the aid of the courts to compel companies to comply with the terms of the act.
The Industrial Com. v. Daly M. Co.; 51 U. —; 172 P. 301.

This title is constitutional so far as it authorizes the industrial commission to fix a minimum rate for all insurers under this act, and the commission is justified in not receiving a policy providing for a lower rate.
Scranton Leasing Co. v. the Industrial Com., 50 U. —; 170 P. 976.

3115. Notice to be filed. If the insurance so effected is not with the state insurance fund, the employer shall forthwith file with the commission in form prescribed by it a notice of his insurance, together with a copy of the contract or policy of insurance.

3116. Policy to cover entire liability. Every policy of insurance covering the liability of the employer for compensation, whether issued by the commission or by a stock company, or by a mutual association authorized to transact workmen's compensation insurance in this state, shall cover the entire liability of the employer to his employes covered by the policy or contract, and also shall contain a provision setting forth the right of the employes to enforce in their own names, either by, at any time, filing a separate claim or by, at any time, making the insurance carrier a party to the original claim, the liability of the insurance carrier in whole or in part for the payment of such compensation; provided, however, that payment in whole or in part of such compensation, by either the employer or the insurance carrier, shall, to the extent thereof, be a bar to the recovery against the other of the amount so paid.

Secs. 3116-3118 are discussed in Scranton Leasing Co. v. Industrial Com., 50 U. —; 170 P. 976.

3117. Notice as to injury. Jurisdiction and effect of award. Every such policy and contract shall contain a provision that, as between the employe and the insurance carrier, the notice to or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the employer shall be deemed notice or knowledge, as the case may be, on the part of the insurance carrier; that jurisdiction of the employer shall, for the purpose of this title, be jurisdiction of the insurance carrier, and that the insurance carrier shall in all things be bound by and subject to the orders, findings, decisions, and awards rendered against the employer for the payment of compensation under the provisions of this title.

3118. Insolvency of employer not to relieve insurance carrier. Every such policy and contract shall contain a provision to the effect that the insolvency or bankruptcy of the employer, and his discharge therein, shall not relieve the insurance carrier from the payment of compensation for injuries or death sustained by an employe during the life of such policy or contract.

3119. Insurance by county, city, town, or school district. Each county, city, town, or school district which is liable to its employes for compensation may insure in the state insurance fund or pay compensation direct.

3120. Proportion of contribution by state to fund. The state shall contribute to the state insurance fund in proportion to the annual expenditure of money by it for the service of persons in the employ of the state described in sub. 1 of § 3111, the amount of such payments and the method of making the same to be determined as hereinafter provided.

3121. Rate and manner of payments by state. Estimates submitted to governor. In the month of January in the year 1918, the state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer, in favor of said treasurer as custodian of the state insurance fund, and for deposit to the credit of said fund, for a sum equal to 1 per cent of the amount of money expended by the state during the last preceding fiscal year, for the service of persons in the employ of the state, which said sums are hereby appropriated and made available for such payments; and thereafter in the month of January of each year, such sums of money shall in like manner be paid into the state insurance fund as may be due according to the rate for and insurance as fixed by the commission; and it shall be the duty of the commission to communicate to the governor, three months before the convening of each regular session of the legislature, an estimate of the aggregate amount of money necessary to be contributed by the state during the ensuing biennium as its proper portion of the state insurance fund.

3122. Employes covered by state fund to be compensated. Every employe covered by insurance in the state incurance fund, who is injured, by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, and the dependents of such as are killed, provided the same was not purposely self-inflicted, on or after July 1, 1917, shall be paid such compensation out of the state insurance fund for loss sustained on account of such injury or death as is provided in this title, and shall be entitled to receive such medical, nurse, and hospital services and medicines, and such amount of funeral expenses in case of death as are provided by this title.

3123. Payments into state fund regulated by class and rates. Except as hereinafter provided, every employer (except the state), who shall have insured in the state insurance fund, shall, in the month of July, 1917, and semi-annually thereafter, pay into the state insurance fund the amount of premium determined and fixed by the commission for the employment or occupation of such employer, the amount of which premium to be so paid by each such employer to be determined by the classifications, rules, and rates made and published by the commission; and such employer shall semi-annually thereafter pay such further sum of money into the state insurance fund as may be ascertained to be due from him by applying the rules of the commission, and a receipt or certificate certifying that such payment has been made shall immediately be mailed to such employer by the commission, which receipt or certificate, attested by the seal of the commission, shall be prima facie evidence of the payment of such premium.

3124. Substitute systems of insurance. Requirements, termination, and benefits. Subject to the approval of the commission, any employer may enter into or continue any agreement with his employes to provide a system of compensation, benefit, or insurance in lieu of the compensation and insurance provided by this title. No such substitute system shall be approved unless it confers benefits upon injured employes and their dependents, at least equivalent to the benefits provided by this title, nor if it requires contributions from the employes unless it confers benefits in addition to those provided under this title at least commensurate with such contributions. Such substitute system may be terminated by the commission on reasonable notice and hearing to the interested parties if it shall appear that the same is not fairly administered or if its operation shall disclose defects threatening its solvency, or if for any substantial reason it fails to accomplish the purposes of this title; and in this case the commission shall determine upon the proper distribution of all remaining assets, if any, subject to the right of any party in interest to take an appeal as in other cases of appeal from the orders of the commission. Any employer who makes a deduction for such purposes from the wages or salary of any employe entitled to the benefits of this title shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that, subject to the supervision of the commission, nothing in this title shall be construed as preventing the employer and his employes entering, and it shall be lawful for them to enter, into mutual contracts and agreements respecting hospital benefits and accommodations and medical and surgical services, nursing, and medicines to be furnished the employes as in this title provided; but no profit, directly or indirectly, shall be made by any employer as a result of such contract or agreement, the purpose and intent of this title in such respect being that, where hospitals are maintained and medical and surgical services and medicines furnished by the employer from payments by or assessments of his employes, such payments or assessments shall be no more or greater than necessary to make such hospital benefits and accommodations, including surgical and medical services and medicines, self-supporting for the care and treatment of his employes, and all sums received or retained by the employer from the employes for such purpose shall be paid and applied thereto; and provided, further, that such hospitals so maintained in whole or in part by payments or assessments of employes shall be subject to the inspection and under the supervision of the commission as to services and treatment rendered such employes.

3125. Tax on employers not insuring in state fund. Employers who do not insure either in the state insurance fund or with any stock corporation or mutual association shall pay a tax of the same per cent as required by law to be paid by insurance companies upon their premiums, based upon an amount equivalent to premiums which would be paid by such employer if insured in the state insurance fund; said tax to be computed and collected by the state commission and paid into the state treasury.

3126. Compensation to workmen hired or injured in or out of state. If a workman who has been hired in this state receives personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of such emplyoment, he shall be entitled to compensation according to the law of this state as provided for in this title, even though such injury was received outside of this state. If a workman who has been hired outside of this state is injured while engaged in his employer's business, and is entitled to compensation for such injury under the law of the state where he was hired, he shall be entitled to enforce against his employer his rights in this state if his rights are such that they can reasonably be determined and dealt with by the commission and the court in this state.

3127. Conditional liability of employers. Rights of dependents. Election of remedy. Duties of commission and insurer. Deficiency payment. Employers who comply with the provisions of § 3114 shall not be liable to respond in damages for injuries sustained by their employes not resulting in death. For injuries, however, resulting in death, the dependents of the deceased employe are given the right, within such time as the commission by rule shall prescribe, to elect (a) between bringing suit at law against such employer to recover damages for such death and in the event of suit said dependents must prove negligence on the employer's part before they can recover, or (b) to accept the benefits allowed to dependents of deceased employes by this title in the event of death. If they elect (b) they shall not be entitled to sue such employer at law to recover damages. If they elect (a) they thereby forfeit any rights to compensation under this title, and in a suit at law shall not be entitled to recover damages from such employer if the deceased employe was himself guilty of contributory negligence, or if he assumed the risk, or if his death was due in whole or part to the negligence of a fellow servant. If the dependents of the deceased elect to sue as herein provided, and in such suit recover judgment against the employer, then the commission shall determine the amount to which the plaintiffs in such suit would be entitled by accepting the provisions of this title, and pay the same toward the satisfaction of the judgment so recovered, if the employer against whom the judgment is recovered was, at the time the injuries causing the death were received, insured in the state insurance fund; otherwise such judgment shall be paid by the employer or his insurance carrier. Any deficiency shall be paid by the employer against whom the judgment is recovered.

3128. Notice of authorization to be posted by employers electing to pay direct compensation. Each employer providing insurance or electing directly to pay compensation to his injured or the dependents of his killed employes as herein provided, other than the employers mentioned in sub. 1 of § 3110, shall post in conspicuous places about his place of business typewritten or printed notices stating the fact that he has complied with the provisions of this title and all of the rules and regulations of the commission made in pursuance thereof, and has been authorized by the commission directly to compensate such employes or dependents, and the same, when so posted, shall constitute sufficient notice to his employes of the fact that he has complied with the law as to securing compensation to his employes and their dependents.

3129. Employers not entitled to benefits during period of noncompliance. Certain defenses unavailable. Employers who shall fail to comply with the provisions of § 3114 shall not be entitled to the benefits of this title during the period of non-compliance, but shall be liable to their employes or the dependents of their employes in case of death or damage suffered by reason of personal injuries arising out of and in the course of employment caused by the wrongful act, neglect, or default of the employer or any of the employer's officers, agents, or employes, and also to the personal representatives of such employes where death results from such injuries. And in such action, the defendant shall not avail himself or itself of either of the following defenses: The defense of the fellow-servant rule, the defense of the assumption of risk, or the defense of contributory negligence. And in all such cases proof of the injury shall constitute prima facie evidence of negligence on the part of the employer and the burden shall be upon the employer to show freedom from negligence resulting in such injury. And such employers shall also be subject to the provisions of the two sections next succeeding.

3130. Rights of employe when employer fails to comply with title. Procedure. Prosecution or compromise of suit. Any employe whose employer has failed to comply with the provisions of § 3114, who has been injured by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment, wheresoever such injury has occurred, and which was not purposely self-inflicted, or his dependents in case death has ensued, may, in lieu of proceeding against his employer by civil action in the courts, as provided in the last preceding section, file his application with the commission for compensation in accordance with the terms of this title, and the commission shall hear and determine such application for compensation in like manner as in other claims before the commission; and the amount of the compensation which said commission may ascertain and determine to be due to such injured employe, or to his dependents in case death has ensued, shall be paid by such employer to the person entitled thereto within ten days after receiving notice of the amount thereof as fixed and determined by the commission; and in the event of the failure, neglect, or refusal of the employer to pay such compensation to the person entitled thereto, within said period of ten days, the same shall constitute a liquidated claim for damages against such employer in the amount so ascertained and fixed by the commission, which, with an added penalty of 50 per cent, may be recovered in an action in the name of the state for the benefit of the person or persons entitled to the same. The commission shall adopt and publish rules and regulations governing the procedure before the commission provided in this section, and shall prescribe forms of notices and the mode and manner of serving the same in all claims for compensation arising under this section. Any suit, action, or proceeding brought against any employer under the provisions of this section may be compromised by the commission, or such suit, action, or proceeding may be prosecuted to final judgment as in the discretion of the commission may best subserve the interests of the persons entitled to receive such compensation.

3131. Procedure in case of default by employers. Action by attorney-general. If any employer shall default in any payment required to be made by him to the state insurance fund, the amount due from him with interest thereon at the rate of 12 per cent per annum shall be collected by civil action against him in the name of the state as plaintiff; and it shall be the duty of the commission on the first Monday in August, 1917, and on the first Monday of each month thereafter, to certify to the attorney-general of the state the names and residences of all employers known to the commission to be in default for such payments for a longer period than five days, and the amount due from each such employer, and it shall then be the duty of the attorney-general forthwith to bring or cause to be brought against each such employer a civil action in the proper court for the collection of such amount so due, and the same when collected shall be paid into the state insurance fund, and each employer's compliance with the provisions of this title requiring payments to be made to the state insurance fund shall date from the time of the payment of said money so collected as aforesaid to the state treasurer for credit to the state insurance fund.

3132. Right to recovery under this title exclusive remedy. Exceptions. The right to recover compensation pursuant to the provisions of this title for injuries sustained by an employe shall be the exclusive remedy against the employer, except that where the injury is caused by the employer's wilful misconduct and such act causing such injury is the personal act of the employer himself, or if the employer be a partnership, on the part of one of the partners, or if a corporation, on the part of an elective officer or officers thereof, and such act indicates a wilful disregard of the life, limb, or bodily safety of employes, such injured employe may, at his option, either claim compensation under this title or maintain an action at law for damages. The term "wilful misconduct," as employed in this section shall be construed to mean an act done knowingly and purposely with the direct object of injuring another.

3133. Election as to remedy. Assignment of cause. Compromise. If an employe entitled to compensation under this title be injured or killed by the negligence or wrong of another not in the same employ, such injured employe, or in case of death, his dependents, shall, before any suit or claim under this title, elect whether to take compensation under this title or to pursue his remedy against such other. Such election shall be evidenced in such manner as the commission may by rule or regulation prescribe. If he elect to take compensation under this title, the cause of action against such other shall be assigned to the state for the benefit of the state insurance fund, if compensation be payable therefrom, and otherwise to the person or association or corporation liable for the payment of such compensation, and if he elect to proceed against such other, the state insurance fund, person, or association, or corporation, as the case may be, shall contribute only the deficiency, if any, between the amount of the recovery against such other person actually collected, and the compensation provided or estimated by this title for such case. Such a cause of action assigned to the state may be prosecuted or compromised by the commission. A compromise of any such cause of action by the employe or his dependents at an amount less than the compensation provided for by this title shall be made only with the written approval of the commission, if the deficiency of compensation would be payable from the state insurance fund, and otherwise with the written approval of the person, association, or corporation liable to pay the same.

3134. Waiver of right to exercise option. Every employe, or his legal representative in case death results, who makes application for an award, or accepts compensation from an employer, waives his right to exercise his option to institute proceedings in any court. Every employe, or his legal representative in case death results, who exercises his option to institute proceedings in court, as provided in this title, waives his right to any award or direct payment of compensation from his employer.

3135. Judgments have same preference as taxes. All judgments obtained in any action prosecuted by the commission or by the state under the authority of this title shall have the same preference against the assets of the employer as claims for taxes now have.

3136. Compensation. Exceptions. No compensation shall be allowed for the first ten days after the inquiry is received, except the disbursement hereinafter authorized for medical, nurse, and hospital services and medicines, and for funeral expenses.

3137. Rate and limit for temporary disability. In case of temporary disability, the employe shall receive 55 per cent of his average weekly wages so long as such disability is total, not to exceed a maximum of $12 per week, and not less than a minimum of $7 per week; but in no case to continue for more than six years from the date of the injury, or to exceed $4500.

3138. Rate, time, and schedule for partial disability. Where the injury causes partial disability for work, the employe shall receive, during such disability and for a period of not to exceed six years beginning on the eleventh day of disability, a weekly compensation equal to 55 per cent of the difference between his average weekly wages before the accident and the weekly wages he is able to earn thereafter, but not more than $12 a week. In no case shall the weekly payments continue after the disability ends, and in case the partial disability begins after a period of total disability the period of total disability shall be deducted from such total period of compensation. In the case of the following injuries the compensation shall be 55 per cent of the average weekly wages, but not more than $12 to be paid weekly for the periods stated against such injuries respectively, to wit: For loss of:

One arm at or near shoulder	200 weeks
One arm at the elbow	180 weeks
One arm between the wrist and the elbow	160 weeks
One hand	150 weeks
One thumb and the metacarpal bone thereof	60 weeks
One thumb at the proximal joint	30 weeks
One thumb at the second distal joint	20 weeks
One first finger and the metacarpal bone thereof	30 weeks
One first finger at the proximal joint	20 weeks
One first finger at the second joint	15 weeks
One first finger at the distal joint	10 weeks
One second finger and the metacarpal bone thereof	30 weeks
One second finger at the proximal joint	15 weeks
One second finger at the second joint	10 weeks
One second finger at the distal joint	5 weeks
One third finger and the metacarpal bone thereof	20 weeks
One third finger at the proximal joint	12 weeks
One third finger at the second joint	8 weeks
One third finger at the distal joint	4 weeks
One fourth finger and the metacarpal bone thereof	12 weeks
One fourth finger at the proximal joint	9 weeks
One fourth finger at the second joint	6 weeks
One fourth finger at the distal joint	3 weeks
One leg at or so near the hip joint as to preclude the use of an artificial limb	180 weeks
One leg at or above the knee where stump remains sufficient to permit the use of an artificial limb	150 weeks
One leg between the knee and ankle	140 weeks
One foot at the ankle	125 weeks
One great toe with the metatarsal bone thereof	30 weeks
One great toe at the proximal joint	15 weeks
One great toe at the second joint	10 weeks
One toe other than the great toe with the metatarsal bone thereof	12 weeks
One toe other than the great toe at proximal joint	6 weeks
One toe other than the great toe at second or distal joint	3 weeks
One eye by enucleation	120 weeks
Total blindness of one eye	100 weeks

The amounts specified in this section are all subject to the limitation as to the maximum weekly amount payable as hereinbefore specified in this section, and in no event shall more than a total of $4500 be required to be paid.

Sections 3138-3144 are discussed in Scranton Leasing Co. v. the Industrial Com., 50 U. —; 170 P. 976.

3139. Permanent total disability. In cases of permanent total disability, the award shall be 55 per cent of the average weekly wages for five years from date of injury, and thereafter 40 per cent of such average weekly wages until the death of such person so totally disabled, but not to exceed a maximum of $15 per week and not less than a minimum of $5 per week. The loss of both hands or both arms, or both feet or both legs, or both eyes, or of any two thereof, shall constitute total and permanent disability, to be compensated according to the provisions of this section.

3140. Benefits in case of death. In case the injury causes death within the period of three years, the benefits shall be in the amounts and to the persons following:

1. If there be no dependents, the employer or insurance carrier shall pay the burial expenses of the deceased, as provided herein, and shall pay into the state insurance fund the sum of $750, unless the employer is insured in said state insurance fund.

2. If there are wholly dependent persons at the time of the death, the payment shall be 55 per cent of the average weekly wages, but not to exceed a maximum of $15 per week, and to continue for the remainder of the period between the date of the death, and six years after the date of the injury, and not to amount to more than a maximum of $4500, nor less than a minimum of $2000.

3. If there are partly dependent persons at the time of the death, the payment shall be 55 per cent of the average weekly wages, but not to exceed the maximum of $15 per week, and to continue for all or such portion of the period of six years after the date of the injury, as the commission in each case may determine, and not to amount to more than a maximum of $4500.

4. The following persons shall be presumed to be wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employe:

(a) A wife upon a husband with whom she lives at the time of his death;

(b) A female child or female children under the age of eighteen years and a male child or male children under the age of sixteen years (or over such ages if physically or mentally incapacitated from earning) upon the parent with whom he is living at the time of the death of such parent.

In all other cases, the question of dependency, in whole or in part, shall be determined in accordance with the facts in each particular case existing at the time of the injury resulting in the death of such employe, but no person shall be considered as dependent unless a member of the family of the deceased employe, or bears to him the relation of husband or widow, lineal descendent, ancestor, or brother or sister. The word "child" as used in this title, shall include a posthumous child, and a child legally adopted prior to the injury.

3141. Apportionment and payment of benefits. The benefits in case of death shall be paid to such one or more of the dependents of the decedent, for the benefit of all the dependents, as may be determined by the commission, which may apportion the benefits among the dependents in such manner as it may deem just and equitable. Payment to a dependent subsequent in right may be made, if the commission deems it proper, and shall operate to discharge all other claims therefor. The dependents or persons to whom benefits are paid shall apply the same to the use of the several beneficiaries thereof according to their respective claims upon the decedent for support, in compliance with the finding and direction of the commission. In all cases of death where the dependents are a widow and one or more minor children, it shall be sufficient for the widow to make application to the commission on behalf of herself and minor children; and in cases where all of the dependents are minors, the application shall be made by the guardian or next friend of such minor dependents. Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or marry during the period covered by such weekly payments, the right of such dependent to compensation under this title shall cease.

3142. Basis of computation. The average weekly wage of the injured person at the time of the injury shall be taken as the basis upon which to compute the benefits.

3143. Expected increase of wage considered. If it is established that the injured employe was of such age and experience when injured as that under natural conditions his wages would be expected to increase, the fact may be considered in arriving at his average weekly wage.

3144. Powers and jurisdiction of commission continuing. The powers and jurisdiction of the commission over each case shall be continuing, and it may from time to time make such modification or change with respect to former findings or orders with respect thereto as in its opinion may be justified.

3145. Payments may be commuted or lumped. The commission, under special circumstances, and when the same is deemed advisable, may commute periodical benefits to one or more lump sum payments.

3146. Exemptions of compensation. Compensation before payment shall be exempt from all claims of creditors and from any attachment or execution, and shall be paid only to such employes or their dependents.

3147. Additional compensation. In addition to the compensation provided for herein, the employer, or insurance carrier, or state insurance fund shall pay such amounts for medical, nurse, and hospital services and medicines as it may deem proper, not, however, in any instance to exceed the sum of $200; and, in case death ensues from the injury, reasonable funeral expenses shall be disbursed and paid in an amount not to exceed the sum of $150, and the commission shall have full power to adopt rules and regulations with respect to the furnishing medical, nurse and hospital service and medicine to injured employes entitled thereto, and for the payment therefor.

3148. Claimant may appeal if denied compensation. The commission shall have full power and authority to hear and determine all questions within its jurisdiction, pertaining to the payment of compensation and benefits, and its decision thereon shall be final; provided, however, in case the final action of such commission denies the right of the claimant to participate at all in such fund on the ground that the injury was self-inflicted or on the ground that the accident did not arise out of and in the course of employment, or upon any other ground going to the basis of the claimant's right, then the claimant, within thirty days after the notice of the final action of such commission, may, by filing his appeal in the district court in any county of the district where the injury was inflicted, be entitled to a trial in the ordinary way, and be entitled to a jury if he demands it. In such a proceeding, the district attorney, without additional compensation, shall represent the commission, and he shall be notified by the clerk forthwith of the filing of such appeal. Within thirty days after filing his appeal, the appellant shall file a complaint in the ordinary form against such commission as defendant, and further pleadings shall be had in said cause, according to the rules of civil procedure, and the court, or the jury, under the instructions of the court, if a jury is demanded, shall determine the right of the claimant; and if they determine the right in his favor, shall fix his compensation within the limits and under the rules prescribed in this title; and any final judgment so obtained shall be paid by the commission out of the state insurance fund in the same manner as such awards are paid by such commission. The cost of such proceeding, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the trial judge, shall be taxed against the unsuccessful party. Either party shall have the right to prosecute appeals to the supreme court as in civil cases.

An employer should be notified of the hearing to allow compensation, and it has sufficient interest in the fund to permit it to bring certiorari or prohibition proceedings where the commission acts without jurisdiction.

The Ind. Com of Utah v. Evans, Judge, 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

Where the Industrial Commission proceeds without any evidence in allowing compensation, it is without jurisdiction, and appeal lies to the courts.

Id.

Even though the Industrial Commission act did not authorize the question of ultimate liability of the employer to be reviewed on appeal or by direct action, such right would exist by virtue of sec. 2, art. 1, of the Constitution.

Id.

3149. Latitude of commission in procedure. The commission shall not be bound by the usual common law or statutory rules of evidence or by any technical or formal rules of procedure, other than as herein provided; but may make the investigation in such manner as in its judgment is best calculated to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties and to carry out justly the spirit of this title.

3150. Minor deemed sui juris. A minor working at an age legally permitted under the laws of this state shall be deemed sui juris for the purpose of this title, and no other person shall have any cause of action or right to compensation for an injury to such minor workman, but in the event of the award of a lump sum of compensation to such minor employe, such sum shall be paid only to the legally appointed guardian of such minor.

3151. Agreements of waiver to compensation invalid. No agreement by an employe to waive his rights to compensation under this title shall be valid. No agreement by an employe to pay any portion of the premium paid by his employer shall be valid, and any employer who deducts any portion of such premium from the wages or salary of any employe entitled to the benefits of this title shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $100 for each such offense.

3152. Right of medical examinations. Any employe claiming the right to receive compensation under this title may be required by the commission, or its medical examiner, to submit himself for medical examination at any time and from time to time at a place reasonably convenient for such employe, and as may be provided by the rules of the commission. If such employe refuses to submit to any such examination or obstructs the same, his right to have his claim for compensation considered, if his claim be pending before the commission, or to receive any payments for compensation theretofore granted shall be suspended during the period of such refusal or obstruction.

3154. Liability of employers for misrepresentation. Any employer who misrepresents to the commission the amount of payroll upon which the premium under this title is based, shall be liable to the state in ten times the amount of the difference in premium paid and the amount the employer should have paid. The liability to the state under this section shall be enforced in a civil action in the name of the state, and all sums collected under this section shall be paid into the state insurance fund.

3155. Application of provisions as to those engaged in interstate commerce. The provisions of this title shall apply to employers and their employes engaged in intrastate and also in interstate and foreign commerce, for whom a rule of liability or method of compensation has been or may be established by the congress of the United States, only to the extent that their mutual connection with intrastate work may and shall be clearly separable and distinguishable from interstate or foreign commerce, and then only when such employer and any of his workmen working only in this state, with the approval of the commission, and so far as not forbidden by any act of congress, voluntarily accept the provisions of this title by filing written acceptances, which, when filed with and approved by the commission, shall subject the acceptors irrevocably to the provisions of this title to all intents and purposes as if they had been originally included in its terms, during the period or periods for which the premiums herein provided have been paid. Payment of premium shall be made on the basis of the payroll of the workmen who accept as aforesaid.

3156. Record of injuries. Reports to commission. Every employer shall keep a record of all injuries, fatal or otherwise, received by his employes arising out of and in the course of their employment. Within a week after the occurrence of an accident resulting in personal injury, a report thereof shall be made in writing to the commission upon blanks to be procured from the commission for that purpose. Such report shall contain the name and nature of the business of the employer, the location of his establishment or place of work, the name, address, and occupation of the injured employe, and shall state the time, the nature, and cause of injury and such other information as may be required by the commission. Any employer who refuses or neglects to make any report required by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for such offense.

3157. Enforcement of title. Upon the request of the commission, the attorney-general or, under his direction, any district attorney or the county attorney of any county, shall institute and prosecute the necessary actions or proceedings for the enforcement of any of the provisions of this title, or for the recovery of any money due the state insurance fund, or any penalty herein provided for, arising within the county in which he was elected, and shall defend in like manner all suits, actions, or proceedings brought against the commission or the members thereof in their official capacity.

3158. Expenditure for information. The commission may make necessary expenditures to obtain statistical and other information provided for herein.

3159. Annual report by commission. General distribution of information. Annually, on or before the 15th day of December, the commission, under the oath of at least two of its members, shall make a report to the governor for the preceding fiscal year, which shall include a statement of the number of awards made by it, and a general statement of the causes of accidents leading to the injuries for which the awards were made, a detailed statement of the disbursements from the expense fund, and the condition of its respective funds, together with any other matters which the commission deems proper to call to the attention of the governor, including any recommendations it may have to make; and it shall be the duty of the commission from time to time to publish and distribute among employers and employes such general information as to the business transacted by the department as in its judgment may be useful.

3160. Classifications, rates, rules, and regulations to be printed. The commission shall cause to be printed, in proper form for distribution to the public, its classifications, rates, rules, regulations, and rules of procedure, and shall furnish the same to any person upon application therefor.

3161. No injunction to issue. Exception. No injunction shall issue suspending or restraining any order, classification, or rate adopted by the commission, or any action of the state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, or the auditor or treasurer of any county, required to be taken by them or any of them by any of the provisions of this title; but nothing herein shall effect any right or defense in any action brought by the commission or the state in pursuance of authority contained in this title.

3162. If part is invalid the rest not affected. Should any section or provision of this title be decided by the courts to be unconstitutional or invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the title as a whole or any part thereof other than the part so decided to be unconstitutional.

3163. Appropriation for insurance and expenses. The sum of $40,000 is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, and the same is hereby set aside for the state insurance fund, to be administered by the commission as provided in this title; and the further sum of $50,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of salaries and expenses of the commission and the employes of said commission, during the years 1917 and 1918.

3164. Title effective. This title shall take effect on the 1st day of July, 1917, except §§ 3061 to 3071, inclusive, which shall take effect upon approval.

3165. Repeals. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this title are hereby repealed.

TITLE 50.

INHERITANCE TAX.

3185. (1220x.) Property subject to tax. Computation. Lien. Deductions. All property within the jurisdiction of this state, and any interest therein, whether belonging to the inhabitants of this state or not, and whether tangible or intangible, which shall pass by will or by the statutes of inheritance of this or any other state, or by deed, grant, bargain, sale, or gift, made in contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, to any person in trust or otherwise, shall be subject to the following tax, after the payment of all debts, for the use of the state: Three per cent of its market value in excess of $10,000, and not exceeding $25,000, and 5 per cent of its market value in excess of $25,000; and all administrators, executors, and trustees, and any such grantee under conveyance, and such donee under a gift made during the grantor's or donor's life, shall be respectively liable for all such taxes to be paid by them respectively, except as herein otherwise provided, with lawful interest as hereinafter set forth, until the same shall have been paid. The tax aforesaid shall be and remain a lien on such estate from the death of the decedent until paid. In determining the amount of tax to be paid under the provisions of this section, the debts of the estate shall first be deducted, and the remainder shall be the net estate. Upon all that portion of the net estate in excess of $25,000 the tax of 5 per cent shall be computed. Upon all that portion of the net estate in excess of $10,000 and not exceeding $25,000 the tax of 3 per cent shall be computed; and the court shall determine the amount of tax to be paid by the several devisees, legatees, grantees, or donees of the decedent. '01, p. 61; '03, p. 77; '05, p. 198; '15, p. 153; '17, p. 250.

Corporations to furnish attorney-general information, § 887.

Sec. 1 of the inheritance tax of 1901 is a transcript of the Iowa statute; Iowa construction followed.

Dixon v. Ricketts, 26 U. 215; 72 P. 947.

The inheritance tax law of 1901 is not in violation of the constitutional provision requiring uniformity and equality of taxation. Such laws have been very generally upheld.

Id.

The title of the inheritance tax law does not indicate that the tax is imposed only on the separate portions of the decedent's estate transmitted by gift, legacy, or inheritance which exceed $10,000.

Id.

As amended by chap. 98, laws '15, an estate worth in excess of $25,000 must be assessed 3 per cent on the difference between $10,000 and $25,000, or $15,000, and 5 per cent on the balance, and not 3 per cent in gross upon the entire estate, though after deduction of the $10,000 exemption the balance of the estate is not worth in excess of $25,000.

Property received by a wife under § 6406 is not received by her as an heir, and is not subject to an inheritance tax; only the amount received by her over the one-third granted by § 6406 is subject to an inheritance tax.

Where a widow takes under the will, even though the amount is compromised, the amount taken by her is subject to inheritance tax.

In re Osgood's Estate, 51 U. —; 173 P. 152.

3186. (1220x1.) "Debts" defined. The term "debts," as used in this chapter, shall include, in addition to debts owing by decedent at the time of his death, the local or state taxes due from the estate prior to his death, a reasonable sum for funeral expenses, the court costs, the statutory fees of executors, administrators, or trustees, and no other sum; but said debts shall not be deducted unless the same are approved and allowed within fifteen months from the death of decedent, as established claims against the said estate, unless otherwise ordered by the judge of the proper county, or, in case of foreign estates where the property within this state consists of personal property only, allowed by the attorney-general.

3187. (1220x2.) Appointment of appraisers. Qualifications. Removal. Vacancy. In each county the court shall annually appoint three competent residents and freeholders of said county to act as appraisers of all property within its jurisdiction which is charged or sought to be charged with an inheritance tax; provided, that such appraisers shall not act in making the appraisement of the property of any estate as provided by § 7636. Said appraisers shall serve for one year and until their successors are appointed and qualified. They shall each take an oath to faithfully and impartially perform the duties of the office, but shall not be required to give bond. They shall be subject to removal at any time at the discretion of the court, and the court, or judge thereof in vacation, may also in its discretion, either before or after the appointment of the regular appraisers, appoint other appraisers to act in any given case. Vacancies occurring otherwise than by expiration of term shall be filled by the appointment of the court, or by a judge in vacation. '05, p. 198; am'd '15, p. 35.

3188. (1220x3.) Compensation of appraisers. Penalty for taking fee or reward. Appraisers shall receive $5 per diem for actual services and such necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as may be allowed by the court appointing the same, to be paid out of the state treasury as other state officers are paid. Any appraiser appointed under this title who shall take any fee or reward from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin, or heir of any decedent, or from any other person liable to pay said tax or any portion thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '05, p. 198; am'd '15, p. 35.

3190. (1220x5.) Duties of appraisers. It shall be the duty of all appraisers appointed under the provisions of this title to forthwith give notice to the state treasurer and other persons known to be interested in the property to be appraised, of the time and place at which they will appraise such property, which time shall not be less than ten days from the date of such notice. The notice shall be served in the same manner as is prescribed for the commencement of civil actions, and if not practicable to serve the notice provided for by statute, they shall apply to the court or a judge in vacation for an order as to notice, and upon service of such notice and the making of such appraisement, the said notice, return thereon, and appraisement shall be filed with the clerk, and a copy of such appraisement shall be filed by the clerk with the state treasurer. '05, p. 199.

3191. (1220x6.) Objections to appraisements. Hearing on. The state treasurer or any person interested in the estate appraised may, within twenty days thereafter, file objections to said appraisement, on the hearing of which as an action in equity, either party may produce evidence competent or material to the matters therein involved. If, upon such hearing, the court finds the amount at which the property is appraised is at its value on the market in the ordinary course of trade, and the appraisement was fairly and in good faith made, it shall approve such appraisement; but if it finds that the appraisement was made at a greater or less sum than the value of the property in the ordinary course of trade, or that the same was not fairly or in good faith made, it shall set aside the appraisement, appoint new appraisers, and so proceed until a fair and good appraisement of the property is made at its value in the market in the ordinary course of trade. The state treasurer, or any one interested in the property appraised, may appeal to the supreme court from the order of the district court approving or setting aside any appraisement to which exceptions have been filed. Notice of appeal shall be served within thirty days from the date of the order appealed from, and the appeal shall be perfected in the time now provided for appeals in equitable actions. In case of appeal, the appellant, if he is not the state treasurer, shall give bond to be approved by the clerk of the court, to pay the tax, which bond shall provide that the said appellant and sureties shall pay the tax for which the property may be liable, with cost of appeal. If upon the hearing of objections to the appraisement, the court finds that the property is not subject to the tax, the court shall, upon expiration of time for appeal, when no appeal has been taken, order the clerk to enter upon the lien book a cancellation of any claim or lien for taxes. If at the end of twenty days from the filing of the appraisement with the clerk, no objections are filed, the appraisement shall stand as approved. '05, p. 199.

3192. (1220x7.) Action on cases now pending. In all cases where the property of an estate has been subject or liable for the payment of the tax provided in this title, or where such property has heretofore been appraised and the tax not yet paid, and the notice required in this title was not given, it shall be the duty of the court, immediately upon the taking effect of this title, to enforce such tax, or to set aside any appraisement heretofore made, and order a reappraisement of the same to be made as in this title provided, anything in the law contrary notwithstanding. '05, p. 200.

3194. (1220x9.) Estates for life or term of years. Whenever any real estate of a decedent shall be subject to such tax, and there be a life estate or interest for a term of years given to one party or parties, and the remainder to another party or parties, the court shall direct the interest of the life estate, or term of years, to be appraised at its market value in the ordinary course of trade, and, upon the approval of such appraisement by the court, the party entitled to such life estate, or term of years, shall, within sixty days thereafter, pay such tax, and in default thereof the court shall order such interest in said estate, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay such tax, to be sold. Upon the determination of such life estate, or term of years, the court shall, upon its own motion, or upon the application of the state treasurer, cause such estate to be appraised at its then market value in the ordinary course of trade, from which shall be deducted the value of any improvements thereon, or betterments thereto, if any, made by the remainder man during the time of the prior estate, to be ascertained and determined by the appraisers, and the tax on the remainder shall be paid by such remainder man within sixty days from the approval by the court of the appraisement. If such tax is not paid within said time, the court shall then order said real estate, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay such tax, to be sold. Whenever any personal estate of a decedent shall be subject to such tax and there be a life estate or interest for a term of years given to one party or parties, and the remainder to another party or parties, the court shall inquire into and determine the market value in the ordinary course of trade, of the life estate or interest for the term of years, and order and direct the amount of the tax thereon to be paid by the prior estate and that to be paid by the remainder man, each of whom shall pay his proportion of the tax within sixty days from such determination, unless a longer period is fixed by the court, and, in default thereof, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall pay the same out of said property and hold the same from distribution, and invest it at interest under the order of the court until said tax is paid, or until the interest on the same equals the amount of such tax, which shall thereupon be paid. '01, p. 62; '05, p. 200.

3195. (1220x10.) Where bequest is in lieu of compensation to executor. Whenever a decedent appoints one or more executors or trustees and in lieu of his or their allowance or commission makes a bequest or devise of property to him or them, which would otherwise be liable to said tax, or appoints them as residuary legatees, and said bequests, devises, or residuary legacies exceed what would be a reasonable compensation for his or their services, such excess shall be liable to such tax, and the court having jurisdiction of his or their accounts, upon its own motion or on application of the state treasurer, shall fix such compensation. '01, p. 63; '05, p. 201.

3197. (1220x12.) Executor, etc., to collect tax. Every executor, administrator, or trustee having in charge or trust any property subject to said tax, and which is made payable to him, shall deduct the tax therefrom, or shall collect the tax thereon from the legatee or person entitled to said property, and he shall not deliver any specific legacy or property subject to said tax to any person until he has collected the tax thereon.

'01, p. 63; '05, p. 202.

3198. (1220x13.) Taxes payable to state treasurer within fifteen months. All taxes imposed by this title shall be payable to the state treasurer, and shall be paid within fifteen months from the death of the testator or intestate. All taxes not paid within fifteen months from death of the testator or intestate shall draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum until paid; provided, that upon good cause being shown therefor, the court, or a judge thereof in vacation, or in case of foreign estates where the property within this state consists of personal property only, the attorney-general may extend the period in which such taxes are to be paid in any estate, and may abate the interest thereon for such period of extension.

'01, p. 63; '05, p. 202; am'd '15, p. 36.

3199. (1220x14.) Executor, etc., to collect tax in certain cases, other cases state treasurer. It is hereby made the duty of all executors, administrators, or trustees charged with the management or settlement of any estate subject to the tax provided for in this title, to collect and pay to the state treasurer the amount of the tax due from any devisee, legatee, grantee, or donee of the decedent, except in cases falling under the provisions of §§ 3193, 3194, in which cases the state treasurer shall collect the same. Applications may be made to the district court by such executor, administrator, trustee, or state treasurer to sell the real estate subject to said tax in an equitable action, or, if made to the court having charge of the settlement of the estate, the proceedings shall conform as nearly as may be to those for the sale of real estate of decedent for the settlement of his debts.

3200. (1220x15.) No settlement allowed until tax paid. No final settlement of the account of any executor, administrator, or trustee shall be accepted or allowed unless it shall show, and the court shall find, that all taxes imposed by the provisions of this title upon any property or interest therein belonging to the estate to be paid by such executors, administrators, or trustees, and to be settled by said account, shall have been paid, and the receipt of the state treasurer for such tax shall be the proper voucher for such payment. '01, p. 64; '05, p. 202.

3201. (1220x16.) District court to have jurisdiction. The district court having either principal or ancillary jurisdiction of the settlement of the estate of the decedent shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions in relation to said tax that may arise affecting any devise, legacy, or inheritance, or any grant or gift, under this title, subject to appeal as in other cases, and the state treasurer shall in his name of office represent the interests of the state in any proceedings. '01, p. 64; '05, p. 202.

3202. (1220x17.) State treasurer may demand information from executors, etc. Before issuing his receipt for the tax, the state treasurer may demand from the executors, administrators, or trustees, such information as may be necessary to verify the correctness of the amount of the tax and interest, and, when demanded, they shall send such treasurer certified copies of such parts of their reports as he may demand, and upon the refusal of said parties to comply with the demand of the state treasurer, it is the duty of the clerk of the court to comply with such demand, and the expense of making such copies and transcripts shall be charged against the estate, as are other costs in probate. '05, p. 203.

3203. (1220x18.) Inheritance tax and lien book to be kept by clerk. The clerk of the district court in and for each county, where an inheritance tax is charged or sought to be charged, shall provide and keep a suitable book, substantially bound and suitably ruled, to be known as the inheritance tax and lien book, in which shall be kept a full and accurate record of all proceedings in cases where property is charged or sought to be charged with the payment of an inheritance tax under the laws of this state, to be printed and ruled so as to show upon one page:

1. The name, place of residence, and date of death of the decedent;
2. Whether the decedent died testate, or intestate, and if testate, the record and page where the will was probated and recorded;
3. The name and postoffice address of the executor, administrator, trustee, or grantee, with date of appointment or transfer;
4. The names, postoffice addresses, and relationship, if known, of all the heirs, devisees, and grantees;
5. The appraised valuation of the personal property;
6. The amount of inheritance tax due upon said personal property;
7. A record of payment with amount and date;
8. Date of filing objections and name of objectors;
9. Blank for index and reference to all proceedings, and for memorandum entries of the court or judge in relation thereto.

Upon the opposite page of such record shall be printed:

1. Real estate from (naming decedent) which is subject to the lien prescribed by the statute for inheritance tax;
2. A full and accurate description of such real estate, by forty-acre or fractional tracts, or by lots, or other complete individual description;
3. The appraised valuation as reported by the appraisers with a reference to the record of their report, as to each piece of such real estate;
4. The amount of inheritance tax due upon each such piece;
5. A record of payments, with dates and amounts;
6. Date of filing objections, and names of objectors;
7. Blank for index and reference and to all proceedings, and for memorandum entries of court or judge in relation thereto. '05, p. 203.

3204. (1220x19.) Executor, etc., to report facts. Entry of real estate in lien book. Upon the appointment and qualification of each executor, administrator, and testamentary trustee, the clerk issuing the letters shall at the same time deliver to him a blank form upon which he shall be required to make detailed report of the following facts:

1. Name and last residence of the decedent;

2. Date of death;
3. Whether or not he left a will;
4. Name and postoffice of executor, administrator, or trustee;
5. Name and postoffice of surviving wife or husband, if any;
6. If testate, name and postoffice of each beneficiary under the will;
7. Relationship of each beneficiary to the testator;
8. If intestate, name and postoffice of each heir at law;
9. Relationship of each heir at law to the decedent;
10. Inventory of all real estate of the decedent, giving amount and description of each tract.

Within ten days after his qualification, each executor, administrator, and testamentary trustee shall make and return to the clerk, under oath, a full and detailed report as indicated in the preceding section, any will to the contrary notwithstanding, and upon his failure to do so, the clerk shall forthwith report his delinquency to the district court if in session, or to a judge of said court if in vacation, for such order as may be necessary to enforce an observance of this section. If it appears from the inventory or report so filed that the real estate, or any part of it, is subject to an inheritance tax, it shall be the duty of the executor or administrator to cause the lien of the same to be entered upon the lien book in the office of the clerk of the court in each county where each particular tract of said real estate is situated, and no conveyance of said real estate or interest therein, which is subject to such tax before or after entering of said lien, shall discharge the real estate so conveyed from the operation thereof, and no final settlement of the account of any executor, administrator, or trustee shall be accepted or allowed unless a strict compliance with the provisions of this section has been had by such person. '01, p. 61; '05, p. 204.

3205. (1220x20.) Extension of time for appraisement. Whenever, by reason of the complicated nature of an estate, or by reason of the confused condition of the decedent's affairs, it is impracticable for the executor, administrator, or trustee or beneficiary of said estate to file with the clerk of the court a full, complete, and itemized inventory of the personal assets belonging to the estate, within the time required by statute for filing inventories of the estate, the court may, upon the application of such representatives or parties in interest, extend the time for the making of the inheritance appraisement for a period not to exceed three months beyond the time fixed by law. '05, p. 205.

3206. (1220x21.) Clerk to enter in inheritance tax and lien book. Index. The clerk shall from time to time enter upon the inheritance tax and lien book, the title of all estates subject to the inheritance tax, as shown by the inventories or lists of heirs filed in his office, or as reported to him by the district attorney or the state treasurer, and shall enter in said book as against each estate or title, at the appropriate place, all such information relating to the situation and condition of the estate as he may be able to obtain from the papers filed in his office, or from the district attorney or the state treasurer, as may be necessary to collection and enforcement of the tax. He shall also immediately index all liens entered upon the inheritance tax and lien book in the book kept in his office for that purpose. '05, p. 205.

3207. (1220x22.) Complete record by clerk. In all cases entered upon the inheritance tax and lien book, the clerk shall make a complete record in the proper probate record, of all the proceedings, orders, reports, inventories, appraisements and all other matters and proceedings therein. '05, p. 205.

3208. (1220x23.) Duties of clerk. It shall be the duty of each clerk of the district court to make examination from time to time of all reports filed with him by administrators, executors, and trustees, pursuant to law; also to make examination of all foreign wills offered for probate or recorded within his county, as well as of the record of deeds and conveyances in the recorder's office of said county, and if from such examination, or from information or knowledge coming to him from any other source, he finds or believes that any property within his county, or within the jurisdiction of the district court of said county, has, since May 14, 1901, passed by will or by the intestate laws of this or any other state, or by deed, grant, sale, or gift made or intended to take effect, in possession or in enjoyment after the death of the testator, donor, or grantor, to any person within this state, he shall make report thereof in writing to the state treasurer, embodying in such report the name and residence of the decedent, date of death, name and address of administrator, executor, or trustee; the description of any property liable to a tax and the county in which it is located, and name and relationship of all beneficiaries or heirs. Any citizen of the state having knowledge of property liable to such tax, against which no proceeding for enforcing collection thereof is pending, may report the same to the clerk, and it shall be the duty of such officer to investigate the case, and if he has reason to believe the information to be true, he shall forthwith institute such proceedings substantially as above indicated. '05, p. 205.

3209. (1220x24.) Duties of court and district attorney. On the first or second day of each regular term, the court shall require the clerk to present for its inspection, the inheritance tax and lien book hereinbefore provided for, together with all reports of administrators, executors, and trustees which have been filed pursuant to this title since the last preceding term. The district attorney shall also attend and make report to the court concerning the progress of all cases pending for the collection of such taxes, together with any other facts which, in his judgment, may aid the court in enforcing the general observance of the inheritance tax law. If from information obtained from the records or reports, or from any other source, the court has reason to believe that there is property within its jurisdiction liable to the payment of an inheritance tax, against which proceedings for collection are not already pending, it shall enter an order of record, directing the district attorney to institute such proceedings forthwith. Should any estate, or the name of any grantee or grantees, be placed upon the book at the suggestion of the district attorney or the state treasurer in which the papers already on file in the clerk's office do not disclose that any inheritance tax is due or payable, the district attorney shall forthwith give to all parties in interest such notice as the court or judge may prescribe, requiring them to appear on a day to be fixed by the said court or judge, and show cause why the property should not be appraised and subjected to said tax. If upon hearing at the time so fixed, the court is satisfied that any property of the decedent, or any property devised, granted, or donated by him, is subject to the tax, the same proceedings shall be had as in other cases, so far as applicable. '05, p. 206.

3210. (1220x25.) Costs, by whom paid. In all cases where any property so passes as to be liable to taxation under the inheritance law, all costs of the proceedings had for determining the amount of such tax or for determining whether the property of the entire estate is sufficient in amount as to render that part passing to heirs subject to the tax, shall be chargeable to such estate, and to discharge the lien upon such property all costs, as well as the taxes, must be paid. In all other cases the costs are to be paid as ordered by the court, and when a decision adverse to the state has been rendered, with an order that the state pay the costs, it is the duty of the clerk of the court in which such action was pending to certify the amount of such costs to the state treasurer, who shall, if said costs be correctly certified, and the case has been finally terminated, present the claim to the state board of examiners, to audit, and, said claim being allowed by said board, the state auditor is directed to issue a warrant on the state treasurer in payment of such costs. '05, p. 207.

3211. (1220x26.) Safe deposit company or bank to give notice before transferring securities. No safe deposit company, bank, or other institution, person, or persons holding securities or assets of the decedent shall deliver or transfer the same to the executor or administrator or legal representative of said decedent unless notice of the time and place of such intended transfer be served upon the state treasurer at least five days prior to the transfer thereof, or unless the tax for which such securities or assets are liable under this title shall be first paid. It shall be lawful for, and the duty of, the state treasurer personally, or by any person by him duly authorized, to examine such securities or assets at the time of such delivery or transfer. Failure to serve such notice upon the state treasurer, or to allow such examination on the delivery of such securities or assets to such executor, administrator or legal representative before said tax is paid shall render such safe deposit company, trust company, bank, or other institution, person, or persons liable for the payment of the taxes due upon such securities or assets as provided in this title. '05, p. 207.

3212. (1220x27.) Foreign estates, how assessed. Where any property belonging to a foreign estate is subject to the payment of an inheritance tax in this state, such tax shall be assessed upon the market value of such property remaining after the payment of such debts and expenses as are chargeable to the property under the laws of this state, and in the event that the executor, administrator, or trustee of such foreign estate files with the clerk of the court having ancillary jurisdiction, statements in writing exhibiting the true market value of the entire estate of the decedent owner, and the indebtedness for which the said estate has been adjudged liable, which statements shall be in affidavit form and sworn to by such executor, administrator, or trustee, the beneficiaries of said estate shall then be entitled to have deducted such proportion of the said indebtedness of the decedent from the value of the property within this state as the value of the property within this state bears to the value of the entire estate; provided, that in all such cases where the property within this state consists of personal property only, the statements hereinbefore provided for shall be filed with the attorney-general. '05, p. 207; am'd '15, p. 36.

3213. (1220x28.) Id. Whenever any property, real or personal, within this state, belongs to a foreign estate, said foreign estate passes in part exempt from the inheritance tax, and in part subject to said inheritance tax, and it is within the authority or discretion of the foreign executor, administrator, or trustee administering the estate to dispose of the property not specifically devised to direct heirs or devisees in the payment of the debts owing by the decedent at the time of his death, or in the satisfaction of legacies, devises, or trusts given to direct and collateral legatees or devisees, or in payment of the distributive shares of any direct and collateral heirs, then the property within the jurisdiction of the state, belonging to such foreign estate, shall be subject to the inheritance tax imposed by this title, and the tax due thereon shall be assessed as provided in the next preceding section of this title, and with the same proviso respecting the deduction of the proportionate share of the indebtedness, as therein provided. '05, p. 208.

3214. (1220x29.) Id. Tax on corporate stock. If a foreign executor, administrator, or trustee shall assign or transfer any corporate stock or obligations in this state standing in the name of a decedent, or in trust for a decedent, liable to such tax, the tax shall be paid to the state treasurer on or before the transfer thereof; otherwise the corporation permitting its stock to be so transferred shall be liable to pay such tax, and it is the duty of the state treasurer to enforce the payment thereof. '05, p. 208.

3215. (1220x30.) State treasurer may compromise certain cases. Whenever an estate charged, or sought to be charged, with the inheritance tax, is of such a nature or is so disposed that the liability of the estate is doubtful, or the value thereof cannot with reasonable certainty be ascertained under the provisions of law, the state treasurer may, with the approval of the attorney-general, which approval shall set forth the reasons therefor, compromise with the beneficiaries or representatives of such estates, and compound the tax thereon; but said settlement must be approved by the district court or judge of the proper court, and after such approval, the payment of the amount of the taxes so agreed upon shall discharge the lien against the property of the estate. '05, p. 208.

3216. (1220x31.) Title applies to pending cases. This title shall apply to all pending estates which are not closed, and the property subjected by this title to the said tax is liable to the provisions incorporated in this title. '05, p. 208.

TITLE 51.

INQUESTS.

3220. (1221.) Justice to hold inquests in precincts. It shall be the duty of every justice of the peace to hold inquests on the bodies of such persons as are supposed to have died by unlawful means within the precinct of such justice.

3221. (1222.) Id. When absent. If a justice of the peace is absent or unable to attend, the duties of his office in relation to inquests may be discharged by any justice of the peace of the county.

3222. (1223.) Summoning jury. Qualified jurors. When a justice shall have notice that any such body has been found in his precinct, he must issue his warrant to the sheriff or to any constable, requiring him forthwith to summon any three qualified residents of the city or precinct in which the inquest is held that he can most readily find to appear before him at a time and place named in the warrant.

Jury of inquest, § 3596.

3223. (1224.) Id. Form of warrant. The warrant may be in substance as follows:

State of Utah, ... precinct, ... county.

To.....

In the name of the state of Utah, you are hereby required to forthwith summon three qualified electors of ..... precinct to appear before me at (naming the place) at (naming the day and hour or "forthwith") then and there to hold an inquest upon the dead body of ..... there lying, and ascertain by what means he died.

Witness my hand this ..... day of ..... A. D. 19.....

Justice of the peace in ..... precinct in ..... county.

3224. (1225.) Id. Service and return. The officer shall execute the warrant and make return thereof at the time and place named.

3225. (1226.) Failure of juror to appear. If any juror fails to appear, the justice shall immediately cause the proper number to be summoned or returned from the bystanders and proceed to impanel them and administer an oath in substance as follows:

You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will diligently inquire and true presentment make, when, how, and by what means the person whose body lies here dead came to his death, according to your knowledge and the evidence to be given you; so help you God.

3226. (1227.) Witnesses. Contempt The justice may issue subpœnas for witnesses within his county, returnable forthwith, or at such time as he shall direct, and shall have the same authority to enforce the attendance of witnesses and to punish them and jurors for contempt in disobeying his process as he shall have in cases triable before him.

3227. (1228.) Id. Oath. An oath (or affirmation) shall be administered to the witness in substance as follows:

You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony which you shall give at this inquest, concerning the death of the person whose body is here lying dead, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help you God.

3228. (1229.) When testimony to be written. The justice may require the testimony to be written, and to be subscribed by the witnesses.

3229. (1230.) Experts. Post mortem. Stenographer. The justice, by permission of a majority of the board of county commissioners, may subpœna a physician or surgeon to inspect the body, or a chemist to make an analysis of the contents of the stomach or the tissues of the body, or to hold a post mortem examination of the deceased and to give a professional opinion as to the cause of death, and the justice shall have the testimony given by the witnesses reduced to writing, under his directions, and may employ a stenographer for such purpose at the same relative compensation as is now allowed to stenographers in the district courts of this state; and when such testimony shall have been taken down by the stenographer a transcript thereof, duly certified, shall constitute the deposition of such witness. Any such physician, surgeon, or chemist so subpœnaed shall receive such reasonable compensation from the county as the board of county commissioners shall allow.

3230. (1231.) Verdict. Form. The jurors, having inspected the body, heard the testimony, and made all needful inquiries, shall return to the justice their inquisition in writing, subscribed by them, and stating the matters, so far as found, in substance according to the following form:

State of Utah, ... precinct, ... county.

An inquest having been held at ..... in ..... precinct, ... county, on the ..... day of ....., 19....., before ....., justice of the peace in ..... precinct in said county, upon the body of ..... (or person unknown) there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed, the said jurors upon their oaths do say, (here stating when, how, by what person, means, weapon, or accident he came to his death, and whether feloniously).

In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year aforesaid.

The foregoing inquisition must be attested by the justice of the peace.

3231. (1232.) Id. Making same public. If the inquisition find that a crime has been committed on the deceased, and name the person who the jury believe has committed it, the inquest shall not be made public until after the arrest directed in the next section.

3232. (1233.) Person charged arrested if present. If the person charged be present, the justice may order his arrest by an officer or any other person present, and shall there make a warrant, requiring the officer or other person to take him before a justice of the peace.

3233. (1234.) Warrant for arrest if absent. If the person be not present and the justice believes that he can be taken, the justice may issue a warrant to the sheriff or any constable of the county, requiring him to arrest such person and take him before a justice of the peace, when he shall be dealt with as if held under a complaint in the usual form.

3234. (1235.) Form of warrant. Effect of. The warrant of the justice shall substantially recite the transactions before him and the verdict of the jury of inquest leading to the arrest; and such warrant shall be a sufficient foundation for the proceeding of a justice.

3235. (1236.) Justice's return to district court. The justice of the peace shall return to the clerk of the district court of the county the inquisition, the written evidence, and a list of the witnesses testifying to material matter.

3236. (1237.) Disposition of body. Expense. The justice of the peace shall cause the body of a deceased person, which he shall have been called to view, to be delivered to his friends, if any be present or within convenient distance; if not, he shall cause it to be decently buried, the expense to be paid from any property of the deceased, or, if there be not sufficient property of the deceased to pay the necessary expenses of the burial, the same shall be charged against the county.

Unclaimed body delivered to medical department of University, § 5558.

3237. (1238.) Register of inquests. It shall be the duty of every justice of the peace of each county to keep an official register, to be labeled, "register of inquests," in which he shall enter the date of holding all inquests, the name of the deceased, when known, and when not, such description of the deceased as may be sufficient for identification; property found on the person of the deceased, if any; what disposition was made of the same; the cause of death, when known; and such other information as may pertain to the identity of the deceased.

3238. (1239.) Disposition of property. The justice must, within thirty days after an inquest upon a dead body, deliver to the county treasurer or the legal representative of the deceased, any money or other property found upon the body, except such as may have been disposd of for the decedent's burial, and at the same time file an affidavit with the treasurer, showing:

1. The amount of money or other property belonging to the estate of the deceased person, which has come into his possession;
2. The disposition made of such property.

Action to compel justice to pay over, § 1489. Disposition of such property, §§ 1490-1493.

3239. (1240.) Expense of inquest. The expenses of holding an inquest shall be a charge against the county, but the county shall have a legal claim against the estate of the deceased for the amount, and it shall be the duty of the county attorney to collect the same, if there be any estate, and pay it into the county treasury.

Bills must be certified by county attorney, § 2528.
Expense of inquest a charge against the county, § 1617.
Fees of justice, § 2527.
Fees of jurors and witnesses, §§ 2550, 2551.

TITLE 52.

INSURANCE.

CHAPTER 1.

COUNTY INSURANCE COMPANIES.

('09, p. 208.)

3250. Mutual fire insurance companies. Who may organize. When policies become effective. Any number of persons, not less than fifty, residing in any county or district of this state who collectively shall own property of not less than $50,000 in value, which they desire to have insured, may form an incorporated company for the purpose of mutual insurance against loss or damage by fire or lightning. In no case shall the policies of any such company become effective under this law until $100,000 shall be written upon the books of the company. Am'd '15, p. 128.

General insurance law not applicable, § 1187. Insurance corporation, general, §§ 1120-1186.

3251. "District" defined. The term "district," as used in this chapter, shall include one or more counties, but shall in no case exceed four counties, whose territory must be contiguous. '15, p. 130.

3252. Shall incorporate. Affidavit. Such persons shall execute articles of incorporation in accordance with the provisions of § 861. Instead of the oath to the agreement as required by § 862, at least three of the incorporators shall make oath or affirmation that the incorporators collectively own property of not less than $50,000 in value, which they desire to have insured.

3253. Bonds. The treasurer and the secretary shall each give bonds to the company for the faithful performance of their duties, in such amounts as shall be prescribed by the board of directors.

3254. Powers and duties. Such corporation and its directors shall possess the usual powers and be subject to the usual duties of corporations and directors thereof, and may make such by-laws, not inconsistent with the constitution or laws of this state, as may be deemed necessary for the management of its affairs in accordance with the provisions of this chapter; also to prescribe the duties of its officers and fix their compensation, and to alter and amend its by-laws when necessary.

3255. Membership. Rights and privileges. Any person owning property in the county or district for which any such company is formed shall become a member of such company by insuring therein, and shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges appertaining thereto and subject to all liabilities connected with such membership; but no person not residing in the county or district in which the company is formed shall become a director of such company. Am'd '15, p. 128.

3256. Insurable property. Limit to risk. Liability of insured. Such company may issue policies only on detached dwellings, school houses, churches, barns (except livery, boarding, and hotel barns), and other farm buildings, and such property as may properly be contained therein; also other property on the premises and owned by the insured, hay and grain in stack, and livestock on the premises of the insured for any time not exceeding five years. It shall be unlawful for any such company to accept any risk for more than $2000 until $1,000,000 of insurance is in force. Companies with more than $1,000,000 and less than $1,500,000 of insurance in force may accept risks of $3000; companies with more than $1,500,000 and less than $2,000,000 may accept risks of $4000; companies with more than $2,000,000 and less than $3,000,000 may accept risks of $6000; companies with $3,000,000 or more in force may increase the amount of the risk in the discretion of their boards of directors. All persons so insured shall give their obligations to the company, binding themselves, their heirs, and assigns to pay their pro rata share to the company of the necessary expenses, and all losses by fire or lightning which may be sustained by any member thereof during the time for which their respective policies are written, and they shall also at the time of effecting the insurance pay such a percentage in cash and such other charges as may be required by the rules or by-laws of the company. Am'd '15, p. 128.

3257. Classification of property. Any such company may classify the property insured therein at the time of issuing policies thereon, under different rates, corresponding as nearly as may be to the greater or less risk from fire or lightning. Am'd '15, p. 128.

3258. Company to operate within defined limits. No such company shall insure any property beyond the limits of the county or district comprised in the formation of the company. Am'd '15, p. 128.

3259. Adjustment of losses. Every member of such company who sustains loss by fire or lightning shall immediately notify the president and the secretary of the company, stating the amount of damage or loss claimed; if not more than $500, then the president and the secretary shall proceed to ascertain the amount of such loss or damage and adjust the same; if the claim for damage or loss shall be an amount greater than $500, then the president of such company, or, in case of his absence, the secretary thereof, shall forthwith convoke the directors of such company, whose duty it shall be, when convenient, to appoint a committee of not less than three disinterested members of such company to ascertain the amount of damage or loss. If in either case there is a failure of the parties to agree upon the amount of such damage or loss, the claimant may apply to the judge of the district court in the county in which the office of such company is located, whose duty it shall be to appoint three disinterested persons as a committee of reference, who shall have full power and authority to examine witnesses and to determine all matters in dispute and shall make their award in writing to the president of such company, and such award shall be final. The pay of such committee shall be $2 per day for each day's service so rendered, and 4 cents for each mile necessarily traversed in discharge of their duties, which shall be paid by the claimant, unless the award of said committee shall exceed the sum offered by the company in liquidation of such loss or damage, in which case said expenses shall be paid by the company. All adjusting committees shall have power to administer oaths, and examine witnesses upon any matter connected with such loss or damage.

3260. Losses, how paid. Borrowing limits. Assessment. Whenever the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall have the power to borrow money not to exceed one-half of one per cent of all the property insured with which to pay said loss, and when the amount of such loss shall exceed one-half of one per cent of all property insured, the president shall convoke the directors of said company, who shall make an assessment upon all property insured in proportion to the amount for which the several pieces of property are insured, taken in connection with the rate of premium under which it may be classified; provided, that such assessments shall be made for an amount sufficient to pay all indebtedness of said company up to the time said assessment is made, and including the loss which occasioned such assessment. Am'd '15, p. 128.

3261. Notice of assessment to members. It shall be the duty of the secretary, whenever an assessment is made, to immediately notify every person composing such company, personally, by an agent, or by letter sent to his usual postoffice address, of the amount of such loss and indebtedness, and the sum due from him as his share thereof, and of the time when and to whom such payment is to be made; but such time shall not be less than thirty nor more than ninety days from the date of such notice.

3262. Suits to collect assessments. Suits at law may be brought against any member of such company who shall neglect or refuse to pay any assessment made upon him by the provisions of this chapter; and the directors of any company so formed, who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this chapter, shall be liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining such loss. Suits at law may also be brought and maintained against any such company, by members thereof, for loss sustained, if payment is withheld after such losses become due. Am'd '11, p. 195.

3263. Annual statement. It shall be the duty of the secretary to prepare an annual statement, showing the condition of such company on the 31st day of December, and present the same at the annual meeting.

3264. Withdrawals. Any member of such company may withdraw therefrom by surrendering his policy for cancellation, at any time while the company continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the secretary thereof and paying his share of all claims then existing against said company; provided, that by the withdrawal of any such member, the number of the members remaining in the company shall not be reduced below the original number of incorporators, or that the amount of property insured will not be reduced below $50,000; provided, further, that the company shall have power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured notice to that effect.

3265. Annual statement to be submitted to insurance department. Fee. It shall be the duty of the president and the secretary of every such company, on the 1st day of January of each year, or within ten days thereafter, to prepare, under their own oath, and to transmit to the insurance department, a statement of the condition of the company on the 31st day of December then next preceding, in such form as the insurance department may direct. If, upon examination, the commissioner of insurance is of the opinion that such company is doing business correctly, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, he shall thereupon furnish the company his certificate, which shall be deemed authority to continue in business the ensuing year, subject, however, to subsequent compliance with the provisions of this chapter. For such examination and certificate the company shall pay $1, which shall be the only charge in connection with its annual statement. It shall not be necessary to publish an abstract of such annual statement.

CHAPTER 2.

FRATERNAL INSURANCE.

('11, p. 301.)

3271. "Fraternal benefit society" defined. Any corporation, society, order, or voluntary association, without capital stock, organized and carried on solely for the mutual benefit of its members and their beneficiaries, and not for profit, and having a lodge system with ritualistic form of work and representative form of government, and which shall make provision for the payment of benefits in accordance with § 3275, is hereby declared to be a fraternal benefit society.

General insurance law not applicable, § 3274. Family protection, §§ 3111-3116.
General insurance law, §§ 1120-1186.

3272. Lodge system. Any society having a supreme governing or legislative body and subordinate lodges or branches by whatever name known, into which members shall be elected, initiated, and admitted in accordance with its constitution, laws, rules, regulations, and prescribed ritualistic ceremonies, which subordinate lodges or branches shall be required by the laws of such society to hold regular or stated meetings at least once in each month, shall be deemed to be operating on the lodge system.

3273. Representative government. Any such society shall be deemed to have a representative form of government when it shall provide in its constitution and laws for a supreme legislative or governing body, composed of representatives elected either by the members or by delegates elected either directly or indirctly by the members, together with such other members as may be prescribed by its constitution and laws; provided, that the elective members shall constitute a majority in number and have not less than two-thirds of the votes, nor less than the votes required to amend its constitution and laws; and provided, further, that the meetings of the supreme or governing body, and the election of officers, representatives or delegates shall be held as often as once in four years. The members, officers, representatives, or delegates of a fraternal benefit society shall not vote by proxy.

3274. Exempt from provisions of insurance code. Except as herein provided, such societies shall be governed by this chapter and shall be exempt from all provisions of the insurance laws of this state, not only in governmental relations with the state, but for every other purpose, and no law hereafter enacted shall apply to them, unless they be expressly designated therein.

3275. Powers. Every society transacting business under this chapter shall provide for the payment of death benefits, and may provide for the payment of benefits in case of temporary or permanent physical disability, as the result of disease, accident, or old age; provided, the period of life at which the payment of benefits for disability on account of old age shall commence shall not be under seventy years, and may provide for monuments or tombstones to the memory of its deceased members, and for the payment of funeral benefits. Such society shall have the power to give a member, when permanently disabled or on attaining the age of seventy, all or such portion of the face value of his certificate as the laws of the society may provide; provided, that nothing in this chapter contained shall be so construed as to prevent the issuing of benefit certificates for a term of years less than the whole of life which are payable upon the death or disability of the member occuring within the term for which the benefit certificate may be issued. Such society shall, upon written application of the member, have the power to accept a part of the periodical contributions in cash, and charge the remainder, not exceeding one-half of the periodical contribution, against the certificate with interest payable or compounded annually at a rate not lower than 4 per cent per annum; provided, that this privilege shall not be granted except to societies which have readjusted or may hereafter readjust their rates of contributions and to contracts affected by such readjustment. Any society which shall show by the annual valuation hereinafter provided for that it is accumulating and maintaining the reserve necessary to enable it to do so, under a table of mortality not lower than the American experience table and 4 per cent interest, may grant to its members extended and paid-up protection or such withdrawal equities as its constitution and laws may provide; provided, that such grants shall in no case exceed in value the portion of the reserve to the credit of such members to whom they are made.

3276. Death benefits. The payment of death benefits shall be confined to wife, husband, relative by blood to the fourth degree ascending or descending, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepchildren, children by legal adoption, or to a person or persons dependent upon the member; provided, that if, after the issuance of the original certificate, the member shall become dependent upon an incorporated charitable institution, he shall have the privilege, with the consent of the society, to make such institution his beneficiary. Within the above restrictions each member shall have the right to designate his beneficiary, and from time to time have the same changed in accordance with the laws, rules, or regulations of the society, and no beneficiary shall have or obtain any vested interest in the said benefit until the same has become due and payable upon the death of the said member; provided, that any society may, by its laws, limit the scope of beneficiaries within the above classes.

3277. Membership permitted. Any society may admit to beneficial membership any person not less than sixteen and not more than sixty years of age, who has been examined by a legally qualified physician and whose examination has been supervised and approved in accordance with the laws of the society; provided, that any beneficiary member of such society who shall apply for a certificate providing for disability benefits need not be required to pass an additional medical examination therefor. Nothing herein contained shall prevent such society from accepting general or social members.

3278. What certificates shall specify. Every certificate issued by any such society shall specify the amount of benefit provided thereby, and shall provide that the certificate, the charter or articles of incorporation, or, if a voluntary association, the articles of association, the constitution, and laws of the society and the application for membership and medical examination, signed by the applicant, and all amendments to each thereof, shall constitute the agreement between the society and the member, and copies of the same certified by the secretary of the society, or corresponding officer, shall be received in evidence of the terms and conditions thereof, and any changes, additions, or amendments to said charter or articles of incorporation, or articles of association, if a voluntary association, constitution, or laws duly made or enacted subsequent to the issuance of the benefit certificate shall bind the member and his beneficiaries, and shall govern and control the agreement in all respects the same as though such changes, additions, or amendments had been made prior to and were in force at the time of the application for membership.

3279. Investment of funds. Mortuary obligations. Any society may create, maintain, invest, disburse, and apply an emergency, surplus or other similar fund in accordance with its laws. Unless otherwise provided in the contract, such funds shall be held, invested, and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society, and no member or beneficiary shall have or acquire individual rights therein or become entitled to any apportionment or the surrender of any part thereof, except as provided in § 3275. The funds from which benefits shall be paid, and the funds from which the expenses of the society shall be defrayed, shall be derived from periodical or other payments by the members of the society and accretions of said funds; provided, that no society, domestic or foreign, shall hereafter be incorporated or admitted to transact business in this state, which does not provide for stated periodical contributions sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligations contracted, when valued upon the basis of the national fraternal congress, August 23, 1899, or any higher standard with interest assumption not more than 4 per cent per annum, nor write or accept members for temporary or permanent disability benefits except upon tables based upon reliable experience, with an interest assumption not higher than 4 per cent per annum. Deferred payments or instalments of claims shall be considered as fixed liabilities on the happening of the contingency upon which such payments or instalments are thereafter to be paid. Such liability shall be the present value of such future payments or instalments upon the rate of interest and mortality assumed by the society for valuation, and every society shall maintain a fund sufficient to meet such liability regardless of proposed future collections to meet any such liabilities.

3280. Id. Every society shall invest its funds only in securities permitted by the laws of this state for the investment of the assets of life insurance companies; provided, that any foreign society permitted or seeking to do business in this state, which invests its funds in accordance with the laws of the state in which it is incorporated, shall be held to meet the requirements of this chapter for the investment of funds.

3281. Purposes of payments must be stated. Every provision of the laws of the society for payment by members of such society, in whatever form made, shall distinctly state the purpose of the same and the proportion thereof which may be used for expenses, and no part of the money collected for mortuary or disability purposes or the net accretions of either or any of said funds shall be used for expenses.

3282. Organization. Seven or more persons, citizens of the United States, and a majority of whom are citizens of this state who desire to form a fraternal benefit society, as defined by this chapter, may make, and sign (giving their addresses), and acknowledge, before some officer competent to take acknowledgments of deeds, articles of incorporation, in which shall be stated:

1. The proposed corporate name of the society, which shall not so closely resemble the name of any society or insurance company already transacting business in this state as to mislead the public or lead to confusion;

2. The purpose for which it is formed, which shall not include more liberal powers than are granted by this chapter; provided, that any lawful social, intellectual, educational, charitable, benevolent, moral, or religious advantages may be set forth among the purposes of the society, and the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised;

3. The names, residences, and official titles of all the officers, trustees, directors, or other persons who are to have and exercise the general control and management of the affairs and funds of the society for the first year until the ensuing election at which all such officers shall be elected by the supreme legislative or governing body, which election shall be held not later than one year from the date of the issuance of the permanent certificate.

Such articles of incorporation and duly certified copies of the constitution and laws, rules and regulations, and copies of all proposed forms of benefit certificates, applications therefor, and circulars to be issued by such society, and a bond in the sum of $5000, with sureties approved by the commissioner of insurance, conditioned upon the return of the advanced payments, as provided in this section, to applicants, if the organization is not completed within one year, shall be filed with the commissioner of insurance, who may require such further information as he deems necessary, and if the purposes of the society conform to the requirements of this chapter, and all provisions of law have been complied with, the commissioner of insurance shall so certify, and retain and record or file the articles of incorporation, and furnish the incorporators a preliminary certificate authorizing said society to solicit members as hereinafter provided. Upon receipt of said certificate from the commissioner of insurance, said society may solicit members for the purpose of completing its organization, and shall collect from each applicant the amount of not less than one regular monthly payment in accordance with its table of rates as provided by its constitution and laws, and shall issue to each such applicant a receipt for the amount so collected. But no such society shall incur any liabilty other than for such advanced payments, nor issue any benefit certificate, nor pay or allow, or offer to promise to pay or allow, to any person any death or disability benefit until actual bona fide applications for death benefit certificates have been secured upon at least five hundred lives for at least $1000 each, and all such applicants for death benefits shall have been regularly examined by legally qualified practicing physicians, and certificates of such examinations have been duly filed and approved by the chief medical examiner of such society, nor until there shall be established ten subordinate lodges or branches into which said five hundred applicants have been initiated, nor until there has been submitted to the commissioner of insurance, under oath of the president and the secretary, or corresponding officers of such society, a list of such applicants, giving their names, addresses, date examined, date approved, date initiated, name and number of the subordinate branch of which each applicant is a member, amount of benefits to be granted, rate of stated periodical contributions, which shall be sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligation contracted, when valued for death benefits upon the basis of the national fraternal congress table of mortality, as adopted by the national fraternal congress August 23, 1899, or any higher standard at the option of the society, and for disability benefits by tables based upon reliable experience, and for combined death and permanent total disability benefits by table based upon reliable experience, with an interest assumption not higher than 4 per cent per annum, nor until it shall be shown to the commissioner of insurance by the sworn statement of the treasurer, or corresponding officer of such society, that at least five hundred applicants have each paid in cash at least one regular monthly payment as herein provided for $1000 of indemnity to be effected, which payments in the aggregate shall amount to at least $2500, all of which shall be credited to the mortuary or disability fund on account of such applicants, and no part of which may be used for expenses. Said advanced payments shall, during the period of organization, be held in trust, and, if the organization is not completed within one year as hereinafter provided, returned to said applicants. The commissioner of insurance may make such examination and require such further information as he deems advisable, and upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that the society has complied with all the provisions of law he shall issue to such society a certificate to that effect. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of such society at the date of such certificate. The commissioner of insurance shall cause a record of such certificate to be made, and a certified copy of such record may be given in evidence with like effect as the original certificate. No preliminary certificate granted under the provisions of this section shall be valid after one year from its date, or after such further period, not exceeding one year, as may be authorized by the commissioner of insurance upon cause shown, unless the five hundred applicants herein required have been secured and the organization has been completed as herein provided, and the articles of incorporation and all proceedings thereunder shall become null and void in one year from the date of said preliminary certificate, or at the expiration of said extended period, unless such society shall have completed its organization and commenced business as herein provided. When any domestic society shall have discontinued business for the period of one year, or has less than four hundred members, its charter shall become null and void. Every such society shall have the power to make a constitution and by-laws for the government of the society, the admission of its members, the management of its affairs, and the fixing and readjusting of the rates of contribution of its members from time to time; and it shall have the power to change, alter, add to, or amend such constitution and by-laws and shall have such other powers as are necessary and incidental to carrying into effect the objects and purposes of the society.

3283. Rights of foreign societies. Any society now engaged in transacting business in this state may exercise, after the passage of this chapter, all of the rights, powers, and privileges now exercised or possessed by it under its charter or articles of incorporation not inconsistent with this chapter, if incorporated; or, if it be a voluntary association, it may incorporate hereunder. But no society already organized shall be required to reincorporate hereunder, and any such society may amend its articles of incorporation from time to time in the manner provided therein or in its constitution and laws and all such amendments shall be filed with the commissioner of insurance and shall become operative upon such filing, unless a later time be provided in such amendments or in its articles of incorporation, constitution, or laws.

3284. Merger or transfer. No domestic society shall merge with or accept the transfer of the membership or funds of any other society unless such merger or transfer is evidenced by a contract in writing, setting out in full the terms and conditions of such merger or transfer, and filed with the commissioner of insurance of this state, together with a sworn statement of the financial condition of each of said societies, by its president and its secretary, or corresponding officer, and a certificate of such officers, duly verified under oath of said officers of each of the contracting societies, that such merger or transfer has been approved by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the supreme legislative or governing body of each said societies. Upon the submission of said contract, financial statements, and certificates, the commissioner of insurance shall examine the same, and, if he shall find such financial statement to be correct and the said contract to be in conformity with the provisions of this section, and that such merger or transfer is just and equitable to the members of each of said societies, he shall approve said merger or transfer, issue his certificate to that effect, and thereupon the said contract of merger or transfer shall be of full force and effect. In case such contract is not approved, the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the commissioner of insurance.

3285. Authority to do business renewed annually. Societies which are now authorized to transact business in this state may continue such business until the 1st day of April next succeeding the passage of this chapter, and the authority of such societies may thereafter be renewed annually; but in all cases to terminate on the 1st day of the succeeding April; provided, however, the license shall continue in full force and effect until the new license be issued or specifically refused. For each such license or renewal the society shall pay the commissioner of insurance $5. A duly certified copy or duplicate of such license shall be prima facie evidence that the licensee is a fraternal benefit society within the meaning of this chapter.

3286. Requirements of foreign societies. No foreign society now transacting business, organized prior to the passage of this chapter, which is not now authorized to transact business in this state, shall transact any business herein without a license from the commissioner of insurance. Any such society shall be entitled to a license to transact business within this state upon filing with the commissioner a duly certified copy of its charter or articles of association; a copy of its constitution and laws, certified by its secretary or corresponding officer; a power of attorney to the commissioner as hereinafter provided; a statement of its business under oath of its president and secretary, or corresopnding officers, in the form required by the commissioner, duly verified by an examination made by the supervising insurance official of its home state or other state satisfactory to the commissioner of insurance of this state; a certificate from the proper official in its home state, province, or country that the society is legally organized; a copy of its contract, which must show that benefits are provided for by periodical or other payments by persons holding similar contracts, and upon furnishing the commissioner such other information as he may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working, and upon showing that its assets are invested in accordance with the laws of the state, territory, district, province, or country where it is organized, he shall issue a license to such society to do business in this state until the 1st day of the succeeding April, and such license shall, upon compliance with the provisions of this chapter, be renewed annually, but in all cases to terminate on the 1st day of the succeeding April; provided, however, that license shall continue in full force and effect until the new license be issued or specifically refused. Any foreign society desiring admission to this state shall have the qualifications required of domestic societies organized under this chapter and have its assets invested as required by the laws of the state, territory, district, country, or province where it is organized. For each such license or renewal the society shall pay the commissioner $5. When the commissioner refuses to license any society, or revokes its authority to do business in this state, he shall reduce his ruling, order, or decision to writing and file the same in his office, and shall furnish a copy thereof, together with the statement of his reasons, to the officers of the society, upon request, and the action of the commissioner shall be reviewable by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction within the state; provided, however, that nothing contained in this or the preceding section shall be taken or construed as preventing any such society from continuing in good faith all contracts made in this state during the time such society was legally authorized to transact business herein.

3287. Must appoint process attorney. Every society, whether domestic or foreign, now transacting business in this state, within ninety days after the passage of this chapter, and every such society hereafter applying for admission, shall, before being licensed, appoint in writing the commissioner of insurance and his successors in office to be its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all legal process in any action or proceeding against it shall be served, and in such writing shall agree that any lawful process against it which is served upon such attorney shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served upon the society and that the authority shall continue in force so long as any liability remains outstanding in this state. Copies of such appointment, certified by said commissioner of insurance, shall be deemed sufficient evidence thereof and shall be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as the original thereof might be admitted. Service shall only be made upon such attorney, must be made in duplicate upon the commissioner of insurance or in his absence upon the person in charge of his office, and shall be deemed sufficient service upon such society; provided, however, that no such service shall be valid or binding against any such society when it is required thereunder to file its answer, pleading, or defense in less than thirty days from the date of mailing the copy of such service to such society. When legal process against any such society is served upon said commissioner of insurance he shall forthwith forward by registered mail one of the duplicate copies prepaid and directed to its secretary or corresponding officer. Legal process shall not be served upon any such society except in the manner provided herein.

3288. Business may be transacted, where. Any domestic society may provide that meetings of its legislative or governing body may be held in any state, district, province, or territory wherein such society has subordinate branches and all business transacted at such meetings were held in this state. But its principal offices shall be located in this state.

3289. Officers or members not liable for payment of benefits. Officers and members of the supreme, grand, or any subordinate body of such incorporated society shall not be individually liable for the payment of any disability or death benefit provided for in the laws and agreements of such society, but the same shall be payable only out of the funds of such society, and in the manner provided by its laws.

3290. No authority to waive provisions of law of society. The constitution and laws of the society may provide that no subordinate body, nor any of its subordinate officers or members, shall have the power or authority to waive any of the provisions of the laws and constitution of the society, and the same shall be binding on the society and each and every member thereof and on all beneficiaries of members.

3291. Benefits not liable to attachment. No money or other benefit, charity, relief, or aid to be paid, provided, or rendered by any such society shall be liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process, or to be seized, taken, appropriated, or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member or beneficiary, or any other person who may have a right thereunder, either before or after payment.

3292. Must file amendments to constitution and laws. Every society transacting business under this chapter shall file with the commissioner of insurance a duly certified copy of all amendments of or additions to its constitution and laws within ninety days after the enactment of the same. Printed copies of the constitution and laws as amended, changed, or added to, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society, shall be a prima facie evidence of the legal adoption thereof.

3293. Annual statement. Report. Valuations. Every society transacting business in this state shall annually, on or before the 1st day of March, file with the commissioner of insurance, in such form as he may require, a statement, under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers, of its condition and standing on the 31st day of December next preceding, and of its transactions for the year ending on that date, and also shall furnish such other information as the commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working. The commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society. In addition to the annual report herein required each society shall annually report to the commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on December 31 last preceding, excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed, in cases where the contribution for the first year in whole or in part are used for current mortality and expenses; provided, the first report of valuation shall be made as of December 31, 1912. Such report of valuation shall show, as contingent liabilities, the present midyear value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation; and, as contingent assets, the present midyear value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected. At the option of any society, in lieu of the above, the valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided, and said net value, when computed in case of monthly contributions, may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years. Such valuation shall be verified by a competent accountant or actuary, or, at the request and expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home state of the society, and shall be filed with the commissioner within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report. The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates, except for disability benefits, shall be the national fraternal congress table of mortality as adopted by the national fraternal congress August 23, 1899, or, at the option of the society, any higher table, or, at its option, it may use a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than 4 per cent per annum. Each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation. Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contribution for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefit and expense funds and the valuation of all other business of the society; provided, that where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits, the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience, and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required. The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society, but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities. Beginning with the year 1914 a report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June 1, of each year, or, in lieu thereof, such report of valuation and showing of the society's condition as thereby disclosed may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the society. The laws of such society shall provide that, if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws, additional, increased, or extra rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency; and such laws may provide that, upon the written application or consent of the member, his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation, with interest not exceeding 5 per cent per annum.

3294. Deficiency. Proceedings by commission. New members. If the the valuation of the certificates, as hereinbefore provided, on December 31, 1917, shall show that the present value of future net contributions, together with the admitted assets, is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities, such society shall thereafter maintain said financial condition at each succeeding triennial valuation in respect of the degree of deficiency as shown in the valuation as of December 31, 1917. If, at any succeeding triennial valuation, such society does not show at least the same condition, the commissioner of insurance shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the society has failed to maintain the condition required herein, the commissioner of insurance may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society, in accordance with the provisions of § 3296, or, in the case of a foreign society, its license may be canceled in the manner provided in this chapter. Any such society, shown by any triennial valuation subsequent to December 31, 1917, not to have maintained the condition herein required, shall, within two years thereafter, make such improvement as to show a percentage of deficiency not greater than as of December 31, 1917, or thereafter, as to all new members admitted, be subject, so far as stated rates of contributions are concerned, to the provisions of § 3282, applicable in the organization of new societies; provided, that the net mortuary or beneficiary contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the said new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificates valued as an independent society in respect to contributions and funds. Am'd '17, p. 434.

3295. Valuation of certificates. Losses. Transfer of plan. Reserve Rates. Liability. In lieu of the requirements of §§ 3293, 3294, any society accepting in its laws the provisions of this section may value its certificates on a basis, herein designated "accumulation basis," by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the losses for each year, herein designated "cost of insurance" and carrying the balance, if any, to his credit. The charge for the cost of insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this state, and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year, which shall be the amount payable at death less the credit to the member. Except as specifically provided in its articles or laws or contracts, no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit. If, after the first valuation, any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit including the contributions for the year, the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses, and if the credit at the time any benefit becomes payable during the life-time of the member, including any available funds, does not equal such benefit, the contribution to be made by him or on his behalf shall be increased by the difference. Any such excess share of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose. Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained, and on such transfer shall be entitled to make such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society. Certificates issued, rerated, or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserves to mature such certificates upon assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this state shall be valued on such basis, herein designated the "tabular basis"; provided, that if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificate, the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis. Whenever, in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis, the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year, the deficiency shall be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve; or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied to the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws. Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws. If the laws of the society so provide, the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if in an independent society, and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with the assets of other classes of the society. A table showing the rates being paid by and the credits to individual members at each age and year of entry, and showing opposite each credit the tabular rates and the tabular reserve required, or at the option of the society the required reserve on a level rate equivalent to that being paid, according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the laws of this state and adopted by the society, and, in either case, including any benefit payable at a specified age or on account of old age disability, shall be filed by the society with each annual report and also be furnished to each member before July 1 of each year. In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the data aforesaid for such member. No table or statement need be made or furnished when the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis. For this purpose, individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as the society may provide by or pursuant to its laws; nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner as expressed in the contract and its laws; nor as making any such reserve or credits a liability in determining the legal solvency of the society. '17, p. 436.

3296. Examinations. The commissioner of insurance, or any person he may appoint, shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any domestic society. He may employ assistants for the purpose of such examination, and he, or any person he may appoint, shall have free access to all books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the society, and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employes, or other persons, in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the society. The expense of such examination shall be paid by the society examined, upon statement furnished by the commissioner of insurance, and the examination shall be made at least once in three years. Whenever, after examination, the commissioner of insurance is satisfied that any domestic society has failed to comply with any provisions of this chapter, or is exceeding its powers (or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith, or is transacting business fraudulently, or whenever any domestic society, after the existence of one year or more, shall have a membership of less than 400, or shall determine to discontinue business), the commissioner of insurance may present the facts relating thereto to the attorney-general, who shall, if he deem the circumstances warrant, commence an action in quo warranto in a court of competent jurisdiction, and such court shall thereupon notify the officers of such society of a hearing, and if it shall then appear that such society should be closed, said society shall be enjoined from carrying on any further business, and some person shall be appointed receiver of such society, and shall proceed at once to take possession of the books, papers, moneys, and other assets of the society, and shall forthwith, under the direction of the court, proceed to close the affairs of the society and to distribute its funds to those entitled thereto. No such proceedings shall be commenced by the attorney-general against any such society until after notice has been duly served on the chief executive officers of the society and a reasonable opportunity given to it, on a date to be named in said notice, to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced.

3297. Injunctions. No application for injunction against or proceedings for the dissolution of or the appointment of a receiver for any such domestic society or branch thereof shall be entertained by any court in this state unless the same is made by the attorney-general.

3298. Examination of foreign societies. The commissioner of insurance, or any person whom he may appoint, may examine any foreign society transacting or applying for admission to trasact business in this state. The said commissioner may employ assistants, and he, or any person he may appoint, shall have free access to all the books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the society, and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employes, and other persons, in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the society. He may, in his discretion, accept in lieu of such examination the examination of the insurance department of the state, territory, district, province, or country where such society is organized. The actual expenses of examiners making any such examination shall be paid by the society upon statement furnished by the commissioner of insurance. If any such society or its officers refuse to submit to such examination or to comply with the provisions of the section relative thereto, the authority of such society to write new business in this state shall be suspended or license refused until satisfactory evidence is furnished the commissioner relating to the condition and affairs of the society, and during such suspension the society shall not write new business in this state.

3299. Id. Result not to be made public. Pending, during, or after an examination or investigation of any such society, either domestic or foreign, the commissioner of insurance shall make public no financial statement, report, or finding, nor shall he permit to become public any financial statement, report, or finding affecting the status, standing, or rights of any such society until a copy thereof shall have been served upon such society, at its home office, nor until such society shall have been afforded a reasonable opportunity to answer any such financial statement, report, or finding and to make such showing in connection therewith as it may desire.

3300. Revocation of authority. When the commissioner of insurance, on investigation, is satisfied that any foreign society transacting business under this chapter has exceeded its powers, or has failed to comply with any provisions of this chapter, or is conducting business fraudulently, or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith, he shall notify the society of his findings, and state in writing the grounds of his dissatisfaction, and after reasonable notice require said society, on a date named, to show cause why its license should not be revoked. If on the date named in said notice such objections have not been removed to the satisfaction of the said commissioner, or the society does not present good and sufficient reasons why its authority to transact business in this state should not at that time be revoked, he may revoke the authority of the society to continue business in this state. All decisions and findings of the commissioner made under the provisions of this section may be reviewed by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction, as provided in § 3286.

3301. To whom this chapter does not apply. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to affect or apply to grand or subordinate lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows, or Knights of Pythias (exclusive of the insurance department of the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias), and the Junior Order of United American Mechanics (exclusive of the beneficiary degree or insurance branch of the National Council Junior Order United American Mechanics), or societies which limit their membership to any one hazardous occupation, nor to similar societies which do not issue insurance certificates, nor to any association of local lodges of a society now doing business in this state which provides death benefits not exceeding $300 to any one person, or disability to any one person, or both, nor to any contracts of reinsurance business on such plan in this state, nor to domestic societies which limit their membership to the employes of a particular city or town, designated firm, business house, or corporation, nor to domestic lodges, orders, or associations of a purely religious, charitable, and benevolent description, which do not provide for a death benefit of more than $100 or for disability benefits of more than $150 to any one person in any one year; provided, always, that any such domestic order or society which has more than five hundred members, and provides for death or disability benefits, and any such domestic lodge, order, or society which issues to any person a certificate providing for the payment of benefits, shall not be exempt by the provisions of this section, but shall comply with all the requirements of this chapter. The commissioner of insurance may require from any society such information as will enable him to determine whether such society is exempt from the provisions of this chapter. No society, which is exempt by the provisions of this section from the requirement of this chapter shall give or allow, or promise to give or allow, to any person any compensation for procuring new members. Any fraternal benefit society, heretofore organized and incorporated and operating within the definition set forth in §§ 3271, 3272, and 3273, providing for benefits in case of death or disability resulting solely from accidents, but which does not obligate itself to pay death or sick benefits, may be licensed under the provisions of this chapter, and shall have all the privileges and shall be subject to all the provisions and regulations of this chapter, except that the provisions of this chapter requiring medical examination, valuations of benefit certificates, and that the certificate shall specify the amount of benefits, shall not apply to such society.

3302. Funds not taxable. Every fraternal benefit society organized or licensed under this chapter is hereby declared to be a charitable and benevolent institution, and all of its funds shall be exempt from all and every state, county, district, municipal, and school tax, other than taxes on real estate and office equipment.

3303. False statements. Penalty. Any person, officer, member, or examining physician of any society authorized to do business under this chapter who shall knowingly or wilfully make any false or fraudulent statement or representation in or with reference to any application for membership, or for the purpose of obtaining money from or benefit in any society transacting business under this chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court; and any person who shall wilfully make a false statement of any material fact or thing in a sworn statement as to the death or disability of a certificate holder in any such society for the purpose of procuring payment of a benefit named in the certificate of such holder, and any person who shall wilfully make any false statement in any verified report or declaration under oath required or authorized by this chapter, shall be guilty of perjury, and shall be proceeded against and punished as provided by the statutes of this state in relation to the crime of perjury. Any person who shall solicit membership for, or in any manner assist in procuring membership in, any fraternal benefit society not licensed to do business in this state, or who shall solicit membership for, or in any manner assist in procuring membership in, any such society not authorized, as herein provided, to do business, as herein defined, in this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200. Any society, or any officer, agent, or employe thereof neglecting or refusing to comply with, or violating any of the provisions of this chapter, the penalty for which neglect, refusal, or violation is not specified in this section, shall be fined not exceeding $200 upon conviction thereof.

FAMILY PROTECTION.

3311. Additional benefits. Branch organization. Allowances. Any fraternal benefit society authorized to do business in this state, and operating on the lodge plan, may provide in its constitution and by-laws, in addition to other benefits provided for therein, for the payment of death or annuity benefits upon the lives of children between the ages of two and eighteen years at next birthday, for whose support and maintenace a member of such society is responsible. Any such society may, at its option, organize and operate branches for such children, and membership in local lodges and initiation therein shall not be required of such children, nor shall they have any voice in the management of the society. The total benefits payable as above provided shall in no case exceed the following amounts: at ages at next birthday at time of death, respectively, as follows: Two, $34; three, $40; four, $48; five, $58; six, $140; seven, $168; eight, $200; nine, $240; ten, $300; eleven, $380; twelve, $460; thirteen to fifteen, $520; and sixteen to eighteen years, where not otherwise authorized by law, $600.

3312. Certificates effective. Basis of contributions. Waiver. Extras. No benefit certificate as to any child shall take effect until after medical examination or inspection by a licensed medical practitioner, in accordance with the laws of the society, nor shall any such benefit certificate be issued unless the society shall simultaneously put in force at least five hundred such certificates, on each of which at least one assessment has been paid, nor where the number of lives represented by such certificate falls below five hundred. The death benefit contributions to be made upon such certificate shall be based upon the standard industrial mortality table or the English life table number six and a rate of interest not greater than 4 per cent per annum, or upon a higher standard; provided, that contributions may be waived or returns may be made from any surplus held in excess of reserve and other liabilities, as provided in the by-laws; and, provided, further, that extra contributions shall be made if the reserves hereafter provided for become impaired.

3313. Reserve fund. Exchange of certificates. Vested rights. Any society entering into such insurance agreements shall maintain on all such contracts the reserve required by the standard of mortality and interest adopted by the society for computing contributions as provided in § 3312, and the funds representing the benefit contributions and all accretions thereon shall be kept as separate and distinct funds, independent of the other funds of the society, and shall not be liable for nor used for the payment of the debts and obligations of the society other than the benefits herein authorized; provided, that a society may provide that when a child reaches the minimum age of initiation into membership in such society, any benefit certificate issued hereunder may be surrendered for cancellation and exchanged for any other form of certificate issued by the society; provided, that such surrender will not reduce the number of lives insured in the branch below five hundred, and upon the issuance of such new certificate any reserve upon the original certificate herein provided for shall be transferred to the credit of the new certificate. Neither the person who originally made application for benefits on account of such child, nor the beneficiary named in such original certificate, nor the person who paid the contributions, shall have any vested right in such new certificate, the free nomination of a beneficiary under the new certificate being left to the child so admitted to benefit membership.

3314. Financial reports to insurance commissioner. An entirely separate financial statement of the business transactions and of assets and liabilities arising therefrom shall be made in its annual report to the insurance commissioner by any society availing itself of the provisions hereof. The separation of assets, funds, and liabilities required hereby shall not be terminated, rescinded, or modified, nor shall the funds be diverted for any use other than as specified in § 3313, as long as any certificates issued hereunder remain in force, and this requirement shall be recognized and enforced in any liquidation, reinsurance, merger, or other change in the condition of the status of the society.

3315. Specific payments. Any society shall have the right to provide in its laws and the certificate issued hereunder for specified payments on account of the expense or general fund, which payments shall or shall not be mingled with the general fund of the society as its constitution and by-laws may provide.

3316. Continuation of benefits. In the event of the termination of membership in the society by the person responsible for the support of any child, on whose account a certificate may have been issued, as provided herein, the certificate may be continued for the benefit of the estate of the child, provided the contributions are continued, or for the benefit of any other person responsible for the support and maintenance of such child, who shall assume the payment of the required contributions.

TITLE 53.

INTEREST.

3320. (1241.) Legal rate of interest. The legal rate of interest upon the loan or forbearance of any money, goods, or things in action shall be eight per cent per annum. But nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to in any way affect any contract or obligation made before the taking effect of this title. Am'd '07, p. 43.

Judgment to include interest, § 7050.

The usury law of 1907 was taken almost verbatim from the statutes of New York.

Interest on small loans, § 4384.

Public funds to draw interest, § 4500.

In a state where there is a statute making usury penal but not declaring the contract void, a usurious bond and mortgage may be enforced for the amount actually due.

Bernheisel v. Firman, 89 U. S. 170; not reported in Utah reports.

An agreement to pay interest on a note which provides for "interest at the rate of two per cent per month from date," does not extend beyond the time said note becomes due and payable by its terms.

Perry v. Taylor, 1 U. 63.

An account stated carries interest from the day of its liquidation.

Godbe v. Young, 1 U. 55; affirmed 82 U. S. 562.

Without the authority of a statute it is error for a judgment to direct that the judgment bear interest.

Reece v. Knott, 3 U. 451; 24 P. 757.

The rule for computing interest when there have been partial payments is to apply the payment to the discharge of the interest due, and if the payment exceeds the interest, the surplus goes toward discharging the principal; if the payment be less than the interest, the surplus of the interest due must not be taken to augment the principal, but interest continues on the former principal until the period when the payments taken together exceed the interest due, and then the surplus is to be applied toward discharging the principal.

Perry v. Taylor, 1 U. 63.

In a decree of foreclosure of trust deed, compound interest is not allowable, and the decree should allow interest only on the principal at the stipulated rate of 18 per cent.

Stevens Imp. Co. v. South Ogden L. B. & I. Co., 20 U. 267; 58 P. 843.

Where the evidence in the record is not sufficient to justify the computation of interest upon an account current, by monthly rests, it is error to allow such computation.

Jones v. Galligher, 9 U. 126; 33 P. 417.

Where a note provides for interest in regular instalments and the maker defaulted, he is liable for interest on the sums in default at the rate of 8 per cent.

Jensen v. Lichtenstein, 45 U. 320; 145 P. 1036.

Recovery for money loaned denied as unconscionable, where there has been repaid a sum amounting to principal and 15 per cent per annum interest.

Carter v. West, 38 U. 381; 113 P. 1025.

Engert v. Chadwick, 40 U. 239; 120 P. 323.

In an action against a city, for extras under a contract, interest should be allowed at least from the time the claim was presented.

Wilson v. S. L. City, 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

INTEREST AS DAMAGES:

If a debt ought to be paid at a particular time and is not, owing to the default of the debtor, the creditor is entitled to interest from that time, by way of compensation for the delay in payment.

Young v. Godbe, 82 U. S. 562.

Where a purchaser agrees to pay into court the purchase price of a mine concerning which the vendor has litigation, the former will be liable for interest during the time he withholds the money.

Wasatch Mining Co. v. Crescent Mining Co., 7 U. 8; 24 P. 586; affirmed 151 U. S. 317.

Where interest is recoverable as damages for delay in payment, it is a matter largely in the discretion of the court.

Culmer v. Caine, 22 U. 216; 61 P. 1008.

In tort for unliquidated damages, plaintiff held entitled to interest from time of bringing action.

Woodland v. U. P. Ry., 27 U. 543; 26 P. 298; decided 1891 but not reported.

In tort for unliquidated damages, interest on the damages assessed from the date of the commencement of the action up to the date of the verdict is not recoverable.

Lester v. Highland Boy G. M. Co., 27 U. 470; 76 P. 341.

Nichols v. U. P. R. R. Co., 7 U. 510; 27 P. 693.

Damages for injury to a shipment while in transit is the amount of loss, with interest, from the time of delivery; the fact that the damages are unliquidated not being by itself reason for not allowing interest.

Fel v. U. P. Ry. Co., 32 U. 101; 88 P. 1003.

Interest on damages for land condemned should be computed from the time the company takes possession.

S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co. v. Bd. of Education, 32 U. 101; 99 P. 263.

Where interest is a legal consequence of a demand without stipulation it may be recovered, though not claimed in the pleadings, and interest is allowed in a tort, where personal property is destroyed, from the date of the destruction

Wheatley v. O. S. L., 49 P. 105; 162 P. 86.

3321. (1241x.) Maximum rate. Exceptions. The parties to any contract may agree in writing for the payment of interest, for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods, or things in action, not to exceed twelve per cent per annum; provided, that on loans of money only to the amount of $100 or less it may be agreed in writing to take or receive as interest on said loan not to exceed $1 for the first month only of said loan, but thereafter no greater interest shall be contracted for, taken or received than is allowed in this section. This proviso shall not be construed so as to allow or permit the splitting up of transactions for the loan of money into small amounts for the purpose of evading the provisions of this title. '07, p. 43.

Prior to §§ 3320-3332, an agreement for any rate of interest was lawful in Utah.
Interest on small loans, § 4392.
Where money was left by a principal with an agent to be loaned, and the agent took usury without the knowledge of the principal, and the principal received no part of the usury, the principal was not chargeable with the effects of the agent's misconduct.
Brown v. Johnson, 43 U. 1; 134 P. 590.

3322. (1241x1.) Id. Penalty. No person, association, or corporation shall, directly or indirectly, take or receive any money, goods, or things in action, or in any other way, any greater sum or greater value for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods, or things in action than is prescribed in § 3321. Any person, association, or corporation, their or its agents, servants, employes, clerks, or attorneys, violating any of the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. '07, p. 43; am'd '09, p. 180.

If two constructions are possible, the court will take the one against usury, and a corrupt or unlawful intent to violate the usury law on the part of the lender is essential to render the contract usurious.
Cobb v. Hartenstein, 47 U. 174; 152 P. 424.
Where a lender refused to make a loan because the interest would not pay him for looking up the security, and the borrower agreed to pay a reasonable amount for examining the securities, the acceptance of such an amount does not constitute usury.
Fisher v. Adamson et al., 47 U. 3; 151 P. 351.

3323. (1241x2.) May recover usurious loans or forbearance. Every person who, for any such loan or forbearance, shall pay or deliver any sum or value than is above allowed to be received, or the principal or any part thereof of said usurious loan or forbearance, and his personal representatives, may recover in an action against the person who shall have taken or received the same, and his personal representative, the amount of money so paid or value delivered, both as principal and interest, if such action be brought within one year after such payment or delivery. If such action be not brought within said one year and prosecuted with diligence, then the said sum may be sued for and recovered with costs at any time within three years after the said one year by any county superintendent of schools of the county where such payment may have been made, for the use and benefit of the county school fund, and when collected shall be forthwith paid into said fund. '07, p. 43.

In an action to recover back the plaintiff is not bound to establish the usury beyond a reasonable doubt. This act is constitutional.
Cobb v. Hartenstein, 47 U. 174; 152 P. 424.
This section is not applicable to an action to recover pledged property.
Conner v. Smith, 50 U. —; 169 P. 158.

3324. (1241x3.) Bonds, etc., void, when. All bonds, bills, notes, assurances, conveyances, mortgages, deeds of trust, all other contracts or securities whatsoever, and all deposits of goods or other things whatsoever, whereupon or whereby there shall be reserved or taken or secured, or agreed to be reserved or taken, any greater sum or greater value for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods, or other things in action than is above prescribed, shall be void; but this title shall not affect such contracts as have been made previous to the time it shall take effect. '07, p. 44.

A negotiable note, tainted with usury is not void as against an innocent purchaser for value before maturity.
Rosenblum v. Gomoll et al., 51 U. —; 173 P. 243.
To forfeit a note for usury the proof must be clear and convincing.
Id.

3325. (1241x4.) When complaint is filed for discovery of money, etc., borrower need not offer to pay interest, etc. Whenever any borrower of any money, goods, or things in action shall file a complaint for the discovery of the money, goods, or things in action taken or received in violation of this title, it shall not be necessary for him to pay or offer to pay any interest whatever on the sum or thing loaned; nor shall any court require or compel the payment or deposit of the principal sum or thing, or any part thereof, as a condition to the granting of relief to the borrower in any case of a usurious loan forbidden by this title. '07, p. 44.

3326. (1241x5.) Interest, how calculated. Whenever in any statute, act, deed, written or verbal contract, or in any public or private instrument whatever, any certain rate of interest is or shall be mentioned and no period of time is stated for which such rate is to be calculated, interest shall be calculated at the rate mentioned by the year, in the same manner as if the words per annum or by the year had been added to such a rate. '07, p. 44.

3327. (1241x6.) Defendent may call and examine plaintiff. Whenever in any action the defendant shall plead or give notice of the defense of usury and shall verify the truth of his plea or notice by affidavit, he may, for the purpose of proving the usury, call and examine the plaintiff as a witness in the same manner as other witnesses may be called and examined. '07, p. 44.

3328. (1241x7.) Offender to answer to any complaint filed against him. Every person offending against the provisions of this title may be compelled to answer on oath any complaint that shall be filed against him in any court for relief. '07, p. 44.

3329. (1241x8.) Court shall declare any bond, etc., void, when. Whenever it shall satisfactorily appear by the admission of the party, or by proof, that any bond, bill, note, assurance, pledge, conveyance, mortgage, deed of trust, contract, security, or other evidence of debt has been taken or received in violation of the provision of this title, the court shall declare the same to be void, and enjoin any prosecution thereon, and order the same to be surrendered and canceled, and any property, real or personal, embraced within the term of said contracts or securities delivered up if in possession of the defendant in the action; and if the same be in the possession of the plaintiff, provision shall be made in the judgment or decree in the action removing the cloud of such usurious contracts or securities from the title to such property. '07, p. 45.

A forfeiture for usury will not be declared except on clear and convincing evidence that the lender participated in or benefited by the transaction.
Brown v. Johnson, 43 U. 1; 134 P. 590.

Forfeitures hereunder enforced only when proof is clear and convincing.

3330. (1241x9.) Interest before and after judgment. Any judgment rendered on a lawful contract shall conform thereto and shall bear the interest agreed upon by the parties, which shall be specified in the judgment; other judgments shall bear interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, which shall be specified in the judgment. R. S. '98, § 1241; '07, p. 45.

Judgment to include interest after verdict or decision, § 7050.

3331. (1241x10.) Not usurious, when. The discount, sale, and transfer in the regular course of business of negotiable paper by one not the maker thereof without intent to violate this title shall not be construed as usurious. '07, p. 45.

A holder without knowledge of previous usurious transactions may recover on the note.
Rosenblum vs. Gomoll, 51 U. —; 173 P. 243.

3332. (1241x11.) Bona fide lease upon shares of real and personal property not usurious. The bona fide lease upon shares of real and personal property by the owner thereof shall not be construed as a usurious contract. '07, p. 45.

One pledging property to secure the payment of a usurious loan, and making payments aggregating more than the money borrowed, has a right, under this section, to recover the pledged property. If such action is subject to any period of limitation it is that fixed by the general statutes.
Conner v. Smith, 51 U. —; 169 P. 158.

TITLE 54.

PROHIBITING THE MANUFACTURE AND USE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS, AND REGULATING THE SALE AND TRAFFIC THEREIN.

('17, p. 2.)

3341. Objects. This entire title shall be deemed an exercise of the police powers of the state for the protection of the public health, peace, and morals, and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed for the attainment of that purpose.

This chapter is constitutional. State v. Certain Intox. Liqour, 50 U. —; 172 P. 1050.

This chapter abolishes rights in alcoholic liquors, after August 1, 1917, aside from the exceptions expressly provided for in the chapter, no matter when or how acquired, for what use intended, or what place kept or possessed. Id.

3342. Definitions. The word liquors as used in this title shall be construed to embrace all fermented, malt, vinous, or spirituous liquors, alcohol, wine, porter, ale, beer, absinthe, or any other intoxicating drink, mixture, or preparation of like nature, and all malt or brewed drinks; and all liquids, mixtures, or preparations, whether patented or not, which will produce intoxication; fruits preserved in alcoholic liquors of any kind; and all beverages containing in excess of one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume, shall be deemed spirituous liquors, and shall be embraced in the word liquors as hereinafter used in this title; and all mixtures, compounds, or preparations, whether liquid or not, which are intended, when mixed with water or otherwise, to produce, by fermentation or otherwise, an intoxicating liquor, shall also be deemed to be embraced within such term.

Wherever the words "this title" appear in any of the laws of this state enacted for the suppression of the liquor traffic, commonly called prohibition laws, they shall be construed to mean and include all such prohibition laws of this state.

The word "person" wherever used in this title shall be construed to mean natural persons, firms, co-partnerships, corporations, and all associations of natural persons, whether acting by themselves or by a servant, agent, or employe.

A "druggist" or "pharmacist," for the purpose of this title, is defined as a person who is actually and in good faith engaged in the wholesale or retail drug business and licensed to compound and dispense drugs or medicines.

The words "warehouse manager," whenever used in this title shall be construed to mean the bonded dispenser at wholesale of alcohol, as provided for in § 3346.

3343. Prohibitions. Except as hereinafter provided, the manufacture, sale, keeping, or storing for sale in this state, or offering or exposing for sale, or importing, carrying, transporting, advertising, distributing, giving away, exchanging, dispensing, or serving of liquors, are forever prohibited in this state. It shall be unlawful for any person within this state knowingly to have in his or its possession any intoxicating liquors, except as in this title provided.

3344. Enforcement. For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this title the governor is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint and employ all necessary assistants, and to deputize and commission any such assistants to make arrests, seize property, initiate and prosecute criminal proceedings and proceedings under the search and seizure or nuisance and abatement laws, and the provisions of law for the removal of officers; and to do and perform any and every act, duty, or thing in the enforcement hereof which may be done or performed by any executive, peace, or prosecuting officer. And for this purpose the governor may deputize or commission any health, food, hotel, or other inspector, or any game warden or probation officer, or any other employe of the state, as well as any other competent person or persons. And any person so deputized and commissioned shall, within the time and scope of his commission, exercise all the powers, privileges, and duties in the enforcement hereof given by law to any executive, prosecuting, or peace officer within the state.

Search and seizure, §§ 3354-3358. Removal of officers, §§ 8625-8639.
Nuisance and abatement laws, §§ 3350-3353.

3345. Penalties. Any person convicted of violation of any of the provisions of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, where the punishment therefor is not herein specifically provided, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $299, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment. A person having once been convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this title, except § 3361, who thereafter violates the provisions thereof, shall be considered a persistent violator of this title, and shall be deemed guilty of felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned in the state prison at hard labor for not less than three months nor more than two years. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney, in all cases, to the best of his ability, to ascertain whether or not the defendant has at any time been convicted of any violation of any of the provisions of this title, and if so, such fact shall be set out in the complaint, and the said prosecuting attorney shall, at the trial of such second or subsequent offense, introduce in evidence a certified copy of any or all such prior judgments of conviction, which shall be sufficient evidence of any such prior convictions; and said prosecuting attorney shall not be permitted to use his discretion in charging and proving said second or subsequent offense.

3346. Sales and shipments. Qualifications and duties of warehouse managers. The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe rules and regulations for the sale of alcohol for scientific and manufacturing purposes only, and for the sale of alcohol which shall have been denatured by some process approved by the United States commissioner of internal revenue. The governor shall establish or designate a warehouse or warehouses, and appoint or designate a manager or managers thereof, who shall, in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the governor, have exclusive authority, except as provided in § 3347, to buy, import, receive, sell, and distribute alcohol; and such warehouse manager or managers shall bear all the expense incident to such business, and shall promptly fill all orders for alcohol at a price not to exceed 10 per cent of the cost of such alcohol laid down at such warehouse, unless a higher per cent be authorized by the governor. The warehouse manager shall have authority to buy and import and make shipments or deliveries of alcohol only according to rules made by the attorney-general, and shall make no imports, shipments, or deliveries which do not bear on the outer package or container, in a conspicuous place, a label or tag securely affixed, obtained from and designed and authorized by the attorney-general, which shall bear the words:

Alcohol shipment No. ..... Date ..... Authorized by the attorney-general.

Said labels or tags shall be numbered consecutively by the attorney-general and an accurate record of all shipments or deliveries, in numerical order bearing the label number, shall be kept by the warehouse manager, which records shall show the date of sale or purchase, quantity bought or sold, name and address of purchaser, and means or route of shipment or delivery. Such records and the stock shall at all times be open to inspection by all executive, prosecuting, and peace officers. Any warehouse manager appointed or designated by the governor, pursuant to this title, shall, before entering upon the duties imposed by this title, give a good and sufficient bond to the state of Utah in the sum of not less than $3000, and conditioned upon the faithful discharge and performance of such duties Such bond shall be approved by the governor and filed with the secretary of state.

3347. Exceptions. Permits as to wholesale by attorney-general. Records and reports. Alcohol may be purchased at wholesale by druggists, hospitals, scientific and manufacturing institutions only from the warehouse managers, and only on written permit of the attorney-general, for scientific and manufacturing purposes, by filing with the attorney-general a statement in writing, under oath, stating that the applicant desires the alcohol for lawful purposes, and setting forth such purposes. A separate statement shall be made for each purchase on forms supplied by the attorney-general; such statement giving the name, nature, and place of business of the applicant, the place where the alcohol is to be used, the nature of said business, the purposes for which said alcohol is to be used and the quantity desired, and that said applicant will not violate any of the provisions of this title. Any person authorized to ship alcohol shall fill in the actual date of shipment indelibly on tags or labels. An accurate record of all shipments and sales of alcohol must be kept by druggists and a report of all such sent to the attorney-general on the first day of each and every month, giving the date and number of shipment as shown by the tag or label, quantity of alcohol sold or shipped, name and address of purchaser, and means and route of delivery. Any person failing so to record and report such sales and shipments, or falsely making any record or report, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

3348. As to retail. Permits by justices of the peace. Duties of druggists. Sales to certain persons prohibited. Penalty. Any person who shall desire to purchase alcohol for scientific or manufacturing purposes, except as provided in § 3347, shall apply in person to a justice of the peace of the precinct or city for a permit to make such purchases. To procure such permit, he shall make and file with the justice of the peace in the county where the alcohol is to be used a statement in writing under oath, stating that the affiant is not of intemperate habits or addicted to the use of any narcotic drug; that he is of sound mind, not a minor or an Indian; that such alcohol will not be used as a beverage nor for any purpose other than that stated, and shall set forth the quantity desired and the purpose for which he desires said alcohol; and that he will not use nor permit any other person to use any such alcohol for an unlawful purpose, and he shall give his residence (street address, in cities where same is generally required for delievery of United States mail), and the place at which such alcohol is to be used, and shall sign his name in full in ink. If the justice of the peace is satisfied as to the good faith of the applicant, he shall issue to said applicant, filled out in ink, a permit to purchase alcohol for scientific or manufacturing purposes. The original of said permit shall have attached thereto a duplicate copy and each shall be numbered with the same number, and be in substantially the following form:

State of Utah, county of ....., ss.

....., residing at ....., is hereby permitted to purchase alcohol in the amount of ..... (here insert quantity written in ink, in words and numerals), to be used for scientific or manufacturing purposes. This permit can be used for only one purchase, and the copy hereof attached hereto shall be conspicuously and securely pasted upon the package containing said alcohol, and this permit to purchase shall be void after twenty days from date hereof.

By order of the justice of the peace of ..... (precinct or city).

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19.....

.....

Justice of the peace.

Sales of alcohol, which are shipped to the purchaser by druggists on permits of justices of the peace, must bear on the outer package in a conspicuous place a label or tag, securely affixed, supplied by the attorney-general, which shall bear these words:

Alcohol shipment No. ..... Date ..... Druggist Permit. Authorized by the attorney-general of Utah.

All justices of the peace who shall issue permits under this title shall enter the number of such permit so issued upon the statement and application for the same, together with the quantity of alcohol allowed and the date, and shall file such applications in numerical order, and keep the same on file for at least one year. Such application shall be open to the inspection of any executive, prosecuting, or peace officer at any time. The permit mentioned in this section shall authorize the applicant to purchase, and any druggist to sell and deliver or ship to such applicant, the quantity named in said permit. The permit shall be canceled by such druggist, and kept on file by him in order by dates for at least one year, and the copy of said permit shall be, by the druggist, conspicuously and securely pasted upon the receptacle containing said alcohol, and shall so remain upon said receptacle so long as the same shall contain alcohol. Said permit shall authorize only one purchase and sale. It shall be unlawful for any druggist to sell alcohol without the permit herein specified, or for any person to keep or have in his possession any alcohol, unless the receptacle containing the same shall be distinctly labeled with the copy of the permit authorizting the purchase of the same, or the tags or labels furnished by the attorney-general authorizing the purchase of the same, or the tags and labels furnished by the attorney-general authorizing shipments. The permits on file at any druggist's place of business shall be open to public inspection; provided, however, that alcohol, liquors, alcoholic extracts, essences, medicines, or any preparation containing in excess of one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume, which can be used as a beverage, shall not be sold or furnished by druggists or any other dealer or persons to any person of intemperate habits, or addicted to the use of any narcotic drug, or to a minor, an Indian, or a person of unsound mind. A signed notice in writing served on any justice of the peace or any druggist or other dealer or other person by a peace officer, or by the wife, husband, mother, father, sister, brother, son, daughter, or guardian of any such minor or person, informing any such justice of the peace, druggist, or other dealer or person that the applicant or purchaser is intemperate, or addicted to the use of any narcotic drug, a minor, an Indian, or a person of unsound mind, shall be prima facie evidence of such fact. Any justice of the peace who shall issue a permit to buy alcohol, and any person who shall sell any liquors or preparations mentioned in this paragraph, for six months thereafter, to such debarred person, after such notice has been served, without a hearing having been had to determine the facts, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. A conviction of any justice of the peace under this section shall also be a forfeiture of his office, and the court before whom such conviction is had shall, in addition to lawful penalties for misdemeanor, order and adjuge a forfeiture of such office. In case of notice served as aforesaid, a hearing thereon shall be held by the justice of the peace, upon petition of the applicant for liquor. Every informant serving notice as aforesaid shall be subpœnaed to appear and testify at such hearing and be given an opportunity to produce any evidence therein, provided that any peace officer, relative, or person, as described herein, upon such hearing, may take a change of venue in the manner provided by law therefor.

3349. Manufacture and sale of vinegar, alcohol, non-intoxicating cider, and food preparations. Sale of Jamaica ginger forbidden. The provisions of this title shall not be construed to prevent any temperate person from manufacturing vinegar or preserved non-intoxicating cider for use or sale; or to prevent the manufacture of pure alcohol for sale to the warehouse manager only, or for shipment out of the state; provided, that any person who may engage in the manufacture of vinegar, preserved non-intoxicating cider, or alcohol for sale, as herein provided, shall, before commencing the manufacture thereof, first obtain a permit from the attorney-general, by filing an affidavit to the effect that said permit is for the purpose of the manufacturing as herein provided; and said person engaged therein shall render a quarterly statement under oath to the attorney-general, giving such facts as shall be called for by the attorney-general, and setting forth the amount of all such vinegar, preserved non-intoxicating cider, or alcohol manufactured, amount sold to warehouse managers and the amount shipped out of the state; or to prevent the manufacture or sale for lawful purposes of any food preparation, or any United States pharmacopœia or national formulary preparation in conformity with the Utah pharmacy laws, which preparation conforms to a standard established by the state chemist, and contains no more alcohol than is absolutely necessary to extract the medicinal, flavoring, or perfume properties of the drug, oil, sap, or other substance, and to preserve the same; and which substance is manufactured and sold as medicines, flavoring extracts, essences, tinctures, perfumes, or other similar products for legitimate and lawful purposes and not as beverages; provided, that it shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture or sell or otherwise dispose of the essence or tincture of Jamaica ginger, or any like substances; and provided, further, that any preparation containing in excess of one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume, and which is shown on analysis by the state chemist can be used as a beverage, shall not be sold; or to prevent the manufacture or sale of wood or denatured alcohol under the rules established by the governor, and in compliance with the formulas and rules established by the United States; or to prevent the importation of wines for sacramental purposes only, by religious bodies, in the same manner as provided in § 3346 for the importation of alcohol by the warehouse manager.

Pharmacy laws, §§ 4409-4434.

3350. Property used in violation of this title declared common nuisances. All premises, buildings, vehicles, boats, and all other places where intoxicating liquors are manufactured, sold, bartered, kept, stored, or given away, or used in violation of law, or where persons are permitted to resort for the drinking of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, or where intoxicating liquors are kept for use, sale, barter, or delivery, in violation of law, and all intoxicating liquors, bottles, glasses, kegs, pumps, bars, and other property kept in and used in maintaining such premises, buildings, vehicles, boats, or other places, are hereby declared to be common nuisances; and any person who maintains, or assists in maintaining, any such common nuisance shall be held guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense, as provided in § 3345 for offenses under this title.

3351. Injunction and abatement by suit. Whenever a nuisance is kept, maintained, or exists, as defined in this title, the same may be enjoined and abated by a suit in equity, as provided by §§ 4275-4282, for the abatement of common nuisances; or if any person shall be convicted in a criminal trial of maintaining any such nuisance as herein defined, an injunction shall issue perpetually enjoining said person from maintaining such nuisance the same as though a formal application for an injunction had been applied for. Upon such conviction, the county attorney shall proceed against the property used in keeping or maintaining such a nuisance as provided in §§ 4275-4282, and the record of such conviction shall be prima facie evidence of the fact of said nuisances being kept or maintained at the time and place charged.

3352. Lease of premises where nuisance is maintained is void. If the tenant of a building or tenement uses such premises, or any part thereof, in maintaining a common nuisance as herein defined, or knowingly permits such use by another, such use shall render void the lease under which he holds, and the right to possession shall revert to the owner or lessor, who may avail himself of the remedy provided by law for the forcible detention thereof.

3353. Owner failing to abate nuisance deemed guilty. Any one who knowingly permits any building or premises owned or leased by him, or under his control, or any part thereof, to be used in maintaining a common nuisance, as defined in this title, or who, after being notified in writing by the prosecuting officer or officers, or citizen, of such use, omits to take all proper measures, either to abate said nuisance or, failing therein, to eject therefrom the person or persons so using the same, shall be deemed guilty of assisting in the maintaining of such nuisance.

3354. Search and seizure. Duties of officers. Reports to be made. If any district, county, city, or town attorney or any peace officer or any other person has probable cause to believe that liquors are possessed, manufactured, sold, bartered, given away, or otherwise furnished in violation of this title, or are kept for the purpose of selling, bartering, or giving away or otherwise furnishing in violation of law, it shall be the duty of any such attorney, peace officer, or person, forthwith to make and file with the judge of the district court or any city, town, or precinct justice of the peace, written information supported by his oath or affirmation that he has information of and reason to believe, and does believe, that this title is being violated at a certain place, stating the facts within his knowledge and upon which he bases his belief; and he shall describe as particularly as may be the place, and the names of the persons, if known, participating in such unlawful act. Said judge or justice of the peace, upon finding probable cause to believe that the facts stated in such information are true, shall issue a search warrant, directed to any peace officer in the county whom the complainant may designate, describing as particularly as may be the liquors and the place described in said information, and the persons named or described in said information as the owners or keepers of said liquors, and commanding the said officer to search thoroughly said place; and on finding liquors in unlawful possession or use, to arrest persons found therein and bring them before said court; and to seize the said liquors with the vessels containing them and all implements, furniture, and fixtures used or kept for such illegal acts, and keep the same securely until final action be had thereon. Whereupon the said officer to whom such warrant shall be delivered shall forthwith obey and execute as effectively as possible the commands of said warrant, and make return promptly of his doings to said judge or justice, with an itemized inventory of all liquors and property or things seized; and also a list of all persons in whose possession the same were found, if any; and if no person be found in possession of said liquor or property his return shall so state; and said officer shall securely keep all liquor and other things so seized by him until final action is had thereon. A copy of said warrant shall be served upon the person or persons found in possession of any such liquors, furniture, or fixtures so seized, and if no person be found in possession thereof, a copy of said warrant shall be posted in a conspicuous place on the building or room wherein the same are found. If admission to such building or room is refused, the officer directed to serve the warrant is hereby authorized and required to force open the same. If fluids are poured out, or otherwise destroyed, by any tenant, assistant, or other person, when the premises are searched or about to be searched, apparently for the purpose of preventing their seizure, said fluids shall be held to be prima facie intoxicating liquors, and intended for unlawful use, sale, barter, exchange, or giving away. Any peace officer who shall make a seizure of liquors or any other property under the provisions of this title shall forthwith report in writing on forms supplied by the attorney-general such act, together with detailed information as to the property seized and persons arrested, with the address of the place from which such property was seized, to the prosecuting attorney of the city or county in which such seizure was made, and also to the attorney-general.

Search warrant, §§ 9368-9388. Seizure without warrant, § 3359.

3355. Seized property not released. Trial on merits. Conviction bar to all suits. When any liquor, vessels, property, or other things shall have been seized by virtue of any such warrant, the same shall not be discharged or returned to any person claiming the same by reason of any alleged insufficiency of description in the warrant, of the liquor, property, or place, nor by writ of replevin, or claim and delivery, or any other process; but the claimant shall only have the right to be heard on the merits of the case; and final jugment of conviction in such proceedings shall in all cases be a bar to all suits for the recovery of any liquors or other things seized, or of the value of same, or for damages alleged to arise by reason of the seizing and detention thereof.

3356. Payment of internal revenue tax prima facie evidence of manufacture and sale. A copy of entries made in the records of the United States internal revenue collector, certified by said collector or a duly qualified notary public, showing the payment of the United States internal revenue special tax after August 1, 1917, for the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, shall be prima facie evidence in the courts of this state of such manufacture or sale by the party named therein within the period set forth in such record.

3357. Returns. Jurisdiction of courts. Proceedings as in criminal prosecutions. Judgment. In the event of a seizure under the warrant as provided for in § 3354, the officer shall forthwith make a return of his acts thereunder, and if said warrant has been issued by a justice of the peace, and by said return it appears that liquors, vessels, or other things used for purposes of selling or otherwise disposing of such liquors contrary to law have been found upon the premises described in said warrant, the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace shall thereupon cease, except that the justice issuing such warrant shall forthwith certify the record and all files to the district court of the county in which said premises are situated, and from time of filing such records and files with the clerk of said district court said court shall have jurisdiction to proceed with said cause and determine the merits thereof as provided by law; and the clerk of the said court shall fix a time for hearing said matter, of which notice shall be given as provided herein. In all cases upon the filing of the warrant and return of the officers in the district court, the clerk thereof shall fix a time for hearing said matter, and shall cause such notice to be left at the place where said liquors were seized; and if said place be a dwelling house, store, or shop, posted in some conspicuous place on or about the said building; and also to be left with or at the last known and usual place of residence of the person named or described in said information as the owner or keeper of said liquors; if he be a resident of this state, a notice summoning such person and all others whom it may concern to appear before said court at a place and time named in said notice, which time shall not be less than five nor more than fifteen days after the posting and leaving of said notice, and show cause, if any they have, why said liquors, together with the vessels in which the same are contained, and other property should not be forfeited; and said notice shall, with reasonable certainty, describe said liquors, vessels, and other property or things, and shall state where, when, and why the same were seized. At the time and place fixed in said notice, the person named in said information, or any person claiming any interest in said liquors, vessels, and other property, or any part thereof, may appear and show cause why the same should not be forfeited. If any person shall so appear he shall become a party defendant in said cause, and said court shall make a record thereof. Whether any person shall so appear or not, said court shall, at the time fixed, proceed to the trial of the case, and the county or district attorney shall appear before said court and prosecute said information, and show cause why said liquors, vessels, or other property should be adjudged forfeited. The proceedings in the trial of such case may be the same substantially as in the cases of criminal prosecutions before such courts, and if any person shall appear and be made a party defendant as herein provided, and shall make a written plea that said liquors, vessels, or other property, or any part thereof, claimed by him, were not owned or kept with intent to be used in violation of the law, such party defendant may demand a jury to try the issue; and if, upon the evidence presented, the said court or jury, as the case may be, shall by verdict find that said liquors, vessels, or other property was, when seized, owned or kept by any person for the purpose of being sold or used in violation of law, the said court shall render judgment that said liquors, vessels, or other property, or any part thereof, be forfeited. If no person be made defendant in manner aforesaid, or if judgment be in favor of all the defendants who appear and are made such, then the costs of the prosecution shall be paid as in ordinary criminal prosecution where the prosecution fails. If judgment shall be against only one party defendant appearing as aforesaid, he shall be adjudged to pay all the costs of proceedings in the seizure and detention of the liquors or other things claimed by him, and of the trial up to the time of judgment. But if said judgment shall be against more than one defendant claiming distinct interest in said liquor or other things, then the cost of said proceeding and trial shall be, according to the discretion of said court, equitably apportioned among the said defendants for the amounts of costs so adjudged against them. Any person appearing and becoming party defendant as aforesaid may appeal from said judgment or forfeiture, as to the whole or any part of said liquors, vessels, or other property claimed by him and so adjudged forfeited.

3358. Seized property sold, destroyed, or restored. Costs of proceeding. Whenever it shall be finally decided that the liquors, vessels, or other property seized as aforesaid are forfeited, the court rendering final judgment of forfeiture shall issue to the officer a written order, directing him forthwith publicly to destroy said liquors, vessels, or other property; provided, however, that if some of such property, except liquors, can be used for lawful purposes, and in the discretion of the court the public interest would be served by selling instead of destroying same, then the court shall direct the officer to sell such property at public auction to the highest bidder after having posted a notice of such intended auction in some conspicuous place on or about the building in which the trial was had, not less than ten days next preceding the date of said auction, said notice containing an inventory and brief description of such property, and time and place to be offered for sale. Upon application of any person desiring to inspect such property, after the order to sell has been issued by the court, the officer in whose custody said property is held shall permit such inspection. All moneys derived from such sales shall be turned over to the county treasurer, and his receipt therefor, together with a report of the sale, listing the selling price of all parcels sold, and a return of said order of the court, with his doings endorsed thereon, shall be immediately made by said office to said court. Whenever it shall be finally decided that any liquors or other property so seized are not liable to forfeiture, the court by whom such final decision shall be rendered shall issue a written order to the officer having the same in custody, or to some other peace officer, to restore said liquors, vessels, or other property to the place where they were seized, as nearly as may be, or to the person entitled to receive them, which order the officers shall obey and make return thereon to the court of his acts thereunder, and the costs of the proceedings in such case attending the restitution, as also the costs attending the destruction or sale of such property in case of forfeiture, shall be taxed and paid in the same manner as is provided in case of ordinary criminal prosecution where the prosecution fails.

3359. Arrest and seizure without warrant. Property held as in other cases. When a violation of any provisions of this title shall occur in the presence of any sheriff, constable, marshal, police officer, or other officer having power to serve criminal process, it shall be the duty of such officer, without warrant, to arrest the offender and seize the intoxicating liquors, vessels, and other property so unlawfully used, and to take such offender or offenders immediately before the court or judge having jurisdiction in the premises, and there make complaint under oath, charging the offense so committed; and he shall make return, setting forth a particular description of the liquors, vessels, and other property seized, and of the place where the same were seized; whereupon the court or judge shall issue a warrant commanding and directing the officer to hold safely the property so seized in his possession until discharged by due process of law; and such property shall be held in like manner as if the seizure had been made under a warrant therefor. If any peace officer shall have probable cause to believe any person has on or about his person in any kind of receptacle, or in any vehicle under his control, liquors in any quantity, in violation of any of the provisions of this title, such peace officer shall have authority to examine such vehicle and receptacle and the contents thereof, and the finding of any liquors in the possession of any such person, or under his control, not bearing a permit of a justice of the peace or a tag or label of the attorney-general, shall be prima facie evidence that such liquors were kept for an unlawful purpose, and such person shall be forthwith arrested by such officer.

3360. Officers to enforce provisions. Persons to render assistance. Failure subjects officers to removal. Appeals allowed. All sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, mayors, police judges, justices of the peace, constables, marshals, and peace officers, and all district, county, city, and town attorneys, and clerks of courts shall diligently enforce the provisions of this title. And for the purpose of enforcing this title, all peace officers shall have access, ingress, and egress to and from all places of business, factories, farms, buildings, carriages, and cars used in the manufacture, storage, transportation, or sale of any liquors, alcoholic essences, extracts, medicines, or other such preparations, cider, or other beverages, and also in restaurants, dining halls, cafes, places of public resort, hotels, and all rooms thereof, and all other places where beverages are prepared, stored, or served. They shall also have power and authority to open any package, can, or vessel containing or supposed to contain any article manufactured, sold, or exposed for sale, or held in possession with intent to sell, in violation of the provisions of this title, and may inspect the contents thereof, and may take samples therefrom for analysis. All dealers, clerks, bookkeepers, express agents, railroad officials, employes, or common carriers shall render to them all the assistance in their power, when so requested, in tracing, finding, or discovering the presence of any article prohibited by law, and in securing samples thereof as herein provided for. Any refusal or neglect on the part of such dealers, clerks, bookkeepers, express agents, railroad officials, employes, or common carriers to render such aid, or to furnish such samples for analysis, as provided for in this section, shall be a misdemeanor, and shall be punished as herein provided. Immediately upon conviction of any person in any town, city, or county of this state for violation of any provision of this title, or for violation of any city ordinance relating to liquors, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court or the justice of the peace to notify the attorney-general of such conviction, giving in writing full particulars of the case on forms supplied by the attorney-general. If any officer shall fail or refuse to do or perform any duty required by this title, he shall be removed from office as herein provided. For the purpose of such removal, a petition may be filed in the district court of the county wherein such officer resides, in the name of the state, on the relation of any citizen thereof, upon recommendation of a grand jury, or on the relation of the board of county commissioners, or any executive, prosecuting, or peace officer, or of an attorney appointed by the governor under the provisions of this title. Summons shall be issued and proceedings had thereon to final judgment as in other civil cases; provided, however, if an order is made suspending such officer from his office as herein provided, he shall be entitled to demand and have a trial within ten days, if the court be in session. If the court be not in session then the accused shall be entitled to demand and have a trial within the first ten days of the next term of court. A change of judge or a change of venue shall be allowed as in other civil cases. Pending the trial of said cause, application may be made by the relator therein, or by any attorney appointed by the governor under the provisions of this title, to any judge of the supreme court or to the judge of the district court wherein such cause is pending, for an order suspending said officer from his office during the pendency of said suit; and, after reasonable notice to the defendant of such application and an opportunity to show cause, if any there be, in opposition thereto, if it shall appear to the satisfaction of such judge that such officer has failed, neglected, or refused to perform the duties required of him by this title, then it shall be the duty of such judge to enter an order suspending such officer from office until final trial of the case; and in such order said judge shall appoint a proper person to hold such office and perform all the duties thereof during the suspension. Appeals shall be allowed in any such case as in other civil cases.

3361. Drinking intoxicating liquors in public a misdemeanor. Any person who shall in any street or alley, public place, store, restaurant, hotel lobby or parlor, or in or upon any passenger coach, street car, or upon any other vehicle commonly used for the transportation of passengers, or in or about any depot, platform, waiting station or room, or at any public gathering, drink any intoxicating liquors of any kind, or shall be drunk or intoxicated, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Drunkenness and intoxication by the use of intoxicating liquors are criminal, wherever and whenever they may occur at any place in the state.
Kolb v. Peterson, 50 U. —; 168 P. 97.

3362. Advertising intoxicating liquors a misdemeanor. It shall be deemed a misdemeanor for any person, either directly or indirectly, to advertise intoxicating liquors, imitations thereof, or substitutes therefor, in this state, for sale or gift, in any newspaper, periodical, circular, hand bill, or price list, or on any sign, signboard, billboard, bulletin board, or by displaying or exhibiting said liquors, or in any manner whatsoever advertising same; or for any owner, officer or person in charge of any newspaper, periodical, sign, signboard, billboard, bulletin board, printing office, advertising agency, or publicity bureau, or any other person, to publish or distribute any matter in this state which either directly or indirectly advertises intoxicating liquors.

3363. Appeals allowed. In all cases arising under this statute the state shall have the right to appeal as to the questions of law.

3364. Records of carriers evidence in court. Failure to keep constitutes misdemeanor. Common carriers within this state are hereby required to keep a separate book at the point of delivery in which shall be entered, immediately upon receipt thereof, the name of the person to whom liquors are shipped, the amount and kind received, the date when delivered, and by whom delivered and to whom delivered, after which record shall be a blank space in which the consignee shall be required to sign his name in ink before such liquors are delivered to such consignee, which book shall be open to public inspection at any time during business hours of the company. Such records shall constitute prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, and shall be admissible as evidence in any court of this state. Any employe or agent of any common carrier failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

3365. Associate counsel. Dismissal of causes only after statements. Any citizen, association, or society may employ an attorney or attorneys to assist the prosecuting attorney to perform his duties under this title, and such attorney shall be recognized by the court and by the said prosecuting attorney as associate counsel in the proceedings; and no prosecution shall be dismissed over the objection of such associate counsel until the reasons of the prosecuting attorney for such dismissal, together with the objections thereto of said associate counsel, shall have been filed in writing, argued by counsel, and fully considered by the court.

3366. Property rights. There shall be no property rights whatsoever in any liquors, vessels, appliances, fixtures, bars, furniture, and implements kept or used for the purpose of violating, or used in violation of, any provision of this title.

3367. Opening packages in transit prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to open any original package or packages in which intoxicating liquor is being shipped while the same is in transit and undelivered; or for any common or special carrier, or any agent or employe of the same, to allow any original package or packages in which intoxicating liquor is being shipped to be opened or divided in any manner whatsoever, while same is upon their premises or in their possession except as provided in § 3360.

3368. Different offenses united for trial under separate counts. When a defendant has been held to answer to the district court for more than one offense under this title, the prosecuting attorney may, in filing his information against such defendant, include therein all the offenses for which such defendant is then held to answer to such district court, stating each offense under separate counts in such information; and upon the filing of such information, the proceedings thereunder shall be the same as though one offense only were charged therein, except that the defendant shall in one trial be tried on all offenses contained therein, and upon the trial of such defendant thereunder, he may be convicted of one or more of the offenses charged therein as the evidence may warrant; and the failure of the jury to find the defendant guilty under any count shall be deemed an aquittal of the defendant of the offense contained in such count.

3369. Accomplices. Exceptions as to agents of authorities. None excused from testifying. Any person who shall aid, abet, counsel, or procure an unlawful sale, unlawful purchase, unlawful gift, or other unlawful disposition of liquors, or shall act as agent or assisting friend of the seller in procuring or effecting the unlawful sale or purchase of any liquors, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished as provided in § 3345. Nothing in this title shall be construed as prohibiting any person from purchasing liquors contrary to the provisions of this title when acting as the agent of the authorities charged with the enforcement of this title in the detection and conviction of violators of said laws. No person shall be excused from testifying as to any offense committed by another under this title by reason of his testimony tending to incriminate himself, but the testimony given by such person shall in no case be used against him, nor shall he be prosecuted for the offense as to which he testified.

3370. Prescriptions limited. Penalty for violation. It shall be unlawful for any physician, veterinarian, or other person to prescribe for any person any liquors for beverage purposes, or any compound containing in excess of one-half of one per cent by volume of alcohol which is capable of being used as a beverage; or to prescribe any medicine containing in total content of such prescription more than four ounces of alcohol, and such prescription shall not be refilled within seven days. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished as provided in § 3345.

3371. Revocation of licenses. Upon conviction of any physician, druggist, or veterinarian for violating any of the provisions of this title, the court before whom such person shall be tried and convicted shall cause a certified copy of such jdgment of conviction to be certified to the state, county, or city board having authority to issue licenses to any such physician, druggist, or veterinarian, as the case may be; and such board shall thereupon declare forfeited the said license, and the same shall become null and void; and no license shall thereafter for one year be granted to the said person to practice medicine, pharmacy, veterinary science, or to dispense drugs in this state. If any keeper of a hotel, boarding house, pool room, billiard room, bowling alley, store, drug store, or other place requiring any license, or any employe with his knowledge, consent, connivance, or acquiescence, shall keep, store, dispense, or use, contrary to the provisions of this title, any liquors, in addition to the penalties prescribed for the violations of this title, the license of such place shall be revoked for one year for the first offense, and for the second offense no such license shall be granted at the same place or to the person convicted for a period of two years; provided, that where the place is run under a lease by a person or persons other than the true owner of the building, nothing herein shall operate to prohibit the issuance of a license to a new lessee who was not in any way connected as an employe or otherwise with the former business therein conducted at the time of the revocation of the license.

3372. Persons may be compelled to disclose evidence. Any person shall be compellable in any proceeding had under this title to disclose from whom or from what place he has received liquors. For a failure or refusal to make such disclosure, if the judge in such proceeding shall be satisfied that such person knows the facts demanded to be disclosed, he shall be guilty of contempt, and shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $50, and be committed to the jail for a period not exceeding thirty days. No person shall be excused from testifying in any proceeding brought under this title before a judge or justice of the peace on the ground that his testimony might incriminate him, but no person shall be prosecuted or punished on account of any transaction or matter or thing concerning which he shall be compelled to testify, nor shall such testimony be used against him on any prosecution for any crime under the laws of this state.

3373. Perjury, how punished. Any person who shall make any false or any perjured statement in any document, application, affidavit, permit, trial, inquisition, or hearing filed, made, given, or held under this title, or who shall violate any such statement made, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for the second and each subsequent offense he shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall be punished as provided for in § 3345.

3374. Inquisitions. Refusal or disobedience punished. If the prosecuting attorney of any district, county, city, or town shall be notified by any officer or other person, or shall have knowledge of any violation of any provisions of this title, it shall be his duty forthwith diligently to inquire into the facts of such violation; and he may make and file, with any justice of the peace or judge of a district court in his county, a statement setting forth that he has probable cause to believe that this title has been or is being violated in such county, and that certain persons, naming them, have information concerning, or knowledge of, such violations; and upon the filing of such statement, or upon the filing by any citizen of an affidavit containing the same information, it shall be the duty of such judge or justice of the peace to issue subpœnas for the persons named in such statement or affidavit, requiring them to appear before him at a time and place to be designated therein, to testify and produce any books, papers, or things that will aid or assist in the prosecution of such investigation concerning any violation of the provisions of this title. Such subpœnas may be served by any person designated by the complainant, judge, or justice of the peace, and shall be served and returned in the same manner as subpœnas in ordinary criminal cases. Any judge or justice of the peace acting under the provisions of this section shall have the power to adjourn such proceedings from time to time, and to punish any witness for contempt or on account of his refusal to be sworn or to answer questions as a witness or to sign his testimony; and the attendance of any witness may be by such magistrate compelled by attachment. If the testimony of any witness at such investigation shall disclose the fact that an offense has been committed, the prosecuting attorney shall immediately prosecute the person or persons committing such offense.

When such witness (or witnesses) shall appear before the judge or justice of the peace, he shall be sworn to make true answers to all questions propounded to him touching the matters under investigation, and the testimony of each witness shall be reduced to writing by the court or under his direction, and shall be signed in ink by the witness. Any disobedience to the subpœna of the court or any refusal to be sworn as a witness, or to sign the testimony given by him, or any refusal to answer any proper questions propounded by the prosecuting attorney or by the court in such inquiry, or any disclosure of any evidence so taken or of any names of witnesses, except when lawfully required to testify as a witness in relation thereto, shall be a misdemeanor.

3375. Sheriffs to enforce law in towns and cities. Other officers not relieved thereby. The sheriffs of the several counties of this state are hereby authorized, and it is made their duty, to enforce the provisions of this title within incorporated cities and towns with the same diligence as within territory in the respective counties outside of such cities and towns; but this provision shall not be so construed as to relieve in any degree whatsoever any city executive, prosecuting, or police officer of his duty and obligation to enforce the provisions of this title.

3376. Governor and attorney-general authorized to initiate and carry on prosecutions. The governor and the attorney-general of the state of Utah are each hereby given the power and authority to initiate and carry on prosecutions for violations of this title in any and all political subdivisions of this state; and all city, county, precinct, and state executive, prosecuting, and peace officers are hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions hereof; and in the event of the failure of any local officer to take the necessary steps for the enforcement of this law, any and all executive, prosecuting, and peace officers of any larger political unit within which such officer so failing or refusing has jurisdiction are hereby clothed with authority to take the necessary steps for the enforcement of this law.

3377. Holding of any part of this title unconstitutional not to affect remainder. If any section, subsection, clause, or phrase of this title is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this title.

3378. Inventories to be filed by certain dealers. Within two days after the taking effect of this title, every druggist, retail and wholesale liquor dealer within this state is required to file an inventory of all liquors in his possession at the close of business on July 31, 1917. Said inventory must be verified and set forth in detail as to the kind and quantity of all such liquors, and must be filed with the county clerk on August 2, 1917.

3380. Repeal. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this title are hereby repealed.

3381. Title to take effect. This title shall take effect on the 1st day of August, 1917; and wholesale and retail liquor dealers and druggists are allowed ten days after August 1, 1917, within which to remove from the state of Utah all intoxicating liquors in their possession.

TITLE 55.

IRRIGATION AND WATER RIGHTS.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE ENGINEER, WATER RIGHTS ON STREAMS, ETC.

3399. (1261.) Office of state engineer created. Powers and duties. There shall be a state engineer, who shall be appointed by the governor of the state and be confirmed by the senate. He shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified. He shall have general supervision of the waters of the state and of their measurement, apportionment, and appropriation, and of all division superintendents and district supervisors. He shall have power to make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary from time to time to fully carry out the provisions of this title, and secure the equitable and fair apportionment of the water according to the respective rights of appropriators. No person shall be appointed to the office of state engineer who has not such theoretical knowledge and practical experience and skill as shall fit him for the position. R. S. '98, § 2451; '01, p. 141; '03, p. 88; '05, p. 145.

This act must be liberally construed.
Pool v. Utah County Light & Power Co., 36 U. 508; 105 P. 289.

3400. (1262.) Salary and allowances. The state engineer shall receive a salary of $3000 per annum, payable in quarterly instalments by the state treasurer upon warrants drawn by the state auditor. When the state engineer is called away from his office on official business, he shall be entitled to his actual traveling expenses, which shall be paid out of any money appropriated for that purpose, on the certificate of said state engineer, approved by the state board of examiners.

Fees of state engineer, § 2516.

3401. (1263.) Office at capital. The state engineer shall keep his office at the state capital. R. S. '98, § 2451; '01, p. 142; '03, p. 89; '05, p. 146.

3402. (1264.) Oath and bond. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the state engineer shall take and subscribe an oath before some officer authorized by the laws of the state to administer oaths, to faithfully perform the duties of his office. He shall file with the secretary of state said oath and his official bond in the penal sum of $5,000, with not less than two sureties, to be approved by the state board of examiners, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office and for the delivery to his successor or other officer appointed by the governor to receive the same, of all moneys, books and other property belonging to the state then in his hands or under his control, or with which he may be legally chargeable as such officer. R. S. '98, § 2451; '01, p. 142; '03, p. 89; '05, p. 146.

3403. (1265.) Report to governor. The state engineer shall prepare and render to the governor biennially, and oftener if required, full and true reports of his work relating to the matters and duties devolving upon him by virtue of his office, which biennial report shall be delivered to the governor on or before the 31st day of December of the year preceding the regular session of the legislature. He shall become conversant with the waterways of the state, and its needs as to irrigation matters, and in his reports to the governor he shall make such suggestions as to the amendment of existing laws or the enactment of new laws as his information and experience shall suggest. He shall keep on file in his office full and proper records of his work, including all field notes, computations, and facts made or collected by him, all of which shall be duly certified by him, and be part of the records of his office and the property of the state. All records, maps, and other papers recorded or filed in the office of the state engineer shall be open to the public during business hours, and copies thereof, certified by said engineer, shall be furnished on payment of the fees provided for by § 2516.

R. S. '98, § 2458; '01, p. 143; '03, p. 89; '05, p. 146.

3404. (1266.) Duties of engineer. May co-operate with national government. The state engineer shall make a complete hydrographic survey of each river system and water source of the state, beginning such work upon those streams and sources which are most used for irrigation, and from the data so obtained the state engineer shall construct maps, which shall exhibit the essential facts relating to the supply, diversion, and use of the water of each of such river systems or water sources. He shall also collect such other facts as will, in his judgment, aid in ascertaining the existing rights to the use of the water and in determining the volume of the surplus or unappropriated water, if any, of each of such streams or sources. He shall have general supervision of the appropriation of all surplus or unappropriated water in the manner provided by law. Said surveys and collections of facts shall include the location of all suitable sites for dams and reservoirs, and a determination of the approximate capacity and cost of each. In doing such work, the state engineer may co-operate with the agencies of the national government engaged in similar work within the state, for the purpose of interchanging information and avoiding the unnecessary duplication of work. The state engineer shall have a seal which he shall affix to all certificates issued from his office.

R. S. '98, § 2452; '01, p. 142; '03, p. 89; '05, p. 146.

With governor's consent may withhold water from appropriation, § 3573.
Member state road commission, § 2850.
Divide state into water districts, §§ 3430-3441.
Water survey of irrigation district, § 3502.

3405. Duties. Engineer may co-operate with agricultural and interior departments. The state engineer is hereby authorized and empowered, with the consent of the board of examiners, to co-operate with the agricultural and interior departments of the United States government in the development of the resources of the state of Utah; and to that end may enter into, on behalf of the state of Utah, necessary contracts to carry out such purposes; provided, that when any contract so entered into involves the expenditure of any moneys, said sum shall be paid from the state engineer's irrigation contingent fund. '17, p. 223.

3407. (1267.) Id. Notice to be given. Before commencing the hydrographic survey of any river system or water source, the state engineer shall cause notice to be published in some newspaper having general circulation on said river system or water source, stating the time and place of beginning said survey, and said notice shall be published continuously in said newspaper for a period of not less than fifteen days immediately prior to the commencement of said work. '03, p. 90; '05, p. 147.

3408. (1268.) Must examine plans of dams exceeding five feet in height, and inspect dams. Duplicate plans, drawings, and specifications for any dam above five feet in height, across the natural channel of a running stream, or of any other dam intended to retain water above ten feet in height, shall be submitted to the state engineer for his approval, who shall examine such plans, drawings, and specifications, and, if he approves the same, he shall return one copy of each such plans, drawings, and specifications, with his approval, to the party or parties submitting the same, and file the other in his office. If the state engineer disapproves any of such plans, drawings, or specifications, he shall return the same, with his reasons for such disapproval. The state engineer shall have authority to keep an inspector on any such dam during the construction thereof, and to see that the work is done in accordance with the plans, drawings, and specifications, and the state engineer may require the parties constructing the same to make any additions or alterations during the construction which he considers necessary for the security of the work, the safety of persons, or the protection of property. Any person, corporation, or association beginning the construction of any such dam before the plans, drawings, and specifications shall have been submitted to and approved by the state engineer, or proceeding with such work in the absence of an inspector appointed by said engineer, or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements made by him in pursuance of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

R. S. '98, § 2453; '01, p. 146; '03, p. 90; '05, p. 147.

3409. (1269.) Id. Dam or works examined, when. Should any person, corporation, or association residing on or owning land in the neighborhood of any completed dam or diverting works apply to the state engineer in writing, requesting an examination of such dam or works, the state engineer may order an examination thereof. Before doing so, he may require the applicant for such examination to deposit a sum of money sufficient to pay the expenses of the examination, and in case the application appears to him not to have been justified, he may cause the whole or part of such expense to be paid out of such deposit. In case the request appears to the state engineer to have been justified, he may require the owner of the works to pay the whole or any part of the expenses of such examination.

R. S. '98, § 2456; '01, p. 146; '03, p. 90; '05, p. 148.

3410. (1270.) Id. May inspect ditches, etc., and require alteration. The state engineer shall have authority to examine and inspect, during construction, any ditch or other diverting works, and, at the time of such inspection, he may order the parties constructing the same to make any addition or alteration which he considers necessary for the security of such works, the safety of persons, or the protection of property. Any person refusing or neglecting to comply with such requirements of the state engineer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. But the provisions of §§ 3408-3410 shall not apply to works constructed by the national government. '03, p. 91; '05, p. 148.

3411. (1271.) State engineer to bring action to determine water rights; jurisdiction of district court. When the state engineer has completed the hydrographic survey of any river system or water source, he shall file a written statement with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the same is situated, or if the system or source extends into more than one county, the statement shall be filed in any county which embraces any part of such river system or water source that the state engineer shall select as most convenient for the water users of the system or source. Said statement shall set forth the fact of the completion of such survey, the names and post-office addresses of all persons, corporations, and associations using water of said river system or water source, so far as the same are known to the state engineer, and shall contain such other facts and information as he may deem necessary. On the filing of such statement, the district court in the county where the same is filed shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine all water rights on said river system or water source, in accordance with the provisions of this title. '01, p. 143; '03, p. 91; '05, p. 148.

3412. (1272.) Id. Notice to be given claimants to file statements. Within thirty days after the filing of the statement mentioned in the next preceding section, the clerk of the court in which the same shall be filed must give public notice that all persons claiming the right to the use of any water of said river system or water source must file a written statement with the clerk of said court, within six months after the first publication of said notice, setting forth their respective claims to the use of such water, which notice shall be published at least once a week for three successive months in some newspaper printed and published within the boundaries of said river system or water source and having a general circulation therein; or, if there be no such newspaper, then it shall be published in some newspaper printed and published in this state and having a general circulation on said river system or water source. The clerk of said court shall also mail, by registered letter, to each of the persons, corporations, or associations whose names and addresses are given in such statement filed by the state engineer, a copy of said notice, and a blank form on which said claimant shall present, in writing, as provided in the next succeeding section, all the particulars relating to the appropriation of the water of said river system or water source to which he lays claim. '03, p. 91; '05, p. 148.

in the office of the county recorder of each county which embraces any part of said river system or water source. '03, p. 92; '05, p. 149.

Applications for unappropriated water generally, § 3451.

3414. (1274.) Id. Statements to be filed. Failure to make statement a bar. The clerk of said court shall enter the statement in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall file and preserve the same in his office, noting the date of filing. The filing of each statement shall be considered notice to all persons of the claim of the party making the same, and any person failing to make and deliver such statement of claim to the clerk of the court within six months after the first publication of the notice provided for in the next preceding section shall be forever barred and estopped from subsequently asserting any rights theretofore acquired to the use of water of said river system or water source, and shall be held to have forfeited all rights to the use of said water theretofore claimed by him; provided, that any claimant upon whom no other service of said notice shall be made than by publication in the newspaper may apply to the court for permission to file a statement of claim after the time therefor has expired, and the court or judge thereof, may extend the time for filing said statement, not exceeding one year from the first publication of said notice; but, before said time is extended, the applicant shall give notice by publication in some newspaper having general circulation on said river system, to all other persons interested in the water of that river system or water source, and shall make it appear to the satisfaction of the court that during the pendency of the proceedings he had no actual notice thereof in time to appear and file a statement and make proof of his claim; and all parties interested may present affidavits as to the matter of actual notice of application. '03, p. 93; '05, p. 150.

3415. (1275.) Id. Referee to be appointed. At the expiration of six months after the first publication of the aforesaid notice, the district court of the county in which said statements of claim have been filed may appoint a referee or referees, not exceeding three, to take testimony and determine the rights of said claimants to the use of the water of said river system or water source, as in other equity cases. Any claimant may object to the appointment of any person as referee for the same cause for which challenges for cause may be taken to a petit juror in the trial of a civil action. Such objection must be heard and disposed of by the court, or a judge thereof, and affidavits may be read and witnesses examined concerning the same. '03, p. 93; '05, p. 151.

3416. (1276.) Id. Oath. Power of referee. The referee or referees, before proceeding to hear any testimony, must be sworn well and truly to hear and determine the facts and issues referred to them, and true findings render according to the evidence, and he or they shall have power to administer oaths to all witnesses produced before him or them. '03, p. 93; '05, p. 151.

3417. (1277.) Id. Statements in place of pleadings. Maps and records of engineer's office evidence. The statements filed by the claimants shall stand in the place of pleadings, and issue may be made thereon. They shall, unless the court determines the matter itself without a reference, be referred and delivered to the referee or referees, with all other files and papers relating to water claims of said river system or water source, including the statement and map filed with the state engineer, who shall before the expiration of the six months allowed for filing statements of claim, as aforesaid, file with the clerk of said court, and with the county recorder of each county which embraces any part of said river system or water source, a copy of the map of said river system or water source, made in pursuance of his survey thereof; and whenever requested so to do, the state engineer shall furnish the court, or referee or referees with any information which he may possess, or copies of any of the records of his office which relate to the water of said river system or water source; and in all proceedings for the determination of the rights of claimants to the water of said river system or water source, the said maps and records, or certified copies thereof, shall be competent and prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein or delineated thereon.

'03, p. 93; '05, p. 151.

3418. (1278.) Id. Amendments permitted. Powers of referee. The referee or referees shall have power to allow amendments to any statement or pleading, as the court might do, and upon the same terms and with like effect. He or they shall have power, and it shall be the duty of the court, or referee or referees to take testimony at such times and places within the boundaries of the river system or water source as may be convenient to the respective claimants interested, and the court, or referee or referees shall determine the rights of all said claimants as hereinafter provided. The court, referee or referees shall give not less than fifteen days' notice to the claimants, stating when and where he or they will begin to take testimony; said notice shall be published in some newspaper having general circulation on said river system or water source, and, upon the date named in the notice, the court, referee or referees shall begin to take the said testimony, and shall continue the same until all the testimony relating to claims to water of said river system or water source is completed; provided, that a notice shall be served upon each claimant at least fifteen days before the testimony is taken upon his or its claim, stating the time and place, when and where such testimony will be taken; and said notice shall be served in the same manner as a summons issued out of the district court. But he or they may grant adjournments from time to time as occasion may require, and during all of said time the map or maps and other records furnished by the state engineer, as hereinbefore provided, shall be open to the inspection of all parties interested.

3419. (1279.) Id. Any interested party may contest. Any person, corporation, or association owning any irrigation works, or claiming any interest in the water of said river system or water source, may contest the rights of any person, corporation, or association that has filed statements of claims for any water of said river system or water source, by filing a written statement of the grounds of such contest with the clerk of said court, within thirty days after the filing of the tabulation of facts provided for in § 3413; which statement of contest shall be verified by the oath of the contestant. Upon the filing of said contest, the referee or referees shall fix the time for hearing the same, which date shall be not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the time when the notice is served on the party, which notice and the return thereof shall be made in the same manner as summons is served in civil actions in the district courts of this state. '03, p. 94; '05, p. 152.

3420. (1280.) Id. Subpœnas for witnesses. The referee or referees shall have power to issue subpœnas to witnesses, which shall be served in the same manner as subpœnas issued out of the district court, and all witnesses so subpœnaed shall attend and testify, and produce books and papers and documents, as required, before such referee or referees, and said witnesses shall receive the same fees as in civil cases in the district court, to be paid by the party or parties against whom the contest shall be finally determined. '03, p. 94; '05, p. 152.

3421. (1281.) Id. Referees' findings. On the completion of the evidence, the referee or referees shall state, in writing, the facts found by him or them, as to each claim submitted, and the conclusions of law in relation thereto, separately, and shall report the same, with a form of decree, to the district court; and said court may review said report and enter decree thereon, or set aside, alter, or modify the same and enter decree thereon so altered or modified, and, when necessary, may require the referee or referees to amend his or their reports. All the testimony taken by any referee or referees shall be stenographically reported, and the same, together with all other evidence in the matter, shall be transmitted to, preserved, and filed in the office of the clerk of said district court, with the report of such referee or referees. Notice of the filing of the report of the referee or referees shall be given by the clerk, as the court may direct; and exceptions to the findings and report of the referee may be taken by the parties, as the court shall prescribe by rule. '03, p. 95; '05, p. 152.

3422. (1282.) Id. Effect of decree. The decree shall determine and establish the rights of the several claimants to the use of the water of said river system or water source; and among other things shall set forth the name and postoffice address of the person, corporation, or association entitled to the use of the water; the quantity of water in acre feet or the flow of water in second feet to be used; the purpose for which the water is to be used; the time during which the water is to be used each year; the name of the stream or other source from which the water is diverted; the place on the stream or other source where the water is diverted; the priority number of the right; the date of the right, and such other matter as will fully and completely define the right of said person, corporation, or association to the use of the water. '03, p. 95; '05, p. 153.

3423. (1283.) Id. Decree may be appealed from. The decree so entered by the district court may be appealed from to the supreme court, in like manner as from decrees and judgments in other cases; provided, that such appeal shall be taken within six months after the entry of said decree, and all proceedings on appeal shall be conducted according to the provisions of the code of civil procedure, and the practice on appeals from the district court to the supreme court. '03, p. 95; '05, p. 153.

3424. (1284.) Id. Certificate of water right to be issued. If no appeal is taken from said decree within six months after the same has been entered, or, if the case is appealed, within thirty days after the final decree is entered, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court making said decree to issue to each person, corporation, or association having been awarded the use of water by said decree, a certificate in duplicate, attested under the seal of the court, setting forth the substance of said decree, as specified in § 3422. One copy of said certificates shall be transmitted, in person or by registered mail, to the appropriator, who shall, within thirty days, have the same recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the water is diverted from its natural channel, and the other shall be delivered to the state engineer, and filed in his office as part of the records thereof. The letter A shall be prefixed to the priority number of each certificate so issued to distinguish it from certificates issued by the state engineer. '03, p. 95; '05, p. 153.

Certificate of state engineer, § 3461.

3425. (1285.) Proceedings when judge or referee is claimant. Payment of expenses. If the referee shall be a claimant to any water of said river system or water source, all testimony and evidence pertaining to his claim shall be taken by the district court of the county in which the statements are filed, and if the district judge is a claimant of any of the water of said river system or water source, he shall file his statement in the district court of the adjoining district, and a copy of the statement in the court of his own county. In such case the court of the adjoining district shall receive and act upon the referee's report and enter decree in the matter. For the pupose of advancing the money required for the expenses of district judges, compensation and expenses of referees and compensation and expenses of stenographers, as provided in §§ 3412-3425, there is hereby appropriated and set apart from any moneys in the general fund in the state treasury, the sum of $8000, to be known as "adjudication of water rights fund," which shall be a permanent fund, and which shall be used only for the payment of expenses as provided herein. The sums allowed by the state board of examiners, upon certificates of the proper district judge to the state auditor, for expenses and services paid from the "adjudication of water rights fund" as herein provided, shall, at the conclusion of a water adjudication, be certified by the state auditor to the judge and clerk of the court in which said adjudication has been made, and the same shall constitute a part of the costs and disbursements in said cause. The court, at the time of entry of final judgment in said cause, shall adjudge and determine the proportionate amount of such cost of adjudication to be paid by each of the parties of said action; and the respective sums so apportioned are hereby declared to be a lien upon the lands and water rights of the said parties, and the said respective sums shall be entered by the auditors of the proper counties upon the assessment roll of the county in which the property is situated opposite the names of the parties respectively required to pay the same, and said sums shall be collected in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes are collected, and shall be placed in a separate fund, to be remitted to the state treasurer at the same time that other taxes are remitted, and be placed by said treasurer in the "adjudication of water rights fund." '03, p. 96; '05, p. 154; am'd '11, p. 2.

CHAPTER 2.

STATE WATER DISTRICTS.

('11, p. 145.)

3430. (1286.) State engineer to create water districts. In addition to the duties now prescribed by law, the state engineer shall divide the state into water districts, said districts to be so constituted as to secure the best protection to the claimants for water, and the most economical supervision on the part of the state; said water districts, shall not be created until a necessity therefor shall arise; provided, that no water district shall include more than one county. '01, p. 143; '03, p. 96; '05, p. 154; am'd '15, p. 116.

3431. (1287.) Water commissioners; how appointed. Term. There shall be appointed by the board of county commissioners one water commissioner for each water district, who shall be selected from persons recommended by the state engineer. Each commissioner shall hold his office until his successor is appointed and shall have qualified; said board of county commissioners, shall, by like selection and appointment, fill all vacancies which may occur in the offices of water commissioners, and may at any time remove any water commissioner for failure to perform his duties as said water commissioner. '01, p. 143; '03, p. 96; '05, p. 154; am'd '15, p. 116.

3432. (1287x.) Id. Bond. Every water commissioner, before entering on his duty, shall give a bond to the state in the penal sum of $1000 for the faithful performance of his duty. '07, p. 56.

3433. (1288.) Id. Powers and duties. The water commissioners appointed under the provisions of this chapter shall be ex officio officers of the courts within their respective water districts to carry into effect the decree of such courts in relation to the division or distribution of water used within any water district created by the provisions of this chapter, and it shall further be the duty of the said water commissioner to divide the water of the natural stream or streams of his district among the several ditches and reservoirs taking water therefrom, according to the prior right of each, respectively, in whole or in part, and to shut and fasten, or cause to be shut and fastened, the headgates of such ditches, and shall regulate or cause to be regulated the controlling works of reservoirs in times of scarcity of water as may be necessary, by reason of the priorities of right existing in said natural streams of his district. Such water commissioner shall have authority to regulate the distribution of water among the various users under any partnership ditch or reservoir where rights have been adjudicated, in accordance with existing decrees. Whenever, in pursuance of his duties, the water commissioner regulates a headgate of a ditch or the controlling works of a reservoir, it shall be his duty to attach to such headgate or controlling works a written notice, properly dated and signed, setting forth the fact that such headgate or controlling works has been properly regulated, and is wholly under his control, and such notice shall be a legal notice as to the facts therein contained to all parties interested in the division and distribution of water of such ditch or reservoir. It shall be the duty of the county attorney to appear and defend any water commissioner who shall be made a defendant in any case which may arise in the pursuance of the official duties of such officer within the county of said attorney. '03, p. 96; '05, p. 154.

3434. (1288x.) Id. Said water commissioner shall, as near as may be, divide, regulate, and control the use of the water of all streams within his district by such closing or partial closing of the headgates as will prevent the waste of water or its use in excess of the volume to which the appropriator is lawfully entitled, and any person who may be injured by the action of any water commissioner, or by his failure to act pursuant to this chapter, may report to the state engineer, who shall immediately act in the matter and correct or cause to be corrected any wrongful act of such water commissioner if he shall see that injury has been done. Any person dissatisfied with the action of the state engineer may bring an action in the district court of the county wherein the ditch or ditches from which the controversy arises are situated. '01, p. 144; '03, p. 97; '05, p. 154.

3435. (1288x3.) Compensation of commissioners. Water commissioners herein provided for shall receive such compensation as the board of county commissioners shall from time to time fix, the same to be determined with reference to the extent and character of the service performed by such, to be paid by the county in the interest of which the work is performed. Each water commissioner shall keep a true and just account of time spent by him in the discharge of his duties, and shall present a true copy thereof, verified by oath, to the board of county commissioners, and the board of county commissioners shall, upon approval thereof by the state engineer, allow the same. '03, p. 97; '05, p. 155; Am'd '15, p. 116.

3436. (1288x1.) Id. Deputies and assistants. Said water commissioners shall have power, when necessary, to employ deputies or other suitable assistants to aid them in the discharge of their duties. Such assistants shall take the same oath as the water commissioner, and shall obey his instructions, and each shall be entiled to such compensation as his service may demand and as the water commissioner may recommend, not to exceed in any case $5 per day for every day he is employed, such payment to be made upon certificates of the water commissioner, approved by the state engineer, in the same manner as provided for the payment of the water commissioners; provided, that the term of service of such assistant commissioner may be terminated at any time by the water commissioner, and shall not in any case continue after the emergency has ceased to exist.

3437. Commissioners may begin work upon written demand of appropriators. When arrangements are not made for the employment of the water commissioner throughout the irrigation season, the said water commissioner shall begin his work upon written demand being made upon him therefor by one or more appropriators. Such written demand for his services shall be attached to his bill for services and forwarded with it to the county commissioners of the proper county. Where the said commissioner is employed by the month, he shall begin work and terminate his services as the state engineer may direct. The state engineer may, under any condition, call upon the water commissioner for work within his district whenever the necessity therefor may, in his judgment, arise.

3438. Commissioners may make arrests. The water commissioners or their assistants, within their districts, shall have power to arrest any person or persons presently offending, and turn them over to the sheriff of the proper county, and upon delivering any such person so arrested into the custody of the sheriff, it shall be the duty of the water commissioner making such arrest to immediately, in writing and upon oath, make complaint before the proper justice of the peace against the person so arrested.

3439. Headgates and flumes to be maintained. The owner or owners of any ditch or canal shall maintain, to the satisfaction of the water commissioner in which the irrigation works are located, a substantial headgate at the point where the water is diverted, which shall be of such construction that it can be locked and kept closed by said water commissioner; and such owner shall construct and maintain, when required by the water commissioner, flumes or other measuring devices at such points along such ditch as may be necessary for the purpose of assisting the water commissioner in determining the amount of water that is to be diverted into said ditch from the stream, or taken from it by the various users. Any and every owner or manager of a reservoir located across or upon the bed of a natural stream shall be required to construct and maintain, when required by the water commissioner, a flume or measuring device, of a plan to be approved by the state engineer, below such reservoir at a point not to exceed six hundred feet distant therefrom, and a flume or measuring device above such reservoir on each and every stream or source of supply discharging into such reservoir, for the purpose of assisting the water commissioner in determining the amount of water to which prior appropriators are entitled and thereafter diverting it for such prior appropriators' use. When it may be necessary for the protection of other water users, the water commissioner has authority to require flumes to be installed along the line of any ditch. If any such owner or owners of irrigation works shall refuse or neglect to construct and put in such headgates, flumes, or measuring devices after thirty days' notice to do so by the water commissioner, it shall be the duty of the water commissioner of the district in which such headgate is located to close such ditch to the passage of water, and the same shall not be opened or any water diverted from the source of supply, under the penalties prescribed by law for the opening of headgates lawfully closed, until the requirements of the water commissioner as to such headgate, flume, or measuring device have been complied with, and if any owner or manager of a reservoir located across the bed of a natural stream shall neglect or refuse to put in such measuring device after thirty days' notice to do so by the water commissioner, the water commissioner shall open the sluice gate or outlet of such reservoir, and the same shall not be closed, under penalties of the law for changing or interfering with headgates, until the requirements of the water commissioner as to such measuring devices are complied with.

Injury to headgate, penalty, §§ 3472, 3480. Constructed so as to protect fish, § 2624.

3441. Procedure where joint owners disagree. When two or more persons, companies, or corporations, joint owners in an irrigation ditch or reservoir, are unable to agree relative to the division and distribution of water received through their ditch, or from their reservoir, it shall be lawful for any such owner or owners, or either of them, to apply to the water commissioner of the district in which such ditch or reservoir shall be located, by a written notice setting forth such fact, asking the water commissioner to take charge of such ditch or reservoir, for the purpose of making a just division or distribution of the water from the same to the parties entitled to the use thereof. The said water commissioner shall take exclusive charge of such ditch or reservoir, for the purpose of dividing the water therefrom in accordance with rights established by existing decrees or otherwise, and continuing the said work until the necessity therefor shall cease to exist.

The water commissioner shall have power to determine the loss in transit of any water of a stream, other than the natural flow from a reservoir or other source, by seepage and evaporation, subject to an appeal as provided in this chapter. In all cases where the water commissioner or deputy water commissioner is called upon to divide the waters of a ditch or reservoir between appropriators, when the term of his employment exceeds three consecutive days, he shall be paid in full for his services by the interested water users in proportion to the established rights of each. Any payment not made for the services of such water commissioner after the written demand has been made therefor, the same shall be a lien upon any land or other property not otherwise exempt from execution owned by the interested water user refusing to pay, and may be recovered by the water commissioner in any court of competent jurisdiction.

3442. Rights to use of water restricted. Rights to the use of water shall be limited and restricted to so much thereof as may be necessarily used for irrigation or other beneficial purposes, irrespective of the carrying capacity of the ditch, and all the balance of the water not so appropriated shall be allowed to run in the natural stream from which such ditch draws its supply of water, and shall not be considered as having been appropriated thereby.

CHAPTER 3.

APPROPRIATION OF WATER; PROCEEDINGS; CERTIFICATE.

3450. (1288x5.) Rights to unappropriated water. Rights to the use of the unappropriated water in the state may be acquired by appropriation, in the manner hereinafter provided, and not otherwise. The appropriation must be for some useful or beneficial purpose, and, as between appropriators, the one first in time shall be first in right; provided, that when a use designated by an application to appropriate any of the unappropriated waters of the state would materially interfere with a more beneficial use of such water, then the application shall be dealt with as provided in § 3455.

R. S. '98, §§ 1261, 1262; '03, p. 97; '05, p. 155; '11, p. 143.

All existing water rights for any useful or beneficial purpose recognized and confirmed, Con. art. 17, sec. 1.

Waters of all streams, etc., declared to be the property of the public, subject to existing rights, § 3463.

State engineer, with governor's consent, may withdraw water from appropriation, §§ 3555, 3573.

Decrees should be specific as to water rights determined, note to § 6995.

Place of diversion may be changed, § 3469, and note.

Water rights pass with the land, § 3477, and note.

Water rights, except stock, transferred by deed, duly recorded, §§ 3478, 3479.

Court may apportion water stock to land on foreclosure, § 7235.

State water districts, water commissioner, §§ 3430-3442.

Irrigation districts, §§ 3501-3555.

Water reverts upon abandonment, § 3468, and note.

Priority among appropriators, note hereunder, and § 3472.

The jurisdiction of the state engineer is limited to unappropriated water.

Chandler v. Utah Copper, 43 U. 479; 135 P. 108.

The doctrine of riparian rights is not in force in Utah so as to prevent the owner of land from diverting the waters of a stream for purposes of irrigation and domestic use.

Stowell v. Johnson, 7 U. 215; 26 P. 290.

Under § 2339, R. S. U. S., the defendant might obtain a vested right to any of the unappropriated waters of the Provo river, for the operation of machinery, irrigation, or other useful purpose, and construct reasonable dams and reservoirs, so far as necessary, but it was not authorized to oust the plaintiff, who had first appropriated and taken possession of the land in dispute for its right of way.

R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. Telluride P. & T. Co., 16 U. 125; 51 P. 146; appeal dismissed, 175 U. S. 639.

APPROPRIATION AND USE:

The right of a prior appropriator is fixed by the extent of his appropriation for a beneficial use, and others may subsequently appropriate any water of the stream not so used by a prior appropriator. The right of the former being thus fixed, he cannot enlarge his rights to the detriment of the latter.

Becker v. Marble Creek Irr. Co., 15 U. 225; 49 P. 892, 1119.

Monroe v. Ivie, 2 U. 535.

Stowell v. Johnson, 7 U. 215; 26 P. 290.

Salina Creek Irrigation Co. v. Salina Creek Stock Co., 7 U. 456; 27 P. 578.

Hague v. Nephi Irr. Co., 16 U. 421; 52 P. 765.

Beneficial use the basis of right, § 3465.

Though one appropriates a specific quantity of water for a specific purpose, he is entitled to such quantity only as will satisfy the purpose for which the appropriation was made.

Manning v. Fife, 17 U. 232; 54 P. 111.

Becker v. Marble C. Irr. Co., 15 U. 225; 49 P. 892, 1119.

An appropriator of water is not confined to an appropriation simply for the amount of land irrigated during the first year of his diversion. The extent of an appropriation of water is determined by the reasonable necessity for the use of the water, by the intention of the appropriator, followed by a reasonable diligence in executing such intent, and by the beneficial purpose for which the appropriation is made.

Elliot v. Whitmore, 23 U. 342; 65 P. 70.

Hague v. Nephi Irr. Co., 16 U. 421; 52 P. 765.

A prior appropriator of water in a river acquires no right to the corpus of the water until he has conducted it into his canal for use, and has not the exclusive right to control all the water, as others have the right to its use so long as the former appropriator's use is not interfered with. (On rehearing, 25 U. 456; 71 P. 1069.)

Salt Lake City v. Water & El. P. Co., 24 U. 249; 67 P. 672.

Hague v. Nephi Irr. Co., 16 U. 421; 52 P. 765.

Manning v. Fife, 17 U. 232; 54 P. 111.

Stowell v. Johnson, 7 U. 215; 26 P. 290.

Cleary v. Daniels, 50 U. —; 167 P. 820.

The provisions of this chapter recognize rights that have been acquired by appropriation of the waters of lakes.

Cole v. Richards Irr. Co., 27 U. 205; 75 P. 376.

A person is liable for any interference with appropriated water that lessens the quantity or impairs the quality thereof.

Cole v. Richards Irr. Co., 27 U. 205; 75 P. 376.

Crane v. Winsor, 2 U. 248.

The interest of an appropriator of water extends to its source.

Cole v. Richards Irr. Co., 27 U. 205; 75 P. 376.

An appropriator is not required to furrow his land before irrigating it.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 29 U. 315; 81 P. 144.

Where the appropriator of water for irrigation uses the same without waste and in accordance with his appropriation, no one can complain, and no court can change his manner of using the same.

Id.

Where the waters of a stream have all been appropriated, another can not gain any rights therein by attempting to appropriate and divert the seepage.

Howcroft v. Union Irr. Co., 25 U. 311; 71 P. 487.

Where a public stream, abounding in fish, valuable for food, flowed across defendant's premises, he was entitled to change the course of the stream and construct fish ponds in the old bed, without injury to the public or private interests and without diminishing or polluting the water.

State v. Barker, 37 U. 345; 108 P. 352.

An application is merely a notice of intent to appropriate, and does not establish an appropriation.

Sowards v. Meagher, 37 U. 212; 108 P. 1113.

An inceptive right to use water upon or within an Indian reservation can be initiated or acquired after issuance of a proclamation restoring the lands to the public domain, but before they are subject to entry if the application be made in good faith and not for speculation of monopoly.

Id.

A trespasser on land acquires the right to use the quantity of water which he used, although he posted no notice required by law of 1901; such right is paramount to that of the owner of the land, and the water claimant, when dispossessed of the land, may use the water elsewhere.

Patterson v. Ryan, 37 U. 410; 108 P. 1118.

An appropriation of water cannot be made for the irrigation of unsurveyed, unenclosed, unoccupied public domain of the United States for the sole production of food for wild water fowl, since to effect a valid appropriation of water the beneficial use must be one that inures to the exclusive benefit of the appropriator, subject to his complete control.

Lake Shore Duck Club v. Lake View Duck Club; 50 U. —; 166 P. 309.

Water may be appropriated and used on the public domain, and such right acquired thereby will be recognized and sustained though the appropriator never acquires title to the land; his right to the water will be upheld even after he is dispossessed of the land on which it was used, but in such cases some sort of possessory right, good as against everybody but the government, must exist in favor of the appropriator.

Id.

A land owner may not appropriate water from a ditch for one purpose and then apply it or any part of it to another purpose.

Big Cottonwood T. D. Co. v. Shurtliff, 49 U. 569; 164 P. 856.

Where parties have acquired a vested right to the use of water for beneficial purposes, and have adopted the usual and customary means of conveying it from the point of diversion to the place of use in vogue in this arid region, namely, an open ditch with bed and banks consisting of the natural soil through which it is constructed, they cannot be compelled to substitute and install a more expensive method of diversion in order to prevent loss by seepage and evaporation. They may, however, be compelled to keep their ditch in good repair, so as to prevent unnecessary waste.

Id.

Where a continuous open stream of water is permitted to flow to certain premises for culinary, domestic, and live stock purposes, a reasonable amount of excess water passing the premises may be used in a garden or orchard, or for other irrigation purposes.

Id.

One who exchanges creek water for water to be delivered through a canal from Utah lake and has used canal water for a number of years at a certain place, may, where no injury is done to the other, change the place of use and take it from the canal at another point.

Moyle v. Salt Lake City, 50 U. —; 167 P. 660.

If a prior appropriator diverts for storage, more water than he is entitled to, he must return such surplus to the stream for the use of subsequent appropriators.

Gunnison Irr. Co. v. Gunnison High. Canal Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

If a party stores water in excess of the amount it is entitled to it cannot retain such excess in its reservoir, nor can it require those rightfully entitled to it to purchase the same or to pay storage charges therefor.

Id.

ADVERSE CLAIM AND USE:

A municipal corporation took possession and control of the waters of a certain stream with the express consent of the original locators, and held the stream more than seven years; held, that it acquired the ownership of the water under the statute of limitations.

Springville City v. Fulmer, 7 U. 450; 27 P. 577.

Holman v. Pleasant Grove, 8 U. 78; 30 P. 72.

Lehi Irr. Co. v. Moyle, 4 U. 327; 9 P. 867.

Use of water, to be adverse, must be accompanied by all the elements required to make out an adverse possession.

Smith v. North Canyon W. Co., 16 U. 194; 52 P. 283.

Center Cr. Irr. Co. v. Lindsay, 21 U. 192; 60 P. 559.

Minnie M. Res. Co. v. Grames, 29 U. 225; 81 P. 893.

Use of land for ditch does not become adverse without claim of right.

Yeager v. Woodruff, 17 U. 361; 53 P. 1045.

Where water has been appropriated and used for thirty years the dominion and right to the use and diversion thereof, for beneficial purposes, is vested in the appropriator, who cannot be deprived of such right by a municipal corporation, except by the voluntary act of the appropriator, by forfeiture, or by operation of law.

Fisher v. Bountiful City, 21 U. 29; 59 P. 520.

Adverse user, interruption of possession.

Wasatch Irr. Co. v. Fulton, 23 U. 466; 65 P. 205.

Smith v. North Canyon W. Co., 16 U. 194; 52 P. 283.

A tenant cannot, as against his landlord, acquire water rights by adverse use.

Gill v. Malan, 29 U. 431; 82 P. 471.

Interference with rights. Neither a municipal nor any other corporation has the right to assume control of a stream and distribute the water thereof among the owners.

Fisher v. Bountiful City, 21 U. 29; 59 P. 520.

Bartholomew v. Fayette Irr. Co., 31 U. 1; 86 P. 481; 87 P. 707.

Monroe v. Ivie, 2 U. 535.

PERCOLATING WATERS, ETC.:

The discoverer of percolating waters on public lands, by digging a well for the purpose of collecting the same for use, acquires an easement in the land for the maintenance of his well, and a right to the water as an appropriator thereof.

Sullivan v. N. Spy M. Co., 11 U. 438; 40 P. 709.

The right of one who discovers and appropriates percolating waters on public lands by digging a well to collect the water is subject to the right of a subsequent locator of the land to sink a well adjoining such well, though it dry up the first.

Sullivan v. N. Spy M. Co., 11 U. 438; 40 P. 709.

Crescent M. Co. v. Silver King M. Co., 17 U. 444; 54 P. 244.

Where defendant's tunnels cut the underground channels of springs owned by others, defendants could only acquire a right in such water flowing from the tunnels into the stream as was developed by percolation, and the plaintiff retains its original rights. This, too, although the underground channels of the springs are not traceable. (Distinguished in same case, 25 U. 96; 69 P. 719.)

Herriman Irr. Co. v. Butterfield M. Co., 19 U. 453; 57 P. 537.

Water standing in land beneath the surface, or passing through it by filtration, percolation, chemical attraction, or in undefined and unknown streams, belongs to the land; nevertheless, if it appears that a tunnel driven by one on his own land has partly diverted the water of springs owned by others, the court will make an adjustment of the water flowing from the tunnel. (Distinguishing same case, 19 U. 453; 57 P. 537.)

Herriman Irr. Co. v. Keel, 25 U. 96; 69 P. 719.

Crescent M. Co. v. Silver King M. Co., 17 U. 444; 54 P. 244.

Water intermingling with the ground or flowing through it by filtration or percolation, or by chemical attraction, is but a component part of the earth, has no characteristic of ownership distinct from the land itself, and the rules of law applicable to appropriation of surface waters do not apply thereto.

Willow Cr. Irr. Co. v. Michaelson, 21 U. 248; 60 P. 943.

Where the waters of a stream have all been appropriated, another cannot gain any rights therein by attempting to appropriate and divert the seepage.

Howcroft v. Union Irr. Co., 25 U. 311; 71 P. 487.

Known underground streams, flowing in well defined channels, are subject to appropriation, and cannot thereafter be diverted by the wrongful act of another.

Whitmore v. Utah F. Co., 26 U. 488; 73 P. 764.

Chandler v. Utah Copper Co., 43 U. 479; 135 P. 108.

A spring belongs to the owner of the land, where no prior adverse rights has been acquired.

Willow Cr. Irr. Co. v. Michaelson, 21 U. 248; 60 P. 943.

One who claims and uses the water of a spring on public land is entitled thereto.

Orient M. Co. v. Freckleton, 27 U. 125; 74 P. 652.

Where a party goes upon a stream at or near its source and intercepts a subterannean flow or body of water, and diverts a substantial flow therefrom which he claims to be developed water, and where it is shown that the water is drawn from the same underground flow or body of water that wholly or partially feeds and supplies springs from which a prior appropriator obtains water, the subsequent appropriator claiming developed water must show by clear, positive, and convincing evidence that such water is developed water, and he must bear any expense of measurement and testing of such water.

Mountain Lake M. Co. v. Midway Irr. Co., 47 U. 346; 149 P. 929.

Bastian v. Nebeker, 49 U. 330; 163 P. 1092.

DECREE MUST BE CERTAIN:

A decree adjudging that the defendant should have "one good irrigation stream" is void for uncertainty.

Smith v. Phillips, 6 U. 376; 23 P. 932.

A decree allowing plaintiff enough "water to irrigate sixty acres of land" was affirmed; the court being of opinion that the amount could be approximated.

Holman v. Pleasant Grove, 8 U. 78; 30 P. 72.

But a finding that defendant was entitled to sufficient "water to irrigate thirty-one acres," and to a "small amount of water for culinary and domestic purposes," was ordered modified as uncertain, the court saying that the decree should state the amount of water in miner inches, or fractional parts of the stream in question.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 15 U. 374; 49 P. 301.

A decree adjudging that defendants were the owners of sufficient water from a stream to fill their ditch of specified dimensions, without specifying the grade or fall of the ditch or the velocity of the water flowing therein, or even the amount of land irrigated thereby, was void for uncertainty.

Sharp v. Whitmore, 50 U. —; 168 P. 273.

In every judgment granting the right to the use of water it inheres that any one may use some of it for culinary or domestic purposes at any time when the claimant does not use or require all of it for useful purposes.

Mountain Lake M. Co. v. Midway Irr. Co., 47 U. 371; 154 P. 584.

3451. (1288x6.) Application for unappropriated water. Any person, corporation, or association, to hereafter acquire the right to the use of any public water in the state of Utah, shall, before commencing the construction, enlargement, or extension of any ditch, canal, or other distributing works, or performing similar work tending to acquire the said right or appropriation, make an application in writing to the state engineer. Such application shall be upon a blank to be furnished by the state engineer, and shall set forth the name and postoffice address of the person, corporation, or association making the application; the nature of the proposed use for which the appropriation is intended; the quantity of water in acre feet or the flow of water in second feet to be used, and the time during which it is to be used each year; the name of the stream or other source from which the water is to be diverted; the place on such stream or source where the water is to be diverted, and the nature of the diverting works; and the dimensions, grade, shape, and nature of the proposed diverting channel; and such other facts as will clearly define the full purpose of the proposed appropriation. If the proposed use is for irrigation, the application shall show, in addition to the above required facts, the legal subdivisions of land proposed to be irrigated, with the total area thereof, and the character of the soil. If the proposed use is for developing power, the application shall show, in addition to the above required facts, the number, size, and kind of water wheels to be employed; the head under which each wheel is to be operated;

the extent of the power to be produced and the purposes for which and the places where it is to be used; also, the point where the water is to be returned to the natural stream or source. If the proposed use is for mining, the application shall show, in addition to the above required facts, the name of the mine and the mining district in which it is situated, the nature of the mineral mined, and the place where the water is to be returned to the natural stream or source. The place of diversion and the place of return of the water shall be designated with reference to the United States land corners or mineral monuments, when either the point of diversion or the point of return shall be situated within six miles of the nearest United States land corner. The storage of water by means of a reservoir shall be regarded as a diversion, and the points of diversion in such case shall be deemed to include the point where the water is taken from the stream and the center of the impounding dam of the reservoir. The lands to be inundated by the reservoir shall be described as nearly as may be, and by government subdivisions if upon surveyed land, and the area of the surface thereof when the reservoir is filled shall be given.

R. S. '98, §§ 1268, 1269; '03, p. 98; '05, p. 155; '09, p. 84.

This section limits the jurisdiction of the state engineer to unappropriated waters only, so that he may not entertain proceedings or make any order respecting water rights already acquired and his certificate to an appropriator may not prejudice the rights of a prior appropriator.

Chandler et al. v. Utah Copper Co. et al., 43 U. 479; 135 P. 106.

An application is merely notice of intent to appropriate, and does not establish an appropriation.

Sowards v. Meagher, 37 U. 212; 108 P. 1113.

3452. (1288x7.) Action of engineer thereon. On receipt of said application, it shall be the duty of the state engineer to make an endorsement thereon of the date of its receipt, and to make a record of such receipt in a book kept in his office for that purpose. It shall be his duty to examine said application and ascertain if it sets forth all the above required facts, and if not, it shall be returned with the statement of correction, amendments, or changes required, within thirty days after its receipt, and sixty days shall be allowed for the refiling thereof. If refiled, corrected as required, within said time, the application shall, upon being accepted, take priority as of the date of its original filing, subject to compliance with the further requirements of the law and the regulations thereunder. Any corrected application filed after the time allowed shall be treated in all respects as an original application received on the date of its refiling. The date of the return of the application, with the reasons therefor shall be endorsed on the application and a record made thereof in a book kept for recording applications. Like entries shall be made of the date when corrected applications are received by the state engineer and of the date when rejected applications are returned to the applicant. Applications for a change of the point of diversion or place of use set forth in an approved application shall be treated as a corrected application within the meaning of this section, excepting that such change of an approved application shall not affect the priority of the original application; provided, that no change of the point of diversion or place of use set forth in an approved application shall operate to enlarge the time within which the construction work shall begin or be completed. '03, p. 98; '05, p. 156; '07, p. 248; am'd '09, p. 84.

3453. (1288x8.) Notice of application. If not corrected as required, no further proceedings shall be had on such applications, but when filed in compliance with this title, the state engineer shall at once, at the expense of the applicant, to be paid in advance, publish in some newspaper having a general circulation within the boundaries of the river system or water source from which said appropriation is to be made, a notice of the application showing by whom made; the quantity of water sought to be appropriated; the stream from which the appropriation is to be made, and at what point on the stream; the use for which it is to be appropriated and by what means; which notice shall be published at least once a week for thirty days. It is further provided that any change in the proposed point of diversion or place of use of the water from a stream shall be subject to the approval of the state engineer, under the provisions of § 3469.

Notice of suit to determine title on river system, § 3413.

3454. (1288x9.) Protest may be made. Any person, corporation, or association interested may, at any time within thirty days after the completion of the publication of said notice, file with the state engineer a written protest against the granting of said application, stating the reasons therefor, which shall be duly considered by said engineer, who shall approve or reject said application. '03, p. 99; '05, p. 157.

3455. (1288x10.) Applications filed and recorded. Action thereon. All applications which shall comply with the provisions of this title, and with the regulations of the state engineer's office, shall be filed and recorded in a suitable book kept for that purpose; and it shall be the duty of said engineer to approve all applications, where the proposed use will not impair the value of existing rights, or will not interfere with the more beneficial use of said water; provided, however, that an application for water made by a homesteader, desert entryman, or person in possession of land under a contract to purchase the same, such water to be used exclusively upon the land of such person, may be approved without reference to prior conflict; but the state engineer, upon information furnished by the state conservation commission, or upon his own investigations, or by information in his possession to the effect that there is reason to believe that applications to appropriate water from any stream or other source of water supply within the state will interfere with its more beneficial use for irrigation, domestic, culinary, stock, power, mining, or other purposes, it shall be his duty to withhold the approval or rejection of such application until he shall have investigated the matter. The cost of such inquiry shall be paid for by the person making application to appropriate water; provided such application is approved, and provided, further, that such charge shall not exceed $10 per day and expenses to be paid the state engineer or his deputy, and $5 per day and expenses for each assistant. When the state engineer is convinced that an application to appropriate water for a designated purpose is not for the most beneficial use, he shall file the application, together with a statement of his findings, in the district court in the county where the proposed appropriation is to be made. On the filing of such a statement, the district court in the county where the same is filed shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine the merits of the case, and instruct the state engineer to approve or reject such application. But where there is no unappropriated water in the proposed source of supply, or where the proposed use will conflict with prior applications or existing rights, it shall be the duty of the state engineer to reject such application. '03, p. 99; '05, p. 157; am'd '09, p. 84; '11, p. 143.

Mandamus does not lie to compel the engineer to grant the right to perfect the irrigation ditch of a third person so as to avoid waste of water by seepage and to permit the land owner to use the water saved. Tanner v. Beers — U. —; 165 P. 465.

3456. (1288x11.) Proceedings after action. The approval or rejection of an application shall be endorsed thereon and a record made of such endorsement in the state engineer's office. The application, so endorsed, shall be returned to the applicant. If approved, the applicant shall be authorized, on receipt thereof, to proceed with the construction of the necessary works and to take all steps required to apply the water to the use named in the application and to perfect the proposed appropriation. If the application is rejected, the applicant shall take no steps toward the prosecution of the proposed work or the diversion and use of the public water, so long as such rejection shall continue in force. '03, p. 99; '05, p. 157.

3457. (1288x12.) May require additional information. Before either approving or rejecting an application, the state engineer may require such additional information as will enable him to properly guard the public interests, and may require a statement of the following facts: In case of incorporated companies, he may require the submission of the articles of incorporation, the names and places of residence of its directors and officers, and the amount of its authorized and its paid-up capital. If the applicant is not an incorporated company, he may require a showing as to the name or names of the party or parties proposing to make the appropriation, and a showing of facts necessary to enable him to determine whether or not they have the financial ability to carry out the proposed work, and whether or not the said application has been made in good faith. '03, p. 99; '05, p. 157.

3458. (1288x13.) Time for beginning and completing work. In his endorsement of approval on any application, the state engineer shall require that actual construction work must begin within six months from the date of such approval; and shall state the time within which the construction shall be completed, not exceeding five years from the date of approval; and, in case the application is for irrigation, shall state the time within which water shall be applied to a beneficial use, not exceeding four years in addition thereto. Any applicant feeling himself aggrieved by the endorsements which the state engineer has made upon his application may appeal therefrom to the district court of the county in which the point of diversion of the proposed appropriation is situated. The construction of the works shall be diligently prosecuted to completion, and if one-fifth of the work is not completed within one-half the time allowed, as determined by the state engineer, he may accept and approve, as herein provided, an application for the use of all or any of the waters included in the application of the prior applicant, and the right to use such water under said prior application shall thereupon be forfeited; provided, that before a forfeiture shall be declared by the state engineer as provided herein, he shall give the applicant or his assigns sixty days' notice, by registered mail to his last recorded address, to appear on a date to be designated and show cause, if any he has, why his application shall not be declared forfeited in whole or in part, and on such date the said applicant or his assigns shall be permitted to produce any lawful evidence tending to show compliance on his part with the law. At such hearing the state engineer shall be authorized to hear and consider any and all competent evidence tending to show whether or not the said applicant or his assigns has or have complied with the law; and provided, further, that the state engineer shall allow an extension of time on request of the prior applicant equal to the time during which work was prevented by the operation of law, beyond the power of said applicant to avoid; provided, that the state engineer shall have power, for good cause shown, to extend the time for completion of construction or for application to a beneficial use, but in no case shall extensions of time be made that would place the date of proof of completion of construction and the proof of beneficial use more than fourteen years from the date of approval, except that the state engineer shall allow extensions of time during which work was prevented by the operation of law beyond the power of said applicant to avoid. R. S. '98, §§ 1270, 1271; '03, p. 100; '05, p. 157; '07, p. 249; am'd '09, p. 86; '11, p. 2.

The engineer may extend the time for the work even beyond the final limit fixed by the statute although the application therefor is made after the time fixed by him has expired. Pool v. Utah County Light & Pow. Co., 36 U. 508; 105 P. 289.

3459. (1288x14.) Aggrieved party may bring action. Any applicant or protestant who is dissatisfied with the action of the state engineer may bring an action in the district court of the county in which the point of diversion of the water proposed to be appropriated is situated, for the purpose of adjudicating the questions involved. Such action must be brought within sixty days of notice of the action of the state engineer, and, if not brought within that time, the engineer shall proceed in accordance with the action taken thereon by him. But if such action be brought within said time, notice thereof shall be filed with the state engineer, and thereafter he shall take no further action upon said application or protest until the questions involved are determined by the courts. Upon the determination of the case by the courts, the clerk of the district court in which the decree is filed shall immediately file a certified copy thereof with the state engineer, and thereupon he shall proceed in accordance with such decree. And it is further provided that in any case where a decision of the state engineer is involved, the individual, corporation, or association affected by such decision, shall have sixty days to appeal therefrom to the district court, counting from the date when notice of said decision is given to said individual, corporation, or association. If an appeal be taken, the individual, corporation, or association making such appeal shall immediately notify the state engineer thereof, and thereafter the state engineer shall take no further action in the case until the court has passed upon the questions involved. Immediately upon the issuance of the decree of the court in such case, a copy thereof shall be filed with the state engineer by the clerk of said court, and thereafter the state engineer shall proceed in accordance with such decree. If no appeal be taken within the time specified, the decision of the state engineer shall be final. Should no notification of appeal be filed with the state engineer as provided in this section, he shall proceed as if no appeal were taken.

3460. (1288x15.) Applicant to file proof and map of works upon completion. State engineer to approve. Sixty days before the date set for the completion of the works to divert the water sought to be appropriated, the state engineer shall notify the applicant by registered mail of the date when proof of completion of works shall be due. On or before the date set for completing the works to divert the water in accordance with his application therefor, the applicant shall make proof thereof, by filing in the state engineer's office, on blanks to be furnished by the state engineer, a statement descriptive of the work done. Said statement shall be sworn to by the applicant and by two disinterested witnesses, one of whom shall be a reputable hydraulic engineer, and shall be accompanied by a map, profile, and drawings, which shall be made on tracing linen, and shall show fully and correctly the location with reference to the United States land surveys; the nature and extent of the completed works; the natural stream or source from which and the place where the water is diverted; the place and manner of connecting with other works or streams; the ground and grade lines, the cross-sections and dimensions of the various forms of the diverting channel; the character of the materials moved and used in construction; the several appliances used to divert, measure, and regulate the water; the character of all structures which cross, support, or constitute the diverting channel or any part of it, and such other matter as will fully and correctly delineate the work done and conform to the general rules and regulations of the state engineer's office. The map, profile, and drawings shall be certified to under oath by the engineer who has made the same and by the applicant whose works they represent, said certificates to be substantially of such form as the state engineer shall by general rule prescribe. As soon as proof of completion of the works has been accepted and approved, the state engineer shall endorse such acceptance and approval upon the applicant's certificate of proof, which shall then be a record of the completion of the works to divert the water sought to be appropriated. Proof made subsequent to the date set for the completion of the works shall cause the postponement of the priority from the date of the original application to the date when the proof is made, and the applications subsequent in time shall have the benefit of such postponement of priority; provided, that in case of works constructed by the national government, the official plans, maps, and specifications approved by the proper officer of the reclamation service shall be accepted as a full compliance with the requirements of this section relating to maps, profiles, and drawings. Am'd '09, p. 86; '15, p. 117.

3461. (1288x16.) When appropriation is perfected, state engineer shall issue certificate. Sixty days before the date set for the application of the water to a beneficial use, the state engineer shall notify the applicant by registered mail when proof of application of the water to a beneficial use shall be due. Upon its being made to appear to the satisfaction of the state engineer that an appropriation has been perfected in accordance with the application therefor, and that the water applied for has been put to a beneficial use, it shall be the duty of the state engineer to issue a certificate, in duplicate, to the party making the same, setting forth the name and post-office address of the person, corporation, or association by whom the water is to be used; the quantity of water in acre-feet or the flow of water in second-feet; the purpose for which the water is to be used; the time during which the water is to be used each year; the name of the stream or source from which the water is to be diverted; the place on the stream or source where the water is to be diverted; the date of the appropriation; and such other matter as will fully and completely define the extent and conditions of actual application of the water to a beneficial use; in no manner, however, shall the certificate extend the rights described in the application, as further defined by the certificate of completion. Failure to make proof of beneficial use of the water on or before the date set therefor shall cause the postponement of the priority from the date fixed theretofore to the date when the proof of beneficial use of the water is made, and application subsequent in time shall have the benefit of such postponement of priority. One copy of said certificate shall be filed in the office of the state engineer, and the other copy shall be delivered to the appropriator and shall, within thirty days, be recorded by him in the office of the county recorder of the county where the water is diverted from the natural stream or source. The certificate so issued and filed shall be prima facie evidence of the appropriator's right to the use of the water in the quantity, for the purpose, and during the time mentioned therein, and shall be evidence of such right. The provisions of this section shall refer to all certificates issued by the state engineer. Am'd '09, p. 86; '15, p. 117.

Where there was evidence to support the findings of an actual appropriation, diversion, and use of waters, the question whether the state engineer's certificate of appropriation was conclusive, or only prima facie, evidence was immaterial. New Era Irr. Co. v. Warren Irr. Co., 48 U. 544; 160 P. 1195.

3462. (1288x17.) Priority. The priority number of an appropriation shall be determined by the date of receiving the written application in the state engineer's office, except as provided in §§ 3460, 3461. Rights claimed under applications for the appropriation of water may be transferred or assigned by instruments in writing. Such instruments, when acknowledged or proven and certified in the manner provided by law for the acknowledgment or proving of conveyances of real estate, may be filed and recorded in the office of the state engineer, and shall, from the time of filing the same for record in said office, impart notice to all persons of the contents thereof. For recording any such instrument the state engineer shall collect the same fees as are allowed by law to county recorders for like service, in addition to the fee for filing. '03, p. 101; '05, p. 159; am'd '09, p. 90.

CHAPTER 4.

GENERAL PROVISIONS CONCERNING WATER.

3463. (1288x18.) Waters public property. The water of all streams and other sources in this state whether flowing above or under the ground, in known or defined channels, is hereby declared to be the property of the public, subject to all existing rights to the use thereof. '03, p. 101; '05, p. 159.

Right to unappropriated waters acquired by appropriation and use, § 3450 and note. Percolating waters, note to § 3450.

3464. (1288x19.) Standard of measurement. The standard unit of measurement of the flow of water shall be the discharge of one cubic foot per second of time, which shall be known as a second foot; and the standard unit of measurement of the volume of water shall be the acre foot, being the amount of water upon an acre covered one foot deep, equivalent to 43,560 cubic feet. R. S. '98, §§ 1282, 1283; '01, p. 143; '03, p. 101; '05, p. 160.

3465. (1288x20.) Beneficial use. Beneficial use shall be the basis, the measure, and the limit of all rights to the use of water in this state. R. S. '98, § 1262; '03, p. 101; '05, p. 160.

Decisions on beneficial use, note to § 3450.

The rights of prior appropriators of the waters of a lake as against subsequent applicants to appropriate water therefrom depend, not on how much the prior appropriators required, but on the amount they have applied to an original and beneficial purpose within a reasonable time after their appropriation and prior to the application of defendants for an appropriation.

Salt Lake City et al. v. Gardner et al., 39 U. 30; 114 P. 147.

No land owner is entitled to more water from a ditch for any specific purpose than is reasonably necessary to supply his needs for that purpose, regardless of the quantity that has been used and the length of use.

Big Cottonwood T. D. Co. v. Shurtliff, — U. —; 164 P. 856.

3466. (1288x21.) Eminent domain. The use of water for beneficial purposes, as provided in this title, is hereby declared to be a public use. Any person, corporation, or association shall have a right of way across and upon public, private, and corporate lands, or other right of way, for the construction, maintenance, repair, and use of all necessary reservoirs, dams, water gates, canals, ditches, flumes, tunnels, or other means of securing, storing, and conveying water for irrigation or for any necessary public use, or for drainage, upon payment of just compensation therefor, but such right of way shall in all cases be exercised in a manner not to unnecessarily impair the practical use of any other right of way, highway, or public or private road, nor to unnecessarily injure any public or private property. Such right may be acquired in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public use. R. S. '98, § 1277; '03, p. 103; '05, p. 160.

Eminent domain generally, §§ 7330-7350.

Railroads may take water under power of eminent domain, for certain purposes, § 1228.

Cities and towns may take water under power of eminent domain, § 570x2.

Right of way for ditches, etc., over state lands, § 5616.

Cited in Fuller et al. v. Sharp et al., 33 U. 431; 94 P. 813.

The taking of property for the purpose of obtaining water for the irrigation of a farm and to render the same productive is a taking for a public use, and hence the owner of the farm may condemn a right of way through another's ditch for the purpose of carrying water to his land for irrigation.

Nash v. Clark, 27 U. 158; 75 P. 371; affirmed 198 U. S. 361.

Ditch on public land. Persons who build an irrigation ditch on the public lands of the United States become the owners thereof, and of the right to use the water first appropriated thereby, but when such ditch is enlarged by others, the original owners not objecting, the parties so enlarging the ditch become owners therein and in the water appropriated thereby, without any conveyance from the original owners.

Lehi Irr. Co. v. Moyle, 4 U. 327; 9 P. 867.

No title against the government in a person taking possession of public land for the purpose of procuring water or digging ditches for canals, without the performance of any work thereon.

Bear River Irr. Co. v. Garland, 164 U. S. 1; affirming 9 U. 350; 34 P. 368.

License to construct pipe line not revocable. A parol license to enter on the land of the owner to construct a pipe line to carry water for purposes of irrigation operates as an irrevocable grant after entry and the construction of the pipe line at considerable expense, and after commencing the use of the water for purposes of irrigation, and the rights acquired under the grant will be protected in equity.

Maple Orchard Co. v. Marshall, 27 U. 215; 75 P. 369.

3467. (1288x22.) Id. Right to enlarge existing canal. When any person, corporation, or association desires to convey water for irrigation or for any other beneficial purpose, and there is a canal or ditch already constructed that can be enlarged to convey the required quantity of water, then such person, corporation, or association, or the owner or owners of the land through which a new canal or ditch would have to be constructed to convey the quantity of water necessary, shall have the right to enlarge said canal or ditch already constructed, by compensating the owner of the canal or ditch to be enlarged, for the damage, if any, caused by said enlargement; provided, that said enlargement shall be done at any time from the 1st day of October to the 1st day of March, or at any other time that may be agreed upon with the owner of said canal or ditch. R. S. '98, § 1278; '03, p.103; '05, p. 160.

Right to enlarge existing canal, note to § 3466.

For the purpose of conveying water from a river for the use of its inhabitants, a city may enlarge a canal owned by an irrigation company; such a use by the city being a public one; the owner of the canal may be compensated for any damage caused by the enlargement, the measure of damages therefor being the decrease in value of the canal for canal purposes caused by the enlargement, and by the joint use.

S. L. City v. East Jordan Irr. Co., 40 U. 126; 121 P. 592.

Tanner v. Provo Bench Canal & Irr. Co., 40 U. 105; 121 P. 584.

It is no objection to the maintenance of the proceeding under this section that the plaintiff's right is a right to divert water at a point above the point of diversion of defendant's canals, nor that the plaintiff has not an actual or subsisting right to the amount of water which he seeks to convey through such canal where he has some water and has made an application to appropriate other unappropriated water, nor that his application for unappropriated water was approved by himself in his official capacity as state engineer.

Tanner v. Provo Bench Canal & Irr. Co., 40 U. 105; 121 P. 584.

3468. (1288x23.) Water reverts upon abandonment. When the appropriator or his successor in interest abandons or ceases to use water for a period of seven years, the right ceases, and thereupon such water reverts to the public, and may again be appropriated, as provided in this title; but questions of abandonment shall be questions of fact, and shall be determined as are other questions of fact. R. S. '98, § 1262; '03, p. 101; '05, p. 160.

Decisions on adverse user, note to § 3450.

Person loses right to ditch and easement for same by non-user for many years.

Staling v. Ferrin, 7 U. 477; 27 P. 686

Owner of ditch is estopped from denying right of another who enlarges ditch and procures land expecting to use same.

Lehi Irr. Co. v. Moyle, 4 U. 327; 9 P. 867.

Morrison v. Winn, 17 U. 484; 54 P. 761.

Water is not deemed to be abandoned by the mere fact that the owner does not make any use of it for a number of years and permits it to flow onto the land of another who does use it.

Gill v. Malan, 29 U. 431; 82 P. 471.

Promontory R. Co. v. Argile, 28 U. 398; 79 P. 47.

In order to constitute an abandonment of water right, there must be an intent to abandon, coupled with some act of relinquishment, by which the intent is carried out.

Promontory R. Co. v. Argile, 28 U. 398; 79 P. 47.

Becker v. Marble Cr. Irr. Co., 15 U. 225; 49 P. 892, 1119.

Non-user for seven years does not constitute abandonment.

Id.

Where one who has developed water incidentally, in digging a tunnel on his own land, turns it into a stream, he does not thereby abandon it, but may take it out again lower down the natural stream, with a proper allowance for seepage and evaporation.

Herriman Irr. Co. v. Keel, 25 U. 96; 69 P. 719.

3469. (1288x24.) Place of diversion may be changed. Vested rights protected. Any person, corporation, or association entitled to the use of water may change the place of diversion, and may use the water for other purposes than those for which it was originally appropriated, but no such change shall be made, if it impairs any vested right, without just compensation; no change of point of diversion or purpose of use shall be made except on the approval of an application of the owner by the state engineer. Before the approval of an application the state engineer must, at the expense of the applicant, to be paid in advance, give notice thereof by publication in some newspaper having general circulation within the boundaries of the river system or water source in which the point of diversion of the water is located; such notice shall give the name of the applicant, the quantity of water involved, the stream or source from which the appropriation has been made, the point on the stream or source where the water is diverted, the point to which it is proposed to change the diversion of the water; the place, purpose, and extent of present use, and the place, purpose, and extent of the proposed use. Said notice shall be published at least once a week for a period of thirty days. Any person, corporation, or association interested may, at any time within thirty days after the completion of the publication of said notice, file with the state engineer a protest against the granting of said application for change of point of diversion or purpose of use, stating the reasons therefor, which shall be duly considered by the state engineer, who shall approve or reject said application for change of point of diversion or purpose of use. Such application shall not be rejected solely for the reason that such change would impair vested rights of others, but the application, if otherwise proper, may be approved conditionally upon such conflicting rights being acquired. The determination of the state engineer shall be final unless appeal is taken to the district court of the county in which the point of the diversion of water is situated, within sixty days of notice of action of the state engineer. Any person holding an approved application for the appropriation of water may change the point of diversion or place of use under proceedings taken substantially as above set forth.

Generally, corporations forbidden to exchange stock, § 8368, exception in favor of railroad companies, § 1228.

Place of diversion may be changed, if it does not interfere with other vested rights.

Hague v. Nephi Irr. Co., 16 U. 421; 52 P. 765.

A decree conferring upon a power company a secondary use of the water of a river so long as the former appropriator "shall continue to divert its water at its present point of diversion, and to use the same at its present place of use," is effective, though such former appropriator has the right to change its place of diversion. (On rehearing, 25 U. 456; 71 P. 1069.)

A land owner may not appropriate water from a ditch for one purpose and then apply it or any part of it to another purpose.
Big Cottonwood T. D. Co. v. Shurtliff, 49 U. 569; 164 P. 856.

3470. (1288x25.) Water may be commingled and recovered. Any appropriated water may be turned into the channel of any natural stream, or into a reservoir constructed across the bed of any natural stream, and commingled with its waters and then be taken out, either above or below the point where emptied into the channel, but in so doing the original water in such stream or reservoir must not be diminished in quantity or deteriorated in quality. R. S. '98, § 1264; '03, p. 102; '05, p. 161; am'd '11, p. 60.

Where one who has developed water incidentally, in digging a tunnel on his own land, turns it into a stream, he does not thereby abandon it, but may take it out again lower down the natural stream, with a proper allowance for seepage and evaporation.

Where one turns water into a stream from another source, he may withdraw from the stream the amount of water which he has turned in.
Spanish Fork City v. Spanish Fork East Bench Irr. Co., 46 U. 486; 151 P. 46.

3471. (1288x26.) Headgates. Every person, corporation, or association using water in this state shall construct and maintain a substantial headgate at the point where the water is diverted, and a measuring device, as near the head of the diverting channel as is practicable, for the purpose of regulating and measuring the quantity of water that may be diverted into the channel from the stream or other source. Said headgate and measuring device shall be of such pattern as the state engineer shall approve, and shall be constructed within thirty days after request from him. Any person, corporation, or association failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and the state engineer is hereby authorized to furnish plans and bills of material for such devices, at the expense of the state, when in his judgment the use of such devices will be encouraged thereby. Failure to construct, duty of commission, § 3484.

3472. (1288x27.) Priority among appropriators. Appropriators shall have priority among themselves according to the dates of their respective appropriations, so that each appropriator shall be entitled to receive the whole supply to which his certificate entitles him before any subsequent appropriator shall have any right; provided, that whenever the natural flow of any stream shall have receded in volume in the annual low water stage, then the rights of all users to such flow at such stage shall be deemed to be equal as to priority, and the water, when at or below such stage, shall be apportioned pro rata among said users. But in times of scarcity, while priority of appropriation shall give the better rights as between those using water for the same purpose, the use for domestic purposes shall have preference over use for all other purposes, and use for agricultural purposes shall have preference over use for any other purpose except domestic use.

3473. (1288x28.) Stock may be taken in other irrigation companies. Any irrigation or reservoir company, incorporated and existing under the laws of this state, may purchase or subscribe for the capital stock of any other similar corporation which, at the time of such purchase or subscription, shall be or is about to be incorporated; provided, that such purchase or subscription shall be made only when permitted by the original articles of incorporation or by amendment thereto proposed and adopted according to law, and such corporations are hereby permitted and authorized to amend their articles of incorporation so as to authorize such purchase or subscription. R. S. '98, § 1276; '03, p. 102; '05, p. 162.

Generally, corporations forbidden to exchange stock, § 8368; exception in favor of railroad companies, § 1228.

3474. (1288x29.) Ditches must be kept in repair to prevent damage.

The owner or owners of any ditch, canal, flume, or other water course shall maintain the same in repair, so as to prevent waste of water or damage to the property of others. Such persons are required, by bridge or otherwise, to keep such ditch, canal, flume, or other water course in good repair where the same crosses any public road or highway, so as to prevent obstruction to travel, or damage, or overflow to such public road or highway.

3475. (1288x30.) Each person or corporation liable for proportionate expense. When two or more persons, companies, or corporations are associated by agreement or otherwise, in the use of any dam, canal, reservoir, ditch, flume, or other means of conserving or conveying water for the irrigation of land, or for other purposes, each of them shall be liable to the other for the reasonable expense of maintaining, operating, and controlling the same, in proportion to the share in the use or ownership of the water to which he is entitled. If any person, company, or corporation refuses or neglects to pay his proportion of such expense, after five days' notice in writing demanding such payment, he shall be liable therefor in an action for contribution; provided, that in any company or corporation owning or controlling more than one canal or ditch, for the purpose of improving or keeping the same in repair, the users of water shall not be required to pay any expenses or assessments in any canal or ditch, other than the one in which they are directly interested. R. S. '98, § 1280; '03, p. 103; '05, p. 162.

3476. (1288x31.) Water rights appurtenant to land under government works. All water hereafter appropriated for irrigation purposes from works constructed or controlled by the United States shall be appurtenant to specified lands owned or occupied by the persons claiming the right to use the water, so long as the water is used beneficially thereon; provided, that if for any reason it should at any time become impracticable to use water beneficially or economically for the irrigation of any land to which the right of the same is appurtenant, said right may be severed from said land, and simultaneously transferred, and become appurtenant to other land, without losing priority of right theretofore established, if such change can be made without detriment to existing rights; and in case of such change, the owner of such water right shall execute and acknowledge a proper instrument of transfer describing therein the land from and to which such water is transferred, which instrument shall be recorded in the county recorder's office of the county in which the land is situated. '05, p. 162.

3477. (1288x32.) Rights to water pass with land. Exceptions. A right to the use of water appurtenant to the land shall pass to the grantee of such land, and, in cases where such right has been exercised in irrigating different parcels of land at different times, such right shall pass to the grantee of any parcel of land on which such right was exercised next preceding the time of the execution of any conveyance thereof; subject however, in all cases to payment by the grantee of any such conveyance of all amounts unpaid on any assessment then due upon any such right; provided, that any such right to the use of water, or any part thereof, may be reserved by the grantor in any such conveyance, by making such reservation in express terms inserted in such conveyance, or may be separately conveyed.

3479. (1288x34.) Id. Deeds must be recorded. Every deed of water right within this state hereafter made, which shall not be recorded as provided in this title, shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser in good faith, and for a valuable consideration, of the same water right, or any portion thereof, where his own deed shall be first duly recorded.

3480. (1288x35.) Penalty. Any person, corporation, or association who shall in any way interfere with, injure, destroy, or remove any dam, headgate, weir, or other appliance for the diversion, apportionment, or measurement of water, or who shall interfere with any of the persons authorized by this title to apportion water, while in the discharge of their duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall also be liable in damages to any person injured by such unlawful act. '03, p. 104; '05, p. 163.

3481. (1288x36.) Obstructions to right of way forbidden. Whenever any person, corporation, or association has the right of way for canals or other water courses, it shall be unlawful for any person to place or maintain in place any obstruction, by fence or otherwise, along or across such canals or water courses, without providing gates sufficient for the passage of the owners of such canals or water courses or their agents. Any person, corporation, or association violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. R. S. '98, § 1286; '03, p. 104; '05, p. 163.

3482. (1288x37.) Legal advisers to state engineer. In all matters requiring legal advice in the performance of his duties, and the prosecution or defense of any action growing out of the performance of his duties, the attorney-general of the state, and the district attorney of the district in which any legal question arises, shall be the legal advisers of the state engineer, and they are hereby required to perform any and all legal services required of them by him, without other compensation than their salaries now or hereafter fixed by law. '03, p. 105; '05, p. 164.

3483. (1288x38.) Assistants and equipment. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this title, the state engineer shall have power to employ all necessary assistants, purchase all necessary equipment, and do all other necessary things, the cost of which shall be paid by the state, upon presentation to the state auditor of monthly statements, certified by the state engineer and approved by the state board of examiners; provided, that no expense shall be incurred by the state engineer in the performance of his duties which will exceed the amount appropriated for that purpose.

'01, p. 142; '03, p. 105; '05, p. 165.

3484. (1288x39.) Fees of referee and stenographer. The fees of referees and stenographers shall be fixed by the court, and, together with any other expenses not herein provided for that may be incurred in carrying out the provisions of this title, shall be paid out of the state treasury, upon certificates from the proper district judge to the state auditor of the amount due each person for such service. '03, p. 105; '05, p. 165.

Fees of referee generally, § 6835; of stenographer, § 2537.

3485. (1288x40.) Who may be made parties to actions. Damages. Joint ownership. In any action hereafter commenced for the protection of rights acquired to water under the laws of this state, the plaintiff may make any or all persons who have diverted water from the same stream or source parties to such action, and the court may in one judgment settle the relative priorities and rights of all the parties to such action. When damages are claimed for the wrongful diversion of water in any such action, the same may be assessed and apportioned by the jury in their verdict, or by a court if the case be tried without a jury, and judgment thereon may be entered for or against one or more of several plaintiffs, or for or against one or more of several defendants, and may determine the ultimate rights of the parties between themselves. In any action concerning joint water rights, or joint rights in water ditches, unless partition of the same is asked by the parties to the action, the court shall hear and determine such controversy as if the same were several as well as joint.

Deseret Irr. Co. v. McIntyre, 16 U. 398; 52 P. 628.

3486. (1288x41.) Effect of certain repeal. The repeal by the revised statutes of §§ 2403-2427, both inclusive, of the compiled laws of Utah, 1888, shall not be construed to affect the existence of any district or company organized under the aforesaid sections; but any such company or district shall, notwithstanding such repeal, continue in existence with all the rights, privileges, and limitations heretofore conferred or imposed upon it by law, until disincorporated or dissolved according to law. In any case in which an irrigation company or district shall have a right of action against a delinquent member of such company or district for the non-payment of taxes voted according to law, the board of directors thereof may proceed to sell the interest of such member in the canals or ditches of such company or district and his right to the use of the water flowing therein.

R. S. '98, § 1287; '03, p. 106; '05, p. 165.

Notwithstanding the repeal by revised statutes of the provisions of an act of March 13, 1884, p. 127, in respect to irrigation districts, such provisions continue in force by virtue of chap. 52, § 27, laws 1897, as to all irrigation districts organized by virtue of such statute and prior to the repeal.

Harris v. Tarbet, 19 U. 328; 57 P. 33.

3487. (1288x42.) Dissolution of irrigation districts. Whenever a petition is presented to the board of trustees of any irrigation company or district organized under §§ 2403-2427, C. L. U. 1888, signed by one-fourth of the landholders in the district, asking for the abandonment of further operations by the company or district, the board of trustees thereof shall call a special meeting, at which the question of such abandonment shall be submitted. Notice of the time and place and subject of such meeting shall be given by the board of trustees of the district at least ten days previous thereto, by advertising at least three times in some newspaper having general circulation in the district, or by posting notices in three public places therein. If three-fifths of the landholders of the district voting at such election shall vote for such abandonment, it shall be the duty of the board of trustees to petition the district court of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of the district are situated for the winding up of the affairs of such company or district; and thereafter proceedings shall be had which shall conform as nearly as may be with the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution of corporations. R. S. '98, § 1288; '03, p. 71; '05, p. 166.

Voluntary dissolution of corporations, §§ 7418-7424.

3488. (1288x43.) "Received" and "filed" defined. Whenever the word "received" is used in this title, with reference to any paper deposited in the office of state engineer, it shall be deemed to mean the date when such paper was first received at the state engineer's office; and whenever the term "filed" is used in such reference, it shall be deemed to mean the date when such paper was completed and filed in said office. '05, p. 166.

3489. (1288x44.) Repeal. Chap. 100 of the laws of Utah, 1903, and all other laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this title, are hereby repealed; but such repeal shall not affect any vested rights, and any person, corporation, or association who may have heretofore filed notice of appropriation of water, or initiated any right under the provisions of said law, or any other law heretofore in force in this state, may complete and perfect such appropriation or right in the same manner and with like effect as if this repeal had not been made; and such right may be perfected in accordance with the provisions of the law under which the right was initiated or under the provisions of this title; nor shall such repeal prevent the water commissioners appointed under the act of 1901 from performing the duties therein prescribed, until they are superseded by the appointment of division superintendents and district supervisors as provided in this title, and, if necessary, other water commissioners may be appointed in the manner provided in said title, to serve until they are superseded, as provided herein. '05, p. 166.

CHAPTER 5.

IRRIGATION DISTRICTS.

('09, p. 144.)

3501. Irrigation districts. In the interest of conserving and putting to beneficial use the public waters of the state, and preventing undue waste thereof, the governor of the state of Utah, upon the recommendation of the state engineer, or fifty or a majority of the owners of lands requiring water in any district, may propose the organization of an irrigation district under the provisions of this chapter, and when so organized such district shall have the powers conferred or that may hereafter be conferred by law upon irrigation districts; provided, that where ditches, canals, or reservoirs have been constructed before the passage of this chapter, such ditches, canals, reservoirs, and franchises, and the lands fully watered thereby, shall be exempt from the operation of this law, except such district shall be formed to purchase, acquire, lease, or rent such ditches, canals, reservoirs, and their franchises, or unless such district shall be formed to make contract with the United States under any federal law; provided, further, that resident entrymen upon public lands of the United States, and purchasers of state lands, within the proposed district shall be deemed to be the owners of lands within the district for the purpose of becoming petitioners for the organization of such irrigation district, and shall share all the privileges and obligations of private land owners within the district, entrymen upon the public lands of the United States to be subject to the terms of the act of Congress approved August 11, 1916, entitled, "An act to promote reclamation of arid lands." Am'd '17, p. 77.

This act is not invalid as depriving one of property without due process of law, since any land owner has opportunity to be heard if he objects to inclusion of his land within a proposed district; property taken hereunder is for public and not private use, and the assessments are based on benefits accruing to the land; owner of land within an irrigation district may seek redress in the court from an unjust assessment, and raise the issue whether the land is unjustly assessed or burdened to maintain an irrigation system which does not benefit it.

Lundberg v. Green River Irrig. Co., 40 U. 83; 119 P. 1039.

The act does not contemplate taking property without compensation.

Ferry v. Corinne Drainage Dist., 48 U. 1; 156 P. 921.

Moody v. Millard County Drainage Dist., 48 U. 11; 156 P. 924.

Whether the land is exempt from special tax is a question of mixed law and fact, and the court must find the facts and make conclusions of law thereon.

Horn v. Shaffer, 47 U. 55; 151 P. 555.

An irrigation district, when not questioned by quo warranto proceedings within one year after its organization, is deemed a legal district, but an owner may sue to enjoin collection of a special tax assessed by the district on the theory that same is exempt under § 3501.

Id.

3502. Districts established on petition by land owners or by governor. Duties of county commissioners and state engineer. For the purpose of establishing an irrigation district as provided by this chapter, a petition shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county which embraces the largest acreage of the proposed district; said petition shall state that it is the purpose of the petitioners to organize an irrigation district under the provisions of this chapter, and shall state the proposed means of water supply, the name proposed for such district, and shall be accompanied by a plat of the lands to be included in the proposed district; the petition shall pray the board to request that a water survey and allotment of water for the lands within the proposed district be made, that the land to be included in the proposed district be determined, listed with water allotment, and platted, and that the question of final organization of the same be submitted to the vote of the land owners within the proposed district; the petition shall be signed by the governor, or, if proposed by land owners, by fifty or a majority of land owners within the proposed district. If the petition is presented by land owners, it must be accompanied by a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by said board of county commissioners, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, exclusive of the cost of water survey, and conditioned for the payment of all such costs incurred in said proceeding in case said organization shall not be effected; no bond need accompany a petition by the governor. The cost of the water survey, and all other costs incurred upon petition filed by the governor, shall, if organization of the district be not effected, be borne one-half by the county or counties in which the proposed district is situate, in proportion to the acreage, and one-half by the state of Utah; but in case organization of the district is effected all such costs and expenses, including cost of the water survey, shall be repaid by said district. Upon the filing of such petition with the board of county commissioners, they shall send a certified copy of same to the state engineer of the state of Utah with a request that the water survey and allotment be made. Thereupon it shall be the duty of the state engineer to cause to be made a water survey of all lands within the district for the purpose of alloting to the said lands the water or additional water supply necessary and desired therefor; each forty-acre tract or smaller tracts in separate ownership shall be separately surveyed and the allotment made therefor. On completion of said survey and allotment, the state engineer shall file, with the board of county commissioners with which the petition for the said district is filed, his return of survey and report of allotment. Upon receipt of the report and return from the state engineer, the board of county commissioners shall cause to be published for at least two weeks prior to the date set for the hearing, in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county, or if there be no such paper published in the county, then in some newspaper having general circulation in the county, a notice that petition for formation of an irrigation district has been filed, water survey and allotment made, and setting a day for the hearing of applications for exclusion and inclusion of lands, and revision of allotments. Am'd '17, p. 78.

3503. Hearing on petition. Determination of land and water allotments. Election. When a petition has been filed, water survey and allotment made, and notice of hearing published as required by this chapter, the commissioners shall proceed to determine, list, and plat the lands to be included in said proposed district, from the petition, and from such applications for the exclusion of lands therefrom and the inclusion of lands therein as may be made in accordance with the intent of this chapter. They may adjourn such examination from time to time not exceeding two months in all, and shall, by final order duly entered, determine and plat the lands included in such proposed district, and list the lands included therein with the allotment of water made; provided, that said board shall not so alter the included lands, shown by the plat accompanying the petition, as to change the objects of said petition, or so as to exempt from the operation of this chapter any lands, requiring water, shown on the plat as included within the petition and susceptible of irrigation by the same system of waterworks applicable to other lands in such proposed district; nor shall any land which will not in the judgment of the board be benefited by such proposed system be included in such district if the owner thereof shall make application at such hearing to withdraw the same; provided, also, that lands not included in said proposed district, as shown on the plat accompanying the petition, may, upon application of the owner or owners, be included in such district upon such hearing, and such included lands shall be listed with such allotment of water as the board, using the allotment made by the state engineer for similar lands as a basis, may make. When the lands included in the proposed district shall have been determined, listed, and platted as aforesaid, the county commissioners shall forthwith make an order determining, listing, and platting said lands, and designating the name of such proposed district, and shall, by further order duly entered upon the record, call an election of the land owners of said district to be held for the purpose of determining whether such district shall be organized under the provisions of this chapter, and by such order shall submit the names of one or more persons from each of the three divisions of said district as hereinafter provided to be voted for as directors therein, and for the purpose of said election shall divide said district into three divisions as nearly equal in voting strength as may be practicable, and shall provide that a land owner of each of said three divisions shall be elected a member of the board of directors of said district by the land owners of the whole district. Each of said divisions shall constitute an election precinct, and three judges shall be appointed for each of such precincts, one of whom shall act as clerk of said election; provided, that in the hearing of any such petition the board of county commissioners shall disregard any informality therein, and in case they deny the same or dismiss it for any reason on account of the provisions of this chapter not having been complied with, which are the only reasons upon which they shall have a right to refuse or dismiss the same, they shall state their reasons in writing therefor in detail, which shall be entered upon their records, and in case these reasons are not well founded, a writ of mandamus shall, upon proper application therefor, issue out of the district court of said county, compelling them to act in compliance with this chapter, which writ shall be heard within twenty days from the date of its issuance, and which twenty days shall be excluded from the two months after return of survey by the state engineer given the commissioners herein to act upon said petition. The officers of such district shall consist of three directors, a secretary, and a treasurer. Am'd '17, p. 79.

3504. Notice of election. Who entitled to vote. Ballots. The board of county commissioners shall thereupon cause a notice embodying said orders in substance, signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the clerk of said board, to be issued, given, and published, giving public notice of said election, the time and place thereof, and the matters submitted to the vote of the land owners; said notice and order shall be published once a week for at least three weeks prior to such election in a newspaper of general circulation in said county, and if any portion of such proposed district lies within any other county, or counties, then such order and notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within each of said counties. At all elections held under the provisions of this chapter, all persons shall be entitled to vote who are owners of agricultural lands within the district to which water has been allotted; provided, that corporations owning lands within the district shall be considered persons within the meaning of this section. Land owners not residing within the district shall be entitled to vote only in the division of such district wherein their lands, or a major portion thereof, are located; and any individual entitled to vote as aforesaid shall also be eligible to election as a director in and for the division in such district in which the major portion of his lands are located. The ballots to be used and cast at such election for the formation of such district, shall be substantially as follows:

"Irrigation district—yes, ... (name)..... acre feet," or

"Irrigation district—no..... (name)..... acre feet,"

Or words equivalent thereto, and shall also contain the names of the persons to be voted for as members of the board of directors of said district; each land owner may vote for three directors, one for each division, and shall indicate his vote by placing a marginal cross upon the ballot for or against any question submitted or name voted upon and opposite thereto at an election held under this chapter; provided, that at all elections each elector, as provided herein, shall be entitled to cast one vote for each acre foot of water or fraction thereof allotted to the land owned by such elector, and shall sign the ballot and indicate along with his or her name the number of acre feet allotted to the lands owned by the elector casting the ballot.

3505. Canvass of votes. Result declared. Copy of order, list, and plat to be filed. The said board of county commissioners shall meet on the second Monday next succeeding such election and proceed to canvass the vote cast thereat; and if, upon such canvass, it appears that a majority of the votes cast at said election are "Irrigation district—yes," the board shall, by an order entered on their minutes, declare such territory duly organized as an irrigation district, under the name and style theretofore designated, and shall declare the persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes for such several offices to be duly elected to such office. The said board shall cause a copy of such order, including a list and plat of the lands of said district, with water allotment, duly certified by the clerk of the board of county commissioners, to be immediately filed for record in the offices of the county clerk and county recorder of each county in which any portion of such lands are situated, and no board of county commissioners of any county included in any portion of such district shall, after the date of organization of such district, allow another district to be formed including any of the land of such district, without the consent of the board of directors thereof; and from and after the date of such filing, the organization of such district shall be complete and the officers thereof shall immediately enter upon the duties of their respective offices, upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold such offices, respectively, until their successors are elected and qualified. For the purpose of the election above provided for, the said board of county commissioners must establish a convenient number of election precincts and polling places in said proposed district, and define the boundaries thereof, which said precincts may thereafter be changed by the board of directors of such district, and shall appoint the judges of election for each such precinct, one of whom shall act as clerk of election.

Am'd '11, p. 71; '17, p. 81.

3506. Election of board of directors. Bonds. The regular election of said district, for the purpose of electing a board of directors, shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in December of each year, at which time one director shall be elected for a term of three years; provided, that at the first election held to choose the first board of directors, after the organization of any district shall have been effected, the person having the highest number of votes shall continue in office for the full term of three years; the next highest two years. But if two or more persons have the same number of votes then their term shall be determined by lot, under the direction of the clerk of the county wherein the organization of the district shall have been effected. The person receiving the highest number of votes for any office to be filled at such election is elected thereto. Within ten days after receiving their certificates of election, hereinafter provided for, said officers shall take and subscribe the official oath, and file the same in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the organization was effected, and on the first day of January following shall assume the duties of their respective offices. Each member of the board of directors shall execute an official bond in the sum of $3000, which bond shall be approved by the clerk of the county wherein such organization was effected, and shall be recorded in the office of the said county clerk. All official bonds herein provided shall be in the form prescribed by law for official bonds for county officials, except that the obligee named in said bonds shall be the district; they shall be filed with the county clerk at the same time as the filing of the oath herein prescribed; provided, that in case any district organized under this title is appointed fiscal agent of the United States, or by the United States is authorized to make collections of money for and on behalf of the United States, in connection with any federal reclamation project, each such director shall execute a further and additional official bond in such sum as the secretary of the interior may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and the district shall execute a further and additional bond for the faithful discharge by the district of its duties as fiscal or other agent of the United States under any such appointment or authorization. Such additional official bonds are to be filed as other official bonds hereinabove provided for and any such additional official bond may be sued upon by the United States or any person injured by the failure of any such director or of the district to fully, promptly, and completely perform their respective duties. Am'd '17, p. 82.

3507. Location of office. Board of election. The office of the board of directors shall be located in the county where the organization was effected. Fifteen days before any election held under this chapter, subsequent to the organization of the district, the secretary, who shall be appointed by the board of directors, shall cause notice specifying the polling places of each precinct to be posted in three public places in each election precinct, of the time and place of holding the election, and shall also post a general notice of the same in the office of said board, which shall be established and kept at some fixed place to be determined by said board in said county. Prior to the time for posting the notices, the board must appoint from each precinct, from the electors thereof, three judges, one of whom shall act as clerk, who shall constitute a board of election for such precinct. If the board fails to appoint a board of election, or the members appointed do not attend the opening of polls on the morning of election, the electors of the precinct present at that hour may appoint the board, or supply the place of an absent member thereof. The board of directors must, in its order appointing the board of election, designate the hour and the place in the precinct where the election must be held.

3508. Duties and powers of judges of election. Polls. One of the judges shall be chairman of the election board and may:

1. Administer all oaths required in the progress of an election;

2. Appoint judges and clerks, if during the progress of the election any judge or clerk ceases to act.

Any member of the board of election, or any clerk thereof, may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of an election. Before opening the polls, each member of the board must take and subscribe an oath to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon him by law. Any elector of the precinct may administer and certify such oath. The polls must be opened at eight o'clock in the morning of election and be kept open until six o'clock p. m. of the same day. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of election to forthwith deliver the returns duly certified to the board of directors of the district.

3509. Board of directors to canvass returns. No lists, tally papers, or certificates returned from any election shall be set aside or rejected for want of form if it can be satisfactorily understood. The board of directors must meet at its usual place of meeting on the first Monday after election and canvass the returns. If, at the time of meeting, the returns from each precinct in the district in which the polls were opened have been received, the board of directors must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from day to day until the returns have been received, or until six postponements have been had. The canvass must be made in public and by opening the returns and counting the votes of the district for each person voted for, and declaring the results thereof. The board shall declare elected the person receiving the highest number of votes so returned for each office, and also declare the result of any question submitted.

3510. Secretary to declare result of election. Vacancies. The secretary of the board of directors must, as soon as the result of any election held under the provisions of this chapter is declared, enter in the records of such board and file with the county clerk of the county in which the office of said district is located, a statement of such results, which statement must show:

1. A copy of the publication notice of said election.
2. The names of the judges of said election.
3. The whole number of votes cast in the district and in each precinct of the district.
4. The names of the persons voted for.
5. The office to fill which each person was voted for.
6. The number of votes given in each precinct for each of such persons.
7. The number of the votes given in each district for each of such persons.
8. The names of the persons declared elected.
9. The result declared on any question submitted in accordance with the majority of the votes cast for or against such question.

The board of directors must declare elected the person having the highest number of votes given for each office, and also the result of any question submitted. The secretary must immediately make out and deliver to such person a certificate of election, signed by him, and authenticated with the seal of the board. In case of a vacancy in the board of directors, by death, removal, or inability from any cause to properly discharge the duties as such director, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the remaining members of the board, and upon their failure or inability to act within thirty days after such vacancy occurs, then upon petition of five land owners of said district, the board of county commissioners of the county where the office of said board of directors is situated shall fill such vacancy or vacancies. Any director appointed as above provided shall hold his office until the next general election of said district, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

3511. Organization of board. Powers and duties. Meetings. The directors, having duly qualified, shall organize as a board, elect a president from their number, and appoint a secretary. The board shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to adopt a seal, manage and conduct the affairs and business of the district, make and execute all necessary contracts, employ such agents, attorneys, officers, and employes as may be required, and prescribe their duties. In addition to the means of supplying water for said district proposed by the petition submitted for the formation thereof, the board shall have the power to contract for the purchase of a system of irrigation thereafter to be constructed; construct, or otherwise acquire, any and all canals, ditches, reservoirs, reservoir sites, water, water filings, water rights, rights of way, or other property, or any interest therein, necessary for the use of the district; or to acquire, by condemnation or otherwise, the right to enlarge any ditch, canal, or reservoir already constructed or partly constructed. The board shall also have power to purchase capital stock of mutual irrigation companies organized for the sole purpose of owning water rights and irrigation systems, and distributing water to the stockholders thereof; provided, that no irrigation district shall be authorized to purchase less than a majority of the capital stock of a mutual irrigation company. If it shall be proposed by the board of directors to purchase a system of irrigation already constructed, or partially constructed, and to enlarge and complete the same adequate to the needs of the district, the board may in such case embody in one contract the matter of the purchase and completion of the existing contracts without inviting bids for such purchase, completion, or construction; and in case of the purchase of such property, or of entering into any such contract, as aforesaid, by said district, the bonds of the district, hereinafter provided for, may be used at their par value in such amounts and at such times as may be necessary and most advantageous to carry out the provisions of such purchase or contract, without previous offer of such bonds for sale; provided, however, that no contract or purchase involving a consideration exceeding $10,000, and not exceeding $25,000, shall be binding, unless such contract shall be first authorized and ratified in writing by land owners of the district having a majority of the votes according to the number of votes cast at the last district election; nor shall any contract or purchase in excess of $25,000 be binding until such contract or purchase shall have been authorized and ratified at an election, in manner as is provided for the issue of bonds. The board, its agents and employes, shall have the right to enter upon any land in the district to make surveys, and to locate and construct any canal or canals and the necessary laterals. Said board shall also have the right to acquire all lands, water rights, franchises, and other property necessary for the construction, use, maintenance, repair, and improvement of its canals, ditches, reservoirs, and water works; and shall also have the right, by purchase or condemnation, to acquire rights of way for the construction or enlargement of any of its ditches, canals, or reservoirs, also lands for reservoir sites. The board may make such investigations and, based thereon, such representations and assurances to the secretary of the interior as may be requisite under the act of congress approved August 11, 1916, and may enter into any obligation or contract with the United States for the construction or operation and maintenance of the necessary works for the delivery and distribution of water therefrom or for the assumption, as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States on account of district lands, or for the temporary rental of water under the provisions of the federal reclamation act, and all acts amendatory thereof, or supplementary thereto, and the rules and regulations established thereunder; or the board may contract with the United States for a water supply under any act of congress providing for or permitting such contract, and may convey to the United States, as partial or full consideration therefor, water rights or other property of the district, and in case contract has been or may hereafter be made with the United States as herein provided, bonds of the district may be deposited with the United States at 95 per cent of their par value to the amount to be paid by the district to the United States under any such contract, the interest on said bonds to be provided for by assessment and levy as in the case of other bonds of the district, and regularly paid to the United States, to be applied as provided in such contract, and if bonds of the district are not so deposited, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to include, as part of any levy or assessment now provided for by law, an amount sufficient to meet each year all payments accruing under the terms of any such contract; and the board may accept, on behalf of the district, appointment of the district as fiscal agent for the United States, or authorization of the district by the United States to make collection of moneys for or on behalf of the United States in connection with any federal reclamation project, whereupon the district shall be authorized so to act and to assume the duties and liabilities incident to such action, and the said board shall have full power to do any and all things required by the federal statutes now or hereafter enacted in connection therewith, and all things required by the rules and regulations now or that may hereafter be established by any department of the federal government in regard thereto. Districts co-operating with the United States may rent or lease water to private lands, entrymen, or municipalities in the neighborhood of the district, in pursuance of contract with the United States. The board shall establish equitable rules and regulations for the distribution and use of water among the owners of lands included in the district, and may provide therein that no water shall be delivered to lands which are delinquent or in default in the payment of any toll, charge, tax, or assessment. The said rules and regulations shall, as soon as adopted, be printed in convenient form for distribution in the district; provided, however, that water, the right to the use of which is acquired by the district under any contract with the United States, shall be distributed and apportioned by the district in accordance with the acts of congress and regulations of the secretary of the interior, and the provisions of said contract in relation thereto. The board of directors shall have power to lease or rent the use of water not needed by the land owners of said district, or contract for the delivery thereof to occupants of other lands within or without the said district, at such prices and on such terms as they may deem best; provided, the rental shall not be less than one and one-half times the amount of the district tax for which said land would be liable if already included in the district; and provided, further, that no lease or rental agreement running for a period of more than five years shall be made, and no vested or prescriptive right to the use of such water shall attach to said land by virtue of such lease or such rental; and, provided, also, that any land owner in said district may, with the consent of the board of directors, assign the right to the whole or any portion of the water so apportioned to him for any one year where practicable to any other bona fide land owner, to be used in said district for use on his land for said year, provided such land owners shall have paid all amounts due on assessments upon such lands. The board shall generally perform all such acts and have all such powers as shall be necessary fully to carry out the purposes of this chapter. The board of directors shall hold a regular quarterly meeting in their office on the first Tuesday in January, April, July, and October, and such special meetings as may be required for the proper transaction of business. A special meeting may be called by a written request of one-third of the electors of said district, addressed to the president of the board of directors, or by the president of the board, or by any two directors. All meetings of the board must be public; and two members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; and on all questions requiring a vote, there shall be a concurrence of at least two members of said board. All records of the board must be open to the inspection of any land owner during business hours. Am'd '11, p. 71; '17, p. 83.

3512. Contracts. Hearing. The board of directors shall further have power to lease or rent the use of water or to contract for the delivery thereof to settlers upon or occupants of state lands and of the public domain, whose entries shall not have been subordinated to the district, through compliance with the aforesaid act of congress approved August 11, 1916, on the terms hereinabove provided; and in such case the board of directors shall have the further power to make a contract, on behalf of the district, with such settler or occupant, to the effect that the lands of such settler or occupant shall, upon entry or purchase thereof and upon the payment of his proportionate share of the bond assessments as provided in § 3535, be included within said district, and such settler or occupant shall, upon such inclusion, be entitled to all the rights and privileges of a member of said district. Before the execution of such contract the board of directors shall cause notice of such contract to be given substantially as provided in § 3533 with such changes in the form of the notice as may be necessary, and a hearing upon said contract, and all objections thereto shall be had as provided in § 3534. If, upon said hearing, the board of directors deem it not for the best interest of the district that said contract be executed, they shall by order refuse to execute said contract; but if they deem it for the best interests of the district that said contract be executed, the board may execute said contract, and in such case said contract shall be valid and binding upon all parties thereto, and when the said settler or occupant shall have complied with said contract, the board shall, upon proof of such compliance, and without any further notice or hearing upon the matter, enter an order of inclusion of said lands as provided in § 3536; provided, that if, within thirty days from the execution of said contract, a majority of the land owners of the district protest in writing to said board against the execution of said contract, said contract shall be held for naught, and shall not be binding upon any party thereto. Am'd '11, p. 73; '17, p. 86.

3514. Conveyances. Litigation. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances or assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this chapter in the name of such irrigation district to and for the purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law or in equity, necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this chapter or to enforce, maintain, protect, or preserve any or all rights, privileges, and immunities created by this chapter or acquired in pursuance thereof. And in all courts, actions, suits, or proceedings the said board may sue, appear, and defend in person or by attorneys and in the name of such irrigation district. Judicial notice shall be taken in all actions, suits, and judicial proceedings in any court of this state of the organization and existence of any irrigation district of this state, now or hereafter organized, from and after the filing for record in the office of the county clerk of the certified copy of the order of the board of county commissioners mentioned in § 3503; and a certified copy of said order shall be prima facie evidence in all actions, suits, and proceedings in any court of this state of the regularity and legal sufficiency of all acts, matters, and proceedings therein recited and set forth; and any such irrigation district, in regard to which any such order has been heretofore or may hereafter be entered, and such certified copy thereof so filed for record, and which has exercised or shall exercise the rights and powers of such a district, and shall have had or shall have in office a board of directors exercising the duties of their office, and legality or regularity of the formation or organization whereof shall not have been questioned by proceedings in quo warranto instituted in the district court of the county in which such district or the greater portion thereof is situated within one year from the date of such filing, shall be conclusively deemed to be a legally and regularly organized, established, and existing irrigation district within the meaning of this chapter; and its due and lawful formation and organization shall not thereafter be questioned in any action, suit, or proceeding whether brought under the provisions of this chapter or otherwise.

This section is constitutional. Horn v. Shaffer, 47 U. 55; 151 P. 555.

3515. Issuance of bonds. Contract with United States. Special election to decide. Nature of bonds. Previous issues confirmed. For the purpose of constructing or purchasing or acquiring necessary reservoir sites, reservoirs, water, water filings, water rights, canals, ditches, and works, capital stock of mutual irrigation companies, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, for the assumption of indebtedness to the United States for district lands, for the purpose of paying interest upon the bonds herein authorized during the period of construction and for not more than four years thereafter, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this chapter, the board of directors of any such district shall, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised for such purposes, and shall forthwith call a special election, at which election shall be submitted to the land owners of such district, possessing the qualifications prescribed by this chapter, the question of whether or not the bonds of said district shall be issued in the amount so determined. A notice of such election shall be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notices in some newspaper published in the county; if there be no such paper published in said county, then the same shall be published in some newspaper having general circulation in said county, where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notice shall specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as possible in conformity with the provisions of this chapter governing the election of officers: provided, that no informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election, the ballots shall contain the words "Bonds—yes," or "Bonds —no," or words equivalent thereto. If a two-thirds majority of the votes cast at such election are "Bonds—yes," the board of directors shall immediately cause bonds in such amounts to be executed and payable in series as follows, to wit:

At the expiration of eleven years, and annually thereafter, a certain percentage, not less than 3 per cent, of the whole amount and number of said bonds; at the expiration of the final period for which the bonds have been issued, which period shall in no event exceed forty years, a percentage sufficient to pay off the remainder of said bonds; that the several enumerated percentages be of the entire amount of the bond issue; that each bond must be payable at the given time for its entire amount, and not for a percentage; that said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of not to exceed 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of June and December of each year.

The principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the organization of the district was effected as aforesaid, and at such other place as the board of directors may designate in such bonds. Said bonds shall be each of the denomination of not less than $100 nor more than $1000, shall be negotiable in form, executed in the name of the district and signed by the president and the secretary, and the seal of the district shall be affixed thereto. Bonds deposited with the United States may call for the payment of such interest not exceeding 6 per cent per annum, may be of such denomination, and may call for the repayment of the principal at such times as may be agreed upon between the board and the secretary of the interior, and where contract is made and bonds are not deposited with the United States, the contract may likewise call for the repayment of the principal at such time as may be agreed upon. Said bonds shall be numbered consecutively as executed, and bear the date at the time of their execution. Coupons for the interest shall be attached to each bond bearing the lithographed signature of the president and the secretary. Said bonds shall express on their face that they are issued by the authority of this chapter, stating its title and date of approval. The secretary shall keep a record of the bonds sold, their number, date of sale, the price received, the name of the purchaser, and may keep a transfer register; provided, any such district may provide for the issuance of bonds that will mature in any number of years less than forty, and arrange for the payment thereof, in series as above provided; provided, further, that when the money provided by any previous issue of bonds has become exhaused by expenditures herein authorized therefor, and it becomes necessary to raise additional money for such purposes, additional bonds may be issued after submitting the question at a special election to the qualified voters of said district, and otherwise complying with the provisions of this section in respect to an original issue of such bonds; provided, also, that the lien for taxes, for the payment of interest and principal of any bond issue, or for any indebtedness under any contract with the United States for or with which bonds have not been deposited, shall be a prior lien to that of any subsequent bond issue. All bonds heretofore executed by any irrigation district wherein proceedings for the organization of such district and authorizing the sale of such bonds have been approved and confirmed by the district court of the judicial district within which such irrigation district is located, are hereby confirmed and validated. If contract is proposed to be made with the United States and bonds are not to be deposited with the United States in connection therewith, the question to be submitted to the voters at such special election is whether contract shall be entered into with the United States. The notice of election shall state under the terms of what act or acts of congress contract is proposed to be made, and the maximum amount of money payable to the United States for construction purposes exclusive of penalties and interest, and the water rights and other property, if any, to be conveyed to the United States as in § 3511 provided. The ballots for such election shall contain the words "Contract with the United States—yes" and "Contract with the United States—no," or words equivalent thereto.

Am'd '11, p. 74; '17, p. 87.

3516. Sale of bonds. The board may sell bonds from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous to raise the money for the construction or purchase of canals, reservoir sites, reservoirs, water rights and works, capital stock of mutual irrigation companies, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this chapter. Before making any sale the board shall, at a meeting, by resolution declare its intention to sell a specified amount of the bonds, and the day and hour and place of such sale, and shall cause such resolution to be entered in the minutes, and notice of the sale to be given by publication thereof at least twenty days in any daily newspaper published in the city of Salt Lake, and in any other newspaper, at their discretion. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office, for the purchase of the bonds, till the day and hour named in the resolution. At the time appointed the board shall open the proposals and award the purchase of the bonds to the highest responsible bidder, and may reject all bids; but said board shall, in no event, sell any of said bonds for less than 95 per cent of the face value thereof. In case no bid is made and accepted as above provided, the board of directors is hereby authorized to use said bonds for the purchase of canals, reservoir sites, reservoirs, water rights and works, capital stock of mutual irrigation companies, or for the construction of any canal, reservoir and works; provided, such bonds shall not be disposed of at less than 95 per cent of the face value thereof. Am'd '13, p. 198.

3517. Bonds and contracts paid by assessments on land. Said bonds and the interest thereon, and all payments due or to become due to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the real property of the district, and the real property of the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments as herein provided. Public lands of the United States within any district shall be subject to taxation for all purposes of this chapter to the extent provided by the act of congress approved August 11, 1916, and upon full compliance therewith by the district. Am'd '17, p. 89.

3518. Board to estimate required annual revenue. It shall be the duty of the board of directors, on or before September 1 of each year, to determine the amount of money required for the ensuing year, to pay any interest on and all maturing instalments of principal of any bonds, and all payments due or to become due to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in § 3511 provided; and all operation and maintenace or rental payments to be made by the district to the United States under the provisions of any such contract between the United States and the district, and to meet the maintenance, operating and current expenses, including the payment of assessments upon capital stock of mutual irrigation companies owned by the irrigation district, and to certify to the county commissioners of the county in which the office of said district is located, said amount, together with such additional amount as may be necessary to meet any deficiency in the payment of said expenses thertofore incurred. Am'd '13, p. 198; '17, p. 89.

3519. Duty of county assessor. It shall be the duty of the county assessor of any county embracing the whole or a part of any irrigation district to assess and enter upon his records as assessor in its appropriate column the assessment of all real estate to which water has been allotted, exclusive of improvements, situated, lying, and being within any irrigation district in whole or in part in such county. The assessor shall assess the lands on the basis of the value per acre foot of water allotted to the lands within the district; provided, that the board of directors of any such irrigation district may divide the district into units and fix a different value per acre foot of water in the respective units, and in such case the assessor shall assess the lands within each such unit upon the same basis of value per acre foot of water allotted to lands within such unit. Immediately after said assessment shall have been extended as provided by law, the assessor shall make returns of the total amount of such assessment to the county commissioners of the county in which the office of said district is located. In case of contract with the United States, however, under the federal reclamation laws, the assessment of real estate within the district may be otherwise apportioned in the following manner:

1. Assessments shall conform to the requirements of the said federal laws and particularly the act approved August 13, 1914, unless otherwise provided by contract with the United States.

2. It may be provided by contract with the United States that water shall be furnished to the district, or to part of the irrigable lands thereof, upon a temporary rental basis, whereupon lands of the district for which rental charges for any given year are not required to be paid to the United States by the district shall not be taxed for such purposes.

3. District lands shall not be taxed for purposes of payment to the United States in any year when, and to the extent that, on account of exceptional difficulties of reclamation, the district shall be exempted by contract with the United States from said payment to the United States for such lands.

4. The lands of any irrigation district may be, by contract with the United States, divided into units and placed upon a basis of repayment to the United States in successive units, which shall not necessarily be composed of contiguous lands, and in such event the lands of units not yet, in any year, placed upon the repayment basis shall not, during such year, be subject to taxation for payment of building costs.

5. In case lands which shall have been irrigated by means of ditches, canals, and reservoirs constructed prior to the organization of any district, shall be included within such district under the terms of § 3501, equitable credit shall be given in the making of assessments for any water and ditch rights appurtenant to such lands. Such adjustment shall be made by the board of directors of such irrigation district, which adjustment shall be equitably made so that the cost of the additional rights, property, or benefits acquired by the district under contract from the United States will be fairly and equitably proportioned between the lands having rights in such old ditches, reservoirs, or other works and the lands of the district having no such rights, and due and equitable allowance made to the lands to which any such rights may be appurtenant; provided, that before making any such adjustment or allowance the board of directors shall publish notice for a period of at least three weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the greater portion of the irrigable lands of the district are located, or if there be no such newspaer published in such county then in some newspaper of general circulation in that county, which notice shall state that a meeting of the board will be held for the purpose of making such adjustment and allowance, and that all parties interested therein who desire to be heard on the matter will be given an opportunity to appear and present evidence, and such notice shall state the date, the day, and hour that such meeting will be held, and the place of meeting, and at the date and place provided in the notice the board shall proceed to hear such evidence, if any be presented, and to make such adjustment or allowance in the manner herein prescribed. After such adjustment and allowance by the board of directors, the board shall proceed in the manner prescribed in §§ 3550, 3551, 3552, 3553, 3554, to have such adjustment and allowance duly confirmed by decree of the court in similar manner to that provided in said sections with reference to confirmation of the bond issue, and the court shall proceed in like manner as provided in said §§ 3550, 3551, 3552, 3553, 3554, to examine into the regularity of said proceedings of the board and the equity of the adjustment or allowance made by the board, and should the court find said proceedings regular and said allowance or adjustment equitable, then the court shall file its findings and decree confirming the said allowance and adjustment, but if the court shall find that such allowance and adjusment is not equitable, then the court shall itself make an allowance and adjustment which shall be just and equitable as between the various classes of lands in the district, and shall file a decree confirming such apportionment in like manner and with like effect as the findings and decree provided for in said § 3554; provided, that in no case shall any land be taxed for irrigation purposes under this chapter which from any natural cause cannot be irrigated, or is not susceptible of cultivation. Am'd '17, p. 90.

3520. Tax levy to be fixed by board of county commissioners. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of the county in which is located the office of any irrigation district, immediately upon receipt of the returns of the total assessment of said district, and upon the receipt of the certificate of the board of directors certifying the total amount of money required to be raised as herein provided, to fix the rate of levy necessary to provide said amount of money, including the amount required to pay the interest and principal of the bonds of said district as the same shall become due, and all payments due or to become due to the United States accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in § 3511 provided; also to fix the rate necessary to provide the amount of money required for any other purposes as in this chapter provided, and which are to be raised by the levy of assessments upon the real property of said district and to certify said respective rates to the county commissioners of each county embracing any portion of said district. The rate of levy necessary to raise the required amount of money on the assessed valuation of the property of said district shall be increased 15 per cent to cover delinquencies. For the purposes of said district it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county in which any irrigation district is located in whole or in part, at the time of making levy for county purposes, to make a levy, at the rates above specified, upon all real estate in said district within their respective counties. All taxes levied under this chapter are special taxes. Am'd '17, p. 92.

3521. Duty of county treasurer. Collection of money. Bond fund. Contract fund. General fund. The county treasurer of the county in which is located the office of any irrigation district shall be and is hereby constituted ex officio district treasurer of said district, and said county treasurer shall be liable upon his official bond and to indictment and criminal prosecution for malfeasance, or failure to perform any duty herein prescribed as county treasurer or district treasurer, as is provided by law in other cases as county treasurer. Said treasurer shall collect, receive, and receipt for all moneys belonging to said district. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer of each county in which any irrigation district is located, in whole or in part, to collect and receipt for all taxes levied as herein provided in the same manner and at the same time and on the same receipt as is required in the collection of taxes upon real estate for county purposes; provided, however, that such county treasurer shall receive in payment of the general fund tax above mentioned for the year in which said taxes were levied, warrants drawn against said general fund the same as so much lawful money of the United States, if such warrant does not exceed the amount of the general fund tax which the person tendering the same owes; provided, further, that such county treasurer shall receive in payment of the district bond fund taxes above mentioned for the year in which said taxes were levied, interest coupons or bonds of said irrigation district maturing within the year the same as so much lawful money of the United States, if such interest coupons or bonds do not exceed the amount of district bond fund tax which the person tendering the same owes. The county treasurer of each county comprising a portion only of the irrigation district, excepting the county treasurer of the county in which the office of said district is located, shall, on the first Monday of each month, remit to the district treasurer aforesaid all moneys, warrants, coupons, or bonds theretofore collected or received by him on account of said district, and said county treasurer shall keep a bond fund account, United States contract fund account, and a general fund account. The bond fund account shall consist of all moneys received on account of interest and principal of bonds issued by said district; said accounts for interest and principal shall be kept separate; and the United States contract fund account shall consist of all moneys received on account of any and all payments due or to become due the United States, accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in § 3511 provided. The general fund shall consist of all other moneys or general fund warrants received by the collection of taxes or otherwise. The district treasurer aforesaid shall pay out of said bond fund, when due, the interest and principal of the bonds of said district, at the time and place specified in said bonds, and shall pay out of said United States contract fund when due all payments to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in § 3511 provided. In cases where bonds have been deposited with the United States as provided in this chapter, the moneys to be paid to the United States for rentals or operation and maintenance charges, if not secured by bonds, shall be paid out of the general fund account; and the district treasurer shall pay out of said general fund only upon the order of the district, signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of said district, as herein provided. The district treasurer, on the 15th day of each month, shall report to the secretary of the district the amount of money in his hands to the credit of the respective funds above provided; the amount of warrants paid during the previous month, and the amount of registered warrants, if there be any. All such district taxes collected and paid to the county treasurers as aforesaid shall be received by said treasurers in their official capacity, and they shall be responsible for the safe-keeping, disbursement, and payment thereof the same as for other moneys collected by them as such treasurers; provided, said county treasurer shall receive as his sole compensation for the collection of such taxes, such amount as the board of directors may allow, to be not less than $25 nor more than $100 per annum, which compensation shall be additional to the regular salary of such county treasurer as provided by law. Am'd '13, p. 198; '17, p. 92.

3522. State revenue laws applicable. Sale and redemption. The revenue laws of this state for the assessment, levying, and collecting of taxes on real estate for county purposes, except as herein modified, shall be applicable for the purposes of this chapter, including the enforcement of penalties and forfeiture for delinquent taxes; provided, that lands sold for delinquent district taxes shall be sold separately for such tax, and a separate certificate of sale shall issue therefor; and provided, further, that the period of redemption from sale for taxes under this chapter shall be two years. All taxes levied by an irrigation district under the provisions of this chapter, or any act supplemental or amendatory thereof, shall constitute a first lien on the property assessed, which lien shall remain in force until the taxes are paid. Am'd '17, p. 94.

3523. Bids for construction. After adopting a plan for the construction of canals, reservoirs, and works, the board of directors shall give notice by publication thereof not less than twenty days in a newspaper published in each of the counties into which any such irrigation district extends, provided a newspaper is published therein, and in such other newspapers as they may deem advisable, calling for bids for the construction of said work or any portion thereof. If less than the whole work is advertised, then the portion so advertised must be particularly described in such notice. Said notice shall set forth that plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board, and that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor, and that the contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, stating the time and the place for opening the proposals, which at said time and place shall be opened in public, and as soon as convenient thereafter the board shall let said work, either in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder, or it may reject any or all bids, and must thereupon readvertise for proposals, and if no satisfactory proposals are then received, it may proceed to construct the work under its own superintendence. Contracts for the purchase of material shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. The person or persons to whom a contract may be awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, payable to said district for its use, for not less than 10 per cent of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge, and be approved by the board; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply in the case of any contract between the district and the United States. Am'd '17, p. 95.

3524. Claims, how paid. Warrant register. No claims shall be paid by the district treasurer until the same shall have been allowed by the board, and only upon warrants signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary, which warants shall state the date authorized by the board and for what purpose; and if the district treasurer has not sufficient money on hand to pay such warrant when it is presented for payment, he shall endorse thereon, "Not paid for want of funds; this warrant draws interest from date at 6 per cent per annum," and endorse thereon the date when so presented, over his signature, and from the time of such presentation until paid such warrant shall draw interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum; provided, when there is more than the sum of $100 in the hands of the treasurer it shall be applied upon said warrant. All claims against the district shall be verified the same as required in the case of claims filed against counties in this state, and the secretary of the district is hereby authorized and empowered to administer oaths to the parties verifying said claims, the same as the county clerk or a notary public might do. The district treasurer shall keep a register in which he shall enter each warrant presented for payment, showing the date and amount of such warrant, to whom payable, the date of the presentation for payment, the date of payment, and the amount paid in redemption thereof, and all warrants shall be paid in the order of their presentation for payment to the district treasurer. All warrants shall be drawn payable to the claimant or bearer, the same as county warrants.

3525. Tolls and charges. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of the organization of the district, and the care, operation, management, repair, and improvement of all canals, ditches, reservoirs, and works, including salaries of officers and employes, or for the payment of charges to the United States for any of said purposes, or for rental of water, the board may either fix rates of tolls and charges and collect the same of all persons using said canal and water for irrigation, or other purposes, or in the case of such charges to be paid to the United States the same shall be collected from lands for which water service can be made, pursuant to contract with the United States, and in addition thereto may provide, in whole or in part, for the payment of such expenditures by levy of assessments therefor, as heretofore provided, or by both tolls and assessments, provided that if contract be made with the United States the charges for operation and maintenace or rental, as the case may be, may be fixed in accordance with the federal laws, notice, and rules, and the contract with the United States; provided, further, that in case the money raised by the sale of bonds issued be insufficient, or in case bonds be unavailable for the completion of the plans of works adopted, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for the completion of said plans by levy of assessments therefor in the same manner in which levy of assessments is made for the other purposes provided for in this chapter. Am'd '17, p. 95.

3526. Works may be extended across property of others. The board of directors shall have the power to construct the said works across any stream of water, water course, street, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch, or flume which the route of said canal or canals may intersect or cross; and if such railroad company and said board, or the owners and controllers of said property, thing, or franchise so to be crossed, cannot agree upon the amount to be paid therefor, or the points or the manner of said crossings, the same shall be ascertained and determined in all respects as is provided in respect to the taking of land for public uses. The right-of-way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart to locate, construct, and maintain said works or reservoirs over, through or upon any of the lands which are now or may be the property of the state.

3527. Compensation of board of directors. The board of directors shall each receive compensation at the rate of not more than $10 per day while attending meetings, and their actual and necessary expenses while engaged in official business. The salary of the secretary shall not exceed $800 per annum. No director or any officer named in this chapter shall, in any manner, be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; nor shall he receive any bonds, gratuity, or bribe, and for any violation of this provision such officer shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction therefor he shall forfeit his office, and be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding five years nor less than one year. Am'd '17, p. 95.

3528. No liabilities other than provided in this chapter shall be incurred. The board of directors, or other officers of the district, shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this chapter, and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void.

3529. Distribution of water. In case the volume of water in any canal, reservoir or other works in any district shall not be sufficient to supply the continual wants of the entire district lands susceptible of irrigation therefrom, then it shall be the duty of the board of directors to distribute all available waters upon certain or alternate days to different localities, as they may in their judgment think best for the interest of all parties concerned. All water, however, the right to the use of which is acquired by the district under any contract with the United States, shall be distributed and apportioned by the district in accordance with the acts of the department of the interior and the provisions of said contract in relation thereto. Am'd '17, p. 95.

3530. Prior rights not to be disturbed without compensation. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize any person or persons to divert the waters of any river, creek, stream, canal, or reservoir to the detriment of any person or persons having a prior right to the waters of such river, creek, stream, canal, or reservoirs, unless previous compensation be ascertained and paid therefor, under the laws of this state authorizing the taking of private property for public use.

3531. Inclusion and exclusion of lands. Lands may be included in or excluded from any irrigation district, now or hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter, in the manner herein prescribed; but any such inclusion or exclusion of lands shall not impair or affect the district organization or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature, nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable had such inclusion or exclusion of lands not been made; provided, that in case contract has been made between the district and the United States as provided in this chapter, no lands shall be included in or excluded from the district until the secretary of the interior shall assent thereto in writing, and such assent be filed with the board of directors. Am'd '17, p. 96.

3532. Owners of neighboring lands may petition to be included in district. The holder or holders of title or evidence of title, representing a majority of the acreage of any body of land in the vicinity of the lands in any irrigation district, may file with the board of directors of said district a petition in writing, praying that such lands be included in such district. The petition shall describe the tracts or body of land owned by the petitioners, and the proposed method of supplying water thereto, but such description of the lands need not be more particular than is required when such lands are entered by the county assessor in the assessment book. Such petition shall be deemed to give the assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in said district of the lands described in the petition, and such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner that conveyances of land are required to be acknowledged. Am'd '17, p. 96.

3533. Notice of petition. The secretary of the board of directors shall cause notice of the filing of such petition to be given and published once each week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county where the office of said board is situated, which notice shall state the filing of such petition and the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petitioners; giving notice to all persons interested to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause, in writing, if any they have, why the petition should not be granted. The time specified in the notice at which it shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. The petitioner or petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay the estimated cost of all proceedings under such petition before the secretary shall be required to give such notice.

3534. Id. Action thereon. The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in said notice, or at such time or times to which the hearing of said petition may have been adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition, and all objections thereto, presented in writing by any person, showing cause as aforesaid, why said petition should not be granted. The failure of any person interested to show cause, in writing, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on his part to the inclusion of such lands in said district as prayed for in said petition.

3535. Condition upon which petition may be granted. The board of directors to whom such petition is presented may require, as a condition precedent to the granting of the same, that the petitioners shall severally pay to such district such respective sums, as nearly as the same can be estimated by the board, as said petitioners or their grantors would have been required to pay to such district as assessments for the payment of the pro rata share of all bonds and the interest thereon, which may have previously thereto been issued by said district, or for the payment of the pro rata share of the cost of the construction under any contract between the district and the United States accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States as in this chapter provided, had such lands been included in such district at the time the same was originally formed or when said bonds were so issued, or when said contract with the United States was made. Am'd '17, p. 96.

3536. Rejection or granting. The board of directors, if they deem it not for the best interests of the district to include therein the lands mentioned in the petition, shall by order reject the said petition; but if they deem it for the best interests of the district that said lands be included, the board may order that the district be so changed as to include therein the lands mentioned in the said petition. The order shall list and allot water to the included lands, and require the same to be platted as district lands; provided, if within thirty days from the making of such order a majority of the land owners of the district protest in writing to said board against the inclusion of such lands in said district, said order shall be held for naught and such lands shall not be included therein. Am'd '17, p. 97.

3537. Certified copy of order of board to be recorded. Upon the allowance of such petition, and in case no protest has been filed with the board within thirty days after the entry of said order as aforesaid, a certified copy of the order of the board of directors making such change, and a plat of such district showing such change, if any, certified by the president and the secretary, shall be filed for record in the office of the clerk and the recorder, and the district shall remain an irrigation district, as fully to every intent and purpose as if the lands which are included in the district by the change as aforesaid had been included therein at the organization of the district; and said district as so changed and all the lands therein shall be liable for all existing obligations and indebtedness of the organized district.

Am'd '17, p. 97.

3538. Secretary shall make record. Upon the filing of the copies of the order and the plat, as in the last preceding section mentioned, the secretary shall record in the minutes of the board the petition aforesaid; and the said minutes, or a certified copy thereof, shall be admissible in evidence with the same effect as the petition.

3539. Executor or administrator of estate may sign petition. A guardian, an executor, or an administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor, or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward or the estate which he represents, upon being authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in this chapter mentioned, and may show cause, as in this chapter mentioned, why lands should not be included in or excluded from the district. Am'd '17, p. 97.

3540. Proceeding when additional land is included. In case of the inclusion of any land within any district by proceedings under this chapter the board of directors shall, at least thirty days prior to the next succeeding general election, make an order redividing such district into three divisions, as nearly equal in size as may be practicable, which shall be numbered first, second, and third, and one director shall thereafter be elected from each division. For the purpose of election, the board of directors shall establish a convenient number of election precincts in said districts, and define the boundaries thereof, which said precincts may be changed from time to time as the board may deem necessary.

3541. Exclusion of land. Any tract of land included within any such district, at or after its organization, under the provisions of this chapter may be excluded therefrom, in the manner herein prescribed, but such exclusion of land from the district shall not impair or affect its organization, or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatever kind or nature; nor shall such exclusion affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for or upon which the district would or might become liable or chargeable had such land not been excluded from the district. Am'd '17, p. 97.

3542. Exclusion of land by petition. The owner or owners of any lands constituting a portion of any irrigation district may file with the board of directors of the district a petition praying that such lands may be excluded and taken from said district. The petition shall describe the lands which the petitioners desire to have excluded, but the description of such lands need not be more particular than required when lands are entered in the assessment book by the county assessor. Such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner and form as is required in case of a conveyance of land.

3543. Id. Notice of hearings. The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least three weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is situated, and if any portion of said district lie within another county or counties, then said notice shall be so published in a newspaper published within each of said counties; or if no newspaper be published therein, then by posting such notice for the same time in at least three public places in said district, and in case of the posting of said notices, one of said notices must be so posted on the lands proposed to be excluded. The notice shall state the filing of such petition, the names of the petitioners, description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petitioners; and it shall notify all persons interested to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. The petitioner or petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay the estimated cost of all proceedings under such petition before the secretary shall give such notice.

3544. Id. Hearings. The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, or at the time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition and all objections thereto, presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. The filing of such petition which such board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by each and all of such petitioners to the exclusion from such district of the lands mentioned in the petition, or any part thereof.

3545. When petition denied. The board of directors, if they deem it not for the best interest of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, should be excluded from said district, shall order that said petition be denied; but if they deem it for the best interest of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, be excluded from the district, and if there are no outstanding bonds of the district, then the board may order the lands mentioned in the petition, or some defined portion thereof, to be excluded from the district; provided, if within thirty days from the making of such order a majority of the land owners of the district protest in writing to said board against the exclusion of such lands from said district, said order shall be held for naught and such lands shall not be excluded therefrom; provided, further, that in case contract has been made between the district and the United States, no lands shall be excluded from said district unless the secretary of the department of the interior shall assent thereto in writing, and such assent be filed with the board of directors. Am'd '17, p. 98.

3546. Proceedings filed with clerk and recorder. Upon the allowance of such petition, and in case no protest has been filed with the board within thirty days after the entry of said order as aforesaid, a certified copy of the order of the board of directors making such change, and a plat of such district showing such change, certified by the president and the secretary, shall be filed for record in the office of the clerk and the recorder of each county in which are situated any of the lands of the district, and the district shall remain an irrigation district as fully to every intent and purpose as if the lands which are excluded by the change as aforesaid had not been excluded therefrom. Am'd '17, p. 98.

3547. Division of district. At least thirty days before the next general election of such district, the board of directors thereof may make an order dividing said district into three divisions as nearly equal in size as practicable, which shall be numbered first, second, and third, and one director shall be elected from each division by the land owners of the whole district. For the purpose of election in such district, the said board of directors must establish a convenient number of election precincts, and define the boundaries thereof, which said precincts may be changed from time to time as the board of directors may deem necessary.

3548. Dissolution of district. Special election. Whenever land owners, representing a majority of the number of acre-feet of water allotted to the lands in any irrigation district organized, or hereafter to be organized, under this chapter, shall petition the board of directors to call a special election for the purpose of submitting to the land owners of said irrigation district a proposition to vote on the dissolution of said irrigation district, setting forth in said petition that all bills and claims of every nature whatsoever have been fully satisfied and paid, it shall be the duty of said directors, if they shall be satisfied that all claims and bills have been fully satisfied, to call an election, setting forth the object of said election, and to cause notice of said election to be published in some newspaper in each of the counties or county in which said district is located, for a period of thirty days prior to said election, setting forth the time and place for holding said election in each of the three voting precincts in said district. It shall also be the duty of the directors to prepare ballots to be used at said election on which shall be written or printed the words: "For dissolution—yes," and "For dissolution —no"; provided, that in case contract has been made between the district and the United States the board shall have no jurisdiction to consider any such petition for dissolution of the district, no such special election shall be held, and such district shall not be disorganized or declared disorganized until it shall have been certified to the board of directors by the secretary of the interior that all payments and obligations due or to become due to the United States under such contract have been fully paid or that the secretary of the interior consents to such dissolution. Am'd '17, p. 98.

3549. Canvassing vote. Subsequent proceedings. The board of directors shall name a day for canvassing the vote, and if it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast are "For dissolution—yes," then it shall be the duty of said board of directors to declare said district to be disorganized, and shall certify to the county clerk of the respective counties in which the district is situated, stating the number of signers to said petition and the number of acre-feet of water allotted to them; that said election was called and set for the ..... day of ..... (month), 19.....; that said election was held and that so many votes (stating the number) had been cast for, and that so many votes (stating the number) had been cast against, said proposition; said certificate to bear the seal of the district, and the signatures of the president and the secretary of said board of directors. And it shall be the duty of said respective clerks to have all such certificates recorded in the records of the county recorder of the respective counties. Should it appear that a majority of the votes cast at said election were "For dissolution—no," then the board of directors shall declare the proposition lost, and shall cause the result and the vote to be made a part of the records of said irrigation district. Am'd '17, p. 99.

3550. Special proceedings to secure judicial confirmation. The board of directors of an irrigation district organized under the provisions of this chapter may commence special proceedings in and by which its acts and the acts of the district, in authorizing the issue and sale of the bonds of said district, or providing for the authorization of contract with the United States and the validity of such contract, whether said bonds or any of them have or have not been sold or disposed of, or such contract or proposed contract shall or shall not have been actually signed by the secretary of the interior or the district, may be judicially examined, approved, and confirmed.

Am'd '17, p. 99.

3551. Petition for confirmation. The board of directors of an irrigation district shall file in the district court of the county in which the lands of the district, or some portion thereof, are situated, a petition praying, in effect, that the proceedings aforesaid may be examined, approved, and confirmed by the court. The petition shall state the facts showing the proceedings had for the issue and sale of said bonds, or for the authorization of contract with the United States, as the case may be, and shall state generally that the irrigation district was duly organized, and that the first board of directors was duly elected, but the petition need not state the facts showing such organization of the district, or the election of said first board of directors. Am'd '17, p. 100.

3552. Id. Notice set for hearing. The court shall fix the time for the hearing of said petition, and shall order the clerk of the court to give and publish notice of the filing of said petition. The notice shall be given and published for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county where the office of the district is situated. The notice shall state the time and place fixed for the hearing of the petition and the prayer of the petitioners, and that any person interested in the organization of said district, or in the proceedings for the issue or sale of said bonds, or in the making of contract with the United States, may, on or before the day fixed for the hearing of said petition, demur to or answer said petition. The petition may be referred to and described in said notice as the petition of the board of directors of ..... irrigation district (giving its name), praying that the proceedings for the issue and sale of said bonds of said district, or that the proceedings for the authorization of contract with the United States, and the validity thereof, may be examined, approved, and confirmed by the court. Am'd '17, p. 100.

3553. Demurrers. Any person interested in said district, or in the issue or sale of said bonds, or in the making of contract with the United States, may demur to or answer said petition. The provisions of the code of civil procedure respecting the demurrer and answer to a verified complaint shall be applicable to a demurrer and answer to said petition. The person so demurring or answering said petition shall be the defendant to the special proceedings, and the board of directors shall be the plaintiff. Every material statement of the petition not specifically controverted by the answer shall, for the purpose of said special proceedings, be taken as true, and each person failing to answer the petition shall be deemed to admit as true all the material statements of the petition. The rules of pleading and practice relating to appeals and writs of error provided by the code of civil procedure which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter are applicable to the special proceedings herein provided for. Am'd '17, p. 100.

3554. Findings and decree. Upon the hearing of such special proceedings, the court shall find and determine whether the notice of the filing of the petition has been duly given and published for the time and in the manner in this chapter prescribed, and shall have power and jurisdiction to examine and determine the legality and validity of, and approve and confirm, each and all of the proceedings for the organization of said district under the provisions of said chapter, from and including the petition for the organization of the district, and all other proceedings which may affect the legality or validity of said bonds, and the order of the sale and the sale thereof, and all of the proceedings, if any, for the authorization of contract with the United States, and the terms of said contract. The court, in inquiring into the regularity, legality, or correctness of said proceedings, must disregard any error, irregularity, or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said special proceedings; and the court may by decree approve and confirm such proceedings in part, and disapprove and declare illegal or invalid other or subsequent parts of the proceedings. The costs of the special proceedings may be allowed and apportioned between the parties, in the discretion of the court. Am'd '17, p. 101.

3555. Governor may suspend right of appropriation. For the purpose of preserving the surplus and unappropriated waters of any stream or other source of water supply for use by irrigation districts, as provided in this chapter, the governor, by proclamation, may, upon the recommendation of the state engineer, temporarily suspend the right of the public to appropriate such surplus or unappropriated water; provided, that any such suspension shall in no case exceed the term of five years. '17, p. 101.

Similar provisions, § 3573.

CHAPTER 6.

CONSERVATION OF UNDERGROUND WATER.

('17, p. 430.)

3561. County commissioners control flow of artesian wells. For the purpose of conserving the underground waters of the state of Utah, and to protect the soil in the vicinity of artesian wells from being saturated, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners in the several counties of the state to enact rules and regulations which shall govern the periods of flow from water developed through artesian wells. If, in the opinion of the county commissioners, the underground water may be conserved by the capping of the larger wells in the county, this chapter gives them authority to enforce such action, but if, in their opinion, it would endanger or lessen the flow from an artesian well by stopping it for certain periods of the year, they may grant permits which will allow partial or complete flows from such wells.

3562. Owners of artesian wells must furnish data. To provide for a complete record of the existing wells, the owners of property on which such existing artesian wells are located are hereby required to file with the board of county commissioners of the county in which such property is located, the following information in duplicate:

1. The location of the well with reference to the nearest section corner;
2. The size of the pipe or casing used;
3. Depth of the well;
4. The amount of water flowing from each such well, in gallons per minute or cubic feet per second.

Failure on the part of any such owner of property on which an existing well is located to supply these data shall empower and authorize the county commissioners to close such well, which may again be opened when the information above mentioned is furnished. Duplicate copies furnished to the county commissioners shall be forwarded to the office of the state engineer.

3563. Powers may be delegated. To provide for the enforcement of this chapter, the county commissioners of the county where such wells are in use may delegate the power of enforcement to the various officers as may in their judgment make this chapter effective.

3564. Data of proposed wells. Every person, association, or corporation driving wells after the date of this enactment shall furnish, or cause to be furnished, to the county commissioners in the county where the well is to be drilled, the following data:

1. The name and address of the owner of the well;
2. The location of the well with reference to the nearest United States land corner;
3. The size and kind of casing used, and the approximate flow if a flow is encountered.

3565. Reports by well drillers. Any person operating well drilling machinery shall make a report containing the following data concerning each well drilled:

1. The name of the person, association, or corporation operating the well driving machinery.
2. The name of the county in which well is located, its location with reference to the nearest section corner;
3. The name and address of the owner of the well, and the date on which the well began to flow; if no flow was encountered, then that fact shall be reported;
4. The depth of the well;
5. If casing is perforated, the depth or depths at which perforations are made;
6. If artesian water has been encountered, depths at which water was encountered, height to which it rises in the pipe, and if the water flows from the well, the amount of flow, and the method by which the said amount of flow is determined;

7. The static pressure at the mouth of the well, and if more than one flow has been encountered, the rise of the water level or the static pressure of each flow;

8. The temperature of the water of each flow;

9. The log of the well; that is, the record of the thickness of each kind of material through which the drill has passed.

Such report in duplicate to be furnished to the county clerk within thirty days after the completion or abandonment of the well. The duplicate copies furnished to the county commissioners shall be forwarded to the office of the state engineer.

3566. Penalty. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person owning, leasing, or having charge of any artesian well to allow same to flow unrestrained, except as provided in this chapter. A failure on the part of either the well owner or well driller to furnish data as provided in this chapter shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

3567. Exceptions. The provisions of this chapter are not made applicable to artesian wells supplying cities and towns.

CHAPTER 7.

WITHDRAWING WATERS OF LOGAN RIVER FROM APPROPRIATION.

('17, p. 246.)

3570. Water not to be diverted from natural channel. No person, association, or corporation shall have any right to appropriate any of the waters of the Logan river flowing between Rick's springs, on the left fork of said river, and the back water of the Logan City power plant for purposes of generating power; provided, however, that water may be appropriated from the said portion of said river if the water so appropriated be not diverted from the natural channel of said river.

CHAPTER 8.

UNAPPROPRIATED WATERS OF THE STATE.

('17, p. 221.)

3573. May be withdrawn from appropriation. The right and authority is hereby given to the state engineer, by and with the consent of the governor, when in their judgment the welfare of the state demands it, to withdraw from appropriation any unappropriated waters in this state, for a period not to exceed five years.

Similar provision, § 3555.

3574. Restoring to entry. Whenever any waters have been withdrawn from appropriation, under the terms of this chapter, and in the opinion of the state engineer and the governor the need for such withdrawal has ceased, an order shall be made by the state engineer restoring such waters to entry.

TITLE 56.

JUDGMENT LIEN; U. S. COURTS.

3589. (1289.) Attaches, when. The judgment of a district or circuit court of the United States rendered in this state may be made a lien upon the real estate owned by the judgment debtor not exempt from execution, and also upon all such real estate as he may acquire for the period of five years from the date of the judgment, by filing a transcript thereof, or of the original docket, certified by the clerk of such court, with the recorder of any county in which any such real estate may be; and no lien shall attach to lands in any county in this state until the date of filing of such transcript, except in the county in which the judgment was rendered, in which case the lien shall attach from the time the same is docketed.

3590. (1290.) Satisfaction. Damages. When the amount due on any judgement is paid or satisfied in full, the judgment creditor, or those acting legally for him, must acknowledge satisfaction thereof in the margin of the record of the judgment, or by filing in the office of the recorder of every county where the judgment is a lien, a satisfaction in writing duly acknowledged. For failure to so acknowledge satisfaction of judgment within sixty days after having been requested in writing so to do, the judgment creditor shall forfeit to the judgment debtor, in addition to the amount of actual damage sustained, the sum of $50.

TITLE 57.

JURORS.

3591. (1291.) Jury defined. A jury is a body of persons temporarily selected from the citizens of a particular county and invested with power to present and indict a person for a public offense, or to try a question of fact.

Jurors to report daily, § 2543. Fees and mileage of jurors, §§ 2542-2555.

3592. (1292.) Kinds of juries. Juries are of three kinds:

1. Grand juries;
2. Trial juries;
3. Juries of inquest.

3593. (1293.) Grand jury. A grand jury is a body of persons, seven in number, returned in pursuance of law from citizens of a county before a court of competent jurisdiction, and sworn to inquire into public offenses committed or triable within the county.

Grand jury, when summoned, Con. art. 1, sec. 13.

3594. (1294.) Trial jury. A trial jury is a body of persons returned from the citizens of a particular county before a court or officer of competent jurisdiction, and sworn to try and determine by verdict a qestion of fact.

Fees and mileage of jurors, §§ 2542-2555.

3595. (1295.) Id. Number of Jurors. A trial jury in capital cases shall consist of twelve jurors. A trial jury in other criminal cases and in civil cases in the district courts shall consist of eight jurors; provided, that in civil cases and cases of misdemeanor, the jury may consist of any number less than eight upon which the parties may agree in open court. A trial jury in a justice's court, both in civil and criminal cases, shall consist of four persons, or of any number less than four upon which the parties may agree in open court.

The provisions of this section are taken from Con. art. 1, sec. 10, and decisions construing same have been placed in a note thereunder.

BEFORE STATEHOOD:

Prior to statehood. the Utah courts held that the right of trial by jury prescribed by the seventh amendment to the constitution of the U. S. requires a jury of twelve men.

Reece v. Knott, 3 U. 451; 24 P. 757.

The legislature of Utah territory in 1892 provided that in civil cases a verdict might be rendered by nine or more concurring jurors; held, in the following cases that the law was not in conflict with the seventh amendment to the constitution of the U. S.

Hess v. White, 9 U. 61; 33 P. 243.

Am. Pub. Co. v. Fisher, 10 U. 147; 37 P. 259.
Tucker v. Salt Lake City, 10 U. 173; 37 P. 261.
Wolf v. S. L. Brewing Co., 10 U. 179; 37 P. 262.
Riley v. Rapid Transit Co., 10 U. 428; 37 P. 681.
Pratt v. Parsons, 13 U. 31; 43 P. 620.
Smith v. S. L. City Ry. Co., 13 U. 33; 43 P. 919.
Scott v. Provo City, 14 U. 31; 45 P. 1005.
On appeal to the supreme court of the U. S., said law was declared unconstitutional.
Am. Pub. Co. v. Fisher, 166 U. S. 464.
S. L. City v. Tucker, 166 U. S. 707.

3596. (1296.) Jury of inquest. A jury of inquest is a body of persons summoned from the citizens of a particular city or precinct before a justice of the peace to inquire into particular facts.

Inquests, jurors, etc., §§ 3220-3239.

3597. (1297.) Who competent as jurors. A person shall be competent to act as a juror:

1. Who is a citizen of the United States over the age of twenty-one years; and,

2. Who can read and write the English language; and,

3. Who resides in, and has resided in the county in which such person is called upon to serve, for six months next preceding the time such person is selected; provided, that the residence required to render a person competent to serve as a juror in a justice's court or on an inquest shall be in the city or precinct for six months next preceding the time actually called to serve; and,

4. Who is a taxpayer in the state; and,

5. Who is of a reputable sound mind and discretion, and who is not so disabled in body as to be unable to serve.

Religious belief or the lack of it not to affect competency of juror, Con. art. 1, sec 10.
Unconstitutional territorial law. Act. Jan. 21, 1859, in so far as it prescribes that a juror shall be a taxpayer, is in violation of U. S. constitution, and void.
Reece v. Knott, 3 U. 451; 24 P. 757.
Id. The provision that a person shall not serve as a petit juror unless he is the owner of taxable property cannot be disregarded. The qualification must exist at the time he is offered, and not when the jury list was prepared.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.
U. S. v. Reynolds, 1 U. 227.
Color not a test of one's right to render jury service under the provisions of this section.
McPherson v. McCarrick, 22 U. 232; 61 P. 1004.

3598. (1298.) Who incompetent. A person shall not be competent to act as a juror:

1. Who does not possess the qualifications prescribed by the next preceding section;

2. Who has been convicted of malfeasance in office or any felony or other high crime;

3. Who is an officer or soldier of the United States, or a person subject to the military control thereof.

A pardon granted to an offender has the effect of amnesty, and when summoned as a juror he cannot be challenged.
U. S. v. Bassett, 5 U. 131; 13 P. 237.

3599. (1299.) Who exempt from jury duty. A person shall be exempt from liability to act as a juror who is:

1. A judicial or civil officer of the United States, or of the state of Utah, or who is a member of the organized militia of the state of Utah;

2. A person holding a county, city, town, or precinct office;

3. An attorney and counselor at law;

4. A person editing a newspaper or periodical;

5. A teacher in a university, college, academy, or school;

6. A practicing physician or surgeon;

7. An officer, keeper, or attendant of an almshouse, hospital, asylum, or other charitable institution;

8. A person engaged in the performance of duty as officer or attendant of a county jail or of the state prison;

9. An express agent, mail carrier, telegraph or telephone employe, miller, or keeper of a public ferry or toll gate;

10. A dispensing druggist of a perscription drug store;

11. A superintendent, engineer, conductor, fireman, or station agent of a railroad;

12. A person drawn as a juror in any court of record in this state, upon a regular panel, who has served as such within a year; but this exemption shall not extend to a person who is summoned as a juror for the trial of a particular case;

13. An active member of a regularly organized fire company of any city or town in this state;

14. A female citizen. Am'd '05, p. 123.

3600. (1300.) Juror excused, when. A juror cannot be excused by the court for slight or trivial cause, or for hardship or inconvenience to his business, but only when material injury or destruction to his property, or of property entrusted to him is threatened, or when his own health, or the sickness or death of a member of his family, requires his absence.

Juror excused on his own motion on first day not entitled to fees, § 2542.

Excusing jurors for the term prior to calling a cause for trial is in the sound discretion of the court.

Anderson v. Wasatch & J. V. Ry. Co., 2 U. 518.

Judge could excuse jurors at chambers before court convened.

State v. Bates, 25 U. 1; 69 P. 70.

The provisions of §§ 1678, 1817 are not in conflict with, but in addition to, § 3600, enumerating causes authorizing the court to discharge jurors, and § 3618, providing that the clerk, on the day trial jurors are summoned to appear, shall call their names, and that the names of those not excused shall be put into the trial jury box.

Id.

3601. (1301.) Person exempt, how excused if summoned. If a person exempt from liability to act as a juror, as provided in this title, be summoned as a juror, he may make and transmit his affidavit to the clerk of the court for which he is summoned, stating his office, occupation, or employment; and such affidavit shall be delivered by the clerk to the judge of the court when the name of such person is called, and if sufficient in substance, shall be received as an excuse for non-attendance in person. The affidavit shall then be filed by the clerk.

3602. (1302.) Appointment of jury commissioners. The judge or judges of the district court of each county shall, prior to December 1st of each calendar year, appoint for the next calendar year two persons as jury commissioners, who shall be voters of the county, well known to be of opposite politics and of good character for intelligence, morality, and integrity.

Ind. R. S. (1881) § 1385*.

The provisions of this section fixing time for appointment of jury commissioners, as well as § 3606, providing for the selection of jurors by them, is directory as to time.

Nelson v. Southern P. Co., 18 U. 244; 55 P. 364.

The provisions of this section and § 3606 are directory merely, and an objection to the panel on the ground that the commissioners were appointed and made their selections after Jan. 1, 1896, was properly overruled.

Williams v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 18 U. 210; 54 P. 991.

3603. (1303.) Id. Notification. Oath. Such commissioners shall be immediately notified of their appointment by the clerk, and, before entering upon the duties of their office, take an oath or affirmation before the county clerk in the following form: "You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will honestly and without favor or prejudice, perform the duties of jury commissioners during the term of your office; that in selecting persons to be drawn as jurors you will select none but persons whom you believe to be of good repute for intelligence and honesty; that you will select none whom you have been requested to select, and that in all your selections you will endeavor to promote only the impartial administration of justice."

Ind. R. S (1881) § 1385*.

3604. (1304.) Who disqualified. Refusal to act. No person shall be appointed a jury commissioner who, at the time, is party to or interested in a cause pending in the county which may be tried by a jury to be drawn during the calendar year next succeeding his appointment. Any person appointed a jury commissioner, who shall fail to take upon himself such office, or, having accepted the same, shall fail without good cause to discharge any of the duties thereof, shall be deemed guilty of contempt of court, and shall be summarily punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100.

Ind. R. S. (1881) § 1391*.

3605. (1305.) Filling vacancy in office of jury commissioner. Compensation. Should a vacancy occur in the office of jury commissioner at any time, or should any such commissioner fail to act when required, the district judge shall appoint a person, either in open court or by letter or telegram, to fill such vacancy or to act for the time being, as the case may require, who shall take the oath required by § 3603. For the time actually and necessarily employed in the performance of his duties, each jury commissioner shall be allowed by the board of county commissioners of the county in which such service is rendered $3 per day, and upon such allowance the county auditor shall draw his warrant therefor and the same shall be paid out of the county treasury. Am'd '05, p. 14.

3606. (1306.) Selection of jurors. It shall be the duty of the jury commissioners, before the 15th day of December, after their appointment, to select from the names of the legal voters on the assessment roll of the county for the current year, a written list of names from which the grand and petit jurors shall be drawn to serve in the district court of such county during the succeeding calendar year. In making the selection of names, they shall choose only those who are not exempt from serving on juries, who are in possession of their faculties, who are not infirm or decrepit, who are well informed and free from legal exceptions, and, as far as practicable, who have not been returned on the jury list of the next preceding year. No person shall be selected as a juror who is known to them to be interested in or has a cause pending which may be tried by a jury to be drawn from the names so selected, or who, either personally or by any other means, has solicited his selection as such.

Ind. R. S. (1881) § 1386*.
The provisions of this section, providing for the selection of jurors by jury commissioners, as well as those of § 3602, fixing time for appointment of commissioners, is directory as to time.

Nelson v. Southern P. Co., 18 U. 244; 55 P. 364.
Williams v. O. S L. R. R. Co., 18 U. 210; 54 P. 991.

3607. (1307.) Id. Number. List. In counties in which at the last general election more than 4,000 votes were cast, there shall be selected four names for every 100 votes cast; and in counties in which, at such election, a less number of votes were cast, there shall be selected six names for every 100 votes so cast; provided, that in no case shall less than seventy-five names be selected. Names shall be selected, as far as practicable, from the several precincts of the county in proportion to the number of votes cast therein. The name and residence of each person selected shall be entered upon a list. The list shall be certified by the jury commissioners, and shall be filed immediately after its preparation in the office of the clerk of the district court; and a duplicate copy, made and duly certified by the clerk, shall be filed in the office of the sheriff.

3608. (1308.) Commissioners kept free from intrusion. During the preparation of the list of jurors, the jury commissioners shall be kept free from the intrusion of any person, and shall not separate without leave of court until they shall have completed the duties required.

Ark. Dig. of S. (1894) § 4270.

3609. (1309.) Names of jurors deposited in "jury box." On receiving such list, the county clerk shall file the same in his office, and shall write down the names contained therein on separate pieces of paper of the same size and appearance, as nearly as may be, and shall fold up each of such pieces of paper, so as to conceal the names thereon, and deposit them in a box to be kept by him for such purpose, to be labeled "jury box." Before depositing the names in such box, the clerk shall destroy the papers therein containing the names of jurors theretofore selected.

3610. (1310.) Drawing grand and petit jurors. Officers to be present. At least fifteen days before any term of the court at which a petit jury shall be required by law, or a grand jury be ordered by the court, the clerk of the county where such court is to be held shall draw from the jury box such number of names to serve as petit jurors and such number to serve as grand jurors as the judge may verbally, by letter, or by telegram direct. The names of persons to serve as grand jurors shall be drawn first. At least three days before the drawing of such jurors, the clerk shall give notice to the county attorney and the county treasurer of the day and hour when such drawing will take place. At the date so appointed, it shall be the duty of such officers to attend at the clerk's office to witness such drawing, and if any two of such officers shall attend at the time and place appointed, the clerk shall proceed in their presence to draw the jurors. If two of the officers so notified do not appear, the clerk shall adjourn the drawing of such jurors until the next day, and shall, by written notice, require any justice of the peace of the county to attend such drawing on the adjourned day.

Drawing of grand jury discretionary with judge, § 8786; Con. art. 1, sec. 13.
Grand jury impaneled from jurors obtained on venire issued not less than thirty days prior to beginning of term is not legal.
Thorp v. People, 3 U. 441; 24 P. 908.

3611. (1311.) Drawing, how conducted. The clerk shall conduct such drawing as follows:

1. He shall shake the jury box so as to thoroughly mix the slips of paper upon which the names of the jurors are written;

2. He shall then publicly draw out of the box as many of said slips as shall be required by law, or ordered by the judge;

3. A minute of the drawing shall be kept by one of the attending officers, in which shall be entered the name contained on every slip of paper so drawn before any other such slip shall be drawn;

4. If, after drawing the whole number required for grand or petit jurors, the name of any person shall appear to have been drawn who is dead or insane, or who has removed from the county, to the knowledge of the clerk or any other attending officer, or who is exempt from such service, an entry of such fact shall be made in the minute of the drawing, and the slip containing such name shall be destroyed;

5. Another name shall then be drawn in place of that contained on the slip so destroyed, and shall be entered in the minute of the drawing;

6. The same proceedings shall be had as often as may be necessary to complete the whole number of jurors required;

7. The minute of the drawing shall then be signed by the clerk and the attending officers, and filed in the clerk's office;

8. Separate lists of the names of the persons so drawn for petit jurors and for grand jurors, with their places of residence, shall be made and certified by the clerk and attending officers, and delivered to the sheriff of the county. The clerk of the court shall issue a venire to the sheriff or his deputy directing him to summon the persons so drawn. The slips so drawn from the box shall be preserved, but shall not be returned to nor again placed therein until the balance of the slips therein shall have been drawn out; provided, that if, during the year, all of the slips shall have been drawn from the box, they must be again placed therein, and the same procedure had as hereinbefore provided.

Act of clerk in restoring to the jury box, before it was exhausted, slips containing the names of jurors which had been drawn therefrom, was not prejudicial to the defendant in a murder case, where subsequently, and before he was brought to trial, all the names were drawn from the box and again placed therein.
State v. White, 40 U. 342; 121 P. 579.

3612. (1312.) Additional drawing. Open venire. Costs. If, during any term of the district court, any additional grand or petit jurors shall be necessary, the same shall be drawn from the said box by the sheriff or his deputy in open court; but if in the judgment of the court the attendance of those drawn cannot be obtained within a reasonable time, they may be laid aside and other names may be drawn in their place and in the same manner. If on payment of $30 any person having a case to be tried shall, in open court on the day next preceding the trial, demand a new list of jurors, the judge shall order a drawing for such number of jurors as he may deem necessary to try such case, in the same manner, but such jurors so drawn shall not be used on the regular panel. If all names become exhausted at any term, the judge may order an open venire for such number of jurors as he may deem necessary, who shall be summoned to serve. In no case shall the money so paid be taxed as costs. Am'd '01, p. 154.

The district court under the Poland act might issue an open venire to summon jurors.
U. S. v. Clawson, 4 U. 34; 5 P. 689; affirmed 114 U. S. 477.
Where the venire of jurors for the term has been exhausted and additional names are drawn from the box, the names of jurors not readily accessible because residing at a distance may properly be laid aside and other names drawn.
State v. Cluff, 48 U. 102; 158 P. 701.

3613. (1313.) Separate panels in certain districts. In districts having more than one judge, each judge therein shall have the power to order drawn such number of grand and petit jurors as may be necessary to serve in the court presided over by such judge.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the several judges of a district may proceed as provided in §§ 3610, 3611, and order a general panel of jurors to be drawn in each county in the district, for the purposes of the district court of such county, and the jurors so drawn may serve in any division of such court in the county where drawn.
Conner v. Salt Lake City, 28 U. 248; 78 P. 479.

3614. (1314.) Copies of list, when furnished. The clerk of the district court must furnish any person applying therefor, and paying the fees allowed by law for the same, a copy of the list of jurors drawn to attend any court.

3615. (1315.) Service of venire by mail. It shall be the duty of the clerk when issuing any venire for jurors to ascertain, whenever practicable, and insert therein, their postoffice addresses; and when the venire shall have been received for service by the sheriff, if the time is sufficient for service by mail, he shall address to each person summoned, whose postoffice address shall have been given or can be promptly ascertained, a notice requiring such person to be and appear at the time and place for the purpose mentioned in the venire. The sheriff shall sign the notice officially, and shall register and mail it, postage and registry fee prepaid, to the person summoned, at his postoffice address, with a request indorsed on the envelope in the usual form for the return of the letter to the sender, if not delivered within five days. The receipt of such registered letter by the person to whom it is addressed shall be deemed valid service upon him of the venire, and the returned registry receipt signed by such person or by any other person in his behalf, shall be taken as prima facie evidence of service, and the sheriff shall make return accordingly.

3616. (1316.) Personal service. If the time is insufficient for service of the notice by mail, or if having been sent it shall be returned through the mail undelivered, the sheriff may make or cause to be made personal service of the venire.

Notices, etc., may be sent by telegraph or telephone, §§ 6117, 6118.
Under provisions of § 1523, where the sheriff is a party, in view of §§ 3606 et seq., showing that sheriff has nothing to do with the selection and drawing of jurors, but is only required to summon them in the manner prescribed, a reversal for the denial of defendant's challenge to the panel on the sole ground that the sheriff served the venire is not justified.
Whipple v. Preece, 24 U. 364; 67 P. 1072.

3617. (1317.) Id. How made. Whenever, after the return through the mail of notice, it shall be necessary to make personal service of the same, and the person upon whom service is to be made resides or is to be found at a place other than that at which the court issuing such venire is held, then, except in cases of emergency, such venire shall be by the officer having the same for service sent by mail to any sheriff or deputy sheriff residing nearest the locality where such service is to be made, and such sheriff or deputy sheriff shall make return to the officer sending the same by mail.

3618. (1318.) Names of trial jurors, how kept. At the opening of the court on the day trial jurors have been summoned to appear, the clerk shall call their names, and the court may then hear their excuses; the names of those attending and not excused must then be written by the clerk upon separate slips of paper, folded so as to conceal the names, placed in a box, to be called the "trial jury box," and thoroughly shaken. From this box the trial jury must be drawn.

Impaneling jury, §§ 6790, 8927.
Fees of jurors, § 2542.
Juror excused on first day on his own motion not entitled to fees, § 2542.
The provisions of §§ 1678, 1817, are not in conflict with, but in addition to § 3600, enumerating causes authorizing the court to discharge jurors, and the provisions of this section.
State v. Bates, 25 U. 1; 69 P. 70.

3619. (1319.) Grand jury, how formed. When, of the persons summoned as grand jurors competent and not excused, seven are present, they shall constitute the grand jury. If more than seven of such persons are present, their names must be written by the clerk on separate ballots, folded so as to conceal the names, and placed in a box. The clerk must then draw out of the box seven ballots, and the persons whose names are thereon shall constitute the grand jury.

Grand jury to consist of seven; five may find an indictment, Con. art. 1, sec. 13; §§ 8787, 8820.

Fees of grand jurors, § 2542.

3620. (1320.) Jurors in justice's court. Summoning. When jurors are required in any jusice's court, the number required by law must, upon the order of the justice thereof, be summoned by a peace officer of the jurisdiction.

Fees of jurors in justices' courts, § 2550.

Payment of fees in advance, § 2554.

3621. (1321.) Id. Qualifications. Such jurors must be summoned from the persons resident in either the city or precinct, competent to serve as jurors, and not exempt from such service, by notifying them orally that they are so summoned, and of the time and place at which their attendance is required.

3622. (1322.) Id. Return. The officer summoning such jurors must, at or before the time fixed for their appearance, return the order to the court, with a list of the persons summoned indorsed thereon.

3623. (1323.) Id. Number summoned. How drawn. At the time appointed for a jury trial in justices' courts, the list of jurors summoned, which shall be eight, or double the number agreed upon before the trial by the parties, must be called, and the names of those attending and not excused must be written upon separate slips of paper, folded so as to conceal the names, and placed in a box, from which the trial jury must be drawn.

Jury trial in justice's court, civil procedure, §§ 7485-7487.

Jury trial in justice's court, criminal procedure, §§ 9434-9445.

TITLE 58.

LABOR.

CHAPTER 1.

BOARD OF LABOR.

3634. (1324.) Appointment. Qualifications. Term. Upon the approval of this chapter (March 14, 1901), the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall appoint three persons, not more than two of whom shall belong to the same political party, who shall be styled a state board of labor, conciliation, and arbitration. One shall be an employer of labor; another shall be an employe and be selected from some labor organization; the third shall be some person who is neither an employe nor an employer of manual labor, and shall be chairman of the board. One shall serve for one year, one for three years, and one for five years, as may be designated by the governor at the time of their appointment. At the expiration of their terms their successors shall be appointed in like manner for the term of four years. Should a vacancy occur at any time, the governor shall, in the same manner, appoint some one to serve the unexpired term, and until the appointment and qualification of his successor. Each member of said board shall, before entering upon his duties, take the constitutional oath of office. Am'd '01, p. 68.

Authority for creation of board, Con. art. 16, sec. 2.

Duties of board imposed on industrial commission, sub. 9 § 3076.

3635. (1325.) Secretary. The board shall select from its members a secretary and shall establish suitable rules of procedure. Am'd '01, p. 68.

3636. (1326.) Duty of board when strike or lockout is threatened. Whenever it shall come to the knowledge of the said board that a strike, or lockout is seriously threatened in the state, involving any employer and his employes, if he is employing not less than ten persons, it shall be the duty of the said board to put itself into communication as soon as may be with such employer and employes, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement. Said board shall also request each of the parties to forward to its secretary an application for arbitration. R. S. '98, § 1333; '01, p. 68.

Bureau of immigration, labor, and statistics, §§ 3024-3034.

Duties of this chapter imposed on the industrial commission, sub. 9, § 3076.

Laborers may organize, §§ 3651-3658.

3637. (1327.) Duty of board after application to arbitrate received. As soon as practicable after receiving such applications, the board shall request each of the parties to the dispute to agree upon a written statement of facts relating to the controversy, and to submit the same to the board; provided, that, when such agreement and statement cannot be reached, each of said parties may separately submit to the board a written statement of grievances. Applications to the said board for arbitration on the part of employers must precede any lockout, and, on the part of the employes, any strike; provided, that, in case lockout or strike already exists, the board shall accord arbitration if the parties shall resume their relations with each other, as employers and employes. Said applications shall include a promise to abide by the decision of the board and shall be signed by the employer or employers, or his or their authorized agent, on the one side, and by a majority of his or their employes on the other. '01, p. 69.

3638. (1328.) Board to arbitrate. May employ stenographer. As soon as practicable after receiving said applications, the board shall proceed to arbitrate. When it shall be necessary, in the judgment of said board, it may engage the services of a stenographer to take and transcribe an account of any arbitration proceedings. '01, p. 69.

3639. (1329.) May subpœna witnesses. General powers. The board shall have power to summon as witnesses by subpœna any operative or expert in departments of business affected, and any person who keeps the record of wages earned in those departments, or any other person, and to administer oaths, and to examine said witnesses, and to require the production of books, papers, and records. In case of disobedience to a subpœna the board may invoke the aid of any court in the state in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books, papers, and documents under the provisions of this section. Any of the district courts of the state, within the jurisdiction of which such inquiry is carried on, may, in case of contumacy, or refusal to obey a subpœna issued to any such witness, issue an order requiring such witness to appear before said board and produce books and papers if so ordered, and give evidence touching the matter in question. Any refusal to obey such order of the court may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof. R. S. '98, § 1330; '01, p. 69.

3640. (1330.) Mayors and sheriffs to notify board of threatened strikes or lockouts. It shall be the duty of mayors of cities and sheriffs of counties, when any condition likely to lead to a strike or lockout exists in the cities or districts where they have jurisdiction, to immediately forward information of the same to the secretary of the state board of conciliation and arbitration. Such information shall include the names and addresses of persons who should be communicated with by the board. '01, p. 69.

3641. (1331.) Sheriff to serve process. Any notice or process issued by the state board of labor, conciliation, and arbitration shall be served by any sheriff to whom the same may be directed, or in whose hands the same may be placed for service, without charge. R. S. '98, § 1335; '01, p. 69.

3642. (1332.) Decision of board. As soon as practicable after the board has investigated the differences existing between employer and employes, it shall make an equitable decision, which shall state what, if anything, should be done by either or both parties to the dispute, in order to amicably settle and adjust the differences existing between them. The findings of a majority of the board shall constitute its decision. R. S. '98, § 1331; '01, p. 70.

3643. (1333.) Decision to be recorded and made public. This decision shall at once be made public; shall be recorded upon the proper book of record to be kept by the secretary of said board, and a short statement thereof published in an annual report to be made to the governor before the 1st day of March, of each year. R. S. '98, § 1327; '01, p. 70.

3644. (1334.) Compensation of members. The members of the board shall each receive a compensation of $4 for each day's service while engaged in arbitration, said compensation to be paid by the parties to the controversy in such proportion as the board may decide; they shall also receive the actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties, which expenses shall be paid out of the state treasury.

R. S. '98, § 1334; '01, p. 70.

CHAPTER 2.

BETTERING CONDITIONS OF LABOR.

('17, p. 210.)

3651. Labor unions not unlawful. It shall not be unlawful for working men and women to organize themselves into, or carry on, labor unions for the purpose of lessening the hours of labor, increasing the wages, bettering the conditions of the members of such organization; or carrying out their legitimate purposes as freely as they could do if acting singly.

Unlawful to coerce one to join or support organization, §§ 8329, 8330.

Penalty for soliciting or receiving money from employes, § 8326.

3652. Injunctions in labor disputes prohibited. No restraining order or injunction shall be granted by any court of the state of Utah, or a judge or the judges thereof, in any case between an employer and employes, or between employers and employes, or between employers, or between persons employed and persons seeking employment, involving, or growing out of, a dispute concerning terms or conditions of employment, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property, or to a property right of the party making the application, for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law, and such property or property rights must be described with particularity in the application, which must be in writing and sworn to by the applicant, or by his agent or attorney.

3653. Right to cease labor secured. Right to assemble. And no such restraining order or injunction shall prohibit any person or persons, whether singly or in concert, from terminating any relation of employment, or from ceasing to perform any work or labor, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means so to do; or from attending at any place where such person or persons may lawfully be, for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, or from peacefully persuading any person to work or to abstain from working; or from ceasing to patronize or to employ any party to such dispute, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means and lawful means so to do; or from paying or giving to or withholding from any person engaged in such dispute any strike benefits or other moneys or things of value; or from peaceably assembling in a lawful manner, and for lawful purposes; or from doing any act or thing which might lawfully be done in the absence of such dispute by any party thereto; nor shall any of the acts specified in this paragraph be considered or held to be violations of the law of the state of Utah.

3654. Contempts. Orders to show cause. Procedure. Bail. Whenever it shall be made to appear to any district court or judge thereof, or to any judge therein sitting, by the return of a proper officer on lawful process, or upon the affidavit of some creditable person, or by information filed by any district attorney, that there is reasonable ground to believe that any person has been guilty of such contempt, the court or judge thereof, or any judge therein sitting, may issue a rule requiring the said person so charged to show cause upon a day certain why he should not be punished therefor, which rule, together with a copy of the affidavit or information, shall be served upon the person charged, with sufficient promptness to enable him to prepare for and make return to the order at the time fixed therein. If upon or by such return, in the judgment of the court, the alleged contempt be not sufficiently purged, a trial shall be directed at a time and place fixed by the court; provided, however, that if the accused, being a natural person, fail or refuse to make return to the rule to show cause, an attachment may issue against his person to compel an answer, and in case of his continued failure or refusal, or if for any reason it be impracticable to dispose of the matter on the return day, he may be required to give reasonable bail for his attendance at the trial and his submission to the final judgment of the court. Where the accused is a body corporate, an attachment for the sequestration of its property may be issued upon like refusal or failure to answer.

3655. Trial by jury. In all cases within the purview of this chapter, such trial may be by the court, or, upon demand of the accused, by a jury; in which latter event the court may impanel a jury from the jurors then in attendance, or the court or the judge thereof in chambers may cause a sufficient number of jurors to be selected and summoned, as provided by law, to attend at the time and place of trial, at which time a jury shall be selected and impaneled as upon a trial for misdemeanor; and such trial shall conform, as near as may be, to the practice in criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or upon information.

3656. Judgment. Payments. Limitations. If the accused be found guilty, judgment shall be entered accordingly, prescribing the punishment, either by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. Such fine shall be paid to the state of Utah, or to the complainant, or other party injured by the act constituting the contempt, or may, where more than one is so damaged, be divided or apportioned among them as the court may direct, but in no case shall the fine to be paid to the state of Utah exceed, in case the accused is a natural person, the sum of $1000, nor shall such imprisonment exceed the term of six months; provided, that in any case the court or a judge thereof may, for good cause shown, by affidavit, or proof taken in open court or before such judge and filed with the papers in the case, dispense with the rule to show cause, and may issue an attachment for the arrest of the person charged with contempt; in which event such person, when arrested, shall be brought before such court or a judge thereof without unnecessary delay, and shall be admitted to bail in reasonable penalty for his appearance to answer to the charge or for trial for the contempt; and thereafter the proceedings shall be the same as provided herein in case the rule had issued in the first instance.

3657. Anti-trust laws not applicable to labor organizations. The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Nothing contained in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of labor, agricultural, or horticultural organizations, instituted for the purpose of mutual help, and not having capital stock or conducted for profit, or to forbid or restrain individual members of such organizations from lawfully carrying out the legitimate objects thereof; nor shall such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade, under the anti-trust laws.

3658. Right of trial by jury—practice. In all cases where persons are charged with contempt of court for the violation of writs of injunction, issued within the purview of this chapter, unless such contempt be committed in the immediate presence of the court, the accused shall have the right to a jury trial upon demand, and, in case a jury trial be demanded, such jury shall be selected and impaneled as in criminal cases, and the trial shall conform as nearly as may be to the district court practice in criminal cases.

CHAPTER 3.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

3666. (1336.) On public works. Eight hours shall constitute a day's work in all penal institutions in this state, whether state, county, or municipal, and on all works and undertakings carried on or aided by the state, county, or municipal governments. Any officer of the state or of any county or municipal government, or any person, corporation, firm, contractor, agent, manager, or foreman, who shall require or contract with any person to work in any penal institution or upon such works or undertakings longer than eight hours in one calendar day, except in cases of emergency, where life or property is in imminent danger, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Am'd '01, p. 37; '03, p. 85.

Authorized by Con. art. 16, sec. 6.
Limiting hours of employment of females, § 3677.
This law held to be constitutional.
State v. Holden, 14 U. 96; 46 P. 1105.
Ex parte Holden, 14 U. 71; 46 P. 756; affirmed 169 U. S. 366.
The provisions of this section and chap. 72, p. 219, laws 1896, apply with equal force to employer and employe, and a person who works for another in a mill or reduction works more than eight hours per day cannot recover on a quantum meruit for his services during the overtime.
Short v. Bullion B. & C. M. Co., 20 U. 20; 57 P. 720.

CHAPTER 4.

EMPLOYMENT OF FEMALES AND CHILDREN.

3668. (1338.) In mines and smelters forbidden. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to employ any child under fourteen years of age, or any female, to work in any mine or smelter in the state of Utah. Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Authorized by Con. art. 16, sec. 3.

3669. (1339.) Proprietor to provide seats for female help. The proprietor, manager, or person having charge of any store, shop, hotel, restaurant, or other place where women or girls are employed as clerks or help therein, shall provide chairs, stools, or other contrivances where such clerks or help may rest when not employed in the discharge of their respective duties. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

MINIMUM WAGE SCALE FOR FEMALES.

('13, p. 94.)

3671. Unlawful to pay less than scale. It shall be unlawful for any regular employer of female workers in the state of Utah to pay any woman less than the wage in this section specified, to wit: For minors, under the age of eighteen years, not less than 75 cents per day; for adult learners and apprentices, not less than 90 cents per day; provided, that the learning period of apprenticeship shall not extend for more than one year; for adults who are experienced in the work they are employed to perform, not less than $1.25 per day.

3672. Certificate of apprenticeship. All regular employers of female workers shall give a certificate of apprenticeship for time served to all apprentices.

3673. Penalty. Any regular employer of female workers who shall pay to any woman less than the wage specified in § 3671 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

3674. Commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics to enforce chapter. The commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics shall have general charge of the enforcement of this chapter, but violations of the same shall be prosecuted by all the city, state, and county prosecuting officers in the same manner as in other cases of misdemeanor.

Duties of commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics imposed on industrial commission, § 3076.

EMPLOYMENT OF FEMALES.

('11, p. 265.)

3677. Limiting hours of employment. Exceptions. No female shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment, hospital or office, or by any express or transportation company in this state, more than nine hours during any one day, or more than fifty-four hours in any one week, except in cases of emergency in hospitals and in cases of emergency or where life or property is in imminent danger or where materials are liable to spoil by the enforcement of this section.

3678. Penalty. Any person or persons, corporation, or other association engaged in conducting or operating any of the business institutions or enterprises set forth in the foregoing section, requiring or employing any female to work longer than the period of nine hours constituting a day's labor, except as above provided, or more than fifty-four hours in any one week, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100, and costs of prosecution.

Duty of commissioner of immigration, labor, and statistics, to enforce, § 3027.
The industrial commission is the commissioner of immigration, labor and statistics, sub. 9, § 3076.

CHAPTER 5.

BLACKLISTING.

Exchange of blacklists forbidden, Con. art. 12, sec. 19; art. 16, sec. 4.

3681. (1341.) Penalty. If any person or any officer or agent of any company, corporation, or individual shall blacklist, or publish, or cause to be published, any employe, mechanic, or laborer, discharged by such corporation, company, or individual, with the intent and for the purpose of preventing such employe, mechanic, or laborer from engaging in or securing similar or other employment from any other corporation, company, or individual, or shall in any manner conspire or contrive, by correspondence, or otherwise, to prevent such discharged employe from securing employment, he shall be deemed guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than $500, nor more than $1,000, and be imprisoned in the state prison not less than sixty days nor more than one year.

CHAPTER 6.

FELLOW SERVANTS.

3682. (1342.) Who are vice-principals. All persons engaged in the service of any person, firm, or corporation, foreign or domestic, doing business in this state, who are intrusted by such person, firm, or corporation as employer with the authority of superintendence, control, or command of other persons in the employ or service of such employer, or with the authority to direct any other employe in the performance of any duties of such employe, are vice-principals of such employer and are not fellow servants.

Who are fellow servants, § 3683, and note.

Negligence cases not bearing upon any provision of the statutes are not included in this volume.

NOT FELLOW SERVANTS:

The conductor of a railway train with a brakeman upon the the train.

Openshaw v. U. & N. Ry. Co., 6 U. 132.

A brakeman with a car inspector.

Daniels v. U. P. Ry. Co., 6 U. 357; 23 P. 762.

An engineer with a brakeman.

Brown v. Sou. Pac. Ry. Co., 7 U. 288; 26 P. 579.

A switchman signaling to an engine with the men repairing the car.

Pool v. Sou. Pac. Co., 7 U. 303; see same case, 160 U. S. 438.

A car repairer with an engineer.

Webb v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 7 U. 363; 26 P. 981.

Neither a section foreman nor those working under him, nor a telegraph operator, with an engineer.

Neesley v. Sou. Pac. Ry. Co., 35 U. 259; 99 P. 1067.

A yardman with the foreman of his own crew nor with the foreman of another crew working in the same yard at the same time.

Armstrong v. O. S. L. Ry. Co., 8 U. 420; 32 P. 693.

A railroad foreman having full charge of loading cars in a gravel pit with such laborers.

Anderson v. Ogden Ry and Depot Co., 8 U. 128; 30 P. 305.

A laborer in car shops and foreman of switchmen in train department.

Pool v. S. P. Co., 20 U. 210; 58 P. 326.

Plaintiff held to be a volunteer, not a servant.

Mickelson v. East Tintic Ry. Co., 23 U. 42; 64 P. 463.

The foreman of a mine having entire charge of the underground workings with a miner working under his direction.

Cunningham v. U. P. Ry. Co., 4 U. 206; 7 P. 795.

Trihay v. Brooklyn Mining Co., 4 U. 468; 11 P. 612.

A superintendent of a mine with a common laborer.

Reddon v. U. P. Ry. Co., 5 U. 344; 15 P. 262.

A miner with one employed as a tool-carrier, whose only duty it is to take sharpened tools into the mine and throw them off at various levels and bring up the dull ones.

Jenkins v. Mammoth M. Co., 24 U. 513; 68 P. 845.

A miner with one whose duty it is to manage and operate a cage by which the miners are conveyed in and out of the mine.

Id.

Acting foreman on telegraph line with a lineman.

Fritz v. Western Union T. Co., 25 U. 263; 71 P. 209.

Two miners working on different levels.

Shields v. Silver King Coalition, 50 U. —; 166 P. 988.

A furnaceman with grater whom he directs,

Utah Con. M. Co. v. Paxton, 150 F. 114.

A mucker called to assist in removing certain timbers from cars by means of the hoisting engine with the engineer.

Vota v. Ohio Copper Co., 42 U. 129; 129 P. 349.

Employes working under a superintendent in repairing the right-of-way of a railroad, while being carried by a train to their work with the train crew.

Jachetta v. San Pedro etc. R. R. Co., 36 U. 470; 105 P. 100.

Where two sections of a train are operated as two distinct and independent trains, the members of the crew of one section with the members of the crew of the other section.

Meyers v. San Pedro etc. R. R. Co., 36 U. 307; 104 P. 736.

A man working on the railroad tracks with those operating the trains.

Groo v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 47 U. 26; 150 P. 970.

Where a foreman of a mine, as the agent of the company, selects an employe to take the place temporarily of another employe who is excused from work, and the person so selected is subject to the direction and control of the company, which may discharge him at any time, the relationship between him and the company is that of master and servant.

Wilson v. Sioux Con. M. Co., 16 U. 392; 52 P. 626.

VICE PRINCIPALS:

Whatever was done by the foreman in the mine in leaving the hole in the platform was chargeable to the company.

Downey v. Gemini M. Co., 24 U. 431; 68 P. 414.

Where, in an action for injuries, the uncontradicted evidence showed that B. was defendant's foreman, it was not error for the court to assume that he was a vice-principal.

Black v. Rocky Mt. Bell Tel. Co., 26 U. 451; 73 P. 514.

Persons engaged in the service of the master, who are intrusted by him with the management or direction of his general work, or with some particular part thereof, are not fellow servants with the subordinate employes, but vice-principals.

Johnson v. U. P. Coal Co., 28 U. 46; 76 P. 1089.

In the absence of a statute in Nevada defining fellow servants, the test to be applied is whether the negligent act which caused the injury was a breach of a positive duty owing by the master to his servant, in which case the person performing the act is a vice-principal, and not a fellow servant.

Morrison v. San Pedro R. Co., 32 U. 85; 88 P. 998.

Merrill v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 29 U. 264; 81 P. 85.

Pool v. S. P. Co., 20 U. 210; 58 P. 326.

Where the facts are undisputed, whether coemployes are fellow-servants is a question of law for the court; but if facts are disputed, the court should construe the statutes, and leave the question to the jury.

Shepherd v. D. & R. G. R. R. Co., 41 U. 469; 126 P. 692.

In an action for wrongful death of a servant of a railroad company killed in a foreign state, it will be presumed, in the absence of evidence thereon, that laws similar to the above section and § 6505 were in force at the place of the accident, and that under such laws the employes in charge of the railroad train were not fellow servants of track laborers.

Grow v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 44 U. 160; 138 P. 398.

A charge in the language of the statute as to what constitutes vice-principals and fellow servants was error, but as the evidence showed that the plaintiff and the person causing the injury were not fellow servants, it was not prejudicial.

Dimmick v. Utah Fuel Co., 49 U. 430; 164 P. 872.

An engineer who operates a mine hoist carrying miners to and from the lower level is to them a vice-principal.

Farnon v. Silver King Coalition M. Co., 50 U. —; 167 P. 675.

One having the general control and supervision of railroad repair work and giving general directions respecting the movements of work trains is a vice-principal of the laborers employed to do repair work.

Jechetta v. San Pedro, etc., R. R. Co., 36 U. 470; 105 P. 100.

3683. (1343.) Who are fellow servants. All persons who are engaged in the service of such employer, and who, while so engaged, are in the same grade of service and are working together at the same time and place and to a common purpose, neither of such persons being intrusted by such employer with any superintendence or control over his fellow employes, are fellow servants with each other; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to make the employes of such employer fellow servants with other employes engaged in any other department of service of such employer. Employes who do not come within the provisions of this section shall not be considered fellow servants.

Who are not fellow servants, § 3682, and note.

Defense of fellow servant allowed when employer carries insurance, § 3127; and denied when employer does not carry insurance, § 3129.

WHO ARE FELLOW SERVANTS:

The above definition of the term "fellow servants" is one that the legislature had authority to make.

Dryburg v. Mercur M. Co., 18 U. 410; 55 P. 367.

In an action for injuries received prior to fellow servant law of 1896, the relation of plaintiff and the engineer was to be determined by common law rule, and, under it, they were fellow servants.

Stoll v. Daly M. Co., 19 U. 271; 57 P. 295.

A track walker of railroad company, under common law, is fellow servant with an engineer.

Stephani v. S. P. Co., 19 U. 196; 57 P. 34.

The common law rule that a train conductor is not a fellow servant with his subordinates cannot be changed by a regulation of the company.

Id.

The shift bosses were, as to one another, fellow servants, and defendant was not liable for their carelessness, unless the carelessness was brought to the attention of the defendant, who negligently failed to communicate the danger to the plaintiff.

Anderson v. Daly M. Co., 16 U. 28; 50 P. 815.

In Idaho the foreman was a fellow servant of plaintiff, who was a member of a fence gang, and hence plaintiff could not recover for his negligence in permitting the rear car to be run in violation of the rules.

Sartin v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 27 U. 447; 76 P. 219.

Instruction defining fellow servants held sufficient.

Braegger v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 24 U. 391; 68 P. 140

In Nevada, whose statutes do not define who are fellow servants, a foreman is a fellow servant with one of bridge crew.

Owens v. San Pedro Co., 31 U. 208; 89 P. 825.

Decisions on the test to be applied in Nevada, note to § 3682.

Where an injury is the result of two concurring causes, and the master is responsible for or contributed to one of them, he is not exempt from liability because a fellow servant who is responsible for the other cause may have also been culpable. The servant assumes the risk and negligence of a fellow servant, but not that of the master.

Jenkins v. Mammoth M. Co., 24 U. 513; 68 P. 845.

Handley v. Daly M. Co., 15 U. 176; 49 P. 295.

Pool v. S. P. Co., 20 U. 210; 58 P. 326.

The employer is liable for an injury to an employe from the concurrent negligence of the master and fellow servants.

Hicks v. S. P. Co., 27 U. 526; 76 P. 625.

Merrill v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 29 U. 264; 81 P. 85.

Wright v. Sou. Pac. Co., 15 U. 421; 46 P. 374.

A laborer engaged in the construction of a road bed and a brakeman on a construction train hauling gravel for the road bed are fellow servants.

Lukic v. So. Pac. Co., 160 F. 135.

CHAPTER 7.

WAGES A PREFERRED DEBT.

3684. (1344.) When business is suspended. When any property of any company, corporation, firm, or person shall be seized upon by any process of any court, or when their business shall be suspended by the act of creditors, or be put into the hands of a receiver, assignee, or trustee, either by voluntary or involuntary action, the wages, not to exceed $400 to each claimant, owing to workmen, clerks, traveling or city salesmen, or servants for work or labor performed within five months next preceding the seizure or transfer of such property or merchandise, shall be considered and treated as preferred debts, and such workmen, clerks, traveling or city salesmen, or servants shall be preferred creditors and shall first be paid in full; and if there be not sufficient to pay them in full, then the same shall be paid to them pro rata, after paying costs; provided, however, that no officer, director, or general manager of such a corporation nor any member in such association or partnership shall be entitled to the preference herein provided. Am'd '13, p. 26.

Lien of mechanics, etc., § 3722.

Wages preferred in assignments, § 296.

The claims of the operatives of a street railroad for work performed sixty days next preceding the appointment of a receiver are entitled to priority over a trust deed on the company's property, since such work is done for the benefit of the mortgagees.

Litzenberger v. Jarvis-Conklin Trust Co., 8 U. 15; 28 P. 871.

Chap. 30, laws of 1892, declaring that debts due for services performed by laborers within six months before the seizure of the debtor's property on process, or the suspension of his business by the action of creditors, or before his property shall be put in the hands of a receiver or trustee, shall be treated as preferred, does not affect the rights of the existing grantees, mortgages, or lienholders.

Salt Lake Litho. Co. v. Ibex M. and S. Co., 15 U. 440; 49 P. 768.

Id., 15 U. 445; 49 P. 832.

A court of equity, when called upon to appoint a receiver of railroad property, with power to operate the road and conduct its business pending a foreclosure suit, may, in the exercise of its judicial discretion, as a condition of issuing the order, direct the receiver, out of money coming to his hands from such business, to pay the outstanding debts for labor, supplies, equipments, or permanent improvements of the mortgaged property as may under the circumstances of the order be reasonable Central Trust Co. v. Utah Cent. Ry. Co., 16 U. 12; 50 P. 813.

3685. (1345.) Claim. Notice to persons interested. Any such employe, laborer, or servant desiring to enforce his claim for wages under this chapter shall present a statement, under oath, showing the amount due after allowing all just credits and set-offs, the kind of work for which such wages are due, and when performed, to the officer, person, or court charged with such property, within ten days after the seizure thereof on any writ of attachment, or within thirty days after the same may have been placed in the hands of any receiver, assignee, or trustee; any person with whom any such claim shall have been filed shall give immediate notice thereof by mail to all persons interested; and it shall be the duty of the person or the court receiving such statement to pay the amount of such claim or claims to the person or persons entitled thereto, after first paying all costs occasioned by the seizure of such property, out of the proceeds of the sale of the property seized, if the claim be not contested as provided in the next succeeding section.

3686. (1346.) Contest of claim. Costs. Any person interested may contest such claim or claims, or any part thereof, by filing exceptions thereto, supported by affidavit, with the officer having the custody of such property, within ten days after the notice of presentment of said statement, and thereupon the claimant shall be required to reduce his claim to judgment before some court having jurisdiction thereof, before any part thereof shall be paid, and the party contesting shall be made a party defendant in any such action and shall have the right to contest such claim, and the prevailing party shall recover proper costs.

CHAPTER 8.

ATTORNEYS' FEES IN SUITS FOR WAGES.

3687. (1347.) When allowed. Amount. Whenever a mechanic, artisan, miner, laborer, servant, or employe shall have cause to bring suit for wages earned and due according to the terms of his employment, and shall establish by the decision of the court or verdict of the jury that the amount for which he has brought suit is justly due, and that a demand had been made in writing, at least fifteen days before suit was brought, for a sum not to exceed the amount so found due, then it shall be the duty of the court before which the case shall be tried to allow to the plaintiff a reasonable attorney's fee in addition to the amount found due for wages, to be taxed as costs of suit. In a justice's court such attorney's fee shall not be more than $5, and in the district court not more than $10, except in cases on appeal from a justice's court to the district court, when he plaintiff may recover an attorney's fee, not exceeding $25.

Attorneys' fees generally, § 346.
Attorneys' fees in foreclosure of lien for labor, etc., § 3750; in action on bond for public work, § 3755; on appeal from industrial commission, § 3148.

Sec. 3750 providing for attorneys' fee to lien claimant held unconstitutional prior to amendment of 1899.
Brubaker v. Bennett, 19 U. 401; 57 P. 170.

CHAPTER 9.

INTERFERENCE WITH PERSONAL RIGHTS.

3688. (1347x.) Unlawful to interfere with the rights of any individual. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, association of persons, combination of persons, or body of persons to interfere with the rights of any individual engaged in labor, to exercise his full privileges under the constitution of this state or of the United States, as to where he shall be employed, by whom he shall be employed and at what compensation he shall be employed. Any one violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Rights of the individual, Con. art. 1, sec. 1-27.
Intimidating an employe a misdemeanor, § 8493.

Unlawful coercion prohibited, § 8329.
Workers may organize, § 3651.

TITLE 59.

LEGISLATURE.

('11, p. 2.)

3690. Bills and documents to be engrossed or typewritten. All bills and other documents ordered enrolled or engrossed by the legislature shall be delivered to the engrossing clerk of the house ordering the enrollment or engrossment, who shall, without delay, have them properly engrossed with pen and ink or typewritten with record ink on suitable paper in the order received by him.

TITLE 60.

LIBEL.

3692. (1348.) Libel published in good faith. Retraction. Damages. If it shall appear on the trial of any action brought for the publication of any alleged libel in any newspaper published in this state, that the said alleged libel was published in good faith, that the publication thereof was due to mistake or misapprehension of the facts, and that a full and fair retraction of any statement therein alleged to be erroneous was published in the next regular issue of such newspaper, or in case of daily papers, within three days after such mistake or misapprehension was brought to the notice of such publisher or publishers, at the head of the second column on the editorial page in the same type as was the article complained of as libelous, for three days, reference to such retraction to be made also on the local page of such paper; provided, that if such libel was published in the Sunday edition of such newspaper, one of the publications of the retraction herein provided for shall be in an edition of such newspaper published on a Sunday; then the plaintiff in such cases shall recover only actual damages; provided, that the provisions of this title shall not apply to the case of any libel against any candidate for a public office at any election in this state, or avowed candidate for nomination to any office before any political convention, unless the retraction of the charge is made editorially in a conspicuous manner at least five days before the holding of such election or political convention, in case such libelous article was published in a daily paper, or, if published in a weekly paper, at least ten days before the holding thereof.

Freedom of the press, Con. art. 1, sec. 15.

Libel and slander, how pleaded, § 6604.

Truth and mitigating circumstances, § 6605, and note.

Criminal libel defined and punishment, §§ 8072, 8073.

Misdemeanor to give to newspaper false news, § 8084.

It is a libel to publish of a man that he has committed adultery, and that the current report of the affair makes it a crime of rape.
Lowe v. Herald, 6 U. 175; 21 P. 991.

Letter capable of the construction that the person libeled was guilty of mal-administration of the affairs of a corporation, and fraudulent practices to conceal the same, is a libel.
Lowe v. Herald, 6 U. 175; 21 P. 991.
People v. Ritchie, 12 U. 180; 42 P. 209.

A newspaper article relating to the acts of a family respecting the cruel treatment of a child is not a privileged communication, though made in good faith as a matter of news.
Fenstermaker v. Tribune Pub. Co., 13 U. 532; 45 P. 1097.

A candidate for public office is amenable to public or private criticism made in good faith upon reasonable or proper cause, since the community has a right to know the character, habits, mental and moral qualifications of its public servants.
People v. Glasmann, 12 U. 238; 42 P. 956.

In assessing damages for libel, the elements taken into consideration are: (1) the plaintiff's injured feelings and tarnished reputation; (2) the nature of the imputation; (3) the character of the defendant and influence of the parties; and (4) all mitigating circumstances shown by the defendant. The amount of such damages rests with the jury but must be purely compensatory.
Fenstermaker v. Tribune Pub. Co., 13 U. 532; 45 P. 1097.
Lowe v. Herald Co., 6 U. 175; 21 P. 991.

TITLE 61.

LIBRARIES.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE LIBRARY.

3699. (1349.) Board of control. The governor, secretary of state, chief justice, and associate justices of the supreme court shall constitute the board of control of the state library.

3700. (1350.) Rules. The public shall have access to the state library, and the board of control may make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, as it may deem proper for the use of the library by the public and the officers herein named, and may prescribe penalties for any violation thereof, which shall be collected in the same manner as forfeitures for the non-return or injury of any book.

3701. (1351.) Who may take books from library. Books may be taken from the state library by members of the legislature and its officers, the officers of the executive department of the state, justices of the supreme and district courts, and the attorney general, but no other person shall be permitted to take or detain any book from the library.

3702. (1352.) Register of books issued. Return. The state librarian shall keep a register of all books issued and returned, showing to whom they are issued, by whom they are returned, and the time they are so issued and returned. No book taken from the library shall be detained more than ten days, except when taken for the use of officers and members of the legislature while it is in session, and all books taken out by officers or members of the legislature shall be returned at the close of the session.
Clerk of supreme court is ex officio libraria n, § 1652.

3703. (1353.) Id. Failure. Injury. If any person injures or fails to return any book taken from the library he shall forfeit and pay to the librarian for the use of the library the damage thereto, including costs and reasonable counsel fees for collecting the same, to be recovered in an action in the name of the state in any court of competent jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the librarian in behalf of the state to commence suit for the collection of all such forfeitures and all fines.

3704. (1354.) Annual report of librarian. The librarian shall, on or before the 20th day of December in each year, report to the governor the condition of the library, stating the number of volumes contained therein, the number of volumes purchased during the last year and the cost thereof, the number of volumes received by donation, the number of volumes injured or not returned, if any, and the amounts received in compensation therefor, and such suggestions and further information as may be deemed by him desirable.

3705. (1355.) Catalogue. It shall be the duty of the librarian to make out a written catalogue, conveniently arranged in alphabetical order, and cause the same to be printed and distributed to the officers entitled to the use of such library, of all books, pamphlets, maps, charts, globes, papers, apparatus, and valuable specimens in the library, adding thereto as the library is increased; which catalogue shall be kept for the use of those authorized to use books. He shall also make out and place in some conspicuous place a copy of the rules and regulations of the library.

3706. (1356.) Books to be labeled. It shall be the duty of the librarian to cause every book in the library to be labeled with printed or stamped label containing the words "Utah State Library," and also cause the same words to be written or stamped on one or more pages of each volume.

3707. (1357.) Sale or exchange of books. The board of control of the library may sell or exchange any surplus or duplicate sets of reports or law books in the library and use the money arising from such sale in purchasing other law books or reports for the library.

3708. (1358.) Penalties. If the librarian shall permit or allow any person not authorized by this chapter to take a book from the library, he shall be liable, upon conviction thereof, to pay a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50 for each book so taken. All fines and forfeitures collected shall be used for the benefit of the library according to the best judgment of the board of control.

3709. (1359.) Id. If any person not authorized by this chapter shall take a book from the library, either with or without the consent of the librarian, or violate any of the provisions of this chapter, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than $10 nor more than $50 for each book so taken.

CHAPTER 2.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

3710. (1360.) Cities of the first and of the second class may establish. Annual tax. The governing body of each city of the first and of the second class shall have power to establish and maintain a public library and reading room for the use and benefit of the inhabitants of such city; and for that purpose cities of the first class must levy a tax of one-third of one mill on the dollar, and may levy a tax of not to exceed two-thirds of one mill on the dollar; and cities of the second class may levy a tax of not to exceed one mill on the dollar, annually, on all the taxable property in the city; such tax to be levied and collected in the same manner as other general taxes of said city, and to be known as the library fund; provided, that no such tax shall be levied in the first instance in any city of the first class until a petition, signed by at least 1,000 qualified voters and property taxpayers, shall have been filed with the governing body of such city; nor in any city of the second class until such petition, signed by at least 250 qualified voters and property taxpayers, residents of such city, shall have been so filed. Am'd '07, p. 20.

Cities may establish and maintain, § 570x77. Annual city taxes, § 671.

3711. (1361.) Directors. Appointment. When the city council in any city of the first or of the second class shall have decided to establish and maintain a public library and reading room, under the provisions hereof, the mayor of such city shall, with the approval of the city council, proceed to appoint a board of nine directors for the same, chosen from the citizens at large with reference to their fitness for such office; and not more than one member of the city council shall be at any one time a member of said board.

Cities of first and second class, commission appoints, § 533.

3712. (1362.) Id. Terms. Removal. Said directors shall hold office as follows: One-third for one year, one-third for two years, and one-third for three years, from the 1st day of July following their appointment, and at their first regular meeting shall cast lots for the respective terms; and annually thereafter the mayor shall, before the 1st day of July of each year, appoint, as before, three directors to take the place of the retiring directors, who shall hold office for three years, and until their successors are appointed. The mayor may, by and with the consent of the city council, remove any director for misconduct or neglect of duty.

3713. (1363.) Id. Vacancies. Vacancies in the board of directors, occasioned by removals, resignations, or otherwise, shall be reported to the city council, and be filled in like manner as original appointments, and no director shall receive any compensation.

3714. (1364.) Id. Powers. Said directors shall, immediately after appointment, meet and organize by the election of one of their number as president, and the election of such other officers as they may deem necessary. They shall make and adopt such by-laws, rules, and regulations for their own guidance, and for the government of the library and reading room, as may be expedient, not inconsistent with law. They shall have the exclusive control of the expenditure of all money collected for the benefit of the library fund, and of the construction of any library building, and of the supervision, care, and custody of the grounds, rooms, and buildings constructed, leased, or set apart for that purpose; provided, that all moneys received for such library shall be deposited in the treasury of said city to the credit of the library fund, and shall be kept separate and apart from other moneys of such city, and drawn upon by the proper officers of such city upon the properly authenticated vouchers of the library board. Said board shall have power to purchase or lease grounds, to lease or erect an appropriate building or buildings for the use of said library, to appoint a suitable librarian and necessary assistants, to fix their compensation, to remove such appointees at will, and, in general, to carry out the spirit and intent of the provisions of this chapter, in establishing and maintaining a public library and reading room.

3715. (1365.) Use of library. Every library and reading room, established under this chapter, shall be forever free to the use of the inhabitants of the city where located, subject, however, to such reasonable rules and regulations as the library board may adopt, in order to render the use of said library and reading room of the greatest benefit to the greatest number; and said board may exclude from the use of said library and reading room any and all persons who shall wilfully violate such rules. Said board may extend the privileges and use of such library and reading room to persons residing outside of such city, but in the state, upon such terms and conditions as said board may from time to time by its regulations prescribe.

3716. (1366.) Directors' report. The said board of directors shall make, on or before the second Monday in June, an annual report to the city council, stating the condition of their trusts on the 1st day of June of that year, the various sums of money received from the library fund and from other sources, and how much money has been expended, and for what purposes; the number of books and periodicals on hand, the number added by purchase, gift, or otherwise, during the year; the number of books lost or missing; the number of visitors attending; the number of books loaned out, and the general character and kind of such books; with such other statistics, information, and suggestions as they may deem of general interest. All such portions of said report as relate to the receipt and expenditure of money, as well as the number of books on hand, books lost or missing, and books purchased, shall be verified by affidavit.

3717. (1367.) Injuries to books. The city council of said city shall have power to pass ordinances imposing suitable penalties for the punishment of persons committing injury upon such library, or the grounds or other property thereof, and for injury to or failure to return any book belonging to such library.

3718. (1368.) Donations. Any person desiring to make donations of money, personal property, or real estate, for the benefit of such library, shall have the right to vest the title to the money or real estate so donated in the board of directors created under this chapter, to be held and controlled by such board, when accepted, according to the terms of the deed, gift, devise, or bequest of such property; and as to such property, said board shall be held and considered to be special trustees.

3719. (1369.) Libraries and gymnasiums in third class cities and towns. When 10 per cent of the legal voters of any city of the third class or incorporated town shall present a petition to the city council or town board of trustees, asking that a public library be established and maintained, or that a public library and in connection therewith a gymnasium be established and maintained, and shall specify in their petition a rate of taxation not to exceed 1 mill on the dollar for the establishment and maintenance of such public library, or not to exceed 1.3 mills on the dollar for the establishment and maintenance of a public library and gymnasium in connection therewith, then and in that event the city council, or board of trustees, as the case may be, shall call an election to determine such question, and a majority vote of the property taxpayers voting shall determine the question of levying such tax in any amount not to exceed the rate named in this section; and the town or city so voting is hereby authorized to establish and maintain a free public library, or a free public library with a public gymnasium, in accordance with the prayer of the petition. If a majority of the property taxpayers voting at such election vote for a free public library to be established, then the city council or board of trustees is hereby authorized to levy a tax not to exceed 1 mill on the dollar, or if a public gymnasium be established in connection with said public library, then they are authorized to levy a tax not to exceed 1.3 mills on the dollar of taxable property within such city or town. Such tax shall be assessed and collected at the same time during each year that other municipal taxes are assessed and collected. And it shall be known as the "library fund," or the "library and gymnasium fund," as the case may be; and when a library is established under the provisions of this section the city council or board of trustees shall have all the power and authority conferred on city councils of the first and the second classes under the provisions of this chapter. '07, p. 111; '09, p. 13; '11, p. 103; '15, p. 192.

3720. (1370.) Id. Directors. Terms. Powers. When the city council or board of trustees of any city of the third class or incorporated town shall have established a public library or public library and gymnasium in accordance with the provisions of the next preceding section, the mayor of such city or president of the board of trustees of such town shall, with the approval of the city council or board of trustees, immediately appoint six directors who, in connection with the mayor of such city or president of the board of trustees of such town, shall constitute the board of directors of such library or library and gymnasium, whose terms of office shall be for six years, except the first appointees, who shall be appointed two for two years and two for four years, and two for six years, so that thereafter the terms of office of two members of the board of directors shall expire each two years; provided, that all directors now elected and serving on any public library board shall fill out the unexpired term for which they have been elected or appointed. Such board of directors shall have all the powers conferred by this chapter upon directors created for the management of public libraries in cities of the first and the second class, and shall serve without compensation. '11, p. 103.

3721. (1371.) Co-operation between cities and school districts. The city council of a city of the third class or the board of trustees of an incorporated town and the school board or trustees of the school district in which such city or town is located are hereby authorized to co-operate in the establishment of a free public library, and to contract between them as to the proportion that such city or town and school district shall pay toward the establishment and maintenance of such public library. '11, p. 103.

TITLE 62.

UTAH STATE PROPERTY LIENS.

CHAPTER 1.

MECHANICS' LIENS.

3722. (1372.) Who may have. Extent. On what property. Mechanics, material men, contractors, sub-contractors, builders, and all persons of every class performing labor upon or furnishing materials to be used in the construction, alteration, addition to, or repair, either in whole or in part, of any building, bridge, ditch, flume, aqueduct, tunnel, fence, railroad, wagon road, or other structure or improvement upon land, and also architects, engineers, and artisans who have furnished designs, plats, plans, maps, specifications, drawings, estimates of cost, surveys, or superintendence, or who have rendered other like professional service or bestowed labor in whole or part, describing, illustrating, or superintending such structure or work done or to be done, or in any part connected therewith, shall have a lien upon the property upon which they have rendered service, or performed labor, or furnished materials, for the value of such service rendered, labor done, or materials furnished, by each respectively, whether at the instance of the owner or of any other person acting by his authority or under him as agent, contractor, or otherwise; provided, that a lien or liens shall attach only to such interest as the owner or lessee may have in the real estate.

Lien upon personal property for labor, § 3773.
Wages of employes preferred, when, §§ 296, 3684-3686.
Lien of foundrymen, etc., § 3747.
Priority over incumbrances, §§ 3734-3735, and note.
Lands and buildings subject to, §§ 3729, 3731, 3737, and notes.
Notice of lien, recording, construction, § 3736, and note.
Construction of lien statutes, note to § 3736.
Lien attaches to mine lessee's interest, § 3732.
Lien upon mines, etc., § 3731, and note.
Lien of contractor on desert lands, § 5647.
No lien upon public building or improvement, § 3749, and note.
Public work, bond required, § 3753.
Non-licensed architects' rights restricted, § 286.
Rights in lieu of in public and municipal work, §§ 3753-3755.
Bond for labor and material, §§ 3759-3761.

Lien for materials delivered but not used.
Sierra N. L. Co. v. Whitmore, 24 U. 130; 66 P. 779.
Eclipse Mfg. Co. v. Nichols, 1 U. 252.

In the absence of a special contract fixing the value of the services, etc., the limit of the lien would be the reasonable value of such services.
Sierra N. L. Co. v. Whitmore, 24 U. 130; 66 P. 779.
Eclipse Mfg. Co. v. Nichols, 1 U. 252.

OWNERSHIP OF PROPERTY; LIABILITY:

A lien for work done upon a canal constructed upon the public lands attaches in favor of a material man as the canal is made.
Garland v. Bear River Irr. Co., 9 U. 350; 34 P. 368; affirmed 164 U. S. 1.

One in possession of land under a contract of purchase is the owner under laws of 1890.
Carey-Lombard Lumber Co. v. Partridge, 10 U. 322; 37 P. 572.

The right to a mechanic's lien against a leasehold estate is not lost by the purchase of such estate by the lessor, the latter having knowledge of the improvements for which a lien is claimed. The two estates will be preserved from merger, in order to effectuate the lien against the leasehold.
Ellis v. Brisacher, 8 U. 108; 29 P. 879.
S. L. Foundry Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 6 U. 351; 23 P. 760; affirmed 151 U. S. 447.

Where real property was leased, upon which lessee erected improvements, under special stipulation that he was to expend $2,500 in permanent improvements, a mechanic's lien does not attach to the interest of the lessor as reversioner.
Morrow v. Merrit, 16 U. 412; 52 P. 667.

Where husband, without the consent and against the protests of the wife, contracts for a dwelling house on land owned by her, a material man, under laws of 1894, p. 44, acquires no lien for materials furnished.

Morrison, M. Co. v. Clark, 20 U. 432; 59 P. 235.

Neither laborer nor material man can acquire a lien on land for work done or material furnished, unless done or furnished at the instance of the owner or of some person acting by his authority or under him as agent, contractor, or otherwise.
Eccles Lumber Co. v. Martin, 31 U. 241; 87 P. 713.
Morrison M. Co. v. Clark, 20 U. 432; 59 P. 235.
Sanford v. Kunkel, 30 U. 379; 85 P. 363.

Where agent had apparent authority to contract, the property of the corporation was bound.
S. L. Foundry Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 6 U. 351; 23 P. 760; affirmed 151 U. S. 447.

Sec. 2871, providing that a homestead shall be subject to execution to satisfy judgments on debts secured by mechanics' liens for labor done for the improvement of the same, is in conflict with Con. art. 22, sec. 1, requiring the legislature to provide for the selection and exemption of a homestead; the constitution exempting a homestead from execution sale without exception.
Volker Lum. Co. v. Vance, 32 U. 74; 88 P. 896.

Where the owner of a homestead voluntarily incumbers it in the manner prescribed by § 2870, by giving a material man furnishing materials for an improvement thereon a lien therefor, the material man acquires a lien not by virtue of the statute creating a lien, but by virtue of the contract.
Id.

The interest of the vendor of land in possession of the vendee under contract of sale is not subject to material man's lien for materials furnished to the vendee; a mere permission for the vendee to make improvements does not estop the vendor.
Belknap v. Condon, 34 U. 213; 97 P. 111.

WAIVER OF LIEN:

A lien is not waived by the taking of notes for the amount due in the absence of an express agreement to that effect.
Doane v. Clinton, 2 U. 417.

It seems that where a party has a claim for a mechanic's lien and there is a controversy about the correctness of a part of the claim, and the party brings an action of debt to settle that part, he waives the right to have that claim adjudged to be rightfully included in the mechanic's lien.
Garland v. Bear River Irr. Co., 9 U. 350; 34 P. 368.

A corporation files a notice of intention to claim a lien, but cancels the notice and receives part payment; a mortgage is filed, whereupon the corporation files another lien for material, which was commenced to be furnished before the date of filing the mortgage; held, that the lien took precedence of the mortgage, but that under the evidence the lienor is estopped from insisting on such priority.
Spargo v. Nelson, 10 U. 274; 37 P. 495.

Where a mechanic stipulates with the vendee that he will look to some other person for payment for his services, or that all his claims have been paid, he waives his lien, which is merely a privilege conferred by statute and ordinarily may be waived by express agreement.
Dwyer v. Copper Mfg. Co., 14 U. 339; 47 P. 311.

A lien for lumber is not waived by the levy of an attachment afterwards dismissed, on the same property to secure the same demand.
Salt Lake Litho. Co. v. Ibex M. and S. Co., 15 U. 440; 49 P. 768.

Any lien claimant may waive his right to a lien, either by not filing a notice of his intention to claim a lien within the time prescribed, or by informing the owner that he had received payment from the original contractor, or that he will not insist on his right to file one.
West v. Pinkston et al., 44 U. 123; 138 P. 1152.

3723. (1373.) As between owner, contractor, and others. Prepayments. In case of a contract between an owner and a contractor, the lien shall extend to the entire contract price, and such contract shall operate as a lien in favor of all persons except the contractor to the extent of the whole contract price; and after all such liens are satisfied, then as a lien for any balance of the contract price in favor of the contractor; provided, that if at the time of the commencement to do work or furnish materials, the owner has paid upon the contract, and in accordance with the terms thereof, any portion of the contract price, the liens hereby created shall extend only to the unpaid balance of such contract price and of which such laborers and material men shall have had notice. No part of the contract price shall, by the terms of any contract, be made payable, nor shall the same or any part thereof be paid in advance of the commencement of the work, for the purpose of evading or defeating the provisions of this chapter.

Lien of sub-contractor, § 3728.
A material man is not entitled to personal judgment against an owner where the owner has contracted the work and, if the property is a homestead, is not entitled to a lien thereon for material furnished.
Park City M. Co. v. Comstock Sil. Mg. Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.

A sub-contractor's lien cannot be enforced beyond the amount due under the contract with the original owner.
Langton L. & C. Co. v. Peery, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.
Langton L. & C. Co. v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

3724. (1374.) Payments before time due. No payment made prior to the time when the same is due, under the terms and conditions of the contract, shall be valid for the purpose of defeating, diminishing, or discharging any lien in favor of any person except the contractor; but as to such liens such payment shall be deemed as if not made, and shall be applicable to such liens notwithstanding that the contractor to whom it was paid may thereafter abandon his contract or be or become indebted to the owner, in any amount for damages or otherwise, for non-performance of his contract or otherwise.

This section is applicable where the contractor abandoned his contract, and, where treating premature payments as not made, the owner had in his hands money applicable to labor claims, so that a payment made by the owner to labor claimants of one-third of the amount due to them, could not discharge his liability for the balance on the theory that, where one not the debtor and who is not legally or morally bound to pay, pays a sum less than the whole debt, upon the agreement that it discharges it, cannot be sued for the remainder, such principle being inapplicable.

Smoot v. Checketts, 41 U. 211; 125 P. 412.

3725. (1375.) Payments other than cash. As to all liens except that of the contractor, the whole contract price shall be payable in money, except as herein provided, and shall not be diminished by any prior or subsequent indebtedness, offset, or counterclaim in favor of the owner and against the contractor, except when the owner has contracted to pay otherwise than in cash, in which case the owner shall post in a conspicuous place on the premises a statement of the terms and conditions of the contract, before materials are furnished or labor is performed, which notice must be kept posted and when so posted shall give notice to all parties interested of the terms and conditions of the contract. Any person wilfully tearing down or defacing such notice shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

As against labor claimants, the burden is on the owner to show compliance with the provisions of this section where contract price has been paid in a medium other than money.

Smoot v. Checketts et al., 41 U. 211; 125 P. 412.

3726. (1376.) Alteration of contract. No alteration of any contract shall affect any lien acquired under the provisions of this chapter.

3727. (1377.) Lien attaches to franchises. In case of corporations, the lien shall attach to all franchises and privileges that may in any manner pertain to the property against which the lien is claimed.

3728. (1378.) When lien of sub-contractor attaches. When any person entitled to a lien under the provisions of this chapter, other than the original contractor, shall have actually commenced to perform labor upon or to furnish materials for any building, improvement or structure herein mentioned, the property shall be charged with the liens in this chapter provided, and no payment made to the original contractor shall in anywise defeat or impair the claims for such liens.

"Contractor" and "sub-contractor" defined, § 3733.

Under §§ 3806, 3807 of the Compiled Laws of 1888, the lien of the sub-contractor attaches from the time he begins to perform labor or furnish materials, provided he gives notice within thirty days, but the amount of all liens cannot exceed the amount of the contract with the owner.

Teahen v. Nelson, 6 U. 363; 23 P. 764.

The lien of the sub-contractor attaches on the date of the furnishing of the first material, and not on the date of filing for record the lien notice.

Morrison v. Carey-L. Co., 9 U. 70; 33 P. 238.

Morris v. Gamble, 14 U. 201; 46 P. 1104.

Culmer v. Clift, 14 U. 286; 47 P. 85.

The owner is charged with notice of the fact that the contractor has a right to sub-contract, and that the sub-contractor is entitled to a lien within the limit of the original contract price.

Sierra N. L. Co. v. Whitmore, 24 U. 130; 66 P. 779.

Carey-L. L. Co. v. Partridge, 10 U. 322; 37 P. 572.

3729. (1379.) Land affected. Fixtures. The liens granted by this chapter shall extend to and cover so much of the land whereon such building, structure, or improvement shall be made, as may be necessary for the convenient use and occupation of such building, structure, or improvement, and the same shall be subject to such liens; and in case any such building shall occupy two or more lots or other subdivisions of land, such lots or other subdivisions shall be deemed one lot for the purposes of this chapter, and the same rule shall hold in cases of any other such improvements that shall be practically indivisible, and shall attach to all machinery and other fixtures used in connection with any such lands, buildings, or structures.

Lien on franchise of corporation, § 3727.

Lien against two or more buildings, etc., §§ 3731, 3737, and notes.

The removal of a building by third persons to land other than that on which it was originally erected, without the knowledge and consent of the owner thereof or the lienholders, did not relieve the building in its new location from liability for a deficiency existing on the sale of the land on which the building was erected to satisfy such liens.

Sanford v. Kunkel, 30 U. 379; 85 P. 363, 1012.

Park City M. Co. v. Comstock S. M. Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.

If the owner selects the lot on which improvements are made as a homestead, and has no other real estate, the person furnishing materials is not entitled to a lien thereon, and the material man is not entitled to a lien on other property than that which was improved.

Id.

Where only two lots are necessary for the convenience, use, and occupation of the building constructed thereon, material men can have no lien on other property.

Volker-Scowcroft Lbr. Co. v. Vance, 36 U. 348; 103 P. 970.

3730. (1380.) Lien takes precedence of attachment, etc. No attachment, garnishment, or levy under an execution upon any money due to an original contractor from the owner of any property subject to lien under this chapter, shall be valid as against any lien of a sub-contractor or material man, and no such attachment, garnishment, or levy upon any money due to a sub-contractor or material man, as herein provided, from the contractor, shall be valid as against any lien of a laborer employed by the day or piece.

Priority of liens over other incumbrances, §§ 3734, 3735, and note.

Exemption of materials, § 3745.

3731. (1381.) Liens on mines. The provisions of this chapter shall apply to all persons who shall do work or furnish materials for the working, preservation, or development of any mine, lode, mining claim, or deposit yielding metals or minerals of any kind, or for the working, preservation, or development of any such mine, lode, or deposit in search of such metals or minerals, and to all persons who shall do work or furnish materials upon any shaft, tunnel, incline, adit, drift, drain, or other excavation of any such mine, lode, or deposit; provided, that when two or more such lodes or deposits, owned or claimed by the same person or persons, or where the owners are different persons, and the same with the consent of all shall be worked through a common shaft, tunnel, incline, adit, drift, or other excavation, then all the mines, lodes, or deposits so worked, shall, for the purpose of this chapter, be deemed one mine.

Who entitled to liens and upon what, § 3722, and note.

An overseer and foreman of a body of miners who performed manual labor upon a mine is entitled for his services to a lien on the mine under the statute of Utah giving a lien thereon.

Flagstaff Mining Co. v. Cullins, 2 U. 219; affirmed 104 U. S. 176.

Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 24 U. 1; 66 P. 360.

One who furnishes materials and labor for the erection of stretchers on the property of a mining corporation, pursuant to a contract made in the company's name by its authorized agent, is entitled to a mechanic's lien, notwithstanding the existence of an agreement, unknown to him, whereby the agent was to have possession of the property and make the improvements on his own sole credit.

S. L. Foundry & M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 6 U. 351; 23 P. 760; affirmed 151 U. S. 447.

Statement of lien against several mining claims and buildings held sufficient.

Garner v. Van Patten, 20 U. 342; 58 P. 684.

S. L. Lith. Co. v. Ibex M. Co., 15 U. 440; 49 P. 768.

Mill deemed fully constructed, when.

Cahoon v. Fortune M. Co., 26 U. 86; 72 P. 437.

S. L. Lith. Co. v. Ibex M. Co., 15 U. 440; 49 P. 768.

Applies for work done on a mill on a mining claim.

Park City Meat Co. v. Comstock Sil. Mng. Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.

The claims constituting the mine, and all the property necessarily used in connection with the mine, and mining claims, including an easement in adjoining land, necessarily appertaining to the mine, must be regarded as a unit to all of which the lien attaches.

Park City Meat Co. v. Comstock Sil. Mng. Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.

3732. (1382.) Id. Attaches to lessee's interest. The next preceding section shall not be deemed to apply to the owner or owners of any mine, lode, deposit, shaft, tunnel, incline, adit, drift, or other excavation when the same shall be worked by a lessee, under bond or otherwise; but, in such case, persons entitled to a lien under this chapter shall have a lien on the leasehold interest and on the ores and mineral bearing rock or dirt mined and excavated by the lessee.

Lien attaches to lessee's interest, § 3722.

3733. (1383.) "Contractors" and "sub-contractors" defined. Whoever shall do work or furnish materials by contract, express or implied, with the owner as in this chapter provided, shall be deemed an original contractor, and all other persons doing work or furnishing materials shall be deemed sub-contractors.

When lien of sub-contractor attaches, § 3728, and note.

3734. (1384.) Priority over other incumbrances. The liens provided for herein are preferred to any lien, mortgage, or other incumbrance which may have attached subsequent to the time when the building, improvement, or structure was commenced, work done, or materials were commenced to be furnished; also to any lien, mortgage, or other incumbrance of which the lienholder had no notice and which was unrecorded at the time the building, improvement, or structure was commenced, work done, or materials commenced to be furnished.

See note to next section.

Priority over attachment, § 3730.

Lien of a mortgage given for the purpose of raising funds to construct a building is prior to that of the sub-contractor supplying labor and materials for such building only to the amount actually advanced on the mortgage.

Culmer Paint & Glass Co. v. Gleason et al., 42 U. 344; 130 P. 66.

Where the purchaser of lots gave a blanket mortgage limiting the amount on any one lot to $350, and began erection of a dwelling house on one lot for which petitioners furnished materials, and the mortgagee released the lot from the blanket mortgage and took two new mortgages in a sum approximating the value of the house and lot, such transaction was not a renewal of the old mortgage, but was done for the purpose of securing increased security on the old debt, and therefore mechanic's liens acquired prior to the taking of the second mortgage were superior to such mortgage.

Badger Coal & Lumber Co. v. Olsen, 50 U. —; 167 P. 680.

3735. (1385.) Id. Relates back. The liens herein provided shall relate back to and take effect as of the time of the commencement to do work upon and furnish materials on the ground for the structure or improvement, and shall have priority over any lien or incumbrance subsequently intervening, except a lien herein provided for of the same class, or which may have been created prior thereto, which was not then recorded and of which the lienor under this chapter did have actual notice.

Record imparts notice to lienholders, § 4900.

Waiver of lien, note to § 3722.

Priority of lien over attachment, § 3730.

A deed of trust which covers all the property the owner then had, or might thereafter acquire, cannot take precedence of a mechanic's lien for work done and material furnished in building the canal.

Garland v. Bear River Irr. Company, 9 U. 350; 34 P. 368; affirmed 164 U. S. 1.

A mechanic's lien filed within the time specified by § 3736 takes effect as of the date of the commencement of the work and the furnishing of materials, and is prior to intervening equities.

Sanford v. Kunkel, 30 U. 379; 85 P. 363.

Culmer v. Caine, 22 U. 216; 61 P. 1008.

Fields v. Daisy M. Co., 25 U. 76; 69 P. 528.

3736. (1386.) Notice of lien; recording. Every original contractor, within sixty days after the completion of his contract, and every person save the original contractor claiming the benefit of this chapter, must, within forty days after furnishing the last material or performing the last labor for any building, improvement, or structure, or for any alteration, addition to, or repair thereof, or performance of any labor in or furnishing any materials for any mining claim, file for record with the county recorder of the county in which the property or some part thereof is situated, a claim in writing containing a notice of intention to hold and claim a lien, and a statement of his demand, after deducting all just credits and offsets, with the name of the owner, if known, and also the name of the person by whom he was employed, or to whom he furnished the material, with a statement of the terms, time given, and conditions of his contract, specifying the time when the first and last labor was performed, or the first and last materials furnished, and also a description of the property to be charged with the lien, sufficient for identification, which claim must be verified by the oath of himself or of some other person.

Excessive claim, penalty, § 3749.

Ownership of property, note to § 3722.

Waiver of lien, estoppel, note to § 3722.

Record of lien imparts notice, § 3739.

Notice of intention to claim lien may be recorded before commencing work or afterward, § 3738.

NOTICE; CONTENTS; CONSTRUCTION:

Under act of 1869 the notice of lien must state the amount of money due, but need not state the time when due or to become due.

Doane v. Clinton, 2 U. 417.

Under same act it was held that not only the contractor but laborers and material men had three months after the completion of the building in which to file a notice of lien.

Eclipse Mfg. Co. v. Nichols, 1 U. 252.

Sub-contractor not required to state in his notice the terms of contract between owner and original contractor.

Brubaker v. Bennett, 19 U. 401; 57 P. 170.

Statement of lien against two buildings held sufficient.

Garner v. Van Patten, 20 U. 342; 58 P. 684.

Eccles Lumber Co. v. Martin, 31 U. 241; 87 P. 713.

It is not fatal that a notice claimed more than was actually due.

Garner v. Van Patten, 20 U. 342; 58 P. 684.

Culmer v. Caine, 22 U. 216; 61 P. 1008.

On foreclosure of mechanic's lien, a variance between the date alleged as to making of contract, and the date proved, is immaterial; as is a non-prejudicial variance as to the terms of the contract.

Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 24 U. 1; 66 P. 360.

When all the items of a material man's account relate to one continuous transaction between the same parties, the account will be regarded as continuous and dates from the first item thereof, though the goods are furnished on separate orders at different dates.

Fields v. Daisy G. M. Co., 25 U. 76; 69 P. 528.

Materials delivered in January were not furnished pursuant to the original contract completed in July, so as to entitle plaintiffs to a mechanic's lien for the balance due on all the material furnished by filing their claim within sixty days after the last delivery.

Cahoon v. Fortune M. Co., 26 U. 86; 72 P. 437.

Though lumber be delivered and used in the construction of a granulator two months after the operation of the smelter commenced, it may be included in the lien for the lumber to build the smelter, if the granulator enables it to be more economically operated, and was contemplated as a part of the plant.

S. L. Litho. Co. v. Ibex M. Co., 15 U. 440; 49 P. 768.

Where a mill is fully constructed and put in operation, it is deemed to be completed, though some repairs and alterations are made incidentally thereafter.

Cahoon v. Fortune M. Co., 26 U. 86; 72 P. 437.

A right to a lien in case of an original contractor, though existing on the completion of the contract and for sixty days thereafter, is not in fact created until the contractor files notice for record.
Elwell v. Morrow, 28 U. 278; 78 P. 605.

A mechanic's lien, filed within the the time specified by § 3736, takes effect as of the the date of the commencement of the work and the furnishing of the materials and is prior to intervening equities.

Culmer v. Caine, 22 U. 216; 61 P. 1008.
Fields v. Daisy M. Co., 25 U. 76; 69 P. 528.

A mechanic's lien is statutory and not contractual, and cannot be acquired unless the claimant complies with the statutory provisions.

Doane v. Clinton, 2 U. 417.

A lien once acquired by labor performed on a building with the consent of the owner should not be defeated by technicalities when no rights of others are infringed and no express command of the statute is disregarded.

The various sections of the lien law must be construed together.
Eccles Lumber Co. v. Martin, 31 U. 241; 87 P. 713.

A substantial compliance with the statutes is sufficient, and necessary appurtenances including an easement in other lands than that on which the building stands, need not be mentioned in the notice of intention to claim a lien. It is enough to describe the particular thing, the building and the lot on which it stands.
Park City Meat Company v. Comstock Silver Mining Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.

A contractor's agreement to keep a building free from liens does not affect the material man's right to a lien.

Langton L. & C. Co. v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

Where an owner exercised his contract right to change contractors, any mechanic's lien notice is in time when filed over forty days after the first contractor quit, but within forty days after delivering material to the second contractor, for the contract is continuing.
Langton L. & C. Co. v. Peery, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.
Langton L. & C. Co., v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

3737. (1387.) Joining liens on separate properties. Liens against two or more buildings, mining claims, or other improvements owned by the same person or persons may be included in one claim; but in such case the person filing the claim must designate therein the amount claimed to be due to him on each of such buildings, mining claims, or other improvements.

Where building covers two or more lots, § 3729.
Property subject to liens, § 3722, and notes.
A lien for lumber used in several structures on the same tract, under one contract, may exist on the whole, when they constitute one plant.

Eccles Lumber Co. v. Martin, 31 U. 241; 87 P. 713.

3738. (1388.) Filing claim before doing work. Any sub-contractor before commencing to furnish materials or to perform work, or at any time thereafter and before the completion of his contract, may file a statement of claim with the recorder as hereinbefore provided, containing a notice of intention to hold and claim a lien, a description of the property to be charged, and the probable value of the work to be done, or the probable value of the materials to be furnished, as near as may be. From the time such statement shall have been filed, he shall have a lien for the work thereafter done, or materials furnished by him, not exceeding the sum stated as the probable value thereof; and in the event of such sub-contractor claiming to have done work or furnished materials before the filing of such statement, he may include therein a statment of the value of the work already done or material furnished, as near as may be, for which, to the extent of the sums mentioned, his lien shall likewise attach.

Notice of lien generally, § 3736.

3739. (1389.) Record is notice. The recorder must record the claim in a book kept by him for that purpose, and from the time of the filing thereof for record, all persons shall be deemed to have notice.

3740. (1390.) Time for enforcing. The liens herein provided for may be enforced by an action in any court of competent jurisdiction, at any time within twelve months after the completion of the original contract or the suspension of work thereunder for a period of thirty days, on setting out in the complaint the particulars of the demand, with a description of the premises to be charged with a lien.

Where a right under a lien law is in process of becoming complete and a remedy exists by statute to enforce that right, but before the right becomes complete another remedy is given by the statute, the right must be enforced according to the later statute
Garland v. Bear River Irr. Co., 9 U. 350; 34 P. 368; affrmed 164 U. S. 1,

3741. (1391.) Foreclosure. Notice. Hearing. Rank of liens. At the time of filing the complaint and issuing the summons, the plaintiff shall cause a notice to be published at least once a week for three consecutive weeks in one newspaper of general circulation, published in the county, notifying all persons holding or claiming liens on said premises, under the provisions of this chapter, to be and appear before said court on a day specified therein, and during a regular term thereof, and to exhibit then and there the proof of said liens. On the day appointed, all persons claiming liens against the premises shall appear before said court and exhibit the same, whereupon the court shall proceed to hear and determine the claims in a summary way, or may refer the same to a referee to ascertain and report thereon, and shall enter judgment according to the rights of the parties, and all liens not so exhibited shall be deemed to be waived against the property. In every case in which different liens are claimed against the same property, the rank of each lien or class of liens, as between the contractor and sub-contractor, shall be declared and ordered to be satisfied, in the decree, in the following order, viz.:

1. Sub-contractors who were laborers or mechanics working by the day or piece, but without furnishing materials therefor;
2. All other sub-contractors and all material men;
3. The original contractors.

Public work, bond required, § 3573.

Where one action is brought to foreclose two miners' liens, owned separately, on the same property, a separate decree as to each lien may be rendered.
Venard v. Green, 4 U. 67; 6 P. 415.

Where summons was issued and served, but no notice of lien was published, and the record failed to show that any person other than plaintiff claimed or had filed a lien, the failure to give the statutory notice was not fatal to plaintiff's cause of action, since the defendant was not shown to have been prejudiced.
Morrison, M. Co. v. Clayton, 17 U. 306; 53 P. 832.

The failure to give the statutory notice was not fatal to plaintiff's cause of action, since defendant was not shown to have been prejudiced thereby.
Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 24 U. 1; 66 P. 360.

In an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien and to recover for services rendered under a contract of employment, it was proper to allow interest on the sum awarded.
Id.

Since this section, providing for the foreclosure of mechanic's liens is a remedial statute, a substantial compliance with its provisions is sufficient.
Elwell v. Morrow, 28 U. 278; 78 P. 605.

Where a contractor published notice under this section, and, on the date fixed for hearing, another contractor's time within which he could file a lien had not expired, his failure to appear and prove his lien on the day specified was not a waiver of his lien.
Id.

The holder of a mortgage may be made a party in a mechanic's lien foreclosure suit and his claim may be litigated.

Likewise, one who contracts for sale of land on instalments, claims a lien; and the adjudication thereon is final.
Cain v. Parfit, 48 U. 81; 158 P. 448.

3742. (1392.) Sale. Redemption. Disposition of proceeds. The court shall cause the property to be sold in satisfaction of the liens and costs, as in the case of foreclosure of mortgages, subject to the right of redemption of the owner and creditors as provided by law; and if the proceeds of sale, after the payment of costs, shall not be sufficient to satisfy the whole amount of liens included in the decree, then said proceeds shall be paid in the order above designated, and pro rata to the persons claiming in each class, where the sum realized is insufficient to pay the persons of one class in full. In case of any excess of proceeds of sale, the remainder shall be paid over to the owner.

The decree and order of sale in a mechanic's lien foreclosure should describe the property with such certainty as is ordinarily required in the execution of a deed.
Park City Meat Co. v. Comstock Sil. Mg. Co., 36 U. 145; 103 P. 254.

3743. (1393.) Deficiency judgment. Every person whose claim is not satisfied as herein provided may have judgment docketed for the balance unpaid, and execution therefor against the party personally liable.

3744. (1394.) Costs. As between the owner and the contractor, the court shall apportion the costs according to the right of the case, but in all instances sub-contractors shall have their costs, including the costs of preparing and recording statement of claim, awarded to them, for each claimant exhibiting a lien.

3745. (1395.) Materials exempt from attachment, etc. Exception. Whenever materials have been furnished for use in the construction, alteration or repair of any building, work, or other improvement mentioned in § 3722, such materials shall not be subject to attachment, execution, or other legal process, to enforce any debt due by the purchaser of such materials, other than a debt due for the purchase money thereof, so long as in good faith the same are about to be applied to the construction, alteration, or repair of such building or improvement. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to impair or affect the right of any person to whom a debt may be due for any work done, or material furnished, to maintain a personal action to recover the same.

3746. (1396.) Assignment of liens. All liens under this chapter shall be assignable as other choses in action, and the assignee may commence and prosecute actions thereon in his own name, in the manner herein provided.

Smoot v. Checketts, 41 U. 211; 125 P. 412.

3747. (1397.) Liens for foundrymen and boilermakers. All foundrymen and boilermakers and all persons performing labor or furnishing machinery, or boilers, or castings, or other material for the construction or repairing or carrying on of any mill, manufactory, or hoisting works shall have a lien on such mill, manufactory, or hoisting works, for such work or labor done on such machinery, or boiler, or castings, or other material furnished by each respectively. And all the provisions of this chapter respecting the mode of filing, recording, securing, and enforcing the liens of contractors and others, and the word superstructure whenever it occurs in this chapter shall be applicable to the provisions of this section.

3748. (1398.) Cancellation of lien. Penalty. The claimant of any lien filed as provided herein, on the payment of the amount thereof, together with the costs incurred and the fees for cancellation, shall, at the request of any person interested in the property charged therewith, enter or cause said lien to be canceled of record within ten days from the request, and, upon failure to so cancel said lien within the time aforesaid, shall forfeit and pay to the person making the request the sum of $20 per day until the same shall be canceled, to be recovered in the same manner as other debts.

3749. (1399.) Excessive claim. Penalty. No lien on public buildings, etc. Any person who shall knowingly cause to be filed for record a claim of lien against any property whatever, which shall contain a greater demand than the sum due him, with the intent to cloud the title or to exact from the owner or person liable, by means of such excessive claim of liens, more than is due him, or to procure any advantage or benefit whatever, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

It is not fatal that notice of lien claimed more than was actually due, if in good faith.

Where a contractor, under a contract to construct a public building, gives a bond in the nature of a penalty for the benefit of the state, whose public buildings are not subject to liens, and the contract contains no express covenant to pay claims of material men and laborers, the state may waive its right to retain any sum reserved on account of stipulations in the contract respecting payments for labor and material.
Montgomery v. Rief, 15 U. 495; 50 P. 623.

3750. (1400.) Attorney's fee. In any action brought to enforce any lien under this chapter, the successful party shall be entitled to recover a reasonable attorney's fee, to be fixed by the court not to exceed $25, which shall be taxed as costs in the action. Am'd '99, p. 81.

3751. (1399.) Chapter not applicable public building. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any public building, structure or improvement.

CHAPTER 2.

LIABILITY OF CITY, TOWN, ETC.

('17, p. 105.)

3753. (1400x.) Bonds must be exacted on all public work. Material men and laborers may intervene. Time limit. The state, any state institution, county, city, town, village, or school district entering into a contract with any person, firm, or corporation for the construction or alteration of, or addition to, any public building, structure, or other improvement, or the prosecution and completion of, or alteration or addition to, any public work or improvements shall, before any such work is commenced, exact and obtain from such person, firm, or corporation having such contract a penal bond, with good and sufficient surety or sureties, for the faithful performance of said contract, with the additional obligation that such contractor or contractors shall promptly make payment to all persons supplying labor and material used in the prosecution of the work provided for in such contract; and any person, company, association, or corporation who has furnished labor or material used in the construction or repair of any public building, public work, or improvement, payment for which has not been made, shall have the right to intervene and be made a party to any action instituted by the obligee on the bond of the contractor, and to have their rights and claims adjudicated in such action, and judgment rendered thereon, subject, however, to the priority of the claim and judgment of the obligee therein. If the full amount of the liability of the surety on said bonds is sufficient to pay the full amount of said claims and demands, then after paying the full amount due the obligee, the remainder shall be distributed pro rata among said intervenors. If no suit should be brought by the obligee within six months from the completion and final settlement of said contract, then the person or persons supplying labor and materials shall, upon application therefor and furnishing an affidavit to the obligee that labor or materials for the prosecution of the work has been supplied by him or them, and payment of which has not been made, be furnished with a certified copy of said contract and bond, upon which he or they shall have a right of action, and shall be and are hereby authorized to bring suit in the name of the obligee in any court having jurisdiction in the county in which said contract was to be performed and executed, and not elsewhere, for his or their use and benefit, against said contractor and his sureties, and to prosecute the same to final judgment and execution; provided, that where suit is instituted by any such creditors on the bond of the contractor, it shall not be commenced until after the complete performance of said contract and final settlement thereof, or abandonment thereof, but shall be commenced within one year after the performance and final settlement or abandonment of said contract, and not later; and, provided further, that where suit is so instituted by a creditor or creditors, only one action shall be brought, and any creditor may file his claim in such action and be made party thereto within the time hereinafter provided, and not later. If the recovery on the bond should be inadequate to pay the amounts found due to all of said creditors, judgment shall be given to each creditor pro rata of the amount of recovery. The surety on said bond may pay into court for distribution among said claimants and creditors the full amount of the surety's liability, to-wit: The penalty named in the bond, less any amount which the said surety may have had to pay the obligee by reason of the execution of said bond, and upon so doing the surety will be relieved from further liability; provided, however, that in all suits instituted under the provisions of this chapter, such personal notice of the pendency of such suits, informing them of their right to intervene, as the court may order, shall be given to all known creditors, and in addition thereto, notice by publication in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the contract is being performed for at least three successive weeks, the last publication to be at least two months before the time limited therefor; and all claimants and creditors who do not intervene within the time herein provided shall be forever barred from recovery upon said bond. '05, p. 101.

No lien upon public buildings, etc., § 3749 and note.

This statute is remedial and should receive a liberal construction and application; it is maintainable without first obtaining a personal judgment against the contractor and without obtaining personal service on him when a nonresident, and it need only be shown that a part of the contract price is unpaid and in the hands of the public corporation.

Mellon v. Vendorhorst Bros. et al., 44 U. 300; 140 P. 30.

This statute gives a preferential right against the contract price to laborers and material men bringing an action or intervening in some other action while such price remains in the hands of the school district, and an assignee of moneys due or to become due under the contract takes subject to such preferential right.

South High School v. McMillen Paper & S. Co., 49 U. 477; 164 P. 1041.

Geo. A. Lowe Co. v. Leary, 49 U. 506; 164 P. 1052.

The rights of material men to a fund due the contractor from a school district are superior to the rights of the contractor's trustee in bankruptcy.

Geo. A. Lowe & Co. v. Leary, 49 U. 506; 164 P. 1052.

The failure of the school district to require a bond from the contractor does not render it liable to one to whom the contractor assigned moneys due under the contract, and whose right to such moneys was made subordinate to claims for labor and materials.

South High School v. McMillan Paper & S. Co., 49 U. 477; 164 P. 1041.

The failure of a school district to require a bond does not make it liable to the persons for whose protection the bond is required.

Jos. Nelson Supply Co. v. Leary, 49 U. 493; 164 P. 1047.

Where the school district trustees failed to provide for the bond herein required, neither the school district nor the trustees are responsible to parties supplying the labor and material for failure to supply the bond.

New York Blower Co. v. Carbon Co. High School, 50 U. —; 167 P. 670.

3754. Right of action in case bonds are not exacted. Any state institution, county, city, town, village, or school district subject to the provisions of § 3753, which shall fail or neglect to exact and obtain a penal bond as herein required, shall thereupon itself promptly make payment to all persons supplying labor and material used in the prosecution of the work provided for in such contract, and any such creditors shall have a direct right of action upon their said accounts against any such state institution, county, city, town, village, or school district in any court having jurisdiction in the county in which said contract was to be performed and executed and not elsewhere, which action may be commenced at any time within one year after complete performance and final settlement of said contract, or the abandonment thereof, and notice of such action as prescribed by the court, and by publication, shall be given as provided in § 3753 for suits upon the bonds provided hereunder.

3755. Attorney's fees. In any suit or action brought upon the bond provided for in § 3753, the prevailing party upon each separate cause of action shall recover a reasonable attorney's fee, not exceeding the sum of $50, to be taxed as costs.

CHAPTER 3.

LIABILITY OF OWNER.

('15, p. 127.)

3759. Owner to exact bond from contractor. Terms. Any person who makes a contract involving $500 or more, with a builder, contractor, or other person to construct, alter, repair, or make an addition to, either in whole or in part, a building or other structure, or improvement upon land in this state, shall obtain from such builder, contractor, or other person, a good and sufficient bond, with a surety or sureties worth at least the amount of the penalty specified in the bond over and above all their just debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution, which bond shall be made payable in favor of the owner for the benefit of the owner and of any party or parties interested, in a sum equal to the contract price, and shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract and for the prompt and faithful payment of the accounts contracted for material furnished and labor performed in constructing, altering, repairing, or making any addition to said building, structure, or other improvement. "Any person" as used herein refers to the owner of the land, or of any interest therein, whether acting directly, or with, or through any other person authorized by, or acting with the knowledge and consent of such owner.

Public work, bond required, § 3573.
This chapter is not unconstitutional as depriving land owner of due process of law.
Rio Grande Lumber Co. v. Darke, 50 U. —; 167 P. 241.

3760. Bond to be exhibited to interested parties. Any person subject thereto shall obtain possession of said bond and shall, upon request, at any time during business hours, exhibit the same to any material man, sub-contractor, or mechanic, or other person who may be interested.

3761. Right of action against sureties. Every material man, sub-contractor, or mechanic, or other person, or concern that may furnish materials, or perform labor, for or upon any such building, structure, or other improvement, shall have a direct right of action against the surety or sureties of said bond, which right of action shall arise forty days after the completion of the contract for construction, alteration, addition to, or repair of said building, structure, or other improvement, or, in case of a default under said contract, then forty days after such default.

3762. Liability of owner for failure to obtain bond. Any person subject to the provisions of § 3759 who fails to obtain from the builder, contractor, or other person engaged under said contract, such good and sufficient undertaking, or who refuses to exhibit the same as required by § 3760, shall be personally liable for all accounts or balances due from the said builder, contractor, or other person, to material men, sub-contractors, and mechanics, and other persons for materials supplied and labor performed for said building.

3763. Liability of sureties. Limit. The liability of the surety or sureties on said undertaking, and of the owner, shall be limited to the reasonable value of all materials supplied and of all labor performed for said building, structure, or other improvement, less payments made on account thereof, not exceeding, however, in any case the prices which said builder, contractor, or other person having the contract agreed to pay for such materials and labor.

CHAPTER 4.

LIENS OF INNKEEPERS, RANCHMEN, AND OTHERS.

3771. (1401.) Ranchmen, herders, etc. Any ranchman, farmer, agister, or herder of cattle, tavern keeper, or livery stable keeper, to whom any horses, mules, cattle, sheep, or asses shall be intrusted for the purpose of feeding, herding, pasturing, or ranching, shall have a lien upon such animals for the amount that may be due him for such feeding, herding, pasturing, or ranching, and shall be authorized to retain possession of such animals until the said amount is paid.

This lien is not prior in right to a prior recorded valid chattel mortgage on an animal.
Grubb v. Lashus, 42 U. 254; 129 P. 1029.

3772. (1402.) Innkeepers. Every hotel, tavern, or boarding house keeper, or person who lets furnished rooms shall have a lien upon the baggage of his patrons, boarders, guests, and tenants for the amount that may be due from any such persons for such boarding, lodging, or rent, and he is hereby authorized to hold and retain possession of such baggage until the amount so due for boarding, lodging, or rent, or either, is paid.

Lien of common carrier for storage, § 3790.
A party living at a hotel as a regular monthly boarder, is in no sense a guest so as to hold the proprietors liable as innkeepers. In such a case they are liable only as boarding house keepers, and are held to ordinary diligence only.
Lawrence v. Howard, 1 U. 142.

3773. (1404.) For repair of personal property. Any mechanic or other person who shall make, alter, repair, or bestow labor upon any article of personal property, at the request of the owner of such property, shall in like manner have a lien upon such articles for his reasonable charges for the labor performed and for any materials furnished and used in making such alteration, repair, or improvement.

Where plaintiff's agent took plaintiff's automobile to a garage for repairs, believing that the repairs would be made by S., but the repairs were made by defendant, the implied contract to pay for repairs was sufficient to sustain defendant's lien.
Westminster Inv. Co. v. McCurtain, 39 U. 544; 118 P. 564.

3774. (1405.) Foreclosure and sale. At any time after thirty days after default made in the payment of a debt secured by a lien upon personal property, such lien may be foreclosed by advertisement, upon the notice and in the manner provided for the foreclosure of mortgages on personal property; provided, that a copy of the notice shall, at the time of posting or publication, be delivered to the owner of the property, or if he does not reside in the county, shall be transmitted to him by mail at his usual place of abode, if known. After paying the reasonable expenses of the sale, together with the amount due and the cost of keeping the property up to the time of the sale, the residue, if any, shall be rendered to the owner of the property. If the property be sold by advertisement, a statement shall be rendered to the owner of the property as the law prescribes shall be made to a mortgagor, and on failure to render such statement, the lienholder shall forfeit to the owner the sum of $25 damages. The fees for the publication of notices shall in no case exceed the sum of $3, and the fees of the person crying the sale shall be $2 per day.

Fee of crier, § 2538.
Cited in: Howard et al. v. Paulson & Co., 41 U. 490; 127 P. 284.

3775. (1406.) Right of action. Nothing in this chapter shall take away the right of action of the party to whom such lien is given, for his charges, or for any residue thereof, after sale of such property.

A warehouseman, by presenting to an executor a claim against an estate for storage charges, without mentioning his lien, by suing thereon after rejection, which action was dismissed, did not make an election of remedies so as to bar the assertion of his lien by way of counterclaim in a subsequent action by the executor to recover the property.
Howard et al. v. Paulson & Co., 41 U. 490; 127 P. 284.

CHAPTER 5.

LESSORS' LIENS.

3776. (1407.) Attach to what. Limitation. Lessors, except as hereinafter provided, shall have a lien for rent due upon all of the property of the lessee not exempt from execution as long as the lessee shall occupy the leased premises, and for thirty days thereafter.

A landlord may proceed in equity to foreclose his lien, notwithstanding the provision of this chapter Houston Real Estate Co. et al. v. Hechler, 44 U. 64; 138 P. 1159.

3777. (1408.) Priority. A lien for rent as provided for under this chapter shall have priority over all other liens, except taxes, mortgages for purchase money, and liens of employes for services as provided by law; provided, however, that when a lessee shall be adjudged a bankrupt, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or when the lessee's property shall be put into the possession of a receiver, the lien herein provided shall be limited to the rent for six months prior thereto. Am'd '13, p. 20.

A lessee from month to month having died, the lessor instituted proceedings for rent thirty-four days after lessee's death, claiming the benefit of the lessor's lien; held, that the lessor's claim was not superior to all other claims, the total value of the estate being less than $1,500, and that the estate should have been set apart for the support of the widow and minor children of the deceased.
In re Stone's estate, 14 U. 205; 46 P. 1101.
Where proceedings to enforce a lessor's lien are not instituted until after the time limited by statute, the lien is lost.
Id.

3778. (1409.) Application for writ of attachment. Jurisdiction. Where any rent shall become due or the lessee shall be about to remove his property from such leased premises, it shall be lawful for the lessor, his attorney, agent, or assigns, to apply to a justice of the peace of the precinct, or if the rent is not less than the sum of $300, then to the district court of the district wherein the premises are situated, for a warrant to seize the property of such lessee.

Jurisdiction in district or justices court, § 1792.

3779. (1410.) Id. Affidavit. Bond. The lessor, his attorney, agent, or assigns shall, before the issue of such writ of attachment, file in the court aforesaid an affidavit duly sworn to, setting forth the amount of rent sued for over and above all offsets and counterclaims, and a brief description of the leased premises, and shall further state, under oath, that said writ of attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the lessee; and the person applying for such writ of attachment shall execute a bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, conditioned that the lessor will pay the lessee such damages as he may sustain in case such writ of attachment has been illegally and unjustly sued out, which bond shall be approved and filed with the papers in the case.

An amendment striking from the complaint the prayer that attachment issue against defendant, and that plaintiffs have a first lien upon all of defendant's property not exempt, leaving merely prayer for general relief, did not change the nature of the action or affect the rights of the parties, and would be stricken on motion of plaintiffs.
Houston Real Estate Inv. Co. v. Hechler, 44 U. 64; 138 P. 1159.

Where property is attached in an action between third persons hereunder, the claimant may, as a matter of right, intervene in such action and have determined his right to or interest in the property attached.
Id.

3780. (1411.) Issuance of writ. Upon the filing of such affidavit and bond, it shall be the duty of the court wherein the same is filed to issue a writ of attachment to the proper person, commanding him to seize the property of the defendant not exempt from execution, or so much thereof as shall satisfy the demand.

3781. (1412.) Id. Duty of officer. It shall be the duty of the officer to whom the writ of attachment is directed to seize the property of such lessee not exempt from execution, or as much thereof as shall be of value sufficient to satisfy such debt, costs, and reasonable attorney's fee, and to keep the same until the determination of the action pending between the lessor and lessee, unless the property be sooner released by bond or the attachment be discharged.

3782. (1413.) Bond for release. A bond for the release of the attached property may be given, and motion to discharge the attachment may be made, in the manner provided by law for the release of property taken under attachment or for the discharge of a writ of attachment.

Application to release or discharge, §§ 6724-6727.

A lessor brought suit for rent under lessors' lien law of 1894 and attached the lessee's goods; held, that the lessee is entitled to give a bond and have the property released from attachment under the provisions of the law concerning attachments, since the lessors' lien law did not of itself afford a complete remedy.
Woolley v. Maynes-Wells Co., 15 U. 341; 49 P. 647.

3783. (1414.) What property liable to sale. All property, including growing and harvested crops and all ore mined or upon the premises, or so much of said property as may be necessary to pay the amount of rent due and costs, shall be liable to sale to enforce the payment of the lien hereby created.

Where the court makes a formal order for the sale of attached property, a subsequent order of the court recalling a special execution issued in pursuance of the order is a nullity, does not affect the order of sale.
State ex rel. Newell v. District Court, 37 U. 418; 108 P. 1121.

3784. (1415.) Chapter not applicable to building on leased land. This chapter shall not be applicable to a written lease for a term of years, in which, as part of the consideration thereof, the lessee or assigns shall erect a building or buildings, or improvements upon the leased premises.

CHAPTER 6.

COMMON CARRIERS' LIENS.

3789. (1416.) Unclaimed property. Delivery to warehouseman. Whenever any railroad company or other common carrier, except an express company, shall have transported any baggage or freight of any kind to the place of consignment within this state, and the owner, consignee, or party entitled to receive the same shall omit, for the period of sixty days after the arrival of the baggage or freight at the place of consignment, to accept and remove the same and pay the charges thereon, it shall be lawful for such carrier to deliver such freight, for storage, to some person or company conducting the business of storing goods, subject to the charges thereon for transportation, storage by the carrier, and conveyance and drayage to the place of storage, accompanied by a substantial copy of the bill of lading in case of freight, or, in case of baggage, by a statement of the place from which, and the place to which such baggage was transported, together with the check numbers; and any carrier whose route for transportation reaches to this state may collect and store as aforesaid at any station in this state the unclaimed freight from all or any points or stations on its line within this state.

Common carriers' lien, § 3791.
Warehouse lien, §§ 6227-6236.

3790. (1417.) Id. Freight and storage. Disposition of proceeds. Sale. The person or company receiving such unclaimed baggage or freight for storage shall keep a record of such bill of lading or statement and shall have a lien on such baggage or freight for the charges of the carrier and reasonable charges for subsequent care and storage, and in case the owner or person entitled to receive the same does not pay all such charges and receive and remove the property within ninety days after the same is received from the carrier, the party having the same in storage as aforesaid may proceed to sell the same, upon a notice given for the length of time and in the manner provided by law for the sale of personal property on execution, and retain, out of the proceeds of sale, the amount of the lien and reasonable costs and charges of sale, and in case the proceeds are more than sufficient, the surplus shall be deposited with the state treasurer, and on request of the party entitled thereto, made within two years from the date of sale, shall be paid to such owner or person entitled thereto, and if not so claimed shall be forfeited to the state.

Sale of personal property on execution, § 6929.
Sale of freight by common carrier, §§ 3792, 3793.

SALE OF UNCLAIMED FREIGHT.

3791. (1417x.) Common carriers' lien. All common carriers in this state shall have a lien upon all goods, wares, merchandise, baggage, and property in their possession for freight, handling, expenses, and storage charges, and charges advanced to connecting carriers. '99, p. 54.

Common carriers' lien, § 3789.

3792. (1417x1.) How enforced. The carrier may enforce the lien by a sale of the property in the following cases: If the property be not accepted, taken away, and charges paid by the consignee or person or party authorized to receive the same, within two months after the arrival of the property at the point of consignment, or after its arrival at the point nearest the point of consignment, if not consigned to a station on the line or to a connecting carrier; or if the charges be not paid and the property taken away within two months after a connecting carrier shall have refused to accept the property for further transportation and advance the back charges, and thirty days' notice of refusal by mail to the consignor, if known, directed to the place of shipment; or in case property is left with the carrier to await shipment, and no shipping instructions given and shipment made for two months. '99, p. 54.

3793. (1417x2.) Sale at auction. The sale shall be at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, after advertising for ten days in a newspaper of general circulation published at the place of sale, giving the time and place of sale, the amount of the lien other than the expenses of the sale, and a brief description of the property, with the names of the consignor and consignee, if known. All property in one shipment may be sold as one parcel, and the carrier shall not be required to break bulk or open boxes or packages to expose the contents. Property to be sold may be collected from the stations on the line, at one or more points convenient for sale, and the lien thereon shall include reasonable charges for such transportation. Of the proceeds of sale, the carrier may retain the amount of the lien, and reasonable costs and expenses of sale, and on demand pay any excesses to the owner or person entitled thereto, on the production of the shipping bill properly indorsed, or of other satisfactory evidence of the right of the claimant to such proceeds.

Secs. 3791-3793 shall not be deemed to repeal §§ 3789, 3790, nor to prohibit the foreclosure in the courts of Utah of a common carrier's lien. '99, p. 55.

TITLE 63.

LOAN COMMISSIONERS.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL POWERS.

3800. (1418.) State board. The governor, the secretary of state, and the attorney general shall constitute a state board of loan commissioners, and shall exercise the powers and perform the duties provided in this title.

The State Board of Loan Commissioners has received special authorization, viz: to refund the territorial bond issue of 1892 and dispose of the funds provided by law for the redemption thereof. Chapter 65, Laws '09, to issue bonds in the amounts and for the purposes as follows:

$200,000.00 for the state capitol, chap. 67, L. '09.

$1,000,000.00 for the erection of the state capitol, chap. 8, L. '11.

$200,000.00 for University building, chap. 14, L. '11.

$650,000.00 for the State Capitol building, chap. 64, L. '15.

$1,000,000.00 for construction, repair and maintenance of state roads, secs. 2864-2870, chap. 32, L. '17.

3801. (1419.) Auditor's warrant for interest on bonds. The state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the amount of interest which shall fall due on the 1st day of January and on the 1st day of July of each year, on the bonds negotiated and issued by the state board of loan commissioners by virtue of "An act creating a state board of loan commissioners, providing for the issuing and disposal of state bonds, and for the refunding of the bonds of the territory or state already issued," approved April 2, 1896, which said interest warrant shall be drawn at least one month previous to the maturing of the interest; and the sum of $8,000 annually, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated and set aside from the general fund of the state, from year to year, to pay the interest upon said bonds.

3802. (1420.) Bond redemption fund. At the expiration of ten years after the issuing of said bonds, there shall be set apart and is hereby appropriated out of the general funds in the hands of the state treasurer, annually, the sum of $20,000, to be drawn on the warrant of the auditor, to pay the principal of said bonds as the same shall fall due. Said amount shall be held and placed by the treasurer in a fund to be known as the redemption fund for the redemption of said bonds.

3803. (1421.) Report to legislature. It shall be the duty of the state board of loan commissioners to make a full report of all its proceedings under the provisions of this title to the state legislature, during the first week of the next session and biennially thereafter.

3804. (1422.) Board may refund territorial bonds. The state board of loan commissioners is hereby given power and authority, under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe, not in conflict herewith, to refund all outstanding territorial bonds, by issuing therefor negotiable coupon bonds similar in form to those issued under the provisions of the aforesaid act of April 2, 1896. The number and denomination of said bonds shall be determined by the board.

3805. (1423.) Bonds not taxable. No bonds issued under the provisions of this title shall be taxed for any purpose within this state.

CHAPTER 2.

MAY BORROW MONEY.

3806. (1423x.) Board of loan commissioners authorized to borrow money. The state board of loan commissioners, whenever there are no available funds in the state treasury with which to pay warrants drawn on the treasurer, are authorized to borrow money for the state, at such rate of interest as they may agree upon; provided, that such interest shall not exceed the rate of six per cent per annum, and to execute promissory notes in the name of the state for such loans; provided, that no such loans shall be for a longer period than until the 1st day of January next following the date of the loan. All moneys borrowed under the provisions of this chapter shall be paid into the state treasury upon the delivery of the note made for such loan.

'99, p. 22.

3807. (1423x1.) Requisition on auditor. Whenever any loan made under the provisions of this chapter is about to mature, the state board of loan commissioners must make a requisition upon the state auditor for warrants to pay such loan and interest, and the auditor must thereupon draw his warrants in favor of the lender for the amounts stated in the requisition, and must take up and cancel such promissory notes and file the same in his office.

'99, p. 23.

3808. (1423x2.) Appropriation. The sum of $5,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated annually to pay interest on money borrowed under the provisions of this chapter. '99, p. 23.

CHAPTER 3.

INVESTMENT OF REDEMPTION FUNDS.

3809. (1423x3.) Redemption fund to be invested. The state board of loan commissioners is hereby authorized and directed to invest the redemption funds for the redemption of the bonds issued by the state of Utah in state, municipal, or school district bonds of this state, or in warrants on the reservoir land grant fund issued under the provisions of §§ 5659-5670.

'03, p. 120; am'd '13, p. 91; '15, p. 42.

Investment of other sinking funds, § 5200.

3810. (1423x4.) Warrant to be drawn. Whenever the state board of loan commissioners shall order the investment of any of said funds, it shall make a requisition upon the state auditor, and he shall draw his warrant for the amount stated in requisition upon said redemption fund. '03, p. 121.

3811. (1423x5.) Delivered to treasurer. Whenever any bonds are purchased as investments of said fund, the same shall be delivered to the state treasurer, who shall be charged upon his official bond for the safe keeping of said bonds. '03, p. 121.

3812. (1423x6.) Interest to be collected. As the interest matures on any of the bonds purchased as an investment of said fund, the state treasurer shall collect the same and deposit the proceeds thereof in the general fund of the state. '03, p. 121.

TITLE 64.

MATCHES.

MANUFACTURE, STORAGE, SALE AND DISTRIBUTION OF MATCHES.

('13, p. 49.)

3820. Manufacture, sale, etc., of non-safety matches prohibited. Definition. No person, association, or corporation shall manufacture, store, offer for sale, sell, or otherwise dispose of, or distribute white phosphorous, single-dipped, strike-anywhere matches of the type popularly known as "parlor matches"; nor manufacture, store, sell, offer for sale, or otherwise dispose of, or distribute, white phosphorous, double-dipped, strike-anywhere matches or any other type of double-dipped matches, unless the bulb or first dip of such match is composed of a so-called safety or inert composition, non-ignitable on an abrasive surface; nor manufacture, store, sell, or offer for sale, or otherwise dispose of, or distribute matches which when packed in a carton of five hundred approximate capacity and placed in an oven maintained at a constant temperature of 200 degrees F., will ignite in eight hours; nor manufacture, store, offer for sale, sell, or otherwise dispose of, or distribute blazer, or so-called wind matches, whether of the so-called safety or strike-anywhere type.

3821. Packages to be labeled. Requirements for storage. No person, association, or corporation shall offer for sale, sell, or otherwise dispose of, or distribute any matches, unless the package or container in which such matches are packed bears, plainly marked on the outside thereof, the name of the manufacturer and the brand or trademark under which the matches are sold, disposed of, or distributed; nor shall more than one case of each brand of matches of any type or manufacture be opened at any time in the retail store where matches are sold or otherwise disposed of; nor shall loose boxes or paper wrapped packages of matches be kept on shelves or stored in such retail stores at a height exceeding five feet from the floor; all matches, when stored in warehouses, must be kept only in properly secured cases, and not piled to a height exceeding ten feet from the floor; nor be stored within a horizontal distance of ten feet from any boiler, furnace, stove, or other like heating apparatus, nor within a horizontal distance of twenty-five feet from any explosive material kept or stored on the same floor; all matches shall be packed in boxes or suitable packages, containing not more than seven hundred matches in any one box or package; provided, however, that when more than three hundred matches are packed in any one box or package the said matches shall be arranged in two nearly equal portions, the heads of the matches in the two portions shall be placed in opposite directions, and all boxes containing three hundred and fifty or more matches shall have placed over the matches a center holding or protecting strip, made of chip board, not less than one and one-quarter inches wide; said strip shall be flanged down to hold the matches in position when the box is nested into the shuck or withdrawn from it.

3822. Id. Manner of packing. All match boxes or packages shall be packed in strong shipping containers or cases; maximum number of match boxes or packages contained in any one shipping container or case shall not exceed the following numbers:

Number of boxes	Nominal Number of matches per box.
½ gross	700
1 gross	500
2 gross	400
3 gross	300
5 gross	200
12 gross	100
20 gross, over 50 and under	100
25 gross, under	50

No shipping container or case constructed of fibre board, corrugated fibre board, or wood, nailed or wire bound, shall exceed a weight, including its contents, of seventy-five pounds; and no lock cornered wooden case containing matches shall have a weight, including its contents, exceeding eighty-five pounds; nor shall any other article or commodity be packed with matches in any such container or case; and all such containers and cases in which matches are packed shall have plainly marked on the outside of the container or case the words, "strike-anywhere matches" or "strike-on-the-box matches."

3823. Penalty. Any person, association, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined for the first offense not less than $5 nor more than $25, and for each subsequent violation, not less than $25.

3824. Repeal. All laws in conflict with the provisions of this title are hereby repealed.

TITLE 65.

MILITIA AND ARMORIES.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE MILITIA.

('17, p. 289.)

3826. Composition of militia. Exemptions. All able-bodied male citizens, and all able-bodied males of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens, more than eighteen and less than forty-five years of age, who are residents of this state, shall constitute the militia, subject to the following exemptions:

1. Persons exempted by the laws of the United States;
2. Persons exempted by the laws of this state;
3. All persons who have been honorably discharged from the army, navy, or volunteer forces of the United States;
4. Active members of any regularly organized fire or police department in any city or town, but no member of the active militia shall be relieved from duty therein because of his joining any volunteer fire company or department;
5. All persons who have served five years in the active militia of this state, and have received an honorable discharge;
6. Judges and clerks of courts of record; state and county civil officers holding office by election; or state officers appointed by the governor for a specified term of office; ministers of the gospel; practicing physicians; superintendents, officers, and assistants of hospitals, prisons, and jails; conductors, brakemen, flagmen, engineers, firemen, and all other employes of railways, actually employed in train service;
7. Idiots, lunatics, and persons convicted of infamous crime.

All such exempted persons except those enumerated in subdivisions 1 and 7 shall be liable to military duty in case of war, insurrection, invasion, or imminent danger thereof or after they have voluntarily enlisted in the national guard of this state.

Whom militia shall consist of, Con. art. 15. secs. 1 and 2.

Members not liable for action in line of duty, § 3836.

3827. National guard. Unorganized militia. The militia of this state shall be divided into two parts, the national guard and the unorganized militia.

National guard may use state armory and ar senal, § 3887.

3828. Commander-in-chief. The governor of the state, by virtue of his office, shall be commander-in-chief of the national guard and of the unorganized militia and of any portions of the unorganized militia which may hereafter be organized, except when such portions of the militia may be in the service of the United States.

Governor issues call, Con. art. 7, sec. 4.

3829. Staff of commander-in-chief. The staff of the commander-in-chief shall consist of the adjutant-general, the assistant adjutant-general, and such other members as he shall choose from the officers of the national guard, the national guard reserve, or active or retired officers of the United States army, navy, or marine corps. The members of the staff shall serve as such without pay from the state.

3830. Governor may order militia into service. The governor shall have power, in case of insurrection or invasion or imminent war, or in case of tumult or riot when it clearly appears that the civil authorities are unable to preserve order, to order into active service the national guard or the unorganized militia or such portions thereof as he may deem necessary. In the event it is necessary to order into active service any members of the unorganized militia, the governor shall have power to adopt such methods as he shall deem most expedient for that purpose.

3831. Failure to respond to order. Penalty. Every member of the unorganized militia or the national guard ordered out, or who volunteers or is drafted into active service, who does not appear at the time and place designated by proper authority, within forty-eight hours after receipt of order so to do, or who does not produce a satisfactory certificate of physical disability, shall be taken as a deserter and dealt with as prescribed by the articles of war of the United States.

3832. Mustering. Time. Organization. Rules. Members of the unorganized militia called into service of this state shall be mustered into service for such a period, not to exceed the period of one enlistment in the national guard, as the governor shall deem necessary. Militia so mustered into service shall be organized into units as provided by the rules and regulations governing the regular army of the United States, or as otherwise provided by law.

3833. State of insurrection. Martial law. Proclamations. Whenever a portion of the militia is employed in the aid of the civil authorities, the governor, if in his judgment the maintenance of law and order will thereby be promoted, may by proclamation declare a county, city, or town, or any specified portion thereof in which the troops are serving, to be in a state of insurrection, and may proclaim martial law.

3834. Subject to call of president. Encampments. Discipline. The national guard of this state at all times shall be subject to the call of the president of the United States, and when called into the service of the United States shall be governed by the laws and military regulations of the United States provided therefor. The national guard and the members thereof shall attend such drills, encampments, and maneuvers as the president or the secretary of war shall direct. The discipline in the national guard shall at all times conform to that provided by the laws of the United States.

3835. Government of unorganized militia. All militia called into service shall be governed as herein provided for the national guard, unless otherwise provided by law.

3836. Liability in line of duty. Actions. Members of the militia ordered into active service of the state by any proper authority shall not be liable civilly or criminally for any act or acts done by them in line of duty. When an action or proceeding of any nature shall be commenced in any court by any person against any officer of the militia for any act done by such officer in his official capacity in the discharge of any duty under this chapter, or an alleged omission by him to do an act which it was his duty to perform, or against any person acting under the authority or order of any such officer or by virtue of any warrant issued by him pursuant to law, the defendant may require the person instituting or prosecuting the action or proceeding to file security for the payment of costs that may be awarded to the defendant therein, and if such bond be not filed within five days after demand therefor, such action shall be dismissed.

3837. Adjutant-general. Powers. Duties. Salary. Bond. Seal. The governor shall appoint an adjutant-general, who shall have been an officer of the national guard in active service for not less than five years and who shall be in control of the military department of the state and subordinate to the governor only in matters pertaining to said department. He shall perform such duties as are now, or shall hereafter be, imposed by the laws of this state and of the United States and by the rules and regulations of the war department; but if any duties imposed by the statutes of this state shall at any time hereafter conflict with those imposed by the laws of the United States, then the duties imposed by the statutes of this state, as far as they conflict, shall be abrogated. He shall keep a register of the officers and enlisted men of the national guard, and a record of all orders and regulations pertaining to the national guard and the unorganized militia. He shall, when he deems it necessary, at the expense of the state, purchase, or cause to be printed, and issue to members of the national guard or other persons, copies of the military law, the various orders of the war department, and such other literature as he shall deem best for the interests of the service. He shall cause to be prepared all blanks, books, forms, and reports necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, but all blanks or forms shall be identical, or as nearly so as possible, with those required by the war department for use by the regular army or national guard. He shall, under the direction of the state armory board, have supervision and charge of all the armories, stables, and lands used for military purposes by this state. He shall, each year, on or before the 1st of February, appoint a board, consisting of three officers of the national guard, who shall serve without pay as such, whose duty it shall be to encourage rifle practice and to secure for this state all benefits possible under the provisions of the laws of the United States governing rifle practice. He shall, on or before the 1st day of January next preceding the regular session of the legislature, make a full and detailed report to the governor of all transactions of his office, with the expense thereof, for the preceding two years, and shall report at such other times and on such other matters as the governor shall require or as he shall deem advisable. He may appoint, with the approval of the governor, a quartermaster-sergeant for permanent duty at the armory in Salt Lake City, at a salary not to exceed $80 per month. He shall be disbursing and property officer for the state. He shall draw all vouchers or checks for sums expended for military purposes, and shall submit a written report of such expenditures, semi-annually, to the governor. He shall, semi-annually, or oftener if he deems necessary, report to the governor what service arms, with all accessories, field artillery material, engineer, signal, and sanitary material, accouterments, field uniforms, clothing, equipage, publications, and military stores of all kinds, including public animals, are necessary to arm, uniform, and equip for field service the national guard of this state. Upon receipt of this report it shall be the duty of the governor to requisition such property from the United States. He shall also furnish to the governor, from time to time, a list of stores, supplies, material of war, and military publications furnished to the army which he shall deem it advisable to purchase for the use of the national guard, including the officers thereof. Such property may, upon requisition and delivery, he sold for cash at actual cost, plus transportation, to officers of the national guard, or to enlisted men thereof, upon the recommendation of a commissioned officer. He shall, with the approval of the governor, draw vouchers on the state appropriation for the national guard, payable to the United States, to cover any damage to the United States property charged to the state, when such damage shall have been properly adjudged to be payable by the state. All military property of the state, which after proper inspection shall be found unserviceable, shall, under the direction of the governor, be disposed of by the adjutant-general at public or private sale, as he may deem advisable; provided, that where said property shall be deemed by the inspecting officer to exceed $50 in value, such sale shall be made after ten days' notice in a newspaper published in the county where such sale is to be made; and if such unserviceable property shall be found by the inspecting officer to be of no actual value, it shall be destroyed under the direction of the adjutant-general. He shall, from time to time, render a true account to the governor of the sales made by him and, under the direction of the governor, expend the proceeds of the same for other military property. Such account shall include sales of property made to officers and men of the guard. The adjutant-general shall have charge of and shall carefully preserve the colors, flags, guidons, and military trophies of war belonging to the state, and shall not allow the same to be loaned out or removed from their proper places of deposit, and shall also be the custodian of and preserve all military documents and records of every nature which may be placed in his charge, relating to the Indian wars within the state or wars in which the United States has participated. He is hereby authorized to detail one commissioned officer of the national guard for permanent duty at the office of the adjutant-general, at a salary not to exceed $1500 per year. He is also authorized to employ such clerical assistance as shall be necessary to perform the duties of his office. He is authorized to detail for permanent duty, at a salary of not less than $1500 per year, one commissioned officer with each organization of the national guard, and to detail as his assistant, at a salary of not less than $60 per month, one enlisted man from his organization. The officers and men so detailed for duty with the national guard shall devote at least eight hours daily, excepting Sundays and holidays, to such work, and their duties shall be such as are prescribed by the adjutant-general. The salary of the adjutant-general shall be $1500 per year. He shall give bond to the state in the penal sum of $10,000, with at least two sureties, to be approved by the governor. The seal of the adjutant-general's office shall be circular in form, containing a circle; within the inner circle shall be the shield with "Utah" impressed thereon, and between the circles shall be impressed "national guard, adjutant-general."

Salary, § 5071.
Commissioner Indian war records, §§ 3040-3043.
Member armory board, § 3881.
Approve claims injured members, § 3873.

3838. Detail of United States officer. The governor shall detail, with the approval of the secretary of war, an officer of the United States for the national guard of this state.

3839. Assistant adjutant-general. Property and disbursing officer. Duties. The governor shall appoint an assistant adjutant-general, who shall be the same person appointed by the governor and approved by the secretary of war as property and disbursing officer of the United States for this state. In all matters pertaining to state property or affairs he shall be under the supervision of the adjutant-general. He shall attend to the safe-keeping, issue, and repairing of all military property of the state or of the United States which may be charged to this state, and of all other property used for military purposes. He shall give a bond to the state in the penal sum of $10,000. He may, when necessary, with the approval of the adjutant-general, employ such common labor as may be necessary to maintain the property, both state and federal, under his care in a proper state of repair. He shall receive a salary of $600 per year, which shall be exclusive of any compensation paid him by the United States government.

3840. Strength and organization of national guard. The strength and organization of the national guard, and the branches of the service maintained in this state, shall be such as are now or shall hereafter be provided by the laws of the United States.

3841. Location of units. Training. The commander-in-chief shall designate the location and home stations of all units of the national guard, including the headquarters. He may, if he deem it advisable, direct that the two halves of any unit shall be placed at different locations, but in that event shall provide for the proper training of the unit as a whole.

3842. Designations by president. Orders of location by governor. Upon the designation by the president of the United States of the particular unit or units, as to branch or arm of service, that shall be maintained in this state, it shall be the duty of the governor, through the adjutant-general, to issue an order stating at what cities or towns organizations of the national guard shall be located.

3843. Lists of eligibles furnished by county assessors. The county assessor of each county shall annually, on or before the 1st day of September, file with the county commissioners of each county and with the adjutant-general a list of all male residents of that county not exempt by § 3826 who are more than eighteen and less than twenty-two years of age, and a separate list of all such males more than twenty-two and less than forty-five years of age. He shall, within thirty days after the designation by the governor of any city or town as the location of an organization of the national guard, file with the adjutant-general a list of all male persons between the ages of eighteen and twenty-two years, inclusive, who reside within the said city or town. All such lists shall contain the names, ages, occupations, and addresses of the persons listed, and shall state whether they are married or single. Duplicates of the lists shall be filed with the county commissioners.

3845. Insufficient enlistments. Drawings to increase organizations. If, at the expiration of thirty days after the posting of the proclamation in the preceding section, there have not been sufficient enlistments to bring the organization up to the strength required by law, or if at any time thereafter there are not sufficient enlistments to maintain such strength, the adjutant-general shall forthwith cause to be placed in a box suitable for that purpose the names of all persons listed by the assessor as residing within the said city or town, and shall cause to be drawn therefrom, without prejudice or favor to anyone, the names of sufficient persons to increase the organization to the strength provided by law.

3846. Examinations. Exemptions. Term of enlistment. The names so drawn shall be sent forthwith to the officer in charge of such organization, and such officer shall, upon receipt of the same, direct all such persons when, where, and to whom to report for a physical and such other examination as may be provided by law. If any person so examined shall fail to pass the examination, he shall be given a certificate stating that fact, and shall thereafter be exempt from military duty for a period of two years; but all such persons who successfully pass the examination shall, unless otherwise exempted by law, become members of the national guard for a period of six years, dating from the date on which their names were drawn. As such, they shall be subject to all the privileges, duties, and liabilities of a person who voluntarily enlists in the national guard.

3847. Failure to appear and qualify. Penalty. Releases. Any person whose name is drawn as hereinbefore provided, who shall fail to appear when ordered by the officer in charge of an organization or other competent authority to do so, or who shall refuse to take and subscribe the oath provided by law for the members of the national guard, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof by a court having jurisdiction of misdemeanors shall be imprisoned for not less than one nor more than six months. Nor shall any period served under a sentence imposed as herein provided for be construed as a portion of the enlistment period of such person; provided, that the governor may release such person on probation and, if he deem just, apply time served in the national guard during such probation period upon the enlistment of such person.

3848. Officers. Appointments. Qualification. Age limits. Vacancies. Rank. All officers of the national guard shall be appointed by the governor, subject to the approval of the secretary of war, or subject to such approval as shall be prescribed by the laws of the United States or rules or regulations thereof governing the national guard. No officer shall be commissioned unless he shall successfully pass such tests, both physical and mental, as shall be prescribed by the president of the United States; nor shall any officer be commissioned unless he shall have taken the oath prescribed by the laws of the United States; shall be over twenty-one years of age, a citizen of the United States, and shall have been selected from one of the following classes: Officers or enlisted men of the national guard; officers on the reserve or unassigned list of the national guard; officers, active or retired, or former officers of the United States army, navy, and marine corps; graduates of the United States military and naval academies, and graduates of schools, colleges, and universities where military science is taught under the supervision of an officer of the regular army, which graduates have taken the regular course in military science prescribed by such school, college, or university, and, for the technical branches and staff corps or departments, such other civilians as may be especially qualified for duty therein. Staff officers, including officers of the pay, inspection, subsistence, and medical departments, and any other officers not detailed with organized units, shall be of the classes aforementioned, and shall hold their positions until they shall have reached the age of sixty-four years, unless retired prior to that time by reason of resignation, disability, or for cause to be determined by a court-martial legally convened for that purpose, and vacancies among said officers shall be filled by appointment from the officers of the national guard of this state. Commissions shall be issued under the seal of the adjutant-general's office, signed by the governor, and countersigned by the adjutant-general. They may be vacated in such manner as is now or shall hereafter be provided by law in regard to commissions of the regular army and the national guard of the United States. The relative rank of officers of the same grade shall be determined by length of service in that grade, whether continuous or not, and if the length of service of two or more officers is the same, their rank shall be determined by lot.

3849. Enlistments. Qualifications. Assignments. Discharges. Any male between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, who is a citizen of the United States or who has declared his intention to become a citizen, may be enlisted in the national guard, subject to such physical and other examinations as may be prescribed by the secretary of war. All persons herein named who shall enlist in the national guard shall take and subscribe the oath provided by the laws of the United States, and upon so doing shall become members of the national guard for such period as may be prescribed by the laws of the United States, unless sooner discharged. Enlisted men may be discharged as provided by the laws of the United States and regulations of the war department.

The commander-in-chief shall assign enlisted men to the various organizations within the state as he shall deem advisable.

3850. Non-commissioned officers. The appointment and reduction of non-commissioned officers shall be made in like manner as in the regular army of the United States.

3851. Furloughs and leaves of absence. Unless otherwise provided by laws of the United States or the regulations of the war department, the commanding officer of any troop, battery, or other unit shall have power to excuse members of his organization from attendance at drill for good and sufficient reason; he shall also have power to grant furloughs and leaves of absence, by and with the consent of the adjutant-general.

3852. State employes in service get full pay. Dependents provided for. All state employes who are or shall become members of the national guard of this state shall be allowed full pay for all time spent on duty at annual encampments or rifle competitions or other duties in connection with the national guard not in service, and such time shall not be deducted from any vacations such employes may be entitled to. If the national guard of this state be called into the service of the United States, the state shall provide for the dependents of members of the national guard so called into service. The state board of examiners shall cause an examination to be made into the merits of all cases of alleged dependency, and upon finding that any mother, father, grandfather, grandmother, wife, sister, brother, child, or children of such member of the national guard, or any or either of them are dependent upon such member for support, the state board of examiners shall determine the amount to be paid by the state to any or each of dependent class, and shall cause the state auditor to draw his warrant on the state treasurer for such sum or sums in favor of such specific and determined dependents, which sum or sums shall be payable out of any amounts available for military purposes or for the maintenance and support of the national guard. If there be not sufficient funds available to pay for the necessary support of all the state dependents determined and specified by the board of examiners, the funds available shall be pro-rated among the dependents specified by the board of examiners. The board of examiners, in specifying the amount or amounts to be paid to such dependents, may provide for a payment on a weekly or monthly basis and on such conditions as it may deem best in each particular case.

3853. Promotions. Exceptions. In making promotions of officers, preference shall be given to those of highest rank, unless, in the opinion of the commander-in-chief, such course would be inimical to the best interests of the service.

3854. Prizes and competitions. To encourage marksmanship the governor is authorized to offer annually, a state decoration to those who shall excel in small arms practice, also prizes, not exceeding a total of $100 in value, to be competed for annually by the armed organizations. All such prizes shall be competed for under the regulations to be prescribed by a board of three officers to be appointed by the governor, and all such competitions shall be open to all officers and enlisted men of the guard. The governor may also offer prizes, not to exceed in value the amount of $75 per year, to be bestowed upon the company or companies showing the highest degree of proficiency in the performance of any prescribed duty, such prize to become the property of the company winning said prize.

3855. Participation in public ceremonies is military duty. Participation in public ceremonies and parades and other duties in the service of the state shall be deemed military duties of the national guard, and when participated in by the national guard, or any portion thereof, under the instructions of the commander-in-chief, the expenses and pay incident to the service of the state shall be allowed by the proper auditing officers from the state appropriation for the support of the militia.

3856. Rules and regulations. Offenses against. The commander-in-chief is authorized and has power to establish and prescribe such rules and regulations, forms, and precedents, not inconsistent with the provisions of law, or such regulations governing the national guard promulgated by the president of the United States, as he may deem proper for the use, government, and instruction of the national guard, and to carry into full effect the provisions of law relative thereto. Such rules and regulations, forms, and precedents shall, from time to time, he revised as may be deemed necessary, and shall be promulgated in orders and compiled in such form as may be deemed advisable for the information of the national guard. The forces organized as prescribed in this chapter shall be considered in the actual service of this state, and the members thereof shall be subject to military rules and regulations, and all military offenses prescribed therein, such as disobedience of orders, non-attendance at drill, assemblies, parades, reviews, or encampments, or neglect or non-performance of such other duties as they may be lawfully called upon to perform or conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, shall be considered, and they are hereby declared to be, offenses against the general police regulations of the State, and shall be punished by fine and imprisonment as hereinafter provided. Regimental, battalion, and company rules of government and by-laws, regularly adopted by a majority of the commissioned officers of such regiments and battalions or members of companies, and approved by the commander-in-chief, may be adopted and enforced in such regiments, battalions, and companies if they are not in conflict with the laws and regulations of this state or military regulations of the United States governing the national guard.

3857. Orders for duty, how served. Penalty for failure to obey. Orders for duty may be oral or written. Officers and enlisted men may be warned for duty as follows: Either by stating the substance of the order or by reading the order to the person warned, or by delivering a copy of such order to such person, or by leaving a copy at his last known place of abode or business, or by mailing it to the postoffice nearest thereto. Such warning may be given by any officer or non-commissioned officer. In case any enlisted man warned for duty fails to appear for duty, the officer or non-commissiond officer giving such notice or warning shall make a return thereof containing the name of the person warned, and the time, place, and manner of warning, if required by the officer issuing the order; such return may be verified by his oath, which may be administered by any commanding officer. Such verified returns shall be evidence on the trial of any person returned as a delinquent of the facts therein stated.

3858. Military offenses tried by court-martial. Procedure. Judgment. and sentence. All military offenses under the articles of war of the United States, or under this chapter, and under the rules and regulations which may from time to time be made and published in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, or under the laws of the United States, shall be tried by or under the laws of the United States by courts-martial. Courts-martial shall be constituted as provided by the laws of the United States or the military rules and regulations thereof, of three kinds, namely: General courts-martial, special courts-martial, and summary courts-martial. They shall be constituted like and have cognizance of the same subjects and possess like powers, except as to punishments as similar courts provided for by the laws and regulations governing the United States national guard, and the proceedings of courts-martial of the national guard shall follow the forms and modes of procedure prescribed for said similar courts. All punishments and sentences adjudged, found, or imposed by the courts-martial, unless therwise provided for in the sentence or punishment itself, shall be executed by the civil authorities the same as if the said sentence or punishment had been imposed by a judge of a civil court in a criminal case. A certified copy of the judgment rendered and sentence imposed by the court-martial certified to by the judge-advocate, or the president of the court-martial rendering said judgment and imposing said sentence shall be filed in the office of the proper civil authorities, and the same docketed in a special docket kept for said purpose. If the sentence imposed by the court-martial is a sentence involving a fine less than $299 or less than six months' imprisonment in the county jail, or both such fine and imprisonment, the certified copy of said judgment and sentence shall be filed in a justice court, whose precinct is within the limits of the place where the court-martial has been held. If the fine imposed be more than $299, or the imprisonment more than six months in the county jail, or imprisonment for more than six months in any jail or penitentiary, the certified copy of said judgment and sentence shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the judicial district in which said court-martial was held. In the case of any filing of certified copy of judgment and sentence, the same shall be docketed as above specified, and execution shall take effect upon said file and docketed judgment and sentence the same as in a criminal judgment tried in the civil courts.

Information or indictment not necessary, § 8549.

3859. Approval of sentence by governor before execution. Powers of court-martial officers. No sentence of dismissal from the service or dishonorable discharge imposed by a court-martial shall be executed until approved by the governor. Presidents of courts-martial and summary court officers shall have power to issue warrants to arrest accused persons and to bring them before the court for trial whenever such persons shall have disobeyed an order in writing from the convening authority to appear before such court, a copy of the charge or charges having been delivered to the accused with such order; and to issue subpœnas and subpœnas duces tecum, and to enforce by attachment attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers, and to sentence for a refusal to be sworn or to answer as provided in actions before civil courts, but such courts shall have power to issue process in any county within the state.

3860. Disposition of fines. All fines collected under the provisions of this chapter and the regulations governing the national guard of the United States, unless their disposition is otherwise provided for by law, shall be paid to the captain or treasurer of the organization of which the delinquent is a member for the benefit of the military fund of the organization, or if such delinquent is a member of the staff, to the state treasurer for the credit of the military fund.

3861. Actions against members and officers of military court. No action or proceeding shall be prosecuted or maintained against a member of a military court or officer, or person acting under its authority, or reviewing its proceedings, on account of the imposition, approval, or execution of any sentence, or the imposition or collection of a fine or penalty, or the execution of any warrant, writ, execution, process, or mandate of a military court.

3862. Jurisdiction of courts. Burden of proof. The jurisdiction of the courts established by this chapter shall be presumed, and the burden of proof shall rest on any person seeking to oust said court of jurisdiction in any action or proceeding.

3863. Arsenal. Military supplies. Liability of officers. The governor is hereby authorized to provide an arsenal at the state capitol for the storage of arms, equipment, and military supplies. Military supplies shall be issued upon requisition of the officer requiring same. Military supplies for the respective organizations shall be issued to and receipted for by the cammanding officer thereof, who shall be responsible to the state for the care and preservation of the same. Commanding officers will be responsible to the state for the money value of all property issued to them, which may be lost by reason of carelessness and negligence upon their part, and the governor may require such officers, and all other officers receiving property, to give a good and sufficient bond, in such form as the governor or adjutant-general may prescribe, with sureties to be approved by the adjutant-general; but in such case the state shall pay the premium on such bond. Band instruments and uniforms and equipment for the band shall be issued to the regimental adjutant.

3864. Property exempt from civil process. All military property issued to or owned by members of the national guard shall be exempt from all civil process.

3865. Arms, ordnance stores and equipment are military property of state. Penalty for disposition of or injury to. No exceptions. Arms, ordnance, quartermaster's stores, camp equipment, and other military property, whether the property of the United States or of this state, for the purpose of this section shall be deemed the property of the state, and shall be used only in the discharge of military duties. Any member of the national guard who shall embezzle, misapply, dispose of, secrete, remove, and retain in his possession without authority, or who shall wilfully injure or destroy such property, or shall fail to produce the same or its equivalent when so ordered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to trial by court-martial, or by a justice of the peace in any county where the accused may be found; and on conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum double the value of the property involved, together with the cost of prosecution, and in default of payment thereof, shall be imprisoned not less than one nor more than three months in the jail of the county where the offense was committed, or where the court is held. Any person not a member of the national guard, who shall knowingly and wilfully receive in pawn or pledge, or who shall purchase or otherwise acquire, or shall have in his possession and refuse upon demand to deliver any such property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction by any civil court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $299 or by imprisonment not to exceed three months in the county jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment. No exemption shall be allowed on execution issued for the collection of such fines. So much of the money assessed in the cases aforesaid as may be necessary shall be paid to the adjutant-general to enable him to replace by purchase the articles of property involved in the prosecution, and the remainder shall be paid into the treasury of the state; and placed to the credit of the military fund.

3866. Encampment. Authority of commander. Punishment for abusing or interfering with soldier. The commanding officer of any parade, review, or drill and the officer of any rendezvous may cause the ground selected for that purpose to be marked or designated in such manner as not to obstruct the passage of travelers on any public highway, and prohibit the entrance thereon of all unauthorized persons; he may also prohibit and prevent the sale or use of all spirituous liquors, wine, ale, beer, the holding of huckster or auction sales, and all gambling within the limits of such encampment or within such limits, not exceeding one-half mile therefrom, as he may prescribe, and he may abate as a nuisance any such traffic within the prescribed limits. Every person who wilfully disobeys the orders of any commanding officer made under the provisions of this section, and every person who interrupts, molests, or insults, by abusive words or behavior, any officer or enlisted man while in the performance of any duty, or when he is on his way to or from the place of the performance of any duty, or who attempts by means of any threat or violence, coercion or advice to deter or prevent any officer or enlisted man from performing any lawful duty, or who knowingly resists, by use of force or violence, such member in the performance of any duty, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months. Any person violating the provisions of this section may be immediately put under arrest and turned over to the civil authorities for punishment, or kept under arrest and confinement at the discretion of the commanding officer of the forces engaged in the performance of such duty until the setting of the sun of the day succeeding that on which the offense was committed.

3867. Prosecutions other than by court-martial. It is hereby made the duty of the county attorney of each county of the state wherein any of the offenses punishable by fine or imprisonment mentioned in this chapter have been committed, or wherein the accused has been arrested, unless a court-martial shall have jurisdiction of the offense, to prosecute such accused person at the expense of the state.

3868. Pay of militia in service of state. When called into the service of the state and not in the service of the United States, the members of the national guard shall receive the following compensation: Privates, $1.50 per day; except one cook to each organization shall receive $3 per day; corporals, $1.75 per day; sergeants, $2 per day; first sergeants and non-commissioned staff officers of battalions and regiments, $2.25 per day; provided, however, that in all cases where the pay of non-commissioned officers of the regular army in any branch of the military service exceeds the amounts herein stated, the non-commissioned officers of the national guard shall receive the same pay as the non-commissioned officers of like rank in the regular army. Commissioned officers shall receive the same pay as officers of a like grade in the regular army of the United States. In addition to the above pay, each officer and enlisted man shall receive one ration per day; provided, that this state shall make no payments to members of the militia in the case of service for which the United States government makes payment. The annual encampment of the national guard will be considered as in the service of the state.

3869. Civilian employes. Whenever the national guard shall be ordered into encampment by the commander-in-chief, or otherwise called into service of the state, the commander-in-chief may authorize the employment of such civilians as may be expedient and necessary to perform such duties as are not of a military nature pertaining to such camp or duty.

3870. Military company not to leave state without consent of commander-in-chief. No military company, unless called into the service of the United States, shall leave the state with arms and equipment without the consent of the commander-in-chief, and any persons causing any company to so leave the state shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

3871. Members privileged from arrests. The members of the national guard shall, in all cases, except those of treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at drill, parades, encampments, and the election of officers, and in going to and returning from the same.

3872. Exempt from poll tax. Every officer and enlisted man of the national guard of Utah shall be exempt from head or poll tax of every description for the year during any part of which he shall hold commission as an officer or be enrolled as an enlisted man of the national guard of Utah.

3873. Care and relief of members injured in service. Board of inquiry. Report and payment. Every member of the active militia who shall be wounded or disabled while in the performance of his duty in the service of the state shall receive care and medical attention at the expense of the state, and shall receive per diem provided for in this chapter during the time he shall be temporarily incapacitated from pursuing his usual duties and occupation. He shall receive such other just and reasonable relief as the legislature may provide. All claims arising under this section shall be inquired into by a board appointed by the commander-in-chief, of at least three officers, one of whom shall be a medical officer, such board to be appointed upon the application of the member claiming to be injured. Such board shall have the power possessed by general courts-martial. A report of said board shall be filed with the secretary of state for action by the board of examiners. The state auditor is hereby authorized and required to draw his warrant on the state treasury for the purposes and amounts specified in this chapter on the presentation to him of itemized bills and estimates, verified by affidavit of the claimants, approved by the adjutant-general, and audited by the state board of examiners; provided, such per diem shall not exceed the amount appropriated by the legislature.

3874. Subject to military laws of the United States. Power of governor to make same effective. The national guard of this state and the unorganized militia shall at all times be subject to the laws and military regulations of the United States governing the same, and the governor shall have power at any time to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to make the laws and military regulations of the United States effective within this state. '09, p. 120; '11, p. 22; '17, p. 289.

CHAPTER 2.

STATE ARMORY BOARD.

('09, p. 168; '11, p. 23.)

3880. State armory board created. There is hereby created a state armory board, which is hereby constituted a body corporate with pereptual succession. It may have and use a common seal and under the name aforesaid may sue and be sued, and contract and be contracted with. It may take and hold by purchase, gift, devise, grant, or bequest, real and personal property required for its use. It may also convert property received by gift, devise, or bequest, and not suitable for its uses in other property so available, into money. It shall have the power to borrow money for the purpose of erecting arsenals and armories upon the sole credit of the real property to which it has the legal title, and may secure such loans by mortgage upon such property, and said property so mortgaged shall be the sole security for such loan, and no deficiency judgment shall be made, rendered, or entered against said board upon the foreclosure of any such mortgage; provided, however, that property in one city shall not be mortgaged for the purpose of obtaining money for the erection of armories in any other place. Said board shall be deemed a public corporation, and its property shall be exempt from all taxes and assessments.

Armory may be erected on capitol grounds, § 3886.

3881. Members. Powers and duties. The state armory board shall consist of the governor, the secretary of state, and the adjutant-general. The board shall have the supervision and control of the armories and arsenals and of all real property held or acquired for the military purposes of the state, and power and authority to provide suitable armories and arsenals for the different organizations of the national guard. It shall have the power to lease suitable buildings for armory and arsenal purposes in various places throughout the state, wherever necessary for the use of organizations of the national guard and for the storage of state and government property, for a term of years not exceeding twenty, at such rental as it may deem reasonable. It shall have the further power to take options for the purchase of any premises under lease to the state for armory and arsenal purposes at any time within the life of such lease, when it shall appear to be to the interest of the state to purchase the same at such prices as the board and the owner of such premises may agree upon; provided, that no option shall be binding upon the state until ratified by act of the legislature. It shall have the power to erect armories and arsenals at such places within the state as it may deem expedient and necessary upon lands to which it shall have acquired the legal title, and may expend from the military fund in the hands of the state treasurer in acquiring the legal title to lands and in the erection of armories and arsenals such sums as it may from time to time deem advisable and necessary.

3882. Appropriation. For the use of this board, and for the purpose of the payment of rentals for armories, and for the purpose of paying interest on any sum borrowed by said board for the erection of armories, the sum of $10,000 per annum is appropriated out of the moneys of the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be held by the treasurer of the state as a military fund, and to be by him disbursed upon the order of the board. All unexpended balances of any money appropriated by the state for military purposes for a stated period shall be turned over to the treasurer of the state for the credit of the military fund.

3883. Id. Borrowing. The borrowing power of said armory board referred to in § 3880 shall be and the same is hereby limited to the sum of $85,000, to which said sum it may become indebted to any person, board, association, or corporation, and the state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion, to lend to said state armory board any sum not exceeding $85,000; provided, however, that any loan made to said state armory board shall not run for a longer period than twenty years, and shall not draw interest at a rate exceeding 6 per cent per annum.

3884. May acquire title to real estate. Whenever the state armory board and the owners of land sought to be acquired for the erection of armories are unable to agree upon the price therefor, the attorney-general shall acquire title to such property in the name of the state armory board under the provisions of law relating to eminent domain.

3885. City councils may appropriate funds. The city councils of cities of the first, second and third classes shall have power to appropriate from any funds of the city available for general purposes, such sums as they may deem expedient for the purpose of assisting the state armory board in the erection of armories within their respective cities, and for the maintenance of armories located and maintained therein, and in all cities where water-works and electric light are owned by the city, the water and electric light used in armories maintained therein may, at the discretion of the city council, be furnished without cost.

CHAPTER 3.

AUTHORIZING ERECTION OF ARMORY AND ARSENAL ON CAPITOL GROUNDS.

3886. Setting aside portion of capitol grounds for armory and arsenal. The state board of examiners is hereby authorized and empowered, with the consent of Salt Lake City, to set apart such portion of the state capitol grounds as may be necessary, and which will in no wise interfere in the erection of a state capitol, for the use of the national guard of Utah and for the construction of an armory and arsenal thereon; and when the same has been so set apart and the boundaries thereof determined, the legal title thereto shall, with the consent of Salt Lake City, vest in and be in the state armory board. '09, p. 183; '11, p. 29.

3887. Power. The state armory board is hereby authorized and empowered to erect upon the ground set apart under the provisions of § 3886 a state armory and arsenal for the use of the national guard of Utah, provided they shall deem such location the most available and suitable for such purpose.

'09, p. 183.

TITLE 66.

MINES AND MINING.

CHAPTER 1.

MINING CLAIMS.

3890. (1495.) Extent. No location to be made until discovery of vein. A mining claim, whether located by one or more persons, may equal, but shall not exceed, 1500 feet in length along the vein or lode; but no location of a mining claim shall be made until the discovery of the vein or lode within the limits of the claim located. Any lode mining claim may extend 300 feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface except where adverse rights render a lesser width necessary. The end lines of each claim must be parallel. Am'd '99, p. 26.

Discovery monument, where placed, § 3891, and note.

Notice of location, contents, description, etc., § 3891, and notes.

Construction of notice of location, note to § 3891.

Annual labor, note to § 3895.

Partitioning, manner of, § 9272.

Occupation and privilege tax, §§ 5945-5962.

State geologist examine and inspect certain, §§ 5779, 5780.

School of mines, §§ 5547-5557.

Congress has given the local laws and customs of miners the force and effect of laws, so far as they are not in conflict with any superior law.

McCormick v. Varnes, 2 U. 355.

The right of a state to pass acts supplementing the mining act of congress in respect to the location, etc., of mining claims is recognized by § 2394, R. S. U. S.

Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

In re Monk, 16 U. 100; 50 P. 810.

The surface of mineral lands may be owned by one person and the mineral underneath by another, each with an indefeasible title; when so owned they constitute separate corporeal hereditaments with all the incidents of separate ownership, and the surface land may be partitioned the same as where there is no mineral under it.

Smith v. Jones, 21 U. 270; 60 P. 1104.

The provisions of § 2323, R. S. U. S., apply to one who locates a tunnel for discovery purposes as well as for development purposes, but failure to prosecute work on such tunnel for six months works an abandonment of the right to all undiscovered veins on the line of such tunnel.

Fissure M. Co. v. Old Susan M. Co., 22 U. 438; 63 P. 587.

DISCOVERY, NECESSITY FOR:

Discovery and appropriation are the sources of title to mining claims, and development by working is the condition of continued possession.

O'Reilly v. Campbell, 116 U. S. 418.

Discovery may be at any point within the boundaries of the claim.

Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362; affirmed 111 U. S. 350.

Discovery must be made before location, and discovery monument must be erected in close proximity thereto.

Copper G. M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

The location of a mining claim is void when its dicovery point is placed within the lines of an existing valid claim.

Watson v. Mayberry, 15 U. 265; 49 P. 479.

Argentine M. Co. Benedict, 18 U. 183; 55 P. 559.

Reynolds v. Pascoe, 24 U. 219; 66 P. 1064.

Bunker H. M. Co. v. Pascoe, 24 U. 60; 66 P. 574.

Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 26 U. 1; 71 P. 1046; but see same case on appeal, 198 U. S. 443.

Lockhart v. Farrell, 31 U. 155; 86 P. 1077.

One who located a mining claim, based on a discovery within the limits of an existing location, was a trespasser, and his location was void, and the subsequent forfeiture of the senior claim for non-performance of annual labor did not give him any rights. (Distinguishing Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 198 U. S. 443.)

Lockhart v. Farrell, 31 U. 155; 86 P. 1077.

Where discovery is lost by being included within the lines of a junior location, the senior claim does not thereby become invalid if a new discovery is made.

Silver City M. Co. v. Lowry, 19 U. 334; 57 P. 11; dismissed 179 U. S. 196.

DISCOVERY, WHAT CONSTITUTES:

Valid location of a mining claim may be made whenever the prospector has discovered such indications of mineral that he is willing to spend his time and money in following them, in the expectation of finding ore.

Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362; affirmed 111 U. S. 350.

Hayes v. Lavagnino, 17 U. 185; 53 P. 1029.

Wilson v. Triumph M. Co., 19 U. 66; 56 P. 300.

One locating an abandoned claim may use the discovery of the former locator.

Hayes v. Lavagnino, 17 U. 185; 53 P. 1029.

Vein or lode defined.

Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362; affirmed 111 U. S. 350.

Hayes v. Lavagnino, 17 U. 185; 53 P. 1029.

Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

There must be something beyond a mere guess on the part of the miner to authorize him to make a location which will exclude others from the ground, such as the discovery of the presence of the precious metals at the place where the notice of location is posted, or in such proximity to it as to justify a reasonable belief in the existence of a lode there.

Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

Rock or matter of any kind, in order to constitute a vein or lode within the meaning of the statute, must be metalliferous and contain such mineral value as will distinguish it from the country rock, especially where no well-defined walls appear.

Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

APEX RIGHTS:

A location of a mining claim upon a lode or vein of ore should be laid along the same lengthwise of the course of its apex at or near the surface, as well under the mining act of 1866 as under that of 1872. If located otherwise, the location will only secure so much of the lode or vein as it actually covers.

Flagstaff Mining Co. v. Tarbet, 98 U. S. 463.

McCormick v. Varnes, 2 U. 355.

Prior to the act of congress of May 10, 1872, a locator was entitled to but one vein; since then he is entitled to all veins having an apex within his surface lines.

Blake v. Butte S. M. Co., 2 U. 54.

The owner of a vein located prior to May 10, 1872, in possession, may follow his vein on its dip into the unpatented ground of another.
Id.

The act of 1866 qualifies and enlarges the common law right by which miners hold their locations, to this extent only; that the owner of a mining claim may follow his lode or vein from the apex found within his surface ground, on its dip, to any depth, although in its downward course it may so far depart from a perpendicular as to enter the land adjoining; but he cannot go beyond or outside of his side lines on the course or strike of the vein.
McCormick v. Barnes, 2 U. 355.

The first locator, having the apex of a vein entirely within the surface lines of his claim for a portion of its length, and for the remaining portion partly within and partly without, and within the surface lines of another claim, but never entirely departing from such first location, owns the entire lode within the end lines of his claim.
Bullion-Beck Mining Co. v. Eureka Hill Mining Co., 5 U. 3; 11 P. 515.
See Lawson v. U. S. Min. Co., 207 U. S. 1; decided October 21, 1907.

The location of a vein or lode made upon the surface where the vein or lode finds its apex will not be defeated by the secret underground workings and possession by parties having no possession of or right to the surface embracing it.
Eilers v. Boatman, 3 U. 159; 2 P. 66; affirmed 111 U. S. 356.

A locator working subterraneously into the dip of the vein belonging to another locator who is in possession of his location is a trespasser and liable to an action for taking ore therefrom.
Flagstaff M. Co. v. Tarbet, 98 U. S. 463.

Locator presumed to own all ore within planes drawn vertically downward through boundary lines.
Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

What constitutes a discovery that will validate a location is a very different thing from what constitutes an apex to which attaches the statutory right to invade the possession of and appropriate the property which is presumed to belong to the adjoining owner.
Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

When the owner of an apex seeks to follow his vein on its dip into the land of another, the burden is on him.
Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.
Red Wing M. Co. v. Clays, 30 U. 242; 83 P. 841.

U. S. PATENT; ADVERSE CLAIM:

In action for possession, plaintiff must prove discovery and a location according to U. S. and local laws.
Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362; affirmed 111 U. S. 350.
Hayes v. Lavagnino, 17 U. 185; 53 P. 1029.
Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

As proceedings on an adverse claim are had for the purpose of determining which of the parties is entitled to patent, each must rely on the strength of his own title and not on the weakness of that of his adversary.
Murray H. M. & M. Co. v. Havenor, 24 U. 73; 66 P. 762.

Sec. 2326, R. S. U. S., authorizes an adverse claimant to commence with an action at law or a suit in equity, as may be most appropriate, to determine right of possession Perego v. Dodge, 9 U. 3; 33 P. 221; affirmed 163 U. S. 160.
Parley's Park M. Co. v. Kerr, 3 U. 235; 2 P. 709; affirmed 130 U. S. 256.

Adverse proceedings authorized by § 2326, R. S. U. S., are not to determine the rights of the contestants to a patent, but to determine the right of possession of the disputed claim.
Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 26 U. 1; 71 P. 1046; affirmed 198 U. S. 443.

In an action to determine the right of possession of a lode mining claim, arising out of proceedings had in the U. S. land office, state statutes regulating generally actions for the recovery of real property have no application in view of the provisions of § 2326, R. S. U. S., relating to mining and providing for the filing of adverse claims.
Lily M. Co. v. Kellog, 27 U. 111; 74 P. 518.

Under § 2325, R. S. U. S., providing that it shall be presumed that there are no adverse claims to a mineral deposit for which application has been filed, unless they are filed within the sixty days during which notice of such application is required to be published, it will be conclusively presumed that one who fails to file an adverse claim within the prescribed time, has none.
Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 26 U. 1; 71 P. 1046; affirmed 198 U. S. 443.

On an application for a patent to a mining claim, the land office, in the absence of the filing of an adverse claim, will indulge the presumption that no conflicting claims exist to the premises described in the application, but when an adverse claim is filed, the presumption does not arise.
Lockhart v. Farrell, 31 U. 155; 86 P. 1077.

U. S. PATENT; EFFECT OF:

Mining claims are real property and pass by deed.
Houtz v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173.

A patent passes the government title to the surface and any veins beneath it not otherwise granted, and its issuance presumes a compliance with the mining law.
Kahn v. Telegraph Mining Co., 2 U. 174.

Mining patents based upon locations made under the act of 1866 grant title to the ground mentioned therein, subject to the right of other locators to follow any other vein or lode held under locations made prior to the act of May 10, 1872.
Blake v. Butte Mining Co., 2 U. 54.

A patent from the United States is the highest evidence of title, and ordinarily it cannot be varied, contradicted, nor controlled by evidence outside the patent; but after the United States has parted with its title and the individual has become vested with it, the equities subject to which he holds it may be enforced.
Kimball v. McIntyre, 3 U. 77; 1 P. 167.

A patent from the United States for mineral lands may be avoided in equity for mistake, or fraud and misrepresentation practiced upon the government.
Parley's Park Mining Co. v. Kerr, 3 U. 235; 2 P. 709; affirmed 130 U. S. 256.

A patent for a mining claim allowing a width of 600 feet is valid under the act of congress of 1872, where it is doubtful under the evidence whether the mining laws of the district prescribed a lesser width.
Id.

The decision of the land department of the United States that land is non-mineral, or is occupied, is conclusive on the courts when the patent issued in pursuance of such decision is colaterally attacked.
Ferry v. Street, 4 U. 521; 11 P. 571.

3891. (1496. Discovery monument. Notice of location; contents. The locator, at the time of making the discovery of such vein or lode, must erect a monument at the place of discovery, and post thereon his notice of location, which notice shall contain:

1. The name of the lode or claim;
2. The name of the locator or locators;

3. The date of the location;

4. If a lode claim, the number of linear feet claimed in length along the course of the vein each way from the point of discovery; with the width on each side of the center of the vein, and the general course of the vein or lode, as near as may be, and such a description of the claim, located by reference to some natural object or permanent monument as will identify the claim;

5. If a placer or millsite claim, the number of acres or superficial feet claimed, and such a description of the claim or millsite located by reference to some natural object or permanent monument as will identify the claim or millsite. Am'd '99, p. 26.

No location before discovery of vein, § 3890, and note.

Discovery within lines of prior claim, note to § 3890.

Notice recorded within thirty days, § 3893, and note.

Destruction of notice, penalty, § 3937.

Fraudulently antedating notice of location of mining claim for purpose of defeating an actual locator thereon is a fraud against such rightful claimant and the government.

Muldoon v. Brown, 21 U. 121; 59 P. 720.

Lessee not permitted to take advantage of defects in lessors title and make adverse location.

Silver City M. Co. v. Lowry, 19 U. 334; 57 P. 11; dismissed 179 U. S. 196.

Bunker H. M. Co. v. Pascoe, 24 U. 60; 66 P. 574.

Reynolds v. Pascoe, 24 U. 219; 66 P. 1064.

Fraudulent relocation by agent.

Utah M. Co. v. Dickert, 6 U. 183; 21 P. 1002.

Argentine M. Co. v. Benedict, 18 U. 183; 55 P. 559.

U. S. deputy mineral surveyor cannot locate a mining claim.

Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 26 U. 1; 71 P. 1046; case affirmed 198 U. S. 443, though that point not passed on. (Contra held by S. C. of Nev. in Hand v. Cook, Nov. 1907.)

Where alien located mining claim and conveyed to a citizen, no rights of third persons having attached prior to conveyance, the conveyance vests title in the citizen.

Wilson v. Triumph M. Co., 19 U. 66; 56 P. 300.

Stewart v. G. & C. M. Co., 29 U. 443; 82 P. 475.

The rights of a citizen locator of mining ground and his subsequent grantees cannot be affected by the fact that his co-locator was an alien.

Strickley v. Hill, 22 U. 257; 62 P. 893.

The location of a mining claim by an alien is not void, but only voidable on a direct attack by the government.

Stewart v. G. & C. M. Co., 29 U. 443; 82 P. 475.

MARKING OF BOUNDARIES:

Sec. 2324, R. S. U. S., merely requires that locations shall be distinctly marked, so that their boundaries can be readily traced.

Victoria Mining Co. v. Haws, 7 U. 515; 27 P. 695; affirmed 160 U. S. 303.

The fact that the description in a notice of location calls for stakes, when in fact the monuments are trees cut off about three feet from the ground and blazed and squared, is immaterial.

Hanson v. Fletcher, 10 U. 266; 57 P. 480.

A mining claim marked by a discovery monument on which is placed the notice of location, and by a stake at each of the three corners of the claim, and a monument at the center of each end line, leaving one corner of the claim unmarked, is sufficiently marked under § 2324, R. S. U. S.

Warnock v. De Witt, 11 U. 324; 40 P. 205.

A locator of a mining claim, in marking his claim on the ground so that its boundaries can be readily traced, is not required to be exact in running the lines or in fixing the corners or other posts.

Eilers v. Boatman, 3 U. 159; 2 P. 66; affirmed 111 U. S. 356.

A fact that the location of a mining claim as marked on the ground is 300 feet longer and 50 feet wider and is allowed by law does not render the location void, where the excess was included through mistake.

Hanson v. Fletcher, 10 U. 266; 37 P. 480.

A claim is sufficiently marked on the ground where the stakes and monuments are set at accessible places, the inaccessible places being definitely referred to by courses and distances.

Eilers v. Boatman, 3 U. 159; 2 P. 66; affirmed 111 U. S. 356.

Brockbank v. Albion M. Co., 29 U. 367; 81 P. 863.

Monuments of abandoned claims may be used in making a new location of same ground.

Brockbank v. Albion M. Co., 29 U. 367; 81 P. 863.

Within thirty days location must be marked upon the ground; or at least before other rights intervene.

Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

Brockbank v. Albion M. Co., 29 U. 367; 81 P. 863.

Discovery or location monument is the initial point of the lode from which the boundaries of the claim are to be determined. It must be placed at or near place of discovery.

Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

CONSTRUCTION OF NOTICE:

The location notice of a claim describing it as being "fifteen hundred feet in length on this ledge * * * and three hundred feet on each side of the center of location," and as running east three hundred feet and west twelve hundred feet "from monument," the ledge being "situated up near the head of the right hand fork of what is known as Tie Canyon, about five miles from" a certain railroad; held, insufficient.

Darger v. Le Sieur, 8 U. 160; 30 P. 363.

Id., 9 U. 192; 33 P. 701.

The construction of notice of location should be liberal, not technical; and the sufficiency of reference to natural object or permanent monument is a question of fact.

Eilers v. Boatman, 3 U. 159; 2 P. 66; affirmed 111 U. S. 356.

Hanson v. Fletcher, 10 U. 266; 37 P. 480.

Wilson v. Triumph M. Co., 19 U. 66; 56 P. 300.

Fissure M. Co. v. Old S. M. Co., 22 U. 438; 63 P. 587.

Farmington M. Co., v. Rhymney M. Co., 20 U. 363; 58 P. 832.

Wells v. Davis, 22 U. 322; 62 P. 3.

Bonanza M. Co. v. Golden Head M. Co., 29 U. 159; 80 P. 736.

Trees blazed and squared, rock monuments, and the prospect hole are permanent objects, within the meaning of § 2324, R. S. U. S., requiring the notice of the location of a mining claim to describe the same by reference to some natural object or permanent monument.

Hanson v. Fletcher, 10 U. 266; 37 P. 480.

A tie to an adjoining claim is sufficient.

Wilson v. Triumph M. Co., 19 U. 66; 56 P. 300.

Notice of location held sufficient which ties the claim to little else than its own stakes.

Bonanza M. Co. v. Golden Head M. Co., 29 U. 159; 80 P. 736.

3892. (1497.) Boundaries marked. Mining claims and millsites must be distinctly marked on the ground so that the boundaries thereof can be readily traced. Am'd '99, p. 26.

Marking of boundaries, note to § 3891. Penalty for destroying stakes, etc., § 3937.

3893. (1498.) Filing copy of notice. Fee. Within thirty days from the date of posting the location notice upon the claim, the locator or locators, or his or their assigns, must file for record in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such claim is situated, if said claim be situated without and beyond an original mining district, a substantial copy of such notice of location. Such county recorder shall charge and collect a fee of 50 cents for first folio, and for each additional folio, 20 cents; provided, that where more than two locators sign the said notice of location, an additional fee of 10 cents shall be charged for each additional name. Said fee shall be for filing, recording, indexing, and abstracting such notice; provided, that such notice of location shall not be abstracted unless a subsequent conveyance affecting the same property be filed for record, when said notice shall be abstracted. Am'd '99, p. 26; '09, p. 79.

Contents of notice, posting etc., § 3891, and note.

The notice of location of a mining claim need not be recorded, if, at the time of the location, the rules of the district which require recording have fallen into disuse, there being no statutory requirement that such notice should be recorded.

Victoria Mining Co. v. Haws, 7 U. 515; 27 P. 695; affirmed 160 U. S. 303.

The locator must, within thirty days, mark the boundaries of his claim substantially as indicated by the notice of location, and, within the time as required by § 3893, he must record a substantial copy of the notice of location with the county recorder.

Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

Though monuments are not all erected according to law within the thirty days, it is sufficient if the law is complied with before other rights have intervened. Monuments of prior lapsed location may be used to mark new location.

Brockbank v. Albion M. Co., 29 U. 367; 81 P. 863.

3894. (1499.) Notice of assessment work being done. Every person or company owning a group of claims and doing the development or assessment work for said group at one point shall post a notice upon each claim at the discovery monument stating where such work is being done, and also post a notice at the entrance of the workings where said work is done, stating the names of the claims for which the work is done. Am'd '99, p. 27.

3895. (1500.) Filing affidavit of work done. The owner of any quartz lode or placer mining claim who shall do or perform or cause to be done or performed the annual labor or improvements required by the laws of the United States, in order to prevent a forfeiture of the claim, must, within thirty days after the completion of such work or improvements, file in the office of the county recorder in which the greater part of the mining district, in which such claim is located, is situated, his affidavit or an affidavit or affidavits of the person or persons who performed or directed such labor or made or directed such improvements, and shall file a duplicate thereof with the district mining recorder of the district in which said claim is situated, showing:

1. The name of the claim and where situated;
2. The number of days' work done and the character and value of the improvements placed thereon;
3. The date or dates of performing said labor and making said improvements, and number of cubic feet of earth or rock removed;
4. At whose instance or request said work was done or improvements made;
5. The actual amount paid for said labor and improvements, and by whom paid, when the same was not done by the owner or owners of said claim.

Such affidavits or duly certified copies thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. Am'd '99, p. 27.

Fee for recording affidavits of labor, § 3901.

Notice of work performed for benefit of group, § 3894.

A claim on which the required labor has been performed is not open to relocation by failure to file affidavit required by this section.

Murray H. M. & M. Co. v. Havenor, 24 U. 73; 66 P. 762.

ANNUAL LABOR:

Held, that the owner of a lode claim, who has failed to do his annual assessment work, has the right to make a new location covering the same ground.

Warnock v. De Witt, 11 U. 324; 40 P. 205.

Where adverse possession held wrongfully, the rightful owner or locator is excused from doing the assessment work during the continuance of such adverse holding.

Utah Mining Co. v. Dickert & Meyers Sulphur Co., 6 U. 183; 21 P. 1002.

Victoria Mining Co. v. Haws, 7 U. 515; 27 P. 695; 160 U. S. 303.

The attempt of an agent employed to do annual assessment work on a mining claim, after failure to do the work, to relocate the claim is a fraud on his principal.

Utah M. Co. v. Dickert, 6 U. 183; 21 P. 1002.

Argentine M. Co. v. Benedict, 18 U. 183; 55 P. 559.

Where A. fails to perform his annual labor, and B. locates the ground and afterward abandons it; if A. then re-enters and begins work, his title is good as against C. who afterward locates.

Klopenstein v. Hays, 20 U. 45; 57 P. 712.

Where there was a conflict between a senior and junior location and the senior later failed to perform his annual labor, does the ground in conflict inure to the junior without any further act on his part?

Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 198 U. S. 443; same case, 26 U. 1; 71 P. 1046.

Contra, Lockhart v. Farrell, 31 U. 155; 86 P. 1077.

ON GROUP OF CLAIMS:

Work done outside of a mining claim, if done for the purpose and as a means of developing the same, is as available for holding the claim as if done within the boundaries of the claim itself. One general system of work may be devised, well adapted and intended to develop several continguous claims, and when such is the case, work in furtherance of the system is work on the claims intended to be developed by it.

Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362; affirmed 111 U. S. 350.

Where the testimony tends to show the consolidation of a group of claims for development and working purposes and that the required amount of work was done on one claim for all, the question of whether work on one would inure to the benefit of all was properly left to the jury.

Wilson v. Triumph M. Co., 19 U. 66; 56 P. 300.

Klopenstine v. Hays, 20 U. 45; 57 P. 712.

Wells v. Davis, 22 U. 322; 62 P. 3.

Where the testimony tends to show that respondent's mining claims were consolidated or worked for development purposes; that work on the tunnel and shafts was done to apply on the respective claims; that respondent had an interest in all of these claims, and that the development work was a benefit to all the claims, the testimony is sufficient to sustain the finding.

Fissure M. Co. v. Old S. M. Co., 22 U. 438; 63 P. 587.

3896. (1501.) District organization. Rules. Boundary. Mining districts may be organized, and all existing districts may be reorganized, and the rules and regulations of the said mining district shall govern the said district according to the laws of the United States, in cases where a district organization is desired; provided, that the nearest boundary line of any mining district shall not be within thirty miles from the county recorder's office of any county. Am'd '17, p. 380.

3897. (1502.) Copying records. Expense. Upon application of the district mining recorder of any mining district to the board of county commissioners of the county having in custody the records of the said mining district, the said board of county commissioners shall cause the records of such district to be copied by the county recorder, and shall cause all records of documents pertaining to district mining records, recorded since June 4, 1896, up to the time of delivery, to be recorded in the original records of the mining district in which the property is situated, and the original records, when so amended, shall be delivered to such district mining recorder. The copy so made shall remain in the office of the county recorder, and shall be considered as the original record. One-half of the expense of copying such records shall be paid out of the county treasury and one-half shall be paid out of the state treasury. R. S. '98, § 1506; '99, p. 27.

By provisions of § 3904, mining records were transferred to county recorder's office.

3898. (1503.) Duplicate notice of location filed with county recorder. Fee. Penalty. It shall be the duty of every district mining recorder to require every person depositing for record a notice of location to make a duplicate copy thereof, which copy said mining recorder shall carefully compare with the original and mark "duplicate," and endorse thereon his name and the date and hour of filing in his office of the original. He shall, at the time of filing the duplicate notice with the original, collect, in addition to his own fee, the fee for the county recorder for recording such duplicate, said fee to be computed at the rate of 50 cents for first folio, and for each additional folio, 20 cents; provided, that where more than two locators sign the said notice of location, an additional fee of 10 cents shall be charged for each additional name. He shall immediately deposit the duplicate copy with the county recorder of the county in which the greater part of the said mining district is located for record, or forward the same to him by mail or express, or in such other manner as will insure safe transit and delivery. The fee, computed as hereinbefore described, shall accompany the duplicate. The county recorder shall record said duplicate with the indorsements thereon for said fee. The record of said duplicate notice in the office of the county recorder shall be considered an original record. Every person neglecting or refusing to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $300 or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. '99, p. 28; am'd '09, p. 79.

Fees of district mining recorder, § 2541. Notice to be recorded with county recorder, § 3893.

3899. (1504.) Certified copies to be received in evidence. Copies of notices of location of mining claims, millsites, and tunnel sites heretofore recorded in the records of the several mining districts, and copies of the mining rules and regulations in force in the several mining districts, in like manner recorded, heretofore duly certified by the mining recorder, shall be receivable in all tribunals and before all officers of this state as prima facie evidence. R. S. '98, § 1503; '99, p. 28.

District recorder to make certified copies, § 3903.

3900. (1505.) Id. By county recorder. Where books, records, and documents pertaining to the office of district mining recorder have been or shall hereafter be deposited in the office of any county recorder of this state, such county recorder is authorized to make and certify copies therefrom, and such certified copies shall be receivable in all tribunals and before all officers of this state in the same manner and to the same effect as if such records had been originally filed or made in the office of the county recorder. R. S. '98, § 1504; '99, p. 28.

County recorder to receive records, § 3904.

3901. (1506.) County recorder to record rules. Certified copies. It shall be the duty of each county recorder to record the mining rules and regulations of the several mining districts in his county without fee, and certified copies of such records shall be received in all tribunals and before all officers of this state as prima facie evidence of such rules and regulations, and it shall be his duty to record, index, and abstract all mining location notices presented for record, for a fee not to exceed seventy-five cents for each notice, and to file and index all affidavits of labor presented for filing affecting one mining claim, for a fee not to exceed twenty-five cents; provided, that when an affidavit of labor contains the name of more than one mining claim, an additional fee of ten cents shall be charged for each additional claim named therein. R. S. '98, § 1501; '99, p. 28.

Notice of location to be recorded for 75c, § 3895.

3902. (1506x.) Recorder of mining district to give bond. The recorder of each mining district shall take the oath of office and give bond with sureties in the penal sum of $1000. Such bond must be approved by the district judge and filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the greater part of the said mining district is located. Where the recorder of any mining district appoints a deputy, the recorder and his bondsmen shall be responsible for the official acts of such deputy. '99, p. 29.

3903. (1506x1.) District recorder to make copies. It shall be the duty of the recorder of a mining district, upon request and payment or tender of the fees therefor, to make and deliver to any person requesting the same, duly certified copies of any records in his custody; and for failure so to do, or for receiving larger fees for any such service than those provided, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '99, p. 29.

Notice of location to be recorded for 75c,

3904. (1506x2.) Vacancy. County recorder to receive records. Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of recorder of any mining district, or the person holding such office shall remove from the district, leaving therein no qualified successor in office; or whenever from any cause there is no person in such district authorized to retain the custody and give certified copies of the records, it shall be the duty of the person having custody of the records to deposit the same in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such mining district or the greater part thereof is situated, and the county recorder shall receive such records, and is hereby authorized to make and certify copies therefrom, and such certified copies shall be received in evidence in all courts and before all officers and tribunals. The production of a certified copy so made shall be, without further proof, evidence that such records were properly in the custody of the county recorder.

R. S. '98, § 1502; '99, p. 29.

Certified copies by county recorder from district recorder's records, § 3900.

Sec. 8, chap. 36, laws 1897, providing that records of mining claims shall be kept by the county recorder, and providing for the transfer and delivery of records kept by district recorders, is not in conflict with Con. art. 6, sec. 23, which requires that "no bill shall be passed containing more than one subject," etc.

Such a law is not in conflict with § 2324, R. S. U. S., authorizing mining districts to make regulations governing the manner of recording, etc.

CHAPTER 2.

COAL MINES.

3910. (1507.) Appointment of inspector. Term. Removal. Deputy. Salary. Clerk. For the purpose of securing an efficient and thorough inspection of all coal and hydrocarbon mines within the state of Utah, and to provide for an adequate enforcement thereof, the governor shall appoint, by and with the consent of the senate, one mine inspector for coal and hydrocarbon mines. The inspector so appointed shall hold his office for a term of four years from the date of his appointment, and until his successor is appointed and qualified; provided, that such inspector may be removed for cause, by the governor. In case of resignation, death, or removal, the vacancy shall be filled by appoinment by the governor for the unexpired term. The state mine inspector of coal and hydrocarbon mines shall have the power, with the consent of the governor and the approval of the state board of examiners, to appoint one deputy mine inspector; the said deputy to possess all the qualifications required of the state mine inspector by § 3912. Said deputy mine inspector shall devote his entire time to the performance of his duties, under the direction of the state mine inspector, and shall receive a salary of $1500 per annum, to be paid each and every month from the unexpended funds of moneys in the state treasury, and necessary traveling expenses incurred in the proper discharge of his official duties, to be paid each and every month from the same fund. The state mine inspector may also, with the consent of the governor, employ one clerk to assist in his office at a salary not to exceed $60 per month, the same to be paid out of the state mine inspector's contingent fund.

Am'd '01. p. 83; '05, p. 221; '11, p. 258; '13, p. 122.

Legislature shall provide for the health and safety of miners, Con. art. 16, sec. 6.

Inspector to examine scales, § 3934.

Fees for inspection, § 2515.

Duties of inspector imposed on industrial com. sub. 9, § 3676.

3911. (1508.) Salary, how paid. Instruments and stationery. The said inspector of coal and hydrocarbon mines shall receive a salary of $2,000 a year and actual necessary traveling expenses incurred in the proper discharge of his official duties, to be paid quarterly by the state treasurer out of any moneys appropriated for that purpose, on the certificate of said inspector of mines showing service rendered, and also on presentation of the certificate of said inspector of coal and hydrocarbon mines showing a statement of all moneys received by him for fees, and the actual amount necessarily expended for actual traveling expenses for the quarter; and on presentation of such certificates the state auditor shall issue his warrant for the amount thereof, to be paid out of any appropriations aforesaid. He is hereby authorized to procure such instruments and stationery from time to time as may be necessary to the proper discharge of his duties under this title, at the expense of the state, which shall be paid by the state treasurer upon accounts duly certified by him and audited by the proper department of state. R. S. '98, §§ 1511, 2050; '01, p. 83; '05, p. 221.

3912. (1509.) Bond. Qualifications of inspector. Before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, the inspector shall give a bond to the state in the sum of $5000 to be approved by the proper officers, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. Said bond shall be deposited with the secretary of state. The person so appointed must be a citizen of Utah, and must have attained the age of thirty years. He must have a knowledge of different systems of working coal mines, and he must produce satisfactory evidence to the governor of having had at least five years' practical experience in the coal mines of Utah. He must have had experience in coal mines where noxious and explosive gases are evolved. He must hold the certificate of examination required by law to be held by mine foremen of the state.

3913. (1510.) Shall give whole time to office. The said inspector shall not act as manager or agent or lessee for any mining or other corporation during his term of office, but shall give his whole time and attention to the duties of his office. R. S. '98, § 1511; '01, p. 84; '05, p. 222.

3914. (1511.) Mine owner to render assistance. Penalty for refusal. Every owner, agent, manager, or lessee of any coal or hydrocarbon mine in this state shall freely admit the inspector or his assistants to such mine on the exhibition of his certificate of appointment, for the purpose of making the examination and inspection provided for in this title, whenever the mine is in active operation, and render any necessary assistance for such inspection; but said inspector or his assistants shall not unnecessarily obstruct the working of said mine. Upon the refusal of the owner, agent, manager, or lessee to admit the inspector or his assistants to such mine, such owner, agent, manager, or lessee shall be subject to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500 for each and every such offense. '01, p. 84; '05, p. 222.

3915. (1512.) Mine owners to make maps of workings. The owner, agent, manager, or lessee of any coal or hydrocarbon mine in this state shall make, or cause to be made, an accurate map or plan of the workings of such mine, on a scale of one hundred feet to the inch, which said map shall show all the openings or excavations, shafts, tunnels, slopes, planes, entries, cross-headings, rooms, etc., and show the directions of the air current and also the water system therein, and shall accurately show the boundary lines between said mine and adjoining mines. Such map or plan, or true copy thereof, shall be furnished to the inspector, and one copy shall be kept at such mine for the inspection of the inspector or employes thereof. The owner, agent, manager, or lessee, at least once in every six months, shall place or cause to be placed on the map or plan an accurate showing of all additional excavations which have been made in the mine during the said six months. The several maps or plans of mines in this state which are furnished to the inspector shall be the property of the state, and shall remain in the care of said inspector, and shall be transferred by him to his successor in office; and in no case shall any copy of any of them be made without the consent of the owner, agent, manager, or lessee. If the inspector shall find or have good reasons to believe that any map or plan of any mine made or furnished him, in pursuance of the provisions of this section, is materially inaccurate or imperfect, he is authorized to cause a correct plan or map of said mine to be made at the expense of the owner, agent, manager, or lessee thereof; provided, that if the map or plan which was claimed to have been inaccurate shall be found to be practically correct, then the state shall have to pay the expense of making the new map or plan of such mine. All persons operating coal or hydrocarbon mines in this state shall, on or before the 15th day of December of each year, furnish the state mine inspector a statement of the output of each mine, distribution of such product, pounds of powder used, number and nationality of men employed, days worked, number of fatal and non-fatal accidents, from the 1st day of December of the preceding year to November 30 of the present year. Each owner, agent, or lessee shall, on opening a new mine in this state, and within thirty days thereafter, notify the state mine inspector of same, giving name and address of the person, company, or corporation so opening said mine, together with the location and character of such mine and opening.

R. S. '98, § 1515; '01, p. 84; '05, p. 222; '11, p. 258.

3916. (1513.) Openings for egress. Buildings at entrance. Cages. It shall be unlawful for the owner, operator, or superintendent of any mine to employ any person or persons in such mine for the purpose of working therein, unless there are in connection with every seam or stratum of coal, worked in such mine, not less than two openings or outlets, separated by a stratum of not less than 150 feet at surface and not less than thirty feet at any place, at which openings or outlets safe and distinct means of ingress and egress shall at all times be available for the persons employed in the said mine. The escapements, shafts, or slopes, shall be fitted with safe and available appliances, by which the employes of the mine may readily escape in case an accident occurs deranging the hoisting machinery at the outlets. In slopes used as haulage roads, where the dip or incline is ten degrees or more, there must be provided a separate traveling way, which shall be maintained in a safe condition for travel, and kept free from dangerous gases. No inflammable structure, other than a frame to sustain pulleys or sheaves, shall be erected over the entrance to any mine; and no inflammable structure for the purpose of storing coal shall be erected nearer than 200 feet to any such opening. But this title shall not be construed to prohibit the erection of a fan and its approaches for the purpose of ventilation, nor of a trestle for the transportation of cars from any slope or other opening. All entrances to any place, not in actual course of working, where explosive gas is known to exist, shall be properly fenced across the whole width, so as to prevent all persons from entering the same. Hand rails and sufficient safety catches shall be attached to, and a sufficient cover overhead shall be provided on, every cage used for lowering or hoisting persons in any shaft. The ropes, safety catches, links, and chains shall be carefully examined every day that they are used, by a competent person employed for that purpose by the mine owner, agent, manager, or lessee, and any defect therein found shall be immediately remedied. R. S. '98, §§ 1517, 1521; '01, p. 84; '05, p. 223.

Other emergency supplies to be kept, § 3945.

3918. (1515.) Pure air for ventilating. Every owner, agent, manager, or lessee of coal or hydrocarbon mines shall provide and maintain a constant and adequate supply of pure air:

1. It shall be unlawful to use a furnace for the purpose of ventilating any mine wherein explosive gases are generated;

2. The minimum quantity of air provided shall not be less than 100 cubic feet per minute for each and every person in every mine, and 300 cubic feet for each and every animal employed therein, and as much more as the circumstances may require;

3. The ventilation current shall be conducted and circulated to the face of each and every working place through the entire mine, in sufficient quantities to dilute, render harmless, and sweep away smoke and noxious or dangerous gases, to such an extent that all working places and traveling roads shall be in a safe condition for working and traveling therein;

4. All worked out or abandoned parts of any mine in operation, so far as practicable, shall be kept free from dangerous bodies of gases or water; and if found impracticable to keep the entire mine free from dangerous accumulation of standing gases or water, the mine inspector shall be immediately notified;

5. Every mine wherein are employed more than seventy-five persons must be divided into two or more districts; each district shall be provided with a separate split of pure air, and the ventilation shall be so arranged that not more than seventy-five persons shall be employed at the same time in any one current or split of air;

6. All cross-cuts connecting the main inlet and outlet air passage, when it becomes necessary to close them permanently, shall be substantially closed with brick or other suitable material laid in mortar or cement, whenever practicable, but in no case shall said cross-cut stoping be constructed of plank except for temporary purposes;

7. All doors used in assisting or in any way affecting the ventilation shall be so hung and adjusted that they will close automatically; main doors regulating the principal air currents of the mine shall be so placed, in all cases where it is practicable, that when one door is open, another, which has the same effect upon the same current of air, shall be and remain closed;

8. All permanent air bridges shall be built of such material and of such strength as the circumstances may require;

9. The quantities of air in circulation shall be ascertained with an anemometer, or other efficient instrument; such measurement shall be made by the inside foreman or other competent person, at least once every week; a report of these air measurements shall be forwarded to the mine inspector, together with the statement of the number of persons employed in each district, on or before the 12th day of each month, for the preceding month;

10. For the purpose of properly ventilating rooms and entries in coal mines, cross-cuts in rooms shall be not more than 100 nor less than fifty feet apart; and cross-cuts in main entrance shall not, except in cases of urgent necessity, according to the opinion of the state mining inspector, be less than seventy-five feet nor more than 200 feet apart. Am'd '11, p. 260.

3919. (1516.) Water system. Every owner, agent, manager, or lessee of mines within the state of Utah shall provide and maintain a water system for the purpose of conducting water to the face of each and every working place, and throughout the entire open part of the mine, in sufficient quantities for sprinkling purposes to wet down the dust that shall arise and accumulate in and around the mine; provided, that in mines or parts of mines where, by reason of the natural wet condition, or the moisture derived from the introduction of steam into the air currents, or both, such sprinkling may not be necessary. And it shall be the duty of the superintendent, mine foreman, and inspector to see to it that this is done. '01, p. 86; '05, p. 225.

3920. (1517.) Props, ties, rails, etc. It shall be the duty of every person, owner, operator, superintendent, or mine foreman to furnish to the miners all props, ties, rails, and timbers necessary for safe mining in coal and hydrocarbon mines, and for the protection of lives of workmen. Such props, ties, rails, and timbers shall be suitably prepared and shall be delivered within 100 feet of the face of the room, or entry, and other working places, free of charge. And whenever underhand stoping is used to extract hydrocarbon ore, an efficient system of timbering approved by the mine inspector shall be enforced. R. S. '98, § 1519; '01, p. 87; '05, p. 225; '11, p. 258.

3921. (1518.) Rules to be observed by owners and employes. The following general rules shall be observed by every mine owner, operator, superintendent, mine foreman, and employe within the state of Utah:

1. Every owner or operator of every mine shall use every reasonable precaution to insure the safety of the workmen in all cases, and shall place the underground workings thereof under the charge and daily supervision of a person who shall be known as "mine foreman," and who must hold a mine foreman's certificate.

2. All accessible parts of abandoned portions of mines in which explosive gases have been found or are known to exist shall be carefully examined by the mine foreman, or his assistants, at least once in each and every week, and all danger existing therein from such gases shall be removed as soon as possible. A report of each and every examination shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose, signed by the person making the examination.

3. In all mines known to generate explosive gases, the mine foreman, or fire bosses, shall make a careful examination every morning of all working places and traveling ways, and all other places which might endanger the safety of the workmen, within three hours prior to the time at which the workmen shall enter the mine. Such examination shall be made with the safety lamp. No person except those whose presence is necessary to prepare the mine for the entrance of the workmen shall enter the mine, or any part thereof, until the mine foreman or fire boss of his district shall report to him that his place is in a safe condition. The mine foreman or fire boss making such examination shall record the result of his examination in a book kept for that purpose, which book shall be opened to the inspection of the mine inspector and all employes.

This subdivision applies to a mine in which explosive gases were discovered on one occasion, whether or not they existed in the mine in sufficient quantity to make it unsafe or dangerous, in the opinion of experts. Eleganti v. Standard Coal Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 266.

4. In any working place approaching any place where there is likely to be an accumulation of explosive gases, no light or fire other than locked safety lamps shall be allowed or used. But, in all hydrocarbon mines only electric storage battery lamps shall be used for lighting purpose; the pattern of such lamps to be approved by the state mine inspector. Whenever such lamps are required in any mine, they shall be the property of the owner or operator, and a competent person shall be appointed for the purpose of examining every such lamp, which examination shall be made immediately before it is taken into the mine for use. He shall clean, lock, and otherwise ascertain if it is safe for use; provided, that all fire bosses, or those who inspect the mine for the presence of explosive gases, must also personally examine their own lamps, and be responsible for their safe condition. Any such owner, agent, lessee, or operator of coal or hydrocarbon mines, when working the same in close proximity to an abandoned mine or part of a mine containing water or fire-damp, shall cause bore holes to be kept at least twenty-five feet in advance of the working face and sides of all working places in such mine, known to be approaching old, abandoned, or other mines containing water or fire-damp. Said holes not to be more than twenty-five feet apart, and to a like depth and at an angle of at least twenty-five degrees from the center hole.

5. Any miner or other person having charge of a working place in any mine shall, for his own protection, keep the roof and sides thereof properly secured by timbering or otherwise, so as to prevent such roof and sides from falling and injuring him or his fellow workmen; and he shall not do any work or permit any work to be done under loose rock or dangerous material, except for the purpose of securing the same.

6. No more than ten persons shall be hoisted or lowered at any one time in any shaft or slope. This, however, shall not prohibit the hoisting or lowering of ten or more persons at any one time on slopes where five or more loaded cars are regularly hoisted.

7. No person in a state of intoxication shall be allowed to go into or loiter about the mine.

8. Any miner or other workman who shall discover anything wrong with the ventilating current or with the condition of the roof, sides, timbers, or roadway, or with any other part of the mine in general, such as would lead him to suspect danger to himself or his fellow workmen, or the property of his employer, shall, as soon as possible, report the same to the mine foreman or other person being in charge of that portion of the mine.

9. Any person or persons who shall knowingly or wilfully damage or, without proper authority, remove or render useless any fencing, means of signaling, apparatus, instrument, or machine, or shall throw open or obstruct any air-way, or open any ventilating door and not leave the same closed, or enter a place in or about a mine against caution, or carry fire, open lights, or matches in places where safety lamps are used, or handle without proper authority, or disturb any machinery or cars, or do any other act or thing whereby the lives or health of persons or the security of property in or about the mine are endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

10. Gunpowder or any other explosive shall not be stored in a mine, and a workman shall not have at any time in any place more than one can or box containing six and one-quarter pounds of powder; provided, that under special conditions a larger amount may be allowed in a mine for immediate use, when approval of such action is made in writing by the state inspector.

11. Every person who has gunpowder or other explosive in a mine shall keep it in a wooden or metallic box, securely locked, and such box shall be kept at least ten feet from the tracks in all cases where room at such a distance is available.

12. In charging holes for blasting in coal, slate, or rock in any coal or hydrocarbon mine, no iron or steel pointed needles shall be used, and a tight cartridge shall not be rammed into a hole in the coal, slate, or rock with an iron or steel tamping bar, unless the bar is tipped with copper or other soft metal, except where permissible powder is used.

13. The charge of powder or any other explosive in coal, slate, or rock which has missed fire shall not be withdrawn or the hole reopened, except where such holes are tramped with wet wood pulp, and without exception it shall be unlawful to tamp shot holes, for the purpose of blasting coal, with drillings, coal dust, or small pieces of coal. But it shall be the duty of the superintendent, foreman, or lessee to furnish clay or earth tamping, except when wood pulp is used.

14. Before commencing work and also after firing of every blast, the miner working a room or other place in the mine shall enter such room or place to examine and ascertain its conditions, and his assistant shall not go to the face of such room or place until the miner has examined the same and found it to be safe.

15. No person shall be empolyed to blast coal or rock unless the mine foreman is satisfied that such person is qualified by experience to perform the work with ordinary safety, or unless he is placed at work with an experienced miner.

16. Every passageway equipped with mechanical haulage used by persons as a regular traveling way for travel, and also at the same time for transportaion of coal or other material, shall be of sufficient width to permit persons to pass moving cars with safety; but if found impracticable to make any passageway of sufficient width, then holes of ample dimensions, and not more than 150 feet apart, shall be made on one side of said passageway. The said passageway and safety holes shall be kept free from obstructions, and the roof and sides of the same shall be made secure. Safety holes, when necessary, shall also be made at the bottom of all slopes and planes, and kept free from obstruction to enable the footman to escape readily in case of danger.

17. It shall be unlawful for any owner, operator, superintendent, or mine foreman of any mine which generates explosive gases to employ any person who is not competent to understand the regulations of any mine evolving explosive gases.

18. No person or persons shall be permitted to enter any dry gilsonite or elaterite mine with any kind of light other than an electric or other safety lamp.

19. For the purpose of making known the provisions of this chapter to all persons employed in and around mines, the owner and operator of each and every mine within the state to which this chapter applies shall post in a conspicuous place at or near the entrance of the mine, where they may be conveniently read by all persons employed therein, the foregoing rules, and keep the said rules posted at all times.

20. Whenever the mine inspector discovers, in any mine in which blasting of coal is allowed, during working hours, that the air is becoming vitiated by unnecessary blasting of the coal, he shall have the power to regulate the use of the same, and to designate at what hour of the day blasting may be permitted, except that where coal is shot off the solid without undermining at least two periods for shooting shall be allowed during each working day.

21. It shall be unlawful for any owner, operator, superintendent, mine foreman, or any employe of any mine which generates explosive gases to remove any accumulated body of gases by wafting or brushing. All such bodies of gases must be removed from the mine by approved methods of ventilation. '01, p. 87; '05, p. 225; '11, p. 261; '13, p. 123.

3922. (1519.) Further duties of mine inspector. The duties of the mine inspector, other than those heretofore enumerated, shall be as follows:

1. It shall be the duty of the mine inspector to make a careful and thorough inspection of each coal and hydrocarbon mine operated within the state at least once every three months, and oftener if the condition of the mine requires his attention. He shall make an annual report to the governor, showing the condition of each and every coal and hydrocarbon mine in the state. He shall examine into the conditions as regards the safety of workmen of such mine working, machinery, ventilation, drainage, and the method of lighting and using lights, and into all other matters connected with the working safety of persons in such mine, and give directions providing for the better health and safety of persons employed in or about the same. The owner or operator is hereby required to freely permit such entry, inspection, examination, inquiry, and exit, and to furnish a guide when necessary. The said inspector shall make a record of his visit, noting the time of the inspection and the material circumstances of the same, and shall also notify the owner or operator of the mine by a written report of the condition of the mine at the time of such inspection.

2. If the inspector finds that a mine is not properly worked, or is not furnished with proper machinery or appliances for the safety of the miners and all other employes, it shall be his duty to give written notice to the owner or manager of such mine that it is unsafe, and such notice shall specify in what particulars the mine is unsafe, and shall direct the owner or manager thereof to make such improvements as are necessary within a reasonbale period. If the improvements are not made as required in the notice, it shall be unlawful for the owner or manager to operate such mine until such improvements are completed.

3. No explosive oil shall be used or taken into coal or hydrocarbon mines of Utah for lighting purposes, except when used in approved safety lamps, or when used by day men when diluted with a non-explosive animal or vegetable oil. And oil for such purpose shall not be stored or taken into the mines in quantities exceeding five gallons, in tight cans approved by the state coal mine inspector. The oiling or greasing of cars inside of the mines is strictly forbidden unless the place where said oil or grease is used is thoroughly cleaned at least once every day to prevent the accumulation of waste oil or grease on the roads or in the drains at that point, and not more than one barrel of lubricating oil shall be permitted in the mine at any one time. Only a pure animal oil or pure cotton-seed oil, or oils as shall be as free from smoke as pure animal oil or pure cotton-seed oil, shall be used for illuminating purposes in any coal or hydrocarbon mine, except as above provided. Any person found using explosive or impure oil contrary to this section shall be prosecuted as provided for in § 3926. R. S. '98, §§ 1510, 1512, 1513; '01, p. 89; '05, p. 228.

3923. (1520.) Speaking tubes to be provided. In shaft or slope mines where persons are lowered or hoisted by machinery, a metal speaking tube or other suitable appliance shall be provided in all cases so that conversation or signaling may be carried on through the same from the top to the bottom of the shaft or slope. Am'd '01, p. 90; '05, p. 229.

3924. (1521.) Inspector to be notified of accident. Inquest. Whenever, by reason of an explosion or any other accident in any coal or hydrocarbon mine or the machinery connected therewith, loss of life or serious personal injury shall occur, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such mine or colliery to give notice thereof promptly to said mine inspector, and if any person is killed thereby, to the coroner of the county, who shall give due notice of the inquest to be held. If the coroner shall determine to hold an inquest, the inspector shall be allowed to testify, and offer such testimony as he shall deem necessary to thorougly inform the said inquest of the causes of death, and the said inspector shall have authority at any time to appear before such coroner and jury and question or cross-question any witness, and in choosing the jury for the purpose of holding such inquest, it shall be the duty of the coroner to impanel at least two men experienced in coal mines on such jury. It shall be the duty of such inspector, when possible, upon being notified as herein provided, to immediately repair to the scene of the accident and give such directions as may appear necessary to secure the future safety of the men, and he shall proceed to investigate and ascertain the causes of the explosion or accident, and make a record thereof, which he shall file; and to enable him to make the investigation, he shall have the power to compel the attendance of persons to testify, and to administer oaths and affirmations; the cost of such investigation shall be paid by the county in which the accident occurred, in the same manner as the costs of coroners' inquests are paid by law.

R. S. '98, § 1523; '01, p. 90; '05, p. 229.

3925. (1522.) Board of examiners for mining boss. On the petition of the mining inspector, the district court in any county in this state shall, at the first term after March 17, 1905, appoint an examining board for such county, consisting of the state inspector of coal mines, an operator of a coal mine, and a coal miner, who shall be citizens of the United States, and the latter two of which board shall have at least five years of experience in the mines of the state, whose duty it shall be to examine any person applying thereto as to his competency and qualifications to discharge the duties of mining boss; said board of examiners shall meet at the call of the inspector, and they shall grant certificates to all persons whose examination shall disclose their fitness for the duties of mining boss, and such certificate shall be sufficient evidence for the competency and qualifications of the holders for duties of said office; provided, that any person who shall have been employed as a miner at least five years in the coal mines of Utah and as a mining boss continuously by the same person, or firm, or corporation, for the period of one year preceding the approval of this title, may be entitled, if in the judgment of the inspector he be qualified, to a certificate without undergoing such examination; but he shall not be employed by any other person, or firm, or corporation without having undergone such examination. The members of the examining board, other than the inspector, shall hold the office for the period of two years from the date of their appointment, and shall receive $4 per day for each day necessarily and actually employed, and actual and necessary traveling expenses, while employed in their official duties, to be paid by the state. Vacancies in the membership of the board shall be filled by the court of the proper county except the vacancy in the office of inspector. Sessions of the examining board shall not exceed three days in each quarter, and for any certificate granted the board shall receive the sum of $1, the same to be paid into the state treasury. No person shall act as fire boss unless granted a certificate of competency by the state inspector of coal mines. After March 17, 1905, no owner, operator, contractor, lessee, or agent shall employ any mining boss or fire boss who does not have the certificate of comptency required. Said certificate shall be posted up in the office of the mine, and if any accident shall occur in any mine in which a mining boss or a fire boss shall be employed who had no certificate of competency, as required by this chapter, by which any miner shall be killed or injured, he or his estate shall have a right of action against such operator, or owner, lessee, or agent, and shall recover the full damage sustained; in case of death such action to be brought by the administrator of his estate, within three years from the date of accident, the proceeds recovered to be divided among the heirs of the deceased according to law.

R. S. '98, § 1526; '01, p. 90; '05, p. 230.

3926. (1524.) Penalties. The neglect or refusal to perform the duties required to be performed by any section of this chapter, or the violation of any of the provisions hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and any person so neglecting or refusing to perform such duty or violating such provisions, shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than $100, nor more than $500 for each and every such offense.

R. S. '98, § 1516; '01, p. 91; '05, p. 231.

CHAPTER 3.

WEIGHING COAL AT MINES.

3930. (1529.) Mine owners to provide scales for weighing coal. The owner, agent, or operator of every coal mine in this state, at which the miners are paid by weight, shall provide at such mines suitable and accurate scales of standard manufacture for the weighing of all coal which shall be hoisted or delivered from such mines; provided, that when coal is weighed in the miner's car, such car shall be brought to a standstill on the scales before the weight is taken.

Inspector to examine scales, § 3934.
Carrier must not charge for excess weight, § 1250-1252.
Weight to be noted in bill of lading, § 3935.
Buyer has right to examine before acceptance, § 5156.
Sale under false name prohibited, § 8354.

3931. (1530.) Weigher to be sworn. Record of coal mined. The owner, agent, or operator of such mine shall require the person authorized to weigh the coal delivered from said mine to be sworn before some person having authority to administer an oath, to keep the scales correctly balanced, to accurately weigh and to correctly record the gross or screened weight to the nearest ten pounds of each miner's car of coal delivered from such mine, and such oath shall be kept conspicuously posted at the place of weighing. The record of the coal mined by each miner shall be kept separate, and shall be opened to his inspection at all reasonable hours, and also for the inspection of all other persons pecuniarily interested in such mine.

3932. (1531.) Miners may furnish check-weighman. Duties and powers. In all coal mines in this state the miners empolyed and working therein may furnish a competent check-weighman at their own expense, who shall at all proper times have full right of access and examination of such scales, machinery, or apparatus, and of seeing all measures, and weights of coal mined and accounts kept of the same; provided, that not more than one person on behalf of the miners collectively shall have such right of access, examination, and inspection of scales, measures, and accounts at the same time, and that such persons shall make no unnecessary interference with the use of such scales, machinery, or apparatus. The agent of the miners as aforesaid shall, before entering upon his duties, make and subscribe to an oath before some officer duly authorized to administer oaths, that he is duly qualified and will faithfully discharge the duties of check-weighman. Such oath shall be kept conspicuously posted at the place of weighing.

3933. (1532.) Fraudulent weighing a misdemeanor. Any person, company, or firm having or using any scale or scales for the purpose of weighing the output of coal at mines so arranged or constructed that fraudulent weighing may be done thereby, or who shall knowingly resort to or employ any means whatsoever by reason of which such coal is not correctly weighed or reported in accordance with the provisions of this chapter; or any weighman or check-weighman who shall fraudulently weigh or record the weights of such coal, or connive at or consent to such fraudulent weighing, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

3934. (1534.) Coal mine inspector to examine scales. It shall be the duty of the coal mine inspector, in addition to his other duties, to examine all scales used at any coal mine in the state for the purpose of weighing coal taken out of such mine; and on inspection, if found incorrect, he shall notify the owner or agent of any such mine that such scales are incorrect; and after such notice it shall be unlawful for any owner or agent to use or suffer the same to be used, until such scales are so fixed that the same will give the true and correct weight. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

3935. Car to be weighed before and after loading. Weighbill to show both weights. Penalty. It is hereby made the duty of all persons or corporations engaged in the mining or shipping of coal from any mine or point within the state of Utah to weigh each empty car before it is loaded and to note the weight thereof upon the bill of lading, and to weigh each car after the same is loaded and to note the weight thereof upon the bill of lading or weighbill of the same. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '13, p. 188.

CHAPTER 4.

TRESPASSES.

3937. (1535.) Interfering with notices, stakes, persons in possession, or records. Any person or persons who shall wilfully or maliciously tear down or deface a notice posted on a mining claim, or take up or destroy any stake or monument marking any such claim, or interfere with any person lawfully in possession of such claim, or who shall alter, erase, deface, or destroy any record kept by a mining recorder, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $100, or by imprisonment for not less than ten days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Justices of the peace shall have jurisdiction of such offenses.

Malicious injury to property, § 8390. Defacing U. S. Monuments, § 8396.

3938. (1536.) Wrongful taking of ores. Damages. Any person wrongfully entering upon any mine or mining claim, and carrying away ores therefrom, or wrongfully extracting and selling ores from any mine, shall be liable to the owner or owners of such ore for three times the value thereof; and should the plaintiff file his affidavit that the defendant did unlawfully take ores, the defendant may be arrested and held to bail, as in cases for the recovery of the possession of personal property unjustly detained.

CHAPTER 5.

FENCING SHAFTS, ETC.

3939. (1538.) Inclosing shaft. Any person that has sunk or shall sink a shaft or well on the public domain, or commons, for any purpose, shall inclose such shaft or well with a substantial curb or fence which shall be at least four and a half feet high.

3940. (1539.) Id. Pits. Slack coal burning. The owner, lessee, or agent of any mine, who, by working such mine, has caused, or may hereafter cause, the surface on the public domain, commons, highway, or other lands to cave in and form a pit in which persons or animals are likely to fall, shall cause such cave or sink to be filled up, or to be securely fenced with a good, lawful fence; and if he has heaped or piled or shall hereafter heap or pile, slack coal on the surface, and such slack coal shall take fire and endanger the life or safety of any person or animal, he shall cause the fire to be extinguished or the burning coal to be inclosed with a sufficient fence.

3941. (1540.) Penalty. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable for all damages.

CHAPTER 6.

FIRE PROTECTION.

3942. (1540x.) Certain mines to have fire protection. All mines having but one exit, and the same covered with the building containing the mechanical plant, furnace room, or blacksmith shop, shall have fire protection. Where steam is used, hose of sufficient length to reach the farthest point of the plant shall be attached to feed pump or injector, and the same kept ready for immediate use. In mines where water is not available, chemical fire extinguishers or hand grenades shall be kept in convenient places for immediate use, and it shall be the duty of any owner or operator of a mine in the state of Utah to provide fire protection as mentioned in this section, by July 1, 1901. Any person or corporation who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '01, p. 150.

CHAPTER 7.

SAFETY CAGES.

3943. (1540x1.) Certain shafts to be provided with safety cages. It is unlawful for any person or corporation to sink any vertical shaft, where mining cages are used, to a greater depth than 200 feet, unless the shaft is provided with an iron bonneted safety cage to be used in lowering and hoisting employes, or any other person. The safety apparatus, whether consisting of eccentrics, springs, or other device, must be securely fastened to the cage, and of sufficient strength to hold the cage loaded at any depth to which the shaft may be sunk. The iron bonnet must be made of boiler sheet iron of good quality, at least three-sixteenths of an inch in thickness, and must cover the top of the cage in such manner as to afford the greatest protection to life and limb from any debris or anything falling down the shaft. Any violation of this section is punishable by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $500, the same to be paid into the county treasury of the county in which the case is tried. '01, p. 151.

CHAPTER 8.

STORAGE OF POWDER IN MINES.

3944. (1540x2.) Storage of powder at metalliferous mines. It shall be unlawful for any mining company, corporation, or individual mine owner employing more than ten men at any one time, to have stored at any shaft house, or covering over any adit, incline, or tunnel, connected with a metalliferous mine or within the underground workings of any such mine, stopes, or drifts, at any one time, more than enough powder or other high explosive to do the work for each twenty-four hours. Any violation of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100, nor more than $1000. '03, p. 8.

CHAPTER 9.

HOSPITAL SUPPLIES AT MINES.

3945. (1540x3.) Supplies and medicines to be accessible. At all mines in the state of Utah where ten or more men are employed, it shall be the duty of the operator or owners thereof to keep readily accessible a properly constructed stretcher, a woolen blanket, a water-proof blanket and a supply of linseed oil, antiseptic gauze, carbolated vaseline, sponges, soap, liniment, carbolic acid, rubber bandages, suitable towels and wash basins, all for the comfort and treatment of anyone injured in such mine. '07, p. 34.

Stretchers to be kept at all mines, § 3917.

3946. (1540x4.) Penalty. Any wilful neglect, refusal, or failure to do the things required to be done by the preceding section, or any attempt to obstruct or interfere with the complying with the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine in any sum less than $300, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. '07, p. 34.

TITLE 67.

MINORS.

3955. (1541.) Period of minority, males and females. The period of minority extends in males to the age of twenty-one years; and in females to that of eighteen years; but all minors obtain their majority by marriage.

Guardianship terminated by marriage, § 7811.

3956. (1542.) Minors' contracts. Disaffirmance. A minor is bound not only by contracts for necessaries but also by his other contracts, unless he disaffirms them before or within a reasonable time after he attains his majority and restores to the other party all money or property received by him by virtue of said contract and remaining within his control at any time after attaining his majority.

Minor may keep bank account, § 987.
Statute of limitations, §§ 6462, 6463, 6480.
May draw bank dividends and deposits, §§ 987, 1073.
As dependents under industrial commission act, §§ (sub. 2), 3132, 3118, 3141.
Employment of children, §§ 1860-1873.
Under 16 cannot operate motor vehicle, § 3972.
The rule that an infant is bound by his contracts unless he disaffirms them within a reasonable time after his majority applies only to such contracts as are beneficial to the infant.
Groesbeck v. Bell, 1 U. 338.

In determining what is a "reasonable time" within which an infant must disaffirm a contract, the jury can take into consideration the nature of the contract and the situation of the parties. No particular manner of disaffirmance is necessary.
Id.
Persons cannot disaffirm a parol partition of their father's land made during their minority, if, after attaining majority, they retain, control, and sell parts allotted to them.
Whittemore v. Cope, 11 U. 344; 40 P. 256.

3957. (1543.) Id. No contract can be thus disaffirmed in cases where on account of the minor's own misrepresentations as to his majority, or from his having engaged in business as adult, the other party had good reason to believe the minor capable of contracting.

3958. (1544.) Payment for personal services. When a contract for the personal services of a minor has been made with him alone, and those services are afterward performed, payment made therefor to such minor in accordance with the terms of the contract is a full satisfaction for those services, and the parent or guardian cannot recover therefor a second time.

TITLE 68.

MOTHERS.

PUBLIC SUPPORT OF DEPENDENT MOTHERS.

('13, p. 153.)

3960. County commissioners to provide funds. Limit. Proviso. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county in this state, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to provide funds in an amount to meet the purposes of this title, but not exceeding in any one year the sum of $10,000; provided, that in counties containing a population of 100,000 or more the amount of such funds shall be $20,000, such funds to be expended for the partial support of mothers who are dependent upon their own efforts for the maintenance of their children. Am'd '15, p. 20.

This act is constitutional.
D. & R. G. R. R. Co. v. Grand County, 50 U. —; 170 P. —.

3961. Maximum allowance. The allowance to each of such mothers shall not exceed $10 a month when she has but one child under the age of fifteen years and if she has more than one child under the age of fifteen years, it shall not exceed the sum of $10 a month for the first child and $5 a month for each of the other children under the age of fifteen years.

3962. Who to fix allowance. Conditions. Such allowance shall be made by the county commissioners, except that in counties having a population of 125,000 or more, the authority, power, and duty of determining upon allowance to be made under the provisions of this title shall devolve upon and be exercised by the juvenile judge of the district in and for such counties. Such allowance shall be made only upon the following conditions:

1. The child or children for whose benefit the allowance is made must be living with the mother of such child or children;
2. The allowance shall be made only when in the absence of such allowance a mother would be required to work regularly away from her home and children, and when by means of such allowance she will be able to remain at home with her children;
3. The mother must, in the judgment of the county commissioners or juvenile court, be a proper person morally, physically, and mentally, for the bringing up of her children;
4. Such allowance shall, in the judgment of the county commissioners or juvenile court, be necessary to save the child or children from neglect;
5. No person shall receive the benefit of this title who shall not have been a resident of the county in which such application is made for at least two years next before the making of such application.

3963. When allowance to cease. Whenever any child shall reach the age of fifteen years, any allowance made the mother of such child for the benefit of such child shall cease. The county commissioners or juvenile court may, in their discretion, at any time before such child reaches the age of fifteen years, discontinue or modify the allowance to any mother and for any child.

3964. Distribution of funds when insufficient. Should the fund herein authorized be sufficient to permit an allowance to only a part of the persons coming within the provisions of this law, the county commissioners or juvenile court shall select those cases in most urgent need of such allowance.

3965. Construction. The provisions of this law shall not apply to any mother who is not dependent upon her own efforts for the maintenance of her children.

3966. Misrepresentation. Penalty. Any person procuring or attempting to procure an allowance for a person not entitled thereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as now provided by law for punishment in case of misdemeanors.

3967. Record. Allowance may be set aside. In each case where an allowance is made to any mother under the provisions of this title, an entry to that effect shall be entered upon the records of the county commissioners or the juvenile court making such allowance, and it shall be the right of any taxpaying citizen at any time to file a motion to set aside such allowance; and on such motion the county commissioners or juvenile court shall hear evidence, and may make a new order granting or refusing such allowance.

3968. Appeal. In each case where an allowance is made or refused to any mother, under the provisions of this title, by the county commissioners or juvenile court, an appeal may be taken from such decision by any taxpaying citizen, or by the applicant for an allowance; such appeal shall be subject to the same provisions of law as in case of appeal from justices courts.

TITLE 69.

MOTOR VEHICLES AND CHAUFFEURS.

('15, p. 103.)

3970. Annual registration. Every owner of a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall, on or before the 1st day of March in each year, or before he shall operate such motor vehicle or motorcycle, register such vehicle in the office of the secretary of state, and obtain a license to operate the same for the ensuing year; and every chauffeur shall likewise register and obtain a license to operate as hereinafter provided. Am'd '17, p. 253.

3971. Definition of terms. The term "motor vehicle" shall apply to all vehicles propelled by power other than muscular power, except road rollers, traction engines, and railroad and railway cars and motor cars running only upon stationary rails or tracks. The term "motorcycle" shall apply to motor vehicles having but two main wheels in contact with the ground upon which the operator sits astride, but a motorcycle may carry a one-wheel attachment and seat for the conveyance of a passenger. The term "chauffeur" shall apply to any person operating a motor vehicle, other than his own, as mechanic, employe, or for hire.

3972. Application for registration. Application for the registration of a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall be made to the secretary of state upon blanks prepared by him for such purposes, and shall be signed by the owner and verified by oath or affirmation. Such application shall contain a statement of the name, place of residence, and address of the applicant, together with a brief description of the vehicle to be registered, its name, and the name of the manufacturer, its factory number, the character of its motive power, the amount of such motive power in figures of horsepower (the same to be determined by the following formula: Diameter of bore multiplied by length of stroke multiplied by number of cylinders divided by two and one-half), and such other additional information as the secretary of state may require. The required fee shall accompany the application.

Am'd '17, p. 253.

3973. Annual fees. Exemptions. The annual fee for the registration of motor vehicles and motorcycles shall be as follows: Three dollars for each motorcycle; $10 for each electric motor vehicle used only for pleasure purposes; $5 for each steam propelled motor vehicle not exceeding fifteen horsepower; $10 for each steam propelled motor vehicle exceeding fifteen horsepower; $10 for each commercial motor vehicle used for carrying passengers for hire; $10 for each non-passenger carrying commercial motor vehicle or truck; $5 for each other motor vehicle not exceeding twenty-five horsepower;

$10 for each other motor vehicle exceeding twenty-five, but not exceeding forty horsepower, and $15 for every other motor vehicle exceeding forty horsepower; provided, that every person, firm, association, or corporation engaged in the manufacture or sale of motor vehicles in this state may, instead of registering each such vehicle owned or controlled by him for purposes of exhibition and sale only, make application for a general distinguishing dealers' number upon a blank to be prepared by the secretary of state for such purpose. The fee for such registration and dealers' license number shall be $25 per annum, which fee shall accompany the application; provided, further, that no fee shall be charged for the registration of motor ambulances, motor police patrol vehicles, motor fire engines and trucks, or any other motor vehicles owned and used by municipal corporations, by counties, or by the state of Utah; but all such vehicles shall be registered and given a distinctive number, which number shall be displayed in like manner to that provided for all other motor vehicles; and provided, further, that whenever a motor vehicle or motorcycle is registered on or after the 1st day of September of any year, the fee for such registration shall be one-half of the amount of the annual registration fee. Am'd '17, p. 253.

3974. Issuance of license. Number plates. Loss of plate. Transfer of ownership. Dealers to report sales and transfers. Upon receipt of the application and the payment of the required fee, the secretary of state shall file the application, register the vehicle, assign to it a distinctive number, and make the same a matter of record in his office; provided, that the secretary of state shall preserve in his office for the period of two years all applications for the registration of motor vehicles, motorcycles, and chauffeurs filed therein under the provisions of this title. At the expiration of two years all such applications accumulating in said office during said period that may be considered of no value by the secretary of state may be destroyed. He shall also furnish without further cost a number plate in duplicate, showing thereon the number designated to such vehicle. The figures on the number plate shall be Arabic in character followed by the letter "U," which figures and letters shall be at least four inches high, and the stroke thereof at least one-half inch wide; provided, that the number plates used for motorcycles may be of such other size and design as may be practicable. The number plates shall be of uniform series, numbered consecutively beginning with the figure "1," and shall be of a different and distinctive color for each year. They shall be issued in numerical order, and in the order of the applications. In the event of the loss or destruction of one or both number plates, the owner thereof shall, without delay, make an affidavit to the secretary of state, on a blank to be provided for such purpose, setting forth the facts of such loss or destruction and applying for a new number. Upon the filing of such affidavit and application, and the payment of a fee of $1, the secretary of state shall thereupon cancel the applicant's old number and issue him a new number. In case of sale or disposal of motor vehicle or motorcycle, number plates assigned to such motor vehicle or motorcycle must remain thereon, and the owner thereof must immediately notify the secretary of state of such sale or disposal, and the purchaser must make application on a blank to be provided for such purpose for the transfer of such registration to him, and upon the payment of a fee of $1, such transfer will be made a matter of record in the office of the secretary of state. Manufacturers and dealers, having obtained a dealer's license and number, may obtain additional sets in duplicate of the original number plates upon the payment of a fee of $2 for each and every set obtained. It shall be the duty of all such manufacturers and dealers to make a weekly report to the secretary of state, on blanks to be provided for such purpose, of all sales and transfers of ownership of motor vehicles and motorcycles negotiated by them, and to which they were a party. Am'd '17, p. 253.

3975. Number plates to be conspicuously displayed. Every motor vehicle or motorcycle, while in use or operation upon the public streets and highways, shall at all times display the number plates assigned to it, one on the front and the other on the rear of the vehicle, both to be securely fastened in conspicuous positions so as not to swing, and to be at all times plainly visible. No number plates, other than those furnished by the secretary of state, shall be used.

3976. Brakes. Signals. Lights. Every motor vehicle and motorcycle, while in use or operation upon the public streets or highways shall at all times be provided and equipped with efficient and serviceable brakes, and with a signaling apparatus consisting of a horn, bell, or some other suitable device. It shall likewise be equipped with at least two front lamps throwing strong white lights sufficient to reveal all persons, vehicles, or substantial objects for a distance of at least 150 feet in the direction such vehicle is proceeding, and sufficient side illumination to indicate any person, vehicle, or substantial object ten feet to the side of such vehicle at a point ten feet ahead of such lamps. Said vehicle shall also be equipped with a lamp on the rear on the left side, showing a red light plainly visible in the reverse direction to which the vehicle is proceeding, and such other light so reflected as to clearly reveal the figures on the rear number plate; provided, that a motorcycle shall be required to be equipped with one front light only, in place of the two front lights herein required for other motor vehicles. All such lamps or lights shall at all times be kept burning while such vehicle is in use or operation in a public street or highway, during the period of the day from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise. It shall be unlawful to use on a vehicle of any kind operated on the public highways of this state any lighting device of over four candlepower equipped with a reflector, unless the same shall be so designed, deflected or arranged that no portion of the beam of reflected light, when measured seventy-five feet or more ahead of the lamps, shall rise above forty-two inches from the level surface on which the vehicle stands under all conditions of load. Spotlights shall not be used except when projecting their rays directly on the ground and at a distance not exceeding thirty feet in front of the vehicle.

'09, p. 237; am'd '17, p. 253.

Applies only to vehicles in use and not to a dead motor car being hauled by another car. Musgrave v. Studebaker Bros., — U. —; 160 P. 116.

3977. Speed to be reasonable and safe. Operator to use caution. No person shall operate a motor vehicle or motorcycle upon any public street or highway at a speed greater than is reasonable and safe, having due regard for the width, grade, character, traffic, and common use of such street or highway; or so as to endanger life, limb, or property in any respect whatever. Upon approaching any bridge, dam, sharp curve, dugway, or deep descent, or in traversing such bridge, dam, curve, dugway, or descent, the operator of a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall at all times have the vehicle under immediate control. Upon approaching or passing any person walking in the roadway or traveled portion of any public street or highway, or any horse or other draft animal being led, ridden, or driven thereon, or upon any bridge, or crossing at an intersection of public streets or highways, the operator of a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall at all times have the same under immediate control. And if such animal shall appear to be frightened, or if the person in charge thereof shall signal by raising his hand or calling, the operator shall immediately stop his vehicle. If traveling in the opposite direction, the operator shall hold his vehicle stationary until such animal shall have had reasonable time to pass by; and if traveling in the same direction, he shall use reasonable caution in order to avoid frightening the animal or causing accident; and in approaching or passing such animal the operator shall not use the exhaust cut-out of his vehicle, or cause any other unnecessary noise. No person operating a motor vehicle or motorcycle upon a public street or highway in this state shall drive the same past any street car, interurban or other passenger train while the same is standing still for the purpose of taking on or letting off passengers to or from such car or train.

3978. Rules of the road. Whenever any operator of a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall meet on a public street or highway any person or persons riding or driving one or more horses, or any other draft animal, or any other vehicle, approaching in the opposite direction, the operator shall turn his vehicle to the right so as to give one-half of the traveled roadway, if practicable, and a fair opportunity to the other to pass by without unnecessary interference; and if traveling in the same direction, he shall pass to the left side of the person or vehicle overtaken, and the person or vehicle overtaken shall give him a fair opportunity to pass; provided, that when upon a canyon road or dugway, or upon any roadway bordering upon any precipice, stream, or river, the operator of such motor vehicle or motorcycle shall take the lower side of such canyon road or dugway, or the side nearest to such precipice, stream, or river. The operator of a motor vehicle or motorcycle in motion on any public street or highway shall give due and timely warning, by using his signaling apparatus, to every person riding or driving any horse or horses, or horse drawn or other vehicle, which he may meet or approach; and he shall likewise give due warning and reduce speed upon approaching any sharp curve, dugway, descent, or other dangerous place upon such street or highway.

Rules of the road, § 2844.

A motorist's failure to stop when a team of horses appeared to be frightened was negligence per se.
Beggs v. Clayton, 40 U. 389; 121 P. 7.

3979. Accidents. In case of accident to any person or damage to property upon the public street or highway, due to the operation of a motor vehicle or motorcycle thereon, the operator of such vehicle shall immediately stop and, upon request of the person injured or sustaining damages thereby, or of any other person present, give such person his name and address, and if he is not the owner of such vehicle, then the name and address of the owner thereof.

3980. Chauffeur's license. Application. Fee. Application for a chauffeur's license shall be made to the secretary of state upon blanks prepared by him for such purpose, and shall be signed and verified by oath or affirmation. Such application shall contain a statement of the name and address of the chauffeur, and such other information as the secretary of state may require; and shall be signed and endorsed by at least three responsible owners of motor vehicles and employers of chauffeurs; provided, that no such license shall be issued to any person under eighteen years of age. A fee of $2 shall accompany the application; provided, that if the application shall be made on or after the 1st day of July of any year, the fee shall be $1.

3981. Secretary of state to issue license. Style and use of badge. Upon receipt of such application and the payment of the required fee, the secretary of state shall file the application, register the same, assign to the applicant a distinctive number, and make the same a matter of record in his office. He shall likewise furnish such chauffeur a badge, which badge shall be evidence of his right to act as a chauffeur until the 31st day of December following. Such badge shall be aluminum or some other suitable metal, oval in form, the greater diameter not to exceed two inches, and there shall be stamped thereon the words "Registered chauffeur No. (here insert the registration number designated), state of Utah." The badges shall be of uniform series, numbered consecutively beginning with the figure "1," shall be of a different and distinctive color for each year, and shall be issued in consecutive order. The chauffeur shall at all times, while operating a motor vehicle upon the public streets and highways, wear his badge pinned to his clothing in a conspicuous place. No registered chauffeur shall voluntarily or otherwise permit any other person to wear his badge; nor shall any person wear a chauffeur's badge belonging to any other person, or a fictitious badge, while operating a motor vehicle upon the public streets and highways.

3982. Who may operate motor vehicles. No person shall operate a motor vehicle or motorcycle upon any public street or highway, whether as owner or operator of such vehicle, if under sixteen years of age, or while under the influence of intoxicating liquor; and no person shall take, use, or operate any motor vehicle or motorcycle upon the public streets and highways without the permission of the owner thereof.

3983. Motor vehicles owned by non-residents. Motor vehicles owned by non-residents of the state may be used and operated on the public streets and highways for a period of thirty days without having to register and obtain a license so to do; provided, that the owner or owners thereof shall have fully complied with the laws requiring the registration of motor vehicles in the state or territory of their residence, and that the registration number and the initial letter of such state or territory shall be displayed and plainly visible on such vehicle or vehicles. In all other respects, however, motor vehicles owned by non-residents of the state, and in use temporarily within the state, shall be subject to the provisions of this title.

3984. Powers and duties of local authorities. Any city or town within the state may make and enforce reasonable ordinances, rules and regulations concerning the speed of motor vehicles and motorcycles within such city or town; provided, that no such ordinance, rule, or regulation shall limit the speed of such vehicle to less than the rate of eight miles per hour in crossing streets or highway intersections, or less than the rate of twelve miles per hour in other parts of such city or town; but as a condition to the regulation of speed such city or town must, by signs conspicuously placed at reasonable places, indicate the rate of speed permitted; provided, further, that no city or town shall require of any person any registration fee for any motor vehicle or motorcycle; provided, further, that all state and county road commissioners, supervisors, and agents shall be special officers with full authority to make arrests for violation of this title. Such officers shall be required to serve in such capacity without additional compensation, but shall not be required to furnish a bond. Am'd '17, p. 253.

3985. Rights of motor vehicles upon the highway. Subject to the provisions of this title, operators of motor vehicles and motorcycles shall have the same rights upon the public streets and highways as the drivers of other vehicles, and shall not be excluded or prohibited from using the streets and highways, except such driveways, speedways, or boulevards as are now or may be expressly set apart by the local authorities of any county, city, or town for the exclusive use of horses and light carriages; provided, that when driveways, speedways, and boulevards are set apart for such express purpose, the local authorities shall cause to be posted in conspicuous places at the extremities and intersections thereof legible signs indicating the restrictions imposed.

3987. Motor vehicle registration fund established. All fees received and collected under the provisions of this title shall be turned into the state treasury to the credit of a fund to be known as the motor vehicle registration fund; provided, that the necessary expense in carrying out the provisions of this title, including clerical services, cost of stationery and stamps, number plates and chauffeurs' badges, blanks and books for receiving and recording registrations, and the printing of directories and supplements thereto shall be a claim against the motor vehicle registration fund, and when paid shall be charged to said fund. Am'd '17, p. 35.

Fund to be applied to interest on state road bonds, § 2866.

3988. Penalty. Revocation of license. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. If any such person be convicted the second time for violation of any of the provisions of this title, the secretary of state shall revoke the license of such person.

3989. Complaints and actions. In all complaints or actions for the violation of any of the provisions of this title, the court before whom the case shall be tried shall have jurisdiction and power to render judgment therein, and issue process and mittimus thereon; but the defendant shall have the right to appeal as in all other cases.

3990. Civil actions. Nothing in this title shall be construed to curtail or abridge the right of any person to prosecute a civil action for damage sustained by reason of injury to person or property resulting from the negligent use of the public streets or highways by a motor vehicle or motorcycle, or by its owner, his employe, or by any other operator thereof.

TITLE 70.

NAMES.

CHAPTER 1.

NAMES, CHANGE OF.

4000. (1545.) Change of name of person, city, town, etc. Petition. Any person, city, town, precinct, or school district, desiring to change his or its name, may file a petition therefor in the district court of the county where located, setting forth:

1. The cause for which the change of name is sought;
2. The name proposed;
3. If the petitioner is a person, that he has been a bona fide citizen of the county for the year immediately prior to the filing of the petition; or, if the petitioner is a city, town, precinct, or school district, that two-thirds of the legal voters thereof desire such change of name, and that there is no other city, town, precinct, or school district in this state of the name sought.

4001. (1546.) Hearing. Proof of publication. Order. At any subsequent term, the district court may order the change of name as requested, upon proof in open court of the allegations of the petition, and that there exists proper cause for granting the same, and that thirty days' previous notice of the hearing thereof has been given in a newspaper published or having a general circulation in the county.

4002. (1547.) Effect of change. Such proceedings shall in no manner affect a legal action or proceeding then pending, nor any right, title, or interest whatsoever.

CHAPTER 2.

CONDUCTING BUSINESS UNDER AN ASSUMED NAME.

('13, p. 27.)

4005. Use of assumed name unlawful. Proviso. No person or persons shall hereafter carry on or conduct or transact business in this state under an assumed name, or under any designation, name, or style, corporate, partnership, or otherwise, other than the real name or names of the individual or individuals conducting or transacting such business, unless such person or persons shall file in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal place of business is, or is to be located, an affidavit setting forth the name under which said business is, or is to be conducted or transacted, and the true or real full name or names of the person or persons owning, conducting, or transacting the same, the location of the principal place of business, with the postoffice address or addresses of said person or persons. Said affidavit shall be executed and sworn to by the person or persons so conducting or intending to conduct said business.

4008. Construction. This chapter shall in no way affect or apply to any corporation duly organized under the laws of this state, or any corporation organized under the laws of any other state and lawfully doing business in this state, nor shall this chapter be deemed or construed to prevent the lawful use of a partnership name or designation.

4009. Penalty. Any person or persons carrying on, or conducting or transacting business, as aforesaid, who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 3.

REGISTRATION OF FARM NAMES.

('17, p. 40.)

4010. Farm names recorded. Any owner of a farm in the state of Utah may have the name of his farm, together with a brief description of his lands to which said name applies, recorded in a register kept for the purpose in the office of the state auditor, and the state auditor shall furnish to such land owner a proper certificate setting forth such name and a brief description of said lands. When any name shall have been recorded as the name of any farm in the state, such name shall not be recorded as the name of any other farm in the state of Utah.

4011. Fees. Any person having the name of his farm recorded as provided in this chapter shall first pay to the state auditor a fee of $2, which fee shall be paid to the state treasurer as other fees are paid to the state treasurer by the state auditor.

4012. Transfer of name. When any owner of a farm, the name of which has been recorded as provided in this chapter, transfers by deed or otherwise the whole of such farm, such transfer may include the registered name thereof; but if the owner shall transfer only a portion of such farm, then in that event, the registered name thereof shall not be transferred to the purchaser unless so stated in the deed of conveyance.

4013. Cancellation by owner. When any owner of a registered farm desires to cancel the registered name thereof, he shall write on the back of the certificate provided for in § 4010 the following: "This name is canceled, and I hereby release all rights thereunder," and shall sign such statement in the presence of a witness and shall file the certificate in the office of the state auditor. For such filing fee the state auditor shall charge 25 cents, which shall be paid to the state treasurer as other fees. The state auditor shall, when such certificate has been filed in his office write on the margin of the record of the register of such name the word "canceled."

4014. Penalty for misuse. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person other than the person in whose name said farm is registered to use such registered name for any other farm.

TITLE 71.

NATURAL GAS.

4020. (1548.) Confining gas in unused well. Any person or corporation in possession as owner, lessee, agent, or manager of any well in which natural gas has been found, shall, unless said gas is being utilized, within three months from the completion of said well, or at any time upon ceasing to use such well, confine the gas in said well until such time as it shall be utilized; provided, that this section shall not apply to any well operated as an oil well.

4021. (1549.) Plugging abandoned well. Upon abandoning or ceasing to operate any well sunk in exploring for gas, the person or corporation that sunk the same shall fill up the well with sand or rock sediment to a depth of at least twenty feet above the gas-bearing rock, and drive a round, seasoned wooden plug, at least three feet in length, equal in diameter to the diameter of the well below the casing, to a point at least five feet below the bottom of the casing; and immediately after drawing the casing, shall drive a round, seasoned wooden plug to a point just below where the lower end of the casing rested, which plug shall be at least three feet in length, tapering in form, and of the same diameter at the distance of eighteen inches from the smaller end as the diameter of the hole below the point at which it is to be driven. After the plug has been properly driven there shall be filled on the top of the same, sand or rock sediment to a depth of at least five feet; provided, that in case such geological formation shall be encountered in the bore as to make some other method more effective for preventing flooding by water from superposed strata, the state mine inspector may direct what other plan shall be pursued without unreasonable cost to the owner or lessee of the well.

4022. (1550.) Penalties for neglect. Any person or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of §§ 4020, 4021, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each and every violation thereof and to the further penalty of $200 for each thirty days during which such violation shall continue; and all such penalties shall be recovered, with costs of suit, in a civil action or actions, in the name of the state for the use of the county in which the well shall have been opened.

4023. (1551.) Rights of adjacent owner. Whenever any person or corporation shall abandon any gas well, and shall fail to comply with § 4021, any person or corporation lawfully in possession of lands adjacent to or in the neighborhood of said well may enter upon the land upon which said well is situated and take possession of said well, and plug the same in the manner provided by § 4021, and may maintain a civil action in any court of the state, against all or any of the owners or persons abandoning said well, to recover the costs thereof. This shall be in addition to the penalties provided by § 4022.

4024. (1552.) Right of way for pipe lines. Any person, corporation, or association desirous of obtaining the right of way for a pipe line or lines, or for the location of any gas tank or reservoir, shall be entitled to exercise the right of eminent domain.

Eminent domain generally, §§ 7330-7350.

4025. Duties of owner when drilling well. When any well shall be drilled in this state on lands producing or containing petroleum or natural gas, it shall be the duty of the owner or operator thereof, before drilling said well into the oil or gas bearing sand or strata, to incase such well in such manner as to effectually exclude and prevent all water from reaching said oil or gas-bearing sand or strata. '09, p. 268.

4026. Id. Upon abandonment of well. And it shall be the duty of said owner or operator, before abandoning or ceasing to operate any such well, to securely and effectually plug said well and to fill it up with sand or rock sediment to a depth of at least fifty feet above the top of the oil or gas-bearing sand or strata in such manner as to exclude all water from reaching said oil or gas-bearing sand or strata and also as to prevent any oil or gas escaping therefrom. '09, p. 268.

4027. Penalty. Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of §§ 4025-4026 shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be sentenced upon conviction thereof to the payment of a fine of not exceeding $1000. '09, p. 268.

TITLE 72.

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

CHAPTER 1.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

4030. (1553.) Negotiable instruments, requirements of. An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

1. It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer;
2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;
3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time;
4. Must be payable to the order of specified person or to bearer; and,
5. Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

R. S. '98, §§ 1553-1555; '99, p. 122.

This negotiable instruments law, adopted in Utah in 1899, pp. 122-148, in the interest of uniformity of legislation, is in effect in a number of the states.

This title shall be known as the negotiable instruments law, § 4260.

Consideration, §§ 4053-4058, and notes.

Indorsement, suretyship, etc., note to § 4097.

Negotiation, §§ 4059-4079.

Rights of the holder, §§ 4085-4093.

Liabilities of parties, §§ 4094-4103.

Presentment for payment, §§ 4105-4123.

Notice of dishonor, §§ 4125-4154.

Discharge of negotiable instruments, §§ 4155-4161.

Bills of exchange, form, §§ 4165-4170.

Bills of exchange, acceptance, §§ 4171-4181.

Bills of exchange, presentment, §§ 4182-4190.

Bills of exchange, protest, §§ 4191-4199.

Bills of exchange, acceptance for honor, §§ 4200-4209.

Bills of exchange, payment for honor, §§ 4210-4216.

Bills of exchange, in a set, §§ 4217-4222.

Negotiable promissory note defined, § 4223.

Check, presentment, assignment of funds, §§ 4224-4228.
Terms defined, §§ 4230-4232.
Time, computation, etc., §§ 4232, 4233.
Notes, bills, checks, etc., may be made or drawn by telegraph, § 6119.

4031. (1554.) Sum payable is a sum certain. The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this title although it is to be paid:

1. With interest; or
2. By stated instalments; or
3. By stated instalments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any instalment, the whole shall become due; or
4. With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or
5. With costs of collection or an attorney's fee, in case payment shall not be made at maturity. '99, p. 122.

Provision in a note that "if the interest be not paid as stipulated, the legal holder may declare the principal due and proceed by law to recover both principal and interest," does not destroy negotiability.
Smith v. Williamson, 8 U. 219; 30 P. 753.
The fact that the makers of a promissory note undertake to pay an attorney's fee of ten per cent on the amount collected does not render the note non-negotiable.
Salisbury v. Stewart, 15 U. 308; 49 P. 777.
The stipulation to pay attorney's fees in case of suit binds the maker to pay them as a part of the costs of the remedy, but he cannot be required to pay more than the fees actually charged.
Salisbury v. Stewart, 15 U. 308; 49 P. 777.
A provision in a note for an attorney fee, but leaving blank the amount thereof, amounts to a promise to pay a reasonable sum as an attorney's fee; and a provision for a reasonable attorney's fee does not render the note non-negotiable. Lippincott v. Rich, 22 U. 196; 61 P. 526, having been decided before the enactment of the statute, was susperseded by the statute.
McCornick v. Swem, 36 U. 6; 102 P. 626.
Provision in a note for payment of a reasonable amount as an attorney's fee does not destroy its negotiable character by making the amount to be paid uncertain.
Utah Banking Company v. Newman, 44 U. 194; 138 P. 1146.

4032. (1555.) Unconditional. An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this title, though coupled with:

1. An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or
2. A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument.

But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not unconditional. '99, p. 122.

4033. (1556.) Time payable. An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this title, which is expressed to be payable:

1. At a fixed period after date or sight; or
2. On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or
3. On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain. An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect. '99, p. 122.

Time of payment, § 4120.

4034. (1557.) When negotiable and when not. An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which:

1. Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or
2. Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or
3. Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of obligor; or
4. Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal. R. S. '98, §§ 1556, 1558, 1559; '99, p. 123.

Attorneys fees and negotiability, § 4031.
The stipulation in a note which includes the covenants of a mortgage by which the makers agree to pay taxes on the property, assessment, insurance, and damages for waste, renders the note non-negotiable.
Donaldson v. Grant, 15 U. 231; 49 P. 779.
A warrant of attorney authorizing any attorney to confess judgment against the makers of a promissory note is not recognized by the statutes of Utah, and a judgment entered thereon will be treated as a judgment by confession, and must be treated in strict conformity with the statute.
Utah Nat. Bank v. Sears, 13 U. 172; 44 P. 832.

4035. (1558.) Negotiability, when not affected. The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that:

1. It is not dated; or
2. Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or
3. Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or
4. Bears a seal; or
5. Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument.

R. S. '98, § 1557; '99, p. 123.

Time and place of payment in a promissory note are material stipulations in the contract. Bach v. Brown, 17 U. 435; 53 P. 991.

4036. (1559.) Payable on demand. An instrument is payable on demand:

1. Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight or on presentation; or
2. In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted, or endorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting, or indorsing it, payable on demand. R. S. '98, § 1562; '99, p. 123.

4037. (1560.) Payable to order. The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of:

1. A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
2. The drawer or maker; or
3. The drawee; or
4. Two or more payees pointly; or
5. One or some of several payees; or
6. The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order, the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

R. S. '98, § 1564; '99, p. 123.

4038. (1561.) Payable to bearer. The instrument is payable to bearer:

1. When it is expressed to be so payable; or
2. When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
3. When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or non-existing person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
4. When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
5. When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank.

R. S. '98, §§ 1564-1566; '99, p. 124.

4039. (1562.) Negotiable instrument, form of. The negotiable instrument need not follow the language of this title, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof.

'99, p. 124.

4040. (1563.) Date of. Where the instrument or an acceptance or any indorsement therein is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement, as the case may be. '99, p. 124.

4041. (1564.) Id. The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is ante-dated or post-dated; provided, that this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery.

R. S. '98, § 1560; '99, p. 124.

4042. (1565.) Id. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date of issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date. '99, p. 124.

4043. (1566.) Filling in blanks. Where an instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands, and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. R. S. '98, § 1584; '99, p. 124.

Material alteration, § 4160.

4044. (1567.) Incomplete instrument not delivered invalid. Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery. '99, p. 124.

4045. (1568.) Instrument not complete until delivered. Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting, or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only, and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him, is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in the possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. '99, p. 125.

Conditional guaranty by several. Not bound unless all sign.
State Bank v. Burton G. Co., 14 U. 420; 48 P. 402.

It may be shown by parol that the note was delivered conditionally, and the condition has not been satisfied.
Martineau v. Hansen, 47 U. 549; 155 P. 432.

4046. (1569.) Instrument ambiguous, how construed. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous, or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount;

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof;

3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued;

4. Where there is conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument the written provisions prevail;

5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or a note, the holder may treat it as either, at his election;

6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser;

7. Where an instrument containing the words, "I promise to pay," is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon. '99, p. 125.

4047. (1570.) Signer only liable. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name. '99, p. 125.

4048. (1571.) Signature by agent. The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency. '99, p. 125.

4049. (1572.) Authorized agent not liable. Where the instrument contains, or a person adds to his signature, words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability. '99, p. 126.

Where signers of a promissory note place "president" and "secretary" after their names, having first signed the corporate name, such note will not be regarded as a joint note, unless circumstances unmistakably indicate an intention to sign the note jointly.
Armstrong v. Cache Valley Land and Canal Co., 14 U. 450; 48 P. 690.

4050. (1573.) Signature by procuration. A signature by procuration operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority. '99, p. 126.

4051. (1574.) Indorsement. The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon. '99, p. 126.

4052. (1575.) Signature forged. Where a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party against whom it is sought to enforce such right is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority. '99, p. 126.

A bona fide holder without notice acquires no title to a negotiable instrument under a forged indorsement.
Warren v. Smith, 35 U. 455; 100 P. 1069.
A forged indorsement does not pass title to commercial paper, negotiable only by indorsement, either at common law or under this section, and no right can be acquired under it unless the party against whom the right is asserted is precluded from setting up the forgery.
Simpson v. D. & R. G. R. R. Co., 43 U. 105; 134 P. 883.

CHAPTER 2.

CONSIDERATION.

4053. (1576.) Consideration presumed. Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration, and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value. R. S. '98, § 1567; '99, p. 126.

Indorsers and sureties, § 4097, and note.
Assumption of mortgage, consideration, note to § 5811.

The payment of interest in advance on a note is prima facie evidence of an agreement to extend the time of payment.
Walley v. Des. Bank, 14 U. 305; 47 P. 147.

Agreement for extension of time; time of making; consideration.
Wallace v. Richards, 16 U. 52; 50 P. 804.
A non-negotiable note not under seal does not import a consideration.
Felt v. Judd, 3 U. 414; 4 P. 243.
The holder of a negotiable paper before maturity is presumed to be a holder for value and is not obliged to show that he paid value for it, until under proper pleadings evidence is offered to overcome this presumption.
Voorhees v. Fisher, 9 U. 303; 34 P. 46.
If a party executes a promissory note while he is so intoxicated that he does not know what he is doing, and after becoming sober ratifies the transaction by keeping the consideration which he would receive for the note, he cannot afterwards avoid the note.
Smith v. Williamson, 8 U. 219; 30 P. 753.
When the guaranty of a third person is written on the same paper as the promissory note prior to its delivery, and is a condition of acceptance, such guaranty is supported by the consideration of the note, and need not express a consideration.
Gagan v. Stevens, 4 U. 348; 6 P. 706.
A corporation cannot recover on a note given to its defaulting manager by defendant, where the evidence shows that it was a personal transaction for the accommodation of such manager, without consideration, and there is no evidence to show that its having been given enabled the manager to defraud the company, or assisted him in so doing. (Overruling 5 U. 568.)
Societe Mines v. Mackintosh, 7 U. 35; 24 P. 669.
Makers of a note cannot show a contemporaneous parol agreement, that they signed on the representation of plaintiff's cashier that they would not be called upon to pay it; nor is proof that one maker signed without consideration sufficient to destroy the presumption of consideration arising from the note itself.
First Nat'l Bank v. Foote, 12 U. 157; 42 P. 205.
A partial failure of consideration as between the parties to a negotiable note is not a defect in title, so as to require an indorsee suing thereon to show himself a holder in due course; the burden of showing want of consideration and notice thereof by the indorsee being upon the maker.
Cole Banking Co. v. Sinclair, 34 W. 454; 98 P. 411.
In an action on a note it is not necessary to allege or prove consideration to make out a prima facie case; and where defendant, the cashier of plaintiff's bank, executed a note which, together with a sum advanced by the president, was deposited as a part of the bank's assets to make up the amount of the defalcation; held, that the execution of the note by defendant was supported by sufficient consideration so as to authorize an action thereon by the bank.
Utah Nat'l Bank v. Nelson, 38 U. 169; 111 P. 907.
Production of a note and proof of signature placed the burden on defendant of overcoming prima facie case, but, when defendant produced such evidence, burden is on plaintiff to show by a fair preponderance of all the evidence a legal and valuable consideration.
Hudson v. Moon, et al., 42 U. 377; 130 P. 774.
In an action by a bank, holder of a note given for the price of a piano, evidence held insufficient to support a non-suit on the grounds that the payee made false and fraudulent representations that he was the owner of the piano.
Utah Banking Company v. Oler, 47 U. 407; 154 P. 781.

4054. (1577.) Consideration defined. Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing debt constitutes value, and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time. '99, p. 126.

Cited in: Felt v. Bush et al., 41 U. 462; 126 P. 688.

4055. (1578.) Holder for value. Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time. '99, p. 126.

Cited in: Felt v. Bush et al., 41 U. 462; 126 P. 688.

4056. (1579.) Lienholder. Where the holder has a lien on the instrument arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien. '99, p. 126.

An indorsee who receives a note before maturity as collateral for a pre-existing debt, without any other consideration, and without notice of equities or infirmities, is a holder for value, and is protected against payment made to the original payee before maturity, and before the note was indorsed and delivered.
Felt v. Bush et al., 41 U. 462; 126 P. 688.

4057. (1580.) Absence or failure of consideration. Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course, and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise. '99, p. 126.

Cited in: Utah Commr. & Savgs. Bank v. Fox et al., 40 U. 205; 120 P. 840.
If plaintiff agreed to look to profits from stock in payment for such stock purchased for himself and defendant in consideration that defendant managed the business, he had no personal claim against defendant, and there was no consideration for a note given by defendant to secure such payment.
Smith v. Brown, 50 U. —; 165 P. 468.

4058. (1581.) Accommodation party. An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party. '99, p. 127.

Indorsement, suretyship, etc., note to § 4097.
An accommodation maker of a note is not relieved from liability by an extension of time of payment without his knowledge or consent.

Wallace v. Richards, 16 U. 52; 50 P. 804.

CHAPTER 3.

NEGOTIATION.

4059. (1582.) Negotiated, when. An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof; if payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder, completed by delivery. '99, p. 127.

The authority of an agent to indorse negotiable paper is to be strictly construed, and will not be implied from a general authority to transact business for the principal unless such power is necessary to the accomplishment of the agency; and such authority could not be based upon prior customary act, where it did not appear that the indorsee ever knew of an instance where the payee had knowingly ratified an unauthorized indorsement by such agent.
Utah Banking Co. v. Newman, 44 U. 194; 138 P. 1146.

4060. (1583.) Indorsement, how made. The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement. R. S. '98, §§ 1568, 1570; '99, p. 127.

4061. (1584.) Must be of entire instrument. The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue. '99, p. 127.

4062. (1585.) Indorsement. An indorsement may be either in blank or special; and it may also be either restrictive, or qualified, or conditional. R. S. '98, § 1571; '99, p. 127.

Where the indorsement of a note before delivery is conditional, such conditions, to be binding upon the payee, must be accepted by him, made with notice to him, or acknowledged on his part before or accompanying delivery.
Farmers & Stockgrowers Bank v. Pahvant V. L. Co., 50 U. —; 165 P. 462.

4063. (1586.) Special and blank. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery. R. S. '98, §§ 1572, 1573; '99, p. 127.

4064. (1587.) Blank may be converted. The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement. R. S. '98, § 1574; '99, p. 127.

4065. (1588.) Restrictive. An indorsement is restrictive which either:

1. Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or
2. Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or
3. Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.

But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive. '99, p. 127.

4066. (1589.) Id. A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right:

1. To receive payment of the instrument;
2. To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring;
3. To transfer his right as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement. '99, p. 127.

4067. (1590.) Indorsement qualified. A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an instrument does not impair the negotiable character of the indorsement. R. S. '98, §§ 1578, 1579; '99, p. 128.

Indorsement without recourse cannot be regarded as evidence against an indorsee's holdings in good faith. Leavitt v. Thurston, 38 U. 351; 113 P. 77.

4068. (1591.) Instrument conditional. Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an indorsement so indorsed is negotiated will hold the same, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally. '99, p. 128.

4069. (1592.) Payable to bearer indorsed specially. Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement. '99, p. 128.

4070. (1593.) All payees must indorse. Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others. '99, p. 128.

4071. (1594.) Indorsement to fiscal officers. Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer. '99, p. 128.

4072. (1595.) Indorsee's name misspelled. Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature. '99, p. 128.

4073. (1596.) Indorsement in representative capacity. Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability. '99, p. 128.

4074. (1597.) Presumption as to date. Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue. '99, p. 128.

4075. (1598.) Presumption as to place. Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated. '99, p. 128.

4076. (1599.) Negotiability continues. An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise. '99, p. 129.

4077. (1600.) Holder may strike out unnecessary indorsement. The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument. '99, p. 129.

4078. (1601.) Transfer without indorsement. Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferrer had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. '99, p. 129.

A transferee of a note made payable to order, without indorsement, takes it subject to all equities attached to the note, and this although the holder was a bona fide holder for value.
Lebcher v. Lambert, 23 U. 1; 63 P. 628.

4079. (1602.) Indorsed back to prior party. Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this title, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable. '99, p. 129.

CHAPTER 4.

RIGHTS OF THE HOLDER.

4085. (1603.) Holder may sue. The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name; and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument. '99, p. 129.

4086. (1604.) Holder defined. A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

1. That the instrument is complete and regular upon its face;
2. That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact;
3. That he took it in good faith and for value;
4. That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it.

R. S. '98, § 1582; '99, p. 129.

Maker will be bound by notice of assignment of non-negotiable note.
Johnson v. Hibbard, 27 U. 342; 75 P. 737.
Reece v. Knott, 3 U. 451; 24 P. 757.
Leavitt v. Thurston, 38 U. 351; 113 P. 77.

An indorsee of a note has, on proof of defective title of the indorser, the burden of showing that he took the note in good faith for value, without notice, but notice received after a check has been delivered in payment of the note, but before payment thereof, is too late.
Miller v. Marks, 46 U. 257; 148 P. 412.

An assignee before maturity of a note signed by one as maker, and by another to enable the first maker to borrow money to apply on his indebtedness to the assignee, and who was credited by the assignee for the full amount of the note immediately upon its delivery, was a holder for value.
Helper State Bank v. Jackson, 47 U. 430; 160 P. 287.

A pledgee accepting an unmatured note as collateral security is a holder in due course.
Inter-State Trust Co. v. Headlund, 50 U. —; 171 P. 515.

4087. (1605.) On demand instrument. Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course. '99, p. 129.

4088. (1606.) Notice of defect. When the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him. '99, p. 129.

This section is intended merely to limit the indorsee's recovery to the amount he had advanced before obtaining notice of some infirmity, and not to affect his fundamental relation to the debtor.
Felt v. Bush, 41 U. 462; 126 P. 688.

4089. (1607.) Defective title. The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this title when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud.

'99, p. 129.

A partial failure of consideration as between parties is not a defect in title so as to require an indorsee suing thereon to show himself the holder in due course.
Cole Banking Co. v. Sinclair, 34 U. 454; 98 P. 411.

Where defendant by his answer admitted the execution and delivery of note and its non-payment, but defended on the ground of false representation, he was properly permitted to open and close.
Ogden Val. Trout and Resort Co. v. Lewis, 41 U. 183; 125 P. 687.

4090. (1608.) Notice of defect, what is. To constitute a notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith. '99, p. 130.

4091. (1609.) Holder in due course, rights of. A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon. R. S. 98, § 1583; '99, p. 30.

Where the presumption that the holder of a note was an indorsee before maturity for value and in good faith was not overcome, the defense of failure of consideration was properly rejected.
McCornick v. Swem, 36 U. 6; 102 P. 626.

4092. (1610.) Holder not in due course. In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were non-negotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter. '99, p. 130.

4093. (1611.) Holder in due course presumed. Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as a holder in due course. But the last mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title. '99, p. 130.

Where a plaintiff proved that a check was stolen from him, the burden is shifted to defendant, an indorsee, to prove that he or someone under whom he claimed acquired title as a holder in due course.
Warren v. Smith, 35 U. 455; 100 P. 1069.

When it appears that a note was obtained by fraud, burden is on the holder suing thereon to show that he acquired title as a holder in due course; this burden does not shift, and must be maintained by a preponderance of the evidence.
Leavitt v. Thurston, 38 U. 351; 113 P. 77.

The presumption that the payee was the legal owner of the indorsed note was not affected by the fact that her father had possession thereof and delivered it to another before his death.
Escamilla v. Pingree, 44 U. 421; 141 P. 103.

The burden of showing failure of consideration and notice thereof by the indorsee is upon the maker.
Cole Banking Co. v. Sinclair, 34 U. 454; 98 P. 411.

CHAPTER 5.

LIABILITIES OF PARTIES.

4094. (1612.) Maker, liability of. The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor; and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. '99, p. 130.

4095. (1613.) Drawer, liability of. The drawer by drawing the instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negativing or limiting his own liability to the holder. '99, p. 130.

4096. (1614.) Acceptor, liability of. The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits:

1. The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and
2. The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

R. S. '98, § 1630; '99, p. 130.

4097. (1615.) Indorser, who is. A person placing his signature upon an instrument, otherwise than as maker, drawer, or acceptor, is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity. R. S. '98, § 1568; '99, p. 131.

Consideration generally, § 4053, and note.
Statute of frauds, §§ 5811-5828, and notes.
Accommodation party, § 4058.

INDORSERS AND SURETIES:

Concealment of material fact releases sureties.

Jungk v. Holbrook, 15 U. 198; 49 P. 305. See same case, 9 U. 49; 33 P. 236. Id., 12 U. 209; 42 P. 292.

Indorser released by failure to give notice.

Burnham v. McCornick, 18 U. 42; 55 P. 77.

A person who signs a note as maker, but is in fact a surety, will be considered as a principal with respect to all who have no notice of the suretyship; but where such fact was known to plaintiff before equities attached, such maker may prove the same by parol evidence.

Gillett v. Taylor, 14 U. 190; 46 P. 1099.

Flint v. Nelson, 10 U. 261; 37 P. 479; affirmed 166 U. S. 276.

One or more persons may sign a note as guarantors, and deliver it to the payee with the agreement that they shall not be bound unless other persons named shall also sign, and if such persons do not sign, that those signing shall not be held.

State Bank of Utah v. Burton-Gardner Co., 14 U. 420; 48 P. 402.

But see Flint v. Nelson, 10 U. 261; 37 P. 479; affirmed 166 U. S. 276.

Where a canal company gave its note to a bank guaranteed by two of its officers, who were also officers of the banking corporation, which note was subsequently replaced by a second note and collateral security, which second note, five days after its execution, was guaranteed without consideration by said officers; held, that such guaranty is not binding, having been without consideration.

Armstrong v. Cache Valley Land and Canal Co., 14 U. 450; 48 P. 690.

R., in a separate answer to an action upon a promissory note, stated that his co-defendant, who held the note for sale, had promised him to erase his name before selling the note, and that plaintiff, to whom same was transferred, accepted it with knowledge of such agreement, but by mistake or inadvertence, the indorsement was not erased; held, that these facts constituted a good defense to an action against R.

Gregg v. Groesbeck, 11 U. 310; 40 P. 202.

Notice of acceptance not necessary; notice of default impliedly waived.

Wells, Fargo & Co. v. Davis, 2 U. 411; affirmed 104 U. S. 159.

An indoser holding other notes and mortgages as securities from the maker of the note may transfer such securities to the payee, who may proceed to recover upon the securities before suing upon the note indorsed.

Wells, Fargo & Co. v. Smith, 2 U. 39.

A guarantor liable on note only after a regular prosecution against the maker thereof and the use of due and reasonable diligence on the part of the plaintiff to collect the same from the maker by due course of law.

Anderson v. Stevens, 2 U. 538.

Where the relation of principal and surety exists between two joint makers of a promissory note, the surety to whom the note has been assigned by blank indorsement cannot, as an indorsee, sue his principal. His remedy is for money paid to the use of his principal.

Miller v. Zeigler, 3 U. 17; 5 P. 518.

But see Jennings v. Pratt, 19 U. 129; 56 P. 951.

4098. (1616.) Liability of. Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery, he is liable as indorser in accordance with the following rules:

1. If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties;

2. If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer;

3. If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee. R. S. '98, § 1577; '99, p. 131.

4099. (1617.) Person negotiating by delivery, liability of. Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement warrants:

1. That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be;

2. That he has a good title to it;

3. That all prior parties had capacity to contract;

4. That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee.

The provisions of sub. 3 of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporate securities, other than bills and notes. '99, p. 131.

4100. (1618.) Indorser, liability of. Every indorser who indorses without qualification warrants to all subsequent holders in due course:

1. The matters and things mentioned in subs. 1-3 of the next preceding section; and

2. That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that, on due presentment, it shall be accepted, or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. R. S. '98, § 1576; '99, p. 131.

4101. (1619.) Id. Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery, he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser. '99, p. 131.

4102. (1620.) Indorsers liable in order. As respects one another, indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsers who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally. '99, p. 132.

4103. (1621.) Broker's liability. Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement, he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by § 4099, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent. '99, p. 132.

CHAPTER 6.

PRESENTMENT FOR PAYMENT.

4105. (1622.) Presentment. Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers. R. S. '98, § 1585; '99, p. 132.

4106. (1623.) When made. Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof. R. S. '98, § 1586; '99, p. 132.

4107. (1624.) How made. Presentation for payment, to be sufficient, must be made:

1. By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf;
2. At a reasonable hour on a business day;
3. At a proper place as herein defined;
4. To the person primarily liable on the instrument, or if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made. R. S. '98, § 1586; '99, p. 132.

4108. (1625.) Proper place. Presentment for payment is made at the proper place:

1. Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented;
2. Where no place of payment is specified but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and it is there presented;
3. Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment;
4. In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found. or if presented at his last known place of business or residence. R. S. '98, § 1586; '99, p. 132.

Under § 1563, R. S. 1898, a note dated at Salt Lake City, but specifying no place of payment, the maker of which resides in Salt Lake City at the date of payment, is payable there.

Overland M. Co. v. McMaster, 19 U. 177; 56 P. 977.

Where a promissory note is executed and delivered in one county, made payable in another, and a failure of payment occurs, the cause of action arises in the county in which the instrument is made payable.

Bach v. Brown, 17 U. 435; 53 P. 991.

Where a promissory note is made payable at a certain place, the maker, in order to avoid costs and interest, must deposit or make a valid tender of the full amount of the note and interest at that place, though the note is not there.

McCauley v. Leavitt, 10 U. 91; 37 P. 164.

4109. (1626.) Instrument must be exhibited. The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it. R. S. '98, § 1592; '99, p. 133.

4110. (1627.) Presentment at bank. Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient. '99, p. 133.

4111. (1628.) Presentment where maker is dead. Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative, if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found. '99, p. 133.

4112. (1629.) Presentment to partners. Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm. '99, p. 133.

4113. (1630.) Presentment to several persons. Where there are several persons, not partners, primarily liable on the instrument, and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all. '99, p. 133.

4114. (1631.) Presentment, when not required. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument. '99, p. 133.

4115. (1632.) Id. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation, and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented. '99, p. 133.

4116. (1633.) Delay in making, when excused. Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence. R. S. '98, § 1607; '99, p. 133.

The question of the reasonableness of delay in presenting a promissory note for payment is a question of law for the court. Mere delay in presenting a note indorsed when overdue does not exonerate any party thereto by laws of Utah, 1882, § 87.
Durnell v. Snowden, 5 U. 216; 14 P. 334.

4117. (1634.) When dispensed with. Presentment for payment is dispensed with:

1. When, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment as required by this title cannot be made;
2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person;
3. By waiver of presentment, express or implied.

R. S. '98, § 1586; '99, p. 133.

4118. (1635.) Instrument dishonored, when. The instrument is dishonored by non-payment when:

1. It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or
2. Presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid.

R. S. '98, § 1593; '99, p. 133.

4119. (1636.) Recourse to parties secondarily liable. Subject to the provisions of this title, when the instrument is dishonored by non-payment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder. '99, p. 134.

4120. (1637.) Time of payment. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday. R. S. '98, §§ 1587, 1611; '99, p. 134.

Time payable, § 4033.
A note became due Aug. 3, 1884, and interest was to be paid monthly, and if not paid the whole should become due; the date of payment of principal was extended to Aug. 3, 1885, and other conditions of the note remained the same; held, that if interest was not paid as provided in note, the whole of said note became immediately due and payable.
Kelly v. Kershaw, 5 U. 295; 14 P. 804.

Where a debtor in failing circumstances pays a note not yet due to a bank from money on deposit therein, under threat of attachment proceedings if the note is not paid, such payment is voluntary and not made under duress.
Flack v. National Bank of Commerce, 8 U. 193; 30 P. 746.

4121. (1638.) Id. Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment. R. S. '98, § 1591; '99, p. 134.

4122. (1639.) Instrument made payable at a bank, effect of. Where the instrument is made payable at a bank, it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon '99, p. 134.

4123. (1640.) Payment in due course. Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective. '99, p. 134.

CHAPTER 7.

NOTICE OF DISHONOR.

4125. (1641.) Notice to whom given. Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged. '99, p. 134.

When a demand note of a corporation is presented and payment demanded of the principal, and no protest is made nor any notice of dishonor served on indorser, and no evidence of a waiver of such notice, the indorser is released.
Burnham v. McCornick, 18 U. 24; 55 P. 77.

4126. (1642.) By whom given. The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who, upon taking it up, would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given. R. S. '98, § 1594; '99, p. 134.

4127. (1643.) Id. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not. '99, p. 134.

4128. (1644.) Effect of. Where notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it inures for the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given. '99, p. 134.

4129. (1645.) Id. Where notice is given by or on behalf of a party entitled to give notice, it inures for the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party to whom notice is given. R. S. '98, § 1603; '99, p. 134.

4130. (1646.) Dishonored in the hands of an agent. Notice, how given. Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder. R. S. '98, § 1601; '99, p. 135.

4131. (1647.) Defective notice, how cured. A written notice need not be signed, and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby. '99, p. 135.

4132. (1648.) Notice, form of, and how served. The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument and indicate that it has been dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails. R. S. '98, § 1595; '99, p. 135.

4133. (1649.) May be served on principal or agent. Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf. '09, p. 135.

4134. (1650.) When party is dead, how served. When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence, he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased. R. S. '98, § 1597; '99, p. 135.

4135. (1651.) When parties are partners. When the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm even though there has been a dissolution. '99, p. 135.

4136. (1652.) Where parties are joint. Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others. '99, p. 135.

4137. (1653.) Where party is bankrupt. Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustees or assignee. '99, p. 135.

4138. (1654.) Time of service. Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored and, unless delay is excused as hereinbefore provided, must be given within the time fixed by this title.

4139. (1655.) Id. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in the same place, notice must be given within the following times:

1. If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following;
2. If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following;
3. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to reach him in the usual course on the day following.

R. S. '98, §§ 1599, 1600; '99, p. 135.

4140. (1656.) Id. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times:

1. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter;
2. If given otherwise than through the postoffice, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the postoffice within the time specified in the preceding subdivision.

R. S. '98, §§ 1599, 1600; '99, p. 136.

4141. (1657.) Where notice deposited in the postoffice. Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the postoffice, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails. '99, p. 136.

4142. (1658.) Id. Notice is deemed to have been deposited in the postoffice when deposited in any branch postoffice or in any letter box under the control of the postoffice department. '99, p. 136.

4143. (1659.) Time for notice of antecedent parties. Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor. R. S. '98, § 1602; '99, p. 136.

4144. (1660.) Place of serving notice. Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

1. Either to the postoffice nearest to his place of residence, or to the postoffice where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or

2. If he lives in one place, and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or

3. If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is so sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this title, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section. '99, p. 136.

4145. (1661.) Notice of dishonor waived. Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied. '99, p. 136.

4146. (1662.) Waiver in instrument. Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds him only. '99, p. 136.

4147. (1663.) Waiver of protest, effect of. A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of a formal protest, but also of a presentment and notice of dishonor. '99, p. 136.

4148. (1664.) Notice of dishonor dispensed with, when. Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged. R. S. '98, § 1604; '99, p. 137.

4149. (1665.) Delay in giving notice, excused when. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence. R. S. '98, § 1607; '99, p. 137.

4150. (1665x.) Notice not required of drawer, when. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in any of the following cases:

1 Where the drawer and the drawee are the same person;

2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;

3. Where the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

4. Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;

5. Where the drawer has countermanded payment. '99, p. 137.

An allegation in a suit against the maker of a check sufficiently set out that the payment had been countermanded, where the check was set forth, with indorsement across the face, "pyt. stopped." National Copper Bank v. Davis County Bank, 47 U. 236; 152 P. 1180.

4151. (1665x1.) Notice not required of indorser, when. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in any of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument;

2. Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

3. Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation. '99, p. 137.

4152. (1665x2.) Notice of dishonor, when excused. Where due notice of dishonor by non-acceptance has been given, notice of a subsequent dishonor by non-payment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted. '99, p. 137.

4153. (1665x3.) Id. An omission to give notice of dishonor by non-acceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission. '99, p. 137.

4154. (1665x4.) Protest not required except foreign bills. Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for non-acceptance or non-payment as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange. '99, p. 137.

CHAPTER 8.

DISCHARGE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

4155. (1665x5.) Negotiable instrument discharged. A negotiable instrument is discharged:

1. By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor;
2. By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation;
3. By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder;
4. By any other act which will discharge a single contract for the payment of money;
5. When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right. R. S. '98, § 1610; '99, p. 137.

4156. (1665x6.) Persons secondarily liable discharged. A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged:

1. By any act which discharges the instrument;
2. By the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder;
3. By the discharge of a prior party;
4. By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party;
5. By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved;
6. By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved. '99, p. 138.

An accommodation maker is primarily liable and is not released by the agreement mentioned in sub 6. Wolstenholme v. Smith, 34 U. 298; 97 P. 329.

4157. (1665x7.) Paid by party secondarily liable, effect of. Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except:

1. Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and
2. Where it was made or accepted for accommodation and has been paid by the party accommodated. '99, p. 138.

4158. (1665x8.) Renunciation of right against party, effect of. The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument before, at, or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon. '99, p. 138.

4159. (1665x9.) Cancellation by mistake. A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake, or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled, the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake, or without authority. '99, p. 138.

A payee may recover from the maker the balance due upon a note prematurely canceled by the payee.
Thompson v. Avery, 11 U. 214; 39 P. 829.

4160. (1665x10.) Alteration, effect of. Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized, or assented to the alteration and subsequent indorsers. But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor. '99, p. 138.

The insertion of the word "semi-annually" after the words "interest payable," to make the notes conform to the contract of the parties when executed, is a material alteration, but when made without fraudulent intent and no one was injured thereby, the instrument is not annulled nor the debt extinguished.
McClure v. Little, 15 U. 379; 49 P. 288.
Although a party must have actual knowledge of the alteration of a note before payment to constitute a ratification thereof, where payment is pleaded in the complaint and admitted in the answer, without alleging that it was made without defendant's knowledge or consent, ratification is sufficiently implied.
Farmers & Stockgrowers Bank v. Pahvant V. L. Co., 50 U. —; 165 P. 462.

4161. (1665x11.) Id. Any alteration which changes:

1. The date;
2. The sum payable, either for principal or interest;
3. The time or place of payment;
4. The number or the relations of the parties;
5. The medium or currency in which payment is to be made;

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration. '99, p. 139.

CHAPTER 9.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

4165. (1665x12.) Bills of exchange. A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing, addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. R. S. '98, § 1612; '99, p. 139.

4166. (1665x13.) Effect of. A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same. '99, p. 139.

4167. (1665x14.) May be addressed to whom. A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession. '99, p. 139.

4168. (1665x15.) Inland bill of exchange. An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill. '99, p. 139.

4169. (1665x16.) When bill or promissory note. Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note. '99, p. 139.

4170. (1665x17.) Referee in case of need. The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say, in case the bill is dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to restort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit. R. S. '98, § 1613; '99, p. 139.

ACCEPTANCE.

4171. (1665x18.) Acceptance of bill. The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money. R. S. '98, § 1624; '99 p. 140.

Cited in: National Copper Bank v. Davis County Bank, 47 U. 236; 152 P. 1180.

4172. (1665x19.) To be written on bill. The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill, and if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored. R. S. '98, § 1625; '99, p. 140.

4173. (1665x20.) Where not written on bill. Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. R. S. '98, § 1627; '99, p. 140.

4174. (1665x21.) Unconditional promise to accept bill. An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. R. S. '98, § 1628; '99, p. 140.

4175. (1665x22.) Twenty-four hours given for acceptance. The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance, if given, dates as of the day of presentation. R. S. '98, § 1620; '99, p. 140.

4176. (1665x23.) When acceptance deemed. Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or non-accepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same. R. S. '98, § 1626; '99, p. 140.

4177. (1665x24.) May be accepted, when. A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by non-payment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by non-acceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder, in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment. '99, p. 140.

4178. (1665x25.) Acceptance general or qualified. An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn. '99, p. 140.

4179. (1665x26.) General acceptance. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere. '99, p. 140.

4180. (1665x27.) Qualified acceptance. An acceptance is qualified, which is:

1. Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated;
2. Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;
3. Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;

4. Qualified as to time;
5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all. '99, p. 140.

4181. (1665x28.) Qualified acceptance may be refused. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance. When a qualified acceptance is taken, the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must within a reasonable time express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto. R. S. '98, § 1625; '99, p. 141.

PRESENTMENT FOR ACCEPTANCE

4182. (1665x29.) Presentment for acceptance, when necessary. Presentment for acceptance must be made:

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or
2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or
3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable. R. S. '98, § 1623; '99, p. 141.

4183. (1665x30.) Within reasonable time. Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so, the drawee and all indorsers are discharged. '99, p. 141.

4184. (1665x31.) Presentment before overdue and to whom made. Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour on a business day, and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and:

1. Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only;
2. Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative;
3. Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustees or assignee. R. S. '98, § 1620; '99, p. 141.

4185. (1665x32.) Day of presentment. A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of §§ 4107, 4120. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock noon on that day. '99, p. 142.

4186. (1665x33.) When delay excused. Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused, and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers. R. S. '98, § 1641; '99, p. 142.

4187. (1665x34.) Id. Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by non-acceptance, in any of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill;

2. Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be made;

3. Where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some ground. R. S. '98, §§ 1640, 1641; '99, p. 142.

4188. (1665x35.) Dishonored by non-acceptance. A bill is dishonored by non-acceptance:

1. When it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this title is refused or cannot be obtained; or

2. When presentment for acceptance is executed and the bill is not accepted. R. S. '98, § 1593; '99, p. 142.

4189. (1665x36.) Non-acceptance within time, effect of. Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time, the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers. '99, p. 142.

4190. (1665x37.) Dishonored by non-acceptance, recourse accrues. When a bill is dishonored by non-acceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder, and no presentment for payment is necessary. '99, p. 142.

PROTEST.

4191. (1665x38.) Foreign bill dishonored must be protested. Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by non-acceptance, it must be duly protested for non-acceptance, and where such a bill which has not previously been dishonored by non-acceptance is dishonored by non-payment, it must be duly protested for non-payment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest thereof in case of dishonor is unnecessary. R. S. '98, § 1644; '99, p. 142.

4192. (1665x39.) Protest, how made. The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof, and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify:

1. The time and place of presentment;

2. The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof;

3. The cause or reason for protesting the bill;

4. The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found. R. S. '98, § 1646; '99, p. 143.

4193. (1665x40.) Protest, by whom made. Protest may be made by:

1. A notary public; or

2. By any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses. R. S. '98, § 1645; '99, p. 143.

4194. (1665x41.) When made. When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting. R. S. '98, § 1648; '99, p. 143.

4195. (1665x42.) Where made. A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business or residence of some person other than the drawee has been dishonored by non-acceptance, it must be protested for non-payment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary. R. S. '98, § 1647; '99, p. 143.

4196. (1665x43.) If protested for non-acceptance may also be protested for non-payment. A bill which has been protested for non-acceptance may be subsequently protested for non-payment. '99, p. 143.

4197. (1665x44.) Where acceptor insolvent. Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers. '99, p. 143.

4198. (1665x45.) Protest dispensed with, delay excused, when. Protest is dispensed with by any circumstance which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence.

R. S. '98, § 1649; '99, p. 143.

4199. (1665x46.) Where bill is lost or destroyed. Where a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof. '99, p. 143.

ACCEPTANCE FOR HONOR

4200. (1665x47.) Acceptance for honor. Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by non-acceptance or protested for better security and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party.

R. S. '98, §§ 1631, 1632; '99, p. 144.

4201. (1665x48.) How made. An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor. R. S. '98, § 1633; '99, p. 144.

4202. (1665x49.) For whom made. Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer. '99, p. 144.

4203. (1665x50.) Acceptor for honor, to whom liable. The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted. '99, p. 144.

4204. (1665x51.) Liability of. The acceptor for honor by such acceptance engages that he will, on due presentment, pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance, provided it shall not have been paid by the drawee, and provided also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for non-payment and notice of dishonor given to him. '99, p. 144.

4205. (1665x52.) Bill accepted for honor, maturity of. Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for non-acceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor. '99, p. 144.

4206. (1665x53.) Dishonored bill must be protested. Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest, or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for non-payment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

R. S. '98, § 1634; '99, p. 144.

4207. (1665x54.) Presentment for payment to acceptor for honor, how made. Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows:

1. If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for non-payment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity;

'99, p. 144.

4208. (1665x55.) Provisions of § 4116 apply, when. The provisions of § 4116 apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. '99, p. 144.

4209. (1665x56.) Bill dishonored by acceptor must be protested. When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for non-payment by him. '99, p. 145.

PAYMENT FOR HONOR.

4210. (1665x57.) Payment for honor supra protest. Where a bill has been protested for non-payment, any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn. R. S. '98, §§ 1631, 1632; '99, p. 145.

4211. (1665x58.) How made. The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such, and not as a mere voluntary payment, must be attested by a notarial act of honor, which may be appended to the protest, or form an extension to it. '99, p. 145.

4212. (1665x59.) Id. The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor, or by his agent in that behalf, declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor, and for whose honor he pays. '99, p. 145.

4213. (1665x60.) Id. Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties, the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference. '99, p. 145.

4214. (1665x61.) Who discharged by. Where a bill has been paid for honor, all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid are discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for, and succeeds to, both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter. '99, p. 145.

4215. (1665x62.) Holder refusing to receive loses right of recourse. Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest, he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment. '99, p. 145.

4216. (1665x63.) Payer for honor entitled to bill. The payer for honor, on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor, is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest. '99, p. 145.

BILLS IN A SET.

4217. (1665x64.) Bills in a set. Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitute one bill. R. S. '98, § 1614; '99, p. 145.

4218. (1665x65.) Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated. Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course, the holder whose title first accrues is, as between such holders, the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course accepts or pays the part first presented to him. '99, p. 145.

4219. (1665x66.) Id. Liability of holder. Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons, he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed, as if such parts were separate bills. '99, p. 146.

4220. (1665x67.) Acceptance, how made. The acceptance may be written on any part, and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill. '99, p. 146.

4221. (1665x68.) Acceptor paying. Liability. When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part bearing his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon. '99, p. 146.

4222. (1665x69.) Bills in a set, how discharged. Except as herein otherwise provided, where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise, the whole bill is discharged. '99, p. 146.

CHAPTER 10.

PROMISSORY NOTES AND CHECKS.

4223. (1665x70.) Negotiable promissory note defined. A negotiable promissory note, within the meaning of this title, is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another, signed by the maker, engaging to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him. R. S. '98, § 1658; '99, p. 146.

Negotiable instrument, form, etc., §§ 4030-4052, and notes.
Consideration, § 4053-4058, and notes.
Indorsement and suretyship, note to § 4097.
An order to pay A or bearer in merchandise, signed by one party and drawn upon another, is not a note within the meaning of the act of Feb. 8, 1875, although paid out and used for circulation, and is not subject to the tax imposed by that act.
Z. C. M. I. v. Hollister, 3 U. 292; 3 P. 87; affirmed 111 U. S. 92.

4224. (1665x71.) Check defined. A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of this title applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check. R. S. '98, § 1663; '99, p. 146.

4225. (1665x72.) Check must be presented, when. A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue, or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay. R. S. '98, § 1664; '99, p. 146.

4226. (1665x73.) Check certified. Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn, the certification is equivalent to an acceptance. '99, p. 146.

4227. (1665x74.) Check certified discharges indorsers. Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon. '99, p. 146.

4228. (1665x75.) Check does not assign funds. A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder, unless and until it accepts or certifies the check. '99, p. 147.

CHAPTER 11.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

4229. (1665x76.) Title, how known. This title shall be known as the negotiable instruments law. '99, p. 147.

4230. (1665x77.) Terms defined. In this title, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Acceptance" means an acceptance completed by delivery or notification;

"Action" includes counterclaim and set-off;

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not;

"Bearer" means the person in possession of a bill or note which is payable to bearer;

"Bill" means bill of exchange, and "note" means negotiable promissory note;

"Delivery" means transfer of possession, actual or constructive, from one person to another;

"Holder" means the payee or indorsee of a bill or note, who is in possession of it, or the bearer thereof;

"Indorsement" means an indorsement completed by delivery;

"Instrument" means negotiable instrument;

"Issue" means the first delivery of the instrument, complete in form, to a person who takes it as a holder;

"Person" includes a body of persons, whether incorporated or not;

"Value" means valuable consideration;

"Written" includes printed and "writing" includes print. '99, p. 147.

4231. (1665x78.) Person primarily and secondarily liable. The person "primarily" liable on an instrument is the person who, by the terms of the instrument, is absolutely required to pay the same. All other parties are "secondarily" liable. '99, p. 147.

4232. (1665x79.) Reasonable time. In determining what is "reasonable time" or an "unreasonable time," regard is to be had to the nature of the instrument, the usage of trade or business (if any) with respect to such instrument, and the facts of the particular case. '99, p. 147.

4233. (1665x80.) Time, how computed. Where the day, or the last day, for doing any act herein required or permitted to be done falls on Sunday or on a holiday the act may be done on the next succeeding secular or business day. '99, p. 147.

Legal holidays, § 2860.
When last day to perform any act falls on holiday it may be performed on next succeeding business day, §§ 5843, 5844.

4234. (1665x81.) Not retroactive. The provisions of this title do not apply to negotiable instruments made and delivered prior to July 1, 1899. '99, p. 147.

4235. (1665x82.) Law-merchant. In any case not provided for in this title the rules of the law-merchant shall govern. '99, p. 148.

TITLE 73.

NOTARIES PUBLIC AND COMMISSIONERS OF DEEDS.

CHAPTER 1.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.

4250. (1666.) Appointment. Term. The governor may appoint one or more notaries public in each of the counties of this state; whose term of office shall be four years from the date of their commission; provided, that no person except a citizen of the United States, over the age of twenty-one years and a bona fide resident of the state of Utah shall be appointed as a notary public. '09, p. 221.

Fees of notaries public, § 2535.
Fees in full compensation, Con. art. 21, sec. 2.
Appointment certified to clerk of district court, §§ 5706, 5707.
May certify to copy chattel mortgage, § 470.
May certify to copy livestock lease, § 130.

4251. (1667.) Oath and bond. Each notary public shall, before entering upon his official duties, take the oath of office and give a bond, with sufficient sureties, to the state of Utah, in the penal sum of $500, conditioned that he will faithfully perform the duties of his office. The bond shall be filed with and approved by the secretary of state.

4252. (1668.) Suit on bond. The commission and oath shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state. The bond may be sued on by any person injured through the unfaithful performance of such notary's duties; provided, that no suit shall be so instituted after three years from the time the cause of such action accrued.

4253. (1669.) Powers. Within the counties for which they are appointed, notaries public are hereby authorized to administer all oaths provided for by law; to acknowledge powers of attorney and all instruments of writing conveying or affecting property in any part of this state, and elsewhere so far as may be lawful; to take affidavits and depositions; to make declarations and protests, and to do all other acts usually done by notaries public in other states and territories.

Take acknowledgment of conveyance of real estate, § 4885.

4254. (1670.) Record of protest. Each notary public shall keep a fair record of all notices of protest made by him, the time and manner in which they have been served, and the names of all the parties to whom they were directed, and the description and amount of the instrument protested; which record shall be competent evidence to legally prove such notices, and, when required and the fees are paid, he shall give a certified copy of any official record or paper in his office.

4255. (1671.) Seal. Every notary public shall have a seal, with which he shall authenticate all his official acts. Said seal must contain the name of the state, of the county in which the notary public is commissioned to act, and the words "Notary Public" or "Notarial Seal," with the surname, and at least the initials of the Christian name, of the notary public.

4256. (1672.) To affix date of expiration of commission. Notaries public in this state shall affix to all acknowledgments, oaths, affirmations, and instruments of every kind taken and certified by them according to law, the date on which their commissions expire. Am'd '07, p. 38.

4257. (1673.) Unlawful certification. Penalty. Any notary public who shall wilfully affix his signature and seal as notary public to any instrument after the expiration of his commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 2.

COMMISSIONERS OF DEEDS.

4258. (1674.) Appointment. Term. The governor may appoint in each state or territory of the United States except the state of Utah, or in any foreign state, one or more commissioners of deeds, to hold office for the term of four years from and after the date of their commission, but the governor may remove from office any commissioner during the term for which he was appointed.

Cal. Pol. C., § 811.

4259. (1675.) Powers. Every commissioner of deeds has power, within the state for which he was appointed:

1. To administer and certify oaths;
2. To take and certify depositions and affidavits;
3. To take and certify the acknowledgment or proof of powers of attorney, mortgages, transfers, grants, deeds, or other instruments for record; provided, that he shall state thereon the date of the expiration of his commission;
4. To provide and keep an official seal, upon which must be engraved his name, the words "Commissioner of Deeds for the State of Utah," and the name of the state for which he is commissioned;
5. To authenticate with his official seal all of his official acts.

Cal. Pol. C., § 812*.

4260. (1676.) Effect of acts. All oaths administered, depositions and affidavits taken, and all acknowledgments and proofs certified by commissioners of deeds have the same force and effect, to all intents and purposes, as if done and certified in this state by any officer authorized by law to perform such acts.

Cal. Pol. C., § 813.

4261. (1677.) Oath. Before such commissioner can perform any of the duties of his office, he is required to take and subscribe an oath that he will faithfully perform said duties, which oath shall be taken and subscribed before some judge or clerk of a court of record in the state, territory, or foreign country in which the commissioner is to exercise his appointment, and be certified under the hand of the person taking it and the seal of his court.

4262. (1678.) Filing oath. The official oaths of commissioners of deeds, together with the impressions of their official seals, must be filed in the office of the secretary of state within six months after they are taken.

Cal. Pol. C., § 814.

4263. (1679.) Fees. The fees of commissioners of deeds are the same as those prescribed for notaries public.

Cal. Pol. C., § 815. Fees of commissioner in full compensation, Con. art. 21, sec. 2.
Fees of notaries public, § 2535.

4264. (1680.) To be furnished copies of certain laws. The secretary of state must transmit with the commission to the appointee a certified copy of this chapter, and of the section prescribing the fees of notaries public.

Cal. Pol. C., § 817.

4265. (1681.) Commissioners for other states. The commissioners of deeds for other states residing in this state shall file with the secretary of state a certified copy of their commission, together with a statement of their place of residence.

TITLE 74.

NUISANCES.

ABATEMENT OF COMMON NUISANCES.

('13, p. 189.)

4275. Offense defined. Penalty. Abatement. Whoever shall erect, establish, continue, maintain, use, own, or lease any building, erection, or place for the purpose of lewdness, assignation, or prostitution is guilty of a nuisance, and the building, erection, or place, or the ground itself, in or upon which such lewdness, assignation, or prostitution is conducted, permitted, or carried on, continued, or exists, and the furniture, fixtures, musical instruments, and contents are also declared a nuisance, and shall be enjoined and abated as hereinafter provided.

Health and quarantine regulations, § 2735-2742. Under liquor prohibition act, §§ 3350-3353.

4276. Id. Premises to be enjoined. Temporary writ. Whenever a nuisance is kept, maintained, or exists, as defined in this title, the county attorney or any citizen of the county may maintain an action in equity in the name of the state of Utah, upon the relation of such county attorney or citizen, to perpetually enjoin said nuisance, the person or persons conducting or maintaining the same, and the owner or agent of the building or ground upon which said nuisance exists; provided, that when the owner or agent is not in the actual possession of the premises he shall have, before an action is brought against him or affecting his real estate, under this title, notice in writing of the existence and nature of the nuisance, and he shall have a reasonable time after the service of said notice in which to abate said nuisance. In such action the court, or a judge in vacation, shall, upon the presentation of a petition therefor alleging that the nuisance complained of exists, allow a temporary writ of injunction without bond, if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court or judge by evidence in the form of affidavits, depositions, oral testimony, or otherwise, as the complainant may elect, unless the court or judge, by previous order, shall have directed the form and manner in which it shall be presented. Three days' notice in writing shall be given the defendant of the hearing of the application, and if then continued at his instance, the writ as prayed shall be granted as a matter of course. When an injunction has been granted, it shall be binding on the defendant throughout the judicial district in which it was issued, and any violation of the provisions of injunction herein provided shall be a contempt as hereinafter provided.

Action to abate brought by whom, §§ 2737, 72 40.

4277. Trial. Evidence. Prosecution. The action when brought shall be triable at the first term of court, after due and timely notice has been given, and in such action evidence of the general reputation of the place shall be admissible for the purpose of proving the existence of said nuisance. If the complaint is filed by a citizen, it shall not be dismissed except upon a sworn statement made by the complainant and his attorney setting forth the reasons why the action should be dismissed, and the dismissal approved by the county attorney in writing, or in open court. If the court is of the opinion that the action ought not to be dismissed, he may direct the county attorney to prosecute said action to judgment, and if the action is continued more than one term of court, any citizen of the county or the county attorney may be substituted for the complaining party and prosecute said action to judgment. If the action is brought by a citizen and the court finds there was no reasonable ground or cause for said action, the costs may be taxed to such citizen.

4278. Violation of injunction. Penalty. In case of the violation of any injunction granted under the provisions of this title, the court, or in vacation a judge thereof, may summarily try and punish the offender. The proceedings shall be commenced by filing with the clerk of the court an information, under oath, setting out the alleged facts constituting such violation, upon which the court or judge shall cause a warrant to issue, under which the defendant shall be arrested. The trial may be had upon affidavits, or either party may demand the production and oral examination of the witnesses. A party found guilty of contempt under the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $1000, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than three nor more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

4279. Judgment. Sale of property. If the existence of the nuisance be established in an action as provided in this title, an order of abatement shall be entered as a part of the judgment in the case, which order shall direct the removal from the building or place of all fixtures, furniture, musical instruments, or movable property used in conducting the nuisance, and shall direct the sale thereof in the manner provided for the sale of chattels under execution, and the effectual closing of the building or place against its use for any purpose, and so keeping it closed for a period of one year, unless sooner released. If any person shall break and enter or use a building, erection, or place so directed to be closed, he shall be punished as for contempt as provided in the preceding section. For removing and selling the movable property, the officer shall be entitled to charge and receive the same fees as he would for levying upon and selling like property on execution, and for closing the premises and keeping them closed, a reasonable sum shall be allowed by the court.

4280. Proceeds of sale to be applied to costs. The proceeds of the sale of the personal property, as provided in the preceding section, shall be applied in payment of the costs of the action and abatement, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the defendant.

4281. Conditional release of premises to owner. If the owner appears and pays all costs of the proceeding and files a bond with sureties to be approved by the clerk in the full value of the property, to be ascertained by the court, or in vacation by the clerk, auditor, and treasurer of the county, conditioned that he will immediately abate said nuisance and prevent the same from being established or kept therein within a period of one year thereafter, the court, or in vacation the judge, may, if satisfied of his good faith, order the premises closed under the order of abatement to be delivered to said owner, and said order of abatement canceled so far as the same may relate to said property; and if the proceeding be an action in equity and said bond be given and costs therein paid before judgment and order of abatement, the action shall be thereby abated as to said building only. The release of the property under the provisions of this section shall not release it from any judgment, lien, penalty, or liability to which it may be subject to law.

4282. Penalty. Fines and costs to be a lien upon property. Whenever a permanent injunction issues against any person or persons for maintaining a nuisance as herein provided for, or against any owner or agent of the building kept or used for the maintenance of such nuisance, all parties found guilty of maintaining such nuisance, or assisting to maintain such nuisance by furnishing or letting such building for the maintenance of such nuisance, or otherwise, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1000, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment. Said money fines and costs of action shall be a perpetual lien upon all property, both personal and real, used for the purpose of maintaining said nuisance, and the payment of said fines shall not relieve the person or persons from any other penalties provided by law. The collection of said fines or lien shall be effected in the same manner as provided for the collection of taxes on real estate.

Sale of real estate for taxes, § 6018.

4283. All acts and parts of acts, in so far as they are in conflict with this title are hereby repealed.

TITLE 75.

NURSES.

REGISTRATION OF TRAINED NURSES.

('17, p. 182.)

4285. Board of examination and registration. Within sixty days after this title takes effect, the governor shall appoint a state board of examination and registration of hospital trained and graduate nurses, consisting of five members.

4286. Qualification of members. Each person so named shall be a trained nurse, at least twenty-three years of age, and a graduate of a training school connected with a hospital of recognized standing. Their successors in office shall be nurses duly registered under the provision of this title.

4287. Terms of office. Three members of said board shall be appointed by the governor to hold office for two years, and two of said members to hold office for the term of four years. At the expiration of the term of each person so appointed, his successor shall be appointed for a term of four years. An office made vacant by resignation, death, or otherwise shall be filled in the same manner as herein provided for the first appointment.

4288. Working organization. Rules and regulations. Seal. Within thirty days after appointment, said board shall assemble and proceed to effect a working organization. There shall be elected from among its members a president, a vice-president, and a secretary, who shall also act as treasurer. These officers shall serve for two years; and biennially thereafter their successors shall be elected to serve for a like period. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum. The board shall be authorized to make such rules and regulations to govern its proceedings and to carry into effect the provisions of this title as shall be found necessary or convenient. The board shall adopt a seal.

4289. Officers. Duties. Records. Reports. The president shall be chairman of the board and its principal executive officer, with the powers and duties usually incident to such position. The vice-president shall act in the absence of the president. The secretary shall have full charge of all moneys and books of accounts, and all other transactions of the board, and shall be required to keep a record of all meetings of said board, and a register of names of all nurses applying for registration, and those duly registered under the provisions of this title. The nurses' register, books of accounts, and the proceedings of said board shall be kept in the office of the state board of health, and shall be open at all reasonable times for public inspection. The board shall be charged with the duties of enforcing the provisions of this title, and of causing the prosecution of any person violating any of its provisions. An annual report shall be made to the governor, and shall be filed in his office before January 1 of each year.

4290. Meetings. The board shall provide for a regular annual meeting for the transaction of such business as may come before it. Special meetings may be called by the president, or by the secretary on request in writing of any three members of the board. The meetings of said board for the purpose of holding examinations shall be as hereinafter provided.

4291. Compensation. Expenses. Limitations. The board members, with the exception of the secretary, shall receive not to exceed $4 per day for each day or fraction thereof actually engaged in attendance upon meetings of the board, and also for those days spent in going to and from the place of meeting. Said members, with the exception of the secretary, shall also be allowed all necessary traveling expenses incurred in attendance upon said meetings. The salary of the secretary shall be fixed by the board, and shall not exceed $500 per annum. All necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this title, including stationery, books of account, office furniture and supplies, costs of prosecution, and other like expenses, shall be borne by the board, and the secretary shall draw vouchers in payment of the same, duly countersigned by the president as hereinafter specified; provided, however, that in no event shall the expenditures of said board exceed the revenues.

4292. Fees. Special fund. Disbursements. Upon filing application for examination, each applicant shall pay an examination fee of $10, which shall in no case be returned to the applicant. Nurses applying for registration without examination shall be required to pay a like fee. All fees received by said board shall be paid to the secretary of said board, who shall at the end of each and every month deposit the same with the state treasurer, and the state treasurer shall place the money so received in a special fund, to be known as the fund of the state board of examination and registration of hospital trained and graduate nurses, and shall pay the same out on vouchers issued and signed by the secretary and the president of the board upon warrants drawn by the auditor of the state. All money so received and placed in said fund may be used by said board in paying the salaries and other expenses authorized by this title.

4293. Practicing without certificate prohibited. One hundred and twenty days after said board shall organize and elect its officers as hereinbefore provided, it shall be unlawful for any nurse to practice nursing as a hospital graduate or registered nurse without a certificate from the board hereby created; provided, however, that this title shall not be construed to affect or apply to any person nursing the sick as a practical nurse who does not assume to be, or to practice as, a hospital trained graduate or registered nurse.

4294. Time for registration. Qualification of applicants. An applicant for registration who has been a resident of the state of Utah for six months before the 1st of March, 1918, shall be registered without examination, provided application for registration be made by said applicant prior to the 1st of March, 1918, and said applicant has been graduated before said date from a reputable training school for nurses connected with a general hospital; provided however, that any student now in training in any hospital training school in the state of Utah, who has previously made application for registration, may have until January 1, 1919, to register. An examination, as hereinafter provided, shall be required of all other applicants. No person shall be eligible for such examination who shall not furnish satisfactory evidence of having been graduated from an accredited training school for nurses, and who has not reached the age of twenty-one years.

4295. Training school. An accredited training school for nurses within the meaning of this title is hereby defined to be a school for the training of nurses attached to, or operated in connection with, a hospital or hospitals, with a minimum capacity of forty beds, giving a general training and a systematic theoretical and practical course of instruction covering a period of at least three years. All applicants for examination must furnish satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having complied with the provisions of this title relative to qualifying.

4296. Examinations. It shall be the duty of said board to meet on January 2 and July 1 of each year for the purpose of holding examinations in both theory and practice under the provisions of this title. Said examinations shall cover bacteriology, elementary hygiene, anatomy, physiology, materia medica, dietetics, practical nursing, medical and surgical nursing, obstetrics, nursing of children, and the rules and regulations of the state board of health relating to infectious diseases and quarantine, and other subjects required from time to time. A nurse who has received his certificate according to the provisions of this title shall be styled and known as a registered nurse, and shall be entitled to place the initials R. N. after his name.

4297. Registration of nurses from other states. The board, upon written application, and upon the receipt of $10 registration fee, shall issue a certificate of registration to any applicant who has been duly registered as a nurse under the laws of another state or foreign country having requirements similar to those provided in this title.

4298. Revocation of certificates. Procedure. The board shall have power to revoke any certificate issued in accordance with this title, by unanimous vote of said board, for gross incompetency, dishonesty, habitual intemperance, or any other act or conduct derogatory to morals, or calculated to lower the standard of the profession of nursing; but before any certificate can be revoked the holder shall be entitled to at least thirty days' written notice of the charge against him, and of the time and place of hearing, at which time and place he shall be entitled to present any evidence bearing upon the question which he may have. Such charge shall be set forth fully in a duly verified complaint. Upon revocation of any certificate it shall be the duty of the secretary to strike the name of the holder thereof from the roll of registered nurses, and notice of such revocation shall be sent to the state board of examination and registration of nurses in other states; provided, that any nurse whose certificate shall be revoked for any cause may appeal to the district court of the county wherein such revocation shall be made in all respects as is provided by law in civil cases. Should such person prevail in such appeal, all costs of such action shall be assessed against said board.

4299. Inspectors. Qualifications. Fees. The board shall have the power to appoint an inspector of hospitals and training schools for nurses, whose duties shall be outlined by the board. Such appointee may or may not be a member of the board, but in either event must be a hospital trained or graduate and registered nurse. The inspector shall receive not to exceed $5 a day when actually engaged in the service of the board, and also all necessary expenses incurred while in the discharge of his official duties.

4300. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title, or making any false representations to the said board, in applying for a certificate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment of not more than thirty days in jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

TITLE 76.

OFFICIAL BONDS.

4305. (1682.) Run to whom. When the law directs that a public officer shall give a bond without prescribing to whom it shall run, it shall be made, if he is a state officer, to the state; if a county, precinct, or district officer, to the county; if a municipal officer, to the city or town; and if a school officer, to the school district or to the board of education, as the case may be.

Bonds of state officers, see the title of the office.
Bonds of county and precinct officers, § 1466.
Bonds of city officers, § 603.
Bonds of town officers, § 786x19.
Bonds of school officers, §§ 1782, 1804, 1902.

Under §§ 344 and 347 of the Compiled Laws of 1876, it is the duty of the assessor and collector to give two official bonds, one to the territory and one to the county.
Salt Lake Co. v. Golding, 2 U. 319.

4306. (1682x.) Approval and custody of bonds of state officers. Whenever state officers, officials of state institutions, or other persons are required to give official bonds to the state, such bonds shall be approved by the state board of examiners, and recorded by the secretary of state in a book to be kept for that purpose, and when so recorded the secretary of state shall deliver the originals to the state treasurer, excepting the bond of the state treasurer, and the said treasurer shall become the legal custodian of said bonds. The bond of said treasurer shall remain in the custody of the secretary of state, who shall become the legal custodian of said bond.

4307. (1683.) Who secured. The official bond of a public officer, to the state, or to any county, city, town, or other municipal or public corporation, shall be deemed a security to the state, or to such county, city, town, or other municipal or public corporation, as the case may be, and also to all persons severally, for the official delinquencies against which it is intended to provide.

Wash. (1896) § 5088.

4308. (1684.) Who may maintain action on bond. When a public officer, by official misconduct or neglect of duty, shall forfeit his official bond or render his sureties therein liable upon such bond, any person injured by such misconduct or neglect, or who is by law entitled to the benefit of the security, may maintain an action at law thereon in his own name against the officer and his sureties to recover the amount to which he may by reason thereof be entitled.

Wash. (1896) § 5089.
Sureties not liable for wrongful acts not in line of duty. Sureties on an official bond in an action ex contractu are not liable for the wrongful acts of the principal not done in the line of his official duty
Clinton v. Nelson, 2 U. 284.

4309. (1685.) Repeated delinquencies. A judgment in favor of a party for one delinquency does not preclude the same or another party from an action on the same security for another delinquency, except that sureties can be made liable in the aggregate only to the extent of their undertaking.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 4605.

4310. (1686.) Bonds cover duties under subsequent law. Defects. The bonds of all civil officers shall be construed to cover duties required by laws passed subsequent to giving them, and no bond shall be void for failure to comply with the law as to matters of form or substance, but it shall be valid as to all matters contained therein, if it complies substantially with the law.

N. Dak., § 356.

TITLE 77.

OPTOMETRY.

('15, p. 133.)

4315. (1686x.) Unlawful to practice without certificate. It shall be unlawful for any person in the state of Utah to practice or attempt to practice optometry, as hereinafter defined, or to advertise, or hold himself out as qualified to fit or adjust any lenses or lens in any manner or form as an aid or assistance to human eyesight, without first obtaining a certificate to practice optometry, as hereinafter provided.

4316. (1686x1.) Practice of optometry defined. The practice of optometry is the use of any means, artificial or otherwise, except the administration or application of drugs, for ascertaining the refractive and optical condition of the human eye for the purpose of adjusting and fitting lenses thereto, or the fitting or adjusting of lenses thereto.

4317. (1686x2.) Board created. Appointment. Term. Qualifications. There is hereby created a board, consisting of three persons, which shall be styled the Utah state board of examiners in optometry, whose duty it shall be to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this title. Said board shall be appointed by the governor for a term of two years, by and with the consent of the senate. Each member of the board shall be a resident of the state of Utah, and shall have been engaged in the actual practice of optometry in the state for at least five years prior to his appointment. All appointments to fill vacancies caused by death, resignation, or removal shall be made by the governor. The members of said board, before entering upon their duties, shall respectively take and subscribe to the oath required to be taken by state officers, which shall be administered by the secretary of state and filed in his office.

4318. (1686x3.) Id. Organization. Powers. Meetings. Records. Said board shall choose at its first meeting, and annually thereafter, one of its members as president, and one as secretary and treasurer thereof. Each member of the board shall have the power, during his term of office, to administer oaths and take affidavits, certifying thereto under his hand and the seal provided and kept by the board. Said board shall meet at least once in each year at the state capitol, for the purpose of holding an examination, and in addition thereto, whenever and wherever the president or secretary, by order of the president, shall call a meeting. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum. The secretary shall keep a complete record of the proceedings of the board, which record shall be open to public inspection at all reasonable times.

4319. (1686x4.) Qualifications to practice. Examination. Fee. License certificate. Certificates authorizing the practice of optometry shall be issued, after the passage of this title, only to persons who have reached the age of twenty-one years, are of good moral character, have a preliminary education equivalent to two or more years in a public high school, and also have studied at least three years in the office of a registered optometrist, or have been actually engaged in refraction for three years, or have actually attended and graduated from a recognized school of optometry, and upon a critical examination are found to possess the requisite scholarship in optometry. Upon the presentation of satisfactory evidence, verified by oath, of such qualification, such person may make application for examination for a certificate authorizing him to practice optometry. The application shall be in writing, directed to the secretary of said board of examiners, requesting to be examined in optometry. The application must be filed with the secretary not less than fifteen days before the time of examination, and be accompanied by the sum of $20 for the use and benefit of said board. If the applicant shall successfully pass such examination, he shall have issued to him a certificate signed by the president and secretary of said board, authorizing him to practice optometry in the state of Utah, upon a further payment of $5 to said secretary, for the use of said board, and he shall receive therewith a certified copy of said certificate. Additional certified copies of said certificate, while it may remain in force, shall be furnished by the board for a fee of 50 cents for each additional copy. All persons successfully passing such examination shall be registered in the board register, which shall be kept by said secretary, as licensed to practice optometry; provided, that nothing in this title shall be so construed as to permit or authorize any person or persons, other than the individual holding a certificate, to practice thereunder or by its authority, or under the guise of practicing under the direction of the legal holder thereof.

4320. (1686x6.) Copy of certificate to be filed with county recorder. Forfeiture for failure. Recipients of certificates issued under § 4319, and all other persons holding certificates entitling them to practice optometry at the time of the passage of this title, shall file a certified copy thereof for record with the county recorder of the county in which they desire to practice, and any person traveling from one county to another in this state shall, before engaging in the practice of optometry in such other county, file a certified copy of said certificate for record with the county recorder of said county to which he removes, and pay the recorder thereof for the recording of the same in a book to be kept for that purpose; provided, that any failure, neglect, or refusal on the part of any person holding a certificate to practice optometry to present the first certified copy thereof which is required to be recorded, for recording, with the county recorder, as hereinbefore provided, for one month after the issuance of his certificate, shall forfeit the certificate, and the board shall be entitled to a fee of $1 for issuing a certificate in lieu of the one forfeited.

4321. (1686x7.) Certificate to be displayed. Issuance of receipt to customer. Every person holding a certificate to practice optometry in the state of Utah shall display the said certificate in its entirety in a conspicuous place in his office wherein the practice of optometry is conducted. He shall also deliver to each customer or person fitted with glasses by him, in case the work is not done in his permanent office, a receipt which shall contain his signature, the number of his certificate, and his home postoffice address.

4322. (1686x10.) Board may revoke certificate. Proviso. The board shall have power to revoke any certificate to practice optometry granted by it under the provisions of this title whenever it shall appear that the holder thereof has been wilfully guilty of fraud or deceit, either in procuring the same or in his practice, or by advertising optical business or treatment, or giving advice in which untruthful or misleading statements are made, or when it is made to appear to the board that such person is incompetent, or is not of good moral character, or is afflicted with an infectious or contagious disease; provided, that before any certificate shall be revoked, the holder thereof shall have written notice of the charge or charges against him, and a day specified in said notice, which shall be at least ten days if served in the county where the hearing is to be held, after the service thereof, otherwise twenty days after service, that he be given a public hearing, and have an opportunity to produce testimony in his behalf, and confront the witnesses against him; provided, further, that upon the revocation of any certificate, the holder thereof may appeal said matter to the district court of the county in which the practitioner resides, in the manner as is now or may hereafter be provided for appeals from justice's courts, and such laws are hereby made applicable. The secretary of said board shall send the files and a copy of the minutes in the matter before the board to the clerk of the district court of the county in which the appeal is taken, and such minutes and files shall constitute the records on appeal. The witnesses at all hearings before the board shall testify under oath, and for that purpose may be sworn by any member of the board. The board shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents at any such hearings. Any person whose certificate has been revoked may have the same regranted upon satisfactory proof that the disqualification has ceased or his disability removed.

4323. (1686x9.) Annual renewal of license. Fee. Penalty for default. Every registered optometrist who desires to continue the practice of optometry in this state shall annually, on or before the 1st day of April, pay to the secretary of said board the sum of $2 for such year, for which he shall receive a receipt, which shall permit him to practice optometry in all those counties of this state in which a certified copy of his said certificate is on file or of record in accordance with law, unless his said certificate be revoked under the provisions of law. Should any person or persons default in the payment of any such annual fees, his certificate may be revoked by said board upon twenty days' notice of the time and place of considering such revocation. But no license shall be revoked for such non-payment if the person so notified shall pay, before or at the time set for such consideration, his fee and such penalty as may be imposed by said board; provided, that said board may impose a penalty of $5 and no more on any one person so notified as a condition of allowing his license to stand.

4324. (1686x8.) Board to receive compensation and mileage. Disposition of receipts. Each member of the board may receive as compensation, out of the funds coming into their possession the sum of $5 for each day actually engaged in the duties of his office, and mileage at the rate of 3 cents per mile for all distances necessarily traveled in going to and returning from meetings of the board. Said expenses shall be paid from the fees, fines, and assessments received by the board under the provisions of this title, upon claim approved by the state board of examiners and the state auditor, and upon the warrant of the state auditor, and the state shall not be liable for any of the fees, salaries, or expenses of said board in excess of the amount received from this source. All moneys received under the provisions of this title shall be paid into the state treasury on the last day of each month, and placed to the credit of the state optometry fund, and are hereby constituted a state optometry fund, which money shall be used for meeting expenses of said board and carrying out the provisions of this title, and the treasurer of said board shall give a surety bond to the state of Utah, the amount of which shall be fixed by the board, and shall be in a sum not less than twice the amount held by said treasurer at any time during the year next preceding the time of fixing such bond, the cost thereof to be paid out of the funds held by the board.

4325. Biennial report. On or before the 1st day of January preceding each biennial session of the legislature, this said board shall make a report of of its proceedings to the governor, which report shall contain an account of all moneys received and disbursed by it pursuant to this title.

4326. (1686x11.) Penalty. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

4327. (1686x12.) Construction. Provisions not applicable to certain persons. Nothing in this title shall be construed to apply to persons licensed to practice medicine or surgery in this state, nor to persons who sell spectacles, eyeglasses, or lenses, either on prescription from oculists or from duly qualified and licensed optometrists, or as merchandise from permanently located and established places of business, but who neither practice nor profess to practice optometry, or who neither advertise nor hold themselves out as qualified to fit or adjust any lenses or lens as an aid or assistance to human eyesight. '07, p. 87; '15, p. 133.

TITLE 78.

PARDONS, STATE BOARD.

4330. (1686x13.) Reduction of sentence for good behavior. The board of pardons is hereby authorized to extend to each convict sentenced for any period less than life who shall not have been guilty of a breach of the rules of discipline of the prison a reduction of the period of sentence, as hereinafter provided; and when the full term of imprisonment for which such convict shall have been sentenced shall be diminished by his good conduct under the provisions of this title so that his term of imprisonment has thereby expired, the warden shall immediately furnish the board of pardons a certificate stating the length of time his term of imprisonment has been so diminished, and, no objections appearing to the board, the convict shall be released.

R. S. '98, § 2246; '99, p. 56.

Governor, justices of supreme court, and attorney-general constitute board of pardons; powers and duties, Con. art. 7, sec. 12.

May grant privileges for good work on roads. § 5511.

May grant paroles, § 4335.

Connors v. Pratt, 38 U. 260; 112 P. 399.

4331. (1686x14.) Id. The hereinafter specified deductions shall be allowed to convicts for good conduct:

1. From a term of sentence of three months, fifteen days; from a term of six months, thirty days; from a term of one year, two calendar months; thus, a one-year convict shall be entitled to a discharge at the expiration of ten months.

2. If the term be for any time greater than one year, the service for the second year or portion thereof shall begin at the expiration of ten months, which shall stand for a service of one year. On the second year the convict shall be entitled to a deduction of three calendar months; thus, a service of one year and seven months shall be sufficient for a term of two years.

3. The service of a third year, or fraction thereof, shall begin at the expiration of one year and seven months; four calendar months shall be allowed on said third year; thus, a service of two years and three months shall be sufficient for a term of three years.

4. For a term of four years, the service of the fourth, or portion thereof, shall begin at the expiration of two years and three months, and on the fourth year five months shall be allowed; thus, a service of two years and ten months shall be sufficient for a term of four years.

5. In a term of five years, the service of the fifth year, or portion thereof, shall begin at the expiration of two years and ten months, and from the fifth year there shall be a deduction of six calendar months; thus, a service of three years and four months shall be sufficient for a term of five years.

For all time in excess of five years there shall be a deduction of one-half of such time. R. S. '98, § 2247; '99, p. 56.

Statute in force at time of convict's sentence determines reduction to which he is entitled. In re Clawson, 5 U. 358; 15 P. 328.

From a term less than three months, there is no deduction. Ex parte Nokes, 6 U. 106; 21 P. 458.

4332. (1686x15.) Id. In all terms of sentence terminating between those hereinbefore specified, the deduction shall be proportionate.

R. S. '98, § 2248; '99, p. 56.

4333. (1686x16.) Forfeiture of reduction. For a violation of the rules the convict shall be liable to forfeit all his deduction time for the month in which the infraction occurs. If the offense or offenses be aggravated or frequent, the warden or other officer in charge shall have power to punish the offender by depriving him of all or any portion of his deduction time earned previous to the commission of such offense or offenses; provided, that any convict who may feel himself aggrieved by the action of the warden or other officer in charge in such cases shall have the right to appeal, in writing, to the board of pardons, which writing shall include a statement of facts and the evidence and reasons of the appellant for considering himself unjustly dealt with. Should the board, upon investigation, deem the complaint of the convict well grounded, it shall credit back to such convict the earned deduction time of which he shall have been deprived. R. S. '98, § 2249; '99, p. 57.

4334. (1686x17.) Habitual criminal, permit to be at liberty, when. When it shall appear to the board that any person sentenced to the state prison as a habitual criminal has reformed, it may issue to him a permit to be at liberty during the remainder of his term of sentence, upon such conditions as it deems best; and it may revoke such permit at any time previous to its expiration. The violation by the holder of a permit, granted as aforesaid, of any of the terms or conditions thereof, or his violation of any of the laws of the state, shall of itself make void the permit. R. S. '98, § 2250; '99, p. 57.

4335. (1686x18.) Prisoners may be paroled. Proviso. The board of pardons is hereby authorized to permit any prisoner who is now or may hereafter be imprisoned in the Utah state prison, or any county jail in this state, to go on parole outside of the prison buildings and other enclosures, or the county jail, as the case may be; provided, that a prisoner who is imprisoned for murder in the first degree shall not be permitted to go on parole until he shall have served at least fifteen years' actual time in the state prison. The concurrence of at least four members of the board shall be necessary for the parole of a prisoner. Am'd '13, p. 121.

4336. (1686x19.) Reimprisonment. A prisoner, while on parole, as in this title provided, shall remain in the legal custody and under the control of the warden or the sheriff of the county from which the prisoner was paroled, as the case may be, and the board of pardons, and shall be subject at any time to be taken back within the institution from which he was paroled. Full power to retake and reimprison any convict so upon parole is hereby conferred upon the board, whose written order, certified by its secretary, shall be a sufficient warrant for all officers named therein to return to actual custody any conditionally released or paroled prisoner. It is hereby made the duty of every officer to execute such order the same as an ordinary criminal process. Am'd '13, p. 121.

4337. (1686x20.) Board of pardons to supervise. The board of pardons is hereby empowered to establish rules and regulations providing for the parole of prisoners as in this title provided. The board of corrections and the warden of the state prison, upon the request of the board of pardons, shall, in the case of an application of a prisoner confined in the state prison to go on parole, furnish the board of pardons with a statement of such prisoner's deportment during his imprisonment, and the board of pardons may make any further inquiries as it may deem desirable in regard to the previous history or environment of the prisoner, or as to his probable surroundings if paroled, and all information thus received shall be considered and treated as confidential. The board of corrections and the warden may recommend to the board of pardons the parole of any prisoner confined in the state prison, and subject to parole as in this title provided. '13 p. 121.

The provisions of R. S. '98, § 2251, giving board of corrections power to parole, held void, because in conflict with Con. art. 7, sec. 12, which creates board of pardons. State v. St. Board of Corrections, 16 U. 478; 52 P. 1090.

TITLE 79.

PARK COMMISSIONERS, STATE BOARD.

4341. (1686x21.) Board of park commissioners created. There is hereby created a state board of park commissioners, to consist of the governor and two members to be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum and be authorized to transact the business of the board. The governor shall be president, and the board shall elect one of its members secretary of the board. '05, p. 32.

4342. (1686x22.) Term. Compensation. Each of the members shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. He shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office, and shall receive as compensation the sum of $4 per day for each day actually devoted to the duties of his office. All claims for compensation shall, before being paid, be approved by the state board of examiners. '05, p. 32.

4343. (1686x23.) Powers. Said board shall have full and exclusive power to manage and control any and all lands that the state may acquire for state parks, and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to manage and control the same, and to employ such guards and patrolmen as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this title. '05, p. 32.

4344. (1686x24.) Penalty for damaging park. Any person, persons, or corporation cutting or injuring any timber on any of said lands, or removing it therefrom, or allowing horses, cattle, or sheep to run at large, or to herd or graze the same on any of said park lands, or who shall violate any rule or regulation governing said park without the written consent of the board of park commissioners, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this title shall be construed to hinder campers from using dead timber for camping purposes and from pasturing their work and saddle horses on said lands while actually camping thereon; provided further, that all timber taken from said parks and all privileges granted to any person, partnership, or corporation for grazing or other profitable pursuits shall be paid for in such sum or sums as the board may require; provided also, that all moneys so received from the granting of such privileges shall be paid into the state treasury. '05, p. 32.

4345. (1686x25.) Title takes effect, when. This title shall be in force and of effect provided only that congress shall grant to the state of Utah, to be used perpetually as a state park, that part of the Uintah Indian reservation known as Strawberry valley, and more particularly described as follows, to wit: Townships 2 and 3 south and ranges 10 and 11 west, and fractional townships 4 south and ranges 10 and 11 west of the Uintah special meridian. '05, p. 33.

4346. (1686x26.) Appropriation. The sum of $2,000, or as much as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated annually for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this title. '05, p. 32.

TITLE 80.

PARTNERSHIPS, LIMITED.

4350. (1687.) May be formed, when. Conditions. Limited partnerships for the transaction of any mining, mercantile, mechanical, or manufacturing business within this state may be formed by two or more persons upon the terms, with the rights and powers, and subject to the conditions and liabilities herein prescribed; but the provisions of this title shall not be construed to authorize any such partnership for the purpose of banking or effecting insurance.

Cal. Civ. C., § 2477*. Service of process on agent binds partnership, § 6520.
Decisions as to partnership in general not included in this volume.

4351. (1688.) General and special partners' liability. Such partnerships may consist of one or more persons, who shall be called general partners, and who shall be jointly and severally responsible as general partners now are by law, and of one or more persons who shall contribute in actual cash payments or in real or personal property or both, a specific sum as capital to the common stock, and who shall be called special partners, and who shall not be liable for the debts of the copartnership beyond the fund so contributed by him or them to the capital stock.

4352. (1689.) General partners to transact business. General partners only shall be authorized to transact business and sign for the copartnership and to bind the same.

Partners as parties to actions, § 6520, and note.

4353. (1690.) Partnershp certificate. Persons desiring to engage in the formation of such partnership shall make and severally sign a certificate, which shall contain:

1. The name of the firm under which such partnership is to be conducted;
2. The general nature of the business intended to be transacted;
3. The names of all the general and special partners interested therein, distinguishing which are general and which are special partners, and their respective places of residence;
4. The amount of capital in money, or in real or personal property or both, which each special partner shall have contributed to the common stock;
5. The period at which the partnership is to commence and the period at which it shall terminate.

4354. (1691.) Id. Acknowledgment. Such certificate shall be acknowledged by the several persons signing the same before a notary public or other officer authorized by law to take acknowledgment or proof of the execution of conveyances of land, and such acknowledgment or proof shall be made and certified in the same manner as the acknowledgment or proof of conveyances of land may be made or certified.

4355. (1692.) Id. Recording. The certificate so acknowledged and certified shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the principal place of business of the partnership shall be situated, and it shall be recorded by such county recorder. In case any such partnership shall have a place of business in more than one county in the state, then a copy of such certificate, certified by the county recorder of the county where the original was filed, shall in like manner be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder in each county in which such partnership shall have a place of business.

4356. (1693.) Affidavit to be filed with certificate. At the time of filing the original certificate with the evidence of the acknowledgment thereof, an affidavit of one or more of the general partners shall also be filed in the same office, stating that the sums specified in the certificate, or value thereof in real or personal property or both, have been contributed by each of the special partners to the common stock, and actually and in good faith paid into the general fund.

4357. (1694.) When partnership deemed formed. False statement. No such partnership shall be deemed to have been formed until the certificate shall have been made, acknowledged, authenticated, filed, and recorded, and the affidavit shall have been filed. If any false statement be made in such certificate or affidavit, every person interested in such partnership shall be liable as a general partner for its engagements.

4359. (1696.) Affidavits of publication. An affidavit of the publication of such notice by the printer, publisher, or foreman of the newspaper in which the same shall have been published shall be filed with the county recorder directing the same, and it shall be evidence of the facts therein contained.

4360. (1697.) Renewals. Every renewal or continuance of such partnership beyond the time originally fixed for its duration shall be certified, acknowledged, authenticated, filed and recorded, and an affidavit of a general partner be made and filed, and notice be given in the manner herein required for its original formation. Every such partnership which shall be otherwise renewed or continued shall be deemed a general partnership.

4361. (1698.) Alteration in name of partnership, etc. Every alteration which shall be made in the names of the partners, in the nature of the business, or in the capital or shares thereof, or in any other matter specified in the original certificate, shall be deemed a dissolution of the partnership, and every such partnership which shall in any manner be carried on after any such alteration shall have been made shall be deemed a general partnership, unless renewed as a special partnership according to the provisions of this title.

4362. (1699.) Names of special partners not to be used. The business of the partnership shall be conducted under a name in which the names of the general partners only shall be inserted, and if the name of any special partner shall be so used in such firm, he shall be deemed and held liable as a general partner.

4363. (1700.) Actions. Actions in relation to the business of the partnership may be brought and conducted by and against the general partners in the same manner as if there were no special partner.

4364. (1701.) Special partners not to withdraw capital. Dividends. No part of the sum which any special partner shall have contributed to the capital stock shall be withdrawn by him from the firm, or paid or transferred to him in the shape of dividends, profits, or otherwise, at any time during the continuance of such partnership; but any partner may annually receive such rate of interest on the sum so contributed by him as may be agreed upon in the articles of copartnership, not exceeding twelve per cent per annum; provided, that the payment of such interest shall not reduce the original amount of such capital. After the payment of such interest, if any profits shall remain to be divided, a special partner may also receive his portion of such profits.

4365. (1702.) Special partner to restore capital, when. If it shall appear by the payment of interest or profits to any special partner that the original capital has been reduced, the partner receiving the same shall be bound to restore the amount necessary to make good his share of the capital with interest.

4366. (1703.) Special partner not to transact business. A special partner may, from time to time, examine into the condition and progress of the partnership concerns, and may advise as to their management, but shall not engage in nor transact any ordinary business of the partnership. If he shall interfere contrary to this provision, he shall be deemed in law a general partner, and accountable as such.

Cal. Civ. C., § 2490*.

4367. (1704.) General partners to account. The general partners shall be liable to account to each other and to the special partners for their management of the business, as other partners are now liable by law.

Cal. Civ. C., § 2501*.

4368. (1705.) Special partner becomes general by unlawful act. Every special partner who shall violate any provision of § 4366, or who shall concur or assist in any such violation by the partnership, or by any individual partner, shall be liable as a general partner.

4369. (1706.) Special partner not a creditor. In case of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the partnership, no special partner shall, under any circumstances, be allowed to claim as a creditor, until the claims of all the creditors of the partnership shall be satisfied.

4370. (1707.) Dissolution. No dissolution, unless by the consent of creditors of such partnership, by the acts of the parties, shall take place previous to the time specified in the certificate of its formation or in the certificate of its renewal, until a notice of such dissolution shall have been filed and recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the original certificate was recorded, and published once in each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper printed in each of the counties, if there be one, where the partnership may have places of business.

TITLE 81.

PAWNBROKERS, SECOND-HAND DEALERS, AND SMALL LOANS.

CHAPTER 1.

PAWNBROKERS AND SECOND-HAND DEALERS.

4375. (1708.) Must keep record. Pawnbrokers and dealers in second-hand goods shall keep records containing a description of all articles received by them, the amounts paid therefor or advanced thereon, a general description of the person from whom received, together with his name and address and the date of the transaction. These records shall at all reasonable times be accessible to any peace officer who demands an inspection thereof, and any further information regarding such transaction that he may require shall be given by the pawnbrokers and second-hand dealers to the best of their ability. In cities of the first and the second class, at the close of each day's business, pawnbrokers shall mail a copy of the records to the sheriff of the county in which they are located. '09, p. 8.

Cities may license, tax, and regulate, § 570x 38.

4376. (1709.) Right to redeem. In all cases in which the article pledged has been forfeited, no sale or other disposition thereof by the pledgee shall be made within the period of three months after the forfeiture of the pledge unless the period of loan is less than three months, in which case the period of redemption shall be six months, during which time the pledgor shall have the first right to redeem such articles at no greater advance than 5 per cent per month on all sums up to and including $50 and 3 per cent per month upon all sums in excess of $50; provided, however, that the said pledgee shall in any event be entitled to a minimum charge of $1. A violation of any of the provisions of this chapter shall be a misdemeanor. Am'd '17, p. 122.

CHAPTER 2.

REGULATING THE MAKING OF SMALL LOANS.

('17, p. 116.)

4380. Licenses required. What constitutes a small loan. Except as hereafter provided, every person, firm, corporation, or association engaged or seeking to engage in this state in the business of loaning money in sums of $300 or less shall procure a license to conduct such business from the bank commissioner. When an application for a loan or for an indorsement or guarantee or for the purchase of a note is made by any person within this state, and the money is advanced or the indorsement or guarantee is made or furnished, or the note purchased by any person situated without this state, the transaction shall be deemed a loan made within this state, and such loan and the parties making it shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter. The buying or indorsing of notes or the furnishing of guarantee or security of amounts of $300 or less for compensations shall be considered to be engaging in the business of making small loans, within the provisions of this chapter. Any person, firm, corporation, or association directly or indirectly engaged or seeking to engage in the business of negotiating or arranging loans or aiding the borrower or lender in procuring or making loans of $300 or less, whether such loans are actually made by such persons or by other parties, shall be deemed to be engaged in the business of making small loans, and shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

4381. Powers and duties of bank commissioner. Any person, firm, corporation, or association applying for the same under oath and in the form prescribed by the bank commissioner and paying the sum of $50 may, at the discretion of the bank commissioner, obtain a license for carrying on said business. The said license shall be issued by the bank commissioner and shall expire the 1st day of March next following the date of its issuance, but no abatement of said charges shall be made if licenses are issued for less than one year. Every such license shall be renewed annually on the 1st day of March in each year. No license shall be granted to any corporation unless and until such corporation shall, in writing and in due form, to be first approved by and filed by the bank commissioner, appoint an agent, resident of state of Utah, upon whom all judicial and other process or legal notice directed to such corporation may be served, and in the case of the death, removal from the state, or any legal disability or disqualification of any such agent, service of such process or notice may be made upon the bank commissioner. The said commissioner shall have the power to reject any application for license if he is satisfied that the character and general fitness of the applicant or applicants is not such as to command the confidence of the community and to warrant the conclusion that the business will be honestly transacted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this chapter. The said commissioner may revoke any license if the licensee shall violate any of the provisions of this chapter or fail to comply with any rule or regulation made by said commissioner under authority of § 4389. Whenever for any cause such license is revoked, said commissioner shall not issue another to said licensee until the expiration of at least one year from the date of revocation of such license and not at all if such licensee shall have been convicted of a violation of this chapter under the provisions of § 4387. In addition to said license fee, said licensee shall pay for the examination by said bank commissioner, as hereinafter provided. Every applicant shall execute and file a bond to the state of Utah in the penal sum of $2000, with the commissioner of banking, to be approved by him, for the faithful observance of all laws relating to such business. Said bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized by the laws of Utah to transact business within this state, and said bond shall be renewed and refiled annually not later than the 1st day of March in each year.

4382. Examination. Bonding. Suspension of licenses. Agents. The license shall state fully the name or names of the person or corporation, and of every member of the firm or association other than a corporation, authorized to do business hereunder, and the location of the office or place of business in which the business is to be conducted; and in the case of a corporation shall also state the date and place of its incorporation, the names of its directors for the period for which the license is issued, and the name and address of the agent as provided in § 4381. Such license shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place in the office where the business is transacted. No person, firm, corporation, or association so licensed shall transact or solicit business under any other name or at any other office or place of business than that named in the license. Not more than one office or place of business shall be maintained under the same license, and no loans or advancements shall be made at any other place than that designated in the license. But in case of a removal, the bank commissioner may, on application, indorse thereon a transfer to the new place of business, with the date of transfer, and from the time of such indorsement the new place so designated shall be deemed the place designated in the license.

4383. Investigation. Costs. The bank commissioner shall, either personally or by the bank examiners appointed under § 973, at least once a year, and oftener if it deems it advisable, investigate the business and affairs of every such licensee, and for that purpose shall have free access to the vaults, books, and papers thereof, and other sources of information with regard to the business of such licensee, and shall ascertain the condition of the business and whether it has been transacted in accordance with law and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the bank commissioner pursuant to § 4389. Said commissioner shall have such powers in respect to the persons, firms, corporations, or associations amenable to this chapter as are given to him over the persons, firms, corporations, or associations named in chapter 6, Title 19 (§§ 971 to 1016). The cost of every such examination shall be paid by the licensee so examined and said commissioner may maintain an action for the recovery of such costs in any court of competent jurisdiction. The cost of such examination shall be $10 per day for every day required to make examination. The money shall be turned in to the state treasury to the credit of the general fund. All licensees shall annually, on or before the 20th day of December, submit a report to the bank commissioner in the form of a trial balance of their books at the close of business on the 30th day of November last preceding, and shall specify the different kinds of liabilities and the different kinds of assets, together with such other information as may be called for by said commissioner in accordance with a blank form to be furnished by him.

4384. Interest rates. Statements. Records. Every person, firm, corporation, or association acting under and abiding by the provisions of this chapter shall be allowed to charge on loans or advancements of $300 or less 3 per cent per month or for a fraction of a month on such loans or advancements made by such persons, firms, corporations, or associations, or made in behalf of any person, firm, corporation, or association; provided, however, that said 3 per cent shall include, in the aggregate, all fees, charges, bonus, interest, expense, demands, or exactions of any nature whatsoever, except as hereinafter specified, and nothing contained in §§ 3321-3322 shall be construed so as to prevent the grant or permission hereby given to said licensees. No such licensee shall charge or receive of the borrower or borrowers, or any other person, on his, her, or their behalf, a greater rate of interest than 3 per cent per month. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed so as to allow or permit the splitting up of transactions for the loan of money into small amounts for the purpose of coming within or securing the benefits of or evading the provisions of this chapter. Such interest shall not be payable in advance and shall be computed on unpaid balances only. No charges, bonus, fees, expense, demands, or exactions of any nature whatsoever, other than interest as above provided, shall be made upon such loans or advancements except upon the actual foreclosure of the security or upon the entry of judgment. Every such licensee shall furnish the borrower at the time the loan is made a statement in the English language showing in clear and distinct terms the amount of the loan, and the date when loaned and when due, the person to whom the loan is made, the name of the lender, and the amount and rate of interest charged, and a copy of any contract entered into between borrower and lender or seller who sells on condition of buying back at a stipulated price. On the back of such statement there shall be printed in English a copy of § 4384. The lender shall give to the borrower a plain and complete receipt for all payments made on account of the loan at the time such payments are made. It shall be the duty of every such licensee doing business in any city of the first or the second class in this state to maintain in his place of business a book or other permanent record in which shall be legibly written in the English language, at the time of each loan, purchase, or sale, a record thereof containing:

1. The date of the transaction;
2. The name of the person or employe conducting the same;
3. The name, age, street and house number, and a general description of the dress, complexion, color of hair, and facial appearance of the person with whom the transaction is had;
4. The name and street and house number of the owner of the property bought or received in pledge;
5 The street and house number of the place from which the property bought or received in pledge was last removed;
6. A description of the property bought or received in pledge, which in the case of watches shall contain the name of the maker and the number of both the works and the case, and in the case of jewelry shall contain a description of all letters and marks inscribed thereon; provided, that when the article bought or received is furniture, or contents of any house or room actually inspected on the premises, a general record of the transaction shall be sufficient;
7. The price paid or the amount of the loan;
8. The names and the street and house numbers of all persons accompanying the borrower and witnessing the transaction;
9. The number of any pawn ticket issued thereon.

4385. Assignments require wife's consent. No assignment of or order for wages earned or to be earned in the future to secure a loan or advancement of $300 or less shall be valid, when made by a married man, unless the written consent of his wife to the making thereof is attached thereto; provided, however, that where a married man is living separate and apart from his wife for a period of five months prior to the making of said assignment or order, then said consent shall not be required.

4386. Pledges and conditional sales. Except as hereinafter provided, every person, firm, corporation, or association engaged or seeking to engage in whole or in part in the business of loaning money on the security of pledges, deposits, conditional sales of personal property shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter. Every person, firm, corporation, or association engaged or seeking to engage in whole or in part in the business of buying personal property on condition that the seller have the privilege of repurchasing same in the future at a greater sum than the purchase price advanced by the buyer shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, and the advancement of money upon a sale made under such conditions shall be construed as a loan or advancement within the the meaning of the words "loan or advancement" as used in this chapter. In computing the price at which such article may be repurchased by the seller, all fees, bonuses, charges, interest, expense of sale or purchase required or exacted by the buyer shall be included.

4387. Penalty. The violation of any provision of this chapter shall be a misdemeanor, and if such violation be by a corporation, then such violation shall be a misdemeanor on the part of any person participating therein as a representative or agent of said corporation. Every loan in connection with which such violation shall have occurred shall be absolutely null and void, and the borrower shall be entitled to recover from the lender any or all sums paid or returned on account of or in connection with such loan. Every licensee under this chapter, or his clerk or employe, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, who shall:

1. Fail to make an entry of any material matter in his book of record kept as provided for in § 4384;
2. Make any false entry therein; or,
3. Falsify, obliterate, destroy, or remove from his place of business such book or record; or,
4. Refuse to allow those entitled to examine his records or books to inspect the same or furnish such reports as are by this chapter or law required; or,

5. Receive any property from any person under age of twenty-one years, any drunkard, any habitual user of narcotic drugs, any habitual criminal, any person in an intoxicated condition, any known thief or receiver of stolen property, or any known associate of such thief or receiver of stolen property, whether such person be acting in his own behalf or as the agent of another.

4388. Where provisions do not apply. This chapter shall not be held to apply to banks, duly licensed and bonded pawnbrokers, bankers, trust companies, savings banks, building and loan associations, or insurance companies, or to any transaction with banks, bankers, trust companies, savings banks, duly licensed and bonded pawnbrokers, building and loan associations, or insurance companies, nor to any loan made upon real estate security unless said banks, duly licensed and bonded pawnbrokers, bankers, trust companies, savings banks, building and loan associations, or insurance companies shall loan upon the security of salaries either actually earned or to be earned. In case such banks, pawnbrokers, bankers, trust companies, savings banks, building and loan associations, or insurance companies shall procure a license under this chapter, no greater rate of interest shall be charged on loans or advancements of any amount than is allowed by law other than this chapter, except on loans or advancements made on the security of salaries earned or to be earned.

4389. Bank commissioner to make rules and regulations for conduct of business. The enforcement of this chapter shall be entrusted to the bank commissioner, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to make rules and regulations necessary in his judgment for the conduct of such business and the enforcement of this chapter in addition thereto and not inconsistent herewith; provided, that nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to prevent any person from lending money under the provisions of § 3321.

TITLE 82.

PEDDLERS.

4392. (1710x.) Must obtain license. No person, firm, or corporation, as principal or agent, shall peddle out, hawk, or, after shipment to this state, canvass, by going from house to house or from place to place, and sell or offer for sale, by sample, to users or consumers, clocks, agricultural implements, tools or machinery, stoves or ranges, wagons, buggies, carriages, surreys, or other similar vehicles, washing machines, churns, pictures, enlarged pictures, or picture frames, lightning rods, spectacles, jewelry, sewing machines, books or musical instruments, within this state, without previously obtaining a license therefor, as herein provided. '07, p. 124.

Licensing of peddlers by cities, § 570x38; by towns, § 786x6; counties, § 1400x11.

This section and the succeeding section are constitutional except the provision in this section and the succeeding section which refers to goods after being shipped into the state; this provision is in conflict with the federal constitution.

State v. Bayer, 34 U. 257; 97 P. 129.

4393. (1710x1.) Id. No person, firm, or corporation, as principal or agent, shall engage in or conduct, as an itinerant vendor, peddler, hawker, or traveling merchant, the business of peddling, selling, or bartering, or after shipment to this state, canvassing or selling by sample, clocks, agricultural implements, tools or machinery, stoves or ranges, wagons, buggies, carriages, surreys, or other similar vehicles, washing machines, or churns, pictures, enlarged pictures, or picture frames, sewing machines, books, lightning rods, spectacles, jewelry, or musical instruments, within this state, without previously obtaining a license therefor, as herein provided. '07, p. 124.

4394. (1710x2.) Annual license. To whom paid. An annual license tax of $500 is hereby levied upon each and every of all such itinerant vendors, peddlers, hawkers, or traveling merchants doing business in this state, to canvass or sell by sample to users or consumers, the articles or merchandise hereinbefore mentioned by going from house to house or place to place. Said tax shall be paid to the secretary of state, who shall, upon the payment thereof, issue a license to the person paying the same, permitting such person to carry on said business or occupation, or peddle said articles or merchandise within the state for the period of one year from the date of such payment. '07, p. 125.

4395. (1710x3.) Id. Duties of secretary of state. All licenses issued under this title shall be numbered consecutively, and shall contain the dates of their issuance, and the full names of licensees. The secretary of state shall prepare and have printed blank licenses, bound in book form, with a stub for each license. He shall retain and keep a stub for each license issued, which shall contain the full name and address of the person to whom the license was issued, the date when issued, and the number of the license. '07, p. 125.

4396. (1710x4.) Secretary of state to keep index. Money to be deposited monthly in state treasury. The secretary of state shall also prepare and keep in his office a complete alphabetical index of all persons to whom licenses are issued under this title, which index shall contain the names of the persons, alphabetically arranged, the date of issuance of the license and its number. He shall keep a correct account of all license taxes collected by him under this title, and pay the same into the state treasury at the end of each month, and the same shall be credited to the general fund. '07, p. 125.

4397. (1710x5.) Fee for issuing license. Disposition. The secretary of state shall collect from each person to whom a license is issued under this title the sum of $2, as a fee, which he shall cover into the state treasury as are other fees collected by him. '07, p. 125.

4398. (1710x6.) Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '07, p. 125.

4399. (1710x7.) Fines received to be paid to secretary of state. All fines recovered under this title shall be paid by the magistrate receiving the same to the secretary of state, who shall account for the same in the manner as taxes received and collected by him under this title. '07, p. 125.

4400. (1710x8.) Actions to be brought in the name of the state. All actions brought under this title to recover of any person the tax herein imposed shall be brought in the name of the state of Utah. In such action a writ of attachment may be issued against the property of the defendant, without any bond being given on behalf of the plaintiff. '07, p. 125.

4401. (1710x9.) Id. In all actions or prosecutions under this title it need not be alleged in the complaint nor proved by the prosecution that the defendant has not a license as required in this title, but the fact that he has such license may be pleaded as a matter of defense. '07, p. 126.

4402. (1710x10.) To whom not applicable. This title shall not be construed to apply to any person or his agents selling any of said articles of said merchandise at his regularly established, maintained, and fixed place of business within this state. '07, p. 126.

4403. (1710x11.) Not to prevent the imposition and collection of other license or tax. This title shall not be construed to prevent the imposition and collection of any license or other tax, by any county, city, town, or other public or municipal corporation within this state, upon the persons coming within the purview of this title. '07, p. 126.

TITLE 83.

PHARMACY, POISONS AND NARCOTICS.

CHAPTER 1.

REGISTRATION OF PHARMACISTS, ETC.

4405. (1711.) Pharmacists must be registered. It shall be unlawful for any person other than a registered pharmacist to compound or dispense drugs, medicines, or poisons, or to open or conduct any pharmacy for compounding or dispensing drugs, medicines, or poisons, unless such person shall be or shall employ and place in charge of his pharmacy or store a registered pharmacist within the meaning of this title. Every place in which drugs, medicines, or poisons are compounded, retailed, except as hereinafter provided, or dispensed, or physicians' prescriptions compounded, shall be deemed to be a pharmacy or drug store. Am'd '03, p. 41.

4406. (1712.) Who may be registered. No person shall be granted a license as a registered pharmacist until he shall have made written application to the board, setting forth by affidavit that he is the age of twenty-one years or upwards, that he has had at least five years' practical experience where drugs, medicines, and poisons were dispensed and retailed, and prescriptions compounded, of which experience one year must have been had within five years last preceding the date of such application, in a pharmacy or store in the United States of America, under the personal supervision of a licensed pharmacist, and until he shall have paid such license fee as is fixed by said board, not exceeding the sum of $15, and until he shall have passed an examination satisfactory to said board, for the granting of such license, and said applicant shall satisfy said board by said examination that he is possessed of educational qualifications equal to those required to pass the eighth grade of the public schools; provided, however, the board may, in its discretion, grant certificates of registration to such persons as shall furnish, with their application, satisfactory proof that they have been duly registered after examination in some other state or territory in the United States, and a certified copy of the standing of the applicant at said examination; provided, that such other state or territory shall require a degree of competency equal to that required of applicants in this state. Every applicant for registration as a registered pharmacist under this proviso shall pay to the secretary of the board the sum of $25 at the time of filing the application, and shall also file with his application his photograph and signature.

Am'd '03, p. 41; '09, p. 340; '11, p. 140.

Pharmacist defined, § 3342.

4407. (1714.) Assistant's certificate. It shall be the duty of the board of pharmacy to grant an assistant's certificate to such persons as have had three years' practical experience in drug stores where prescriptions of medical practitioners are compounded, and have passed a satisfactory examination before said board of pharmacy. The holder of said certificate shall have the right to act as clerk or salesman during the temporary absence of the owner or manager thereof. Temporary absence, within the meaning of this title, shall be held to be only those unavoidable absences which may occur during the day's work, not to exceed ten days, and when the registered pharmacist in charge shall be within immediate call, ready and able to assume direct supervision of said pharmacy. No registered assistant shall conduct the pharmacy. Am'd '09, p. 340.

4408. (1715.) Board may refuse registration. Revocation of license. Inspection powers. The board shall have the right to refuse registration to applicants whose examination or credentials do not present evidence of their competency satisfactory to said board. This provision shall also apply to the registration of assistant pharmacists as in this title defined. The said board of pharmacy shall not permit registration or grant a license to any applicant if satisfied that the safety of the public health will be endangered by reason of the habits or character of said applicant; nor shall it grant an original license or a renewal of any license, nor the registration of any applicant who has been convicted of more than one violation of any state or federal law governing the sale of narcotic drugs or intoxicating liquors; provided, that if any person shall have obtained, in the opinion of said board upon a hearing had after giving such person reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, a license or registration, by misrepresentation or fraud, or shall have become unfit or incompetent by reason of negligence, habits, or other cause to practice as a pharmacist or an assistant pharmacist, said state board of pharmacy shall have the power and it shall be its duty to revoke such license and cancel such registration; and provided, further, that if any license shall repeatedly violate any of the provisions of this title, or the rules and requirements established by the said board of pharmacy, it may revoke his license upon evidence satisfactory to it of any such violation, and such action of the board shall be in addition to all other provisions of the law in such cases made and provided. The said board of pharmacy shall have power and authority to employ inspectors of pharmacy, and to inspect during business hours all pharmacies, dispensaries, stores, and places in which drugs or medicines or poisons are compounded, dispensed, or retailed. Am'd '09, p. 240; '15, p. 73.

4409. (1716.) State board of pharmacy. Appointment. Terms. The state board of pharmacy shall consist of five competent pharmacists, each of whom at the date of his appointment shall have had ten years' experience as a dispensing pharmacist and not more than two of whom shall be selected from any one city or town of the state. During the month of January of each year, the Governor shall nominate and, by and with the consent of the senate, appoint one person as a member of said board, and the person so appointed shall hold office for five years and until the appointment of his successor. The governor shall fill all vacancies by appointment, giving due consideration to those recommended by the Utah state pharmaceutical association at its annual meeting. The members of the board now serving shall hold office until January of the year in which their term of office under their present appointment shall expire, and until the appointment of their respective successors. Am'd '09, p. 340.

4410. (1717.) Id. Officers. During the month of April of even numbered years, the board shall meet and organize by electing a president and a secretary from among its members, whose terms of office shall be for two years and until the election of their successors. Am'd '09, p. 340.

4411. (1718.) Id. Duties. It shall be the duty of the board to examine all applications for registration submitted in proper form; to grant certificates of registration to such persons as may be entitled to the same under the provisions of this title; to cause the prosecution of all persons violating its provisions; to report biennially to the governor and annually to the Utah state pharmaceutical association at its annual meeting the condition of pharmacy in this state. Said report shall also furnish a record of the proceedings of the said board, and account for all money received and disbursed pursuant to this title, and shall also contain the names of all pharmacists duly registered. The board shall hold meetings for examination of applicants for registration, and for the transaction of such other business as shall pertain to its duties, at least once in three months, and shall give by publication at least thirty days' public notice of the time of such meetings. It shall have power to make by-laws for the proper performance of its duties. It shall keep a book of registration, in which shall be entered the names and places of business of all persons registered under this title, and all facts placed before the board entitling them to registration. Three members of said board shall constitute a quorum. Am'd '09, p. 340.

4412. (1719.) Fees for registration. Every person applying for registration as assistant pharmacist shall, before certificate be granted, pay to the secretary of the board the sum of $5, and every applicant for registration as registered pharmacist shall pay the sum of $15. In case of a failure of an applicant upon his or her first application to pass a satisfactory examination before the said board, a second examination shall be granted him or her without further payment of fee, if applied for within six months from the presentation of such first application for examination. All fees paid and fines and forfeitures collected under this title shall be paid into the treasury of the state board of pharmacy for its use. Am'd '11, p. 140.

4413. (1720.) Renewal of registration. Every registered pharmacist or assistant pharmacist, who desires to continue in the pursuit of pharmacy, shall annually, after the expiration of the first year of registration, on or before the 2d day of January of each year, pay to the secretary of the board of pharmacy a renewal fee to be fixed by the board, which shall not exceed $2 for registered pharmacists and $1 for assistant pharmacists, in return for which a renewal registration shall be issued. If any person shall fail or neglect to procure his annual registration as herein specified, notice of such failure having been mailed to his postoffice address, as obtained from the books of the secretary, the board may, after the expiration of one year, deprive him or her of his or her registration. In order for such persons to regain registration, it will be necessary for them to apply and pass the examination as provided in §§ 4406-4407. Am'd '09, p. 340.

4414. (1721.) Compensation and expenses, how paid. Report. The secretary of the state board of pharmacy shall receive a salary, not to exceed $4 per day while actually engaged. He shall also receive his traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of his official duty. The other members of the board shall receive the sum of $4 for each day actually engaged in such service and all legitimate and necessary expenses incurred in attending the meetings of the board. All moneys received by said board as fees shall be paid into the state treasury at the close of each month, and shall be placed to the credit of the state board of pharmacy. All claims for expenses incurred by the board and for all salaries paid shall be submitted to the state board of examiners, and if approved shall be paid by the warrant of the state auditor out of any moneys on hand in the state treasury to the credit of the state board of pharmacy. But no claims shall be allowed or warrant issued in excess of the amount of fees on hand to the credit of the said board. A detailed report of the fees collected, verified under oath, shall be filed with the state auditor and the state treasurer at the time fees are deposited with the state treasurer. The secretary of the board shall give such bond as the board shall from time to time direct. Am'd '15, p. 24.

4415. (1722.) Acting without registration. Penalties. Any person who is not a registered pharmacist, duly authorized under this title to do business on his own account, who shall keep a pharmacy, store, or shop for dispensing and compounding of physicians' prescriptions, and shall not have in his employment in said pharmacy, store, or shop a registered pharmacist, authorized by the state board to manage a pharmacy, shall, for each and every offense, be liable to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $250.
Am'd '03, p. 41.

4416. (1723.) Using title unlawfully. Penalty. Any person not registered under this title who shall take, use, or exhibit the title of registered pharmacist, or licentiate in pharmacy, shall be liable to a fine of $100 for each and every such offense; a like penalty shall attach to a licentiate in pharmacy who shall, without authority, take, use, or exhibit the title of registered pharmacist in this state.

4417. (1724.) Penalties, generally. Any proprietor of a pharmacy or the person who shall permit the compounding or dispensing of physicians' prescriptions, except by a registered pharmacist or under the immediate supervision of one, or while continuing in pursuit of pharmacy in this state shall fail or neglect to procure his annual registration, and any person who shall wilfully make any false representation to procure registration for himself or for another, or who shall violate any other provision of this title shall, for each and every such offense, be liable to a penalty of $100. Am'd '03, p. 42.

4418. (1725.) Proprietors responsible for quality of drugs. The proprietors of all pharmacies shall be held responsible for the quality of all drugs and chemicals sold or dispensed at their respective places of business, except patent and proprietary preparations and articles sold in the original packages of the manufacturer.

Sale of certain patent medicines prohibited, § 4421.

4419. (1726.) Making adulterations or alterations a misdemeanor. Unless otherwise prescribed for or specified by the customer, all pharmaceutical preparations sold or dispensed in a pharmacy, dispensary, store, or place shall be of the standard strength, quality, and purity established by the latest edition of the United States Pharmacopœia and National Formulary. Any person who shall wilfully adulterate or alter, or cause or permit to be adulterated or altered, any drug, medicine, or pharmaceutical preparation, or shall sell or offer for sale any such adulterated or altered article, and any person who shall substitute one material for another, with the intent to defraud or deceive the purchaser, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. All penalties collected for such violation shall be paid to the said board of pharmacy to be held by it as hereinbefore directed. Am'd '09, p. 340.

4420. (1727.) Selling and labeling poisons. It shall be unlawful for any person to vend, sell, give away, or furnish, either directly or indirectly, any poisons enumerated in schedule A or in §§ 4421-4422, without labeling the package, box, bottle, or paper in which said poison is contained, with the name of the article, the word "poison," and the name and place of business of the person furnishing the same. Said label shall be substantially in the form hereinafter provided. It shall be unlawful to sell or deliver any of the poisons named in schedule A, or any other dangerously poisonous drug, chemical, or medical substance which may from time to time be designated by the state board of pharmacy of Utah, unless on inquiry it is found that the person desiring the same is aware of its poisonous character, and it satisfactorily appears that it is to be used for a legitimate purpose. It shall be unlawful for any person to give a fictitious name or make any false representations to the seller or dealer when buying any of the poisons thus enumerated. Printed notice of all such additions to the schedule of poisons named and provided for in this section, adopted by the board of pharmacy for such poisons, shall be given to all registered pharmacists with the next following renewal of their certificates. It shall be unlawful to sell or deliver any poison included in schedule A, or the additions thereto, without making or causing to be made an entry in a book kept solely for that purpose, stating the date of sale, and the name, address of the purchaser, the name and quantity of the poison sold, the statement by the purchaser of the purpose for which it is required, and the name of the dispenser, who must be a duly registered pharmacist. Said book shall be in form substantially as follows:

Date and hour	Name of purchaser	Residence	Kind and quantity	Purpose of use	Signature of druggist	Signature of purchaser

This book shall always be open for inspection by the proper authorities, and shall be preserved for at least five years after the date of the last entry therein. The label repuired by this title to be placed on all packages of poison shall be printed upon red paper in distinct white letters, or in distinct red letters upon white paper and shall contain the word "poison," the vignette representing the skull and cross-bones, with the antidote distinctly shown, and the name and address of the person or firm selling the same. No poison shall be sold or delivered to any person who is less than eighteen years of age. When, in the opinion of the state board of pharmacy, it is in the interest of the public health, they are hereby empowered to further restrict or prohibit the retail sale of any poison, by rules not inconsistent with the provisions of this title by them to be adopted, and which rules must be applicable to all persons alike. It shall be the duty of the board, upon request, to furnish any dealer with a list of all articles, preparations, and compounds the sale of which is prohibited or regulated by this title. Wholesale dealers and pharmacists shall affix or cause to be affixed to every bottle, box, parcel, or other enclosure of an original package containing any of the articles named in schedule A, the additions thereto, or in §§ 4421-4422, a suitable label or brand with the word "poison," but they are hereby exempted from the registration of the sale of such articles when sold at wholesale to a registered pharmacist, physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon duly licensed to practice in the state; provided, that the provisions of this title shall not apply to the sale of such upon the prescriptions of practicing physicians, dentists, or veterinary surgeons who are duly licensed to practice in this state. It is hereby made the duty of the county attorney of the county wherein any violation of this title is committed, to conduct all actions and prosecutions for the same, at the request of the board of pharmacy. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction of the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than $30 or more than $100, or by imprisonment for not less than fifteen days, or by both fine and imprisonment. All fines recovered under this title shall be paid by the magistrate receiving the same to the state board of pharmacy.

Schedule A. Arsenic, its compounds and preparations; carbolic acid; chloral hydrate; corrosive sublimate; cyanide of potassium; essential oil of bitter almonds; hydrocyanic acid; opium; oils of croton, rue, savin, tansy, and pennyroyal; phosphorus; strophanthus; strychnine; tartar emetic; aconite, or any poisonous vegetable alkaloids and their salts; ergot, cotton root, and their preparations.

Similar provisions, §§ 4425, 4427, 4431.

4421. Sale of morphine. The sale of morphine is hereby prohibited, unless upon the prescription of a physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon.

'09, p. 340.

4422. (1727.) Certain drugs that may be sold without registration. Schedule B. The drugs hereinafter named may be sold without registration in the poison book as in this title required; provided, however, that in all other respects the requirements of this title as to the sale of poisons must be complied with: Acid muriatic, nitric, oxalic, and sulphuric; bromine; cocculus indicus; conium; cowhage; creosote; solution of formaldehyde or formalin; hyocyamus; Indian hemp; iodine and its tinctures; nitro-glycerine and its preparations; santonine; sugar of lead; sulphate of zinc; cantharides; digitalis; wood alcohol; chloroform; poisonous derivatives of mercury; bichloride mercury tablets; ether; belladonna; nux vomica; veratrum; viride; yellow jessamine, their alkaloids and other preparations.

Am'd '03, p. 42; '09, p. 340.

Omitting to label or mislabeling drugs, etc., penalty, § 8199.

CHAPTER 2.

POISONS AND NARCOTIC DRUGS.

('15, p. 74.)

4425. Unlawful to sell certain poisons without label. False representations. Registry of sales. It shall be unlawful for any person to vend, sell, give away, or furnish, either directly or indirectly, any poisons enumerated in schedules A and B in § 4431, without labeling the package, box, bottle, or paper in which said poison is contained with the name of the article, the word "poison," and the name and place of business of the person furnishing the same. Said label shall be substantially in the form hereinafter provided. It shall be unlawful to sell or deliver any of the poisons named in schedule A or any other dangerously poisonous drug, chemical, or medicinal substance, which may from time to time be designated by the state board of pharmacy, unless on inquiry it is found that the person desiring the same is aware of its poisonous character, and it satisfactorily appears that it is to be used for a legitimate purpose. It shall be unlawful for any person to give a fictitious name or make any false representations to the seller or dealer when buying any of the poisons thus enumerated; provided, that this prohibition shall not apply to an officer or inspector of the state board of pharmacy in the performance of the duties enjoined by law upon said board, or to any person acting under authority of said board in the performance of said duties. Printed notice of all such additions to the schedule of poisons named and provided for in this section, and the antidote adopted by the board of pharmacy for such poison, shall be given to all registered pharmacists with the next following renewal of their certificates. It shall be unlawful to sell or deliver any poison included in schedule A, or the additions thereto, without making or causing to be made an entry in a book kept solely for that purpose, stating the date and hour of sale, and the name, address, and signature of the purchaser, the name and quantity of the poison sold, the statement by the purchaser of the purpose for which it is required, and the name of the dispenser, who must be a duly registered pharmacist; provided, however, that said entry shall be made out in full, in ink before said signature of the purchaser is made thereto, and that said entry shall be made by said dispenser himself, and not by any person who is not a duly registered pharmacist or duly registered assistant pharmacist. Said book shall be in form substantially as follows:

Date and hour	Name of purchaser	Residence	Kind and quantity	Purpose of use	Signature of druggist	Signature of purchaser

This book shall always be open for inspection by the proper authorities, and shall be preserved for at least five years after the date of the last entry therein.

Selling and labeling poisons, §§ 4420, 8199.

4426. Form of label. Sale to minors unlawful. The label required by this title to be placed on all packages of poison shall be printed upon red paper in distinct white letters, or in distinct red letters upon white paper, and shall contain the word "poison," the vignette representing the skull and cross-bones, and the name and address of the person or firm selling the same. The name of an antidote, if any there be, for the poison sold shall also be upon the package. No poison shall be sold or delivered to any person who is less than eighteen years of age.

Similar provision, § 4420.

4427. Antidotes to appear on poison labels. Duty of pharmacy board. It shall be the duty of the state board of pharmacy to adopt a schedule of what in their judgment are the most suitable common antidotes for the various poisons usually sold. After the board has adopted the schedule of antidotes as herein provided for, they shall have the same printed and shall forward by mail one copy to each person registered upon their books, and to any other person applying for the same. The particular antidote adopted (and no other) shall appear on the poison label provided for in § 4426, or be attached to the package containing said poison. The board shall have power to revise and amend the list of antidotes from time to time, as to them may seem advisable. The entries in the poison book and the printed or written matter provided for in this title shall be in the English language; provided, that the vendor of said poison may enter the same in any foreign language he may desire, in addition to said entry and label in English.

Similar provision, § 4420.

4428. Restriction of sale. When, in the opinion of the state board of pharmacy, it is in the interest of the public health, they are hereby empowered to further restrict or prohibit the retail sale of any poison, by rules not inconsistent with the provisions of this title by them to be adopted, and which rules must be applicable to all persons alike. It shall be the duty of the board, upon request, to furnish any dealer with a copy of the laws relating to articles, preparations, and compounds the sale of which is prohibited or regulated by this title.

4429. Sale in original packages. Proviso. Wholesale dealers and pharmacists shall affix or cause to be affixed to every bottle, box, parcel, or other enclosure of an original package containing any of the articles named in schedule A, the additions thereto, or in §§ 4432 and 4436, a suitable label or brand with the word "poison," but they are hereby exempted from the registration of the sale of such articles when sold at wholesale to a registered pharmacist, physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon duly licensed to practice in the state; provided, that the provisions of this title shall not apply to the sale of such upon the prescriptions of practicing physicians, dentists, or veterinary surgeons who are duly licensed to practice in this state; and provided, further, that wholesale dealers are hereby exempted from the registration of the sales of the articles enumerated in schedule A of § 4431, where such sales are made for assaying, metallurgical, scientific, or industrial uses and purposes.

4430. Enforcement of provisions. Employment of special counsel. The state board of pharmacy shall have power to employ special counsel to assist the county attorney or the district attorney in all actions and prosecutions instituted or prosecuted for the violation of any of the provisions of this title.

4431. Penalty. Schedules defined. Any person violating any of the provisions of §§ 4432-4433 shall, upon conviction, be punished as follows, viz: For the first offense by a fine of not less than $100 and not to exceed $400, or by imprisonment for not less than fifty days and not exceeding one hundred and eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; for the second offense by a fine of not less than $250, and not to exceed $500, or by imprisonment for not less than ninety days and not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and for the third offense by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year and not more than five years. Any person violating any of the provisions of this title, except those contained in §§ 4432-4433, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine in a sum not less than $30, nor more than $200, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days and not more than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All moneys, forfeited bail, or fines received under the operation of this title shall be paid by the magistrate receiving the same, 75 per cent to the state board of pharmacy, and 25 per cent to the city treasurer of the city, if incorporated, otherwise to the county treasurer of the county in which the prosecution is conducted.

The following is schedule A referred to in § 4425, viz.: Schedule A. Arsenic, its compounds and preparations; corrosive sublimate and other poisonous derivatives of mercury; corrosive sublimate tablets; antiseptic tablets containing corrosive sublimate; cyanide of potassium; strychnine; hydrocyanic acid; oils of croton, rue, tansy, pennyroyal, savin; ergot and cotton-root and their preparations; phosphorus and its poisonous derivatives and compounds; compound solution of cresol; lysol; strophanthus or its preparations; aconite, belladonna, nux vomica, veratrum viride, their preparations, alkaloids, or derivatives, and poisons containing any of the poisons enumerated in this schedule.

The following is schedule B: Hydrochloric or muriatic acid; nitric acid; oxalic acid; sulphuric acid; bromine; chloroform; cowhage; creosote; ether; solution of formaldehyde or formalin; cantharides, cocculus indicus, all their preparations; iodine, or its tinctures; tartar emetic and other poisonous derivatives of antimony; sugar of lead; sulphate of zinc, and wood alcohol.
Similar provisions, § 4420, 4422.

4432. Possession and use of narcotic drugs. Dispensing at retail and wholesale. Prescription by physicians, dentists, and veterinarians.. Exceptions. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell, furnish, or give away, or offer to sell, furnish, or give away, or to have in possession, any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, peyote (mescal button), alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, nova caine, flowering tops and leaves, extracts, tinctures, and other narcotic preparations of hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa, Indian hemp), or chloral hydrate, or any of the salts, derivatives, or compounds of the foregoing substances, or any preparation or compound containing any of the foregoing substances, or their salts, derivatives, or compounds, excepting upon the written order or prescription of a physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon licensed to practice in this state, which order or prescription shall be dated and shall contain the name of the person for whom prescribed, written in by the person writing said prescription; or if ordered by a veterianry surgeon it shall state the kind of animal for which ordered and shall be signed by the person giving the prescription or order; provided, however, that this exception shall not apply to anhalonium or peyote, the use whereof in any form whatsoever being hereby positively prohibited; and it is hereby further provided, that it shall be unlawful for any person, association, or corporation to carry or cause to be carried into or within this state any of said anhalonium or peyote, or any compound, manufacture, derivative, or preparation thereof. Such order or prescription shall be permanently retained on file by the person, firm, or corporation compounding or dispensing the articles ordered or prescribed, and no order or prescription shall be refilled. All such orders or prescriptions, after filing, shall be open to public inspection and shall be preserved for at least three years. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to sales at wholesale by jobbers, wholesalers, and manufacturers to registered drug stores or pharmacies, or to registered pharmacists, or to licensed physicians, nor to the sale at retail by registered pharmacists to physicians, dentists, or veterinary surgeons duly licensed to practice. All wholesale jobbers, wholesalers, or manufacturers shall, before delivery of any of the articles in this section enumerated, make or cause to be made, in a book kept for that purpose only, an entry of the sale of any such articles stating the date of such sale, and the quantity and the name of the article, and the form in which sold, the true name and true address of the purchaser, the name of the person by whom such entry or sale was made, also a statement showing how delivery was had, whether personally or by mail, express or by freight, which book shall always be open for inspection by any peace officer or any member of the board of pharmacy, or any inspector authorized by said board, and which book shall be preserved at least five years from the date of the last entry therein. The taking of any order, or making of any contract or agreement, by any traveling representative, or any employe, or any person, firm, or corporation for future delivery in this state of any of the articles or drugs mentioned in this section shall be deemed a sale of said articles or drugs by such traveling representative or employe, within the meaning of the provisions of this title, and all such orders, contracts, or agreements shall be recorded in the same book and in the same manner as in this section provided for the recording of sales by wholesale jobbers, wholesalers, or manufacturers. It shall be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine to furnish to or prescribe for the use of any habitual user of cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, peyote, or chloral hydrate, or any salt, derivative, or compound containing any of the foregoing substances, except that a duly licensed physician may prescribe any of such drugs as he may deem necessary in the treatment of a patient who may be an habitual user of any of such drugs, whom such physician has taken in good faith under his professional care. It shall be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine or dentistry to prescribe any of the foregoing drugs for any person not under his treatment in the regular practice of his profession, or for any veterinary surgeon to prescribe any of the foregoing drugs for the use of any human being. The above provisions of this section shall not apply to preparations or remedies sold or dispensed by a registered pharmacist, without a physician's prescription, which preparations or remedies contain not more than two grains of opium, or one-fourth grain of morphine, or one grain of codeine, or one-eighth grain of heroin, or one-half grain extract cannabis indica, or ten grains chloral hydrate, in one fluid ounce, or, if a solid preparation, in one ounce, avoirdupois; or to liniments, ointments, or other preparations which are prepared for external use only, except liniments, ointments, and other preparations which contain cocaine or any of its salts, or alpha or beta eucaine or any of their salts or any synthetic substitute for them; provided, that such remedies and preparations are sold, distributed, given away, dispensed, or possessed as medicines and not for the purpose of evading the intentions and provisions of this title.

Am'd '17, p. 32.

Limitations as to alcohol in prescriptions, § 3370. Penalty for substitutions or deviations, § 8199.

4433. Possession of certain pipes and preparations unlawful. Penalty. The possession of a pipe or pipes, or other contrivances used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachment or attachments thereof, or extracts, tinctures, or other narcotic preparations of hemp, or loco-weed, their preparations or compounds (except corn remedies containing not more than fifteen grains of the extract or fluid extract of hemp to the ounce, mixed with not less than five times its weight of salicylic acid combined with collodion), is hereby made a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by the penalties prescribed in § 4431.

4434. Search and seizure. Disposition of instruments and narcotics confiscated. All narcotic drugs specified in § 4432 and also all pipes used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachments thereto, or extracts, tinctures, or other narcotic preparations of hemp, or loc-weed, their preparations or compounds (except corn remedies containing not more than fifteen grains of the extract or fluid extract of hemp to the ounce, mixed with not less than five times its weight of salicylic acid combined with collodion), may be seized by any peace officer, and in aid of such seizure a search warrant or search warrants may be issued in the manner and form prescribed in chapter 56, title 120 of the code of criminal procedure (§§ 9368-9389). All such narcotic drugs, pipes used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes), or the usual attachments thereto, and all such hemp seized under the provisions of this title shall be ordered destroyed by the judge of the court in which final conviction was had. Said order of destruction shall contain the name of the party charged with the duty of destruction as herein reqiured; provided, however, that the judge shall turn all such evidence over to the state board of pharmacy for such destruction; and provided, further, that the board of pharmacy may dispose of all narcotics now on hand or hereafter coming into their possession (other than smoking opium), either by gift to the medical director of Utah state prisons or state hospitals or by sale to wholesale druggists, the funds received from such sales to be applied by the board of pharmacy to the carrying out of the provisions of this title or of the title creating such Utah state board of pharmacy.

4435. License of pharmacist may be revoked, when. Restoration. The board may revoke the registration and license of any registered pharmacist or assistant pharmacist upon conviction of the second offense for violating any of the provisions of §§ 4432, 4433, and in such case said registration shall not be restored before the period of one year from the date of said revocation.

4436. Carbolic acid. Quantity of sale restricted. Proviso. The sale or furnishing of carbolic acid (phenol) in quantities of less than one pound is prohibited unless upon the prescription of a physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon duly licensed to practice in this state, but this prohibition shall not apply to solutions of carbolic acid (phenol) containing not over 10 per cent of the carbolic acid (phenol) and not less than 10 per cent of ethyl alcohol. All sales of carbolic acid (phenol) thus diluted so as to contain no more than 10 per cent of carbolic acid (phenol) may be made under the same conditions as the drugs enumerated in schedule B, as found in § 4431, but sales of carbolic acid (phenol) containing more than 10 per cent of said acid shall be registered subject to the same regulations as the poisons enumerated in schedule A, as found in § 4431.

TITLE 85.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

4440. (1728.) Board created. Qualification of members. Appointment. Vacancies. Disposition of fees. There is hereby created a state board of medical examiners, which shall have power to sue and be sued in its official name, the board of medical examiners of the state of Utah. Said board shall consist of ten members; the attorney-general shall be ex officio one of such members. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall appoint the other nine members, who shall be representatives of the various recognized schools of medicine, and each of whom shall be at the time of his appointment a licensed graduate practitioner of medicine in this state. At the regular session of the legislature in 1911, such nine members shall be so appointed, three of whom shall be appointed for the term of six years, and three for the term of four years, and three for the term of two years, and at each regular session of the legislature hereafter there shall be in like manner appointed three of such members for the full term of six years. Each person so appointed shall so qualify by taking an oath before a judge of the district court that he is a graduate of a legally chartered medical school and in good standing, and that he will faithfully perform the duties of his office; and thereupon he shall hold his office until his successor is appointed and qualified. Vacancies in the board shall be filled by appointment by the governor within one month from the time the vacancy shall occur, and such appointee shall serve until the next ensuing session of the legislature. Said board shall have power to employ legal counsel and clerical assistance, and all moneys received as fees under this title shall be covered into the state treasury at the close of each and every month, and shall be placed to the credit of the state board of medical examiners; that all claims for expenses incurred by said board in the performance of its duties either in the employment of legal counsel or clerical assistance or in any manner whatsoever shall be submitted to the state board of examiners, which, if approved, shall be ordered paid out of the moneys to the credit of the state board of medical examiners in the office of the state treasurer; provided, however, that no warrant shall be issued unless funds are available to pay the same. Report of fees shall be made, accompanied by a statement verified on oath that the report is true, complete, and in detail of all fees collected for the month by this department. Said board of medical examiners shall be deemed a continuation of the present existing board of medical examiners of the state of Utah in all respects whatsoever. Am'd '07, p. 94; '11, p. 131; '15, p. 21.

Where the law provides for collecting of fees by medical board, without specifying disposition to be made, such fees may be used for payment of ordinary expenses.
People v. Hasbrouck, 11 U. 291; 39 P. 918.

4441. (1729.) Organization. Powers and duties. Certificate. Said board shall organize immediately after its appointment by selecting from its members a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. Six members of the board shall constitute a quorum. The board shall have a seal with which it shall attest its official acts. Any member of the board shall have authority to administer oaths, and the board shall have authority to take testimony in all matters relating to the duties of the board. The board shall have power to examine any person of good moral character who furnishes satisfactory proof of having received a degree or diploma from a legally chartered medical college, the requirements whereof shall include the following subjects as required by the board at the present time, namely: Histology, anatomy, physiology, chemistry, toxicology, urinalysis, therapeutics, bacteriology, pathology, theory and practice of medicine, or osteopathy, surgery, obstetrics, materia medica or osteopathic therapeutics, gynecology, pediatrics, dermatology, hygiene, medical jurisprudence, ophthalmology, otology, rhinology, laryngology. The foregoing showing an aggregate of 3500 hours, and any legally chartered school having the foregoing requirements shall be deemed a recognized school of medicine. Said applicant shall present a certificate from a high school of the first grade or its equivalent, and shall have furnished evidence of at least two units work in Latin and German. After the year 1916 the applicant shall furnish, in addition to the above, one year of college work, and if upon examination of such person, the board is satisfied with his educational attainments, and that the applicant is qualified to practice medicine and surgery, then the board shall issue a certificate to such person so qualified and examined. The board shall issue two forms of certificates or licenses; one for persons holding such degree or diploma who have been examined and favorably passed upon by the board; and another for persons desiring to practice obstetrics under the provisions of § 4452. Certificates shall be signed by all members of the board granting them.

R. S. '98, §§ 1729, 1740; '07, p. 95; am'd '11, p. 131.

The prohibitions of the United States constitution against state legislation abridging the privileges of citizens are not violated by act March 10, 1892, applicable alike to citizens of Utah and of other states and territories, which authorizes the licensing, without examination, of medical graduates who were, but not those who were not, in actual practice at its passage, and also of persons who had practiced for ten years in the territory before the taking effect of the act, upon passing an examination, although without a diploma, while requiring others to have a diploma besides passing an examination.

People v. Hasbrouck, 11 U. 291; 39 P. 918.

Nor is such act, in authorizing the board to ascertain and determine the qualifications of applicants to practice medicine, unconstitutional, as conferring judicial power on the board.

Id.

4442. (1730.) Fee. The fee for the examination provided for in the last preceding section shall be $25 which shall be paid to the secretary of said board at the time of making the application for examination.

'07, p. 96; am'd '11, p. 132.

4443. (1731.) Non-graduate practitioners. No non-graduate licensed under the provisions of the acts of the territorial legislature shall in any way advertise as a doctor, physician, or surgeon, but shall, if he advertises at all, do so as a licensed non-graduate practitioner of medicine. The secretary of the board shall enter, without fee, upon the register to be kept by him the names of all persons to whom certificates are issued as physicians and surgeons. Am'd '07, p. 96.

4444. (1732.) Certificate to be recorded. Every person holding a certificate from the said board shall have it recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which he resides, within three months from its date, and the date of record shall be indorsed thereon. Until such certificate is recorded as herein provided, the holder thereof shall not exercise any of the privileges conferred therein to practice medicine. Any person removing to another county to practice medicine shall record the certificate in like manner in the county to which he removes, and the holder of the certificate shall pay the recorder the usual fees for recording such certificates. Am'd '07, p. 96.

4445. (1733.) Duty of county recorder. The county recorder shall keep in a book provided for that purpose a complete list of certificates recorded by him, with the date of the issue of the certificate, and, if the certificate be based upon a degree and examination, the name of the medical college conferring the degree, and the date thereof. Am'd '07, p. 96.

4446. (1734.) Refusal to grant certificate. Witnesses. Contempt. Examination may be wholly or partly in writing. Said board must refuse a certificate to any applicant not of good moral character or who has been guilty of unprofessional conduct as defined in this title. But before such refusal, the applicant must be cited by citation signed by the secretary of the board and with its seal. No citation shall be issued except upon sworn complaint filed with the secretary of the board and setting forth such particular acts constituting such immorality or unprofessional conduct. On the filing of such complaint, the secretary must forthwith issue a citation and make same returnable at the next regular session of said board occuring at least thirty days next after the filing of the complaint. Such citation shall notify the applicant of the time and place when and where the matter of such immorality or such unprofessional conduct shall be heard, the particular immorality or unprofessional conduct with which the applicant is charged, and that the applicant shall file his written answer under oath within twenty days next after the service on him of such citation, or default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses to such hearing may be compelled by subpœna issued by the secretary of the board under its seal, and said secretary shall in no case refuse to issue any such subpœna upon a fee of 20 cents being paid him for each subpœna by the defendant. Said citation and subpœnas, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpœnas, are hereby made applicable to the subpœnas provided for herein. In case of the refusal of a witness properly served with subpœna to attend before said board, such refusal may be certified by the secretary of said board to the district court of the county in which service was had, and said court shall thereupon issue a subpœna to said witness to appear before it, and in case of further refusal on the part of said witness, the court shall then cite said witness or witnesses to appear before it and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt, and if the court finds upon hearing that said witness has wilfully disobeyed the mandate of the court, it shall then proceed to impose such penalties as are provided for in cases of contempt of court.

'07, p. 96; am'd '11, p. 132.

4447. (1735.) Revocation of certificate. Whenever any licensed practitioner of medicine or surgery or obstetric physician is guilty of unprofessional conduct, as the same is defined in this title, then the license or certificate of such person shall be revoked or canceled in the manner hereinafter provided by the district court of the county where the holder of such certificate or license practiced at the time of such unprofessional conduct. Proceedings for such cancellation or revocation shall be brought and conducted in the manner provided by law for proceedings in civil cases except as in this title provided. The trial in such proceeding shall be before the court without a jury unless the court shall call an advisory jury. The board of medical examiners of the state of Utah shall be plaintiff, and the person charged shall be defendant in any such proceedings. The complaint in such proceedings shall be in writing verified by oath of one of the members of the board, or any person having knowledge of the facts constituting the unprofessional conduct, and shall pray a decree of the court canceling and revoking the certificate or license of the defendant and an injunction perpetually enjoining him from practicing medicine or surgery in this state. When, after trial, the defendant is found guilty as charged, or when, upon his default, which may be entered as in other civil cases; provided, that the facts stated in the complaint constitute unprofessional conduct as defined in this title, then in either such case the court must decree a cancellation or revocation of the certificate or license of the defendent and must enjoin him from practicing medicine or surgery in the state. Upon the entry of such judgment or decree it shall be the duty of the secretary of the said board to file a certified copy of said judgment and decree with the county recorder of the counties in which the certificate of the defendant is recorded, and said recorder must thereupon write on the margin of the copy of said certificate of said defendant the following:

"This certificate was revoked and canceled by a decree of the district court of ..... county, Utah, on the ..... day of .....," giving the day, month, and year of such revocation by said court, together with the county wherein said decree was made and entered by said district court. No certificate shall be revoked for unprofessional conduct under this section unless the accused has been guilty thereof within two years next preceding the time of the filing of the complaint charging him with such unprofessional conduct. R. S. '98, § 1734; '07, p. 97; am'd '11, p. 134.

For prescribing alcohol, § 3371.

4448. (1736.) "Unprofessional conduct" defined. The words "unprofessional conduct," as used in this title, are hereby defined to mean any of the following acts, to wit:

1. Offering or attempting to procure or aid or abet in procuring a criminal abortion;
2. The procuring or aiding or abetting in procuring a criminal abortion;
3. The obtaining of any fee on the assurance that a manifestly incurable disease can be permanently cured;
4. The wilful betrayal of a professional secret;
5. Any advertising naming diseases of or in relation to the diagnosis or treatment of, or medicine for any abnormal or diseased condition of, or pertaining to the organs of generation;
6. All advertising of medicine or of any means whereby the monthly period of women can be regulated or the menses re-established if suppressed;
7. Conviction of any offense involving moral turpitude;
8. Habitual intemperance or gross immorality;
9. Lending his name to be used as a physician or surgeon by another person who is not a physician or surgeon;
10. Street advertising, soliciting, or other public peddling or selling of medical or surgical remedies or appliance in person or by proxy;
11. Prescribing any intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage;
12. Prescribing morphine or cocaine or other narcotic with intent that the same shall be used otherwise than medicinally or with intent to evade any law in relation to the sale, use, or disposition of such drugs;
13. Wilful violation of the law in regard to the registration of births and deaths and the reporting of infectious diseases. '07, p. 97; am'd '11, p. 134.

Limitations on prescriptions of alcohol, § 3370, of narcotics, § 4432.

4449. (1737.) Practicing medicine contrary to law. Any person practicing medicine, surgery, or obstetrics within the state contrary to law may, at the instance of the board herein created appearing as plaintiff in the district court, be enjoined by said court from practicing medicine, surgery, or obstetrics in this state until such person shall have been by said board lawfully admitted to practice. The proceedings in said district court shall be the same, as near as may be, as hereinbefore provided in this title in case of revocation or cancellation of licenses or certificates. '07, p. 99.

The district court has jurisdiction on complaint of the medical examiners to grant injunction against a chiropractor practicing medicine. Board of M. Ex. v. Freenor, 47 U. 430; 154 P. 941.

4450. (1738.) Practicing medicine defined. Any person shall be regarded as practicing medicine within the meaning of this title, who shall diagnose, treat, operate upon, or prescribe or advise for, any physical or mental ailment or any abnormal mental or physical condition of another, after having received or with the intent to receive therefor, either directly or indirectly, any fee, gift, compensation, or other pecuniary benefit, reward, or consideration; or who shall hold himself out by means of signs, cards, advertisements, or otherwise as a physician or surgeon; provided, that nothing in this title shall be construed to prohibit gratuitous services in cases of emergency or the sale or administration of proprietary or domestic family remedies or the sale of appliances, nor to prevent medical officers of the United States from the discharge of their official duties; nor shall anything in this title be construed to apply to those who heal only by spiritual means without pretending to have a knowledge of the science of medicine; nor to prohibit visiting physicians in the act of consultation.

R. S. '98, § 1735; '07, p. 99; am'd '11, p. 135.

This act does not prohibit the business of an ordinary masseur, but prohibits one from treating diseases who has not the regular qualifications.

An information in the language of this section is sufficient.

State v. Erickson, 47 U. 452; 154 P. 948.

The court should have instructed on the meaning of the phrase "domestic family remedies."

State v. Yee Foo Lun, 45 U. 531; 147 P. 488.

One who diagnosed the symptoms of his patients, and thereafter treated them, for compensation, by readjusting the displaced vertebrae, with his bare hands, practiced medicine.

Board of M. Ex. v. Freenor, 47 U. 430; 154 P. 941.

4451. (1739.) Penalty. Any person practicing medicine, surgery, or obstetrics within this state without holding a lawful certificate or license, or otherwise contrary to the provisions of this title, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment for a term of not less than 60 days nor more than 180 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

R. S. '98, § 1736; '07, p. 99.

4452. (1740.) Obstetrics. Examination. Fee. Persons desiring to practice obstetrics in this state shall be entitled to a license upon passing a satisfactory examination by the board of medical examiners and paying to the treasurer thereof a fee of $15; provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to prevent physicians holding a certificate from practicing obstetrics, or to prohibit such services or the acceptance of a fee in the case of emergency or persons practicing obstetrics in communities where there are no licensed practitioners.

R. S. '98, § 1737; '07, p. 99; am'd '11, p. 135.

4453. (1741.) Meetings of board. The board of medical examiners shall meet on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October, of each year, at ten o'clock a. m., and such other times as the president of the board shall deem necessary. The place of meeting shall be at the state capital.

R. S. '98, § 1738; '07, p. 100.

4454. (1742.) Removal of members of board. Any member of said board may be removed for misconduct in office by a two-thirds vote of all the members of the board, but no member shall be removed until after he has been given a trial before said board. R. S. '98, § 1739; '07, p. 100.

4455. (1742x.) Examination may be waived, when. Said board may, in its discretion accept and register, upon the payment of the registration fee of $75, without examination of an applicant, any certificate which shall have been issued to him by the board of the district of Columbia, or any state or territorial board for the licensing of practitioners of medicine, surgery, within the meaning of this title, the requirements of which shall at the time of issuing be not less than those of this state; and provided, further, that the provisions in this section contained shall be held to apply only to such of said examining boards of such states and territories as accept and register the certificates granted by this board without examination by said board of the one holding such certificate. If for any reason the said applicant is denied such license, $50 of the said $75 shall be returned to said applicant. '07, p. 100; '11, p. 135.

The title to chap. 93, '11 does not purport to amend § 1742 or § 1742x (4454 and 4455); in the body of the act, § 1742x (4455) is amended but it is given the number 1742.

4456. (1742x1.) Osteopathy. Certificate. Nothing in this title shall be deemed to require persons now holding certificates from the territorial or state board of medical examiners to make application for license, and any person who is now practicing osteopathy in the state of Utah, who holds a degree or diploma from a regularly chartered college of osteopathy, whose requirements are not less than those prescribed by the associated colleges of osteopathy for that year, upon presenting his diploma to said state board of medical examiners within sixty days after March 14, 1907, shall be entitled to receive a certificate or license to practice medicine and surgery in this state. Said certificate shall be registered and recorded as hereinbefore provided for the registering and recording of other certificates issued by said board. '07, p. 100.

4457. (1742x2.) Contempts. Contempts under this title will be governed and controlled in the manner provided by the general law relating thereto now in force in this state. '07, p. 101.

Procedure in case of contempts, §§ 7072, 70 73.

TITLE 86.

POLL TAX.

('09, p. 281.)

4465. (1743.) Road poll tax. Two dollars lawful money is an annual road poll tax upon every man over twenty-one and under fifty years of age, not physically incapacitated to work and not exempted by law. Within incorporated cities or towns, said road poll tax may be collected and expended under such regulations as may be by the city ordinance prescribed in road improvements. All road poll tax, except such as is collected by incorporated cities or towns, shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall be expended under the direction and pursuant to the order of the board of county commissioners of the county, in making and improving roads.

This title is constitutional.
Salt Lake City v. Wilson, 46 U. 60; 148 P. 1104.

4466. (1744.) Id. Notice, when payable, transients. The county road commissioner shall, prior to the 1st day of April of each and every year, give written notice to every person in the county subject to the payment of road poll tax that said tax is due and payable on or before the third Monday of April of each year; and all persons so notified must pay the said road poll tax to the county treasurer on or before the date when due. The county treasurer shall issue a receipt to each person upon payment of said tax. All persons moving into the county after April 1 of each and every year, who shall be subject to the payment of said tax, must, upon receiving written notice from the county road commissioner that said tax is due, pay the same to the county treasurer within ten days after such notification; provided, that said road poll tax shall become due and payable on demand to the county road commissioner in cases of transients or non-residents of the county at the discretion of said county road commissioner. Am'd '01, p. 13.

Duties of road commissioners concerning poll tax, § 2823.

Using or giving false receipt a crime, § 8242.

4467. (1745.) Id. Failure to pay. Any person subject to the payment of said road poll tax, who shall fail to pay the same as provided in § 4466, shall be delinquent, and the county road commissioner shall proceed to collect the same by an action in the name of the county, and no property or wages belonging to such person shall be exempt from execution therefor.

A suit by a city to collect a poll tax is an action of debt over which justices of the peace have jurisdiction, and a city justice is entitled to receive the fees prescribed by § 2527.
Timmony v. S. L. City, 28 U. 302; 78 P. 799.

4468. Id. Road commissioner to furnish county treasurer with list of names. The county road commissioner shall furnish the county treasurer with a list of the names and addresses of each and every person subject to the payment of the said road poll tax on or before the 1st day of April of each and every year and also the name and address of each person notified after the 1st of April, as soon as such notification is given.

4469. Exemptions. Any member of any regular volunteer unpaid fire company, at present organized or that may hereafter be organized as provided by the ordinance of any city in the state of Utah, who has been or may hereafter continue in the service in said company, is hereby exempted from the payment of road poll tax during the time of such service. The secretary of said fire company shall issue to each member thereof a certificate giving name, age, and term of service, whether active or retired, properly signed by the officers of said company, which certificate shall, upon presentation to the county treasurer be a proper authority for said treasurer to issue a receipt for the current year to the person presenting the same. Every honorably discharged soldier and sailor of the United States army or navy, who served during the Spanish-American war or subsequent Philippine insurrection, shall be exempt from road poll tax; and every officer, non-commissioned officer, musician, and private of the national guard of Utah shall be exempt from road poll tax during the time he shall hold a commission as officer or be enrolled as an enlisted man in the national guard of Utah. The captain of any company of the national guard of Utah shall furnish to any county commissioners, on request, the names of the officers, musicians, and privates of his company. Am'd '11, p. 56.

Member national guard exempt, § 3872.

TITLE 87.

POOLS AND TRUSTS.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

4475. (1752.) Unlawful combination. Any combination by persons having for its object or effect the controlling of the prices of any professional services, any products of the soil, any article of manufacture or commerce or the cost of exchange or transportation, is prohibited and declared unlawful.

Trusts, etc., forbidden, Con. art. 12, sec. 20.

4476. (1753.) Id. Members guilty of conspiracy to defraud. Any person or association of persons who shall create, enter into, become a member of, or a party to, any pool, trust, agreement, combination, confederation, or understanding with any other person or persons, to regulate or fix the price of any article of merchandise or commodity; or shall enter into, become a member of, or a party to, any pool, trust, agreement, contract, combination, or confederation to fix or limit the amount or quantity of any article, commodity, or merchandise to be manufactured, mined, produced, or sold in this state, shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of a conspiracy to defraud, and be subject to punishment as hereinafter provided.

4477. (1754.) Trusts declared unlawful. It shall not be lawful for any corporation to issue or to own trust certificates; or for any corporation, agent, officer, or employe, or the directors or stockholders of any corporation, to enter into any combination, contract, or agreement with any person or persons, the purpose or effect of which combination, contract, or agreement shall be to place the management or control of such combination or combinations, or the manufactured products thereof, in the hand of any trustee or trustees, with the intent to limit or fix the price, or lessen the production and sale of any article of commerce, use, or consumption, or to prevent, restrict, or diminish the manufacture or output of any such article, or to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce within this state.

4478. (1755.) Penalties. Firms and corporations. If a corporation, a company, a firm, or association shall be found guilty of a violation of any provision of this title, it shall be punished by a fine in any sum not less than $100 nor more than $2,000 for the first offense; and for the second offense, not less than $500 nor more than $5,000; and for the third offense, not less than $5,000 nor more than $10,000; and for every subsequent offense shall be liable to a fine of $15,000.

4479. (1756.) Id. Individuals. Any president, manager, director, or other officer, agent, or receiver of any corporation, company, firm, or association, or any member of any company, firm, or association, or any individual found guilty of a violation of any provision of this title, may be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, or by confinement in the county jail not more than one year, or by both, in the discretion of the court before which such conviction may have been had.

4480. (1757.) Unlawful contracts void. Any contract or agreement in violation of any provision of this title shall be absolutely void.

4481. (1758.) Corporate franchise prohibited. Any corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state that shall violate any provision of this title shall thereby forfeit its corporate rights and franchises, and its corporate existence shall thereupon cease and determine.

4482. (1759.) Id. Notice to corporation. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, upon satisfactory evidence that any corporation or association of persons, incorporated or operating under the laws of this state, has entered into any trust, combination, or association, as mentioned in the preceding provisions of this title, to give notice to such corporation that unless it withdraws from and severs all business connections with said trust, combination, or association, its corporate right and franchise will be revoked at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such notice.

4483. (1760.) Id. Attorney general to bring action, when. At the expiration of thirty days, if such withdrawal or severance be not theretofore made, the secretary of state shall cause a certified statement of the facts to be filed in the office of the attorney general of the state, who shall commence, or direct any county attorney in the state to commence, an action, in any district court of the state of competent jurisdiction, to forfeit and revoke the corporate rights and franchises of such corporation. On the final decision of the same, should the defendant be found guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of this title, the court shall render judgment that the charter, corporate rights, and franchises of such corporation be revoked, and the secretary of state shall thereupon make publication of such revocation in four newspapers in general circulation in four of the largest cities of the state.

4484. (1761.) Guilty person liable for treble damages. In case any person or persons shall do, cause to be done, or permit to be done, any act, matter, or thing in this title prohibited or declared to be unlawful, such person or persons shall be liable to the person or persons injured thereby for treble the amount of damages sustained in consequence of any such violation.

4485. (1762.) "Person" includes "corporation." The words "person" or "persons," whenever used in this title shall be deemed to include corporations, companies, and associations, existing under or authorized by the laws of either the United States, or any of the territories, any state, or any foreign country.

Person includes what, §§ 4497, 5848.

CHAPTER 2.

UNJUST DISCRIMINATION AGAINST NEWSPAPERS.

4490. (1762x.) Discrimination in vending news prohibited. All persons, all associations of persons, and all corporations engaged in the business of buying, gathering, or accumulating information or news for publication, and vending, supplying, distributing, or disseminating the same for publication, either to their members or otherwise, shall be deemed to be engaged in a business upon which a public interest is ingrafted, and shall make no distinction with respect to newspaper publishers desiring to purchase such news or information for publication. '07, p. 127.

4491. (1762x1.) Unlawful to discriminate. It shall be unlawful for any person, association of persons, or corporations engaged in gathering and furnishing news for publication to make any discrimination or distinction with respect to a person or corporation engaged in publishing a newspaper. '07, p. 127.

4492. (1762x2.) Combinations prohibited. Any combination by persons having for its object or effect the controlling of information or news gathered or accumulated for distribution and publication shall be deemed a trust, and hostile to the public welfare, and is prohibited and declared unlawful. '07, p. 128.

4493. (1762x3.) Associations engaged in gathering news must render impartial service. All persons, associations of persons, and corporations engaged in the business of gathering and disseminating information or news for publication by their members, or stockholders, or otherwise, shall be deemed to be engaged in a business in which the public is interested, and shall furnish such news to any and all newspapers desiring to publish the same at the same price as charged to the members of said association, or corporation, or stockholders of any such corporation, without discrimination between the members or stockholders and such newspapers desiring to publish such information and news; and shall render equal and impartial service to all publishers of newspapers who shall offer to pay a reasonable price therefor. '07, p. 128.

4494. (1762x4.) Certain contracts void. Any contract or agreement in violation of the provisions of this chapter, shall be absolutely void and not enforcible either in law or equity. '07, p. 128.

4495. (1762x5.) How combination proved. In all actions brought under this chapter, it shall be sufficient to prove that a trust or combination as defined herein exists, and that the defendant belonged to it, or acted for or in connection with it, without proving or producing any article of agreement, or any written instrument on which it may have been based, or that it was evidenced by any written instrument at all. The character of the trust or combination alleged may be established by proof of its general reputation as such. '07, p. 128.

4496. (1762x6.) Telephone and telegraph companies' agents. process, how served. All telephone and telegraph companies employed to transmit such information or news shall be deemed to be agents of such persons and corporations, and all legal process may be served by the officers of the law upon such telephone and telegraph companies; and an offer to pay a reasonable price to said telephone or telegraph companies shall be equivalent to an offer to pay the same to the persons or corporations gathering and disseminating such information or news. '07, p. 128.

4497. (1762x7.) Terms defined. The words "person" or "persons," wherever used in this chapter, shall be deemed to include corporations, companies, and associations, existing under or authorized by either the laws of the United States, or of any of the territories, any state, or any foreign state. '07, p. 128.

Person includes what, §§ 4485, 5848.

TITLE 88.

PUBLIC FUNDS.

4500. Collection of interest required on deposits of public funds. Any public officer having public funds in his custody may deposit the same, or any part thereof, with any bank incorporated under the national banking act and doing business in this state, or with any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of and engaged in business in this state; provided, that he requires such depository to pay interest on all funds so deposited at a rate of not less than 2 per cent per annum, and that he take from such depository collateral security or a good and sufficient surety company bond or a personal bond approved by him and sufficient in amount to fully protect such funds; provided, that the cost of any official bonds required to be furnished by any public treasurer shall be paid out of funds in the respective treasuries; provided, that the interest received under the provisions of this title by the state treasurer shall be placed in the general fund. '13, p. 205.

The commissioners may not direct the payment of the premium on the bond of an official until an amount of interest sufficient to pay it has been collected and placed in the general fund by the official.
Naylor v. Crabbe, 45 U. 617; 148 P. 359.

TITLE 89.

PUBLICITY AND DEVELOPMENT BOARD.

('17, p. 178.)

4501. Board created. A state publicity and development board consisting of nine members to be appointed by the governor, not more than one from any one organization, club, and society, to serve for a term of one year or at the pleasure of the governor, is hereby created.

4502. Duties and powers. It shall be the duty of the board, on behalf of and in the name of the state, to collect and disseminate information of interest and value to prospective investors and homeseekers, with a view of promoting, fostering, and developing the various interests, industries, and resources of the state. The board shall be empowered to expend such moneys for publicity and development purposes as may be received by the board from state appropriations or from other sources; provided, however, that all moneys expended be authorized by a majority of the board.

4503. Organization. It shall be the duty of the board to organize for state publicity and development work. The organization shall consist of a president, vice-president and treasurer, chosen from members of the board. The board shall also be empowered to choose a secretary, who may or may not be a member of the board.

TITLE 90.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

4505. (1763.) Membership. Term. Control of public schools. Establishment of libraries and gymnasiums. Secretary. The state board of education shall consist of the state superintendent of public instruction, the president of the University of Utah, the president of the Agricultural College of Utah, and six other persons appointed by the governor by and with the consent of the senate, two each biennium and for six-year terms; except that the first appointments under this chapter shall be classified by the governor as to the length of terms, so as to provide for such future biennial appointments. Appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired terms. In making such appointments the governor is to be influenced only by consideration of merit and fitness, and the appointments shall be made without reference to residence, occupation, party affiliation, religion, or sex. The governor may remove any member so appointed for immorality, malfeasance in office, incompetency, or continued neglect of duties. The general control and supervision of the public school system is vested in the state board of education. The state board of education shall also promote the establishment of libraries and gymnasiums throughout the state, and shall have power to appoint a secretary, who shall work under the direction of the state superintendent of public instruction. The salary of the secretary shall be fixed by the state board of education and approved by the state board of examiners. The board shall have the power to call to its assistance expert help to promote libraries and gymnasiums whenever needed. The actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred by such help and the salary of the secretary shall be paid from the contingent fund of the state board of education, upon the presentation of properly certified and approved vouchers. 4506. (1764.) Power to grant diplomas and certificates. The state board of education is hereby authorized and empowered to issue diplomas of two grades, namely, state high school and state grammar, and certificates of one grade, namely, state grammar. It shall also have power to issue temporary certificates of high school grade, good for one year. Am'd '03, p. 156.

4507. (1765.) Granted to whom. State diplomas or state certificates shall be issued only to professional teachers who have reached the age of twenty years, have had two years' successful experience in this state, and exhibit satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and freedom from serious infectious or hereditary disease, and upon critical examination are found to possess the requisite scholarship and culture. Am'd '03, p. 71.

4508. (1766.) Id. Valid where and for what time. These state diplomas and certificates shall be valid in any county, city, town, or school district in the state; the high school diplomas in any department of the public schools; the grammar grade diplomas, in grammar and primary departments; and certificates, in grammar and primary departments; state diplomas shall be good during the lifetime of the holders, and state certificates for a period of five years.

4509. (1767.) Id. Examinations required. Normal certificates. Life diplomas of other states. Ceasing to teach. Candidates for state professional diplomas of high school grade shall be required by examination or other evidence to exhibit a high degree of scholarship in all the following branches, namely: Arithmetic, United States history, reading and elocution, orthography, English grammar, political and physical geography, physiology, algebra, physics, rhetoric, drawing, plane and solid geometry, botany, English literature, general history, civil government, history and science of education, and psychology; and also in any three of the following branches, namely: Chemistry, geology, French, German, Latin, Greek, trigonometry, zoology, biology, and mineralogy. Candidates for state professional diplomas of grammar grade shall be required, by examination or other evidence, to exhibit satisfactory knowledge of all the following subjects, namely: Arithmetic, United States history, reading and elocution, orthography, English grammar, political and physical geography, physiology, nature studies, algebra, physics, rhetoric, drawing, plane geometry, botany, English literature, general history, civil government, the history and science of education, and psychology; provided, that:

1. Normal certificates and normal diplomas issued by the University of Utah subsequent to March 10, 1892, and all normal certificates and normal diplomas issued hereafter by the University of Utah shall have the force of state certificates; and the holder of any normal diploma as hereinbefore specified, after having had two years' successful experience in teaching in this state, shall be entitled to a high school diploma;

2. Holders of normal certificates issued by the University of Utah subsequent to March 10, 1892, and all normal certificates and normal diplomas issued hereafter by the University of Utah; and holders of high school certificates now in force and issued as provided by law by boards of education in cities of the first and second classes, and territorial first grade certificates and state diplomas and certificates now in force, may, at the discretion of the state board of education, be exempt from examination in any and all subjects which were required in the examination for such certificates;

3. Life diplomas issued by state boards in other states and shown to be of equal rank with those issued by the state board of this state may receive equal recognition after the holders acquire two years' successful experience in schools of this state. When countersigned by the state superintendent of public instruction under the direction of the state board, such diploma shall have equal validity with those of corresponding rank issued by the state board;

4. No professional diploma or certificate shall be in force if the holder allow a space of five years to elapse without following some educational pursuit.

Issuance of normal certificates, effect, § 5537.
Appointments to normal scholarships, § 5536.

4510. (1767x.) State board to prepare questions for examination of teachers. The state board of education shall prepare lists of questions to be used by the county superintendents of the several counties of the state in the examination of applicants for teachers' certificates, and shall make such suggestions concerning their use, prescribing rules and regulations as shall tend to secure uniform examinations in the different counties. The board may call to its aid, in the preparation of such questions, such assistance as it may deem proper. '01, p. 96.

4511. (1768.) Board may appoint assistant examiners. The state board of education shall have authority to appoint a sufficient number of assistants of eminent educational ability to conduct examinations, and the necessary expense connected with the holding of such examinations shall be paid out of the state school fund upon vouchers to be approved by the state board of examiners.

4512. (1769.) Board may revoke diplomas for cause. The state board of education is authorized and required to revoke, for immoral or unprofessional conduct or evident unfitness for teaching, state diplomas and state certificates issued under the provisions of this chapter.

4513. (1770.) Compensation and expenses of members of board. Clerical assistance. A statement of actual and necessary traveling expenses of the members of said board, incurred in attending meetings of the board, must be certified to by the state superintendent of public instruction, and be filed with the state board of examiners, who are empowered to allow or reject the same, in whole or in part, in the same manner as in the case of claims for which an appropriation has been made, and the state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the person named therein for the amount allowed. The members of the said state board of education shall receive $4 per day for time actually and necessarily spent in the performance of their duties; provided, that no member of the board receiving salary from the state or any subdivision thereof, or from any public institution, shall receive any such per diem. The board may engage necessary clerical assistance, the cost of which shall not exceed $250 annually, and shall be certified to as provided above in this section.

4514. (1771.) Chairman and secretary of board. Record. The state superintendent of public instruction shall be chairman of the state board, and he shall appoint a member of the board secretary, who shall keep a record of the board's proceedings.

4515. (1772.) Concurrence of majority necessary. A concurrence of a majority of all the members shall be necessary to the validity of an act of the board.

4516. (1773.) Meetings of board. The board shall meet at the call of the chairman, and at least twice each year.

CHAPTER 2.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT.

4517. (1774.) Election of state superintendent. Qualifications, term, oath, and bond. Deputy. There shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state at the regular state election in the year 1900, and every four years thereafter, a superintendent of public instruction, hereinafter called the state superintendent, who, at the time of his election, shall be a qualified elector, shall have been a resident citizen of the state of Utah for five years next preceding his election, shall have attained the age of thirty years, shall be the holder of a state certificate of the highest grade issued in some state, or shall be a graduate of some reputable university, college, or normal school. He shall reside and hold his office at the seat of government for the term of four years from the first Monday in January following his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Before entering upon his duties, he shall take the oath of office and give a bond in the penal sum of $5,000, with not less than two sureties, to be approved, recorded, and filed as provided by law. The state superintendent shall have power to appoint a deputy, who may represent him at teachers' institutes when other business prevents his being in attendance. The actual and necessary traveling expenses of such deputy shall be paid out of the school fund upon proper vouchers for the same being filed with the state board of examiners. Am'd '01, p. 46; '07, p. 39.

4518. (1775.) State superintendent charged with administration of school system. Apportionment of money. The state superintendent shall be charged with the administration of the system of public instruction and the general superintendence of the business relating to district schools of the state, and of the school revenue set apart and appropriated for their support, and shall have full power to investigate all matters pertaining to the public schools. It shall be the duty of the state auditor to notify the superintendent of the actual amount of money in the state treasury to the credit of the state district school fund on the 31st day of October and December, and on the 31st day of March of each year. Within ten days after receiving such notification, the superintendent shall apportion said fund among the several counties and cities of the first and second classes in the state under the provisions of this chapter, according to the number of persons between the ages of six and eighteen years residing in such county or city, as shown by the last school census lists of the several counties and cities; and immediately furnish to each county treasurer, to each treasurer of the board of education in cities of the first and second classes, and to the county superintendents, an abstract of such apportionments. He shall also certify such apportionment to the state auditor, and, upon receiving such certificate, the auditor shall forthwith draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the county treasurer of each county, or the treasurer of each city board of education, as the case may be, for the amount due said county or board; provided, that:

2. If any district or districts in any county have failed to maintain school for twenty weeks during the year next preceding that in which the apportionment is made, the number of children of school age in such district or districts shall be subtracted from the total school population of the state, and from the school population of the county in which such district or districts are located before making the apportionment; provided, that when the failure to maintain school in such district or districts the required length of time is due to quarantine, fire, flood, or other like uncontrollable cause, such failure shall not affect the basis upon which the apportionment is made.

State auditor to report to, § 5717.

4519. (1776.) Seal of state superintendent. Register and forms and regulations for reports. Opinions. Visiting schools, etc. The superintendent shall provide and keep a seal by which his official acts and copies of all papers and documents filed in his office may be authenticated, and when so authenticated said copies shall be received as evdience in all courts of this state equally with, and in like manner as the original. He shall prepare and transmit to the proper officers suitable forms and regulations for making all reports, with the necessary blanks therefor, also school registers, and all necessary instructions for the organization and government of district schools, and the conducting of all necessary proceedings under this title. He shall print and circulate a summary of his opinions and rulings. The cost of such blank forms, school registers, and for the printing of the summary of his opinions and rulings shall be paid out of the state school fund, and the vouchers therefor shall be certified to by the superintendent, and filed with the state board of examiners, who are empowered to allow or reject the same, in whole or in part, in the same manner as in the case of claims for which an appropriation has been made, and the state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the amount allowed in favor of the person to whom said amount is due. He shall visit at least once a year in each county in the state the principal schools and district school boards. He may examine the state auditor's books and records relative to school revenue, and those of other public officials relating to school accounts. He shall meet with school officers, advise with teachers, and lecture to institutes and public assemblies upon topics calculated to promote the interests of education.

4520. (1777.) State superintendent to advise with school officers. Effect of his decisions. He shall advise with county superintendents and with school boards and other school officers upon all matters involving the welfare of the schools. He shall, when requested by superintendents or other school officers, give them written answers to all questions concerning the school law. His decisions shall be held to be correct and final until set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction or by subsequent legislation.

4521. (1778.) Biennial report of state superintendent. On or before the 1st day of January preceding each biennial session of the legislature, the state superintendent shall present to the governor a report of his administration of the system of public instruction. There shall be printed at least 1,000 copies of his report and laws relating to the schools, which shall be distributed under his direction. The superintendent in his report shall furnish a brief exhibit:

1. Of his labors, results of his experience and observations as to the operation of the public school system, and suggestions as to the remedy for imperfections;

2. Of the amount of school revenue and its general condition as to sufficiency or insufficiency;

3. Of such plans as he may have matured for the better organization of the schools, and for the increase and economical expenditure of the school revenue;

4. A full statement of the condition and amount of all funds and property appropriated for educational purposes; the number and grade of schools in each county, and in each city of the first and of the second class, the number of children between the ages of six and eighteen years in each county and in each city of the first and of the second class, with the number of such attending district schools, the average number of children that have attended district schools during the two years previous to July 1st of that year, the number that can read and write, the amount of school money raised by county taxation or otherwise, the amount expended for salaries of teachers and for building schoolhouses;

5. A comparison of the results of the two years then closing with those of the two years preceding, indicating the progress of public instruction, and, as far as can be ascertained, the number and condition of private schools, academies, and colleges in the state. Am'd '05, p. 88.

4522. (1779.) Id. He shall append to his report such information relative to the system of public instruction, the schools, their annual revenues, and such other matters as he may deem proper. He shall include in his report statistical tables compiled from information transmitted to his office, with summaries, averages, and totals appended thereto; also a statement of the annual collection of school revenue, and his apportionment thereof; and when he deems it of sufficient interest, he shall append extracts from the correspondence of school officers, showing either the salutary or defective operation of the system. He shall furnish the United States commissioner of education at Washington such information as that officer may require.

4523. (1780.) Quarterly expense account of state superintendent. Books, etc., to successor. At the end of each month he shall file with the state board of examiners an itemized account of his expenses, verified by his oath. The said board shall examine the same, and, if the account is found to be correct and the expenditures necessary, shall certify the same to the state auditor, who shall issue a warrant to the state treasurer for the amount due on such account, and at the end of each quarter year, for one-fourth of the superintendent's annual salary, and shall charge the same to the state district school fund. At the expiration of his term of office, he shall deliver to his successor all books, records, documents, maps, reports, papers, and other articles pertaining to his office. Am'd '01, p. 18.

4524. (1781.) State superintendent may call convention of county and city superintendents. The state superintendent shall have power to call annually a convention of the county and city superintendents, to assemble at such time and place as he shall deem most convenient, for the discussion of questions pertaining to the supervision and administration of public schools, the laws relating thereto, and such other subjects affecting the welfare and interest of the public schools as shall properly be brought before it. It is hereby made the duty of all county and city superintendents to attend such conventions when called. The actual traveling expenses of county superintendents for attending such conventions shall be allowed by the board of county commissioners, and paid out of the same fund as the salaries of county superintendents. The actual traveling expenses of city superintendents attending such conventions shall be allowed, and paid out of the same fund as salaries of city superintendents. Am'd '05, p. 89.

Superintendent may call text book convention, § 4556.

CHAPTER 3.

SCHOOL SITE OR BUILDING.

4527. (1823.) Election to determine school site or building. Building plans to be submitted to commission. Approval. Employment of architect. Duties. When necessary for the welfare of the schools of the district, or to provide proper school privileges for the children therein, or whenever petitioned so to do by one-fourth of the resident taxpayers of the district, the board shall call a meeting of the qualified voters, as defined in § 1811, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, at some convenient time and place by the board, to vote upon the question of selection, purchase, exchange, or sale of school house site, or the erection, removal, purchase, exchange, or sale of a school house, or for payment of teachers' salaries, or for current expenses of maintaining school. The chairman of the board shall be chairman, and the clerk of the board secretary of such meeting. In case either of these officers is not present, his place shall be filled by some one chosen by the voters present Notice, stating the time, place, and purpose of such meeting, shall be posted in three public places in the district by the clerk of the district board, at least twenty days prior to such meeting. If a majority of such voters present at such meeting shall by vote select a school house site, or shall be in favor of the purchase, exchange, or sale of a designated school house site, or of the erection, removal, or sale of a school house, as the case may be, the board shall locate, purchase, exchange, or sell such site, or erect, remove, or sell such school house, as the case may be, in accordance with such vote; provided, that it shall require a two-thirds vote to order the removal of a school house; provided, that no school house shall hereafter be erected in any school district in this state, not included in cities of the first and the second class, and no addition to a school building, the cost of which school house or addition thereto shall exceed $1000, shall be contracted for or erected until the detailed plans and specifications for the same shall have been submitted to a commission hereinafter provided for, and the approval of said commission indorsed thereon. Such plans and specifications shall show in detail its construction, the heating and ventilating system, and the window lighting of such building.

There is hereby created a commission consisting of the state superintendent of public instruction, the secretary of the state board of health, and the state high school inspector. It shall be the duty of said commission to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The commission shall not approve any plan for the erection of any school building, or addition thereto, unless the same shall provide at least fifteen square feet of floor space to each two hundred cubic feet of air space for each pupil to be accommodated in each study or recitation room therein, and the total area of glass space in windows of each class or recitation room shall not be less than one-sixth of the floor area of such room. And no such plans shall be approved by them unless provision is made therein for assuring at least thirty cubic feet of pure air every minute for each pupil and facilities for exhausting foul or vitiated air therein, same to be positive and independent of atmospheric changes; and all gymasiums and auditoriums hereafter to be constructed shall be well lighted and ventilated, and all cloak rooms shall be well ventilated. Buildings of four or less class rooms may be heated and ventilated with approved school room heaters. No tax voted by a district meeting or other competent authority in any school district shall be levied by the trustees or boards of education until the commission shall certify that the plans and specifications of the same comply with the provisions of this chapter; provided, the commission shall report within sixty days after the plans are submitted to it. All school house plans and detail statements shall be submitted in duplicate and be filed and approved as required by this chapter. Buildings of two stories or more shall have the stairs, halls, heating apparatus, and fuel room constructed of fireproof material, and shall have sufficient hall space, and a sufficient number of outward opening doors, stairways, lighting and heating plants and apparatus arranged to facilitate egress in case of fire or accident and afford the requisite and proper accommodations for public protection in such case. The commission hereby created shall serve without compensation, and shall have the authority to employ an architect, who shall receive a compensation not to exceed $8 per diem for actual services rendered, which compensation shall be audited and paid from the state school fund as other accounts are audited and paid, and in addition thereto he shall receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred while in the discharge of his official duties. It shall be his duty to examine all school plans and inspect all school buildings or additions at least once during the erection of such building or additions, or when called upon by the commission, to ascertain if all the provisions of this chapter have been complied with. It shall also be his duty to inspect the school buildings of the state, when called upon, and when he shall find any such buildings to be insanitary or unsafe for occupancy, he shall report the same to the commission. The commission shall thereupon make such recommendations to the boards of education or school trustees for the correction of existing insanitary and unsafe conditions as may be deemed necessary for the protection of the health and safety of the pupils, and it shall be the duty of the said school trustees or boards of education to comply with such recommendations, within a reasonable time thereafter. The said architect member shall also act as an advisory architect whenever called upon by school trustees, and inspect and advise on the heating or ventilating system not operating efficiently in the school; provided, said architect shall not represent, directly or indirectly, any building materials or construction firm, association, or corporation, nor shall recommend, prescribe, or advise the use of any particular brand or brands of building materials to be used for and in the construction of buildings provided for. Whenever a school building erected under the provisions of this chapter shall be completed and approved, the commission shall issue a certificate of approval to the trustees or boards of education of the district in which such building is erected. Am'd '09, p. 30; '15, p. 130.

Commission for erection of school building, § 4527.

Qualification of voters, Con. art. 4, sec. 2.

Sec. 1811, Compiled Laws, 1907, was repealed by chap. 78, laws '15, approved March 15, and the same section was referred to as if it were in force in chap. 93, laws '15, approved March 19, in amending § 4527, sec. 1811 is as follows:

1811. Who qualified to vote for tax, bond, etc. Every citizen of the United States of the age of twenty-one years or over, who has been a resident of the state of Utah for one year, of the county four months, and of the school district for sixty days, both immediately preceding the day on which any meeting is held for the purpose of voting on the question of levying a special tax or issuing bonds for any school district, or high school district, or for selecting a schoolhouse site, and who has paid a property tax in said district during the year next preceding, shall be entitled to vote at any such meeting.

CHAPTER 4.

COURSES OF STUDY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

4531. (1837x.) Course of study to be prescribed. Within thirty days after the adoption of text books, the state superintendent of public instruction, the principal of the state normal school, and five school superintendents to be appointed by the state board of education, shall meet and prescribe a course of study for the schools of the state not included in cities of the first and the second class, and shall furnish free of cost to each county or school district, the number of courses of study ordered by the superintendent of schools. '07, p. 55; '13, p. 17.

4532. (1837x1.) No compensation. Expenses. The committee shall serve without compensation; provided, that the actual and necessary expenses of the superintendents while attending meetings of the committee shall be paid out of the state superintendent's contingent fund. '07, p. 55; '13, p. 18.

STUDY OF THE HABITS OF BIRDS.

4533. Habits of birds, etc., to be observed in schools. Bird day established. It shall be the duty of the board of education or school board of every school district within this state to cause to be observed in the schools the last Friday in April of each year as bird day, with appropriate lessons and exercises relating to the observation, the study, and the value of birds and other forms of animal life, particularly as aids in the extermination of insects, weeds, and other pests. '13, p. 93.

4534. (1829.) Physiology and hygiene. It shall be the duty of all boards of education and trustees in charge of schools and educational institutions supported in whole or in part by public funds to make provisions for systematic and regular instruction in physiology and hygiene, including special reference to the effects of stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.

The foregoing and the succeeding section were in the body of chap. 78, laws of '15, declared repealed, but the repeal was not included in the title of the act.

4535. (1829x.) Sanitation and the cause and prevention of disease shall be taught. There shall be established in the normal schools of the state, and and in the public schools, beginning with the eighth grade, a course of instruction upon the subjects of sanitation, and the cause and prevention of disease. It shall be the duty of the state board of education and the state board of health, acting conjointly, to prepare a course of study to carry out the provisions of this section. '07, p. 116.

Control of board of health, § 2755. Compulsory vaccination unlawful, § 2763.

SUPERVISORS OF AGRICULTURAL, INDUSTRIAL, AND HOME ECONOMICS EDUCATION.

('17, p. 394.)

4536. Positions created. There is hereby created the positions of state supervisor of agricultural and industrial education, and state supervisor of home economics education for the high schools and district schools of the state.

4537. Designation of supervisors. Qualification of appointees. The state leader in junior vocational work at the Agricultural College of Utah is hereby made state supervisor of agricultural and industrial education for the high schools and district schools of the state, and the state leader in junior vocational work for girls at the Agricultural College of Utah is hereby made state supervisor of home economics education for the high schools and district schools of the state. The appointees of the state supervisor of agricultural and industrial education and state supervisor of home economics education to hold these positions must be twenty-five years of age or over, must have at least a bachelor of science degree in agricultural or home economics, respectively; and must understand the practical side of agricultural and home economics, and must possess the qualifications prescribed by the state board of education.

4538. Powers and duties of supervisors. Co-operation with state schools. Reports. The supervisors of agricultural and industrial and home economics education shall do their work under the supervision of the state board of education, to systematize the teaching of agriculture and mechanic arts and home economics in the high schools and district schools of the state, suggesting the courses particularly suited to the individual students and to the communities in which the schools are located. They shall visit each county school district in the state at least once each year and make suggestions as to the best methods of teaching the principles underlying agricultural and industrial and home economics work in the school room, and the laboratory work and the practical work to be done by the pupils at home. They shall make recommendations to each county or district superintendent, each principal, and each agricultural and home economics teacher, for the improvement of the agricultural and home economics teaching in each particular school. They must report annually in writing to the state board of education. These supervisors shall co-operate with the Agricultural College of Utah and the state normal school of the University of Utah in all matters pertaining to subject matter and methods underlying their work.

4539. Compensation. The duties of the state supervisors of agricultural and industrial and home economics education for the high schools and district schools of the state shall be performed without additional cost to the state other than the salaries which shall be received for the performance of their duties from the Agricultural College of Utah as leaders of vocational work.

PROMOTION OF VOCATIONAL EDUCATION.

('17, p. 424.)

4540. Acceptance of the requirements of the act of congress. The state of Utah hereby accepts §§ 2, 3, and 4, and all the benefits of the act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, entitled, "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational education; to provide for co-operation with the states in the promotion of such education in agriculture and the trades and industries; to provide for co-operation with the states in the preparation of teachers of vocational subjects; and to appropriate money and regulate its expenditure," approved February 23, 1917, and will observe and comply with all the requirements of said act.

4541. Administration of the provisions. The state board of education, consisting of five or more persons, is hereby designated as the state board for the purposes of the said act, and it is hereby given all necessary power to cooperate with the federal board for vocational education in the administration of the provisions of the act.

4542. Custodian of funds. The state treasurer is hereby designated as the custodian of all money to be received for said fund by appropriation, both federal and state, and he is hereby named as the official for the disbursement thereof upon orders authorized by the state board.

4543. Fund designated. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter, there is hereby created and set apart a special fund to be known as the federal vocational education fund of Utah.

KINDERGARTENS.

4544. (1966.) Board may maintain kindergartens. Teachers. School boards may establish and maintain kindergartens in their several districts, open to children resident therein between the ages of four and six years. The cost thereof may be paid in whole or in part out of the school funds of the district. Kindergartens established under the provisions of this section shall be subject to the control of the school boards of the respective districts in which they are maintained. Teachers for said schools, unless holding a certificate of efficiency in kindergarten work granted by the State Normal School, shall be required to sustain a special examination relating to the principles and practice of the kindergarten, such examination to be conducted under the direction of the state board of education.

Kindergarten schools part of public school system, Con. art. 10, sec. 2.

4545. (1966x.) Kindergartens provided for. Maintenance. All school districts of a population of 2,000 and upwards shall hereafter establish and maintain one or more kindergartens in said school district, open to children resident therein between the ages of four and six years. Said kindergartens must be established within four years after March 16, 1903. The cost of maintaining such kindergartens shall come out of the district school fund of the respective districts. '03, p. 139.

CHAPTER 5.

EXAMINATION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN FOR DEFECTIVE SIGHT, ETC.

('11, p. 285.)

4546. Duty of teacher. It shall be the duty of every teacher engaged in teaching in the public schools of the state, separately and carefully, to test and examine every child under his jurisdiction to ascertain if such child is suffering from defective sight or hearing, or diseased teeth, or breathes through its mouth. If such test determines that any child has such defect, it shall be the duty of the teacher to notify, in writing, the parent of the child of such defect and explain to such parent the necessity of medical attendance for such child.

4547. State board of health to prescribe rules. The state board of health shall prescribe rules for making such tests, and shall furnish to boards of education and boards of trustees of school districts rules of instruction, test cards, blanks, and other useful appliances for the carrying out of the purposes of this chapter.

4548. When tests shall be made. During the first month of each school year, after the opening of school, teachers must make the tests required by this chapter upon the children then in attendance at school; and thereafter, as children enter school during the year, such tests must be made immediately upon their entrance.

4549. Duty of boards of education. It shall be the duty of the boards of education and boards of trustees of the several school districts of the state to enforce the provisions of this chapter.

4550. May employ physicians. The board of education or board of trustees of any school district may employ regularly licensed physicians to make the tests required by § 4546, and when such tests are made by a physician, the teacher shall not be required to make the tests provided for in § 4546.

CHAPTER 6.

CIVIC CENTERS.

4551. Designation. Purpose. Proviso. There is hereby established a civic center at each and every public school house within the state of Utah, where the citizens of the respective school districts within the state of Utah may engage in supervised recreational activities, and where they may meet and discuss, from time to time, as they may desire, any and all subjects and questions which, in their jugment, may appertain to the educational, political, economic, artistic, and moral interests of the citizens of the respective communities in which they may reside; provided, that such use of said public schoolhouses and grounds for said meetings shall in no wise interfere with such use and occupancy of said public schoolhouses and grounds as is now or hereafter may be required for the purposes of said public schools of the state of Utah.

4552. Payment of incidental expenses provided. Lighting, heating, janitor service, and the services of a special supervising officer when needed, in connection with such use of public school buildings and grounds, as set forth in § 4551, shall be provided for out of the county or special school funds of the respective school districts in the same manner and by the same authority as such similar services are now provided for. Such use of the said schoolhouses, property, and grounds shall be granted free; provided, that in case of entertainments where an admission fee is charged, a charge may be made for the use of said schoolhouses, property, and grounds.

4553. Management. Rules. Supervisor. The management, direction, and control of said civic center shall be vested in the board of directors of the school district. Said board of directors shall make all needful rules and regulations for conducting said civic center meetings and for such recreational activities as are provided for in § 4551; and said board of directors may appoint a special supervising officer who shall have charge of the grounds, preserve order, protect the school property, and do all things necessary in the capacity of a peace officer to carry out the provisions and the intents and purposes of this chapter.

4554. Use of schoolhouses subject to discretion of directors. The provisions of this chapter shall not be mandatory upon the board of directors of any school district, in respect to their authority and right to exercise discretionary powers as to refusal of the use of such schoolhouse for any such purpose or purposes; but whenever, in their judgment, it seems inadvisable to permit the use of such schoolhouse for the purpose requested, the board shall have the power and authority to refuse the use of such schoolhouse for any of the purposes mentioned in this chapter.

CHAPTER 7.

TEXT BOOKS.

4555. (1854.) Commission created. Duties. No compensation. Expenses. A state text book commission is hereby created and established to consist of the state superintendent of public instruction, the president of the University of Utah, the president of the Agricultural College of Utah, the principal of the state normal school, and five resident citizens of the state to be appointed by the governor, three of whom shall be superintendents of schools. Each appointed commissioner shall serve during the period of appointment and without compensation, but his actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of his official duty, the account for which shall be verified on oath, shall be paid out of the public school fund. The members of this commission, or a majority of them, shall decide what text books shall be adopted for use in the district schools and the high schools of the state, except in cities of the first and the second class, and their use shall be mandatory in all district and high schools of the state, except in cities of the first and the second class. '09, p. 76; '13, p. 43.

Neither legislature nor state board may prescribe text books, Con. art. 10, sec. 9.
Adoption of text books in cities, §§ 4695-4700.
Course of study, § 4528.
The acts required of the convention provided for in this section and §§ 4556, 4560, were not judicial, and a person injured by its determination was entitled to restrain the execution thereof.
Tanner v. Nelson, 25 U. 226; 70 P. 984.

4556. (1855.) Convention, when held; how called; purpose. The state superintendent shall call a convention of the text book commission at least six months prior to the expiration of any contract regulating the supply and the use of text books in the district schools and the high schools throughout the state, except in cities of the first and the second class, and shall give at least sixty days' notice of the time of holding such convention by publication in a newspaper having general circulation in the state. Such notice shall state the subjects upon which text books shall be adopted and that sealed proposals will be received by the state superintendent of schools for furnishing such books, the place where and the day and hour when all proposals will be opened, and that the convention reserves the right to reject any and all proposals. Said convention shall be called for the adoption of text books every five years as herein provided; and any text book so adopted shall not be changed within a period of five years after its adoption, except for a sufficient cause to be decided at a special convention called for that purpose; provided, that the contracts entered into in 1907 shall extend until July 1, 1913. Am'd '03, p. 6; '09, p. 76; '13, p. 43.

4557. (1856.) Proposals for text books and awards. At the time and place specified in said notice, the convention shall meet and publicly open and read all the proposals which have been received, and shall make their awards therein within thirty days thereafter.

The failure to literally comply with the provisions of this section is immaterial. Tanner v. Nelson, 25 U. 226; 70 P. 984.

4558. (1857.) Samples and prices. Sealed proposals must be accompanied by sample copies of the books proposed to be furnished, together with a statement of the introductory or exchange price, and of the wholesale and retail prices at which the publishers agree to furnish each book within the state during the full time for which said books may be adopted.

4559. (1858.) When proposals are unsatisfactory. If no satisfactory proposals are received, the state superintendent of public instruction may advertise anew, and the books in use shall be continued in use until satisfactory proposals shall have been received and accepted. Am'd '03, p. 6.

4560. (1859.) Publishers to enter into contract. The publisher or publishers whose proposals shall be accepted must enter into a written contract with the state superintendent of schools, and shall give a bond with two sufficient sureties in a reasonable sum, to be fixed by the convention, for the faithful performance of such contract.

Objection that convention failed to fix the amount of the bonds not sustainable. Tanner v. Nelson, 25 U. 226; 70 P. 984.

4561. (1860.) School officer or teacher not to act as agent. No school officer or teacher in any district school in this state shall act as agent for any author, publisher, bookseller, or other person to introduce any book, apparatus, furniture, or any article whatever in any district in which such school officer or teacher is officially engaged.

4562. (1861.) Receiving money or bonus from publisher. Penalty. If any member of the state text book commission shall receive from the publisher of any school books or from any other person interested in the sale or introduction of any books, maps, charts, or other school supplies into the public schools in the state, any money or bonus in any manner as an inducement for the recommendation or introduction of any such school book in the schools of the state, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. '09, p. 76.

4563. (1862.) Failure to enforce use of books adopted. Penalty. If the trustees of any district shall refuse or neglect to enforce the use of text books adopted by the convention, such refusal or neglect shall be a misdemeanor on the part of any trustee so refusing or neglecting, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $100 and by removal from office.

CHAPTER 8.

SCHOOL TAXES AND FUNDS.

STATE AND COUNTY TAX.

4564. (1863.) State treasurer to receive and pay over school fund. The state treasurer shall receive and hold as a special fund all public school moneys paid into the state treasury, and pay them over on the warrant of the state auditor, issued upon the order of the state superintendent of public instruction in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amount due said county, and in favor of the treasurer of each board of education for the amount due such board.

State auditor to report, § 5717. State tax for district schools, § 5998.

STATE SCHOOL FUNDS; APPORTIONMENT.

4565. (1867.) Apportionment and use of school funds. The county superintendent of each county shall, immediately upon receiving the apportionment from the state superintendent, proceed to apportion the state school funds to the several school districts of his county according to the number of school children residing in each district over six and under eighteen years of age, as shall appear from the last enumeration reported to his office. The county superintendent shall apportion the county school funds in like manner, and as soon as practicable after the receipt of the same or any portion thereof; provided, that before making such apportionment he shall apportion to cities of the first and of the second class and to county school districts of the first class their proportion per capita of the county school fund, after which he shall set aside so much of said county fund as the board of county commissioners shall order for the payment of the compensation of the county superintendent, members of the board of examiners, and the expenses of the county institute, and contingent expenses of the county superintendent's office, and the actual and necessary traveling expenses of the county superintendent while making his official visits, but all warrants drawn by the county superintendent for the disbursement of the fund so set aside shall be approved by the board of county commissioners; provided, further, that no part of either of said funds shall be used otherwise than for the payment of teachers, except as provided otherwise in this section. The county superintendent shall file a duplicate of such apportionment with the county auditor.

State superintendent to apportion school fund, § 4518.

The collection of the county school tax within Salt Lake City and the subtraction of a certain sum therefrom for county school purposes before the fund is distributed, under certain provisions added to the revenue act of 1896 on pp. 489 and 497, are in violation of Con. art. 10, sec. 6, and such provisions, being in conflict therewith, are invalid.

Merrill v. Spencer, 14 U. 273; 46 P. 1096.

SPECIAL TAX FOR SCHOOL SITES, ETC.

4566. (1871.) Special tax for school sites, buildings, etc. Limit. When it is necessary to raise funds to purchase a school site or improve the same, or to purchase, build, rent, repair, or furnish school houses, or redeem outstanding bonds, or for payment of teachers' salaries or for current expenses, a tax may be voted, in any sum not to exceed 6½ mills on the dollar on all taxable property in the district, at a meeting called for that purpose in the manner provided in Chap. 5, Title 66, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907. When a tax shall have been voted for school purposes at any meeting provided for in aforesaid title and chapter, the trustees shall file with the county superintendent and the county clerk, within ten days after such meeting, a copy of the notice calling such meeting, and a copy of the minutes thereof, which shall be kept on file by the said superintendent and clerk, subject to inspection by any person. Repealed '15, p. 98; amended '15, p. 197.

Chapter 5, Title 66, Compiled Laws 1907, (§§ 1804-1816) was repealed by chap. 78, laws '15, approved March 17; this section was repealed by ch. 78 laws '15 and then amended by chap. 111, laws '15, approved March 22.

In an action to enjoin the carrying out of a contract by the district board of education for the erection of a high school in a particular location, it will be presumed that the board called an election and that the majority of the voters voted for the erection of the high school at that location in accordance with law.

Tooele Bldg. Assoc. v. Tooele High School Dist., 43 U. 362; 134 P. 894.

A corporation which is a taxpayer may sue to restrain the carrying out of an illegal contract by a district board of education for the erection of a high school.

Id.

DIFFERENTIAL AID FOR SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

('17, p. 225.)

4567. Revenue for elementary schools. Reports to boards of education. In any school district of the state where the revenues derived from the state, county, and district school tax levies are insufficient to enable the board of education to employ teachers of the elementary schools for a period of at least thirty-two weeks, and there has been made in said district the maximum district school tax levy, and there has been made in the county in which the district is situated the maximum county school tax levy, and there is not a sufficient amount from the allotment of state and county school funds and from the district school moneys, after all necessary current expenses are paid from the district fund, to pay the elementary teachers of said district an average salary of $600 for the current school year, the board of education shall make report thereof, giving the amount available in such district for the payment of teachers for the school year, together with an itemized account of current expenses, verified under oath, to the state board of education not later than the 15th day of May in such school year. The state board of education shall, by the 15th day of June of such school year, make to the state auditor, the state treasurer, and the state board of examiners report of any school district or districts so reported.

4568. Appropriations. Terms of school. Number and salary of teachers. Distribution of payments. There shall be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated a sum sufficient to make the amount available for the payment of elementary school teachers in such district or districts average $600 for each elementary school teacher for the school year; provided, that not more than $20,000 per annum shall be so available; provided, further, that the elementary schools in such district or districts are maintained for at least thirty-two weeks; provided, further, that the number of teachers employed in such district or districts shall be subject to the approval of the state board of education; and provided, further, that if the $20,000 above designated be not sufficient to meet the claims of all districts, the state board of education shall be authorized to make a pro rata distribution of said fund to the districts entitled to differential aid under the provisions of this chapter.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL TAX.

('11, p. 43.)

4575. State levy for high school purposes. Limit. The state board of equalization is hereby authorized and directed to levy annually, a state tax of not more than two-tenths of one mill on each dollar of valuation of the taxable property in the state, for high school purposes; and the levy and collection of said tax must be performed in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes are levied and collected, and shall be apportioned to the several cities and school districts maintaining high schools as provided by law. Am'd '15, p. 198.

4576. Board of education to be notified. On the first Monday in October of each year, the board of education or school board of any city or school district in which a high school is established shall notify in writing the state board of education of the establishment of such high school and the intention of such city or district to claim the benefits of the high school fund.

4577. Standard to be fixed. The state board of education shall by rule fix the standard upon which, and the period during the year that, high schools in this state shall be maintained in order to obtain any part of the high school fund. Such rule shall be fixed on or before the 1st day of May, 1911; and thereafter if such rule be amended, the amendment shall take effect on the 1st day of July at least one year after the date of its adoption. A copy of such rule or amendment shall be furnished to each city or district establishing high schools immediately after its adoption.

4578. Report of attendance to state board of education. On the last Monday of January of each year the board of education or board of the city or district in which a high school is established and maintained shall report to the state board of education the actual number of students enrolled in such high school, and an estimate of the number of students who will attend such high school for a period of at least twenty weeks during the current school year; which report must be approved by the president or chairman and the clerk of the board. On the second Monday in June of each year the board of education, or board of city or district in which a high school is established and maintained, shall report to the state board of education the actual number of students enrolled who have been in actual attendance in such high school for a period of at least twenty weeks, together with the daily average attendance of the students so enrolled during such school year; which report must be verified under oath by the president or chairman and the clerk of the board. Such report shall also give such additional information as the state board of education may require in order to enable it to determine the standard of the school. Am'd '15, p. 189.

4579. State auditor to report amount of funds on hand. On the last Monday in January and on the second Monday in June of each year the state auditor shall report to the state board of education the amount then on hand in the state high school fund. Am'd '15, p. 189.

4580. Apportionment, how computed. Disbursement. Upon receipt of the January reports mentioned in § 4578, and upon receipt of the January report of the state auditor as provided in the next preceding section, the state board of education shall apportion to the several cities and school districts maintaining high schools of the standard fixed by the state board of education, 70 per cent of the amount of money then on hand in the state high school fund as shown by the auditor's report; such apportionment shall be made according to the estimated number of students who will be in attendance at each high school during a period of at least twenty weeks, as shown by the January report of the board of education or board of the city or district required to be made by § 4578. The state board of education shall immediately furnish to the treasurer of each school board in cities or districts where any such school is maintained an abstract of such apportionment. The state board of education shall also certify such apportionment to the state auditor, and upon receiving such certificate the state auditor shall forthwith draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of the school board for the amount to which said city or district is entitled under such apportionment. Upon receipt of the June reports mentioned in § 4578, and upon receipt of the June report of the state auditor as required in the next preceding section, the state board of education shall make a final apportionment of the amount on hand in the state high school fund, as shown by the auditor's report, to the several cities and school districts maintaining high schools for the required period of time and of the standard fixed by the state board of education. In making such final apportionment the state board of education shall determine the total amount of funds to which each high school is entitled for the entire school year as shown by the number of students who have attended such high school for a period of at least twenty weeks as shown by the June report of the board of education or board of the city district required in § 4578. The state board of education shall then subtract from the total amount to which each school is entitled the amount such school has already received, and it shall thereupon apportion the balance to such school. The state board of education shall immediately furnish to the treasurer of each school board in cities or districts where any such school is maintained an abstract of such final apportionment. The state board of education shall thereupon certify such final apportionment to the state auditor, and upon receiving such certificate the state auditor shall forthwith draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of the school board for the amount to which the said city or district is entitled under such final apportionment. '15, p. 189.

4581. Appointment of inspector. The state board of education shall appoint a competent person to inspect at least twice during each school year all high schools claiming any benefits from the high school fund.

4582. Compensation and expenses of inspector. The compensation and traveling expenses of such inspector shall be fixed by the state board of education, subject to the concurrence of the state board of examiners, and shall be paid out of the high school fund upon claims properly verified by the state board of education and approved by the state board of examiners.

HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT TAX.

4583. Tax levy for high school districts. Limit. If at such elections a majority of the qualified electors shall have voted in favor of the establishment and maintenance of one or more high schools in such district, then the board of education shall establish such high school or schools, and are authorized to levy a tax on all taxable property in the district for the support thereof, in any amount not exceeding two mills on the dollar.

Laws 1911, chap. 31, providing for the creation of high school districts, was repealed by laws of '15, chap. 78, approved March 17, and §§ 11, and 12 of the original act, that is, laws '11, chap. 31, were amended, laws '15, chap. 111, approved March 22, being the above and next section.

4584. Id. Powers of board. Tax not to exceed 3 mills. The board of education shall have the power and authority to purchase and sell school house sites and improvements thereon; to construct and erect school buildings, and to furnish the same; to establish and maintain high schools at such places as they may be authorized by a vote of the qualified electors of the district; to establish and support school libraries; to purchase all necessary high school apparatus, books, and school supplies; to levy annually upon all the taxable property in the district a tax not exceeding 2 mills on the dollar, or such other or further tax as shall have been authorized by a vote of the qualified electors of the district at an election regularly called; provided, that such tax authorized at such election shall not exceed 3 mills on the dollar; to provide for the transportation of such pupils as reside too far from the school to walk thereto; to adopt by-laws and rules for the procedure of the board, to make and enforce all needful rules for the control and maintenance of high schools in the district, or to admit students from other high school districts upon such terms as may be equitable and just.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TAX AND PURPOSES.

4585. (1815.) Levy for school district purposes. Limit. Collection and disbursement. The school district board shall have general charge, direction, and management of the schools of the district, and the care, custody, and control of all property belonging to the district, subject to the provisions of the law. It shall annually, on or before the 1st day of May, prepare a statement and estimate of the amount necessary for the support and maintenance of the schools under its charge for the school year commencing on the 1st day of July next thereafter; also the amount necessary to pay the interest accruing during the year, and not included in any prior estimate, on bonds issued by said board; also the amount of sinking funds necessary to be collected during such year for the payment and redemption of said bonds; and shall forthwith cause the same to be certified by the president and clerk of said board to the board of county commissioners in the county in which the district is situated, and said board of county commissioners, after having extended the valuation of property on the assessment rolls, shall levy such per cent as shall, as nearly as may be, raise the amount required by said school board. Said taxes shall be collected by the county treasurer as other taxes are collected, but without additional compensation for assessing and collecting, and he shall pay to the treasurer of said school board promptly as collected, who shall hold the same subject to the order of the school district board; provided, that the tax for the support and maintenance of the schools to defray current expenses and to purchase text books, shall not exceed 4 mills on the dollar of taxable property in said district, and provided, further, that the tax for paying of interest on bonds shall not exceed 1 mill on the dollar or that the tax for a sinking fund for the redemption of bonds shall not exceed 1 mill on the dollar of taxable property in said district. It shall have the power to establish and maintain school libraries, which in districts that have no free library or reading room may be open to the public under such regulations as the board may provide. For the purpose of purchasing books and magazines for these school libraries, the board shall set aside annually from the tax herein provided an amount equal to 15 cents per capita for each child in the district between the ages of six and eighteen years, inclusive, the computation being based on the school census at the time when the tax is levied; provided, that the library fund thus created shall be expended under the direction of the state board of education for such books and magazines as they shall recommend and under such regulations as they may prescribe; provided, further, that this chapter shall apply to all school districts outside of cities of the first and second classes, and to county school districts of the first class. Am'd '09, p. 47; '15, p. 195.

May employ physician, § 4540. School house as civic center, §§ 4551-4554.

TAXES TO PAY JUDGMENT FOR TAXES ILLEGALLY LEVIED.

4586. (1815x.) Trustees may levy tax to pay judgment obtained for taxes illegally collected. When any judgment is obtained in a court of competent jurisdiction against a school district for taxes unlawfully collected for and received by such school district, or when there are no funds for the payment of warrants issued by the trustees of any school district to refund taxes unlawfully collected for and received by such school district, the trustees of any such school district shall, in addition to all other taxes which they are empowered to levy, order to be raised upon the taxable property in such school district a sufficient amount of revenue to pay such judgment and warrants.

'01, p. 132.

CHAPTER 9.

CREATING INDEBTEDNESS.

4590. (1875.) Debt not to exceed current taxes without vote of people. Any school district or any board of education of a city of the first or of the second class may create indebtedness for the maintenance of the schools within such district or city not in excess of the taxes for the current school year; and any such school district or board of education may create indebtedness for the purpose of purchasing school sites and erecting school buildings not in excess of any tax that may have been lawfully imposed for such purposes, and prior to the collection thereof; but no debt in excess of the school taxes for the current year shall be created by any school district in any county, or by the board of education of any city of the first or of the second class in this state, unless the proposition to create such debt shall have been submitted to a vote of such qualified electors as shall have paid a property tax therein during the twelve calendar months next preceding such election, and a majority of those voting thereon shall have voted in favor of incurring such debt. The election provided for in this section shall be held, conducted, and returns made, as provided in § 4709.

Limitation on creating indebtedness, Con. art. 14, sec. 3, 4. §§ 4627-4638.
Bond election in county district of first class, Certification that bonds, warrants, etc., are within the debt limit, §§ 466-469.

4591. (1876.) Additional indebtedness to maintain schools, how authorized. Whenever debts equal to the school taxes for the current year shall have been created by any school district in this state, or by the board of education of any city of the first or of the second class in this state, thereby rendering it necessary to create and incur additional indebtedness in order to maintain and support the schools of any such school district, or the schools controlled by any such board of education, for the current year or any part thereof, then the trustees of any such school district, or any such board of education, as the case may be, may cause the proposition to incur and create such additional indebtedness to be submitted to a vote of such qualified electors as shall have paid a property tax in any such school district or city in the year preceding such election.

City school bonds, election, § 4708.

4592. (1877.) Id. Election in city, how called. Notice. Judges. The election provided for in the preceding section, when held in a city of the first or of the second class, shall be called by publishing a notice, signed by the president and clerk of the board of education, in a newspaper published in the city, for not less than ten days, and by posting said notice at the polling places in each municipal ward of the city for the same length of time next preceding said election. The board of education, before any notice is published or posted, shall appoint three electors in each municipal ward to conduct the elections herein provided for, who shall take and subscribe an oath of office, and who shall make returns thereof to the board, as herein provided. Such notice shall specify:

1. The time and place of holding such election;
2. The names of the judges at each polling place to conduct such election;
3. The hours during which the polls shall remain open;

4. The amount of indebtedness which the board proposes to incur or create, and for what purposes.

4593. (1878.) Id. In other districts. The election provided for in § 4591, when held in any school district other than a city of the first or of the second class, shall be called by publishing a notice, signed by the chairman and clerk of the board of trustees of such district, in a newspaper published in the county in which such district is situated, for not less than ten days, and by posting such notice in three conspicuous places in the district for the same length of time preceding said election; if no newspaper be published in said county, then by such posting of notices only. The board of trustees of such district, before any notice is published or posted, shall appoint three electors to conduct the elections herein provided for, who shall take and subscribe an oath of office, and who shall make returns thereof to the board as herein provided. Such notice shall specify:

1. The time and place of holding such election;
2. The names of the judges of election to conduct such election;
3. The hours during which the polls shall remain open;
4. The amount of indebtedness which the board proposes to incur or create, and for what purposes.

4594. (1879.) Ballot. The ballot used at such election shall be furnished by the board of education or by the trustees, as the case may be, and shall express upon its face the propositions which the board, or the trustees, desire to submit to the taxpayers.

4595. (1880.) Who entitled to vote at such election. Challenges. Every registered voter residing in any ward of any such city, or residing in any school district in which an election is held for the purpose of determining the question of creating and incurring additional indebtedness in such district or city, and which voter shall have paid a property tax in such district or city in the year preceding such election, shall be entitled to vote at any such election. Challenges for cause by any qualified voter shall be allowed on such election, and promptly decided by the judges conducting the same.

4596. (1881.) Canvass of vote. Result. Immediately after the closing of the polls, the persons appointed to conduct the election shall proceed to count and canvass the ballots at such election and make returns thereof to the board of education or the board of trustees, as the case may be, and said board of education, or said trustees, as the case may be, shall, within five days after said election, meet and canvass said returns, and if a majority of the ballots cast at said election are in favor of incurring and creating such additional indebtedness, then the board of education or the trustees, as the case may be, shall cause an entry of that fact to be entered upon the minutes of said board or of said trustees; and thereupon said board of education or said trustees, as the case may be, shall be authorized and directed to incur and create such additional indebtedness as shall be necessary to support and maintain the schools of any such school district or the schools controlled by any such board of education, for the current year or any part thereof, not exceeding the amount mentioned in the notice calling such election.

CHAPTER 10.

COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICTS OF THE FIRST CLASS.

4597. (1891x.) How county school districts of the first class are constituted. Each county within the state shall constitute a county school district of the first class; provided, that existing county school districts of the first class shall continue as such county school districts of the first class, and provided, that if in any county there be a school population of 5000 or more and said county is already divided into two or more high school districts, then each of said high school districts shall constitute and is hereby created a county school district of the first class. Upon the creation of any county school district of the first class, the county commissioners shall designate the name or names by which the same shall be known and shall divide each district into five representative precincts and shall appoint the members of the board of education for such district to serve until their successors are duly elected and shall have qualified; provided, that in districts already consolidated the members of the board of education as now constituted shall serve for the term for which they were elected.

Am'd '11, p. 267; '13, p. 184; '15, p. 98.

Schools in cities, §§ 4660-4729.

4598. (1891x1.) Schools therein to be free. Under direction of board. In each district, subject to the provisions of this chapter, the public schools shall be free to all children between the ages of six and eighteen years. All public schools and school property therein shall be under the direction and control of the board of education. '05, p. 129.

4599. (1891x2.) Board of education, how constituted. The board of education of each county school district of the first class shall consist of five members; one to be elected from and by each of the representative precincts within said county school district. The board of county commissioners in which such county school district is located shall, before June 15, 1915, divide the same into five representative precincts for school purposes and at the election in December, 1916, members of the board of education shall be elected in accordance with such redistricting. Am'd '13, p. 184; '15, p. 99.

Division of county into precints, §§ 1400, 1454. Salaries of members of board, § 4609.

ELECTION OF BOARD.

4600. (1891x3.) Members of board, how elected. Must qualify. There shall be elected in the county school districts of the first class, on the first Wednesday in December, 1908, one member of the board from each odd numbered school representative precinct or district for a term of two years, and at the same time one member of the board from each even numbered school representative precinct or district for a term of four years. On the first Wednesday in December, 1910, and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected one member of the board from each odd numbered school representative precinct or district for a term of four years, and on the first Wednesday in December, 1912, and every four years thereafter, one member of the board from each even numbered school representative precinct or district for a term of four years. Where any county school district of the first class exists or may be created, the board of county commissioners shall appoint the members of the board of education, to serve until the next election provided for in this section, and until their successors are duly elected and qualified; provided, that where there have been designated three trustees for the entire district, each one being from a school representative precinct, then these are constituted members of the board of education until the next election, and the board of county commissioners shall appoint two other members, one from each unrepresented representative precinct; but where two or more trustees are from one school representative precinct, the board of county commissioners shall designate the member of the board of education. Members of the board of education in a county school district of the first class shall qualify by taking and subscribing the constitutional oath of office, and giving bonds to the district in which they reside in such sum and with such sureties as the board of county commissioners may require and approve, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of their office, the oath of office and bonds to be filed with the county clerk. '05, p. 130; '07, p. 142.

4601. (1891x4.) Must qualify, when. Members of the board of education shall qualify previous to, and take their seats at, the first regular meeting in January next after their election, and shall serve until their successors are duly elected and qualified. '05, p. 130.

4602. (1891x5.) Elections, how conducted. Elections for members of the board shall be called and conducted, and the canvass of returns shall be made, and the qualification of electors shall be as provided in the general registration and election laws, except as in this section hereinafter provided. There must be at least two voting places in each school representative precinct. It shall not be necessary to file certificates of nomination of candidates, nor to publish a list of nominations. Appointments of judges of election shall be made by the board of education at any convenient time prior to the day of election. The board of education shall furnish the judges of election at every polling place with a sufficient number of plain envelopes for election purposes and shall pay all other lawful and necessary expenses of the election. Such envelopes shall be uniform in size and quality, without any marks, writing, printing, or device upon them; and no other kind shall be used at any election. Every voter shall designate on a single ballot, written or printed, the name of the person or persons voted for, with a pertinent designation of the office to be filled. The ballot shall be folded and placed in one of the envelopes hereinbefore provided for, and shall be delivered to the presiding judge of election, who shall, in the presence of the voter, on the name of the proposed voter being found on the registry list, and on all challenges to such vote being decided in favor of such voter, deposit in the ballot box, without any mark whatever being placed upon such envelope; otherwise the ballot shall be rejected. The board of education shall exercise all such powers relative to school elections in their respective districts as are conferred upon the board of county commissioners in other elections, so far as conformable with this chapter. '05, p. 130.

Registration for school elections, §§ 2112, 2136, 2141. Registration lists for election in county school districts of first class, § 4650.

4603. (1891x6.) Must reside in precinct. Vacancies. Every member of the board of education in county school districts of the first class shall be and remain a resident, qualified, registered voter in the school representative precinct from which he is elected or appointed; and the board of education is hereby required to fill any vacancy that may occur through non-residence or any other cause, until the next election of members of the board; provided, that any vacancy occuring previous to the annual election having an unexpired term shall be filled for such unexpired term at the first school election thereafter, and the ballots shall be as follows: "To fill the unexpired term ....." '05, p. 131; '11, p. 267.

4604. (1891x7.) Board must organize. The members appointed or elected as herein provided shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, take and subscribe the constitutional oath of office. They shall organize by electing from their number a president and vice-president, whose term of office shall be for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. They shall also elect a clerk and a treasurer, who shall be registered voters in the school district, and whose respective terms of office shall be two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. '05, p. 131.

4605. (1891x8.) Officer may be removed by two-thirds vote. Any officer appointed or elected by the board of education for a specified term, as provided in the next preceding section, may be removed from his office for cause by a vote of two-thirds of the board. '05, p. 131.

4606. (1891x9.) Board may appoint other officers. The board of education shall have power to appoint all other officers that in its judgment may be necessary fully to carry out the provisions of this chapter, for the protection and improvement of school property, and for the promotion of the interests of the schools, and remove the same at pleasure, and may require any such officer to give a bond to the board in such sum as it may prescribe. The oath of office and bond of the clerk shall be filed with the treasurer, and all others shall be filed with the clerk. '05, p. 131.

4607. (1891x10.) Superintendent of schools to be elected. Term. Duties. At the first meeting of the board in June, 1911, and biennially thereafter, a superintendent of schools shall be elected by the board, who at least shall be the holder of a life diploma of grammar school grade and who shall subscribe the constitutional oath of office, and shall enter upon his duties on the 1st day of July thereafter. His term of office shall be two years, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; provided, that until the date herein stated, the county superintendents of schools shall, as such officers, perform the duties of superintendent of schools in its county school districts of the first class situated in the county of which he is school superintendent. Said superintendent shall attend the convention of school superintendents provided for in § 4524. '05, p. 132; '11, p. 267-8.

No county superintendent in certain cases, § 4649.

4608. (1891x11.) School year. Reports. The school year shall commence on the first day of July annually, and close on the last day of June following. The annual reports of the president, the superintendent, and the several committees shall be presented to the board at or before the first regular meeting in August of each year. '05, p. 132.

4609. (1891x12.) Compensation of members of board. The members of the board of education shall fix the compensation to be received for their services, at a sum not to exceed $300 each per annum, and traveling expenses, not to exceed $100 each per annum; provided, that the compensation of members of the board appointed prior to any election of members as named herein shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners. '05, p. 132; '07, p. 40.

4610. (1891x13.) Annual school census. The board of education shall appoint suitable persons for each school representative precinct, who shall act as enumerators for school population for said precinct, and visit every house therein between the 15th and 31st of July of each year, and ascertain and enter upon the lists the name of every person between the ages of six and eighteen years residing in such precinct, and also the name, age, postoffice address, and name of the parent or guardian of every deaf or dumb person over the age of five and under the age of thirty years, too deaf or dumb to receive an education in the public schools. Such enumeration lists shall contain all information required by law, and such other information as the state superintendent and the board of education may require. '05, p. 132.

Annual city school census, § 4674.

4611. (1891x14.) Id. Apportionment of school moneys. The enumeration lists shall be filed with the clerk of the board as soon as completed, and not later than the 10th day of August. Immediately thereafter, the clerk of the board shall make out and forward to the county superintendent, if there be one, to the county auditor, and to the state superintendent, a statement showing the number of children of school age residing in the district, together with all information obtained under the provisions of the next preceding section, and financial and statistical reports for the past school year, containing such items as shall be required by law or by the state superintendent; and thereupon the state superintendent shall allot to such school district a proper pro rata of state school funds subject to allotment, and shall apportion the amount due and certify the same to the board of education of said district; the state superintendent shall also make to county school districts of the first class the apportionment required by § 4518, and furnish to the county treasurer, the county auditor, and the county superintendent, if there be one, in counties where any such county school district of the first class may be situated, an abstract of such apportionment, as in the case of cities of the second class. The county auditor of counties divided into districts of the first class shall apportion to the several school districts in his county, according to the number of school children residing in each district over six and under eighteen years of age, as shall appear from the last enumeration from his office, and shall notify the board of education of each district of the same. He shall also apportion to cities of the first and of the second class in his county their proportion per capita of the county school fund. '05, p. 132.

School fund, §§ 4518, 4565.

4612. (1891x15.) Duties of president of board. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at all meetings of the board, to appoint all committees, and to sign all warrants ordered by the board of education to be drawn upon the treasurer for school moneys. In case of the absence or disability of the president, his duties shall be performed by the vice-president. '05, p. 133.

4613. (1891x16.) Clerk of board must qualify. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, the clerk shall give a bond to the board of education of such school district in such sum as said board may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall qualify according to law. '05, p. 133.

4614. (1891x17.) Duties of clerk of board. It shall be the duty of the clerk to attend all meetings of the board; to keep an accurate journal of its proceedings, and have the care and custody of the seal, records, and papers not otherwise provided for; to countersign all warrants drawn upon the treasurer by order of the board; to keep an accurate account of all moneys paid to the treasurer on account of said board and from what source received, and all moneys paid on orders drawn on the treasurer by order of said board; and to prepare and submit to the board an annual statement, under oath, of the receipts and disbursements during the year ending June 30th, which statement the board shall cause to be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the county, showing:

1. The amount on hand at the date of the last report;
2. The amount of sinking fund, and how invested;
3. The moneys paid out, to whom, and for what paid;
4. The balance of school moneys on hand;
5. The number, date, and amount on every bond issued and redeemed under the authority herein given, and the amount received and paid therefor.

The clerk shall perform such other duties as the board and its committees may require. He shall receive for his services such compensation as the board may determine. '05, p. 133.

4615. (1891x18.) Treasurer of board must qualify. Duties. The treasurer of the board of education shall subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and give a bond to the board with sufficient sureties and in such sum as the board may require; said oath and bond to be approved by the board and filed with its clerk. He shall be the custodian of all moneys belonging to the corporation and be responsible upon his bond for all moneys received by him as treasurer. He shall prepare and submit in writing a monthly report of the receipts and disbursements of his office, and pay out school moneys only upon a warrant signed by the president, or, in his absence or disability, by the vice-president, countersigned by the clerk, and shall perform such other duties as the board may require. The treasurer shall receive for his services such amount as the board of education may fix and determine. The board may require the treasurer to keep his office and records in the office of the board. '05, p. 134.

Premium on bond paid, § 4500.
Funds to draw interest and how deposited, § 4500.

4616. (1891x19.) Board a body corporate. Members of board and clerk may administer oaths. The board of education of any such county school district of the first class shall be a body corporate under the name of "The Board of Education of ..... School District" (inserting the proper name), and shall have an official seal conformable to such name, which shall be used by the clerk in the authentication of all matters requiring it. Said board, in the name aforesaid, may sue and be sued; may take, hold, lease, sell, and convey real and personal property, as the interests of the school may require. The members of the board and the clerk thereof shall have the power and authority to administer oaths in proof of claims against said corporation, and no claim or account, except salaries of teachers and janitors, shall be audited or allowed by the board of education unless the correctness of the same shall be verified under oath. '05, p. 134.

GENERAL POWERS OF BOARD.

4617. (1891x20.) Powers of board. The board of education shall have the power and authority to purchase and sell schoolhouse sites and improvements thereon; to construct and erect school buildings and to furnish the same; to establish, locate, and maintain kindergarten schools, common schools, consisting of primary and grammar grades, high schools, and industrial or manual training schools; to establish and support school libraries; to purchase, exchange, repair, and improve the high school apparatus, books, furniture, fixtures, and all other school supplies in said schools. It shall supply and loan to pupils in the several grades and departments of said schools, except the high school, free of charge, all text books and supplies used by the pupils of said schools; it shall have the power to sell to pupils in the several grades and departments of said schools, at cost, all text books and supplies used by the pupils of said schools; to collect all books and apparatus loaned to the pupils of the public schools of any such school district of the first class, or damages for the loss, injury, or destruction of the same; to assign to the State Normal School, for the purpose of illustrating instruction in the practice school connected therewith, a sufficient number of pupils of appropriate grades, and reimburse the State University or State Normal School for the instruction of such pupils at rates per pupil not exceeding the average cost of instruction per pupil in the public schools of the district as ascertained for each year; to do all things needful for the maintenance, prosperity, and success of the schools, and the promotion of education; to adopt by-laws and rules for the procedure of the board of education, and make and enforce all needful rules and regulations for the control and management of the public schools of the district. '05, p. 134.

Duties in order to participate in state high school fund, §§ 4575-4582.
May employ physician, § 4550.
School houses as civic centers, §§ 4551-4554.
Issue employment permits for children, §§ 1860, 1869.

The board has a discretion in determining where school shall be held and in regulating such matters.
Bishop v. Morehouse, 38 U. 234; 112 P. 169.

4618. (1891x21.) Restrictions on sale of school property. No school sites or buildings shall be sold or conveyed by the board of education, except on resolution of the board, duly adopted at a regular or duly called meeting, and not then without the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of all the members of the board. '05, p. 135.

4619. (1891x22.) Trustees of former districts to convey property to board of education. Upon the appointment or election and qualification of a board of education for any county school district of the first class, the trustees of all school districts formerly existing in said county school district of the first class shall convey and deliver all the school property in said districts to the board of education of said county school district of the first class; and the title of all such property, and all property hereafter acquired for school purposes in said district, shall be conveyed to and vested in said board of education, for the use of the district schools of said district; and all rights, claims, and causes of action to or for said property, or the use or income thereof, or for any conversion, disposition, or withholding thereof, or for any damage or injury thereto, shall at once vest in the board of education of said district, in trust for the use of the district schools of the district, and said board, in the name aforesaid, may bring and maintain actions to recover, protect, and preserve the property and rights of the district schools, and to enforce any contract relating thereto, and in its said name may sue and be sued in any court of law or equity. And all outstanding debts and obligations of any such school district shall be paid by said board of education. '05, p. 135.

4620. (1891x23.) Teachers' examinations. Course of study. Examinations for teachers in county school districts of the first class shall be conducted by the state board of education. Such districts shall follow the state course of study, and shall use the text books adopted by the state text book commission. '05, p. 136; '13, p. 185.

County examinations and certificates, §§ 4506, 4684.

4621. (1891x24.) Board to select member of text book convention. The boards of education of the various county school districts of the first class in a county shall select a person, not a member of the board, to represent them in the convention called by the state superintendent to adopt text books for the state, to act as a member of such convention. '05, p. 136.

Text book convention, §§ 4555-4560.

4622. (1891x25.) School property exempt. All property, real and personal, held by the board of education shall be exempt from general and special taxation, and from all local assessments for any purpose, and shall not be taken in any manner for debt. '05, p. 136.

4623. (1891x26.) Districts to receive their proportion of school taxes. All districts organized under the provisions of this chapter shall receive their pro rata share of any state taxes levied for the support of district schools or any funds that may be realized from any source which, under the operation of law, are required to be divided pro rata for the benefit of children of school age residing in the state. '05, p. 136.

4624. (1891x27.) Levy in county school districts of the first class. Limit. The board of education shall, on or before the 1st day of May of each year, prepare a statement and estimate of the amount necessary for the support and maintenance of the schools under its charge for the school year commencing on the 1st day of July next thereafter, and for the purchase of school sites and the erection of school buildings, also the amount necessary to pay the interest accruing during such year, and not included in any prior estimate, on bonds issued by the said board; also the amount of sinking funds necessary to be collected during such year for the payment and redemption of said bonds; and shall forthwith cause the same to be certified by the president and clerk of said board to the officers charged with the assessment and collection of taxes for general county purposes in the county in which the district is situated, and such officers, after having extended the valuation of property on the assessment rolls, shall levy such per cent as shall, as nearly as may be, raise the amount required by the board; provided, that districts of the first class existing at the time of the enactment of this law, and that where districts not existing on the 1st day of May shall come into existence by the second Monday in July in any year, the time of preparing the statement and estimate above named shall be extended to the third Monday in July; and any levy of special tax that may have been made in any district abolished or superseded by the creation of such new district shall be vacated. Said taxes shall be collected by the county treasurer as other taxes are collected, but without additional compensation, for assessing and collecting, and he shall pay to the treasurer of said board, promptly as collected, who shall hold the same subject to the order of the board of education; provided, that the tax on all taxable property of the said district for the support and maintenance of schools, the purchase of school sites, and erection of school buildings shall not exceed in any one year, in any district whose assessed valuation is $20,000,000 or more, 4.2 mills on the dollar; and in any district whose assessed valuation is more than $15,000,000 and less than $20,000,000, 4.7 mills on the dollar; in any district whose assessed valuation is more than $10,000,000 and less than $15,000,000, 5.2 mills on the dollar; and in any district whose assessed valuation is more than $5,000,000 and less than $10,000,000, 5.5 mills; and in any district whose assessed valuation is less than $5,000,000, 6 mills on the dollar. '05, p. 136; am'd '11, p. 266; '15, p. 99; '15, p. 194.

School taxes in other districts, § 4525.
State and county tax, §§ 4564.
As amended, this, being the last legislative expression, is controlling over § 1562, and taxes assessed by the board for the separate maintenance of the schools for the succeeding year and to defray interest on the bond, etc., cannot be treated as special taxes, and the school board is not liable to pay any percentage to the county for the cost of assessment and collection.
Board of Education v. Daines, 50 U.—; 166 P. 977.

4625. (1891x28.) County treasurer to pay over taxes. The respective county treasurers shall pay over to the board of education as fast as collected or realized its proportionate amount of delinquent taxes, interest, and costs on all tax sales heretofore or hereafter made. '05, p. 137.

4626. (1891x29.) Special taxes for school buildings and sites. The board of education may, at the annual school election or at a special election, in its discretion, submit to the voters of the district the question of levying a special tax not to exceed 1 per cent of all the taxable property in the district, for one or more years, to buy sites, build and furnish school houses, or improve the school property under its control. If the voters declare in favor of such tax, it shall be levied and collected as other school taxes, and the board of education may apply any money available, raised from taxation, to the building of or the improvement of the school property under its charge. The board of education shall give such reasonable notice of such submission as it may deem proper, and, if submitted at a special election, may follow the procedure so far as applicable for the issuance of bonds; provided, all school taxes voted by the board of education, or by a special meeting called for that purpose, shall be computed on the valuation of the county assessment roll for such year, and shall be voted on or before the 1st day of May of any year, and within twenty days thereafter the board shall make certified returns of the per cent of the taxes so voted to the county auditor and the county assessor, who shall acknowledge receipt of the same. The county assessor shall assess for each special tax, at the time and manner provided by law for assessing state and county taxes, and shall give to the district school taxpayers similar notices to those which are required by law to be given the taxpayers of state and county taxes. The officers charged with the collection of special school taxes shall pay over the same to the treasurer of the school district in which the same is collected, making payments of the sums collected at the end of each calendar month. On the 31st day of December, after receiving the tax roll, he shall complete the payment of all district taxes borne upon such roll; provided, further, that all school taxes levied and assessed under the provisions of this chapter shall become due and delinquent at the same time and be assessed and collected by the same officers and in the same manner, and shall attach to and become a lien on real and personal property assessed at the same time as state and county taxes. Am'd '15, p. 100.

BOND ELECTION. SALE OF BONDS.

4627. (1891x30.) Special election for bonding district. The board of education may, when in its judgment it is advisable, or shall, when petitioned by a majority of the resident taxpayers of the school district, as appears by the county assessment roll of the last preceding year, call an election in each school representative precinct of the district, and submit to the taxpayers of the district whether bonds of such district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for purchasing school sites, for building or purchasing one or more schoolhouses, and supplying the same with furniture and necessary apparatus, for improving the grounds, and for the refunding and redemption of all or any portion of any bonds outstanding in any such district. '05, p. 138.

Bond elections generally, §§ 4590-4596.

4628. (1891x31.) Election, how called. The election provided for in the preceding section shall be called by publishing, for not less than ten days, a notice signed by the president and clerk of the board of education, in a newspaper having a general circulation in the school district, and by posting said notice at the polling places in each school representative precinct of the district for the same length of time next preceding said election. The board of education, before any notice is published or posted, shall appoint three electors in each school representative district to conduct the bond election herein provided for, who shall take and subscribe an oath of office, and who shall make returns thereof to the board as herein provided. Such notice shall contain:

1. The time and place of holding the same;

2. The names of the judges at each polling place to conduct the same;
3. The time during which the polls will remain open;

In case it shall become necessary in a county school district of the first class to incur additional indebtedness as provided in § 4591, the election therefor shall be called and conducted as prescribed in this section, except that the fourth subdivision required herein in the notice shall specify, instead of the amount and denomination of the bonds, etc., the amount of indebtedness which the board proposes to incur or create, and for what purposes. '05, p. 138.

4629. (1891x32.) Form of ballot. The ballot used at such election shall be furnished by the board of education, and shall express upon its face the questions the board desires to submit to the taxpayers. No informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if it shall have been otherwise legally conducted. '05, p. 139.

4630. (1891x33.) Qualifications of electors. Every registered voter residing in any school representative district in which any election is held for the purpose of determining the question of issuing bonds for such school district, and who shall have paid a property tax therein in the year preceding such election, shall be entitled to vote at any such election. Challenges for cause by any qualified voter shall be allowed at such election, and promptly decided by the judges conducting the same. '05, p. 139.

4631. (1891x34.) Canvass of votes cast. Returns. Statement to be filed with county clerk. Immediately after the closing of the polls, the persons appointed to conduct the same shall proceed to count and canvass the ballots cast at such election, and make returns thereof to the board of education; and said board shall, within five days after said election, meet and canvass said returns, and if a majority of the ballots cast at said election are in favor of issuing such bonds, then the board shall cause an entry of that fact to be made upon its minutes, and shall immediately file with the clerk of the county in which such school district is situated a certified copy of the order of the board of education, and certified copies of the notices published or posted, calling such election, with an affidavit showing when and where said notices were published or posted, and that they were published or posted as required by law and the order of the board of education. The board shall also file with said clerk a statement showing the approximate number of inhabitants and the value of taxable property in the district; that the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, including existing indebtedness, does not exceed four per cent of the value of taxable property in the district; that the election at which the question of issuing bonds was submitted was lawfully called and held; that all proceedings in relation to the proposed issue of bonds in said district were lawfully conducted, and that such bonds may be lawfully issued; and thereupon said board of education shall be and it is hereby authorized and directed to issue the bonds of such district to the number and amount voted for at such election. The money for the redemption of said bonds, and the payment of the interest thereon as it shall become due, shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property of said district; provided, that the total amount of bonds so issued, including existing indebtedness, shall not exceed four per cent of the taxable property of the district, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll for county purposes. '05, p. 139; '07, p. 84.

4632. (1891x35.) Denomination of bonds. Interest. Time. The denomination of the bonds which may be issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be $50 or some multiple of fifty, not exceeding $1,000, and shall bear interest of not exceeding the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually or annually, in accordance with interest coupons which shall be attachd to said bonds, and shall be made payable not more than twenty years from their date. The board of education may reserve the right to redeem such bonds, or any of them, at any time after five years from their issue. Any bonds heretofore authorized by vote of any school district remaining unsold may, in the discretion of the board, be hereafter issued, to bear any rate of interest not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable annually or semi-annually. '05, p. 140.

4633. (1891x36.) Form of bonds. Whenever any bonds are issued under the provisions of this chapter, they shall be engraved, lithographed, or printed on bond paper, and shall state upon their face the date of their issue, the amount of bond, for what purpose issued, also the time and place of payment and rate of interest to be paid. They shall have printed upon the margin the words, "Authorized by act of the legislature of the state of Utah, A. D. 1897, and all supplemental and amendatory acts," and upon the back of each bond shall be printed a certificate, signed by the county clerk, in substantially the following form:

I certify that the within bond is issued in accordance with law, and is within the debt limit permitted by the constitution and laws of the state of Utah, and in accordance with a vote of the taxpayers of ..... school district of ..... county, state of Utah, at an election held on the ..... day of ....., 19....., authorizing bonds to the amount of ..... dollars.

They shall be signed by the president and clerk of the board of education and countersigned by the treasurer thereof, and there shall be entered in a book to be kept by the clerk for that purpose the number, date, and denomination of the bonds sold, and the date when the same shall become due. '05, p. 140.

Certification that bonds are within debt limit, §§ 466-469.

4634. (1891x37.) Board may sell bonds. Whenever any bonds are issued under the provisions of this chapter, the board of education shall have authority to negotiate and sell such bonds to the highest bidder. No contingent bid shall be received, and every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check of five per cent as a forfeit, payable to the order of the board of education. The board may reject any or all bids. The proceeds shall be used exclusively for the purpose for which they are issued. '05, p. 140.

4635. (1891x38.) Bonds, how canceled. Whenever any of the bonds of a school district shall have been redeemed or purchased by the board of education, they shall be canceled by writing or printing in red ink across each bond and coupon the words, "Paid and canceled;" and the date of payment and amount paid shall be entered in the clerk's register against the number of the bond, and the bond and coupons so canceled shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the board and preserved in a book to be kept for that purpose. Any bond or bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any board of education or school district may be refunded at any time by such board or school district when a lower rate of interest or better terms can be obtained, and the provisions hereof as to elections shall not apply. '05, p. 141.

4636. (1891x39.) Interest and sinking fund. The board of education, in its annual estimate and levy provided for in this chapter, shall include an amount sufficient to pay the interest as the same accrues on all outstanding bonds issued by the board, and also to create a sinking fund of two per cent of the par value of outstanding bonds for the redemption of said bonds, and shall cause a tax to be levied and collected as provided for in this chapter, and such money shall remain a specific fund, and shall not be appropriated or used for any other purpose than is hereinafter provided. '05, p. 141.

4637. (1891x40.) Investment of sinking fund. The moneys levied and collected for creating a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds issued by the board of education shall be used as follows: After retaining an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the bonds maturing during the year, the board shall, with the surplus of the sinking fund, invest the same in bonds of the state of Utah, or of any school district, town, city, or county thereof, or of the United States, on the best terms to be obtained, until such time as it may be needed to purchase any outstanding bonds that may be offered, or until the maturity of any such bonds. '05, p. 141.

Sinking funds may be invested, § 5200.

4638. (1891x41.) Bonds a lien on property of district. Bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be a lien upon the taxable property of the school district issuing them, and when the board of education neglects or refuses to levy a tax in accordance with law to meet the outstanding bonds or the interest thereon, the board of county commissioners of the county within which such district is situated shall levy such tax and apply the money thus collected to the payment of such bonds and the interest due thereon. '05, p. 141.

BUILDING SCHOOLHOUSES.

4639. (1891x42.) Board shall advertise for bids for building schoolhouses. Whenever any schoolhouse is to be built, the board of education shall advertise for at least ten days in some newspaper published in the county for sealed proposals for building such schoolhouse in accordance with the plans and specifications, which shall be furnished by the board of education at its office or at the office of the architect, stating in such advertisement or notice the place where, and the day and hour when, all proposals will be opened, and reserving the right to reject any and all proposals, and shall require a certified check of not less than five per cent of the amount of the bid to accompany the same, which check shall be made payable to the order of the board of education, and the check of the successful bidder shall be forfeited in case he fails or refuses to enter into the contract and furnish the bond required. At the time and place specified in said notice, the board shall meet and publicly open and read all the proposals which have been received, and, if satisfactory bids have been received, shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and shall require of such bidder or contractor a bond in one-half the amount of the contract, conditioned that he will properly perform its conditions in a faithful manner and in accordance with its provisions. In case none of the proposals are satisfactory, all shall be rejected, and said board shall advertise anew in the same manner as before. It may require in the contract to be executed that at least twenty per cent of the contract price may be withheld until the building is completed and accepted by the board. But if, after twice advertising as provided herein, no satisfactory bid is received, the board may proceed under its own direction to erect the building required, or in case of a building not exceeding $5,000 in cost, if no satisfactory bid is received at the first notice, the board may proceed with the construction as it may determine; provided, that no member of the board of education shall be financially interested in the contract, directly or indirectly, in the erection of any school building. '05, p. 142.

Contractors must give bond, §§ 3753, 3754.

This section does not apply after the contract has been entered into and the bond furnished, and after the board of education had entered into the contract it will be presumed that the bond was required of and furnished by the contractor in accordance with the statute. Tooele Bldg. Assoc. v. Tooele High School Dist., 43 U. 372; 134 P. 894.

PARENTAL SCHOOLS AND TRUANTS.

4640. (1891x43.) Parental schools. The board of education of any county school district of the first class, or the board of education of any two or more such districts, under a contract to be approved by each of such boards, may provide for the establishment and maintenance of parental schools, and for the support and education of the inmates thereof, conformably with the provisions of this chapter. '05, p. 142.

Parental schools in cities, §§ 4721-4729. Detention schools, §§ 1875-1881.

4641. (1891x44.) Truants may be committed to parental schools. Any child, between the ages of eight and fourteen years, residing within the district or districts maintaining such a school, adjudged guilty of being a habitual truant, or of wandering about in the streets and public places of said district or districts without lawful employment or business, may be committed to the parental school provided for the purpose, for a term not exceeding beyond the age of fourteen years. '05, p. 142.

4642. (1891x45.) Truant may be released. Any child committed as provided in the next preceding section may be released from confinement at such school, either conditionally or absolutely, before the expiration of the term of commitment, in accordance with the by-laws established by the board or boards of education maintaining the same. '05, p. 143.

4643. (1891x46.) Neglected children may be committed to parental school. Children under sixteen years of age who, by reason of neglect, crime, drunkenness, or other vices of parents, or by reason of orphanage, are suffered to grow up without salutary parental control and education, or in circumstances encouraging them to lead idle and dissolute lives, may be committed to the proper parental school for a term not extending beyond the age of sixteen years. '05, p. 143.

4644. (1891x47.) How discharged. When the parents of a child committed under the next preceding section have reformed and are leading orderly and industrious lives, and are in a condition to exercise salutary control over such child, and to provide him with proper education and employment; or when, said parents being dead, any person offers to make such suitable provisions for the care, nurture, and education of such child as will conduce to the public welfare, the board of education may discharge him to the parents or such other person. '05, p. 143.

4645. (1891x48.) District court has jurisdiction. The district courts of the several counties shall have jurisdiction within their respective counties to enforce the provisions of this chapter, upon such notice to the parents or guardians of the children whom it is proposed to commit to parental schools as the court may deem just and proper. '05, p. 143.

4646. (1891x49.) Parents pay cost of children in parental school. Any board or boards of education maintaining a parental school in accordance with § 4640 shall estimate and determine, as near as may be, the average actual expense per month of keeping and taking care of the boys and girls who may be committed to the parental school, and the average cost of keeping such boys and girls shall be wholly paid by the parent or guardian of each boy or girl committed to the school, unless for good cause said board or boards of education shall otherwise order and direct. The board of education of the district in which the parent or guardian of any such committed boy or girl resides may bring suit to enforce this provision. '05, p. 143.

4647. (1891x50.) Other children may be received in parental school. On the tender of a payment which will meet all costs of support at the parental school, the board or boards of education maintaining such school may receive into it on equal terms boys or girls whose residence is in the state outside the district or districts to which the school belongs. '05, p. 143.

4648. (1891x51.) Truant officer. The board of education of each county school district of the first class may appoint and fix the compensation of a truant officer, whose duty it shall be to make complaints and arrests in cases contemplated by this chapter, and to serve legal process issued by courts in pursuance hereof. The sheriff of the county shall make such truant officer a deputy sheriff to serve without pay, so far as the sheriff's office is concerned. '05, p. 143.

Duty under employment of children act, § 1864.

WHEN NO COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

4649. (1891x52.) County superintendent's office vacant in certain cases. When a county of the first class is so organized as to school districts that there are no such districts therein, other than those of cities of the first or of the second class and county school districts of the first class, on the first Monday in August of any year in which there is a general election for county officers, then no county superintendent of schools shall be elected for such county at that election, and the office shall become and remain vacant for the succeeding term or terms, as the case may be, except that in the event of there being no election for county superintendent of schools in the year 1906, the present incumbent shall hold office till the 1st day of July, 1907; but the board of county commissioners shall fix the salaries therefor, as required by law, to be distributed pro rata among school superintendents in county school districts of the first class, as provided in § 4624, as compensation for services in whole or in part, as such compensation may be fixed by the board of education of the district, no other compensatoin than that fixed by the board of county commissioners to come out of the general school fund of the county. Where there is no county superintendent of schools under the foregoing provision, then the county auditor shall make to the school districts in the county the apportionment of school funds provided for in § 4565, and the county treasurer shall pay such apportioned funds to the school district treasurers upon the warrants of the county auditor, who shall make report thereof to the board of county commissioners, and to the state superintendent, as provided by law. When there is no county superintendent, the board of county commissioners shall arrange the county teachers' institutes and designate the school district superintendent in the county which shall take charge thereof. '05, p. 144.

REGISTRATION LISTS.

4650. (1891x53.) Registration lists to be furnished. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to furnish to boards of education in county school districts of the first class, at least five days previous to the day of election for members of the said board, a certified copy of the registration list, showing the names of all registered voters residing in the election district covered by such school districts. '05, p. 144.

Registration for school elections, §§ 2112, 2136, 2141.

4651. (1828.) Records and reports of board. Compensation. It shall be the duty of the district board to keep an accurate journal of its proceedings, an account of all moneys paid to the treasurer and of all moneys paid on orders drawn on the treasurer, and prepare and cause to be presented to the voters at the regular annual meeting held on the second Monday in July of each year, a statement, under oath, showing:

1. The moneys on hand at the date of the last annual report, the moneys received by the treasurer since such report and from what sources received;
2. The amount of sinking fund and how invested;
3. The amounts paid out, to whom and for what paid;
4. The balance of school money in the hands of the treasurer.
5. The number, date, and amount of every bond issued or redeemed under the authority given in this title, and the amount received or paid therefor, to which statement shall be added a report showing the management and condition of the schools in the district during the preceding year.

A copy of such statement and report, together with such other reports as may be required by the state superintendent, and for which blank forms have been provided, shall, on or before the 15th day of July of each year, be filed with the county superintendent. They shall also present, with their statement to the superintendent, vouchers for all moneys paid out; provided, that trustees shall each receive such compensation for their services as may be voted at such meeting.

Section 4651 was repealed in the body of chap. 78, laws 15, but the repeal was not included in the title. The whole chapter which included this section was repealed and, query, to what is this section applicable?

CHAPTER 11.

SCHOOLS IN CITIES.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

4660. (1892.) This chapter applicable to cities of the first and of the second class. Control. All cities of the first and of the second class shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter. The public school system therein shall be controlled by the board of education of such cities, separate and apart from the counties in which the cities are located.

County school districts of first class, §§ 4597-4650.

Separate maintenance and control, Con. art. 10, sec. 6.

4661. (1893.) Each city a school district. Control. Each city subject to the provisions of this chapter, and all territory which shall hereafter be added thereto, shall constitute one school district, and public schools therein shall be free to all residents thereof between the ages of six and eighteen years of age, and of children within the required age whose father, mother, or guardian is a taxpayer within said district. All public schools and property therein shall be under the direction and control of the board of education.

4662. (1894.) Membership of board of education. The board of education of cities of the first class shall consist of ten members, two to be elected from and by each municipal ward; and, of cities of the second class, shall consist of five members, one to be elected from and by each municipal ward.

4663. (1895.) Election of members of board in cities of the first class. There shall be elected in cities of the first class, on the first Wednesday of December, 1897, two members of the board from each municipal ward, one for the term of one year, and one for the term of three years; and in 1898, and biennially thereafter, on the first Wednesday of December, one member from each municipal ward for the term of four years.

4664. (1896.) Election of members of board in cities of the second class. There shall be elected in cities of the second class, on the first Wednesday of December, 1916, one member of the board of education from the first municipal ward for a term of one year; one member from the second municipal ward for a term of two years; one member from the third municipal ward for a term of three years; one member from the fourth municipal ward for a term of four years; one member from the fifth municipal ward for a term of five years, and thereafter there shall be elected annually on the first Wednesday in December for the term of five years, a member from the ward in which the term of a member expires. Am'd '13, p. 38.

4665. (1897.) When term shall begin. Members of the board of education shall qualify previous to, and take their seats at, the first regular meeting in January next after their election, and shall serve until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

4666. (1898.) Conduct of elections for members of board of education. Elections for members of the board shall be called and conducted, and the canvass of returns shall be made, and the qualification of electors shall be as provided in the general registration and election laws, except as in this section hereafter provided. There must be at least one voting place in each municipal ward. It shall not be necessary to file certificates of nomination of candidates, nor to publish a list of nominations. Appointments of judges of election shall be made by the board of education at any convenient time prior to the day of election. The board of education shall furnish the judges of election at every polling place with a sufficient number of plain envelopes for election purposes, and shall pay all other lawful and necessary expenses of the election. Such envelopes shall be uniform in size and quality, without any marks, writing, printing, or device upon them; and no other kind shall be used at any election. Every voter shall designate on a single ballot, written or printed, the name of the person or persons voted for, with a pertinent designation of the office to be filled. The ballot shall be folded and placed in one of the envelopes hereinbefore provided for, and shall be delivered to the presiding judge of election, who shall, in the presence of the voter, on the name of the proposed voter being found on the registry list, and on all challenges to such vote being decided in favor of such voter, deposit it in the ballot box, without any mark whatever being placed on such envelope; otherwise the ballot shall be rejected. The board of education shall exercise all such powers relative to school elections in their respective cities as are conferred upon the board of county commissioners in other elections, so far as conformable with this title.

Elections generally, §§ 2100-2424. Registration for school elections, §§ 2112, School elections generally, § 4602. 2136, 2141.

4667. (1899.) Qualification of members of board. Vacancy. Every member of the board of education in cities of the first and of the second class shall be and remain a resident, qualified, registered voter in the municipal ward from which he is elected, and the board of education is hereby required to fill any vacancy that may occur through non-residence or any other cause, until the next election of members of the board; and, in case the board of education, shall, for a period of thirty days after such vacancy shall occur, fail to agree upon the election of a member to fill such vacancy, then the mayor of the city, by and with the consent of the city council, shall fill such vacancy until the next election; provided, that any vacancy occurring previous to the annual election having an unexpired term shall be filled for such unexpired term at the first school election thereafter, and the ballots shall be as follows: "To fill the unexpired term ....." Am'd '07, p. 202.

ORGANIZATION OF THE BOARD.

4668. (1900.) Officers. Oath. The members elected as herein provided shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, take and subscribe the oath of office. In cities of the first class they shall organize by electing from their number a president and a vice-president, whose term of office shall be for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. In cities of the second class the member having one year to serve shall be ex officio president and the member having two years to serve shall be ex officio vice-president. They shall also elect a clerk and a treasurer, who shall be registered voters in the school district, and whose respective terms of office shall be two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Am'd '13, p. 39.

Issue employment permits for children, §§ 1860-1869.

4669. (1901.) Removal of officers. Any officer appointed or elected by the board of education for a specified term may be removed from his office for cause by the vote of two-thirds of the board.

4670. (1902.) Board may appoint necessary officers. The board of education shall have power to appoint all other officers that in its judgment may be necessary fully to carry out the provisions of this chapter, for the protection and improvement of school property, and for the promotion of the interests of the schools, and remove the same at pleasure, and may require any such officer to give bonds to the board in such sum as it may prescribe. The oath of office and bond of the clerk shall be filed with the treasurer, and all others shall be filed with the clerk.

4671. (1903.) Election of superintendent. Oath and bond. At the first meeting of the board in June, 1898, and biennially thereafter, a superintendent of schools shall be elected, who shall subscribe an oath of office, and shall enter upon his duties on the 1st day of July thereafter. His term of office shall be two years, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Issue employment permits for children, § 1860-1869.

4672. (1904.) School year. Reports. The school year shall commence on the first day of July annually, and close on the last day of June following. The annual reports of the president, the superintendent, and the several committees shall be presented to the board at or before the first regular meeting in August of each year.

4673. (1905.) Compensation of members. Penalty. The members of the board of education shall fix the compensation to be received for their services, at a sum not to exceed $100 per annum. No member of the board of education shall take any contract, receive appointment, or perform labor for which he shall receive payment from the school funds or in any way receive compensation other than the salary herein provided. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor. Am'd '05, p. 39.

4674. (1906.) Annual school census. The board of education shall appoint suitable persons for each ward, who shall act as enumerators for school population for said ward, and visit every house therein between the 15th and 31st days of July of each year, and ascertain and enter upon the lists the name of every person between the ages of six and eighteen years residing in such ward, and also the name, age, postoffice address, and name of the parent or guardian of every deaf or dumb person over the age of five and under the age of thirty years, too deaf or dumb to receive an education in the public schools. Such enumeration lists shall contain all information required by law and such other information as the state superintendent and the board of education may require.

Annual school census, § 4610.

4675. (1907.) Id. Report to state superintendent. Allotment of school funds. The enumeration lists shall be filed with the clerk of the board as soon as completed, and not later than the 10th day of August. Immediately thereafter, the clerk of the board shall make out and forward to the state superintendent a statement showing the number of children of school age residing in the district, together with all information obtained under the provisions of the next preceding section, and financial and statistical reports for the past school year, containing such items as shall be required by law or by the state superintendent; and thereupon the state superintendent shall allot to such city or school district a proper pro rata of school funds subject to allotment, and shall apportion the amount due and certify the same to the board of education of said city.

Apportionment by state superintendent, § 4518.

DUTIES OF PRESIDENT.

4676. (1908.) Duties of president defined. Vice-president. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at all meetings of the board, to appoint all committees, and to sign all warrants ordered by the board of education to be drawn upon the treasurer for school moneys. In case of the absence or disability of the president, his duties shall be performed by the vice-president.

DUTIES OF CLERK.

4677. (1909.) Bond of clerk of board. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, the clerk shall give a bond to the board of education of such city in such sum as said board may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall qualify according to law.

4678. (1910.) Duties and compensation of clerk. It shall be the duty of the clerk to attend all meetings of the board; to keep an accurate journal of its proceedings, and have the care and custody of the seal, records, and papers not otherwise provided for; to countersign all warrants drawn upon the treasurer by order of the board; to keep an accurate account of all moneys paid to the treasurer on account of said board and from what source received, and all moneys paid on orders drawn on the treasurer by order of said board; and to prepare and submit to the board an annual statement, under oath, of the receipts and disbursements during the year ending June 30, which statement the board shall cause to be published in a newspaper having general circulation in said city, showing:

1. The amount on hand at the date of the last report;
2. The amount of sinking fund and how invested;

3. The moneys paid out, and for what paid;
4. The balance of school moneys on hand;
5. The number, date, and amount on every bond issued and redeemed under the authority herein given, and the amount received and paid therefor.

The clerk shall perform such other duties as the board and its committees may require. He shall receive for his services such compensation as the board may determine. Am'd '11, p. 124.

DUTIES OF TREASURER.

4679. (1911.) Duties and compensation of treasurer. The treasurer of the board of education shall subscribe to the oath of office and give a bond to the board with sufficient sureties and in such sum as the board may require; said oath and bond to be approved by the board and filed with its clerk. He shall be the custodian of all moneys belonging to the corporation, and be responsible upon his bond for all moneys received by him as treasurer. He shall prepare and submit in writing a monthly report of the receipts and disbursements of his office, and pay out school moneys only upon a warrant signed by the president, or, in his absence or disability, by the vice-president, countersigned by the clerk, and shall perform such other duties as the board may require. The treasurer shall receive for his services such amount as the board of education may fix and determine. The board may require the treasurer to keep his office and records in the office of the board.

Premium on bond, how paid, § 4500.
Funds to draw interest and where deposited, § 4500.
Treasurer teachers' retirement fund, § 4754.
Requirements for participation in state high school fund, §§ 4575-4582.

POWERS OF THE BOARD.

4680. (1912.) Board of education a body corporate. Powers and duties. The board of education of any such city shall be a body corporate under the name of "The Board of Education of ..... City" (inserting the proper name), and shall have an official seal conformable to such name, which shall be used by the clerk in the authentication of all matters requiring it. And said board, in the name aforesaid, may sue and be sued; may take, hold, lease, sell, and convey real and personal property, as the interests of the schools may require. The members of the board and the clerk thereof shall have the power and authority to administer oaths in proof of claims and accounts against said corporation, and no claim or account, except salaries of teachers and janitors, shall be audited or allowed by the board of education unless the correctness of the same shall be proved under oath.

4681. (1913.) Powers and duties defined. The board of education shall have the power and authority to purchase or sell schoolhouse sites and improvements thereof; to construct and erect school buildings and to furnish the same; to establish; locate, and maintain kindergarten schools, common schools, consisting of primary and grammar grades, high schools, and industrial or manual training schools; to establish and support school libraries; to purchase, exchange, repair, and improve the high school apparatus, books, furniture, fixtures and all other school supplies in said schools. It shall supply and loan to pupils in the several grades and departments of said schools, except the high school, free of charge, all text books and supplies used by the pupils of said schools; it shall have the power to sell to pupils in the several grades and departments of said schools, at cost, all text books and supplies used by the pupils of said schools; to collect all books and apparatus loaned to pupils of the public schools of any such city, or damages for the loss, injury, or destruction of the same; to assign to the State Normal School, for the purpose of instruction in the practice school connected therewith, a sufficient number of pupils of appropriate grades, and reimburse the state university or said normal school for the instruction of such pupils at rates per pupil not exceeding the average cost of instruction for pupils in the public schools of the city as ascertained for each year; to do all things needful for the maintenance, prosperity, and success of the schools, and the promotion of education; to adopt by-laws and rules for procedure of the board of education, and make and enforce all needful rules and regulations for the control and management of the public schools of the city; provided, that said school boards shall purchase all books now remaining in the hands of the merchants of their respective cities, at the introductory exchange price. Am'd '03, p. 159.

Authority to establish high schools, Con. art. 10, sec. 2.
Compulsory attendance of children, §§ 4740-4743.
Control of local boards of health, § 2755.
Insure employees, §§ 3110, 3111, 3119.
Duties as to school houses as civic centers, §§ 4551-4554.
May employ physician, § 4540.
The arbitrary closing of schools on account of epidemic of smallpox does not relieve the board of education of liability for salary of teacher, under contract, for time lost during such period.
McKay v. Barnett, 21 U. 239; 60 P. 1100.

4682. (1914.) Sale of sites and buildings. No school sites or buildings shall be sold or conveyed by the board of education, except on resolution of the board, duly adopted at a regular or duly called meeting, and not then without the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of all the members of the board.

4683. (1915.) Board has rights and duties of constituent districts. Suits by and against. Upon the election and qualification of a board of education for any city, the trustees of all school districts existing in said city shall convey and deliver all the school property in said districts to the board of education of said city; and the title of all such property, and all property hereafter acquired for school purposes in said city, shall be conveyed to and vested in said board of education, for the use of the district schools of said city; and all rights, claims, and causes of action to or for said property, or the use or income thereof, or for any conversion, disposition, or withholding thereof, or for any damage or injury thereto, shall at once vest in the board of education of said city, in trust for the use of the district schools of the city, and said board, in the name aforesaid, may bring and maintain actions to recover, protect, and preserve the property and rights of the district schools, and to enforce any contract relating thereto, and in its said name may sue and be sued in any court of law or equity. And all outstanding debts and obligations of any such school district shall be paid by such board of education.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

4684. (1916.) Board of examiners, how constituted. In each city of the first and of the second class there shall be a board of examiners, consisting of the city superintendent of public schools, or the superintendent-elect, and two or more other members having practical experience as teachers, residents of said city, to be designated associate examiners. The associate examiners shall be elected by the board of education at their first meeting in April annually, and shall hold office for one year, but no candidate for examination as a preliminary to teaching in the public schools shall be an associate examiner.
Am'd '05, p. 111.

4685. (1917.) Chairman of examiners. The city superintendent of public schools, or superintendent-elect, shall be chairman of the board of examiners.

4686. (1918.) Compensation of associate examiners. The associate examiners shall receive such a stated compensation per diem for services actually rendered as may be allowed them by the board of education. The chairman of the board of examiners shall certify to the correctness of claims for services rendered by the associate examiners.

4687. (1919.) Teachers' examinations. Special meetings. Record. The board of examiners shall meet and hold examinations for the granting of teachers' certificates on such occasions only as may be authorized by the board of education. Special meetings, not for the purpose of conducting examinations, may be called by the chairman, when, in his judgment, the same are necessary. A record of the proceedings of the board of examiners shall be kept in the office of its chairman, and at all times be open for the inspection of the board of education; and such portions of it as may concern any candidate for a certificate shall be open for the inspection of such candidate or his authorized representative.

State examination and diplomas, §§ 4506-4511.

4688. (1920.) Power of board of examiners. Issue, renewal, and revocation of certificates. The board of examiners shall have power:

1. To adopt rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the state or the rules of the board of education, for its own government and for the examination of teachers, and to fix standards of proficiency for the granting and renewing of certificates, either heretofore or hereafter issued, subject to the approval of the board of education.

2. To prepare questions on the various subjects prescribed by law, and examine by written or oral examination all candidates for any of the following certificates:

First. A city high school certificate, valid for one year only, unless renewed, and authorizing the holder to teach or serve as principal in any primary, grammar, or high school in such city;

Second. A city grammar certificate, valid for one year only, unless renewed, and authorizing the holder to teach in any primary or grammar school, or serve as principal in any primary school in such city;

Third. A city primary certificate, valid for one year only, unless renewed, and authorizing the holder to teach in any primary school in the city.

The board of examiners shall report the result of all examinations to the board of education, who, through the president and clerk thereof, shall issue to the successful candidates the certificates to which they are entitled.

3. To recommend to the board of education the renewal of the various renewable certificates, in accordance with such regulations as they may adopt, or as may be prescribed by the board of education; whereupon said board of education, through its president and clerk, may renew such certificates from year to year.

4. For immoral and unprofessional conduct, profanity, intemperance, or evident unfitness for teaching, to recommend to the board of education the revocation of any certificate previously granted by said board of education.

5. In case of necessity, to grant, by the chairman of the board of examiners, temporary certificates to teachers of experience of whose ability to pass the regular examination there is no doubt; provided, that such temporary certificate shall be valid only until the next regular examination, and under no circumstances shall be issued more than once to the same person.

CERTIFICATES.

4689. (1921.) Qualification of applicant for certificate. No certificate of permission to teach shall be issued to any person not eighteen years of age. No certificate shall be granted to any person whose moral character or habits are known by the board of examination, or by the board of education, to be bad, or who is afflicted with a serious infectious or hereditary disease.

Am'd '03, p. 72.

State diploma, §§ 4707, 4708. Normal certificates, § 4709.

4690. (1922.) Certificates granted only after examination. No certificate shall be granted by the board of education or upon its authority, except to successful candidates in a regular or special examination conducted by the board of examiners in accordance with the provisions of law.

4691. (1923.) Examination for grammar and primary certificates. City primary and city grammar certificates shall be granted only to applicants who are found, upon examination, to have a practical knowledge of pedagogics and school management, and to be proficient in and qualified to teach the following branches, namely: Reading, writing, spelling, English grammar, geography, arithmetic, physiology and hygiene, United States history, and such other English branches as the board of education may prescribe; provided, that the examination of applicants for such certificates shall be specially adapted to discover their fitness to teach all the branches named to pupils of primary or grammar grades respectively.

4692. (1924.) Id. High school certificate. City high school certificates shall be granted only to applicants who pass satisfactorily the examination required for grammar certificates, and, in addition thereto, sustain a satisfactory examination in civil government, physical geography, elementary physics, elementary algebra, botany, and such other branches as the board of education may prescribe.

4693. (1925.) Teachers exempt from examination. Holders of normal diplomas and certificates issued after March 1, 1892, by the University of Utah, and holders of state diplomas or state certificates shall be exempt from all further examinations during the term of validity of such certificates as provided by law. Teachers engaged in the exclusive teaching of music, foreign languages, drawing, penmanship, kindergarten, and physical culture shall be exempt from all examinations except such as pertain to the special departments over which they may preside.

4694. (1926.) Special certificates. Special certificates shall be granted only to applicants who pass satisfactorily an examination in a special or departmental subject (such as music, foreign language, drawing, penmanship, kindergarten, physical culture, etc.), and such other subjects as are calculated to discover applicants' fitness to teach in public schools.

TEXT BOOKS.

4695. (1927.) Board to select text books. In each city of the first and of the second class the board of education shall decide what text books shall be adopted in all public schools of the city, and their use shall be mandatory therein, for the period of five years thereafter.

Neither legislature nor state board may prescribe text books, Con. art. 10, sec. 9.

Text book convention, §§ 4555-4560.

4696. (1928.) Notice to publishers. The board of education shall give notice at least sixty days prior to the expiration of any contract regulating the supply and use of text books in such city, by publication in a newspaper having a general circulation in this state, of its intention to adopt text books for the public schools of the city, calling for bids and terms from publishers of text books for schools, stating approximately the number and kind of books required; that separate and sealed proposals will be received by the board of education for furnishing each kind of book, the place where, and the day and hour when, all proposals will be opened, and that the board reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or any part thereof.

4697. (1929.) Opening bids. At the time and place specified in said notice, the board shall meet and publicly open and read all the proposals which shall have been received, and shall make their decision within thirty days thereafter.

4698. (1930.) Samples and prices on books. Sealed proposals must be accompanied with sample copies of the books proposed to be furnished, together with a statement of the introductory or exchange price, and of a wholesale and a retail price, at which the publisher agrees to furnish each book within the city during the full time that may be required by the board of education.

4699. (1931.) Unsatisfactory proposals. If no satisfactory proposals are received, the board, in its discretion, may advertise anew, and the books in use shall be continued in use until satisfactory proposals shall have been received and accepted.

4700. (1932.) Contract with successful bidders. Bond. The publisher or publishers whose proposals shall be accepted must enter into a written contract with the board of education, and shall give a bond with two sufficient sureties in a reasonable sum, to be fixed by the board, for the faithful performance of such contract.

CITY SCHOOL TAX.

4701. (1933.) School property exempt from taxation and execution. All property, real and personal, held by the board of education shall be exempt from general and special taxation, and from all local assessments for any purpose, and shall not be taken in any manner for debt.

Property exempt from taxation, Con. art. 13, sec. 3.

This section is not in conflict with Con. art. 13, sec. 3, and the word "held" means property owned by the board.

Wey v. S. L. City, 35 U. 504; 101 P. 380.

Lands owned by the board of education are exempt from legal assessments and taxation for construction of a public sewer, and the city could not impose the payment of a reasonable charge before permitting the board to connect with or use the sewer.

B. of Ed. v. McGonagle, 38 U. 280; 112 P. 401.

4702. (1934.) City one taxation district. For purposes of taxation the whole city shall constitute one school district.

4703. (1935.) Distribution of state funds to cities. All cities organized under the provisions of this chapter shall receive their pro rata share of any state taxes levied for the support of district schools, or any funds that may be realized from any source which, under the operation of law, are required to be divided pro rata for the benefit of children of school age residing in the state.

Apportionment by state superintendent, § 4518.

4704. (1936.) Estimate of required revenue. Annual levy. Limit. Collection. The board of education shall, on or before the 1st day of May of each year, prepare a statement and estimate of the amount necessary for the support and maintenance of the schools under its charge for the school year commencing on the 1st day of July next thereafter; also the amount necessary to pay the interest accruing during such year, and not included in any prior estimate, on bonds issued by said board; also the amount of sinking fund necessary to be collected during such year for the payment and redemption of said bonds; and shall forthwith cause the same to be certified by the president and clerk of said board to the officers charged with the assessment and collection of taxes for general county purposes in the county in which the city is situated, and such officers, after having extended the valuation of property on the assessment rolls, shall levy such per cent as shall, as nearly as may be, raise the amount required by the board, which levy shall be uniform on all property within the said city as returned on the assessment roll; and the said county officers are hereby authorized and required to place the same on the tax roll. Said taxes shall be collected by the county treasurer as other taxes are collected, but without additional compensation for assessing and collecting, and he shall pay the same to the treasurer of said board, promptly as collected, who shall hold the same subject to the order of the board of education; provided, that the tax for the support and maintenance of such school in cities of the first class shall not exceed in any one year 6½ mills on the dollar upon all taxable property of said city, 2½ mills additional on the dollar in one year to be used exclusively for the purchase of school sites and the erection of school buildings; and in cities of the second class, the tax for the support and maintenance of such schools shall not exceed in any one year 10 mills on the dollar upon all taxable property in said city. Am'd '01, p. 149; '07, p. 101; '15, p. 193-210.

Levy of county and district school tax, §§ 4525, 5993.

Sec. 4704 (1936) as amended, Ch. 111, Laws '15, p. 192, is unconstitutional in so far as it attempts to divide cities of the first and second class into two classes—those who's assessed valuation is over or under $20,000,000.00; therefore the section as amended, by chap. 115, laws '15, p. 210, is in force.

B. of Ed. v. Hunter, 48 U. 373; 159 P. 1019.

While punctuation may be disregarded for the purpose of ascertaining legislative intent, yet as the word "and" is a conjunction implying addition, the conjunction in chap. 111, laws '15, cannot be disregarded so that the limitation on assessed valuation will be construed as applicable only to cities of second class, but it must be taken as applicable to cities of the first class, and hence the section is unconstitutional as to such cities and the limitation prescribed does not apply.

B. of Ed. v. Hanchett, 50 U. —; 167 P. 686.

4705. (1937.) Delinquent taxes to be paid to board. The respective boards of county commissioners shall pay over to the boards of education as fast as collected or realized their proportionate amount of delinquent taxes, interest, and costs on all tax sales heretofore or hereafter made.

Distribution of delinquent taxes, interest, and costs, § 6055.

4706. (1938.) Special election for tax for sites, etc. The board of education may, at the annual school election or at a special election, in its discretion, submit to the voters of the district the question of levying a special tax, for one or more years, to buy sites, build and furnish schoolhouses, or improve the school property under its control. If the voters declare in favor of such tax, it shall be levied and collected as other school taxes, and the board of education may apply any money available, raised from taxation, to the building on or the improving of the school property under its charge.

4707. (1939.) Id. Notice of election. Issuance of bonds. The board of education shall give such reasonable notice of such submission as it may deem proper; and if submitted at a special election, may follow the procedure, so far as applicable, for the issuance of bonds.

CITY SCHOOL BONDS.

4708. (1940.) Bond election. Petition. The board of education may, when in its judgment it is advisable, or shall, when petitioned by a majority of the resident taxpayers of the school district, as appears by the county assessment roll of the last preceding year, call an election in each municipal ward of the city and submit to the taxpayers of the district, whether bonds of such district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for purchasing school sites, for building or purchasing one or more schoolhouses and supplying the same with furniture and necessary apparatus, for improving the grounds, and for the refunding and redemption of all or any portion of any bonds outstanding in any such district.

Election to incur additional indebtedness, § 4591.

4709. (1941.) Notice and conduct of bond election. The election provided for in the preceding section shall be called by publishing, for not less than ten days, a notice signed by the president and clerk of the board of education, in a newspaper published in the city, and by posting said notice at the polling places in each municipal ward of the city for the same length of time next preceding said meeting. The board of education, before any notice is published or posted, shall appoint three electors in each municipal ward to conduct the elections herein provided for, who shall take and subscribe an oath of office, and who shall make returns thereof to the board as herein provided. Such notice shall contain:

1. The time and place of holding the same;
2. The names of the judges at each polling place to conduct the same;
3. The time during which the polls will remain open;
4. The amount and denomination of the bonds, the rate of interest, and the number of years, not exceeding twenty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run.

4710. (1942.) Ballot. Informalities in election. The ballot used at such election shall be furnished by the board of education, and shall express upon its face the questions the board desires to submit to the taxpayers. No informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if it shall have been otherwise legally conducted.

4711. (1943.) Qualifications of voters. Challenges. Every registered voter residing in any ward in which any election is held for the purpose of determining the question of issuing bonds for such school district, and who shall have paid a property tax therein in the year preceding such election, shall be entitled to vote at any such election. Challenges for cause by any qualified voter shall be allowed at such election, and promptly decided by the judges conducting the same.

Registration for school election, § 2136.

4712. (1944.) Canvass of returns. Issue of bonds. Immediately after the closing of the polls, the persons appointed to conduct the same shall proceed to count and canvass the ballots cast at such election, and make returns thereof to the board of education; and said board shall, within five days after said election, meet and canvass said returns, and if a majority of the ballots cast at said election are in favor of issuing such bonds, then the board shall cause an entry of that fact to be made upon its minutes, and shall, before issuing such bonds, file with the clerk of the county, in which such school district is situated, a certified copy of the order of the board of education, and certified copies of the notices published or posted, calling such election, with an affidavit showing when and where said notices were published or posted, and that they were published or posted as required by the law and the order of the board of education. The board shall also file with said clerk a statement showing the number of inhabitants and the value of taxable property in the district; that the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, including existing indebtedness, does not exceed 3 per cent of the value of taxable property in the district; that the election at which the question of issuing bonds was submitted and lawfully called and held; that all proceedings in relation to the proposed issue of bonds in said district were lawfully conducted, and that such bonds may be lawfully issued; and thereupon said board of education shall be and is hereby authorized and directed to issue the bonds of such district in any amount not exceeding the number and amount voted for at such election. The money for the redemption of said bonds, and the payment of interest thereon as it shall become due, shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property of said district; provided, that the total amount of bonds issued, including existing indebtedness, shall not exceed 3 per cent of the taxable property of the district as shown by the last equalized assessment roll for city purposes, prior to issuing such bonds. No election shall be void because the amount of bonds authorized at such election exceeded the statutory limitation at the time of holding the election, but the bonds may be issued in accordance with such authorization, in any amount within the limitations fixed by law, at the time the bonds are issued.

Am'd '07, p. 200; '09, p. 178.

Limit of indebtedness of school districts, etc., Con. art. 14, sec. 4.

4713. (1945.) Denomination of bonds. Interest. Payment and redemption. The denomination of the bonds which may be issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be $50 or some multiple of fifty, not exceeding $1000, and shall bear interest of not exceeding the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually or annually, in accordance with interest coupons which shall be attached to said bonds, and shall be made payable not more than twenty years from their date. The board of education may reserve the right to redeem such bonds, or any of them, at any time after five years from their issue. Any bonds heretofore authoriezd by vote of any school district, remaining unsold, may, in the discretion of the board, be hereafter issued, to bear any rate of interest not exceeding 5 per cent per annum, payable annually, or semi-annually.

4714. (1946.) Printing of bonds. Authorization. Signing. Whenever any bonds are issued under the provisions of this chapter, they shall be engraved, lithographed, or printed on bond paper, and shall state upon their face the date of their issue, the amount of bond, for what purpose issued, also the time and place of payment and the rate of interest to be paid. They shall have printed upon the margin the words, "Authorized by act of the legislature of the state of Utah, A. D. 1897," and upon the back of each bond shall be printed a certificate, signed by the county clerk, in substantially the following form:

I certify that the within bond is issued in accordance with law, and is within the debt limit permitted by the constitution and laws of the state of Utah and in accordance with a vote of the taxpayares of ..... school district of ..... county, state of Utah, at an election held on the ..... day of ..... 19....., authorizing bonds to the amount of ..... dollars.

They shall be signed by the president and clerk of the board of education, and countersigned by the treasurer thereof, and there shall be entered in a book to be kept by the clerk for that purpose the number, date, and denomination of the bonds sold, and the date when the same shall become due.

Certification that bonds are within debt limit, §§ 466-469.

4715. (1947.) Sale of bonds. Use of proceeds. Whenever any bonds are issued under the provisions of this chapter, the board of education shall have authority to negotiate and sell such bonds to the highest bidder. No contingent bid shall be received, and every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check of five per cent as a forfeit, payable to the order of the board of education. The board may reject any or all bids. The proceeds shall be used exclusively for the purpose for which they are issued.

4716. (1948.) Redemption and cancellation of bonds. Refunding. Whenever any of the bonds of a school district shall have been redeemed or purchased by the board of education, they shall be canceled by writing or printing in red ink across each bond and coupon the words, "Paid and canceled"; and the date of payment and amount paid shall be entered in the clerk's register against the number of the bond, and the bond and coupons so canceled shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the board and preserved in a book to be kept for that purpose. Any bond or bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any board of education or school district may be refunded at any time by such board or school district when a lower rate of interest or better terms can be obtained, and the provisions hereof as to elections shall not apply.

4717. (1949.) Annual levy for interest and sinking fund. The board of education, in its annual estimate and levy provided for in this chapter, shall include an amount sufficient to pay the interest as the same accrues on all outstanding bonds issued by the board, and also to create a sinking fund of two per cent of the par value of outstanding bonds for the redemption of said bonds, and shall cause a tax to be levied and collected as provided for in this chapter, and such money shall remain a specific fund, and shall not be appropriated or used for any other purpose than is hereinafter provided.

4718. (1950.) Sinking fund, investment of. The moneys levied and collected for creating a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds issued by the board of education shall be used as follows: After retaining an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the bonds maturing during the year, the board shall, with the surplus of the sinking fund, invest the same in bonds of the state of Utah, or of any school district, town, city, or county thereof, or of the United States, on the best terms to be obtained, until such time as it may be needed to purchase any outstanding bonds that may be offered, or until the maturity of any such bonds.

Sinking fund may be invested, § 5200.

4719. (1951.) Bonds a lien on taxable property. Bonds issued under the provisions of this title shall be a lien upon taxable property of the school district issuing them, and when the board of education neglects or refuses to levy a tax in accordance with law to meet the outstanding bonds or the interest thereon, the board of county commissioners of the county within which such district is situated shall levy such tax and apply the money thus collected to the payment of such bonds and the interest due thereon.

4720. (1952.) Advertisement for bids for construction of buildings. Award. Contract. When board may erect. Whenever any schoolhouse is to be built, the board of education shall advertise for at least ten days in some newspaper published in the city for sealed proposals for building such schoolhouse in accordance with the plans and specifications, which shall be furnished by the board of education at its office or at the office of the architect, stating in such advertisement or notice the place where, and the day and hour when, all proposals will be opened, and reserving the right to reject any and all proposals, and shall require a certified check of not less than five per cent of the amount of the bid to accompany the same, which check shall be made payable to the order of the board of education, and the check of the successful bidder shall be forfeited in case he fails or refuses to enter into the contract and furnish the bond required. At the time and place specified in said notice, the board shall meet and publicly open and read all the proposals which have been received, and if satisfactory bids have been received shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and shall require of such bidder or contractor a bond in one-half the amount of the contract, conditioned that he will properly perform its conditions in a faithful manner and in accordance with its provisions. In case none of the proposals are satisfactory, all shall be rejected, and said board shall advertise anew in the same manner as before, and may require in the contract to be executed that at least twenty per cent of the contract price may be withheld until the building is completed and accepted by the board. But if after twice advertising, as provided herein, no satisfactory bid is received, the board may proceed under its own direction to erect the building required, or in case of a building not exceeding $5,000 in cost, if no satisfactory bid is received at the first notice, the board may proceed with the construction as it may determine.

PARENTAL SCHOOLS.

4721. (1953.) Board of education may establish parental schools. The board of education of any city of the first or of the second class, or the boards of education of any two or more such cities, under a contract to be approved by each of such boards, may provide for the establishment and maintenance of parental schools, and for the support and education of the inmates thereof, conformably with the provisions of this chapter.

Parental schools, etc., in county districts of first class, §§ 4640-4648. Detention schools, §§ 1875-1881.

4722. (1954.) Habitual truants to be committed. Any child between the ages of eight and fourteen years, residing within the city or cities maintaining such a school, adjudged guilty of being a habitual truant, or of wandering about in the streets and public places of said city or cities, without lawful employment or business, shall be committed to the parental school provided for the purpose for a term not extending beyond the age of fourteen years.

4723. (1955.) Id. Release. By-laws. Any child committed as provided in the next preceding section may be released from confinement at such school either conditionally or absolutely, before the expiration of the term of commitment, in accordance with the by-laws established by the board or boards of education maintaining the same.

4724. (1956.) Committing children without parental control. Children under sixteen years of age who, by reason of neglect, crime, drunkenness, or other vices of parents, or by reason of orphanage, are suffered to grow up without salutary parental control and education, or in circumstances encouraging them to lead idle and dissolute lives, may be committed to the proper parental school for a term not extending beyond the age of sixteen years.

4725. (1957.) Id. Discharge. When the parents of a child committed under the next preceding section have reformed and are leading orderly and industrious lives, and are in a condition to exercise salutary control over such child, and provide him with proper education and employment; or when, said parents being dead, any person offers to make such suitable provision for the care, nurture, and education of such child as will conduce to the public welfare, the board of education may discharge him to the parents or other such person.

4726. (1958.) District courts have jurisdiction. The district courts of the several counties shall have jurisdiction within their respective counties to enforce the provisions of this chapter, upon such notice to the parents or guardians of the children whom it is proposed to commit to parental schools, as the court may deem just and proper.

4727. (1959.) Expense of parental schools, how paid. Any board or boards of education maintaining a parental school in accordance with § 4721 shall estimate and determine, as near as may be, the average actual expense per month of keeping and taking care of the boys and girls who may be committed to the parental school, and the average cost of keeping such boys and girls shall be wholly paid by the parent or guardian of each boy or girl committed to the school, unless for good cause said board or boards of education shall otherwise order and direct. The board of education of the city in which the parent or guardian of any such committed boy or girl resides may bring suit to enforce this provision.

4728. (1960.) Admission of pupils from outside of city. On the tender of a payment which will meet all costs of support at the parental school, the board or boards of education maintaining such school may receive into it on equal terms boys or girls whose residence is in the state outside the city or cities to which the school belongs.

4729. (1961.) Truant officer. Compensation. The board of education of each such city may appoint and fix the compensation of a truant officer, whose duty it shall be to make complaints and arrests in cases contemplated by this chapter, and to serve legal process issued by courts in pursuance hereof. The police authorities of the city shall make such truant officer a special policeman.

Duty under employment of children act, § 1865.

CHAPTER 12.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE.

4740. (1962.) Compulsory attendance at schools. Exceptions. Every parent, guardian, or other person having control of any child between eight and sixteen years of age shall be required to send such child to a public, district, or private school in the district in which he resides, at least twenty weeks in each school year, ten weeks of which shall be consecutive; provided, that in cities of the first and of the second class such children shall be required to attend school at least thirty weeks in each school year, ten of which shall be consecutive; provided, that in each year such parent, guardian, or other person having control of any child shall be excused from such duty by the school board of the district or the board of education of the city, as the case may be, whenever it be shown to their satisfaction that one of the following reasons exists:

1. That such child is taught at home in the branches prescribed by law for the same length of time as children are required by law to be taught in the district school;

2. That such child has already acquired the branches of learning taught in the district schools;

3. That such child is in such physical or mental condition (which may be certified by a competent physician if required by the board) as to render such attendance inexpedient or impracticable. If no such school is taught the requisite length of time within two and one-half miles of the residence of the child by the nearest road, such attendance shall not be enforced;

4. That such child is attending some public, district, or private school;

5. That the services of such child are necessary to the support of a mother or an invalid father.

The evidence of the existence of any of these reasons for non-attendance must be in each case sufficient to satisfy the superintendent of the county or city in which the child resides; and the superintendent, upon the presentation of such evidence, shall issue a certificate stating that the holder is exempted from attendance during the time therein specified. Am'd '05, p. 112.

4741. (1963.) Penalty. Any such parent, guardian, or other person having control of any child between eight and sixteen years of age, who wilfully fails to comply with the requirements of the next preceding section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Am'd '05, p. 112.

Compulsory education of deaf, dumb, and blind, §§ 5337-5339.

4742. (1964.) Id. Inquiry into violations of school law. It shall be the duty of the president of the board of education of any city, and the chairman of the school trustees of any district, within their respective jurisdictions, to inquire into all cases of misdemeanor defined in this title, and to report the same and the offenders concerned, when known, to the city or county attorney of the city or county within which the offenses shall have been committed, and it is hereby made the duty of either of said officers to proceed immediately to prosecute such offenders.

4743. (1965.) Incorrigible children. Sent to industrial school. All children in the district between the ages of eight and sixteen years who, in defiance of earnest and persistent efforts on the part of their parents or teachers, are habitual truants from school, or while in attendance at school are vicious, immoral, or ungovernable in conduct, shall be deemed incorrigible, and it is the duty of the president of the board of education or the chairman of the board of trustees of each school district to inquire into all cases within his district, and report them to the county attorney acting for such district, whose duty it shall be to prosecute such cases as incorrigibles and fit candidates for the state industrial school.

Parental schools in cities, §§ 4721-4729; in counties, §§ 4640-4648. Detention schools, §§ 1875-1881.

4744. (1965x.) American flag displayed, when. It shall be the duty of the board of education or school trustees of all school districts within the cities and counties of this state to provide each schoolhouse or the grounds thereof with a suitable flag-pole, and to cause the American flag to be displayed thereon during the daylight hours of every legal holiday, February 12th, and flag day of each year. '07, p. 33.

CHAPTER 13.

SCHOOL PROPERTY, ETC., IN TERRITORY ANNEXED TO CITY.

4745. (1965x1.) When annexed to a city of the first, second, or third class. When all the territory of a school district shall become annexed to a city of the first, second, or third class, by the extension of the boundaries of the city, all the school property, including moneys on hand and due to the said district, together with all records and papers belonging to said district, shall be transferred to, and the title vested in, the board of education of such city, and said board of education shall assume and be held responsible for the legitimate floating and bonded indebtedness of said annexed district. '07, p. 54.

Annexing territory to city, § 770.

4746. (1965x2.) Annexation of part of district. When, by the extension of the limits of any city of the first, second, or third class, a part of the territory of an adjacent school district is annexed to such city, it shall be the duty of a board, consisting of the state superintendent of public instruction, the city superintendent of schools, the county superintendent of schools, or, in county school districts of the first class, the district superintendent of schools, to determine the present value of the school property of such district, also all moneys due to, or in the hands of, the district treasurer, and to equitably apportion the amount due the district board, or the board of education of such city, as the case may be. The amount due to the district board, or board of education of such city, when ascertained by the said board, shall, if there be not sufficient funds in the hands of the treasurer to pay such indebtedness, be levied upon the taxable property of that district or corporation found to be in debt, and shall be collected in the same manner as if the same had been authorized by the vote of the district board, or by the board of education of such city, and when collected it shall be paid to the treasurer of that district or board of education of such city to which it is due. The board of education or the district retaining the schoolhouse shall assume the bonded indebtedness incurred in the building and furnishing of such schoolhouse. '07, p. 54.

4747. (1965x3.) Unadjusted claims. All unadjusted claims of cities and school districts arising from such annexation previous to March 14, 1907, shall be adjudged in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. '07, p. 55.

CHAPTER 14.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS' RETIREMENT ASSOCIATIONS.

4750. (1966x1.) Organization. Commission. Upon the written request of a majority of the teachers employed in the public schools of any city of the first or the second class, the board of education of any such city shall authorize the organization of a public school teachers' retirement commission and association. In such petition there shall be designated three persons to serve as members of the retirement commission, who shall serve until the first election after the retirement commission is organized, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Am'd '17, p. 216.

4751. In cities of the first class. Membership of commission. Term. In cities of the first class the said commission shall be composed of seven members; three members to be elected from the retirement association by the members thereof, whose terms shall be for three years; the superintendent of city schools, the clerk of the board of education, and two members to be elected by the board of education from their number, whose terms shall be two years. In all cases the terms of office shall be from the first Monday in February following the election.

4752. Election of members of city commission. In cities of the first class the members of the retirement commission who are chosen by the teachers shall be elected at a meeting called by the superintendent of city schools, who shall cause each teacher who is a member of the association to be notified in writing of the time and place of such election, such notice to be given at least ten days before the election.

4753. (1966x4.) Qualification. Vacancies. The commissioners and officers of the retirement commission shall qualify by taking and subscribing to the oath of office, which shall be filed with the clerk of the board of education. In case of vacancy in the elective membership of said commission, the vacancy shall be filled until the next election by the commission choosing a member from the body that elected the outgoing member. Am'd '17, p. 217.

4754. (1966x5.) Officers. Compensation. Funds. The retirement commission shall organize by electing from their number, a president and a vice-president. The clerk of the board of education shall be clerk of such commission, and the treasurer of the board shall be treasurer of said commission. The commissioners and officers shall serve without compensation. The bond given by the treasurer of the board of education shall be liable for the safe-keeping of the funds of the commission. Am'd '17, p. 217.

4755. (1966x8.) Meetings. Records. Annual report. The retirement commission shall meet at least once each year, and shall keep a record of all its proceedings and a record of all money received and paid out, all of which records shall be open for public inspection. It shall also make an annual financial report showing the moneys received and disbursed, a copy of which report shall be printed and delivered to each member of the association.

4756. (1966x7.) Funds, two classes. The funds of the retirement association shall be of two classes: (a) Permanent, and (b) current fund. The treasurer shall pay out money only on warrants signed by the president and clerk of the commission, and shall have charge, under the direction of the commissioners, of the investment and management of the permanent fund, and such of the current fund as shall not be required to pay benefits, but such funds shall be invested only in state, county, school district, or municipal bonds.

4757. Membership. Every teacher who, after the taking effect of this chapter, accepts employment under the board of education of a city of the first or the second class in which city a teachers' retirement association has theretofore been organized, shall, by virtue of such employment, become a member of such retirement association, and there shall be incorporated in the contract of employment a stipulation that the teacher agrees to and is bound by all the rules and provisions governing membership in such association. Am'd '17, p. 217.

4758. (1966x10.) Income. Assessments. Deductions. The income of the public school teachers' retirement association shall be from the following sources:

1. All teachers who are members of a teachers' retirement association in cities of the first and the second class shall have deducted from each and every payroll in payment for services, 1 per cent of the face of said payroll, and the amount of such deduction shall be certified to and paid by the clerk of the board of education monthly to the treasurer of the association; provided, that an annual salary of $1200 shall be the maximum salary on which dues shall be paid, and if any teacher shall receive a salary in excess of such sum, then the deduction shall be made on $1200 only;

2. All amounts deducted from teachers' salaries on account of absence, not to exceed five days in any one year for a teacher; all deductions belonging to this fund shall be certified to monthly by the clerk of the board of education and paid to the treasurer of the association;

3. All moneys received from donations, legacies, bequests, or otherwise, for or on account of said fund. Am'd '17, p. 217.

4759. (1966x11.) Current and permanent funds. Transfers. The first two sources of income, viz., 1 and 2, shall constitute the current fund, and the third source, viz., 3, shall constitute the permanent fund, unless specifically stipulated for the current fund in the donation, legacy, gift, or bequest. No portion of the permanent fund shall be available for current expenditure, but the interest thereon shall become a part of the current fund. Any part of the current fund which is not used during the school year for the payment of annuities shall be transferred to and become a part of the permanent fund. Am'd '17, p. 217.

4760. (1966x12.) Classification of beneficiaries. Retirements. Annuities. There shall be two classes of beneficiaries, under the retirement fund, viz., class A and class B.

Class A. On the recommendation of the retirement commission the board of education of the city shall have power by a two-thirds vote to retire any member of the association who is mentally or physically incapacitated for the performance of duty; provided, said teacher has taught in the city at least fifteen years and his or her term of service shall aggregate thirty years, except as hereinafter provided, whether before or after, or partly before or partly after the passage of this chapter. Each teacher so retired shall be entitled to receive as pension an annuity equal to one-half of the average annual salary drawn by said teacher for the five years preceding retirement, but in case his or her years of teaching shall not aggregate thirty years, but shall aggregate at least twenty years, he or she may be temporarily retired and shall be entitled to such a part of the annuity as his or her years of service are a part of thirty. Any teacher who has been retired under this class and who recovers his or her mental or physical powers sufficiently to teach or earn a livelihood in some other manner, in the opinion of a physician selected by the retirement commission, shall cease to draw an annuity under this classification. If such teacher does not recover before reaching the age of sixty, then he or she shall be transferred to class B.

Class B. Any member of the retirement association who has taught thirty years, one-half of which time has been in the city in which the retirement association is located, and who has reached the age of sixty years, shall, upon his or her request, or upon the recommendation of the retirement commission and a two-thirds vote of the board of education of the city, without option be placed upon the retired list, and shall be entitled to an annuity equal to one-half of the average annual salary of the five years preceding retirement; provided, that the maximum annuity paid to any teacher under either class A or class B shall not exceed $600. Am'd '17, p. 218.

4761. (1966x13.) Id. Delinquent dues to be deducted. Transfer or continuance of membership. Any teacher who is retired under the provisions of either class A or B and who at the time of retirement has not paid into the retirement fund a sum equal to 1 per cent of the entire salary received for the previous years of service claimed, not to exceed a maximum of $1200 annually, shall have such an amount deducted from his or her annuity as shall equal the amount still due. This deduction may, in the discretion of the retirement commissioners, be distributed over a period not to exceed three years. Any teacher who is a member of a retirement association in the state of Utah and who accepts employment in a district outside of the bounds of his or her association shall, within thirty days thereafter, elect in which of two ways he or she prefers to continue his or her membership:

1. A transfer of membership, or
2. An absent membership.

If the first mentioned is selected, the clerk of the commission shall fill out on a proper form a report covering the necessary data concerning said teacher, which report, with the one-half of the amount of money paid into the fund by or on account of said teacher, shall be accepted by any commission within the state as the complete record and payment of back dues of such teacher. If the second method is chosen, a teacher may continue his or her membership by voluntarily sending annually to the clerk of the commission the 1 per cent of his or her salary as certified to by the clerk of the board where he or she is employed, not to exceed a maximum of $1200 annually.

4762. (1966x15.) Estate entitled to refund. In case of the death of a member of the retirement association before retirement, leaving relatives dependent upon him or her, the estate of said teacher shall be entitled to a refund of the total amount paid into said fund by said teacher. Or if the estate has not sufficient funds to pay the funeral expenses, then such expenses shall be paid by the retirement commission, not exceeding the amount paid to the association by such teacher.

4763. (1966x16.) Insufficient funds. If at any time the funds of the retirement association are not sufficient to meet the annuities and refunds hereinbefore specified, each annuitant and claimant shall be paid pro rata his or her proportion of the funds that are available.

4764. (1966x17.) Teacher defined. The term "teacher," as used throughout this chapter, shall include superintendents, supervisors, principals, and teachers in the employ of boards of education of cities of the first and the second class. '17, p. 219.

4765. (1966x18.) Rules and by-laws. The retirement commission is empowered to adopt such rules and by-laws for the carrying out of the provisions of this chapter as are in harmony with its intents and purposes.

4766. Repeal. Proviso. Chap. 21 of title 66 of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, is hereby repealed; but all retirement associations and commissions organized under the provisions of said chapter are continued under this chapter.

4767. Proportionate distribution of funds. The state teachers' retirement commission are hereby authorized and directed to distribute to the members of the state teachers' retirement association the funds of such association now on hand after paying all expenses of the association, such distribution to be made to the members in proportion to the amount paid by each. '17, p. 219.

TITLE 91.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION.

('17, p. 128.)

CHAPTER 1.

CREATION OF COMMISSION.

4775. Appointment of commissioners. Terms. Organization. There is hereby created a public utilities commission of Utah, and by that name the commission may sue and be sued. The public utilities commission shall consist of three members, who shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate. Immediately after this title shall take effect, the governor shall, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint a member of the commission whose term shall expire on the first Monday in February, 1919; another whose term shall expire on the first Monday in February, 1921; and another whose term shall expire on the first Monday in February, 1923. On the first Monday in February, 1919, and biennially thereafter, there shall be appointed in the same manner, one commissioner for the term of six years from the date of such appointment. Each commissioner appointed shall hold office until his successor is appointed and qualified. The commissioners shall qualify and enter upon their duties within thirty days after their appointment, and shall elect one of their number president of the commission.

The public Utility Commission is an arm of the Legislature, through whom that body acts in matters specified in the act.

S. L. City v. Utah L. & Tr. Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. 556.

4776. Vacancy. Removal. Procedure. Every vacancy in the commission shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; provided, that if any vacancy occurs while the legislature is not in session the governor shall forthwith make an interim appointment. The governor at any time may remove any commissioner from office for inefficiency, neglect of duty, misconduct or malfeasance in office, for accepting, directly or indirectly, any gift, gratuity, emolument, or employment from any public utility under the jurisdiction of the commission, for voluntarily becoming interested pecuniarily in any such public utility, or for failing to divest himself within a reasonable time of any interest in any such public utility acquired otherwise than voluntarily, or for holding another office under the constitution or laws of this state or of the United States. Before any commissioner may be removed he shall be given a copy of charges made against him, and a time shall be fixed when he may be heard publicly in his own defense, which time shall be not less than ten days thereafter. If the commissioner shall be removed the governor shall file in the office of the secretary of state a complete statement of all charges against such commissioner and of the findings thereon, with a record of the proceedings.

4777. Qualifications. Oath. Bond. Each commissioner, at the time of his appointment and qualification, shall be a resident citizen of the United States and of the state of Utah, and shall be not less than thirty years of age. At no time shall there be more than two of said commissioners members of the same political party. No commissioner shall hold any other office, either under the government of the United States or of this state, or of any municipal corporation within this state; nor shall he engage in any occupation or business inconsistent with his duties as such commissioner; nor shall he hold any official relation to, or be interested in, the bonds, stocks, mortgages, securities, contracts, or earnings of any public utility. Each commissioner, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and in addition thereto shall swear or affirm that he is not pecuniarily interested, directly or indirectly, in any public utility. Such oath or affirmation shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Before entering upon the duties of this office, each commissioner shall give a surety company bond in the sum of $10,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. The cost of said bond shall be paid by the state.

4778. Quorum. Hearings. Seal. Place of business. Salary. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty, or for the exercise of any power of the commission, and may hold hearings at any time or place within or without the state; and any action taken by a majority of the commission shall be deemed the action of the commission. Any vacancy in the commission shall not impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission, so long as a majority of such commission remains. Any investigation, inquiry, or hearing which the commission has power to undertake or to hold may be undertaken or held by or before any commissioner. All investigations, inquiries, and hearings of a commissioner shall be deemed the investigations, inquiries, and hearings of the commission; and all findings, orders, or decisions made by a commissioner when approved and confirmed by the commission and filed in its office, shall be deemed the findings, orders, or decisions of the commission, and shall have the same effect as if originally made by the commission. The commission shall adopt and use an official seal with the words "public utilities commission of Utah," and such other designations as the commission may prescribe engraved thereon; by which seal it shall authenticate its acts, orders, and proceedings; and of which seal the courts of this state shall take judicial notice. The office of the commission shall be at the state capital in such rooms in the capitol building, or other public building, as shall be assigned to it, and such office shall be open for business between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. each business day in the year; and one or more responsible persons, to be designated by the commission, or by the secretary under the direction of the commission, shall be on duty at such times in immediate charge thereof. Each commissioner shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and shall receive an annual salary of $4000, payable in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers.

4779. Appointment, qualification, and salaries of employes. Civil service examinations for applicants. Investigations by attorneys. Duties of secretary. Payment of expenses. Use of common carriers and telegraph and telephone lines. The commission may appoint a secretary at a salary to be fixed by the commission, and may employ such clerks, experts, attorneys, and other subordinates as it shall deem necessary, and shall fix their compensation; the secretary and all employes of the commission to hold office during the pleasure of the commission. The appointment of the secretary of the commission and all clerks, experts, attorneys, and other subordinates and employes of the commission shall be made upon considerations only of the integrity and the competency of the individual to perform the duties of the position to which he is appointed, and regardless of the recommendations of any political party organizations, and regardless of any considerations of political party service by the applicant; provided, that the commission shall, with respect to the appointment of any clerks, experts, or other subordinates, make rules and regulations for a civil service examination of each applicant, which rules and regulations shall provide for the appointment of the applicants for position under the commission based upon the merit system. Upon the request of the commission, it shall be the duty of the attorney-general of the state, or of the district attorney of any district in this state, to aid in any investigation, prosecution, hearing, or trial had under the provisions of this title, and to prosecute all necessary actions for the enforcement of this title. The secretary shall take and subscribe to an oath similar to that required of the commissioners. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep a full and true record of all the proceedings of the commission, and of all determinations, rulings, and orders made by the commission, or by any of the commissioners, and of the approval and confirmation by the commission of determinations, rulings, or orders made by individual members thereof. The secretary shall be the custodian of the records of the commission, and shall file and preserve at its general office all books, maps, profiles, tariffs, schedules, reports, and documents, and all papers whatsoever filed with it or entrusted to its care, and he shall be responsible to the commission for the custody thereof. Under the direction of the commission, the secretary shall have general charge of its office, superintend its clerical business, conduct its correspondence, give notice of all hearings, determinations, rulings, and orders of the commission, prepare for service such papers and notices as may be required of him by the commission, and perform such other duties as the commission may prescribe. He shall have power and authority to administer oaths in all parts of the state in all proceedings by or before the commissioners, and in all cases or matters pertaining to the duties of his office. The secretary shall have power to designate, from time to time, one of the clerks appointed by the commission to perform the duties of the secretary during his absence, and the clerk so appointed shall possess, for the time designated, the powers of the secretary. The secrteary shall be the disbursing officer of the commission, subject to the approval of the commission, with respect to both requisitions and expenditures, and before entering upon the duties of his office he shall file in the office of the secretary of state a bond executed to the state, by a surety company, in the sum of $10,000, to be approved by the governor, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his official duties. The premium for such bond shall be paid by the state. The commission shall be provided by the state with such offices, equipment, and facilities as may be proper and necessary for the performance of its duties. All necessary expenses shall be audited and paid as other state expenses are audited and paid. The commissioners and secretary, and such clerks, experts, attorneys, and other subordinates as may be employed by it, shall be entitled to receive from the state their necessary traveling expenses while traveling on the business of the commission. The claims for such expenses shall be sworn to by the person incurring the same, and shall be approved by the chairman of the commission and audited and paid in the same manner as other claims against the state are audited and paid. The commissioners and officers and employes of the commission shall, when in the performance of their official duties, have the right to pass, free of charge, on all railroads, cars, and other vehicles of every common carrier, as said term is defined in this title, subject in whole or part to control or regulation by the commission, between points within this state, and such persons shall not be denied the right to travel upon any railroad, car, or other vehicle of such common carrier, whether such railroad, car, or other vehicle be used for the transportation of passengers or of freight, and regardless of its class, and the commissioners and officers and employes of the commission shall, when in the performance of their official duties, have the right to the free use of all telephone and telegraph lines in this state, subject in whole or in part to control or regulation by the commission, between points within this state.

4780. Annual reports. The commission shall make and submit to the governor annual reports containing a full and complete account of the transactions of its office, together with such facts, suggestions, and recommendations as it may deem necessary, which report shall be published as the reports of other departments of the state. The said report shall be made and submitted as soon after December 31 in each year as may be feasible in order to bring the report down to that date.

4781. Prohibitions as to commissioners and employes. Acceptance of gratuities. Recommendations for appointments. No commissioner or person regularly employed by and receiving a salary from the commission shall accept any gift, gratuity, emolument, or employment from any public utility under the jurisdiction of the commission or any officer, agent, or employe thereof; nor shall any commissioner or person regularly employed by and receiving a salary from the commission, directly or indirectly, solicit, request from, or recommend to any such public utility, or any officer or agent or employe thereof, the appointment of any person to any place or position with such public utility; nor shall any public utility or any officer, agent, attorney, or employe of any public utility, directly or indirectly, solicit, request, or recommend to the governor or to any state senator or to the commission the appointment of any person as commissioner or as secretary of the commission or the appointment of any person to any place or position under the commission.

CHAPTER 2.

17. The term "gas plant," when used in this title, includes all real estate, fixtures, and personal property owned, controlled, operated, or managed in connection with or to facilitate the production, generation, transmission, delivery, or furnishing of gas (natural or manufactured), for light, heat, or power.

18. The term "gas corporation," when used in this title, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any gas plant for public service within this state, except where gas is made or produced on and distributed by the maker or producer through private property alone for his own use or the use of his tenants and not for sale to others.

19. The term "electric plant," when used in this title, includes all real estate, fixtures, and personal property owned, controlled, operated, or managed in connection with or to facilitate the production, generation, transmission, delivery, or furnishing of electricity for light, heat, or power, and all conduits, ducts, or other devices, materials, apparatus, or property for containing, holding, or carrying conductors used or to be used for the transmission of electricity for light, heat, or power.

20. The term "electrical corporation," when used in this title, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any electric plant, or in anywise furnishing electric power for public use within this state, except where electricity is generated on or distributed by the producer through private property alone, solely for his own use or the use of his tenants and not for sale to others.

21. The term "telephone line," when used in this title, includes all conduits, ducts, poles, wires, cables, instruments, and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures and personal property owned, controlled, operated, or managed in connection with or to facilitate communication by telephone, whether such communication is had with or without the use of transmission wires.

22. The term "telephone corporation," when used in this title, includes every corporation or person, their lessees or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any telephone line for public use within this state.

23. The term "telegraph line," when used in this title, includes all conduits, ducts, poles, wires, cables, instruments, and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures, and personal property owned, controlled, operated, or managed in connection with or to facilitate communication by telegraph, whether such communication be had with or without the use of transmission wires.

24. The term "telegraph corporation," when used in this title, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any telegraph line for public use within this state.

25. The term "water system," when used in this title, includes all reservoirs, tunnels, shafts, dams, dykes, headgates, pipes, flumes, canals, structures, and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures, and personal property owned, controlled, operated, or managed in connection with or to facilitate the diversion, development, storage, supply, distribution, sale, furnishing, carriage, apportionment, or measurement of water for power, fire protection, irrigation, reclamation, or manufacturing, or for municipal, domestic, or other beneficial use; provided, this shall not apply to private irrigation companies engaged in distributing water only to their stockholders.

26. The term "water corporation," when used in this title, includes very corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any water system for compensation within this state; provided, this shall not apply to private irrigation companies engaged only in distributing water to their stockholders.

27. The term "warehouseman," when used in this title, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any grain elevator, and includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any building or structure in which property is regularly stored for public use within this state, in connection with or to facilitate the transportation of property by a common carrier, or the loading or unloading of the same.

28. The term "public utility," when used in this title, includes every common carrier, gas corporation, automobile corporation, electric corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, heat corporation, and warehouseman where the service is performed for or the commodity delivered to the public or any portion thereof. The term "public or any portion thereof," as herein used means the public generally, or any limited portion of the public including a person, private corporation, municipality, or other political subdivision of the state, to which the service is performed or to which the commodity is delivered, and whenever any common carrier, gas corporation, automobile corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, heat corporation, or warehouseman performs a service or delivers a commodity to the public or any portion thereof for which any compensation or payment whatsoever is received, such common carrier, gas corporation, automobile corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, heat corporation, and warehouseman is hereby declared to be a public utility subject to the jurisdiction and regulation of the commission and the provisions of this title. Furthermore, when any person or corporation performs any such service or delivers any such commodity to any public utility herein defined, such person or corporation and each thereof is hereby declared to be a public utility and to be subject to the jurisdiction and regulation of the commission, and to the provisions of this title. Any corporation or person not being engaged in business exclusively as a "public utility," as hereinbefore defined, shall be governed by the provisions of this title in respect only of the "public utility" or "public utilities" owned, controlled, operated, or managed by it or by him, and not in respect of any other business or pursuit.

CHAPTER 3.

DUTIES OF PUBLIC UTILITIES.

4783. Charges to be just. Service adequate. Rules reasonable. 1. All charges made, demanded, or received by any public utility, or by any two or more public utilities, for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished or any service rendered or to be rendered shall be just and reasonable. Every unjust or unreasonable charge made, demanded, or received for such product or commodity or service is hereby prohibited and declared unlawful.

2. Every public utility shall furnish, provide, and maintain such service, instrumentalities, equipment, and facilities as shall promote the safety, health, comfort, and convenience of its patrons, employes, and the public, and as shall be in all respects adequate, efficient, just and reasonable.

3. All rules and regulations made by a public utility affecting or pertaining to its charges or service to the public shall be just and reasonable.

4784. Schedules and classification by common carriers. Contents, forms and notice. Inspection. Other public utilities to comply. Commission may change form and modify orders. 1. Every common carrier shall file with the commission, and shall print and keep open to public inspection, schedules showing the rates, fares, charges, and classifications for the transportation between termini within this state of persons and property from each point upon its route to all other points upon every other route leased, operated, or controlled by it; and from each point on its route or upon any route leased, operated, or controlled by it to all points upon the route of any other common carrier, whenever a through route and a joint rate shall have been established or ordered between any two such points. If no joint rate over a through route has been established, the schedules of the several carriers in such through route shall show the separately established rates, fares, charges, and classifications applicable to the through transportation. The schedules printed as aforesaid shall plainly state the places between which property and persons will be carried, and shall also contain the classification of passengers or property in force, and shall also state separately all terminal charges, storage charges, icing charges, and all other charges which the commission may require to be stated, all privileges or facilities granted or allowed, and all rules or regulations which may in any wise change, affect, or determine any part, or the aggregate of, such rates, fares, charges, and classifications, or the value of the services rendered to the passenger, shipper, or consignee. Subject to such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, such schedules shall be plainly printed in large type, and a copy thereof shall be kept by every such carrier readily accessible to and for inspection of the public in every station or office of such carrier where passengers or property are respectively received for transportation, when such station or office is in charge of an agent, and in every station or office of such carrier where passenger tickets or tickets for sleeping, parlor car, or other train accommodations are sold or bills of lading or waybills or receipts for property are issued. Any or all of such schedules kept as aforesaid shall be immediately produced by such carrier for inspection upon the demand of any person. A notice printed in bold type and stating that such schedules are on file with the agent and open to inspection by any person, and that the agent will assist any person to determine from such schedules any rates, fares, rules, or regulations in force, shall be kept posted by the carrier in two public and conspicuous places in every such station or office. The form of every such schedule shall be prescribed by the commission, and shall conform in the case of common carriers subject to the act of congress entitled "an act to regulate commerce," approved February 4, 1887, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, as nearly as may be, to the form of schedules prescribed to the interstate commerce commission under said act.

2. Under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, every public utility other than a common carrier shall file with the commission within such time and in such form as the commission may designate, and shall print and keep open to public inspection schedules showing all rates, tolls, rentals, charges, and classifications collected or enforced, or to be collected or enforced, together with all rules, regulations, contracts, privileges, and facilities which in any manner affect or relate to rates, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, or service. Nothing in this section contained shall prevent the commission from approving or fixing rates, tolls, rentals, or charges, from time to time, in excess of or less than those shown by said schedule.

3. The commission shall have power, from time to time, in its discretion, to determine and prescribe by order such changes in the form of the schedules referred to in this section as it may find expedient, and to modify the requirements of any of its orders, rules, or regulations in respect to any matters in this section referred to.

4785. Changes. Notice. Exception. Designation. Unless the commission otherwise orders, no change shall be made by any public utility in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, or classification, or in any rule, regulation, or contract relating to or affecting any rate, toll, fare, rental, charge, classification, or service, or in any privilege or facility, except after thirty days' notice to the commission and to the public as herein provided. Such notice shall be given by filing with the commission and keeping open for public inspection new schedules stating plainly the change or changes to be made in the schedule or schedules then in force, and the time when the change or changes will go into effect. The commission, for good cause shown, may allow changes without requiring thirty days' notice herein provided for, by an order specifying the changes so to be made and the time when they shall take effect, and the manner in which they shall be filed and published. When any change is proposed in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, or classification, or in any form of contract or agreement, or in any rule, regulation, or contract relating to or affecting any rate, toll, fare, rental, charge, classification, or service, or in any privilege or facility, attention shall be directed to such change on the schedule filed with the commission, by some character to be designated by the commission, immediately preceding or following the item.

4786. Concurrence in joint tariff charges. The names of the several public utilities which are parties to any joint tariff, rate, fare, toll, contract, classification, or charge shall be specified in the schedule or schedules showing the same. Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, a schedule showing such joint tariff, rate, toll, fare, contract, classification, or charge need be filed with the commission by only one of the parties to it; provided, that there is also filed with the commission in such form as the commission may require a concurrence in such joint tariff, rate, toll, fare, contract, classification, or charge by each of the other parties thereto.

4787. Schedules first filed. Variance in other charges, refunds, and free transportation prohibited. Exemptions. Annual lists required. 1. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this title shall engage or participate in the transportation of persons or property between points within this state until its schedules of rates, fares, charges, and classifications shall have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this title.

2. No common carrier shall charge, demand, collect, or receive a greater or less or different compensation for the transportation of persons or property, or for any service in connection therewith, than the rates, fares, and charges applicable to such transportation as specified in its schedules filed and in effect at the time; nor shall any such carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares, or charges so specified, except upon order of the commission as hereinafter provided, nor extend to any corporation or person any privilege or facility in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons.

3. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this title shall, directly or indirectly, issue, give, or tender any free ticket, free pass, or free or reduced-rate transportation for passengers between points within this state, except to its officers, agents, employes, attorneys, physicians, and surgeons, and members of their families; to ministers of religion, traveling secretaries of railroad men's religious associations, or executive officers, organizers, or agents of railroad employes' mutual benefit associations giving the greater portion of their time to the work of any such association; inmates of hospitals or charitable or eleemosynary institutions, and persons exclusively engaged in charitable or eleemosynary work, and persons and property engaged or employed in educational work or scientific research or in patriotic work, when permitted by the commission; to indigent, destitute, and homeless persons, and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals, and the necessary agents employed in such transportations; to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers, and of soldiers' and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge, and boards of managers of such homes; to necessary caretakers of livestock, poultry, milk, or fruit; to employes on sleeping cars, express cars, and to linemen of telegraph and telephone corporations; to railway mail service employes, United States internal revenue officers, postoffice inspectors, customs officers and inspectors, and immigration inspectors when traveling in the course of their official duty; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the carrier is interested, persons injured in accidents or wrecks, and physicians and nurses attending such persons; provided, that the term "employes," as used in this section, shall include furloughed, pensioned, and superannuated employes, persons who have become disabled or infirm in the service of any such carrier, ex-employes traveling for the purpose of entering the service of any such carrier, and the remains of persons dying while in the employment of any such carrier; and the term "families," as used in this section, shall include the families of those persons heretofore named in this proviso, and the families of persons killed, and the widows during widowhood, and minor children during minority, of persons who died while in the service of any such carrier; and provided, further, that no free ticket, free pass, or free or reduced rate transportation shall be issued, given, or tendered to any officer, agent, or employe of a common carrier who is at the same time a shipper or receiver of freight, unless such officer, agent, or employe devotes substantially his entire time to the service of such carrier; and provided, further, that the members of the public utilities commission, their officers and employes, shall be entitled, when in the performance of their official duties, to free transportation over the lines of all common carriers, and to free use of the lines of all telegraph and telephone companies within this state. Nothing in this title contained shall be construed to prohibit the issue by express corporations of free or reduced-rate transportation for express matter to their officers, agents, employes, attorneys, physicians, and surgeons, and members of their families, or the interchange of free or reduced-rate transportation for passengers or express matter between common carriers, their officers, agents, employes, attorneys, physicians, and surgeons, and members of their families, where such common carriers are subject in whole or in part to the jurisdiction of the commission or of the interstate commerce commission; provided, that such express matter be for the personal use of the person to or for whom such free or reduced-rate transportation is granted, or of his family; nor to prohibit the issue of passes or franks by telegraph or telephone corporations to their officers, agents, employes, attorneys, physicians, and surgeons, and members of their families, or the exchange of passes or franks between such telephone and telegraph corporations or between such corporations and such common carriers, for their officers, agents, employes, attorneys, physicians, and surgeons, and members of their families; nor to prohibit free or reduced rate service by other public utilities to its officers, directors, and employes; nor to prevent the carrying out of contracts for free or reduced rate passenger transportation or other public utility service heretofore made founded upon adequate consideration and lawful when made; nor to prevent a common carrier from transporting, storing, or handling, free or at reduced rates, the household goods and personal effects of its employes, or persons entering or leaving its service, and of persons killed or dying while in its service.

4. Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this title may transport, free or at reduced rates, persons or property for the United States, state, county, or municipal governments, or for charitable purposes, or for patriotic purposes, or to provide relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence, or other calamitous visitation, and property to or from fairs or expositions for exhibit thereat; also contractors and their employes, material, or supplies for use of or engaged in carrying out their contract with said carriers, for construction, operation, or maintenance work, or work incidental thereto, on the line of the issuing carrier, to the extent only that such free or reduced-rate transportation is provided for in the specifications upon which the contract is based and in the contract itself. Common carriers may also enter into contracts with telephone and telegraph corporations for an exchange of service.

5. Every common carrier and every telegraph and telephone corporation shall print and file or cause to be filed with the commission schedules showing all the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, and classifications for the transportation of persons or property or the transmission of messages or conversations between all points within this state, and all points without the state upon every route leased, operated, or controlled by it, and between all points on its route or any route leased, operated, or controlled by it within this state and all points without the state upon the route of any other common carrier or telegraph or telephone corporation, whenever a through rate and joint rate shall have been established between any two such points.

6. Every common carrier shall, on the first Monday in July of each year, and at such other time as may be required by the commission, file with the commission a verified list of all tickets, passes, mileage books, franks, or reduced-rate transportation issued for other than actual bona fide money consideration at full established rates during the preceding year, together with the names of the recipients thereof, the amount received therefor, and the reason for issuing the same. This shall not apply to the sale of tickets at reduced rates open to the public.

4788. Charges shall not vary from schedules. Exceptions. Except as in this section otherwise provided, no public utility shall charge, demand, collect, or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished, or for any service rendered or to be rendered, than the rates, tolls, rentals, and charges applicable to such products or commodity or service as specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, nor shall any such public utility refund or remit, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any device, any portion of the rates, tolls, rentals, and charges so specified, nor extend to any corporation or person any form of contract or agreement, or any rule or regulation, or any facility or privilege except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons; provided, that the commission may by rule or order establish such exceptions from the operation of this prohibition as it may consider just and reasonable as to each public utility.

4789. Preferences and unreasonable difference prohibited. Commission to determine. No public utility shall, as to rates, charges, service, facilities, or in any other respect, make or grant any preference or advantage to any corporation or person, or subject any corporation or person to any prejudice or disadvantage. No public utility shall establish or maintain any unreasonable difference as to rates, charges, service, facilities, or in any other respect, either as between localities or as between classes of service. The commission shall have the power to determine any question of fact arising under this section.

4790. When sliding scale permitted. Nothing in this title shall be taken to prohibit a corporation or person engaged in the production, generation, transmission, or furnishing of heat, light, water, or power, or telegraph or telephone service, from establishing a sliding scale of charges; provided, that a schedule showing such scale of charges shall first have been filed with the commission and such schedule and the rate set out therein approved by it. Nothing in this title shall be taken to prohibit any such corporation or person from entering into an arrangement for a fixed period for the automatic adjustment of charges for heat, light, water, or power, or telegraph or telephone service, in relation to the dividends to be paid to stockholders of such corporation, or the profit to be realized by such person; provided, that a schedule showing the scale of charges under such arrangement shall first have been filed with the commission and such schedule and each rate set out therein approved by it. Nothing in this section shall prevent the commission from revoking its approval at any time and fixing other rates and charges for the product or commodity or service, as authorized by this title.

4791. Interchanges of passengers, property, and messages. 1. Every common carrier shall afford all reasonable, proper, and equal facilities for the prompt and efficient interchange and transfer of passengers, tonnage, and cars, loaded or empty, between the lines owned, operated, controlled, or leased by it and the lines of every other common carrier, and shall make such interchange and transfer promptly without discrimination between shippers, passengers, or carriers either as to compensation charged, service rendered, or facilities afforded. Every railroad corporation shall receive from every other railroad corporation at any point of connection, freight cars of proper standard and in proper condition, and shall haul the same either to destination if the destination be upon a line owned, operated, or controlled by such railroad corporation, or to point of transfer according to route billed, if the destination be upon the line of some other railroad corporation. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed as in anywise limiting or modifying the duty of a common carrier to establish joint rates, fares, and charges for the transportation of passengers and property over the lines owned, operated, controlled, or leased by it and the lines of other common carriers, nor as in any manner limiting or modifying the power of the commission to require the establishment of such joint rates, fares, and charges.

2. Every telephone corporation and telegraph corporation operating in this state shall receive, transmit, and deliver, without discrimination or delay, the conversations and messages of every other telephone or telegraph corporation with whose line a physical connection may have been made.

4792. False billing, fraudulent claims, prohibited. 1. No common carrier, or any officer or agent thereof, or any person acting for or employed by it, shall, by means of known false billing, classification, weight, weighing, or report of weight, or by any other device or means, assist, suffer, or permit any corporation or person to obtain transportation for any person or property between points within this state at less than the rates and fares then established and in force as shown by the schedules filed and in effect at the time. No person, corporation, or any officer, agent, or employe of a corporation shall, by means of false billing, false or incorrect classification, false weight or weighing, false representation as to contents or substance of a package, or false report or statement of weight, or by any other device or means, whether with or without the consent or connivance of a common carrier or any of its officers, agents, or employes, seek to obtain or obtain such transportation for such property at less than the rates then established and in force therefor.

2. No person or corporation, or any officer, agent, or employe of a corporation, shall knowingly, directly or indirectly, by any false statement or representation as to cost or value, or the nature or extent of an injury, or by the use of any false billing, bill of lading, receipt, voucher, roll, account, claim, certificate, affidavit, or deposition, or upon any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or entry, obtain or attempt to obtain any allowance, rebate, or payment for damage, in connection with or growing out of the transportation of persons or property, or an agreement to transport such persons or property, whether with or without the consent or connivance of a common carrier or any of its officers, agents, or employes; nor shall any common carrier, or any officer, agent, or employe thereof, knowingly pay or offer to pay any such allowance, rebate, or claim for damage.
